RICHARD MURRAY and his wife, the former Elaine Weinstein, will be celebrating their first wedding anniversary in two months. Dick is presently attending Boston University Law School. Elaine was employed in the registrar's office at Wilkes prior to their marriage. They are residing at 560 Boulevard, Revere, Massachusetts.

EDWARD G. GROGAN was appointed plant wire chief in the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania. Ed is married to the former Nancy Ralston ('52) and they are parents of a daughter, Cathy Ellen.

LARRY G. PUCH and MARY I. CRAIG were married early this year. Larry is an industrial engineer with Warner Robbins in Georgia. Mary, who also attended Wilkes, was employed at the Miners Bank in West Hazleton. They are living in Macon, Georgia.

Beyond Call Of Duty

In the finest tradition of the United States Marine Corps, Lieutenant Neil Dadurka, a former resident of Forty Fort and graduate of Wilkes College, gave his life to save others when his jet plane developed mechanical trouble over a residential area in California where he was on duty. He might have bailed out, but he stayed with his disabled craft rather than jeopardize civilians below. In the subsequent crash, he was fatally injured.

This would seem like service above and beyond the call of duty, entitling him posthumously to the Medal of Honor, the country's highest decoration for members of the armed forces.

It is distressing, to be sure, that one young and valiant should die with so much life ahead of him, including his marriage to a Wilkes senior a month hence. But, then, it is not how long we live that matters as how well.

In death, a salute to him from a proud, if sad, community.

Dadurka Dies of Injuries After Plane Crashes Near Los Angeles

Seriously injured early Wednesday when his plane crashed about 55 miles from Los Angeles, First Lt. Neil Dadurka, 25, former well known area athlete, died yesterday at 6 p. m. (Pacific Coast Daylight Time or 9 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time) in March Air Force Base Hospital, Riverside, Calif., where he had been hospitalized since the accident.

In addition to suffering the loss of one leg below the knee, Lt. Dadurka, a U. S. Marine Corps jet pilot, was badly burned about the body and suffered other injuries. He received the burns when the plane caught fire after it crashed.

Miss Mary Homan of New York City, a senior at Wilkes College, and Lt. Dadurka were to be married June 12. Miss Homan was at his bedside when he died.

Further details of the accident were received yesterday morning in a telephone call to Lt. Dadurka's brother Warren, 1114 Murray Street, Forty Fort. The call was made by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Da-

He served as president of the Lettermen's Club and the senior class as well as the Retailing Club at Wilkes.

Surviving in addition to his parents and brother are a sister, Judy, Los Angeles, and a number of nephews and a niece.

STUDENT SKETCHES

Bob Amey, Experienced Leader, Will Teach in Pennsylvania

by J. J. Shilanski

Bob Amey, a senior business education major, who was out of school for seven years before coming to Wilkes, believes that college is just what the individual makes it.

Bob stated that he has always liked Wilkes and has found little change in the campus during his four years here. However, he does think the school spirit is much better this year, as evidenced by the Dartmouth trip and the increased number of activities for which the School Spirit Committee and its chairman are responsible.

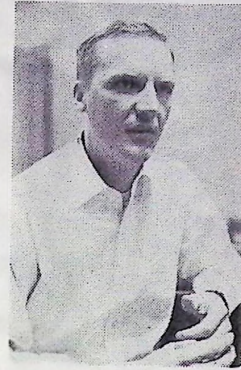

Presently a resident of Gore Hall, Bob is a native of Allentown, Pennsylvania, where he attended Allentown Central Catholic High School, from which he was graduated in 1950. Since that time he has served for a period of two years with the United States Army, and has worked at various jobs.

Although he had failed his driving test twice and never obtained a driver's license, his first assignment with the Army was that of a driving instructor at Fort Knox, Kentucky. The vehicle his pupils were learning to drive was the M-47 Patton Tank.

After serving at Fort Knox for more than a year, Bob was transferred overseas to an ordnance base, near the city of Mainz, a town about the size of Wilkes-Barre, located in the central part of Germany. At this base he was able to get away from the tanks and to settle down to a more peaceful job as an office clerk for an ordnance shop.

While overseas Bob had the opportunity to travel, and he made good use of his spare time by doing so. He has traveled throughout much of Germany, France, Holland, and Italy. He was disappointed by Paris, greatly impressed by Rome and its elaborately decorated buildings, awed by Frankfurt and its famous cathedral without seats, and amazed by the level land of Holland. Bob recalls that Italy is perhaps one of the most beautiful countries he has visited.

During his ten months in Europe Bob does not remember hearing anything detrimental to America's prestige. He found the German people quite friendly to Americans. Bob feels that since Europeans, particularly the German youth, are more aware of hardships they are prone to work harder than their counterparts in this country.

Bob Amey

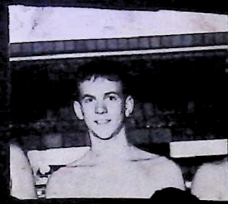

In 1955 Bob was discharged from the Army as a Corporal, and returned to Allentown, where he worked for two years as a technical writer for Air Products, Inc. He began school in the fall of 1957 and has worked in the Alumni and Development Office and the Library while here at the college. During the past few summers Bob has been employed in the accounting department of the Sandura Manufacturing Company of Allentown.

As a student, Bob has participated in a number of campus activities. He has served as president of the Education Club, vice-president of the Wilkes College Collegiate Council for the United Nations, and treasurer of Gore Hall. Bob has been a member of the Inter-Dormitory Council, Economics Club, Student Assembly Committee, and Student Government. Other outside organizations that he belongs to or has taken part in are the Continuations Committee for the Collegiate Council for the United Nations in 1959, and the Pennsylvania and National Education Associations.

Bob's plans for the immediate future include teaching in Pennsylvania, preferably near Allentown. Eventually he hopes to return to Europe, possibly as a teacher for the Armed Forces.

Swimming Team Ends Poor Season; Coach Havira Expresses Optimism

Rolfe, Bender, Miller Lead Team in Scoring; Official Records Listed

The swimming team, despite the fact that it did not win a meet all season, has prospects for a fine future. None of the members of the squad are seniors, a fact which promises better performances next year. The two top scorers, Roger Rolfe and Dick Bender, are sophomores, while John Miller, diving and relay man, is a freshman. Coach Carl Havira has expressed optimism for next year and hopes that the combination of returning lettermen and fresh material next fall will result in a better season.

John Adams retorts, "Awright George, let's see you do any better!"

Sem Cagers Beat Wilkes Yearlings

Faced by Tony Cigarran with 29 points, Wyoming Seminary's cage team downed the Wilkes freshmen, 62-57, at home yesterday afternoon to put the season log at 3-8.

Cigarran's total set a new Sem high for the season as the teams fought down to the wire. Dick Morgan's 17 led Wilkes.

In a swim meet at Sem. the home Jayvees beat Central YMCA, 55-13.

Bull Shippers Down Gore To Take Intramural Basketball Title

The National League's Bull Shippers clinched the 1961 intramural basketball championship shortly before the Easter holiday as they soundly defeated the American League representative, Gore Hall, by a score of 53 to 26.

In the American League playoff contest between Gore Hall and the Faculty Five, the Faculty Five downed Gore by just one point, 57-56, and not desiring to gain domination of a student activity, the Five withdrew from the championship contest and permitted Gore to enter in its stead.

MIKE ARMSTRONG

MARV ANTINNES

The Wilkes College wrestlers will drop the curtain on the 1961 season of dual meets this afternoon at 2 when they meet a strong C. W. Post squad at the South Franklin Street gym. After today's dual finale the Colonel matmen will venture to Bethlehem next week end to defend their crown in the annual Middle Atlantic Conference tourney.

Ending their collegiate careers on the home mats will be Colonel seniors Mike Armstrong and Marvin Antinnes. These two grapplers, mainstays of the Wilkes squad, have led the Blue and Gold matmen to nine straight victories this season.

Armstrong has been one of the most improved wrestlers on the squad. After wrestling in the shadow of Joe Morgan for the past two seasons, he earned a varsity berth this season and racked up an impressive seven win, one loss, one draw record. In his last outing the Colonel 137-pounder made short work of his Gettysburg opponent and pinned him in 2:20.

Antinnes has been the stellar performer for the forces of coach John Reese four seasons and has run up a fantastic collegiate record in dual meets. The only blot on his record for MAC competition was a close decision he dropped to Dave Murdock of Bucknell in his freshman year. At the MAC tourney at the end of the season Marv got revenge by touching his opponent's shoulders to the mat in fast time. He has reigned as MAC champ for the past three seasons and was N.A.A. small college national champion last year.

WILKES FACES ROAD RIVALS

Gridders At Lycoming, Booters At Hofstra

TED TOLUBA

The Wilkes College Fall sports squads will be on the road tomorrow in Middle Atlantic Conference games. The Colonel gridgers will travel to Williamsport to face a strong Lycoming College team while the soccermen will journey to Long Island to meet the Hofstra College booters in a match. Both local teams will be underdogs in these contests.

One of the strong arguments against a win by the Hofstra soccer team will be the aggressive play of right halfback Ted Toluba. This is Toluba's second season as the regular halfback for the Colonels and his performances in earlier contests have been instrumental in keeping the opponents away from the Wilkes goal so they cannot score.

He has played 83 minutes in each of the previous games, the total game. Ted is a graduate of Lake-Lehman High School where he won district honors in wrestling. He is a member of the Junior Class at Wilkes and is majoring in Secondary Education. He is defending MAC 157-pound wrestling champion.

Wilkes Senior Heads Student Education Group

Theodore Tolua, Wilkes College '62, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Toluba, RD 4, Dallas, was recently elected president, Northeastern District, Student Pennsylvania Education Association. Representatives of seven area colleges comprising the district elected him at a meeting in Wilkes College Commons. Others elected are Gloria Klassen, College Misericordia, secretary-treasurer, and Ellen Carden, Marywood College, vice president. Shown left to right are Miss Klassen, chosen as secretary-treasurer; Mr. Toluba, Tim Borick, Scranton University, retiring president; Ellen Carden, Marywood College, elected vice president. Pennsylvania Education Association is an organization composed of college students throughout the state. Meetings are held monthly for the purpose of exchanging ideas and to discuss problems attendant to college and college activities. Colleges comprising the association are Wilkes, Marywood, University of Scranton, College Misericordia, Bloomsburg State, King's and Stroudsburg State. Next meeting is scheduled for Saturday, February 4, in European Lounge.

Near Bier Brawl Is Slated For Holiday Eve

Members of the faculty and students are shown, above, enjoying the festivities at last year's "Near Bier Brawl". The event proved to be such a success that present plans are to hold it on an annual basis.

Catlin, Gore Sponsor Second Annual Blast

by Eleanor Nielsen

Come one, come all, and help us tap the keg at the Second Annual Near Bier Brawl! Next Wednesday is the night at Catlin Hall. Bring your beer mugs and get ready to take part in the best party of the year from 8 to 12. No admission will be charged. It's free!

Due to the success of last year's Near Bier Brawl, Catlin Hall and Gore Hall have decided to give everyone another chance to "let off steam" before the holidays. (This means you!)

As you enter the bar room through the swingin' doors, you can dance to the music of the Ambassadors. Colored lights and a dice table will add to the theme. Anyone under 21 (not having proper I.D. cards) will be asked to enter through the back door. The fellows from Gore Hall, under the supervision of Paul Aquilino, will run the bar to which, we hope, you will make many trips to quench your thirst. Catlin waitresses will carry trays of snacks to feed the hungry guests.

Ellie Nielsen and Ronald Ciccone are the general chairmen. Plans were started before Homecoming in hopes of making this year's party outdo last year's. Pat Schwartz is in charge of decorations. Peggy Churchill and Bob Amey will be stationed at the front door to check for I.D. cards.

So, put on your "dancin' best" and come with beer mug in hand to Catlin Hall on Nov. 22 and, "have a blast!" See you there!

Nigerian Student Proud Of Country's Freedom

by Jerry Shilanski

To most students here at the college, October 1 was just another Saturday, a football game, or a day of leisure. But for Sonjo Shoyinka it meant much more. It was the day that his native country, Nigeria, received its independence from Great Britain.

According to Sonjo, he and nearly forty million other citizens of this vast west African country have been looking forward to and preparing for their independence for more than fifteen years. This day, marking a definite end to colonialism in Africa, came without riot or bloodshed, as compared with the crisis and chaos of the neighboring Congo.

Under the direction of the British, Nigeria has become one of the largest and most stable countries in Africa. Although the country is split into three sections, with the Moslem northern section controlling a majority of the votes, there is very little doubt as to the patriotism and unity of the Nigerian people.

The Nigerians have chosen a federal system, with the government's capital, Lagos, located on a small island on the Atlantic coast. Here Prime Minister Alhaji Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa and members of the opposition parties have met and agreed that the solidarity and unity of the country is of the utmost importance.

In the near future the Prime Minister and a group of delegates will petition the United Nations for Nigeria's admittance as a neutral nation, even though it has chosen, for economic reasons, to remain a member of the British Commonwealth.

"Nigeria tends to lean toward the West," Sonjo stated during a recent interview. "It would not be logical for Nigeria to turn her back on the West, unless she is pushed away by the actions and the policies of the western countries. After all, Nigeria has a British heritage."

Nigeria, however, is a young and underdeveloped country which will accept aid and investment from any country provided that there are no strings attached and no infringements on its sovereignty. The Nigerians believe that a competitive system would do most to further their country's development and to stabilize its internal economy.

Sonjo, a member of western Nigeria's Yoruba tribe, has been studying in the United States for nearly three years, first in Philadelphia, then in Greenville, Illinois, and now at the college, where he is a sophomore, majoring in economics. In all sincerity, Sonjo says that he rates Wilkes and the people of Wilkes-Barre first among all the places he has been and the people he has met in this country.

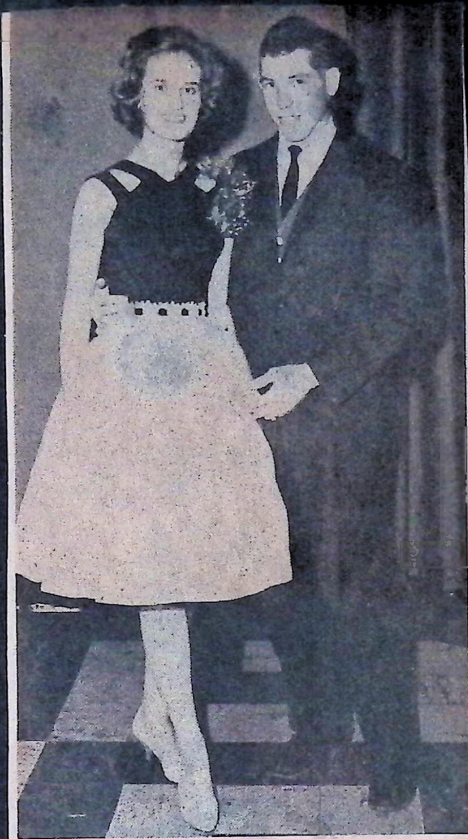

Upon the completion of his studies, he plans to return to Nigeria to enter its industrial and governmental services.

