BUTLER DORM WILL SPONSOR SPORT DANCE TO BENEFIT LOCAL MINE DISASTER FUND

Charity Hop to Be Held In River Street Home; Proceeds to Go to Fund;

Butler Hall's men, in an effort to extend tangible evidence of their sympathy for the recent mine disaster at Port Griffith, are sponsoring a benefit sports dance next Saturday.

R. T. Mattioli, president of the dorm, has announced that a special feature of the evening will be the drawing for prizes in the raffle held in conjunction with the dance. The raffle proceeds as well as the 50-cent donations for admission will be given to the Disaster Fund.

Raffle tickets may be purchased from any resident of Butler Hall at ten cents each, three for 25 cents, or a book of twelve for one dollar.

Al Jones

Holders of the winning stubs need not be present to win one of the prizes. Allyn Jones is chairman of the ticket committee.

The dance will be held at the dormitory, 158 S. River Street. Music will be by the Mary Jean Quartet, with dancing from 9 until 12 o'clock.

Mattioli is general chairman for the project. His committees are: Paul Bleifer, Bob Washburn, and Ken Selody, tickets; Al Jones, Don Lewis, and Ward Howard, raffle ticket sales; Dave Roebuck, Larry Major, and John Schade, publicity; Mr. Robert Tener, chaperone; Larry Major, entertainment; and Al Jones, refreshments.

Two Organizations Plan Big Spring Celebration

by Florence Gallagher

Tentative plans are now being made for a "spring weekend" to be held April 11. Sponsored by the school spirit committee and the inter-dormitory council, the "spring weekend" will provide a day of enjoyment for the student of Wilkes.

Although no definite plans have been made, festivities will include an outing in the afternoon and open house in four Wilkes dormitories in the evening with a "combo" in each dorm to play for dancing.

Publicity chairman for the affair is Nelson Papouvhi.

REGIONAL I.C.G. MEETS SUNDAY

Student representatives from ten college chapters of the Northeastern Region of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government and Politics (I.C.G.) will meet on March 1 at Lehigh University for the purpose of presenting mock bills of legislation for debate and discussion.

Each chapter of the I.C.G. has delegated members to prepare these mock bills under the following categories: Education, Health and Welfare; State Government and Local Government; Labor-Industry, Agriculture and Natural Resources; Taxation and Finance, Highways and Transportation; and Constitutional Revision and Judiciary.

All bills accepted at the meeting will be presented at the State I.C.G. meetings to be held in Harrisburg on April 16, 17 and 18 at the Education Forum Building.

These mock bills represent legislation that the individual I.C.G. Chapters would like to see enacted into Pennsylvania State Law.

Heading the Convention Committee of Education, Health and Welfare, will be John Mulhall, vice-president of the Wilkes I.C.G. He will also represent the Wilkes Chapter on the Rules Committee along with Arthur Evans, junior, as alternate. Gordon Roberts, I.C.G. chairman, will represent the local chapter on the Strategy Committee. Faculty advisor of the Wilkes I.C.G. Chapter is Arthur Hoover, instructor in the field of Commerce and Finance.

Colleges and universities to be represented at the Convention are: Muhlenberg, Mansfield, Scranton, Moravian, King's, Marywood, Lafayette, Lehigh, Misericordia, and Wilkes.

Biologists to Present Program on Tuesday

Next Tuesday's assembly program will be in charge of the Biology Club and will have as its theme "Sex Through the Ages."

Clete Miller, general chairman, has announced the following tentative program of topics and speakers:

Introduction and Conclusion — John Saba, president of the Biology Club. "Sexual Reproductions in the Invertebrates" — Jerome Gutterman and William Francis. "Sexual Reproduction in the Aquatic Vertebrates" — Arlene Gallia, Phyllis Becker, and Jan Jablonski. "Sexual Reproduction in the Terrestrial Vertebrates" — William Davis.

In addition to the speeches to be presented, there will be five exhibits, related to various branches of biological sciences, displayed in the foyer of the gymnasium. The committee in charge of the exhibits is composed of the following: Alfred D'Anca, James Thomas, John Maylock, Robert Martin, and John Schade.

JOCELYN KING

Judges Name Her The Best-Dressed Of 13 Candidates

Four hours of careful deliberation last week by a panel of three judges was climaxed by the naming of Miss Jocelyn King as the "Best Dressed Girl" on the Wilkes campus and as Wilkes' entry for Glamour Magazine's "Best Dressed College Girls" Contest.

Judges Nicholas Perrella of Perrella's Hair Fashions and Cosmetic Shop, Buddy Feltz of the Hollywood Apparel Shop, and Lee Vincent handed down their decision last Thursday in the Wilkes gym, where the thirteen girls nominated by various campus organizations (Miss King was the ICG candidate) and classes modeled their clothes.

