HAPPY FRIDAY
THE THIRTEENTH!

Vol. XXIII, No. 16

WILKES COLLEGE, WILKES-BARRE, PENNSYLVANIA

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1959

Applications Available For Government Loans

Applications for loans under the Federal Aid to Students program are available in the Finance office. The loans will be available to students who need financial aid in order to complete college.

The National Defense Student Loan plan was devised by the U. S. Government to help people who otherwise would either have to suspend their educations or drop out of college entirely because of financial need.

Applicants must obtain the forms as soon as possible and submit their requests by February 20. Submission of the request, however, does not guarantee in any way that the applicant will receive the grant.

Of the request for $3,836,435 made by colleges in the State of Pennsylvania, only $354,192 was granted, about one-tenth of the total. Of that amount, $7,847 has been allotted to Wilkes, far below the amount requested.

The primary factor in determining who shall get a loan will be need. In addition to being needy, a student must be attending college full time and be in good standing.

A certain preference will be given to those planning to be teachers, as well as to those majoring in such fields as science, mathematics, and engineering.

Repayment plans for borrowers under this program are designed to give future teachers a reduction depending upon the number of years they teach. Others have the advantage of taking up to five years to repay the loans in the Federal government's plan to make a college education more readily available to those who now cannot afford it.

Senior Biology Major Is Active Participant In Campus Organizations

Alfred D'Anca, senior biology major, has recently been notified of his acceptance for the fall term, 1959, at Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia.

D'Anca, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D'Anca, 15 Eley Street, Kingston, was an honor graduate of Wyoming Seminary and attended Franklin and Marshall College before transferring to Wilkes. While at F. and M., he was a member of the American Chemical Society, the Porter Scientific Society, the Newman Club, the Diognothian Literary Society, the Inter-fraternity Council, Student Union Board, and the college publications.

At present, D'Anca is engaged in Student Research concerning bio-chemical aspects of bacterial protoplasts. His work will be presented in an original paper to be given at the Science Conference in the spring.

LETTERMEN TO HOLD 'CHERRY TREE CHOP'

by Sue Snoop

Plans have been completed for the annual Lettermen's Cherry Tree Chop which will be held next Friday evening.

Highlighting the affair will be the traditional log sawing contest between two unidentified Lettermen (who wished to remain anonymous at press time) and Dr. Farley and Dean Ralston.

Dr. Michelini will try to prove that he can out-eat any athlete when he defends his pie-eating crown. Another unidentified member of the Lettermen's Club will provide the competition. Bibs will be provided.

For the more hungry members of the student body, there will be free cherry pie served. Each Letterman has been asked to bring two pies to the affair for distribution among the dancers.

The gym will rock to the rhythms of recorded rhapsodies from 9 to 12. Admission to the "Chop" is 50 cents.

Chief-choppers are Joe Hiznay and Walt Glogowski.

VALENTINE'S SEMI-FORMAL IS FIRST BIG SPRING AFFAIR

"Holiday of Hearts" Tonight Sponsored by T.D.R.; Lucky Girl Will Receive Prize

by Jean Shofranko

The first big social event of the Spring semester, Theta Delta Rho's Valentine semi-formal, "Holiday of Hearts," will be held tonight at the gymnasium in the traditional St. Valentine's Day setting. Ticket returns have been excellent, and the girls are putting the finishing touches on what promises to be a memorable evening of dancing and entertainment.

Judy Richardson, general chairman of the affair, has announced that Herbie Green and his orchestra will provide music for dancing from 9 to 12. A receiving line composed of Dr. and Mrs. Doane, Dr. and Mrs. Symmons, Mary Homan, Judy Richardson, and their dates will greet guests at the door.

According to inside sources the gym will be transformed into a fairyland of hearts, flowers, doves, and cupids. Although decorations will revolve around the central theme of the dance, "Holiday of Hearts," the T.D.R. girls who usually come up with the unusual, will add an abstract touch by using American beauty red, timid pink, and lavender in all decorations. The ceiling will be adorned with multi-colored streamers which will meet at the center and be highlighted by a mobile chandelier of cascading hearts.

The backdrop, always the main focus of interest, will be a two dimensional lacework pattern of hearts, doves, flowers, and cupids resulting in a three dimensional effect. According to two slightly prejudiced members of the backdrop committee it is "undoubtedly delicious."

2 W.C. INSTRUCTORS GET DOCTORATES

by Marilyn Krackenfels

Two members of the Wilkes faculty, Dr. Philip Rizzo of the English department and Dr. Gaito of the psychology department, recently have been presented with doctors degrees from the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Rizzo, a native of Philadelphia, is serving his second year at Wilkes. He previously received his bachelor and master's degrees from University of Pennsylvania. He earned his latest honors through research and the thesis on the Twentieth Century Satire Novel, as exemplified in the novels of Dame Rose Macaulay.

