

Kishel To Head Student Government

Shambe, O'Connell, and Jim Jones Gain Classes' Presidency Posts

As a result of last Friday's elections, Joseph Shambe, Brent O'Connell, and James A. Jones will lead the senior, junior, and sophomore classes respectively during the 1961-62 academic year.

The class of 1962 chose incumbent Joe Shambe, a commerce and finance major from Dupont, as their president.

Running unopposed, Brent O'Connell of Ashley was re-elected to the presidency of the class of 1963.

Of the five candidates aspiring to the office of sophomore class president, Jim Jones, a biology major and a resident of Warner Hall, was selected to head his class during the coming year.

Other victorious candidates selected for the offices of vice-president, treasurer, secretary, and class representatives to the student government, respectively, are as follows:

Class of 1962: Dave Edwards, Wayne Thomas, Judith Butchko, Al Kishel, Richard Rees, Mike Bianco, and Carol Thomas.

Class of 1963: Jerry Mohn, Conrad Wagner, Rosalie Kackauskas, Jim Walters, Bonnie Jenkins, Ted Begun, and Mark Levy.

Class of 1964: Barbara Stevens, Roger Rymer, Lorraine Dyers, Ed Rogalski, Richard Burns, Fred Smithson, and Louis Coopey.

Mixed Chorus to Present Varied Program At Next Assembly

Next Thursday's assembly program will feature the Wilkes College Mixed Chorus under the direction of Mr. Richard Chapline.

The chorus will sing four selections: Nanie, an elegy by Brahms to be sung in English; From an Unknown Past, a series of anonymous lyrics "from an unknown past" set to music by the modern composer, Ned Rorem; Four Folk Songs by Brahms; and La Belle Helene, a comic-opera by Offenbach which the chorus will sing in Parisian French.

The soloists for La Belle Helene are Helene, Mary Jean Sakoski; Ajax I and Paris, Merritt Wheeler; Ajax II, Raymond Nutaitis; Achilles, Harry Owens; Menelas, Robert Eike; Agamemnon, Walter Umla; Calchas, Richard Probert; Orestes, Thomas Kanas.

The Chorus has made several highly acclaimed appearances this season, among them the Town and Gown concert and engagements at various churches throughout the Valley.

Hampton Students Visit Campus This Weekend In Exchange Program

Students of Hampton Institute, Virginia will visit the campus this weekend to participate in the annual Hampton Exchange program sponsored by the Inter-Dormitory Council (IDC).

The purpose of this exchange is to fasten stronger ties between the schools and to acquaint the Hampton students with the Wilkes social program. Pete Greenberg, junior biology major and president of the IDC, has helped to plan this program.

The students are scheduled to arrive at noon today and will lunch at the Commons. Lunch will be followed by a tour of the campus after which they will return to the Commons for dinner from five to six. Later in the evening they will attend a party at the Wilkes-Barre American Legion Home on North River Street.

Breakfast on Saturday morning will be served at nine in the Commons and the students will be entertained at a tea in Weckesser Hall from 10 to 11:30, after which they will return to the Commons for lunch until one o'clock. Their afternoon activities will find them on an outing to Kirby Park. Saturday's activities will be brought to a close with a dorm party at McClintock Hall sponsored by McClintock and Hollenback Halls.

On Sunday the Hampton students will have breakfast at the Commons and then leave immediately to return to Virginia.

Bianco, Walters, Thomas Chosen To Assist in Administration

by Bob Bomboy

Last Tuesday's student government election saw close contests for all but one of the available offices; Jim Walters, incumbent student government treasurer and a three-year representative of the class of 1963, ran unopposed for the office of treasurer.

In contests for the other offices, however, it was a different story. Active and able leaders were almost evenly matched in every contest.

Carol Thomas, a representative of the class of 1963 and an elementary education major, defeated Ted Begun, a two-year representative of the class of 1963, for the office of secretary.

Mike Bianco, a senior majoring in political science, successfully opposed Rick Rees and was elected to the office of vice-president for the 1961-1962 year.

The biggest clash of the election, however, was the tussle for the presidency. Here Al Kishel, a one-time president and twice-elected representative of his class (1962) defeated Mike Bianco.

The votes of newly elected representatives to the Student Government helped to make the outcome of the election unpredictable. The following new members voted for the first time in Student Government sessions: Bonnie Jenkins and Mark Levy, class of 1963; Richard Burns and Ed Rogalski, class of 1964.

Climaxing the elections, Mr. Alfonso Zawadski, Assistant Registrar, discussed the presentation of the controversial film, "Operation Abolition". This film, secured for last night's 7 p.m. Stark Hall showing by the Student Government in cooperation with the administration, frankly portrays the actions of alleged Communist-inspired rioters at San Francisco sessions of the House Un-American Activities Committee last year.

Local showings of this film have elicited calls from area clergymen for objective interpretations of the more controversial scenes by a qualified and detached person familiar with the background of the riots.