From his observations of this country, Sonjo has found that although America is a country of great ideals and theories, these ideals and theories are not always adhered to. He suggests that this discrepancy between theory and practice could sway the Nigerian and all African people away from the western world.

Sonjo has found many Americans who have misconceptions and stereotyped attitudes concerning Africa. He points out that although the continent is a vast and varied land of many contrasts, it is not all jungle and wild animals. Just for the record, he wants everyone to know that he had an elephant, lion, or live til he came to America.

August 1, 1962

Mr. George F. Elliot
323 Carmita Avenue
Rutherford, New Jersey

Dear George:

It is our hope that you are having an enjoyable summer. Perhaps this year you are spending the entire summer at Cape Cod. If so, I know you are having a wonderful vacation; would that I might one day bask in such luxury.

The averages for the dormitories have just been figured, and Gore Hall seems to be the best. We are happy to see this, and we congratulate you on good influence. I might add that I have been going through the dormitories recently, and it is pleasing to see the good physical condition of Gore Hall. I think we found it in better condition than any of the other dormitories. All this is a tribute to you.

The dormitory averages for the semester just completed are as follows:

Gore	2.25	Warner	2.07
Barre	2.22	Ashley	1.91
Hollenback	2.19	Denison	1.90
Butler	2.11

It goes without saying that Gore would have been much higher had it not been for one or two students who were quite low. Of course, this same condition exists in other dorms too. The academic achievement in Ashley and Denison is deplorable, and we hope to do something about it in the coming year.

All seems to be going well here, and I think we are getting things lined up for a good 1962-63. The men's dormitories are almost filled to capacity, and it appears that the selection is good. At least I hope they will prove to be good selections. Time will tell.

Best wishes to you for a continued enjoyable summer.

Very sincerely yours,

George F. Ralston
Dean of Men

Loesch, Alumnus, Passes Test For Public Accountant Title

Christopher H. Loesch, Jr., a June 1961 graduate of Wilkes, has successfully taken the test necessary to become a registered Certified Public Accountant. The test, a uniform one given simultaneously throughout the country, is comprised of five sections and requires a testing period of 2½ days.

However, since the test is the only criterion which states have in certifying their accountants, each state sets up its own requirements. For this reason, Loesch will not be granted his certificate from the state of Virginia until he has completed the state's requirement of two years of experience in an accounting office.

To fulfill that requirement, Loesch is presently working in the General Accountancy Office of the United States Controller General. After receiving his certificate from the state of Virginia, Loesch will be recognized as a Certified Public Accountant in all states except New York and Pennsylvania, which requires the two-year experience to be undertaken in their own state.

Mr. Robert Capin, professor in the accounting department, noted that it is not uncommon for a graduate to try his luck at the test but that very few took the five sections in one 2½-day sitting. He pointed out that most accountants took the sections individually and spread them out over a period of time.

Thus, Loesch has the top achievement in the field of accounting within one year of his graduation, a feat not accomplished by many accountants.

St. Stanislaus Children Will Come to McClintock For Holiday Party

Children from the Saint Stanislaus Institute, Nanticoke will be the guests of Gore and McClintock Hall at a Christmas party tomorrow from 2 until 5 at McClintock Hall.

Thirty children, ranging in age from 4 to 10, will have gifts refreshments, and entertainment showered on them in the true spirit of Christmas.

The afternoon will be highlighted by the arrival of Santa Claus. It has been rumored that his planned arrival via the chimney has been cancelled, but that another appropriate entrance has been scheduled.

Gifts have been purchased for the children, food has been procured with the cooperation of Mr. Denion, and games will be headed by elementary education majors in McClintock Hall.

Chairmen of the party are David Kline, President, Gore Hall; and Harriet Hagenbuch, President, McClintock.

Sonjo Shoyinka, whose home is in Abeokuta, Nigeria, is 28 years old and is a junior economics major. Sonjo has been in the United States for four years, two of which he has spent at Wilkes.

Raised as a Christian (Baptist) in a country that has a population divided into three religious groups — 40 per cent Christian, 50 per cent Moslem, and 10 per cent classified as others — Sonjo has observed that there is much similarity between the way his country celebrates and the way we do. He pointed out that both have been influenced by British traditions.

"In Nigeria, Christmas and New Year's have become more or less national holidays which are celebrated by the Moslems and pagans who participate in the socializing even though they do not accept the religious significance."

"Christmas Day is usually observed (by the Christians) by going to church and praying, by staying at home for a dinner of fowl, or by going to the beach and relaxing in the warm tropical sun."

According to Sonjo, Christmas songs are sung by groups and played over the radio stations in both English and the native languages, and Father Christmas may make an appearance with gifts for the children.

Special Election Held, Sophomores Select Two, Freshmen Choose Six

Two sophomores and six freshmen were elected to class offices in recent balloting to fill positions vacated since last semester.

In the sophomore class Al Gubanic, a secondary education major, was elected vice-president, and Richard Burns, a commerce and finance major, was empowered to represent the class on the Student Government.

Freshmen chose three class officers and three Student Government representatives. The new class officers are: vice-president, Al Gilbert, a secondary education major; treasurer, Susan Epstein, an elementary education major; secretary, Sieglinde Vallot, a liberal arts major.

Berk To Head I.D.C.

Last week the I.D.C. held election of officers. The new officers for the 1962-63 season are: Jerry Berk, president; Nick Alesandro, vice-president; Nancy Palazzolo, secretary; and Owen Francis, treasurer.

Three Proposals Passed; O'Connell, Jones, Gilbert Elected to Class Posts

All three proposed amendments to the Student Body Constitution will be added as a result of Wednesday's election conducted in the Commons. Twenty-four offices in three classes were also filled in the balloting which brought about the re-election of Brent O'Connell, junior secondary education major, and James Jones, sophomore biology major, to the presidencies of their respective classes. Alan Gilbert, freshman secondary education major, defeated two other candidates to become president of the Class of 1965.

The Class of 1964 chose Al Gubanic who ran unopposed as vice-president, and selected Lorraine Dyers as secretary and John Campbell as treasurer. Five candidates ran for Student Government representative in the Class of 1964. Those elected were Gail Roberts, Richard Burns, Fred Smithson, and Lou Coopey.

Toluba, Lake-Lehman Product, Named Top Athlete at Wilkes

All participants in the Wilkes-College intercollegiate athletic program were honored at the annual athletic awards dinner held last night at the College Commons. The dinner, held each spring, serves as a measure of appreciation from the college to all persons who contribute to the successful operation of the overall athletic program.

In addition to the presentation of varsity letters to athletes who qualified for them, certain athletes were singled out and honored for their outstanding contributions in a particular sport.

All of the special award winners were selected by team members with the exception of the "Athlete of the Year Award," which was selected by the coaches and based upon the recipient's scholarship, leadership, and athletic ability.

Ted Toluba, former Lake-Lehman athletic standout and senior secondary education major who recently completed his student teaching at Meyers High School, capped his fine record of four years of athletic participation as he walked off with the coveted "Athlete of the Year Award" presented by Dean of Men and "grand old man of sports" at Wilkes, George Ralston.

Evidence of his athletic ability was supported further by Toluba's return to the speakers' table to receive the most valuable player award for both soccer and wrestling. He served as captain of both teams during the past seasons. The awards were made by James Ferris, soccer coach, and John Reese, wrestling coach.

The esteemed Gallagher Memorial Award, which is awarded to the football player who best embodies team spirit, loyalty, faithfulness, and competitive drive, was presented by grid coach Francis Pinkowski to senior co-captain Don Eller of Woodstown, N. J. This award was established in 1948 in memory of Joseph Gallagher of Kingston who played football at Wilkes and who lost his life in a car accident shortly after the 1948 season.

Backfield coach Marvin Antinnes and line coach Michael Dydo presented the outstanding backfield award and the outstanding line-man award to Tom Krisulevich and Jim Brunza, respectively. A citation was tendered Brunza by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for his position on the All-American second team. Junior Harvey Rosen of Brooklyn was named winner of the most valuable player trophy in basketball by coach Ed Davis. Rosen also received a special NCAA award for his free throw championship earned during the 1960-61 cage campaign.

Diamond coach Dydo awarded the MVP trophy in baseball to ace hurler and former mound star at Valley Forge Military Academy, Bob Fleming of All-quippa.

The nod for MVP in gold was extended to senior Bob Januszko by coach Welton Farrar. YMCA physical education director and Wilkes swim coach, Ken Young, awarded the MVP trophy in his sport to a most promising freshman, Jack Barnes of Dallas.

Senior captain Bud Menaker of Harrisburg captured the first MVP award in tennis which was presented by Art Hoover, last year's net coach.

Captains for next year's teams were announced by the respective coaches: football, Jerry Mohn and Bill Menseley; soccer, Chuck Weiss; wrestling, Brooke Yeager; basketball, Harvey Rosen and Dick Morgan; swimming, Craig Huddy and Gary Greaker; baseball, Paul Aquilino and Lou Zampetti; golf, Richard Bellas; and tennis, Bud Menaker.

Wilkes athletic director and wrestling coach, John Reese, was chairman of the affair. Ralston served as master of ceremonies. In addition to the athletes and their guests and the coaches and their wives, Dr. Eugene Farley, Wilkes president, and members of the college administration and faculty athletic committee were also among the honored guests at the dinner.

The following athletes received their letters at last night's affair:

Tennis: Ted Bankowski, Dirk Douglas, Gary Emlorn, Owen Francis, Stephen Klein, William Klein and Frank Menaker.

Swimming: John J. Miller, Jack Barnes, Philip Dethin, Gary Greaker, Craig Haddy, Ronald Masters and John R. Miller.

Golf: John Adams, Richard Bellas, Joseph Ehrig, Robert Januszko, Albert Straka and James Ward.

Wrestling: Robert Almsworth, James Branch, John Grotzer, Thomas Guette, Ronald Herney, Robert Herman, David Lermouth, David Paster, Nicholas Stefanovich, Ted Toluba, W. Brooke Yeager and Robert Ziegler.

Basketball: Al Doner, Robert Fleming, Donald Hayes, Joseph Moadrow, John Moore, Richard Moran, Thomas Fugh, Harvey Rosen and John Tenka.

Baseball: Nicholas Alexander, Paul Aquilino, Samuel Cooper, Vincent DeGiusto, Robert Fleming, Walter Foles, Matthew Himlin, Joseph Krusek, Kenneth Lehner, William Mulford, Robert Onko, Louis Scattre, Michael Schowel, Joseph Weskie, Leonard Yeager and Louis Zampetti.

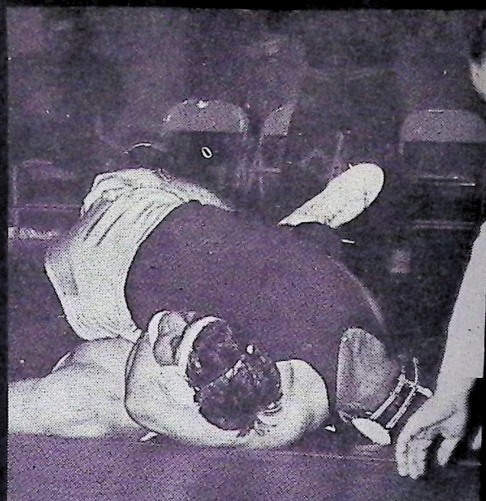

Girls basketball: Janet Almsworth, Melly Boyle, Rose Ann Hallett, Jo Anne Kearney, Carol Rhines, Susan Ellis, Josephine Signorelli and Carol Thomas.

TED TOLUBA

Ted has been a staunch defensive bulwark during his career with the soccer team. The tall (6'1") halfback is one of the co-captains of the Colonel squad for the current season. His determined, often inspiring, play has earned him MAC Team of the Week nominations on several occasions. Ted is also a member of the wrestling team and has been a mainstay of that squad for three seasons. He is president of the Education Club.

PAUL AQUILINO

Saturday's game will mark the end of the four-year collegiate football career of Paul Aquilino. Paul, who resides in Oyster Bay, New Jersey, has played both the halfback and quarterback positions for the Colonels. The 5'10", 180-pound Business Administration major has also lettered for three years in baseball. This season Paul has been used as placement kicker in addition to his ball-carrying duties.

Ted Toluba Registers Four Pins To Capture 167-Pound MAC Title

As a result of his stunning victories to gain the 167-pound championship at the Middle Atlantic Conference Tournament at West Chester last weekend, Ted Toluba has been named Outstanding Wrestler of the tournament.

Ted began his victory skein by pinning Kenny Beaman of Delaware in 4:55. Next came Sam Goldberg of Albright who was disposed of by Ted, using a cradle hold in 1:15. Ben Portnof of Bucknell provided the next challenge for Toluba, but succumbed to the Wilkes grappler's superior speed and ability in 2:04.

TED TOLUBA

The finals found Ted matched with Swarthmore's Al Watler. After leading throughout the bout, Ted applied the clincher in 7:41, and acquired the 167-pound title.

A senior, majoring in Secondary Education, Ted is a graduate of Lehman - Jackson High School where he starred in football and wrestling. He remained undefeated in league meets while captaining the Lakers' wrestling squad to the Rural-Urban League title during his senior year. He also captured the District II 167-pound championship and was runnerup in his class at the PIAA regional finals.

For the past four seasons Ted has been one of the stalwarts of John Reese's wrestling squad. His efforts have contributed a great deal to the outstanding record the Colonels have compiled during his career at Wilkes. His winning of the 167-pound MAC title in 1959 was instrumental in bringing the championship to Wilkes. He has been one of the steadiest performers on the squad.

The Beacon Sports Staff extends congratulations to Ted Toluba for a job done in true Wilkes fashion. It is indeed a fitting way to terminate his collegiate career.

SPORTS EDITORIAL

Wilkes College basketball proficiency is currently on the ebb. In view of the team's performances in the initial contests of the season, the above assertion becomes an absurd understatement. A number of factors enter into this basketball degeneracy.

Already suffering from a lack of height and bench strength, the team has now suffered the loss of guard Dick Morgan through injury. Last Thursday in a practice scrimmage, Dick sustained a reinjury of a soccer wound. His left kneecap snapped out of joint and caused the rupture of fluid cavities in the knee. This condition is aggravated by calcium deposits in the same joint. Dick will be lost to the team for an indefinite period of time and as of this writing he has not yet received all of the medical reports.

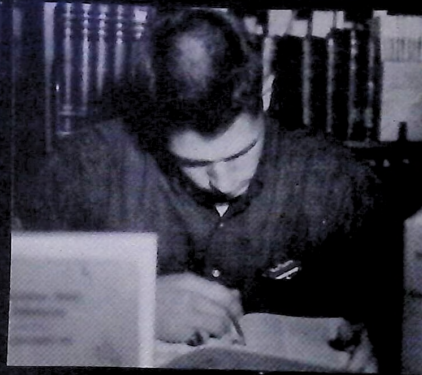

Dick's failure to appear in uniform has already had a marked effect on the team's play. Morgan was team floor leader and the best playmaker on the roster. He performed exceptionally well in the Albright game as he held Little All-American Tom Pearsal to 13 points and scored 12 tallies himself.

His fiery play and determined spirit tends to inspire the Colonel five. His presence on the court has driven the team to performances beyond those which may be expected from players of their physical potentialities.