The thirteen candidates and the organizations which sponsored them were: Helen McHale, I.D.C.; Jocelyn King, I.C.G.; Mildred Patronik, Economics Club; Beverly Gates, S.A.M.; Carol Emanski, I.R.C.; Arlene Gallia, Male Chorus; Mary Homan, T.D.R. and C.C.U.N.; Mary Louise Bender, Jaycees; Audrey Bartlett, Manuscript; Judy Warnick, Chemistry Club; Pat Fushek, the Beacon; Marion Christopher, and Priscilla McCormick, Lettermen's Club.

The outfit worn by Miss King consisted of a red beaded sweater and a black straight skirt with a back panel.

The Glamour Queen is an active and enthusiastic member of the junior class, majoring in business education. Her extracurricular activities include the Society for the Advancement of Management, Cue and Curtain (she played Mrs. Potter - Porter in "Annie Get Your Gun"), the girls' varsity basketball team (which she captains) and Theta Delta Rho.

A resident of Weiss Hall who hails from Pompton Plains, New Jersey, Miss King was graduated from Immaculate Conception High School, Montclair, New Jersey. Even then an active student, she played 4 years of varsity basketball, served 2 years on the Student Council, was president of the Foreign Mission Society in her senior year, and secretary in her junior year, and was director of all athletics for the yearbook during her senior year.

Following high school, Miss King attended St. Mary of the Woods College in Terre Haute, Indiana, where she studied business administration and physical education, and was active in the Equestrian Club. She then transferred to Marymount College in Tarrytown, New York, where she majored in business education. While at Marymount she participated in the Social Service Committee, the Equestrian Club, and Sodality, a Catholic organization.

No newcomer to the world of fashion, Miss King has worked in the field for 5 years. At the age of 15 she became associated with John Robert Powers of New York, with whom she took courses in modeling and worked in fashion shows.

Miss King was next contacted by Mademoiselle Magazine, who took pictures of her for their 1958 collection.

'MARDI GRAS' ATMOSPHERE HIGHLIGHTS SOPH DANCE

by Lee Baiera

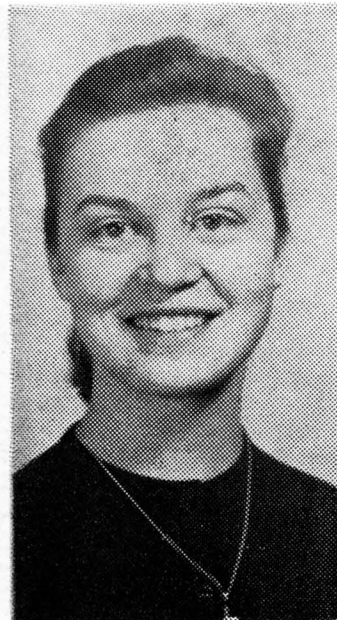

The Sophomore class will have a Mardi Gras Dance tonight in the gym from 9 to 12. The theme of the dance will be the famous Mardi Gras Festival of New Orleans.

Robert Amey

Bob Moran and his Ivy Leaguers will provide the music for a fun-filled evening of games and dancing. Each person attending the affair will be given a traditional Mardi Gras mask.

Carnival booths, which will be set up throughout the gym, will include ring toss, dart throwing, candles with water guns, and penny pitch. The fees for these games will be five cents a chance with the exception of penny pitch which will cost exactly one penny.

Martha Menegus

Prizes such as finger puzzles, Hawaiian leis, and key chains will be given to the lucky winners. Decorations consisting of streamers, balloons and masks made out of black paper will add color to the evening.

General chairmen for the affair are Bob Amey and Marty Menegus. Barry Yorum is head of the entertainment committee; Ann Curley, decorations; Chuck Sorber, tickets; Beverly Major, publicity; Fred Javer, refreshments; Mary Darling, posters; and Sandy Ungar, prizes.

EDITORIALS

The BEACON joins the student body in extending sincerest sympathy to Dean George F. Ralston and his family on the recent passing of his father.

Our Reputation at Stake

After last week's letter to the editor and the facts contained therein, we begin to wonder at the obvious lack of thought by the student body in general. The request by the owners of Pocono Mountain Inn not to bring "hard" beverages to the Winter Carnival was ignored along with all the common rules of decency. Members of the student body not only found it necessary to bring their own, but they also found it necessary to take a few things home with them. The exchange of merchandise was not equal, or do we have to mention it?

The reputation of the student body of Wilkes took a tremendous drop after the much debated carnival. They managed to smuggle out several no parking signs, a bridge stick, and the stuffed head of a deer.

If this little incident doesn't cancel any future reservations that we might have made with the Inn, nothing ever will. No one in their right mind will ever take on a Wilkes group after this year. Frankly, we can't blame the owners of carnival sites for refusing to allow their places to be picked clean of anything movable.

The All-Powerful

The first editorial we wrote way back in September advocated the acceptance of the revised constitution of the student body. We will now proceed to saw off the limb that we climbed out on at that time by finding fault with the constitution.