As the final order of business it was announced that the final student government meeting will be held at the Carousel Motel. Lorraine Rome, chairman of the May 8, buffet dinner-business meeting submitted final plans for the affair.

The dinner meeting will cost each member and guest two dollars; the final meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Roberts, Van Fossen, Chamberlain, Davis Gain Jaycee Awards

by Lynne Dente

Four members of the college division of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were recent recipients of awards for outstanding service during the year.

The awards were presented to Gilbert Davis, Clyde Roberts, Robert Chamberlain, and William Van Fossen.

Davis, a senior majoring in secondary education, received the award as "Outstanding Rotating Chairman." He received the award on the basis of his thorough control over meetings, amiability between himself and members, and because, in the opinion of the judges, he possesses and exhibits a workable knowledge of parliamentary procedure.

Fine Arts Department and Art Club Sponsor Art Fair Today

by Roz Deretchin

The Department of Fine Arts and the Art Club, under the direction of Mr. Chester Colson, will sponsor an Art Fair to be held today from 2-5 p.m. and from 6-9 p.m. at Conyngham Annex, the building at the rear of 120 South River Street.

A fiesta-like atmosphere will prevail at the Fair which will feature the students' work, films, slides on art history, and demonstrations. The area will be divided into various sections, and at each section a student will demonstrate his particular art specialty. This will provide an opportunity for the guests to see how an artist works and the methods he uses in creating his finished project.

The students participating in the Fair and the work they will demonstrate are as follows: Les Andres, oil painting; Ruth Boorum, silk screen; Nancy Tinklepaugh and Carolyn Rhone, mosaics; Eleanor Brehm, color; Ken Frantz, lettering and layout; Romelle Gomba, copper enameling; Ed Kay, watercolor; Elaine Kozemchak and Ron Kucirko, pastels; Leroy Sult, charcoal and pen and ink; Len Yoblonski, figure drawing; Jerry Zezza, clay modeling; Lou Coopey, pottery; Michelene Wysocki and Bob Hrynkiw, ceramics; Joe Lipinski, pencil; Jan Pethick, sculpture; Bill Pucilowski and Carolyn Young, fashion drawing; Nancy Bonham, block printing and wood cuts.

Mr. Chester Colson and Mr. Andrew Palencar will chaperone the Fair and Gloria Silverman will be hostess. Invitations have been sent to members of the faculty, to the high schools and colleges in the area, and to the parents of the art students. The public is invited and it is hoped that in the future the Art Fair will be as big as and on par with the Science Fair.

Carolyn Rhone and Elaine Kozemchak are co-chairmen of the Fair. The following are chairmen of committees: Ken Frantz, invitations; Ed Kay, demonstrations; Bob Hrynkiw, films; Jerry Zezza and Leroy Sults, slides; Carolyn Young, music; Bill Pucilowski, publicity; Leroy Sults, programs; Romelle Gomba and Eleanor Brehm, refreshments.

EDITORIAL—

Another 'First' for Wilkes

This coming Monday, May 8, Wilkes will have the honor of playing host to approximately 25 golf teams in the Middle Atlantic Conference who will be battling once again for the team championship of MAC golf.

This is the first time that the tourney has ever been held in this area. The one-day event will be held at the Irem Temple Country Club — which boasts of one of the most beautiful but exacting golf layouts in the country. Through the efforts of Dr. Ben Marshall, local dentist and one of the area's finest golfers, the Irem course was obtained for this year's tournament.

Wilkes College is extremely grateful and appreciative to the Irem Temple for the cooperation and willing spirit which they have shown to the College — not only for this event, but also in allowing the Colonel golfers to use the course for their home matches.

Mr. John Reese, director of athletics at the college, and Mr. Welton Farrar, the Colonels' golf coach, both deserve our commendation for their efforts in planning and organizing this year's tourney. With a break from the weatherman the tournament will undoubtedly be a success.

We certainly hope that a large contingent of Wilkes sports enthusiasts will find time to get out to the Irem course on Monday to support the tournament and especially this year's winning Colonel aggregation. Even those who know very little about the game of golf will find it quite interesting and will also enjoy the beautiful springtime atmosphere and country scenery. Incidentally, there will be no admission charge to the course.

ALONG THE AISLE

Warm but Cautious Criticism Accorded "Duchess of Malfi"

Tuesday night marked the initial performance of John Webster's The Duchess of Malfi, an Elizabethan revenge play presented by Cue 'n' Curtain under the direction of Mr. Alfred S. Groh.

Dave Fendrick delivered the outstanding performance of the evening as the humorous, melancholic Bosola whose ambition leads him to ill-fated collaboration in the revenge of the Cardinal and Ferdinand. He exhibited a clear understanding of a difficult role that requires extreme sensitivity and perception for successful execution.