At the present time, Dr. Rizzo is projecting a text book with another member of the English faculty, Dr. Robert L. Chapman. The two also hope to collaborate in additional writers. He and his wife reside at 150 South Franklin Street, city, and both have become fond of much that is in Wilkes-Barre.

Dr. John Gaito, who came to Wilkes last fall and serves in the psychology department, received his doctorate in that field. His thesis was entitled "An Informational Approach to Problem Solving and Thinking Behavior." Dr. Gaito received his bachelor's degree from Penn, and he holds a master's degree from Temple University.

Now residing with his wife and two sons at 111 West River Street, city, Dr. Gaito was a former resident of Philadelphia.

Dr. Symmons Speaker At Last IRC Meeting

Dr. K. Symmons was guest speaker at last Thursday's meeting of the International Relations Club. The topic of his presentation was "The Social Problems of the Middle East."

This was the first in a series of programs which the IRC plans to present on the Middle East. Program was arranged by Don Brandt.

The purpose behind these programs is to acquaint IRC membership with various aspects of the problems which, on the whole, constitute an explosive situation.

Next month the IRC plans to attend a collegiate conference at Villanova University, where the Middle East crisis will be discussed.

Any interested persons are welcome to attend IRC's weekly meetings. They are held Thursday noon in the lounge of Harding Hall, the Bookstore.

"ANNIE" NETS $3,500 FOR GIRL SCOUTS

Warren Myers, of the Wilkes-Barre Kiwanis Club, recently informed Dr. Farley that the club netted $3,500 from the play Annie Get Your Gun, which was held December 4, 5, and 6. The sum will be turned over to the local Girl Scouts.

The production, with its large cast, fine performers, and colorful sets, met with much acclaim from all who attended the performances, and this latest announcement emphasizes the success of the musical.

NOTICE

All freshman reporters are requested to attend a special 'Beacon' meeting today at noon.

Upperclassmen reporters may pick up their assignments at one o'clock today.

Try Again

Our very carefully planned distribution system got off on the wrong foot last week due to reasons beyond our control. For those of you that missed getting your Beacon last week, we apologize. The system has two main features; first, Beacons will be left in five buildings on campus, excluding the Commons; second, the paper will be out well before noon and will therefore be available to students as they emerge from their 11 o'clock classes. For the most part the system worked, but we were unavoidably late in getting to campus with the paper and several students reported that they had not been able to find a copy of the Beacon anywhere on campus. We hope that this week's distribution will be better, but we would appreciate any suggestions for improvement.

Nice Going

As mentioned above, we had some trouble with last week's issue of the Beacon. We have heard some comments to the effect that the issue was not up to par and we feel that an explanation is required.

Our Thursday schedule usually ends at 3 o'clock when the forms are put on the printing press. Last Thursday however, the linotype machine refused to operate and we were faced with the situation of having only a quarter of the copy set in type. At five o'clock we were seriously considering the possibility of cancelling the Beacon completely. Even if the machine could have been fixed, there was still over eight hours of work to be done before the paper could be ready for the press.

The usual quitting time for the Schmidts is five o'clock and we never even considered asking them to stay overtime. As it turned out, we didn't have to ask — they just stayed there until 11 Thursday night and they were back on the job at 8 o'clock Friday morning.

This kind of cooperation is not a common thing in the business world; it is, however, the kind of cooperation that Schmidt's Printery has been giving the Beacon for years.

Ooops! We Did It Again!

Last Saturday night, Mr. Carl Zoolkoski brought to our attention the fact that one of our fillers contained a mis-statement. Mr. Zoolkoski informed us that 70 per cent of the University of Miami did not fail all their courses, it was 70 per cent of a physics class. If our mistake bothered anyone else, we can only say that we are sorry. —mjk

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations are in order from the Beacon to Mr. Stanley E. Schmidt, printer of the Beacon, on the occasion of his forty-seventh wedding anniversary on Saturday, February 14th and his sixty-ninth birthday anniversary on Monday, February 16th.

THE KERNELS KORN

by Richard J. Myers

A few years ago a certain freshman, wishing to be of service to his editor, offered to do a humor column every other week. For the remainder of that year and part of the next, he did just that, heading his efforts with the title and by-line appearing above. The same man is guilty once more of the same offense.

For new readers of this column, let it be known that the only claim for originality made by the author is that he uses puns which may or may not come from his own fertile, teeming brain, adapts them to the theme of his column, and strings them into a resemblance of humorous comments on a general topic of interest. Needless to say, a great deal of "borrowing" is necessary in such an enterprise.

Punsters are a fiendish lot. They ply their trade with glee, measure their successes not by the number of laughs, but by the number of pained expressions and groans which greet their efforts, and go to great lengths to create a situation for which a pun is appropriate.