To be a member of the student government, one must have that mythical thing called the "cumulative '2' average." This, as we understand it, is to protect both the student and the college. As the story goes, the student with the 2 is supposed to be able to devote more time to the organization because he is not bothered by excessive hours of study. On the other hand, the student with a 1.99, or lower, average is required to study so much that he will not be able to do justice to his position as a representative to the Student Government. This, we regret, is as we understand it.

Anyone who considers this and other reasons for the all-powerful 2, will begin to wonder just exactly what the individual student has to say in the matter. Right now, he has nothing to say because he already had his say when he voted for the installation of the constitution.

We look at it this way; there has to be a line drawn somewhere along the grade line if only for the protection of the extra-curricular crazy student. Some people can cheerfully plod along in three or four activities while they are, at the same time, on probation. This student obviously needs some restriction because he has shown no sense in planning his activities. But since when are we, undergraduates, so thoroughly trained that we might set such a limit on ourselves? Administrators have set a minimum requirement for graduation. That minimum average is a 1.85, not a 2! If we are to leave the constitution as it stands now, we are saying in effect that it is more difficult to be a member of the Student Government or a president of a class than it is to graduate. If anyone should ask us, we will be only too happy to tell them that we would much rather get that little piece of parchment than be a member of the Student Government or the president of our class.

If the administration is willing to allow a student with a 1.85 average to graduate, we should be willing to let him represent us on the Student Government or as our class president. We also advocate a change so that sophomore representatives not be required to have more than a 1.4 and the juniors a 1.7, as it is required for admission to the class.

For those of you who are about to sit down and call us a traitor for changing our view, we suggest that you check back in the first issue in September. The editorial we wrote referred and commented only on the changes in the constitution, we made no mention to the already existing clauses. This all-mighty 2 is not a change, unless you want to be technical. In the days of the old constitution, the grade was a 'C', now it is a '2'.

VITAL LEADERS MEETING NEXT THURSDAY EVENING

A Student Leaders Conference, vital to student knowledge of college policies and practices, will be held next Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the Commons, second floor.

Under the auspices of Student Government, the meeting is designed to acquaint students with problems and policies through the leaders of campus clubs and organizations. A similar meeting in September proved interesting and informative.

All class officers, class council members, club or organizational officials — appointed or elected, and any interested students are invited and urged to attend.

Gordon Roberts, general chairman of the Conference, has revealed that several important matters will be discussed; e.g., new Student Government policies; old policies still in effect; Administration policies on such matters as: grading system, intercollegiate activities, forms, etc., and the Honor System.

Either Roberts or Student Government President Bob Pitel will act as chairman and moderator at the very important discussion.

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS

A wealth of new books, covering every subject from the microscopic to outer space, appears on the shelves of the Wilkes Library during the school year. The following books are three of the most recent acquisitions which readers are bound to find amusing, informative, and general wholesome reading.

The White House and Its Thirty-two Families by Amy La Follette Jensen, New York: McGraw-Hill Company.

This book is an intimate close-up of thirty-two presidential families — from John and Abigail Adams to Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower — who have called 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue "home."

An abundantly illustrated volume, it also contains many pages of delightful reading of little-known historical facts and humorous anecdotes.

Over a century and a half of United States history with a "behind the scenes" view is presented, and the reader is afforded a view of the personal side of the number-one men of our country.

Some of the lighter points: President Taft's over-sized bathtub; "impish pranks" of many White House children; Margaret Truman's attempts to capture Lincoln's ghost.

Here is a colorful book all will want to read.

The Short Story by Sean O'Faolain, New York: Devin Adair Company.

A work on the art of the short story as a literary form, this book presents an analysis of the "personal problem behind the literary problem."

The author, a prominent short story writer, illustrates many of his points with fascinating chapters on the lives of past literary personalities such as Guy de Maupassant.

There is abundant information on technical aspects of construction, language, convention, etc. It is a highly informative book with a personal approach.

Mackerel Plaza by Peter DeVries, Boston: Little, Brown, and Company.

Latest of the novels by the author of the popular The Tunnel of Love, Mackerel Plaza relates some witty episodes in the life of a modern preacher.

The book opens with our hero (Reverend Mackerel — who detests the thought of being called 'Holy Mackerel') discovering a distasteful revivalist billboard in his neighborhood. His horror increases when he finds out that one of his own parishioners has erected the sign in loving memory of the late Mrs. Mackerel.

The thoughtful parishioner is persuaded to change his memorial gift, and he does. A huge memorial plaza is his substitute — a plaza to keep Mrs. Mackerel's memory green.

HONOR SYSTEM EVALUATIONS MADE BY 'LEADERS,' FACULTY

by Connie Stukowski

After many months of preparation, Gordon Roberts, Chairman of the Honor System Evaluation Committee, submitted an evaluation of an honor system at Wilkes to the Student Council on February 11, 1959.