'50's Top Cagers Named to Dream Team

Carl Van Dyke

Rounding out the Dream Team, alphabetically, is Carl Van Dyke. The little high-scoring forward was a consistent threat to opponents with his one-hand push shots from the outside and his accurate passes. He is considered one of the best defensive players to come out of the Wilkes ranks and was often assigned to guard the opposition's top man although he was usually taller than Carl.

The former Punxsutawney All-Scholastic was selected Beacon "Athlete of the Year" and "Outstanding Athlete of the Year" during his senior year of 1956. Not only a basketball wizard, the lanky performer was also a standout on the soccer field where he led the Colonels to a highly successful 1955 season. Against Hofstra he blasted home three goals in a 3-2 victory to set a Wilkes record.

Carl is now teaching business education at Punxsutawney High School. The only "single" member of the Dream Team, Carl plans to make the trip down the middle aisle in the near future.

The ANNUAL has been published as a service to the residents and friends of Gore Hall, Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Our aim is not a literary accomplishment, but rather a mouthpiece for those who are trying to uphold the standards of the college and community. This publication will be distributed once yearly, without charge, as part of its obligation and thanks to Wilkes College.

GEORGE ELLIOT, DORM PROCTOR

To refer to George Elliot as proctor of Gore Hall is, we feel, doing him an injustice. We of Gore refer to "George" more as a friend than an overseer, enforcing order and obedience. Yet it is difficult to describe the feelings of the dorm in a few paragraphs. We find it better, then, to use his own words, extracted from a copy of the Wilkes BEACON during the time when Mr. Elliot was acting Dean of Men.

I am asked to be all in one: an observant shepherd of students, an encourager of the discouraged, and a moderator of the overly ambitious. In addition I must be an informed interpreter of college policies, a referee of disputes, an enthusiastic supporter of college activities, a liaison man between students and faculty, an honest administrator, and a sincere friend to all.

Aside from the fulfillment of these personal obligations, Mr. Elliot's activities at Wilkes have included: teacher of economics for 11 years; Head Dormitory Proctor; Proctor of Weckesser and Gore Hall for 11 years; ex-acting Dean of Men; ex-chairman of the Curriculum Committee; ex-member of the Administrative Council.

OFFICERS OF GORE HALL

President--Senior David R. Kline was unanimously elected president of Gore Hall in the Spring of 1962, and assumed his duties at that time. It is largely through his efforts that the dormitory has achieved its greatest popularity yet. He has been instrumental in arranging tours, outings, and parties for Gore Hall, and also for the publication you are now reading.

Secretary--Only a freshman, David Levy was elected secretary in the fall. His duties include taking the minutes at all Gore Hall meetings, and writing letters to various organizations when a tour, party, or outing calls for them.

Treasurer--Nick Alesandro, a Junior Accounting major, as treasurer of Gore, oversees all financial undertakings of the dorm. Nick is also treasurer of the Inter-Dormitory Council.

Athletic Chairman--John Adams can often be seen handing out dorm uniforms and rounding up fellows for all athletic events in which Gore participates. John also enters us for league competition in basketball, tag football, and softball.

At the weekly meeting they participate in discussions concerning the betterment of dormitory policy, and relay the decisions back to the dormitory.

SENIORS

Enjoying his last semester here at Wilkes College is David R. Kline, President of our dormitory. A product of Benton, Penna., Dave is pursuing the Business Education course here at the college. Dave participates actively in both campus and community life, being a member of the tennis team, the Society for the Advancement of Management, the Education Club, and the Letterman's Club. He is also vice-president of the Benton Kiwanis Club and a member of the Benton Lodge #667, F and AM.

Another senior in Gore Hall is Theodore Toluba, a Secondary Education major from nearby Dallas, Pa. Ted is a well-known personage on campus and an avid participant in sports. He was co-captain of the college soccer team for the 1961 season, and is also the captain of the wrestling squad. He is president of the Education Club and in his sophomore year was vice-president of his class. We are all very proud of Ted, for recently he was selected for Who's Who in America, an honor which he full deserves.

Royal Wetzel should feel right at home in the college's Conyngham Hall for his home happens to be Conyngham, Pa. A Business Administration major, Roy participates in the intramural league program here at Wilkes. He is also a member of both the Society for the Advancement of Management and the American Federation of Musicians (Roy is a terrific musician himself; one has only to hear him play the dorm's piano to assure himself of that).

The fourth and final senior in Gore Hall is Paul Philip Aquilino from Readington Beach, Florida. More commonly known as "Ack", Paul is another Business Administration major and is well-known for his sortees with the co-eds of Wilkes. He is the publicity director for the Letterman's Club, a member of both the football and baseball teams, and in his junior year was the president of our dormitory. Upon graduation "Ack" will enter the Naval Officers' Candidate School program. "God help the navy!"

JUNIORS

One of the juniors in our dorm is Thomas Halstead from Allentown, Pa. Tom is a political science major here at Wilkes and is a member of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government, and the Manuscript, a college publication.

Richard Olusanjo Shoyinka is an exchange student at Wilkes College. He comes from Abeokuta, Nigeria, and is majoring in Economics at school.

Sanjo is a member of the Collegiate Council of the United Nations. He has also brought his version of billiards to the dorm, and while being an able billiards player, he is an even better ping-pong player.

Bridgeton, N.J., is the hometown of Richard Bender, another junior in Gore Hall. Dick is a biology major here at the college and is the secretary of the Lettermen's Club and co-captain of the Swimming team. Dick is also the dorm's mechanic, and last year constructed his own stereophonic recorder (successfully).

Nicholas L. Alesandro hails from Manville, N.J., and is majoring in Accounting here at Wilkes. Nick's average has constantly been around the 3.0 mark. He is really the dedicated student. Active in college affairs, he is an Inter-dormitory Council representative for our dorm, and is also treasurer of the same organization. He is a member of the Lettermen's Club, plays football and baseball, and is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, as well as holding the position of treasurer of our dormitory.

John Adams, another native of Allentown, Pa., is majoring in Commerce and Finance here at Wilkes. John is also a member of the Lettermen's Club, goalie of the soccer team, a member of the golf squad, and the athletic director of Gore Hall. The rumor has been stirring that John will be presented the chlorophyll golf ball award this year (for stinky golfers). Actually "Quincy" is a low 70's shooter.

SOPHOMORES

Ronald Baldwin, a music major from Wyalusing, Pa., transferred from Bennet Hall to Gore last year. Ron is a voice major, and his rich baritone voice can often be heard throughout the dorm. He sings with the Wilkes Mixed Chorus, and also the Madrigal Singers here at the College. Ron is also a member of the St. Stephens' Choir of Wilkes-Barre, and is well known throughout the region for his solo work.

Alan Andrew Gubanich, a future biology teacher, is a native of Pheonixville, Pa. Having earned his letter on the football squad, Al is a member of the Lettermen's Club. He has made the Dean's List once, and last semester missed the 3.25 average by only two hundredths of a point. Just recently, Al was elected vice-president of the class of '64. We all congratulate him heartily.

One of the best liked members of Gore Hall is Richard A Morgan, the dormitory's Inter-Dormitory Council representative. An English major, Dick is the editor of Gore Hall's newspaper. This sophomore from Phoenixville, Pa., is a member of the Lettermen's Club and serves the school on both the soccer and basketball teams. However, an unfortunate knee injury earlier in the season had restricted him from engaging in court action this year. Consequently, he served as the official scorekeeper of the Wilkes Colonels cagers.

William John Mulford, an education major, comes to Wilkes from Woodstown, New Jersey. Bill is a member of the Lettermen's Club. Gore Hall is very proud of his achievements on the gridiron and the baseball diamond. Perhaps Bill, a member of the Education Club who intends to teach upon graduation, will pass on his love for goldfish to his future pupils.

Gore Hall has been blessed with many fellows from New Jersey. One of these is William Flynn, a freshman engineering major from Floorham Park, N.J. "Flinsky" has proved to be a fine athlete and has participated in both soccer and wrestling here at Wilkes. Bill always wears a big grin for everyone, and is well liked by his dormmates.

Our dorm has several liberal arts majors; one is David Levy, a freshman who hails from Long Island, New York. In addition to studying and playing bridge, Dave is the secretary of the dorm. Dave is full of witty remarks and always rouses laughter by them at all dormitory occasions.

Our freshman biology major is Ronald Masters whose home is in Merrick, Long Island. Ron is on the swimming team, and has proved to be an excellent diver for the team. When he isn't studying, swimming, or playing bridge, Ron finds time to be a musician. He is a good bass clarinet player and is a member of the college band and the Wilkes-Barre Symphonic Band.

Franklin Cook, a Phoenixville resident, is majoring in elementary education at Wilkes. He is a fine basketball player and saw a lot of action on the courts this season. Frank is studying hard, and is well-liked in the dorm and the freshman class.

Thomas Gladtko, a freshman from Long Island, New York, is majoring in secondary education at Wilkes. Tom is a fine wrestler and will definitely help Wilkes retain the championship in the coming years. Tom has a hard time staying from food during the week, but when the match is over he sure makes up for it.

One of the most popular freshmen among his classmates is Mike Mostello from Nutley, New Jersey. Mike's major is English. Last semester Mike served as student government representative and was the chairman of the freshman class in the United Fund Campaign.

Among the slide rules and protractors is Alan Gilbert, a math major from Fanwood, New Jersey. Al also participated in wrestling this year. Al is very studious and contributed a fine average to the dorm last semester. Al is a good worker and participates in all the freshmen class endeavors.

Larry Gubanich, a freshman from Phoenixville, Pa., is majoring in accounting at Wilkes. Larry is contributing to all of the sports this year. He played football, was basketball statistician, and plans to play baseball in the spring. Larry is a popular guy with all the fellows in the dorm and with the entire student body of Wilkes.

Henry Ho, a new member of our dorm as of this semester, is a math major from Hong Kong, China. In the short time he has been here, Henry has made many friends among the the student body. Henry is always hard at work, but he usually finds time to play a game of bridge.

Robert Henricks, a music major from Catawissa, Pa., cuts a fine figure in Wilkes' various musical groups, participating in the college band, the Brass Ensemble, the Concordia, and the Wilkes-Barre Symphonic Band. He is one of Wilkes' finest cornet players, and his grades match his cornet ability. Bob made Dean's list last semester, and is one of the dorm's hopefuls to make it again this semester. Bob always has some food around, and is always willing to share it with his dormmates.

ACTIVITIES

The men of Gore have realized that as dorm students we must collectively represent our school in various activities. Therefore we have provided many extra-curricular affairs for the school and community.

We were privileged this year to hold a Christmas party for the orphaned children of St. Stanislaus, Nanticokel. Because of its tremendous success, we intend to make the party an annual affair.

Gore Hall also offers a $100 scholarship each semester to a student in need who has met certain qualifications. Money for this scholarship is raised by operating the concession stand at high school basketball playoff games at the Wilkes gym.

Another major activity is a dorm outing in the spring which is scheduled for May 12 this year. Usually an all day affair, the outing is an anxiously awaited event.

Tours to places like mines in the area and various breweries, school parties, and dorm parties are other activities which Gore Hall conducts. This year we have had two successful dorm parties at the Italian Club and Redington Hotel, and went together with Catlin Hall, a women's dorm, to hold a school party, also very successful.

