Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania
Volume 39

Not being much for maps, the Colonel will give you no paces to step and o places to dig where $X$ marks the no places to dig where follow the spot! Instead, you must follow the clues within these pages of time. Words and pictures on the designated pages will tell you the secrets of the Colonel's hidden treasures.

Read the Colonel's signs carefully because he is not above leading the reader on a few wild goose chases. If you can see through the Colonel's tricky clues, you will find one or perhaps all of his hiding spots. Do not tell your secret to anyone else; rather, put it down in pen and ink and send it to the people by the river. The Colonel must have your reply by the ides of March of the year nineteen hundred and eighty six. If the date is clearly marked on your letter and you are the first to discover one of the secrets, the Colonel's treasure will be the secrets, the yours! Good Luck!

By the River

Part of what's unique about Wilkes College is its surroundings - the Susquehanna River, the cherry trees that line the river commons and the city of Wilkes-Barre itself. Wilkes College plays an active role in "the valley with a heart," a title the community earned after the 1972 flood. Buildings, such as Kirby, Chase, and Weckesser hall link the college with the region's past. Wilkes also strives to play an active role in the area's future by offering assistance to the community with services such as the new giardiasis testing

Wait a minute . . . what's that girl pointing to? That was the Wilkes College Homecoming bonfire! When the downpour came, the students' answer was "So What!" They moved the party into the gym. Even though the fire didn't blaze as high as usual, the damp weather certainly didn't dampen the spirit of the event.

Just when you thought the 1984 book was complete, along came amnicola ' 85 amincola ' 85 amnicola ' 85 amnicola ' 85 amnicola ' 85 (I bet you'll never forget this theme Mr. Fuller!). The year started with the orientation slide show (we'll this theme Mr. Fuller!). The year started with the orientation slide show (we'll always remember how strong to make that expresso, right guys!). It ended with a always remember how strong to make that expresso, right guys!). It ended with a search for hidden treasure (during which our photographers discovered parts of the search for hidden treasure (during which our photographers discovered parts of the campus that we never knew existed before). And, in between, we also had a lot of fun.

To the Brothers-In-Law, how does it feel to be related? Thanks for being great friends and for being there, always ready to help. And to all the photographers, your work made my job so much easier. The pictures were great!!!
To our business manager (and future editor) thanks for all of your help. To the design editor, you must wish that you will never see the words "events," "academics," "seniors," or "sports" again.

And to our advisor, you may have gone all the way to Japan to get away from the yearbook, but we brought the book to you anyway (so what did the Japanese think of Amnicola 1984?). And remember, whenever being an advisor gets you down, think of the words of our Alma Mater (which I am sure you will never forget!) Thanks for being a great advisor and a great friend

To the 1985 staff, I will miss you all. You were a great group! To the 1986 staff, good luck with the book and I hope you enjoy being a member of the Amnicola staff as much as I did. And to the treasure hunters, good luck in your search and remember to enjoy your years at Wilkes for they are the real treasure.