The report listed the various steps taken to determine the desirability of such a system at Wilkes. The first step was taken at the Student Leader Conference on September 28, 1958. At this time a form containing five questions was given to each student leader for his unbiased opinion about the desirability of an honor system. The results of the student leader poll are as follows:

Forms distributed to Student Leaders: Total 46
Forms returned by Student Leaders: Total 24
Forms returned disapproving an honor system at this time: Total 14

Forms not returned: Total 22
In October of 1958 a form was submitted to each faculty member requesting his or her opinion concerning an honor system at Wilkes. The results of that poll are as follows:

Forms distributed: Total 69
Forms returned: Total 31

Forms returned approving an honor system at this time: Total 23

Forms returned disapproving an honor system at this time: Total 8

Forms returned marked "undecided": Total 3

Forms not returned: Total 35
The Honor System Evaluation Committee also submitted the following recommendations:

1. That a poll of the student body be conducted.
2. That upon completion and tabulation of this poll the Student Government empower the committee to enlarge itself by including representatives of all classes, and faculty members.
3. That the enlargement of the Honor System Evaluation Committee not take place until after the Student Government determines, on the basis of complete reports, that said committee should continue functioning.

"SONGS TO SPRING" AROUND THE WORLD

Russia

Rejoice Comrade, Spring is here
To the Party, give a cheer
With the loss of snow's obstruction
We can increase our production.

France

Pass the bottle, mon ami
Wine's the drink of spring, you see
Both Spring and wine will chase all sorrow
But what a head I'll have tomorrow!

Japan

Cherry blossom time's begun
In the Land of the Rising Sun
It won't seem the same, though
Without Marlon Brando.

Africa

Springtime in Mau-Mau Land
Is nothing short of grand
But whatever you do
Look out for voodoo.

Alaska

Spring has come to the newest State
Sergeant Preston thinks it's great.
I hate to make his illusion splinter
But Alaskan Springs are just like winter.

Ireland

A wonderful thing
Is Ireland in Spring
When the passing scene
Is twice as green.

England

Here Spring's announced by a blast of trumpets
And the passing round of Tea and Crumpets
And lovers sitting on the green
Whisper softly "God Save the Queen."

Texas

A Texan will give you the line
That Texas Springs are mighty fine
The air is full of lovely smells
And little, blossoming oil wells.

Germany

Spring's the time when a German fine
Fills to the rim, his old beer stein
And dislocates his pelvis
Imitating Elvis.

Egypt

Egypt's Spring is fast
And reminds us of the past
When Tony, Julius, and Cleo
Were a trio.

POLICIES GOVERNING THE ACTIVITIES PROGRAM
AT WILKES COLLEGE — AS OF MARCH 1, 1959

- The activities program at Wilkes College shall include the following: all extracurricular activities except intercollegiate sports. These extracurricular activities shall come under the supervision of the Student Government.
- Each organization shall have a constitution recognized and approved by the Student Government. Such organizations that have outside affiliations must be approved by both the Student Government and Administrative Council. This constitution shall give such specific information as the following about the organization:
 - Name of club
 - Purpose
 - Time and place of meeting
 - Offices
 - Membership stipulations, if any.
- To allow for smooth functioning and a minimum of conflicts in establishing a social calendar, the following steps shall be taken:
 - Permission to hold all student functions, on or off the campus, shall be obtained from the Student Government. An activities form procured from the Dean's office and signed by the president or vice-president and advisor of the club shall be submitted to the Student Government for approval not less than 2 weeks prior to the scheduled activity. This form shall be accompanied by chaperon forms, duly signed by the chaperones of the affair. These forms may be presented by any Student Government representative.
 - Conflicts on the social calendar (which might arise while the basic social calendar is in preparation) shall be arbitrated by the Student Government. If no amicable settlement can be reached thereby, the dispute shall be placed in the hands of the Court of Appeals.
 - The social calendar shall not conflict with the college calendar published in the college catalogue.
- Finances:
 - Each organization shall submit its budget for the coming school year to the Student Government 6 weeks after the beginning of the fall semester.
 - A Budget Committee, appointed by the president of the Student Government, shall consider appropriations to each activity and submit their proposals to the body of the Student Government as soon as possible after the beginning of the fall semester.
 - When the budget has been approved by the Student Government it shall be passed on to the Administrative Council for final approval.
 - Appropriations to recognized activities shall be made available upon the presentation to the Comptroller of requests signed by the advisor of the club and the president or the treasurer of the club or activity.
 - The Student Government shall allocate funds from the Inter-collegiate Conference Fund on the following basis: 50% of cost of $10 per person, whichever is lower, but at no time to exceed $125 for a budget year.
 - All budgets and requests for funds shall be submitted to the Student Government on forms prepared by the Comptroller.
 - Each activity shall operate within its budget.
 - All expenditures within the budget shall be approved by (1) the faculty advisor, (2) the Comptroller, (3) the chairman of the student activity.
- All student affairs shall be chaperoned. Two chaperones must be selected from the faculty or administration. Each chaperon must grant his approval in writing on the chaperon forms submitted to the Student Government with the activities form.
- Chaperons shall be on hand at the beginning of the affair and shall remain until the affair is ended. They shall be responsible for the behavior of all persons attending the affair.