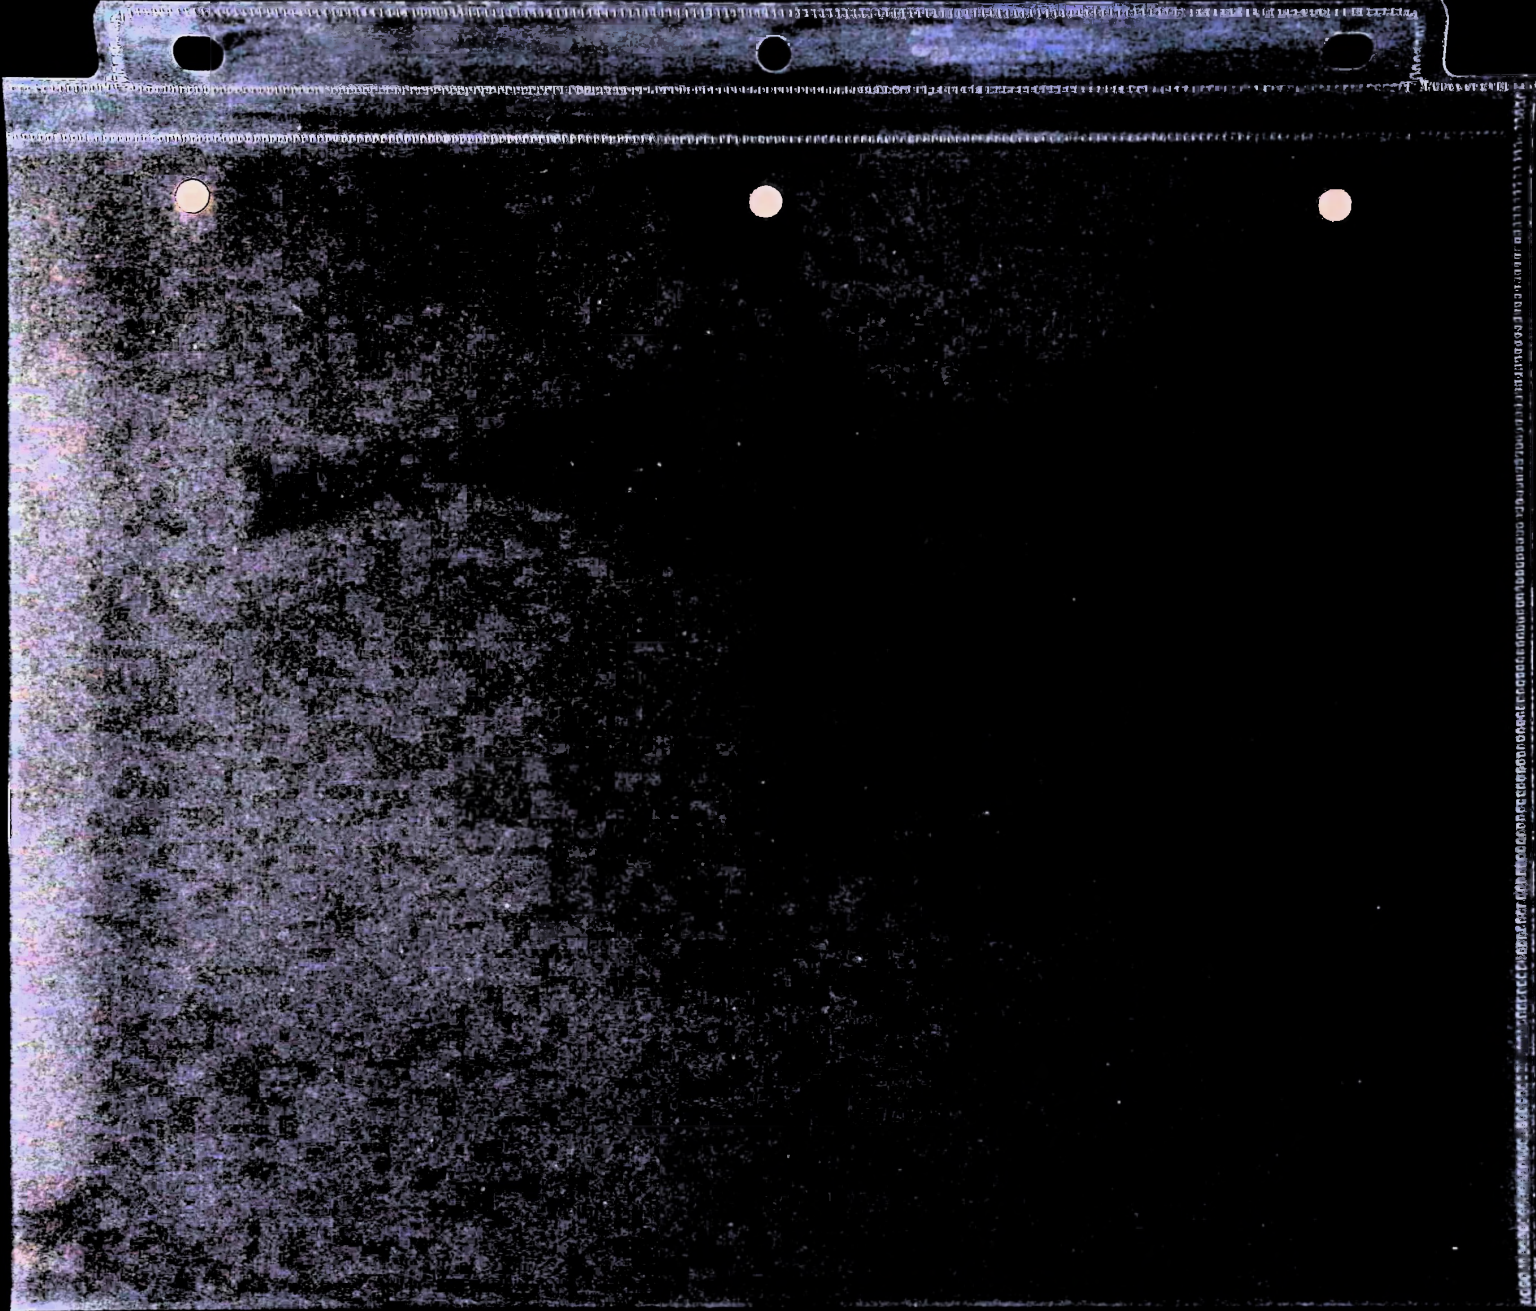

FORMER RESIDENTS OF GORE HALL

Listed below are all past residents of Gore Hall. We have included this section in order that those interested may learn what has become of the residents not heard of in a long time. It is hoped that by writing all alumni may come into closer contact with one another, so that when our dormitory outing day arrives, we may be blessed with your presence!

Sixteen Named to 'Who's Who'

16 seniors, selected for their scholastic ability and for their cooperation in educational and extra-curricular activities will appear in this year's edition of Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges.

Originated 25 years ago, this publication gives national recognition to outstanding students by listing personal and college records in its annual edition.

The honored student leaders were selected by the college faculty and administration after an initial nomination by a panel of representative administration and faculty members. The students' names and qualifications were then forwarded to Who's Who.

A certification of recognition from the publication as well as use of the publication's Student Placement Service, are awarded to each student honored by the publication.

John Adams

The president of the golf team, John Adams, has been active in both athletic and non-athletic extra-curricular activities.

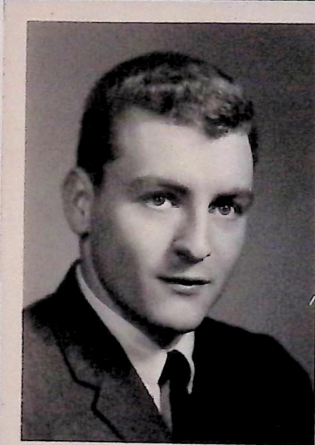

In addition to leading the golfers, he is treasurer of the Lettermen's Club, played basketball in his freshman and sophomore years, and has been a goalie on the soccer team for three years.

On the other side of the extra-curricular picture, this commerce and finance major, is president of Gore Hall. He is also membership chairman of the Wilkes College Chapter of Jaycees.

Organizations Honor Outstanding Members at Annual Awards Affair

John Adams Is Pegged "Athlete of the Week"; Is Goalie for Booters

This issue the Beacon goes to the soccer team for the selection of "Athlete of the Week," and John Adams, senior economics major, has been selected as the outstanding and weighs 175 pounds, is the ing athlete. John, who stands 6'2" goalie for the Colonel booters.

At Allentown High School, John played golf during his senior year and has carried his talents to the Wilkes golf team, lettering four times in that sport. John was also out for the Wilkes basketball team for a year and a half.

In addition to sports, John's likes include, of course, girls, and functions of the dorm and Letterman's Club. We might add that John is president of Gore Hall and treasurer of the Letterman's Club, as well as chairman of the Jaycee Membership Committee, giving evidence of his knack for leadership.

John began his soccer career at Wilkes two years ago, and has lettered each time. He opened the season with a shutout against Harpur, proving to be a brick wall for the boys from Binghamton. In the Lafayette game, John spoiled the Leopards' scoring attempts on numerous occasions with saves at the net, sparking the Colonels to a 2-1 victory. Each time John got the ball he sent it booming back toward Leopard territory. John said that the team played a good game, and in spite of a slow start in the first quarter, showed a lot of hustle during the rest of the game. "We pushed them harder than they pushed us," he added.

Because of the tight schedule, John can see no reason for not having a winning season if the boys continue to hustle.

For his leadership ability in many facets of campus life and his alert play, the Beacon feels that John Adams has earned the honor of "Athlete of the Week."

The fortunes of Coach Ferris soccer squad have been marked by ups and downs thus far in the season. In general, the defense has been brilliant. Fullbacks Chuck Weiss and Erwin Guetig and goaltender John Adams have been performing admirably.

Goalie John Adams also will be lost by graduation, and his position will be hard to fill. Goalie Adams has not only been "Athlete of the Week" several times, but also received much recognition from the ECAC.

These four seniors have shown outstanding ability and have been a fine credit to Wilkes College.

In soccer, the Most Valuable Player Award was presented to John Adams, of Allentown. The award, called The Reggie Burr Soccer Trophy, in honor of a former soccer enthusiast and employee of Wilkes who has since returned to his native Scotland, was presented by Coach Jim Ferris. Also honored were Dick Morgan and Walter Prusakowski, who were selected team captains for next year's soccer team.

The Colonels handed Lafayette a 2-1 setback last Saturday to run their record to 2 wins and a loss. The first Wilkes goal was scored by Jim Creasy late in the third quarter, and Dick Morgan scored the other early in the fourth quarter. The Leopards' only goal was scored by Herb Weiland. Goalie John Adams starred for Wilkes by recording 19 saves.

Blank Stevens

On Wednesday afternoon Jim Ferris' booters shut out a surprised Stevens Tech squad, 3-0. The Colonels bowled over the Hoboken eleven in a rough match which marked the first Wilkes victory over Stevens in six years.

Always regarded as a perennial power, the Stevensmen were completely devastated by the impregnable defense of Wilkes. Fullbacks Chuck Weiss and Erwin Guetig, center halfback Dick Morgan, and goalkeeper John Adams (Athlete of the Week) were spectacular in thwarting all of the Stevens offensive threats. Adams recorded 20 saves to record his second shutout of the current campaign.

Offensively, the Colonels were also superb. The entire line moved the ball accurately and quickly to keep a steady pressure on the Stevens defenses. The Colonels' first two goals came in the second period and both were scored by Al Gilbert. Jim Creasy was credited with an assist for each tally.

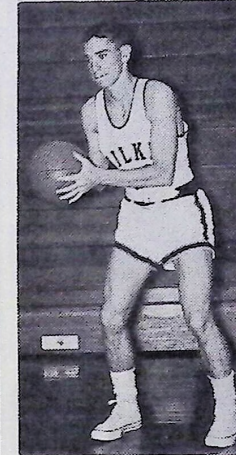

Bob Eurich scored in the third period off a pass from Dick Morgan who was credited with an assist. Defense, again, was the key to victory as goalie John Adams registered 21 saves for his third straight shutout of the season. Adept ball-handling by the Colonel line also figured heavily in the win.

Basketeer Dick Morgan, Sparkplug for Colonels, Wins Beacon 'Athlete'

by Clark Line

Dick Morgan has been selected by the Beacon Sports Staff as "Athlete of the Week" in this issue. The 5'10" junior from Spring City, Pa., is a guard on the Colonel basketball team.

For two seasons Dick has been invaluable to the team as a playmaker and spark-plug for the Wilkes eagers. This season the fortunes of the team have been terrible. Still, the play of Dick Morgan is to be noticed.

On court for the Colonels Dick is the source of determination which at times seems to go unheeded, but in spite of the current of the game he manages to keep some life in the team. Dick's determination stems from his one deep desire to win which one must agree is perhaps the first step to victory.

Dick's defensive ability shows itself in every contest and when he was injured last season, his absence was sorely felt. Dick, along with Harvey Rosen and Bob Fleming, forms the key to the Colonel attack.

For his unconquerable spirit and relentless effort and drive, along with his defensive skill and role as playmaker, the Beacon has selected Dick Morgan as "Athlete of the Week."

Outstanding dormitory students were senior Nancy Palazzolo and Nick Alesandro, given their awards on the basis of having contributed the most to college life and to dormitory activities. Stephen Van Dyck bestowed the honors.

Debaters Rank Second In Bucknell Tournament

The debate team recently won seven of eight rounds in the Bucknell University "Good Neighbor" debate tournament to tie with King's College for first place but dropped to second place on total points. James Tredinnick ranked third in individual speaker excellence.

Douglas Kistler and David Levy, affirmative debaters, won all their rounds; they defeated Penn State, Lehigh, and two teams from Pennsylvania State University Women. Negative debaters Rosemary Rush and James Tredinnick defeated Penn State Men, Penn State Women, and Lehigh.

Wilkes Golfers Victors

Wilkes golf team beat Mansfield, 12½ to 5½, at Irem Temple CC. Colonels face Western Maryland and Lycoming in the tri-meet at Williamsport Tuesday.

Yesterday's results:
 Barry Jones, M, over John Adams, 2½ to 1½; James Ward, W, over Lee Clark, 2½ to 1½; Bob Myers, W, over John Rudy, 2½ to 1½; Bob Smulowitz, W, over Ed Baltruchitis, 2-1; Alex Paulanok over Paul Weaver, 2-1; Jon Holmstrom, W, over Martin Waldron, 3-0.

Debaters Rate Merits At Annual Tournament

Two Wilkes College debaters were recently awarded certificates of merit at the annual Daniel S. Dickenson debates at Harpur College. Individual speaking awards went to David Levy and Doug Kistler; Levy ranked fourth among more than 200 debaters and missed being rated one of the three superior speakers by a single point. Club President John Campbell cited that Wilkes was one of the distinguished schools at the tournament, having two speakers of merit, while most had only one such honored speaker.

Teamwise, the two affirmative and negative teams won six of the 12 rounds debated, which put them slightly above middle place in final outcome, and placed well as far as actual points were concerned. The affirmative teams defeated Colgate and Oswego, while the negative made a slightly better showing by defeating Harpur, Ithaca, St. Bonaventure, and Le Moyne. The groups lost to Syracuse, Ithaca, University of Scranton, King's, Colgate, and Harpur.

Intramural Softball Nearing Finale

With the 1963 edition of intramural softball drawing to a close, the Beacon Sports Department has chosen to take a pictorial glance at this segment of the College's athletic program.

Gore's effigy of a Butler softballer

Now a traditional Spring program, intramural softball has become an integral part of spring on campus. Although there are not many teams participating this year as in previous years, the numbers of forfeited games has been nominal. As in the past, the league is divided into two divisions, the Independent League and the Dormitory League which is composed of teams from six residence halls.

Competition in the Dorm League has been extremely keen. This past Monday the Butler Hall squad turned back the boys from Gore in an exciting 5-4 contest to clinch the League title. The steady pitching of Butler's Joe Easley enabled his team to edge the tough Goremens.

Prior to the contest, both Gore and Butler came forth with innovations that had not been seen before on campus. This of course, was the publicizing of the contest by means of flyers and sundry other publicity devices. Perhaps the most striking of these attempts was the Gore rendition of a Butlerman which was suspended from a tree next to the Commons.

The Gore and Butler endeavors were typical of the spirit with which the softball games have been played this year. In past years many teams put forth only halfhearted efforts, not even showing up for many of their games. This is not the case this season.

It was stated that play in these contests was spirited. This need is not the case this season. It was stated that play in these contests was spirited. This need qualification. While the competition has been sharp the field is still remote. This year's Mets

Diver Ron Masters took the team's only first place yesterday afternoon as the Colonels succumbed to Lycoming 70-23. The Lycoming swimmers were too strong for the local team, which is hampered by lack of suitable practice time. Walt Manning was outstanding for the Williamsport group; he placed first in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events at the YMCA pool.

Coach Ken Young's team will meet East Stroudsburg at the Central YMCA on January 28 at 6:00.

Stellar Athletes Feted at Sports Awards Dinner

For the soccer team, John Adams received the MVP Award. Dick Morgan and Walter Prusakowski will be next year's co-captains.

In basketball, the MVP award went to Bob Fleming. Next year's co-captains will be J. P. McAndrew and, once again, Dick Morgan.

Near Bier Brawl Scores Number Four Saturday

All those whose mugs have been gathering dust can now take them off the shelf and polish them up for the fourth annual Near Bier Brawl. This affair, sponsored as in previous years by Catlin and Gore Halls, will be held Saturday night, November 17, upstairs in the Commons from 9-12 P.M. To charge and refreshments will be top it off, there is no admission served free.

Hal Kistler's Quartet will provide the music for the party. Also there will be special entertainment during the intermission. An old-time atmosphere will be created by swinging doors, checkered tablecloths, a bar, and old-time costumes.

Front-door preference will be shown to genuine old-timers equipped with identification cards. Students are expected to wear normal dance attire.

IDC Plans Airplane Rides, Hampton Trip, Seminar

The Inter-Dormitory Council of the College has announced the scheduling of three events for the forthcoming weeks.

Planned for Thursday is a seminar with Dr. Hugo Mailey, chairman of the political science department, as guest speaker. I.D.C. extends an invitation to all and will serve free coffee and doughnuts to those in attendance.

Next weekend twelve members of the Council will participate in the "Hampton Weekend." Those attending are: Judy Sisco, Arlene Siano, Carol Plonner, Fran Corace, Jody Morrison, Dee Amir, Fred Smithson, Dick Morgan, Nick Alessandro, Ron Ciccone, Alan Gilbert, and Jim Jenkins.

The third event will be the sponsoring of airplane rides over the City and the College in connection with the Council's "Student Workday Project." The Project's purpose is the financing of the Council's "adopted" Greek orphan.

At a recent meeting of the Jaycees, Paul Heagy, B.S. in Commerce and Finance major, was elected president of the organization for the coming year.

Three juniors were elected to fill the other posts for next year. Gerald Moffatt and Nick Alessandro, Commerce and Finance majors, were elected to the offices of vice-president and treasurer, respectively. The secretary will be William Space, B.S. in Secondary Education major.