Bennet Cerf, one of the modern collectors of this form of humor — said by most to be the lowest form — cites this example of the contrived pun:

It seems a certain young fellow was to be taken to the circus by his uncle Alfred. When the long-awaited day arrived, however, the boy's mother told him that his uncle had to leave for Australia to watch the Davis Cup competition. He remarked that he hadn't known that his uncle was a devotee of the game, to which his mother replied, "Oh yes, many's the time I've heard Alfred laud tennis, son."

The play on words needn't be so obvious, but it helps make the punster feel more accomplished if he must twist things to outrageous lengths to score his point. It is truly said: for a pun to be good, it must be bad.

Marriage is always a fit subject for attack. For instance, husbands with better halves are worse off than bachelors with better quarters. Some husbands favor clubs for women — when all else fails.

Women also have their problems, however. They can either be old maids and look for husbands every day, or get married and look for their husbands every night.

One woman in town recently got a divorce because her husband kept his collection of unusual stones and pebbles in the bathroom. That guy really had rocks in his head.

In the proceedings, the husband complained that his wife never mended his socks although she had promised to do so many times. She quickly countered with the remark that he had promised her a fur coat for years, but never produced. That seems to be a case in which the wife didn't give a darn if the husband didn't give a wrap.

Also worthy of mention perhaps, is the fact that although every husband has his wife, only the ice-man has his pick.

Then there's the man who supports his family by writing poetry every morning when he gets up, then does nothing for the rest of the day. That's what you call getting paid to go from bed to verse.

The same man talked in his sleep, so his wife sent him home to mutter. He was a real yes-man, too. Yes-man, one who stoops to concur.

Most men feel as though they would like to get married at one time or another, but a confirmed bachelor is one who never had a bride idea.

For women worrying about becoming old maids, we have one parting bit of advice. It's far better to marry a short man than never to have loved a tall.

Then there's one more parting shot, somewhat on the same vague lines. Seems the ram fell to his death over a steep cliff because he failed to see the ewe turn.

Dorm Council News

Sport night for dormitory men has been temporarily discontinued because of other activities scheduled in the gym. The Inter-Dormitory Council is trying to find another time when the basketball games and other activities can be held. The individual dorms will be notified when sport night is resumed.

The inter-dormitory Bridge Club would like to have more people come to play bridge on Sunday afternoons from 3 to 5. Students do not have to be familiar with the game in order to play. A tournament is planned for this spring, but more players are needed before it can be organized.

The I.D.C. is organizing a better fire protection system in the dormitories. Each dormitory is being reviewed, and new alarm systems and other equipment are being installed. Each dorm is also forming its own plan for fire drills and will report its progress to the Council. —E.C.

BALLOTS FOR "BEST DRESSED" DUE TODAY; VINCENT, FELTZ, PERRELLA NAMED JUDGES

Nominations for Wilkes College's Best Dressed Girl contest are due to be submitted to the Society for the Advancement of Management today.

During the past week, clubs, classes and dormitories have held meetings and voted on their selection of the best dressed girl on campus. These nominations will now be reviewed by a panel of judges who have been chosen by S.A.M.

The three judges are orchestra leader Lee Vincent, Hollywood Shop's Buddy Feltz, and hair stylist Nick Perrella. The judging will take place next Thursday at 3 p.m. in the gym.

The judges will view full length pictures of the nominees and make their decision on the basis of criteria established by Glamour magazine, national sponsor of the contest.

The criteria consists of good figure, beautiful posture; clean, shining, well-kept hair; imagination in managing a clothes budget; good grooming — not just neat, but impeccable; appropriate campus look; a clear understanding of her fashion type; individuality in use of fashion color; a workable wardrobe plan; a neat way with make-up and appropriate look for off-campus occasions.

The judges will select the coed from Wilkes who, in their opinion best fits the above qualifications. The winning girl will then be photographed in three outfits: campus attire, daytime off-campus dress and a full or cocktail length gown. These pictures will be submitted along with the entry blank to the national publication for competition with entries submitted from colleges all over the United States and Canada. From all the entries will emerge the ten best dressed college girls.

ED CLUB NAMES OFFICERS; INSTALLATION ON MONDAY

Connie Yahara was elected president of the Wilkes Education Club on Wednesday. Other election results are: vice-president, Larry Pegg; recording secretary, Adeline Chopak; corresponding secretary, Moncey Miller; treasurer, Barbara Bachman; librarian, Beverly Nagle.

Officers will be officially installed in a special covered dish dinner-meeting Monday evening at 6:30 in the Commons.

One of the current projects of the Ed Club is assisting local high schools in establishing F.T.A. organizations. Evelyn Godleski is in charge of promoting the activity.

