They have kept us company
When no one else really could
They shared a part of life with us
When no one else really would.

They came so very long ago.
At a very early age.
They looked so sad and lonely
Like a tiger in a cage.

We picked them up and cuddled them
We held them very close.
Then we asked if we could have them
To take them home to boast.

They have really been our friends.
Thru the good times and the bad.
Although they're not always happy.
They're certainly not always sad.

We'd like to extend our greetings
without any further ado.
We'd like to say "We Love You"
AND also to say "Thank-you!"

Signed,

The Fourth floor!