- Expenses involved in field trips will be borne by either the club treasury, club members, or both.
- All committee meetings of the Student Government shall be open to the student body unless closed by specific order of the president.

C'n'C Plans Rehearsals
For Single-Act Plays
To Be Given in March

by Phyllis Ianuzzo
The Cue 'n' Curtain club is now in rehearsal for a program of one-act plays which will be presented in Chase Theatre on March 17, 18, and 19.

Something Unspoken, a comedy written by Tennessee Williams, will be directed by Cue 'n' Curtain director Alfred S. Groh and will star Mary Frances Swigert and Betty Lou Kozik.

Dr. Robert Chapman, associate professor of English, will guest direct Fumed Oak, written by Noel Coward. Robert Stevens, Audrey Bartlett and Judi Coplan will play the principal roles; there is also one other part which has not yet been cast.

The third play will be A Phoenix Too Frequent by Christopher Fry. This will also be directed by Mr. Groh and will star Nancy Wilkins, Fred Malkemes and Sally Price.

Besides the one-acts, the club is also making final preparations for its assembly program for March 24. For the assembly, the club will do the radio version of H. G. Wells' War of the Worlds. This program was first produced in 1938 on the Silver Theatre Program starring Orson Wells and caused quite a commotion with its "invasion from Mars" theme.

R. B. CHAPLINE JOINS FACULTY

by Cynthia Hagley
Mr. Richard B. Chapline, a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music, became a faculty member of the Music Department at the beginning of this semester. Mr. Chapline's fields of study in music have been voice and piano.

After receiving his B.S. and M.S. degrees in voice from Juilliard, Mr. Chapline obtained a Fulbright Fellowship to study voice and lute at the Staatliche Hochschule fur Music in Cologne, Germany. He spent two years abroad and while there sang in Cologne and Brussels. Before his education at Juilliard, he studied piano at the Ornstein School of Music in Philadelphia. He was also a voice student at the Aspen Institute, Aspen, Colorado.

Mr. Chapline has been employed as a coach, accompanist, and teacher at the Ornstein School of Music. He was also an advisor to the Fulbright Committee for the Selection of Scholars for Studying Abroad. He has sung with the Philadelphia Choral Ensemble, the Hafstadter Singers, the Baroque Singers and in American Folk Song Recitals in Germany, free lance and for the United States Information Service. Through his experiences and travels, Mr. Chapline has been able to devote time to some of his special fields of interest. For one, he is interested in collecting folk songs in their most natural and unspoiled state. He is also interested in the study of early music and the lute.

NEKI HOKIS, SLICKEROOS CONQUER LEAGUES; INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONSHIPS TO BE HELD

The intramural basketball leagues wound up league play this week with the Slickeroos on top of the National League and the famous Neki Hoki team compiling a perfect record for the American League championship.

The Neki Hoki and Slickeroos will clash sometime around March 4, in what should be the World Series of intramural basketball.

Players that should see action on the Neki Hoki team are: Parsnik, Dydo, Williams, Michaels, Matthey, Kubicki, Perkowski, and Ercolani. For the Slickeroos are: Just, Macri, Williams, Korch, Yatsko, and Folek.

The standings of the league are:

Sunday night's action completed the second round of the triple round-robin competition. The teams will meet each other once more before the season concludes. Plans are being made tentatively to open a two- or three-week handicap tournament in April, if interest is high enough.

Cellar-dwelling for better than a month, the Teetotalers are now within one game of sixth place, five out of third, after winning eight points in their last three weeks.

Scoring:
Teetotalers: Morgan Davis 181-505, Dick Myers 180-491, Wayne Walters 177-483, Ray Yanchus 161-480, and Lois Tremayne 125-328.

Pinbusters: John Sapiago 190-541, Emil Petrask 173-495, Don Wilkinson 164-449, Bill Watkins 214 and 147, Fred Jacoby 168 and 142, and Dick Dyanick 161 and 132.

Playboys 3, Bio Club 1
The Playboys missed a chance to take over the top spot, but settled for a 3-1 win over the Bio Club, dropping them to within one game of last place.

Playboys: Warren Denmon 176-489, Ron Phillips 190-481, Bud Hungarter 157-455, and Fred Mountjoy 160-445.

Bio Club: John Maylock 163-480, Rose Weinstein 194-475, Marty Tansy 141-381, Bob Barovich 162 and 122, Hill Hoffman 161 and 95, and Leigh Humphrey 132 and 94.

Tenpins 3, Goldbricks 1

Completing the night's round of three-point wins, the Tenpins beat the Goldbricks behind John Matthey's 200-502. The loss dropped the Goldbricks to fourth place and moved the Tenpins into fifth.

Tenpins: Matthey 502, John Kuhar 176-442, Tom Evans 166-442, Cliff Brothers 146-395, and Mary Matthey 133-358.

Goldbricks: Dan Lewis 181-500, Steve Klein 170-450, Gil Gregory 169-437, Jerry Chisarick 147-436.

Next week the Playboys will be forced to take four from the Raiders if they hope to remain tied for first, because the idle Pinbusters will take an automatic four-point win. The match will be on alleys 5 and 6.