Four Varsity Debaters Will Compete in King's Debating Tournament

The annual King's College Debating Tournament will be held today and tomorrow with over thirty schools represented. Entered for Wilkes are Cliff Brothers and Gwen Evans, affirmative, with Roberta Feinstein and Fred Roberts, negative. The subject for debate is Resolved: Further Development of Inhibited by International Agreement.

The last time that the Wilkes team appeared at the King's tourney was in 1957 when they placed second and held the positions of first, third and fourth top speakers. The team of four going to King's this year, won the tournament at Bucknell with a seven-one record.

The main competition for the Wilkes team will be found in the teams from Penn State, St. Peter's, St. Joseph's, Dartmouth, Army, and Fordham. This information was obtained in an interview with Dr. Kruger, Director of Forensics at Wilkes.

Looking into the future, Fred Roberts and Roberta Feinstein will be attending the Boston University Invitational Tournament next month.

Silver Competition Offers Many Awards

During the months of February and March, Reed and Barton, America's oldest major silver-smiths, are conducting a "Silver Opinion Competition" in which valuable scholarship awards totaling $1050 are being offered to duly enrolled women students at a few selected colleges and universities.

Wilkes has been selected to enter this Competition in which the First Grand Award is a $500 cash scholarship; Second Grand Award is a $250 scholarship; and Third, Fourth, and Fifth awards are $100.

In addition there will be 100 other awards with winners having the option of receiving a $25 Savings Bond or a "starter set" of sterling silver, fine china, and crystal with a retail value of approximately $45.

In the "Silver Opinion Competition" an entrant is asked to name her favorite china pattern, her favorite crystal, and the sterling silver design she likes best. Then, in her own words, she must tell why she has chosen the three particular designs. She can use as few or as many words she likes. There is no set limit.

Entries will be judged on the basis of interesting opinions rather than on literary techniques. Closing date is midnight, March 31.

Judy Richardson is the student representative who is conducting the "Silver Opinion Competition" at Wilkes. Those interested in entering the Silver Opinion Competition should contact Miss Richardson at 351 South Franklin St. for entry blanks and for complete details concerning the competition rules. She also has samples of nine of the most popular Reed and Barton designs so that entrants can see how these sterling patterns actually look.

Through the opinions on silver design expressed by college women competing for these scholarships, Reed and Barton hopes to compile a valuable library of expressions of young American tastes.

World Problems Cited By Assembly Speaker; Brotherhood Next Week

by Lee Baiera

Dr. Stefan Osusky, noted Czechoslovakian statesman, gave a dynamic, informative talk entitled "The Way of the Free" at Tuesday's assembly.

Since Dr. Osusky just came back from a three months stay in Europe, he began his talk by sharing some of his latest experiences with the student body.

He said that the struggle for domination between the free world and the communist countries was no longer a struggle of military might but an economic one. He also said that the United States is economically no longer independent. Osusky stated that Khrushchev commented that in 1970 Soviet Russia is going to outstrip the production of the United States.

Dr. Osusky has a diverse and renowned background. In World War I he was the youngest collaborator of President Thomas Masaryk and was one of the founders of Czechoslovakia. From 1920 to 1937 he represented his country at the Assembly of the League of Nations. For his exceptional service given to Czechoslovakia, this country awarded him the Karlik Prize, the Czechoslovakian Nobel Prize.

From January, 1921, until the fall of France, Dr. Osusky served as minister of Czechoslovakia to France. When France fell, he took refuge in London. There he became a member of the Czechoslovakian government in exile and of the Legislative State Council, organized on British soil after the fall of France.

During the past four years Dr. Osusky has been a Visiting Professor of European Civilization and Culture at Colgate University. The work of this great statesman has not been limited only to his native Czechoslovakia. He has received decorations from France, Poland, Yugoslavia, Greece, Rumania, Luxembourg, Bolivia, and Chile.

Next Assembly
Featured speaker at next Tuesday's assembly will be Dr. Abraham Barras of Temple Israel, South River Street.

The assembly will mark the observance of Brotherhood Week in America — a week marked with special emphasis of the spiritual ties of the national and religious groups of the nation.

Dr. Barras is a prominent speaker in the Valley and has done much in promoting co-operation among various peoples.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS WILL BE TDR GUESTS

by Connie Stukowski

Girls of the regional high schools who are planning to attend Wilkes will be afforded an excellent opportunity to acquaint themselves with life at the college by attending the TDR Washington Day Tea on Friday afternoon, February 20. Sorority members will entertain the prospective students with this tea at McClintock Hall from 3 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Doane, Dean of Women, will speak to the girls and will endeavor to give them an insight of how it feels to be a Wilkes co-ed. Another feature of the tea will be a tour of the campus. The members of the sorority will also be present to answer any and all questions.