Introducing somewhat of a new twist to the sports page, the Beacon leaves the usual realm of the sports world to select an intellectual "Athlete of the Week." Varsity debating is in the process of rebuilding, and this year's team made a particularly fine showing in the debate contest held at King's College this past weekend.

The Wilkes debaters selected for the "Athlete" honors in this issue are Dave Levy, Doug Kistler, Jim Tredinnick and Rosemary Rush. These four are considered novices in the debate world and yet, against varsity competition of seasoned debaters from 29 colleges and universities, the quartet placed fifth.

Arguing for the affirmative were Arts major Dave Levy and Commerce and Finance major Doug Kistler. In three out of five cases Dave and Doug outargued their competition. Dave was commended in his rebuttal by one of the judges and was only three points shy of receiving a trophy.

Debaters Score in N.Y.; Win Six of Eight Rounds

Dave Levy placed second best affirmative in the entire tournament and was only three points away from a trophy.

The story of anthracite is the story of Wyoming Valley as well as America—but the start of the story is little known even to those who link themselves with the "old mining families."

We know the Indians used this "black stone" for arrowheads, and some of the most enterprising ones may have used it to heat their tepees and cook their food, but the first recorded date of the discovery of anthracite is 1762.

Credit for the discovery must go to Parshall Terry, one of the original pioneers from Connecticut, who made the discovery while walking along the bank of Mill Creek (then Beaver Brook) near a point where it empties into the Susquehanna River.

More is known about Gore, whose forge helped to form a greater industry than the discoverer of anthracite, Parshall Terry.

Gore's story is worth recounting.

He was born at Norwich, Conn., April 7, 1744. He learned the trade of a blacksmith.

In the Autumn of 1762, at the age of 19, and accompanied by his brother Daniel, he came with the original settlers into Wyoming Valley. They fled with the others following the Indian attacks on the Mill Creek settlement.

In the Spring of 1769, Obadiah and his brothers, Daniel and Silas, again came to Wyoming Valley with the party led by Major Durkee.

Gore took part in the siege and capture of Fort Wyoming, and for this service was granted valuable lots in the Wilkes-Barre town area, including one at the present intersection of River and Market Sts., where he maintained a smithy.

Terry, who was born in New London, Conn., Aug. 8, 1734, did not greatly benefit from his discovery. He played a major role in the Susquehanna Company's original settlements in Wyoming Valley, but later moved into New York State. He died at Palmyra, N. Y., May 15, 1811.

Reported Coal Tract

In 1774 he wrote to the Susquehanna Company leaders in Connecticut as follows:

"There is a large quantity of good stone coals on said tract, which is valuable and the very best I have seen on the Susquehanna—as I profess to be judge of that."

The tract he referred to is believed to have been in the lower end of what is now Plymouth Township, near Harvey's Creek.

On this tract the Harvey Coal Mine was opened and successfully worked for a long period. From 1776 to 1780 Gore served as a lieutenant in the Continental Army, holding commissions from John Hancock and John Jay.

In May, 1779, Gore was appointed by the General Assembly of Connecticut as a justice of the peace for the County of Westmoreland (Wyoming) and served in that office until 1782.

GORE WINS ACADEMIC TROPHY

For the two past successive semesters the Men of Gore have earned and won the George Halston Academic Trophy. This fine accomplishment is overshadowed only by the fact that Gore was able to achieve the highest scholastic average ever maintained by a Men's Dormitory in the entire history of Wilkes College, a remarkable 2.33.

We are very proud of our excellence for this truly reflexive Dormitory effort rather than individual achievement. We feel that the presence of true fidelity and spirit within Gore belongs not to ourselves, but emanates from our proctor, George Elliot, who as one of the "guys", continually offers his friendship and enthusiastic support to scholastic and social activities of Gore Hall. Without Mr. Elliot at the helm, Gore would not attain the distinguished reputation it presently holds on campus.

The ANNUAL, now in its second year, is published as a service to the residents and friends of Gore Hall, Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Our aim is not literary accomplishment, but rather a report by those who are trying to uphold the standards of college and community. This publication is distributed once yearly, without charge, as a part of our obligation and thanks to Wilkes College.

Wilkes '64 Elects Officers At Final Senior Meeting

7 Wilkes Graduates Accepted By Peace Corps

Eighteen Capture Who's Who Rating

by Barbara Graylock

Eighteen seniors, seven women and eleven men, from Wilkes are among those chosen to be listed in the 1964 publication of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities And Colleges.

They are: Richard Burns, William Carver, Joyce Cavallini, Lorraine Dyers, Barbara Gallagher, Alan Gubanich, Rose Hagel, James Jones, Leonard Koerner, Alan Krieger, Michael Landesman, Joseph Lipinski, Barbara Lore, Richard Morgan, Richard Probert, Gail Roberts, June Vaananen, William Yeager.

The nomination and the certificate of recognition given by the national organization honor students for their outstanding contributions to the college and to themselves. By maintaining at least a "2" average, these leaders of the class of '64 exhibit their awareness of the primary purpose of attending college.

These students also gain important employment contacts through their nomination. The organization sponsoring the publication maintains a student placement service through which the students can receive recommendations in the future on the basis of the biographical information they supply the service now.

In order to list only the exceptional students in their publication, the organization sets a quota for each school on its total enrollment. In the fall, each department receives a request for nominees for Who's Who. On the basis of their knowledge of the students, the teachers suggest several names. These names are then sent to Dean Ralston who heads a group of seven administration and department head members. This group narrows the list and makes the final decision on the nominees of the college. The final selection represents a group of seniors who serve as an example of the ideal college student; the nation serves as an incentive to graduates.

Three Are Named To Honor Society

Three regional residents are among the 57 seniors or recent graduates of Pennsylvania State University who have been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the national scholastic honor society. They are Esther A. Geisler, 1027 North Washington street, Wilkes-Barre; Robert G. Henricks, 474 Mill street, Catawissa, and Carolyn M. Egger, 537 Arthur street, Hazleton.

The new members will be initiated Friday, June 11, at 6 p. m. on the eve of the June commencement exercises. Following the initiation, they will be guests of Lambda chapter at a dinner in their honor.

JAY KAUFMAN was married on November 17 to Elaine Gorelick. Jay is a practicing attorney in New York City and his wife Elaine is an elementary teacher in Spring Valley's Ramapo District. Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman will reside at 625 Gramatan Avenue, Mount Vernon, New York.

KENNETH N. EVANS, residing at 102 Lee Farm Drive, Niantic, Connecticut is field engineer for Sperry Gyroscope Company, Long Island, New York. Ken's duties include troubleshooting newly-installed equipment in Polaris submarines under construction.

Awards Dinner Held For Wilkes Athletes

ALAN GUBANICH

Last evening, Wilkes College honored its athletes at the Annual Athletic Awards Dinner held in the College Commons. Each spring, the participants in the intercollegiate athletic program are feted as a sign of the college's appreciation for their efforts in the various sports.

Highlighting the evening's awards presentations to letter winners and individual outstanding athletes were the presentations of the Outstanding Athlete Award and the award presented to the senior athlete with the highest cumulative average.

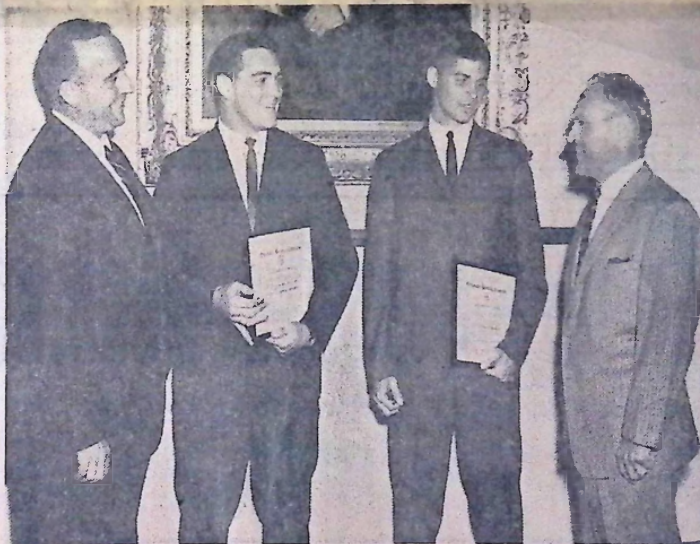

Alan Gubanich, pictured above, was this year's recipient of the Scholastic Average Award. Gubanich, a native of Phoenixville, Pa., has compiled a 3.25 average, which is Dean's List caliber. He is a biology major. Gubanich has been active with the Colonel soccer team for the past two seasons.

He is currently the president of the senior class. In addition, Gubanich has served as co-chairman of the Wilkes Parents' Day Planning Committee, is a member of the Lettermen's Club, and has been named to the list of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He has also accepted a teaching assistantship from the University of Arizona at Tucson, where he will engage in graduate studies. Dean George Ralston presented the award.

Stegmaier Scholarships Presented To Wilkes Seniors

Two Wilkes College seniors, James Peter Winebrake of Clarks Summit and Alan A. Gubanich of Phoenixville, have been named winners of the 1963-64 Stegmaier Brewing Company scholarships.

Winebrake, who is completing studies for a business administration degree after three years of service in the Marine Corps, is a varsity football player and president of the Lettermen's Club.

Gubanich, a major in biology in preparation of a medical career, is a member of the soccer team and president of the Senior Class. He has consistently been on the dean's list.

The Stegmaier president said the firm's scholarship awards went to the two seniors on the recommendations of instructors and campus associates, who cited the recipients for outstanding endeavor in the scholastic, athletic and general activity fields as students.

Dean Ralston termed the scholarships an additional acknowledgment of the college's appreciation for the students' achievements.

Yeager And Morgan Share BEACON Award

COLONEL WRESTLING STALWART & SOCCER-CAGE STAR GAIN NOD

BEACON Honors Dick Morgan With Athlete Of The Week' Laurels

Cage Captain Holds 3 Game Records On Season In Ending Court Career

by Ivor Smith

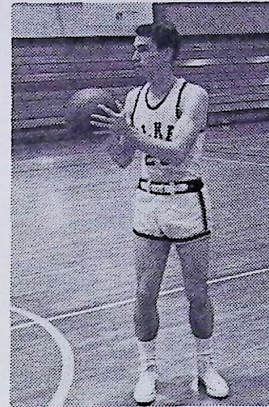

The Beacon turns to the basketball team in search of a recipient of this week's "Athlete of the Week." Team captain, Dick Morgan, is given this issue's Beacon laurels. An outstanding performer all year as a guard, Dick has proved his value to the squad many times.

Dick is a native of Spring City, Pennsylvania, an English major and current resident of Gore Hall. He attended Phoenixville High School where he captained the basketball and cross-country teams. His high school track team also had the use of Dick's talents. Dick holds letters in all three of these sports.

The Colonel soccer team has had advantage of Dick's fine work for the past three seasons. He has also lettered in that sport. His soccer talents have earned him three Stagg awards, and he is one of the finest soccer players Wilkes has seen in a number of years. It is interesting to note that Dick never played soccer before he entered Wilkes.

On the basketball court, Dick has been invaluable to the team as a playmaker and sparkplug for the Wilkes cagers. Although the team has not produced a winning season, Dick Morgan is still to be noticed. When the current of the game slows, he manages to keep life in the team.

Dick's record this season demonstrates his spirit and drive, along with his defensive skill and role as playmaker. He holds the current season's high for Wilkes in total points scored in one game - 27 against Albright. He also made the most field goals scored in one game also against Albright. When Wilkes challenged Harpur, Dick had the free-throw high for the Colonels, dropping in 8 out of 11 from the foul line.

Dick Morgan is to be congratulated for his efforts on the basketball team, and the BEACON sports staff does so in awarding him "Athlete of the Week" honors in this issue.

Dick Morgan has won the "Stagg Award" for the 3rd time. Tom Trosko gained the nod for the football team, undoubtedly for his excellent performance against Drexel last Saturday.

Wilkes Triumphs on Morgan's Kick, 1-0

A direct kick by Dick Morgan gave the Wilkes College soccer team their first win of the season yesterday afternoon. The 1-0 score couldn't be prevented as the 25-yard boot was too hard for the Moravian goalie, Bill Gilbert, to handle. The free shot was given to the Colonels because of a hand ball by the Bethlehem squad's left halfback.

The local eleven will be after their second win Saturday morning at 10 when they face the East Stroudsburg team in the Parent's Day attraction. The game will be played on the Wilkes Athletic Field in Kirby Park.

Starting lineups for the two squads were:

WILKES	Pos.	MORAVIAN	Pos.
Strabados	G	Gilbert	G
Eckhardt	RF	McMenagle	RF
Gubrich	LF	Jackson	LF
Ducko	RH	Nagle	RH
Morgan	CH	Cramona	CH

Dick Morgan

Dick Morgan is by far the outstanding soccer player, having won the newly conceived Stagg Award numerous times during the season. His claim to the title is undisputed, though all the members of the team deserve credit. Dick also had been named "Athlete of the Week", and is captain of the basketball team.

DICK MORGAN SELECTED "ATHLETE OF THE WEEK" IN MUHLENBURG CONTEST

by Merle Bolen

For the first time this year the BEACON is traveling to the Soccer team in search of a recipient of this week's "Athlete of the Week" award. Having long overlooked the fine performance of the Ferrisemen we feel that their efforts are long overdue the recognition which it deserves.

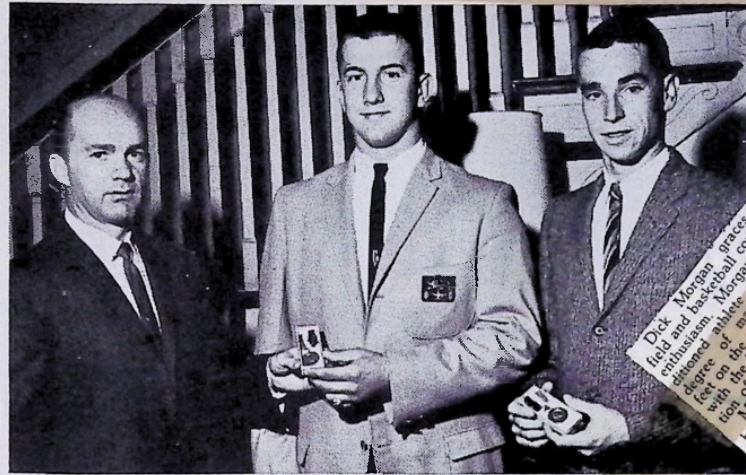

Upon visiting the team the one name that seems to stand out above all is that of center forward Dick Morgan. An outstanding performer all year, Dick has proved his value to the squad many times. However, in last Wednesday's game with Muhlenburg he really outdid himself. Setting a new scoring record of goals per game, Morgan boomed the ball into the net 5 times as the Colonels completely overpowered their opponents for a 6-3 victory.

A well conditioned athlete, Dick always displays a maximum effort in both games and practice sessions. His hustle on the field has earned him three Stagg Awards and has led him to receive high acclaim as one of the finest soccer players Wilkes has seen in many years. Dick's leadership ability is evident having been chosen co-captain of the team. His fine work is not new to the team. This can be seen by reviewing last year's games in which his efforts were awarded by receiving his letter for his stellar performance.