The Tenpins and Bio Club will roll on alleys 3 and 4, while the Teetotalers will try out their newfound power on Dan Lewis and his Goldbricks on 7 and 8.

Standings:

Grapplers Seek Third Straight Title

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

MORGAN PINS AT MORAVIAN, DECISIONS F. & M. GRAPPLER

5:18 Pin and 3-0 Defeat Earn Award for 137-lb. Point-getting Grappler

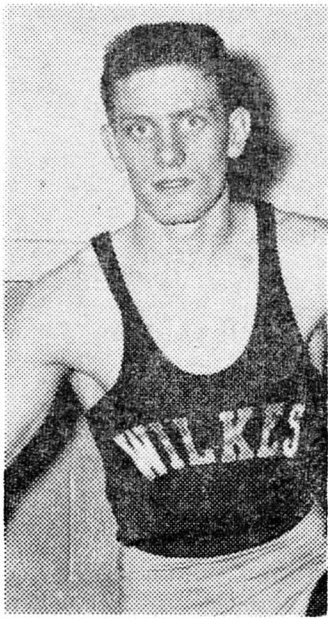

Joe Morgan is named "Athlete" with the adjective "tremendous" not inclusive enough to herald his talents. Joe's 3-0 victory over previously undefeated Hartman of Franklin & Marshall College was enough to set hearts beating faster, but the clincher came when Joe came on again Friday night to slap another good wrestler's shoulders to the mat and hold them for the required 3 seconds during the Moravian meet.

Joe is not a newcomer to the Wilkes athletic scene, he took the "Athlete" award during the soccer season and filled in the 147 pound slot very nicely on last year's championship wrestling team.

Although the wrestling team has had a long streak of victories, this is the first season that they have been unbeaten and untied and Joe is one of the major point-getters that has made this possible.

He has always been an aggressive type grappler, but this year his attitude on the mat seems to have changed enough so that he always has his opponent on the defensive.

Joe might have acquired additional motives along with a new bride. Last year he was married to a former Wilkes coed and they are presently residing in Forty Fort.

Before coming to Wilkes Joe attended Girard College where he lettered on the wrestling team four years running. He also captained the grapplers in his senior year.

Colonels Battle Rams, Return to Win Column, Booster Night Planned

Eddie Davis' Wilkes College cage squad meets one of the top independent teams on the eastern seaboard tomorrow night on the home court. The Philadelphia Textile Rams, coached by Walter 'Bucky' Harris and sporting a 15 won - 3 lost record, will invade the Wilkes gym at 8:00 p.m.

Last year the Rams, though beaten by Wilkes, received a bid to play in the Eastern Regional At Large Tournament and are pointing for another bid to the same tourney this season.

Philadelphia Textile will be led by Bob Simons, sophomore guard, the scoring leader in the Delaware Valley area. Bob has amassed 424 points for a 23.8 average per game.

The Rams also possess a fine center in 6 feet - 3 inch Bob Molm-gern who leads the team in re-bounds.

A booster night is being planned for this big game with all the high school basketball squads and their coaches being invited to attend. Student participation is also requested to make this project a success.

Albright Game

Wednesday night, Wilkes will close its basketball campaign on the home floor when they face the Albright Lions from Reading, Penna. Game time is 8:00 p.m. The Lions have compiled a record of 10 wins and 12 losses this season under the direction of Coach Will Renken.

Fred Dietzel is the scoring leader for the Lions, averaging 19 points per game. He will be aided by Stan Kaminski and Sam Preston who are also averaging scores in double figures.

Saturday Night's Results

Last Saturday night the Wilkes Colonels came through with their best played game of the campaign and a victory over Hartwick College. Final score: Wilkes 92, Hartwick 79.

With five men hitting in double figures, the Blue and Gold took command early in the contest and never relinquished their advantage.

Fran Mikolanis returned to his high-scoring form by zipping 26 points through the hoop. Center Ron Roski played one of the best games of his Wilkes College career. He scored 21 tallies and was a tower of strength off the boards.

George Gacha hit for 16 counters and played a good floor game. Clem Gavenas, sophomore guard, came through with 13 markers and sparked on defense. Bernie Radecki produced 11 points and led the Wilkes fast-break attack.

COLONETTES BEAT BLOOMSBURG GIRLS

by Lee Baiera

On Wednesday, February 18, the Wilkes Colonelettes played at Marywood and were defeated, 79 to 29.

In the first quarter, the score was even, however, in the second quarter, Marywood took the lead, and the Colonelettes were unable to catch up to them.

High scorers for the Colonelettes were Florence Billings and Sylvia Trewern, ten points, and Beverly Major, nine points. Although the Colonelettes made seven out of thirteen shots, the Marywoodians marched on to victory.