Decorations coinciding with the holiday, Washington's birthday, are being planned. As for the refreshments, the girls attending will be served tea, coffee, cake, and other appropriate favors.

Augusta Sidari is serving as chairman of the tea. Assisting her are Emily Roat, publicity; Jean Broody, decorations; Doris Gademman, refreshments; Betsy Hoeschele, hostesses; and Virginia Lyons, clean-up.

Carl Havira Turns In Ironman Stunt, Leads Splashers To Initial Victory

Veteran Performer Takes 3 First Places, Provides Spark to Win

by George Tensa

For his superb victories in leading the Colonel swimmers to 59-26 victory over a strong Lycoming swim team, Carl Havira was chosen "Athlete of the Week." The Blue and Gold star aquaman turned in "ironman performances" while capturing first-place honors in the 220-yard freestyle, 200-yard butterfly, and the 200-yard breast-stroke.

This is "Hummer's" second season as a member of the young Colonel swimming team. Last year he showed the spark of future-greatness when he finished fourth in the 200-yard butterfly swim in the Mid-Atlantics. His assault on the events thus far this season has made Carl one of the favorites to capture individual honors for the season.

Swimming is not the only sport in which Carl excels, for he is a three-year veteran of the soccer team. Last season, although hampered by an injured ankle, he scored eight goals and was a very prominent reason why Coach Jim Ferris' charges finished with a very respectable 8-3 record.

The coaches were also very impressed with Carl's soccer skill and elected him to the Mid-Atlantic Conference Honorable Mention team for the past two seasons.

I.-M. BASKETBALL

The Intramural basketball loop is now well underway, with last year's champs, the Neki Hokis, the only team in the American League with a perfect record. In the National League the strain of competition is a little more apparent with the Hot Rods and Slickeroos tied for first place with records of 2 wins and no losses.

The schedule of games to be played in the American League next week is:

Monday, February 16 — 7:30 p.m.
Table One vs. Hurricanes
Human Beans vs. Court Jesters
Football Five vs. Neki Hoki

Carl graduated from Girard College in Philadelphia, class of 1956, where he played soccer and baseball, and was a member of the swimming team. Swimming proved foremost in his athletic ability, as he set three individual records and lettered four years in the sport.

Carl is a junior seeking a B.S. in Secondary Education. He is very active on the campus with duties as vice-president of his class and publicity director of the Lettermen's Club among his laurels.

Pinbusters Lose, Tied for Lead; Maholik Rolls 559 for Raiders

Pete Maholik and his Raiders became the giant-killers in last Sunday's intramural bowling, knocking off the Pinbusters, 3-1, and forcing the league into a tie for first place. The idle Playboys and the Pinbusters now share the top spot with identical records of 35 wins, 13 losses.

The two teams will meet Sunday night on alleys 3 and 4 of the JCC in what may be the deciding contest of the season.

The Raiders just missed taking all four points when Maholik had a split in the tenth frame of the first game. The Pinbusters took that point by five pins, 780-785. Maholik was high man in the match with 196-559. John Sapiego was top scorer for the Pinbusters on 201-527.

Other scores: Raiders; Florence Kornblatt 182-468, Bob Hewitt 168-448, Bob Licato 169-419, and Andy Lowenberg 146-411.

Pinbusters: Fred Jacoby 166-468, Emil Petrsek 164-45, Don Wilkinson 171-436, and Dick Dyanick 143-411.

Goldbricks 4, Bio Club 0

The Goldbricks, sparked by Jerry Chisarick and Dan Lewis, climbed from sixth to fifth with a shutout over the Bio Club.

Scoring: Chisarick 191-571, Dan Lewis 209-566, Gil Gregory 197-482, Steve Klein 167-471, and Dave Sokira 168-466.

Bio Club: Hill Hoffman 185-524, Leigh Humphrey 170-449, Bob Barovich 147-403, John Maylock 137-360, Marty Tansy 187 and 115, and Rose Weinstein 178.

Teetotalers 2, Tenpins 2

The Teetotalers dropped the first game by 165 pins, then came roaring back to take the next two, thanks to Wayne Walters' 203-553 series. The Tenpins held on to enough of their first-game bulge, however, and won the fourth point for total pins by 29. John Matthey led the Tenpins with 195-512.

Teetotalers: Walters 553, Dick Myers 186-472, and Lois Tremayne 139-388.

Tenpins: Matthey 195-512, Tom Evans 182-485, John Kuhar 156-428, Cliff Brothers 179-405, and Don Matthey 119-343.

Sunday, February 15

Next Sunday the battle for first place will be on alleys 3 and 4 between the Playboys and the Pinbusters. Bowling will begin promptly at 6:00 p.m. All bowlers are advised to make every effort to be on hand within 15 minutes of the starting time in order to be sure of finishing in time for a following league.