Dick is a native of Spring City, Pennsylvania, and now resides in Gore Hall. The 5 foot ten, 150 pound English major attended Phoenixville High School where he captained the basketball team and the cross country team. Also contributing his efforts to the track team, Dick holds letters in all three of these sports.

The skill displayed by Morgan on the field cannot be fully appreciated until one stops to think that he never played the sport before coming to Wilkes. Because of his capacity for leadership and inspired play, Dick Morgan has been selected as the BEACON "Athlete of the Week."

Reese Presents New "Stagg" Awards

Dick Morgan traces the soccer field and basketball court with athletic enthusiasm. Morgan is a well-coordinated athlete and displays a high degree of maneuverability with his feet on the soccer field. His fine work with the bookers earned him the position of co-captain. Morgan has led the soccer team his skills for the past three seasons. He has led in that sport and was presented three Stagg awards. He is one of the finest soccer players. He is a Colons have witnessed it is notable that he had never played soccer before entering Wilkes.

Recently the Stagg Foundation of San Francisco, California has offered to all football teams in the nation the Stagg "Century of Physical Fitness" Medallion. The award is in honor of Amos Alonzo Stagg, who has achieved immortality in the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. Mr. Stagg is the only man who has received this recognition in three categories-Player (Walter Camp's first All-American Team); Coach (Coach of the year 1943); and Gold Medalist (one of a very select company). Because of his honored position and life-long dedication to football, The Stagg Foundation has made this offer. Each week, Wilkes College is presenting the award to a member of each varsity team who was voted by his teammates as the outstanding player of the week. John Reese, athletic director at Wilkes, is pictured above presenting the initial awards to Gary Popovich and Dick Morgan. Popovich is a member of the football team, and Morgan plays soccer. The recipients of the award for the succeeding weeks are: Football-Ted Travis-Bey, and Ed Comstock. Soccer-Larry Gubanich and Dick Morgan for the second time. The award will continue to be given throughout the year to the outstanding player of each varsity team. This week, Paul Purta gained the award for his outstanding performance in the Ursinus game, while the soccer team was idle.

Yeager, Morgan, Daggett Selected For Prowess In Winter Competition

On the basketball court Morgan proved invaluable. As a playmaker and sparkplug of the team he managed to keep life in the Colonels when all seemed lost. His record this season demonstrates his spirited drive and defensive skill. Morgan produced two records this season: most points scored in a single game and most field goals in one game. He also shared the seasons high point honors with Dale Nicholson. The basketball and soccer teams will have a great handicap to overcome next season in the loss of Dick Morgan. Brooke Yeager and Dick Morgan now join such athletes as George McMahon, first "Athlete of the Year" recipient; Marv Antinnes, the only athlete to capture the award two years in a row; and more recent recipients as Jim Brunza and Bob Her-

RONALD BALDWIN

On Sunday afternoon at 3, in the Wilkes College Gymnasium, Wilkes College Department of Music will present Ronald Baldwin, baritone, in his senior voice recital. This concert is open to the public. Baldwin, a voice student of Richard Chapline, has been active in music circles during the last four years. He is a member of the Wilkes College Chorus and Madrigal Singers and plays the French horn in the Wilkes College Band. He has also participated in the college's production of Meredith Willson's "The Music Man." He has also appeared with the Scranton Opera Society.

Baldwin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Baldwin of Wyalusing and a graduate of Wyalusing Valley High School.

Wilkes Soccer Team Beats Muhlenberg

Dick Morgan, co-captain of the Wilkes soccer team (front row left) led his team to a 6-3 victory over Muhlenberg College yesterday afternoon in Kirby Park. Morgan set a new record on goals scored per game as he put the ball in the net five times. Not since 1933 when they defeated Lock Haven have the local booters scored six goals in one contest.

Eight lettermen make up the nucleus of the Colonel squad. They will all see action when the Wilkes eleven meets the team from Hofstra College in a Homecoming contest Saturday morning.

Standing: Al Gilbert, Jim Jones, Dick Bucko, Larry Gubanich and Alan Gubanich.

November 10, 1963

Dear Mr. Elliot:

I did not mean to be so silent before dropping you some lines at least to let you know how I have been making out since I left America late in June. If I had written earlier, I would not have had enough news as this letter may contain.

In the first place, you might have heard indirectly that I am married. If you have, it is true that I got married to the girl (Patricia Hopkins) I introduced to you at the graduation dance. Although she was hired and sent to Nigeria by The Ford Foundation as a librarian consultant, the Foundation has assigned her to The Nigerian Institute of International Affairs in Lagos. We are happy together.

Candidly speaking, I missed school life on Wilkes- College campus and generally the city of Wilkes-Barre. Particularly, I missed Gore Hall -(the Harvard Hall) very much. Did we retain the highest average this past semester? How many students are now in Gore Hall? I heard from a reliable source that one Nnamdi Dike from Nigeria is a resident of Gore. He may not be able to play the Nigerian Billiards I introduced to the hall when I was there. If so, champions like Dick Morgan, Bill Mulford should be merciful onto him! laugh.

Concerning my job, I am indeed pleased to inform you that Texaco lived up to the promises made to me. I mean salary wise. My official designation, though, is Administrative Assistant, I do all the work and shoulder all the responsibilities ~~of~~ of the company's Administrative Manager who recently resigned the post and left for the United Kingdom. My responsibilities include, (among other things) Personnel ~~Matters~~, representing the managements on all union matters, Corporate Matters, I am gaining good experiences from the job. I am so enjoying it that, time flies like lightening. Seven hours of work seem like four hours.

Well, Mr. Elliot, I thank you very much for your good and valuable advices to me while in Gore Hall. I must not forget to mention the fact that I so much enjoyed the Economic Geography course I had with you in my academic semester from the college.

What I gained from the course must have been due to your eloquent speech, your inspirations in delivering the lectures. I am going to write Mr. Farrar soon and to thank him for making me work very hard in Property Insurance course which I now find very handy and helpful in my job.

My best wishes to all the boys
(sorry, I mean THE MEN) of Gore Hall.

Very sincerely yours

Sonye

P.S. You may post this letter on the Gore Hall notice board.

KURT W. ROBERTS

The ANNUAL has been published as a service to the residents and friends of Gore Hall, Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Penna. Our aim is not a literary accomplishment, but rather a mouth-piece for those who are trying to uphold the standards of the college and community. This publication will be distributed once yearly, without charge, as part of its obligation and thanks to Wilkes College.

GEORGE ELLIOT, DORM PROCTOR

George Elliot is the proctor of Gore Hall, but to limit him only this designation is all too obviously inadequate. Mr. Elliot is the director and motivator of our dormitory, the only person who advises, consults, suggests and sometimes admonishes in order to keep the dormitory on an even keel. Mr. Elliot is not considered merely an enforcer of rules, but is considered, by the dorm-members, an older, wiser friend, whose advice is sound and loyalty unquestioned.

George Elliot is a man of long experience with college life. Mr. Elliot has to his credit thirteen years of teaching economics here at Wilkes and was in the past acting Dean of Men. George Elliot's understanding of dormitory life can be readily explained in view of the fact that Mr. Elliot, is the advisor of our Inter-Dormitory-Council and has been proctor of Weekesser and GORE HALL for thirteen years. Also he has been chairman of the Curriculum Committee and member of the Administrative Council.

OFFICERS OF GORE HALL

President-Richard Morgan was elected President in the Spring of 1963 and has more than adequately fulfilled the duties of this office. Since he assumed his duties the dormitory has experienced financial success, resumed its scholarship and has maintained a commendable spirit of unity.

Secretary-Ronald Baldwin, a senior from Wyalusing Pa. is the Secretary of Gore Hall elected in the Spring of 1963. The duties handed to him he has executed with efficiency.

Treasurer-Laurence Gubanish a junior, has directed the financial affairs of Gore Hall since being elected to the office in the Spring Semester of 1963.

Athletic Chairman-Alan Gilbert a junior has served as the organizer of the Athletic endeavors of the dormitory promoting, basketball and baseball intramural competition in Gore.

IDC Members-David Levy, Jon Holmston, and alternative Richard Ferretti have distinguished themselves as members of a very active Inter-Dormitory-Council during the fall term of 1963. Keeping the dormitory advised of regulations proposed by I.D.C. and carrying the suggestions and complaints of the dorm to the council.

SENIORS

Concluding a successful four year period here this semester is senior Dick Morgan hailing from Reading City, Pa. Dick's activities include, letterman's Club four yrs., Secretary of this Club four years. Dick, an outstanding athlete, has played three years of soccer and four years of basketball. Dick was nominated captain of these two sports two years running. Among Dick's other achievements is his membership in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and he has been dorm president for this past year.

Alan Gubanich, from Phoenixville Pa., a Pre-Med. major earning his A.B. in Biology has been to Gore an ASSET anyway you look at it. Al's activities in order to conserve space must be numbered.

1. Senior Class president.
2. V.P. of Soph. and Junior Class.
3. Co-Chairman of Parent's Day Comm.
4. Letterman's Club.
5. Lettered two years in Football.
6. Letter two years in soccer.
7. Regmaier Scholarship Fund.
8. Member of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.
9. "Broken Leg" senior year.

The most talented music major in Gore, who calls Wyalusing his home is Ronald Baldwin. The activities of senior "Baldy" include the Madrigal Singers, mixed chorus, of which he was president, and band. Baldy has been the very efficient secretary of Gore for the past two years.

William J. (Taegu) Mulford a senior from Woodstown, N.J. played football and baseball and lettered in both. Bill is an elementary education major and a member of the Letterman's Club. Although Bill was not a dorm officer, he worked diligently and attended to many details of all the dorm functions and activities.

Al Gilbert, a twenty year junior from Fort Washington Estates, Maryland is another of Gore's many soccer buffs who has played his sophomore and junior years. Al also played baseball his freshman year. Al was vice-president of his Freshman Class and president of his Sophomore and Junior classes. Al is working for his A.B. in Math and can be seen riding his flashing red motor scooter.

Larry Gubanich, a junior Accounting Major is from Phoenixville, Pa. In his Freshman year he played football and in his sophomore and junior year soccer. Larry is also a member of the Letterman's Club. Putting his knowledge of Accounting to work for Gore Larry has been the outstanding treasurer of the dorm putting the finances of Gore on a very stable basis. Larry was high scorer for this year's intramural basketball team, but contrary to his personal opinion he is not the most handsome guy on Campus as he has stated on his personal information card.

David Leyy makes his home in Long Island, New York and is a hard-working Political Science major. As a junior Dave has been a senior member of the debating team for which he was awarded the Assembly Award. "WEJ" was recently elected Vice-President of the Inter-Dormitory Council, something of which all of Gore is justly proud. One of Dave's most outstanding attributes however is his roommate.

SOPHOMORES

Joe Chanecka who calls Binghamton New York home is a Sophomore Education Major. Joe has earned his letter in Basketball and is responsible for many of Gore's parties. Joe works at the Book Store and was recently elected President of his junior class.

Inamdi Alozie Eike, pronounced Namdi is our foreign student from Aba, Nigeria. Inamdi is majoring in Physics and played soccer this year.

Richard H. Firestine, a sophomore Engineering Major is a member of the engineering club and avows that he is a "ladies man". Dick guesses what the "H" stands Dick is from Tunkhannock, Pa..

A. Todd Gibbs is from Allentown, Pa.. Todd is chairman of the Econ. Club and Junior Director of the Circle K Club and is on the business staff of the Beacon, the school newspaper. Todd is our newly elected dorm President. Todd is also the possession of a very lovely girl from Weckesser Hall.

Jon Adam Holmstrom who comes from East Hartford Connecticut is a very active member of the Inter-Dormitory Council and one of the better members of the golf team. Jon is majoring in Business Administration.

Thomas F. Nyles is one of the very fine Jerseyites now residing in Gore. Tom hails from Moorestown, N.J. and is a Physics Major. Tom lists among his interests, fly fishing and spends one day to be a Manual Arts instructor.

Stephen Arendt is the last of Gore's sophomores and makes his home in Noxen, Pa.. Steve's major field of concentration is Physics. Steve's activities include, band, physics club, Circle K, and intramural sports.

FRESHMEN

Richard Ferretti is the first, alphabetically, of eight freshman. Now residing in Gore Dick hails from Spring Field, Ohio and is a History major.

Freshman, Steve Guyler, from Huntingdon, Pa. somewhere in the back woods, is an elementary education major and lettered as center on this years football team.

FRESHMEN con't

Boyd Avis Hitchner III, another fine product of Woodstown, N.J. is a freshman majoring in Sociology. Butch played soccer last fall and is a fine Guitar player, besides being the most handsome gentleman currently residing at Gore and South Franklin St.

Russell Jenkins from Phoenixville, Pa. is a Bio-Major Major and had very successful seasons playing both varsity soccer and varsity basketball.

Peter Malonski also from Phoenixville, Pa. is a freshman Accounting major who earned his letter in soccer this year. Pete also contributed to the intramural sports teams of the dorm and recently joined the Letterman's Club.

Alan H. Halberger from the nearby village of West Pittston, is a freshman Bio-Major whos activities are the Bio-Club and intramural Basketball. Al just recently transferred into Gore at the beginning of the second semester.

James R. Wanck, is a freshman, who makes his home in Towanda, Pa.. Jim is a Pre-Med major and is of all things a Yankee fan.