Wilkes vs. Bloomsburg

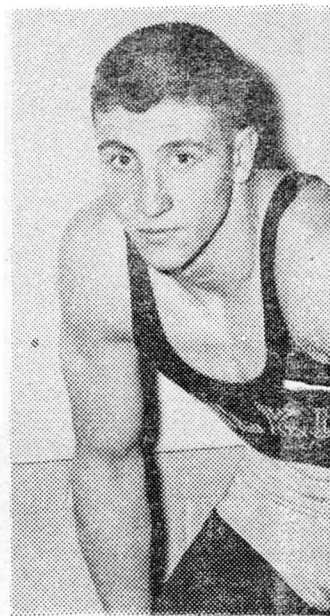

On Saturday, February 21, the Colonelettes defeated the Bloomsburg Varsity "B" Club at Bloomsburg. In this game Wilkes took the lead and kept it to win the game, 37 to 16.

High scorers for this game were Carol Thomas and Sylvia Trewern, eleven points, Florence Billings,

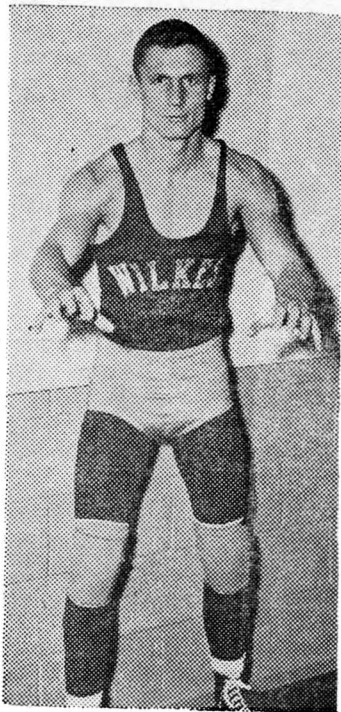

At Hofstra Tonight, Tomorrow For Mid-Atlantic Tournament After 30-4 Moravian 'Warm-Up'

by Richard J. Myers

Seeking their third consecutive title in the annual Middle Atlantic Conference wrestling tournament, the Wilkesmen are at Hofstra College tonight. The defending champions enter the contest as light favorites to take an unprecedented third crown. Ted Toluba and Marv Antinnes are the Colonels' two unbeaten entrants.

Marv Antinnes

Ted Toluba

Coach Reese's charges went unscathed through a brief, seven-meet season, running into difficulty only with the always powerful Franklin and Marshall team, and with a surprisingly strong Lycoming crew.

Last Friday night the matmen refused to believe the press clippings of the Moravian Greyhounds and came out of the 'Hounds kennel with a resounding 30-4 win.

Bill Rinker, highly-touted 123-pounder for Moravian, gave Dick Stauffer a rough tussle, but Stauffer's puzzling style was too much for the flashy freshman from Bethlehem.

Stauffer spent much of the first period on his back, then picked up three points on a near-fall in the second. He was reversed then, but led 7-6, going into the third round.

A wild and woolly final period saw Stauffer come out on top, 10-6, and the parade was on.

Jerry Senick met game Dave Cornelius in the 130-pound bout and got a takedown midway through the first round, rode throughout the second, reversed Cornelius in the third, then drove like a man possessed to turn in a solid fall at 7:31.

Joe Morgan pinned 137 pounder Bob Sallish in 5:18, to put the Colonels ahead, 13-0. Morgan, fresh from his sensational win over Hartman of F&M, looked even better at Moravian and got the nod as this week's "Athlete of the Week" for his efforts.

Moravian broke into the scoring for the first time when Ron Bienkowski and Dan Turner wrestled to a 1-1 draw in the 147-pound class.

Ted Toluba met ex-grizzer Bob Silvetz in the 157 bout and turned the halfback every way but loose to ring up a hard-earned 7-1 win. Toluba nearly pinned his man on several occasions, but had to settle for the decision, his third of the season and seventh straight win. Four of his wins have come on falls. The win at Moravian clinched the meet for Wilkes, who led, 18-2.

Marv Antinnes also kept his unbeaten string intact, taking on tough Gus Rampone, captain of the 'Hounds football team. Antinnes and Rampone fought the first round to a standstill, but Antinnes required only 47 seconds of the second period to pin Rampone.

Captain Walter Glogowski turned in his sixth win of his final season when he manhandled 177 pounder Dave Bryant before pinning him at 5:46. Glogowski took Bryant down within ten seconds of the first period and rode all the way.

Then he reversed in seven seconds of the second period, scored a near fall at two minutes and got the pin with 14 seconds left on the clock. He led, 7-0, at the time.

Bob Sislian tackled heavyweight Lou Rozelle and fought a scoreless first period. Each man escaped from the referee's position and the final bout ended in the second draw of the meet, 1-1.

HAVIRA PACES TEAM IN FINALE, WARRIORS AVENGE EARLY LOSS

by Morgan Davis

The Lycoming swimmers struck back in their second contest of the season with the Wilkesmen to gain a 51 to 37 victory. Coach Picton's splashers were afflicted with the maladies of cramps, forfeits, and disqualifications in their efforts to beat the Warriors in their home pool.