On alleys 5 and 6 the Teetotalers will attempt to get out of the cellar when they take on the Bio Club, while the redhot Raiders will shoot for a third place spot when they test the Tenpins on alleys 7 and 8.

Grapplers To Oppose Tough Foes

Time Out

by MORGAN R. DAVIS, Sports Editor

Splash, Thump, Swish. That was the order of the day last Saturday, January 6. The swimming team met and defeated the Lycoming mermen in an entirely unforeseen display of swimming prowess, and the 'splash' was the noise made by Coach Russ Picton as he was thrown in the pool by the jubilant Colonel aquatic squad. The 'thump' came as the result of a third period pin at the hands of "big" Bob Sislian in the resounding 28-0 defeat of the Lafayette Leopards. The 'swish' wasn't too audible in the Wilkes-Barre area, but the results of it were very significant as the hoopsters broke their year-long jinx of away game losses and a nine-game losing streak when they trounced the East Stroudsburg Warriors, 86-74.

This change to winning ways by the basketball and swimming teams seem to indicate perhaps that both teams have regained something that the basketball team had last year and lost, and the swimmers never had — confidence.

The hoopsters have shown absolutely astonishing streaks of individual agility and know-how on the court; however, there has been the problem of coordinating these spasms or movements so that they all occur on the same court at the same time. In other words, it is obvious that the individual players show themselves to good advantage, but there has not been quite enough team work displayed in the game.

Although the individuals who are at fault in this instance are probably well aware of it, Coach Eddie Davis could well use another all-around playmaker and tangler like Eddie Birnbaum, last year's tremendous guard.

SPLASH, AGAIN?

Although Coach Russ Picton finally got the old heave-ho (one he really welcomed) the swimmers have again run into their old headaches, not enough participants, not enough experience, and opponents too large and powerful for the newly hatched team. They seem to be taking over in enthusiasm and teamwork where the hoopsters left off.

THUMP, AGAIN

What can be said about a team comprised of three freshman and five upperclassmen who go around trampling the daylight out of the best men the small eastern colleges can muster? The only thing usually left unsaid in the praise going around the Valley, is the fact that these men, besides having the natural ability and enthusiasm for wrestling, are coached by one of the top mentors in the nation. We don't like to brag about our 'li' ole' team or coach, but the records speak for themselves.

At this point we could revert back to one of the old football gripes and make derogatory comments about the number of fans attending the various team functions, but the fact that even our championship wrestling team is not drawing what might be termed "tremendous" crowds, leaves us a little amazed. We have often felt that when a team wasn't winning there was a possible reason for not having the large numbers of fans at the affair, but here we have one really new facet of the Wilkes sports fan. It would be very nice to have at least a few conformists on the campus, so that we could estimate to within a few hundred, how many people were going to attend a game.

Tomorrow and Wednesday will see the grapplers against the fiercest competition that they have ever seen. The Lycoming squad is meeting Wilkes after a roughshod victory of 40 to 0 over Juniata, while Franklin & Marshall is definitely in an upper stratosphere.

Caravans are being formed to attend both of these meets, anyone interested in driving or riding may contact Dick Myers, Dan Lewis, or myself.

MERMEN LOSE, 55 - 26 AFTER LYCOMING WIN

The Bucknell Bisons trimmed the budding Pictonites Wednesday evening by a 55-26 score. The powerful Bisons failed to stop the famed Carl Havira from taking first place in the two contests in which he swam.

The Colonels, without the aid of Clete Miller, forfeited the diving contest and started the meet 8 points behind. The relay team of Friedman, Zionkowski, Havira, and Eckhart showed a surprisingly good time of 4:23.3 in the final event to bring in an added seven points for the upset.

Tomorrow afternoon the swimming Colonels are scheduled to travel to Scranton and take on the Royals in their home pool. In the last two years the Royals have failed to pool enough aquatic talent to fill a fair sized bathtub. Reliable sources indicated that Scranton will again forfeit to the fledgling mermen.

Last Saturday the team reveled in their first real win in two years of intercollegiate competition. The Pictonmen scored an impressive 56 to 29 win over a tough Lycoming team and laid the groundwork for more wins and impressive victories in the future.

They started off the first event, the 400 yard medley relay, by building a firm foundation of 7 points. Ken Selody started, gaining a small lead in the backstroke, Jake Zook took up the lead using breaststroke, while Pat Shovlin extended the lead considerably doing butterfly, and Walt Zionkowski brought home the bacon by almost a full length of the pool.

Carl Havira (see 'Athlete of the Week') started his ironman act in the 220 yard freestyle event bringing home his first five points, while a much improved Berrill Friedman took third place for another point.

In the 50 yard freestyle, Clete Miller came out of retirement to come in first while freshman Art Eckhart was a touch behind to take second. The diving was also expertly dominated by Seminary-graduate Miller for five more points.