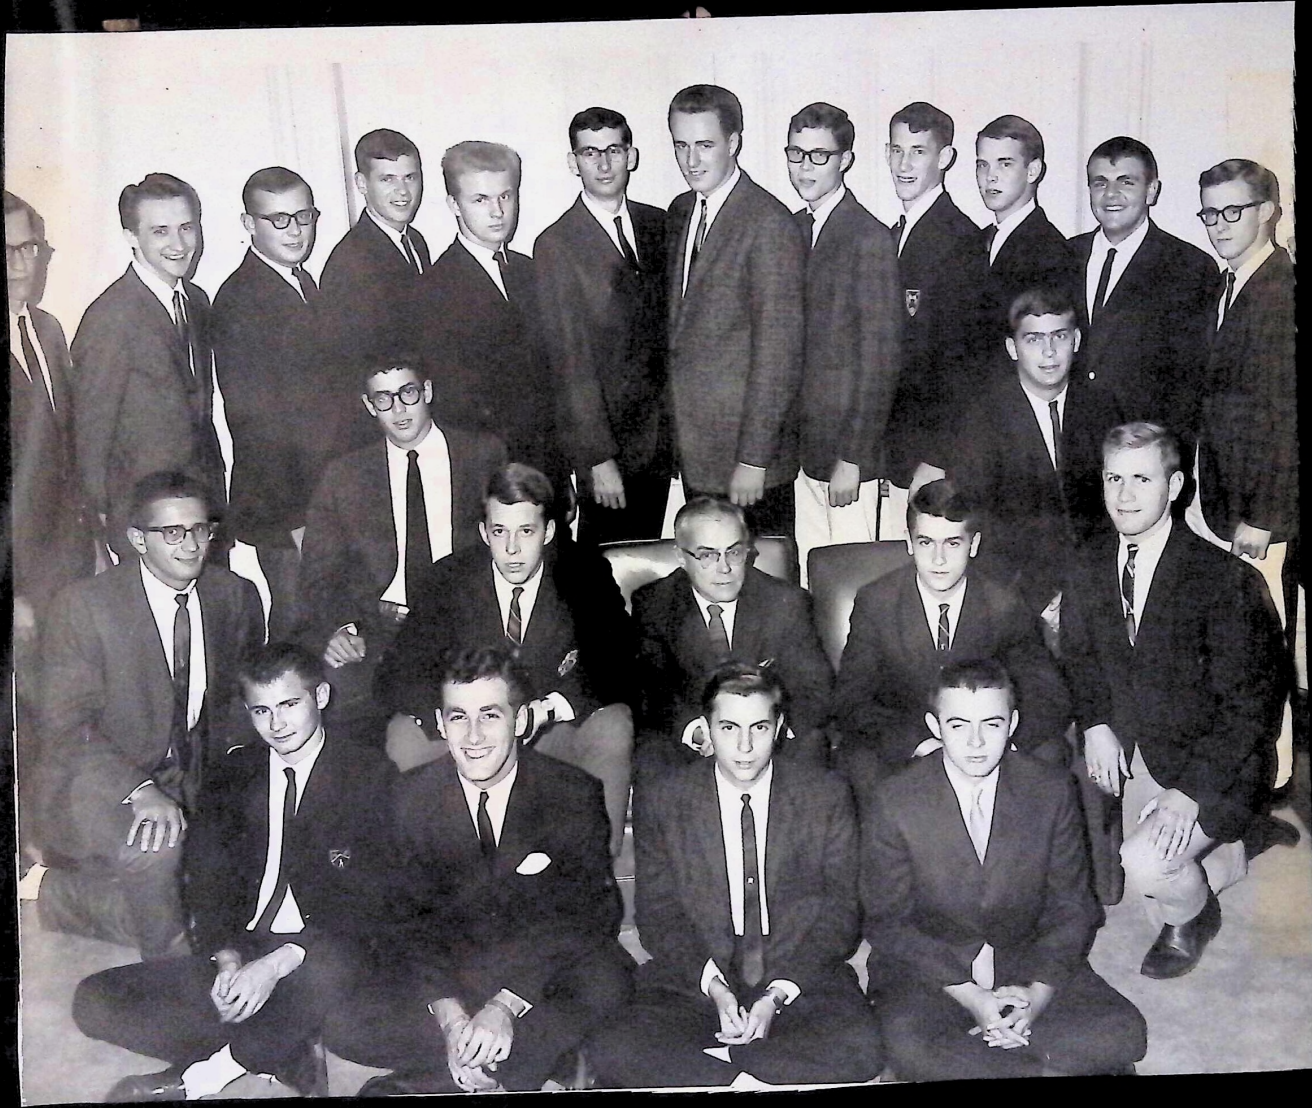

Last, and the least debatable, of Gore eight, spanning new freshmen is Dana Vorhees from Milltown in the great state of New Jersey. Dana is a secondary education major and a member of the education Club.

Gore Hall thanks the Co-Editors of this Publication Boyd Avis Hitchner III, and A. Todd Gibbs

Booters Face Lycoming

LARRY GUBANICH

Saturday's Homecoming attraction at Wilkes College will feature a soccer contest as well as a football game. Both are slated for the Wilkes Athletic Field, Kirby Park. The Wilkes soccer team takes on Lycoming that morning at 10:30 while the local college gridders will meet Ursinus at 2 p. m. Heading the soccer team in its attempt to break a four game losing streak will be Larry Gubanich, a senior and co-captain of the squad. A three year letterman at his fullback position, Larry has been called upon to play the entire game in each of the Colonel's four previous outings. A Pennsylvania native and a graduate of Phoenixville Area High School, he is a senior accounting major at Wilkes.

Booters Acclaimed in MAC Tourney

Although the College soccer team finished the 1964-65 season among the "also rans" with a 1-3-8 record in Middle Atlantic competition, the Colonel booters produced a college first in placing three of its varsity members on the first team of the All-Northern Division soccer selections.

Pictured above is coach Jim Ferris (extreme right) informing Bob Eurich, Mike Hudick and Rich Beck of their selection for this honor.

Eurich, senior co-captain of the team, has gained acclaim from the Beacon this season as Most Valuable Player on the squad. Hudick has been consistent on defense this season and, in the opinion of the Beacon, has shown outstanding effort. Beck, while only a freshman, succeeded in copping team scoring honors this season. Eurich was named to the first team inside right position, while Hudick and Beck hold down the left halfback and outside positions respectively.

Debaters To Participate At Temple; Kistler, Levy Win All At Villanova

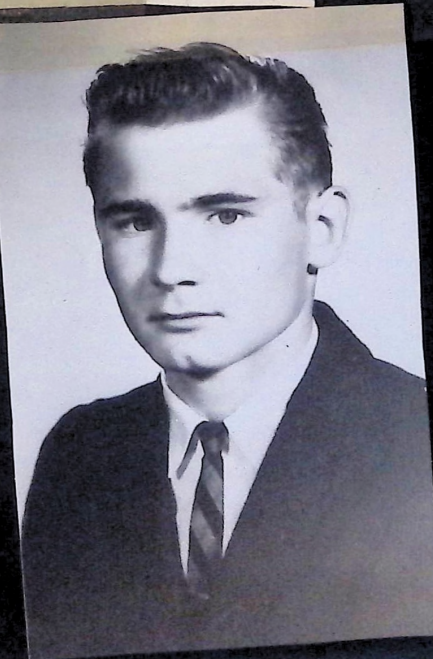

by Marshall Evans

Wilkes College Debate Society has accepted an invitation to participate in the 17th Annual Temple University Novice Debate Tournament and will send a set of novice debaters to compete in the tournament.

A "set" consists of an affirmative team and a negative team, each having two speakers. Al Airola and Paul Mocko will comprise the affirmative team, while Mark Hamdi and Larry DiGregoria will comprise the negative team.

Also attending as observers will be Bloomsburg State College, Newark College of Engineering, C. W. Post, Leona Sokash and Gerald McHale, Swarthmore, and Kiroe Seminary. Miss Charlotte Lord, debate director at the college, will accompany the group and will serve as a judge for the tournament. Decisions will be rendered and judges will give critiques, but no official tournament winner will be declared.

Recently, varsity members of the Debate Society won six out of ten rounds in the Villanova Varsity Switch Debate Tournament. Wilkes defeated teams from University of Pittsburgh, and James Tredinnick.

Dear Mr. Elliot:

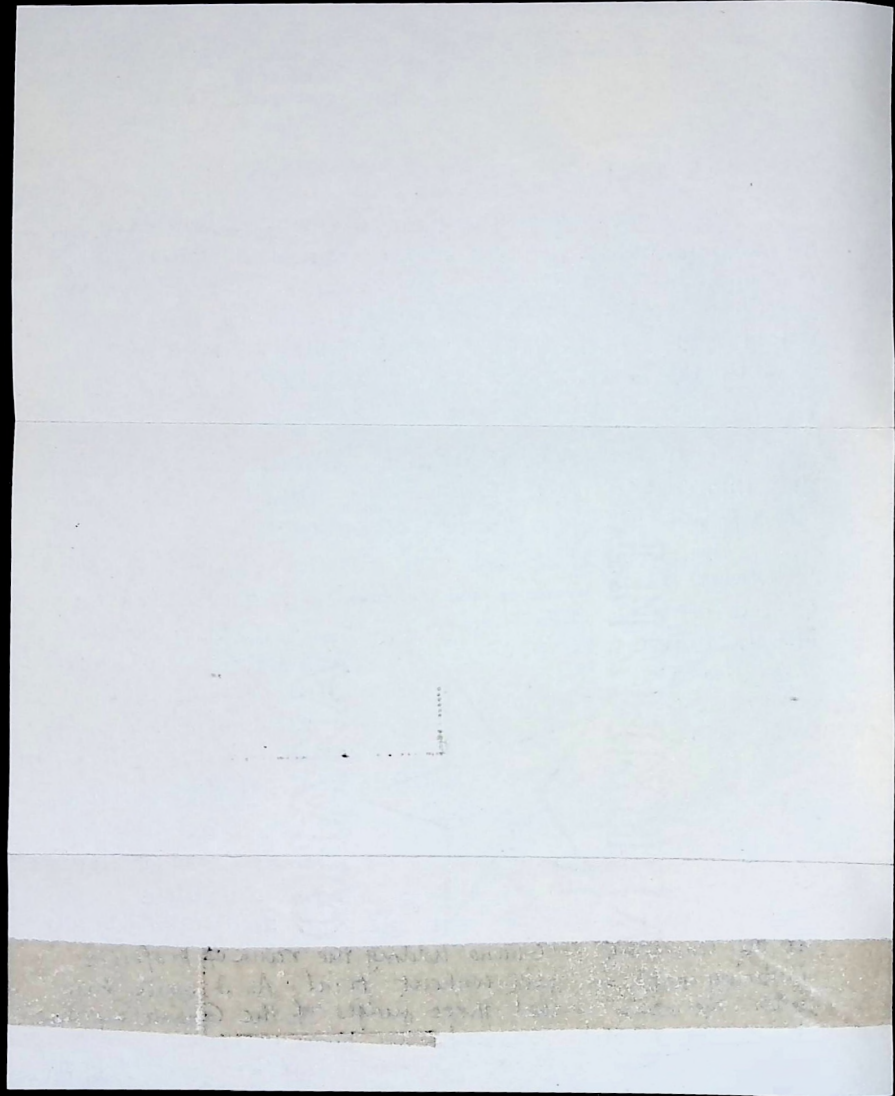

I am applying to the University of Delaware for an assistantship in statistics. I need a letter of recommendation, and as I came under your personal supervision when I was at Wilkes, I think you can safely say something about my character and capabilities. I have already asked Mr. Thomas R. Richards to give me an "academic" recommendation.

A stamped addressed envelope is enclosed for immediate action. The closing date for receipt of applications is March 15, 1964.

I am still working at the Central Bureau of Statistics (Census branch office). At the Census Office we are still compiling the figures or data obtained from the 1960 Population Census, for publication. This Office has already produced two volumes of books on the Ghana Census. Two more volumes will soon come out. I am specifically assigned to the collection of data on the total expenditure of the census, from July, 1959 to date.

The recent deportation of university lecturers (four of them Americans) from Ghana is a little disquieting. But what can one do? Even a Ghanaian at the University of Ghana holding the rank of professor is being held in jail without trial. As I write this letter the news is that three judges of the Ghana Supreme Court have been sacked from their positions.

I am fine and in good health. Yours Seth Anuah.

Abia

Dr. Mr. Elliot,

Medu la Idi!! My writing arm has, I guess, been healed with the advent of the rainy season. Rather than splash in a pool of clichés about my phlegmatic correspondence I'll just quote some the last 2,000 years of writing history: "I'm sorry I haven't written sooner, I've been meaning to - really".

After ten weeks of uneventful training in Ohio, a contingent of 23 buccolic (me?) specimens winged across the sea (the Atlantic, I believe) and after a day in Rome took up flight again for Eastern Nigeria. Nigeria has some 700 FCVs, but we were the first going into the 'bush,' as Community Development Ltd. We serve many masters the most affluent and interesting of which is the Ford Foundation. USAID, The Experiment in International Living and the Ministry of Internal Affairs of this region all have a pudgy paw in the project; all, I might add, from a distance (say, Enugu-the Capital of East). I am quite alone and only get the patois of the bureaucracy via the memorandum. They, however, are missing all the fun.

Abia is an 'Ibo' village whose most outstanding characteristic is isolation. We are fifty miles from the nearest not-so-big town and six miles off the main road (road is just a relative concept). During the dry season (which is about to finish) I can buzz in and out on my Honda, but when the rains come that six miles becomes a lovely cascade of washed out bridges and oozing clay. When all else fails, we trek. And after all this conditioning, a 12 mile trip with a box of matches is not too traumatic.

The three primary targets for development in Abia are the school, the sanitation problem and agriculture. Me? A Farmer? The most I ever labored in the good earth was transplanting some petunias for my father. But farm I do in typical FC fashion "always stay four paragraphs ahead." I'm happy to report fair progress in two of the three areas; sanitation, however, raises little emotion with my villagers and great effort is being made to let them at least see the problem, let alone do anything about it. The school is a joy and two days a week I lecture (half Ibo half pidgin) in health and grammar.

My house, I'm afraid, delivers a major blow to the FC "image." It belongs to the Ministry of Internal Affairs (Perm. Secretary) and is a disgustingly flamboyant structure which does what it was intended to do, that is, impress the local people as to how golden their native son has become. More than anything, however, it is merely big. Upon arrival I rejected the house, but FC not wanting to offend the Ministry has acquiesced. Now, as the rains are due, I am secretly grateful for my zinc roof (the local status symbol). Running water and electricity being absent help me endure all this luxury.

The language is coming, but slowly. One cannot learn Ibo from a book as it is severely intonational - everything depends on how well one can hear the sounds. And that is the crux of the problem, to hear the sounds--it takes months just to get a Western ear tuned in. I have a variety of teachers from little children to chiefs. It will be a big thing if I gain fluency as few, if any, whitemen have ever bothered before--means a lot to the people.

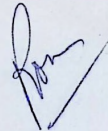

What we lack in meat and milk we make up in fruit. I am virtually surrounded by citrus groves, bananas, plaintain (banana for cooking), pineapples and mangos. Because of the tsetse fly there are no cows; I've long forgotten what a steak tastes like. It's even hard to get goat meat (another status symbol) so I pounce on the hunters coming out of the forest for a piece of porcupine, antelope, mongoose or grass cutter (sort of a ground hog). My houseboy puts curry on everything and most of the time when I ask what I am eating he just grins and there ends the insight.