With the Lycoming pool only 20 yards long, not the required 25 yard pool, the Colonels had a rough time of it last Saturday as they started out by dropping the first relay, a medley 400 yard event, to the hard kicking Williamsport men.

The next event showed the "Iron-man," Carl Havira up to his old tricks in the 220 freestyle; he topped the field of contestants to win the event almost two full lengths ahead of his nearest competitor.

Again in the 200 yard butterfly, "the roughest grind in swimming," Havira showed his heels and took an easy first place. Jake Zook, usually the Wilkes distance man, surprised the pack by pulling into the second place slot. The "Iron-man" was also way ahead in the 200 yard breaststroke when he was disqualified on a technicality. Team-mate Zook again took up some slack in the score with a first place in what is normally Havira's best event.

Art Eckhart, freshman sprinter for the Colonels, was ruled second in one of the most disputable calls in Wilkes swimming history. Art took second in this 50 yard freestyle event while another Wilkes cohort, Walt Zionkowski, came in for the third.

Again in the 100 yard freestyle, catastrophe seemed to dog the heels of Mr. Eckhart, as he was hauled from the pool with a bad case of stomach cramps. Berrill Friedman saved part of the show when he copped the second place in the event.

After doing his part in the 400 medley relay, Pat Shovlin broke his 200 yard backstroke time with a fast 2 minutes, 57 seconds to take a sure first place from the Warriors. Ken Selody also came in for an additional counter in that contest.

In the 440 distance contest, Bernie Wahalla seemed to be unwinding for the first time since last season as he came in for an easy second place.

The Colonels forfeited the diving event to lose another 8 points and the meet.

Consolidation Plans Are Aired At Jaycees' Monthly Meeting

by Richard J. Myers

Attorney Stephen A. Teller, Assistant District Attorney of Luzerne County, addressed the monthly meeting of the Wilkes Chapter of the Greater Wilkes-Barre Chamber of Commerce.

The Wilkes Jaycees, meeting at the Continental Inn Monday night, heard Attorney Teller explain the details of current campaigns to enlarge the City of Wilkes-Barre through consolidation of several contiguous communities.

Part of a two-stage program to acquaint campus clubs with problems confronting local communities, the Jaycees invited leaders of campus organizations to hear Attorney Teller outline the movement for municipal consolidation.

He scored the mass emigration of young people of the Valley as only one of the defects of the present economic situation locally, but one of the prime factors in the drive for consolidation.

"The failure to secure new industries," he stated, "means that more and more of the tax burden has to be borne by the individual taxpayer."

He added that that failure also accounts for the loss of many promising young people because they cannot find suitable employment, although they would gladly remain in the Valley if they could find work.

With regard to the area's position in State and Federal government dealings, Attorney Teller said, "Consolidation cannot help but improve our position with regard to State and Federal governments. As a single unit, we will be in a position to demand and get governmental assistance we need for so many different purposes. Divided we cannot hope to get such assis-

G. EVANS, F. ROBERTS AT BOSTON TOURNEY

by Steve Cooney

The Wilkes debating team of Gwen Evans and Fred Roberts are journeying to Boston this weekend to participate in the Boston University Tournament.

This will be the first experience of Roberts and Evans debating as a two-man team, and they will debate the national topic, "Resolved: That future development of nuclear weapons should be prohibited by international agreement." The Boston Tournament is considered a testing ground for the National Tournament to be held later at West Point.

Teams from all over the nation will be competing in this year's tournament to be held today and tomorrow. Dr. Kruger, Director of Forensics at Wilkes, will accompany the team on the trip.

Last year, a team composed of Fred Roberts and Bruce Warshall participated in the tournament. They defeated Princeton in the semi-finals with a 3-2 decision, but lost to Fordham in the final round.

tance and our experience in the immediate past proves this fact without doubt."

He concluded his remarks with the statement that consolidation would make it possible to erase the notion held by many that this is merely an area loosely composed of little colliery towns. Accomplishment of unification, he added, "will stand forth as a living advertisement to every industrial concern in this country that relocation with our city will make that concern a participant in one of the greatest success stories in modern industrial history."

Following a question and answer period, the meeting was adjourned by Mike Goobic, chairman of the night's activities.

At a future date, other speakers presenting other sides of the question, will be heard by the Jaycees. The first of these is scheduled for March 11.

Junior Dinner-Dance Next Friday Evening; Mr. Riley Main Speaker

by Steve Cooney

The junior class is making final preparations for its annual dinner-dance which will take place next Friday evening. This year's affair will be held at the Wilkes-Barre American Legion Home on North River Street.

Tickets are $4.00 a couple. Bob Moran will provide the music for dancing. Dinner will be served from 7:30 to 9 p.m., with a choice of lobster or turkey as the main course. Principal speaker at the dinner will be Mr. Robert C. Riley from the Psychology Department.

After everyone has been served, dancing will take place until midnight.

Chairman of the program committee for the evening is Dick Salus; dinner committee, Moncey Miller; tickets, Carl Havira; publicity, Jean Shofranko.