In the strenuous 200 yard butterfly the "Ironman" brought home another five-pointer while one of the Lycoming swimmers was pulled out of the pool after he had collapsed from exhaustion in the gruelling event.

The 100 yard freestyle followed with freshman Eckhart turning in an impressive time to cop a second place and three points.

Pat Shovlin was next to join the five-point band wagon as he churned the waters in the 200 yard backstroke, while colleague Ken Selody added another third place point.

In the longest race of the day, 400 yard freestyle, Bob Norrins of Lycoming came in first with Jake Zook and Bernie Wahalla coming in second and third for the Wilkes mermen.

Havira romped home in his third event of the day in a dazzling 2 minutes, 58 seconds in the 200 yard breaststroke. Then to make the day complete, the relay team of Berrill Friedman, Walt Zionkowski, Clete Miller, and Art Eckhart pulled out in an early lead in the 400 yard freestyle and never relinquished it, turning in another seven point count for the Pictonmen.

Face Improved Lycoming Matmen, Strong F&M Squad Next Opponent; Leopards Blanked for Second Time

by Richard J. Myers

Tomorrow Coach Reese and his Colonels will be at Lycoming for a 6:30 p.m. meet, first part of a sports doubleheader. The meet will be the third between the two colleges. Last year Wilkes hung a 29-5 pasting on the Warriors and shut them out in 1957, by a 38-0 count.

Cagers Roadbound; Losing Streak Halted With 2 Solid Victories

Eddie Davis' Wilkes College cagersmen take to the road for their next three basketball encounters after having broken their away-court blues.

Tomorrow evening the Ithaca College Bombers will furnish the opposition on their home floor in Boynton, New York. The Bombers, coached by Carlton Wood, are enjoying a prosperous season and sport a 9 won - 5 lost record. They will be led by forward Rich Slomkowski who tallied 29 points against Rider last Saturday night and who boasts a 19 point average overall.

LAST MINUTE SWITCH

A change in schedule, announced on Wednesday, moved Saturday's game at Ithaca to a night contest yesterday. Results of that game were unavailable at 'Beacon' press time.

Monday night the Wilkesmen again don their away togs and go against a strong Juniata quintet at Huntingdon, Pa. Coach T. Arnold Greene's Indians are currently tied for the northern division lead of the Middle Atlantic Conference with Hofstra, and are unbeaten in league competition. Pacing the Indians will be 5 foot - 9 inch guard Don Burnich who is their leading scorer and top playmaker.

Wednesday night the Blue and Gold will take on the Lycoming Warriors in a return battle at Williamsport, Pa. Wilkes defeated Lycoming in their season opener by the score of 79-72. The Warriors have been luckless in the current campaign in that they have won only one game.

WEDNESDAY RESULTS

The Wilkes hoopmen continued their winning ways by haking a 95-73 victory over Harpur College Wednesday night. Bernie Radecki, ex-Ashley ace, led the Wilkes attack garnering 22 points and was a tower of strength off the boards. Ron Roski netted 19 tallies, while injured George Gacha hit 5 for 5 from the field for 10 points. Ralph Hendershot chipped in with 8 counters and made a 55-foot set shot at the close of the first half which was disallowed because of a walking violation.

LAST WEEK RESULTS

Last Friday evening the Rider Broncs rode into the Wilkes arena and dampened the home crowd's hopes with a 77-63 victory. Inspired by Jack Madden's 27 point effort the Ridermen played good second half basketball to emerge as the victors.

The Wilkes attack was led by fiery guard George Gacha who "zipped" 18 counters through the nets. Gacha sustained a leg injury near the end of the game and was forced to retire to the sidelines. Center Ron Roski returned to scoring ways and chipped in with 15 points. Fran Mikolanis also added (continued on page 6)

That the Warriors have improved, however, is evident in the score of their last meet. Last Saturday, while Wilkes was blasting Lafayette for the second consecutive year via the shutout route, Lycoming was accomplishing the same feat, posting a 40-0 white-wash over the budding Juniata squad.

A contingent of Wilkes fans is planning to form a "Colonels' Caravan" to attend tomorrow's meet as well as the vital Franklin and Marshall meet coming next week. Interested parties may contact 'Beacon' Sports Editor Morgan Davis.

Wednesday's meet at F. and M. shapes up as the most serious threat to Wilkes' chances of an undefeated season, provided they get by Lycoming unscathed. F. and M. is noted for its excellent wrestling teams and has long participated in meets with some of the top wrestling powers of the East.

Leopards Blanked, 28-0

Last Saturday the grapplers treated a nearly full gym to a splendid exhibition of skill, turning in their second straight shutout of the Leopards of Lafayette.