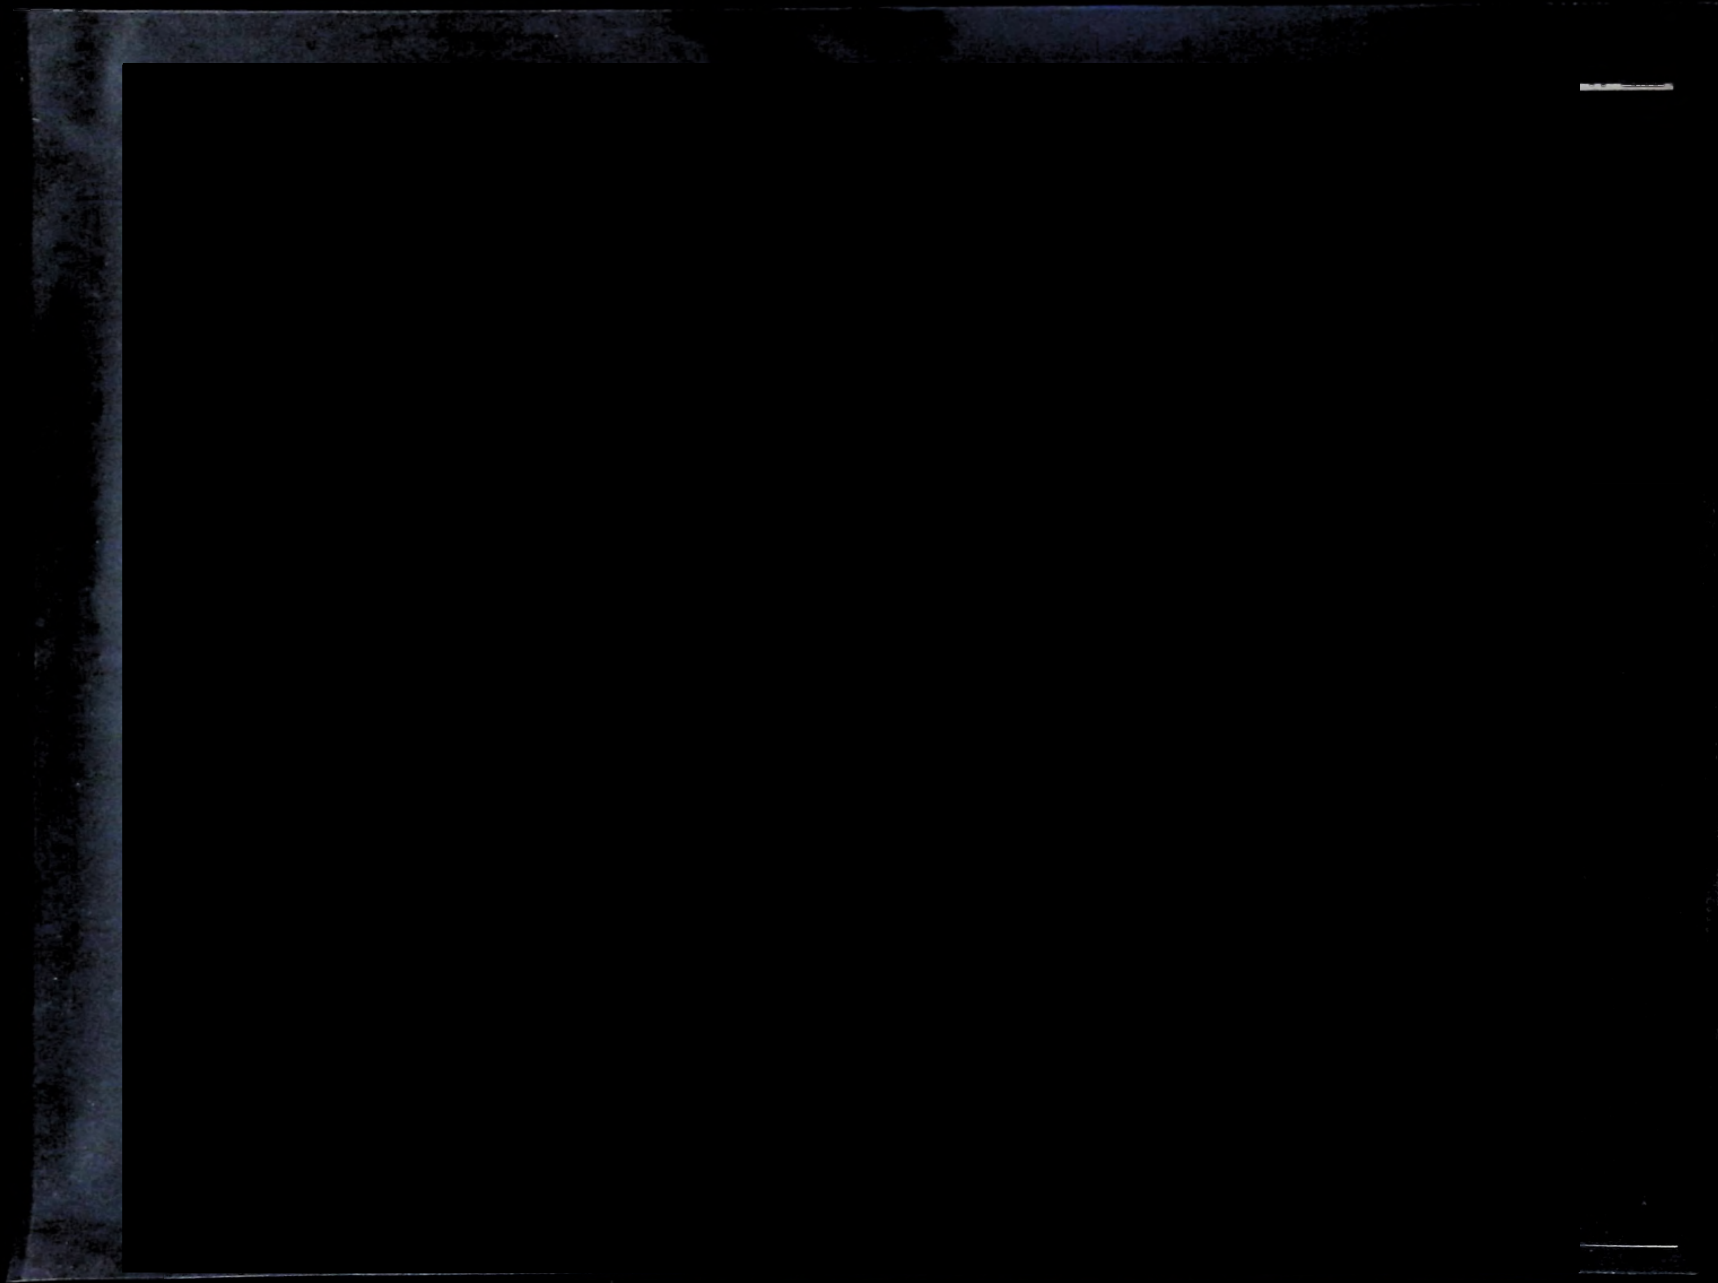

The election conflicts did not affect the rural villages too greatly. In fact, all of Nigeria could explode and I wouldn't know it until I went on my monthly shopping trip.

Linda Ewing is posted 100 miles from the Nigeria border in the Niger Republic. Her town is right on the edge of the Sahara. She was here for Christmas and I am going up there at the end of April. Together we plan to caravan it through the Sahara trying to reach Tangier. She sends her regards.

Hope all is well at Wilkes and in Gore. Regards to the guys. Do say hello to Mother Mil --writing soon.

All the best,

GORE HALL HAZING QUESTIONNAIRE

Hoping and assuming that we will still be in business next year and trying to bring the dorm back to its former eminence, I believe we can all benefit from open and honest evaluations of our present programs. I hope each of the freshmen will take this matter seriously and will fill out the following form to the best of his ability. You may fill this out anonymously, or you may sign your name -- if you wish.

1. CHECK ONE:

- a. I generally approved of the program. _____
b. I generally disapproved of the program. _____

c. Basically I merely tolerated the program. _____

2. UNDERLINE ONE:

I felt the program was of great personal value, some personal value, doubtful personal value, no personal value.

3. In what way, if at all, did hazing affect your feelings and attitudes toward the other fresh in the dorm?

4. In what way, if at all, did hazing affect your feelings and attitudes toward the upper-classmen in the dorm?

5. What specific features or events in the hazing program, if any, did you personally like?

6. What specific features or events in the hazing program, if any, did you particularly dislike?

7. Do you have any recommendations for next year's hazing program?

USE THE BACK OF THE SHEET, IF NECESSARY.

ALUMNI HONORED—Wilkes College wrapped up another annual Homecoming celebration last night and all the "Old Grads" returned to their everyday existence following a brief spell of reliving their days on the local campus. One of the highlights of the two-day affair was the selection of the building most colorfully decorated for the occasion. Gore Hall, above, a men's dormitory at 275 South Franklin St., shared top honors with Weckesser Hall, a women's dormitory at 170 South Franklin St., and a Chemistry Club exhibit at Sisk Science Hall.—(Photo by Bob Cardillo.)

Soph Booters Are Key To Success

MAC Selects Wilkes Booters To Top Teams

The Wilkes soccer team gained honors recently by having one booter elected to the Middle Atlantic Conference All-northern division first team and two players chosen for the second team. In addition, two soccermen received honorable mention.

All-northern division champion team was Elizabethtown with a 7-1 conference record. Most valuable player in the northern division is Willy Walter, who plays at the center half-back slot for Wagner College.

Mr. Elliot,

Best wishes for the Holidays to you and your family.

Gore Hall-Annual

MARCH 1966

WHAT IS GORE HALL?

WE, WHO RESIDE IN GORE REALIZE THAT IT IS MORE THAN A BUILDING WHICH WE CALL OUR RESIDENCE HERE AT WILKES.
WE ARE NEITHER THE LARGEST OR SMALLEST OF THE MANY MENS' DORMATORIES, BUT SOMEHOW WE FEEL WE ARE UNIQUE. IT IS THAT CERTAIN FEELING OF BELONGING TO THIS CO-OPERATIVE VENTURE THAT MAKES US THE "MEN OF GORE" AND NOTHING LESS.
WILL GORE RETAIN THIS SPIRIT AND LEADER-SHIP THAT IT HAS EXHIBITED IN THE PAST?
WE BELIEVE THAT IT IS OUR OBLIGATION
AND TRUST TO MAINTAIN THIS POSITION, AND WE WILL!

APPRECIATION

For more than a decade and a half, Mr. George Elliot has been a leader of men at Wilkes. It is more than fortunate that this caliber of individual has been the proctor of Gore. It is no accident that Gore year after year has consistently stood out above its counterparts. It took a man of undying fervor for improvements and leadership to produce these results. To Mr. Elliot, we say Thank You for your efforts past, present and future.

SCHOLARSHIPS TO CONTINUE

Gore Hall has continued to make available to any of its current residents a chance to be awarded a $100.00 scholarship. This scholarship is awarded twice annually.

GORE REMAINS

With the construction of a new mens' dormitory, many of the old river dorms will close at the end of this semester. College authorities announced however, that Gore, Miner, & Hainna Halls will continue as the only remaining present mens' dorms. It is with a feeling of satisfaction that we face the ensuing year bringing with us all the traditions that are associated with Gore.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS 1965-66

Fall Semester
Spring Semester

"Gore is Outstanding Down for Homecoming"

This year started out with Gore topping not just the first place display for all dormitories, but for the entire College as well. This was an all time first for Gore.

"Parents Weekend a Success at Gore"

For those of us whose parents traveled to Wilkes-Barre on parents weekend, we are sure they were favorably impressed. Included in the preparations by Gore for this event were an open house, and coffee hour.

"Gore Hosts Dr. Farley, & Mr. Ralston & Family to Dinner at the Sterling Hotel"

Virtually every member of Gore was present at a memorable and unique luncheon at the Sterling Hotel. Both Dr. Farley and the Ralstons expressed their gratitude and pleasure in being our guests for the evening.

"Eleanor Farley Room of New Wilkes Library Receives Contribution From Gore"

The men of Gore turned over a check for $50.00 to Dr. Farley for this worthy and vital cause.

"Gore Feats Open House for M.A.C. Wrestlers"

For the second time Wilkes College played host to the M.A.C. wrestling tournament. Gore Hall made available it's lounge and sleeping facilities to any of the participating wrestlers.

"Gore Shows Strength in Intermural Football"

With strong freshman participation, Gore was one of the top dorms on campus in this endeavor. Few could match our football prowess.

"Charity Begins at Gore"

Of the more than 20 dorms on campus, many larger than Gore, none could top our United Fund contributions. Gore contributed an enviable $50.00 to this worthy cause.

EVENT TO COME

"Gore Plans Annual Outing"

The traditional dorm outing held each year during Spring week-end will take place this year Saturday May 7, 1966. The dorm, as in the past, welcomes back all alumni members for this event.

PROFILES IN RESIDENCE

Gore Hall as an entity is a composite of those who live within its walls. In order of class rank, we will attempt to give some insight into the "Men of Gore."

SENIOR "66"

A. Todd Gibbs----Todd is Gore's lone senior. He is presently concluding his second term as dorm president, in which he served as an aggressive, talented leader. At Wilkes, Todd participated in: Circle -K-, Junior Class Executive Council, Economics Club President, and business editor of the school paper. A marketing major, and native of Allentown, Pa., Todd will graduate from Wilkes this Spring. To Todd, we wish the best of luck in the future.

JUNIORS "67"

Dana A. Voorhees----(Treasurer & past secretary) Dana is Gore's intermediary with the cultural pursuits at Wilkes. Among his activities are: Biology society, Cue & Curtain Club, and director at the Center for the Performing Arts. A banking and finance major from Hilltown, N. J., graduate school and then banking loom in Dana's future.

Gerald F. Weber----Jerry is Gore's authority on American Funerals. After transferring from Temple University over a year ago, Jerry has assisted in the administration and smooth running of Gore Hall. With a major in history, he has become an active member in the Junius Society and the Cue & Curtain Club. An Allentown, Pa. native, Jerry is quoted as saying that he will "undertake" anything.

SOPHOMORES "68"

Robert A. Boeler----We welcome back Bob who has recently returned to Gore after a semester in the now defunct "Fox Hole." At Wilkes, Bob is pursuing accounting as a major with the intention of joining the Internal Revenue Service after graduation. A Harberth, Pa., native, he boasts an avid interest in ham radio.

Richard S. Beck----Rich has bolstered Gore's pride in athletic accomplishments by his outstanding intercollegiate soccer performances. Here at Wilkes, Rich is a member of the Letterman's Club, and a psychology major. A Bernezzette, Pa. native, he intends to pursue industrial psychology as a career.

William R. Bush----(I.D.C. representative) Willy is Gore's man about campus. He numbers among his activities Beacon Staff and college soccer team. A Political Science major, and Phoenixville, Pa. native, Willy intends to attend law school after graduation.

James E. Hudgens----(I.D.C. representative) Jim guards the entrance to the third floor at Gore. His interests lie in electronics, including data processing. An accounting major and Pittsburg, Pa. native, he plans to go into Accounting Co-ordination in data processing upon graduation.

Ira Katz----We welcome Ira, a recent addition to our dorm. At Wilkes, he pursues the Biology Society, and the Cue & Curtain Club. He is an Economics major, and native of Lawrence, New York. His future pursuits will be in the economic aspects of business.

Nicholas J. Nickles----(Secretary) Nick keeps the Men of Gore" in touch with the wonders and magnitude of the great rural outdoors. Back home, Nick is an active 4-H member. At Wilkes, he is an accounting major. A Canaan, New York native, Nick hopes to become a C.P.A. after graduation.

Stanley C. Urbanowicz----Stan, along with Bob has immigrated to us via motorcycle, from the "Fox Hole." He has been an asset to Gore in the past by his interest in intramural football and softball. A psychology major, and a Manville, N.J. native, Stan aspires to attend grad school, and go on to industrial psychology.

FRESHMEN "69"

Richard F. Beatty----Rick, was Gore's contribution to the championship Wilkes football team this year. He is an accounting and native of Mountain Lakes, N.J. Rick plans to be a C.P.A. after graduation.

James S. Gilles----Jim is interested in intramural sports and is with the college baseball team. A liberal arts major and Carteret, N.J. native, Jim's plans for the future are not definite.

Marc F. Goldberg----Marc numbers among the top pool sharks in Gore. He is a Chemistry major and a Vineland, N.J. native. Marc hopes to make chemistry his life's occupation.
