Dear Member:

Theta Delta Rho (T.D.R.) has written us a letter asking our support in obtaining a new Tea Service for their club. They indicate in their letter that they need 37 books of S & H Green Stamps to obtain the service they want. They would like to be able to use this Tea Service for their Spring Tea and therefore need this number of books by the end of February.

On behalf of our program to support student activities please..let's all donate stray stamps or books and give T.D.R. our earnest support. We would like to have the stamps collected no later than the week of February 14th. You might find it convenient to bring them to the meeting of February 7th. If not, please send your denation to:

Mrs. Stanley Holden - 292 So. River St.

thru the school mailbox

T. D. R. has been most helpful to the Wilkes Faculty Women's organization. The girls have, on many occasions donated their time to serve and act as hostesses at some of our functions.

TRIBUTE TO A CREATOR

For more than three and one-half decades Dr. Eugene S. Farley has played the role of educator, College President, counselor to students, father-away-from-home and No. 1 supporter of everything that was good for his students.

He has congratulated thousands for accomplishments big and small. He has shaken the hands of graduates in 35 classes and worried about them afterward as much as he did while they were in his college.

Tomorrow evening the Faculty Women of Wilkes College attempt to repay some of the debt by holding a testimonial dinner in his honor. No greater debt was ever created. No greater desire to repay a debt ever existed.

We wonder as we consider his leaving the office of President just what this Campus will be like without its creator and father. Wilkes College without Eugene Farley delivering the welcomes and farewells will hardly seem like Wilkes College. There will be many of us who will miss seeing him walk down the street, returning a friendly wave as one of his students shouts, "Hi, Doc!" It is a tribute to his down-to-earth personality that such an informal greeting would never offend him — but would be returned in kind.

Dr. Farley is Wilkes College. Those who have disagreed with him have ended up shaking his hand in admiration and respect. Those who have believed in him have always found their faith justified. He stands for all the true virtues that are too often lost in this frantic society: honor, trust, pride, determination, and most of all — loyalty. He has weathered every storm on the Wilkes Campus. There have been heartbreaking defeats — but he has seen only the triumphs.

We wonder how the "Great White Father" must feel as he walks about the campus and views those buildings and institutions for which he is responsible. It must be a proud feeling, and a humbling feeling. Some people never know what their lifetimes have accomplished. Dr. Farley is one of the few who can look around with satisfaction for a job well done.

He can see the physical structures of his College. He can know that thousands of people in this Valley and beyond owe their college educations to him. He had the guts to build a college where those-in-the-know said he could never succeed.

If those-in-the-know have any doubts of the victor in this battle, we invite them to visit Eugene S. Farley's "Impossible Dream."

Howard Renfe 100-Year-Old

By MINNIE B. MacLELLAN
Sunday Independent Staff

Heartfelt thanks to the many customers who became friends through daily contacts over the past half century were expressed by Howard Renfer, 129 Rock Street, Hughestown, as he closed the doors recently for the last time at his dairy, located next to his home.

The popular Greater Pittston resident, when asked his feeling about retiring from the dairy business which has been a vital part of his life, said he had met so many wonderful and he wanted to express appreciation to each and every one for the close associations they built up during his career.

The Renfer Dairy, which was recently sold to the Orange Farm Dairy, was one of the lodest business establishments in the borough of Hughestown. It was first established more than 100 years ago by his grandfather, the late Frederick Renfer Sr., at his farm, located on upper Parsonage Street near the Durvea line.

Frederick's son, William, took control of the business when his father retired and 47 years ago he handed the management to his son, Howard. The new owner had worked closely with his dad for 13 years before assuming full control.

The personable dairy man, recalling his business career, said he started at the early age of 13. When his teacher, a Mr. Bealer, was taken ill, he decided to leave the Hughestown Public Schools and begin working with his father. It wasn't too difficult to persuade his father that he would be a definite asset since the older man also conducted a lumber and coal business. This allowed his father to devote himself entirely to the lumber and coal trade while young Howard devoted his time exclusively to the milk business. Acquainted with Bealer route, the young businessman

DR. EUGENE S. FARLEY INSTALLED AS PRESIDENT

First Wilkes President Inaugurated In Impressive Ceremony Held at PCH; Dr. Christian Gaus Delivers Address

Dr. Eugene S. Farley was inaugurated as the first president of Wilkes College at special ceremonies held Wednesday night in the First Presbyterian Church. The speakers included Attorney Gilbert S. McClintock, president of the college board of trustees, Dr. William H. Coleman, dean of Bucknell University at Lewisburg, and Dr. Christian Gaus, former dean of Princeton University. Following the academic procession, Dr. Charles S. Roush, pastor of First Baptist Church, offered invocation.

Attorney McClintock installed Dr. Farley as president of Wilkes College with the knowledge that Dr. Farley would give "wise and liberal leadership to the college..." Dr. William H. Coleman extended greetings on behalf of Bucknell University, the parent institution which pioneered the Junior College to its present status.

In his inaugural address Dr. Farley stressed the position of education in this chaotic world when he said, "Never has the challenge of education been so great nor the necessity so pressing as it is today." Having served as director of Bucknell Junior College for eleven years following the growing institution to its present independent state, Dr. Farley knows the job which must be accomplished today.

Dr. Christian Gaus was the principal speaker on the inauguration program. Dr. Gaus, referring to our position in history, said that "We are facing the most serious challenge that has ever confronted civilized man." He concluded his address with the assurance that since the community has already shown its courage and devotion in fostering Wilkes College, it would not falter in the future.

Following the benediction given by Dr. Roush, the entire assembly stood to sing the Wilkes Alma Mater as a vocal praise to the school and a welcome to its first president.

The musical portion of the program included a Bach Chorale, "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," sung by the college choral club, and Handel's "Let Their Celestial Concerts All Unite," sung by the "Concordia" Singing Society, both under the direction of Mr. Paul Gies. Mr. Charles Henderson was accompanist.

Representing other Eastern United States colleges and universities in the academic procession were: University of Pennsylvania, Judge John J. Aponick; Dickinson College, Amos B. Horiacher; Franklin and Marshall College, Perry F. Kendig; Lafayette College, Robert G. Grosen; Muhlenberg College, Sherwood R. Mercer; Pennsylvania State College, H. C. Ann Wilks reports that the cook books are progressing well, despite problems, and will be ready for distribution at our April meeting.

The Faculty Women's Book Discussion Group will meet next on Wednesday, March 31, from 8 to 10 p.m. at Alice Collins' home at 46 Mallery Place. A double discussion will be held to compare the two books, Jane Austen's Sense and Sensibility and Erich Segal's Love Story. Almost diametrically opposed as to the morality of their different societies, the two love stories make an interesting contrast. Alice and Rhoda Tillman, who will be hostess for the evening, will review the books and hold an introductory debate on them, then lay the meeting open for discussion, especially as to genuine relationships and whether the moral content helps or hinders the relationships. All interested members and their friends are invited to attend.

Please keep these two dates in mind. We'll hope to see you all next Tuesday.