Ted Toluba at 157 pounds, pulled the fastest trick of the night, taking down John Hanson in just eight seconds. Toluba was reversed in a few seconds, but before a half-minute had passed, he reversed Hanson to regain control and picked up an additional point at the end of the first period when he had Hanson in trouble and was working for a fall.

He gained two more points on a reversal from the referee's position in the second period, then rode hard throughout the last period, gaining three points on a near-fall in the final seconds of the bout.

Heavyweight Bob Sislian brought the house down with his sensational pin over Dennis Doyle, co-captain, in the last bout of the meet. Both men were on their feet throughout much of the first two periods; Doyle held the lead, 1-0, by virtue of an escape from the referee's position in the second round. Sislian reversed Doyle in the short time of 18 seconds of the final round, nearly got a pin at 1:00, then, with the fans screaming for the finish, pinned his man with only 45 seconds left in the bout.

Dick Stauffer started the shutout with a 3-0 win over the Leopards' co-captain, Joe Lees, in the 123-pound class. Gerard Senick, at 130, took on Tom Principi, exercised a good tight waist to control the bout all the way and record a 2-0 win.

Joe Morgan, wrestling at 137, gave a solid performance, taking a 6-0 win over Dalton Marks, riding beautifully all the way. Bob Mayer scored the first points for the Leopards when he escaped twice from Ron Bienkowski, but the Colonel 147-pounder took the decision, 3-2.

Walt Glogowski met 177-pounder Bill Brown and had only one or two uncomfortable moments before winning his fourth straight of the year, 3-0. The Leopards forfeited to Marv Antinnes in the 167-pound division.

DR. J. GAITO AND M. LOZMAN GIVE REPORT TO E.P.A. GROUP

by John Cook

EPA is a small group of letters which stand for a large group of people, many of them possessing minds unequaled for their knowledge and perception of psychology. Those letters represent the Eastern Psychological Association. When that indomitable group convenes in Atlantic City, New Jersey, during April 3 and 4, a Wilkes student is going to address some prominent professional psychologists and read a report which he wrote in collaboration with a member of the Wilkes faculty.

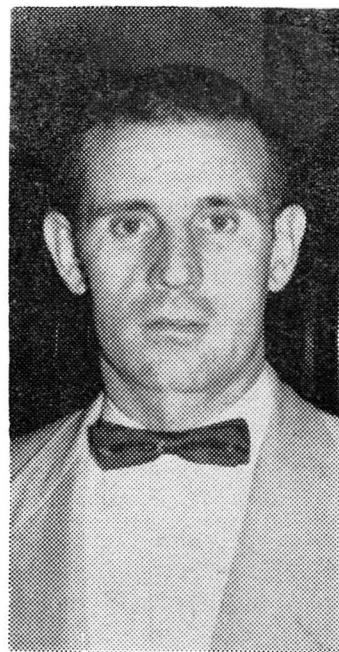

A milestone has been attained not only for the collaborators, but also for the college, for this is the first time the EPA has accepted a paper from Wilkes.

Entitled "Relation of Susceptibility to Set to Recovery from Set," the paper is the result of the combined efforts of Dr. John Gaito and Michael Lozman, senior psychology major, who will read it before the EPA.

The paper is concerned with a variety of important factors having to do with the general area of problem-solving. The basic hypothesis on which the experiment was conducted is that people can very easily be "set," that is, conditioned, to react in similar ways to similar stimuli, and that there are certain stimulus conditions which are important in the development of "set," but that the individual characteristics are most important to the subject's recovery from "set."

The procedures involved in evaluating the hypothesis were administered to 112 freshman orientation students in two one-hour periods. The authors feel that the results of this testing are "interesting," and will lead to further research in this area.

Lozman's efforts in the experiment stemmed duly from the fact that he was enrolled in an individual research course, and a personal interest in the subject of problem-solving. Dr. Gaito had been concerned with this area of study since his graduate days; his doctoral thesis was entitled "An Informational Approach to Problem-Solving and Thinking Behavior." He plans to explore this field further in the immediate future.

Lozman, who graduates this June with a B.A. in psychology, looks forward to graduate school, where he can pursue his interest in the clinical or experimental fields of psychology.

Following its reading at the EPA meeting, the paper will be submitted to a psychological journal for publication.

CAGERS ROADBOUND

14 tallies to the Wilkes cause.

Saturday in Stroudsburg the Blue and Gold not only broke their away court jinx, but also brought their current losing streak to an end. Wilkes defeated East Stroudsburg by the score of 86-74.

This was a seasonal high scoring mark for the cagers and was made possible with four players hitting double figures. Mikolanis led the scorers with 24 points, Roski added 21 tallies, and Eddie Kemps and Bernie Radecki each registered 13 counters. Radecki also showed fine rebounding form in controlling the defensive boards against the taller Stroudsburg cagers.