Harvey Stambler, as Ferdinand, portrayed the proud, scheming nobleman, brother of the Duchess. He performed the role with confidence, and his skill remained constant throughout the difficult transition from the vengeful brother to the guilt-haunted, insane murderer.

Ruth Friedlander, portraying the Duchess of Malfi, captured the regal qualities of the role of the warmth and vitality which the character of the Duchess must, of necessity, possess.

Steve Schwartz, as the Duchess' steward and paramour, lacked some of the romantic flamboyance which the role demanded. This deficiency may be attributed to lack of experience, though Mr. Schwartz exhibited considerable comprehension of the Elizabethan stage, as is evident in his phrasing and delivery of Webster's blank verse.

Marc Hirschman, playing the part of the malevolent Cardinal, performed with skill and discernment. Of the many death scenes, his undoubtedly was rendered most believably.

Among the minor characters, creditable performances were delivered by Sue Vaughn as Cariola, the Duchess' maid, James Block as the elder statesman Pescara, and Ned Van Dyke as the physician. Others in the cast include James Jones, Les Andres, Patricia Chapracki, Daniel Pieratos, Edward Gavel, Gary Siegel, Stan Minemier, David Kistler, Jeffrey Gallet, and Max Alper.

The staging could be improved, especially in the fourth act where the stage appeared overly crowded, partially due to the five dead or dying personages who sprawled haphazardly across the stage, in typical Elizabethan fashion. In the opinion of this observer, the performance was, all in all, enjoyable, fast-paced, and authentically representative of the Elizabethan stage. Mr. Groh deserves much credit for attempting and executing so demanding an undertaking.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

Associated Women Students will hold its first official function on Thursday, May 11, when it will conduct a tea for all Wilkes women. Invitations have been issued.

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Sir,

I was quite disappointed and a little saddened to read a letter in this column on Friday, April 28, which posed the question, "Do you want to live?" I feel that the question should have been, "How do you want to live?"

The basic question is not whether or not mankind has the potential to exterminate himself. We must accept the fact that our scientific program has brought us to this point, and all the regrets and misgivings of which we are capable will not alter this situation. But in spite of technological progress the basics of inter-human relationships remain unchanged.

A significant portion of mankind still feels, I hope, that freedom is a condition worth fighting for. If the weapons have changed, the sentiment has not.

There are worse things than fear. Mankind has lived with fear during most of his existence. This has often been a vitalizing and stimulating, though uncomfortable, emotion.

If our fear of fear leads us to actions which result in the premature casting aside of weapons necessary to maintain our freedom, we may well find that we have traded fear for a more terrible and debilitating emotion — despair.

Many of those who have lost freedom through reluctance to defend it, or ignorance of its true value, wish that they once again had the opportunity of weighing fear against freedom.

We can escape fear, just as we can escape from insecurity, but we should ask ourselves — is it worth the price?

STUDENT SKETCH

Busy Senior Favors Teaching; Class President for Three Years

by Jerry Shilanski

It will take more than eight weeks of student teaching to change Gilbert Davis' mind about teaching or discourage him from continuing in the education field.

Summing up his recent teaching experience at Meyers High School, Gil remarked that "each day was a new experience; I got along great with my students and I really enjoyed the work. One could probably write a book about the incidents that occur during these eight weeks. I really feel that they will be of tremendous value to me when I enter the teaching profession this fall."

In talking with this gregarious senior secondary education major, it is quite evident that he thoroughly enjoys being with and working with people. In view of this it is not surprising that he is so enthusiastic about his field. Nor is it surprising that his classmates have elected him president of their class for three consecutive years.

Gil's pleasing personality is echoed by the fact that he was one of the students chosen for this year's Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Along with being Treasurer and Parliamentarian of the Wilkes Chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, he has been named the Outstanding Rotating Chairman of that organization for the past two years. Gil has been a Dean's List student, a member of the Education Club, and was instrumental in promoting the Louis Armstrong Jazz Concert last year.

When asked what he thought of the various organizations here on campus, he replied that he naturally considered the Jaycees to be the best organization in existence. Gil stated that "he has been disappointed with many of the groups on campus because of their weakness and because they seem to exist from meeting to meeting with no plan of action."

He remarked that "although the student participation has increased in the past few years, perhaps due to the efforts of the School Spirit Committee, there could still be more coordinated activities between the day and dorm students. We could use a couple of fraternities!" he offered as a suggestion.

"On the whole I have enjoyed my four years at Wilkes and have found it adequate, both socially and academically," he reminisced. Some of my instructors, particularly in the education field are wonderful persons and have been of great help."

Referring to his long tenure as class president, Gil maintained that the success of the Class of 1961 was due to its general spirit and to the fine group he had under him. The only objection he could recall was that the people who did the least work complained the most, but he asserted that there was always a class nucleus that could be counted on.

Gil's plans for the future will probably include marriage, since he recently became engaged to Ginny Solt, a girl who is also interested in education and who is presently a junior in the elementary curriculum at Bloomsburg State College. However, his immediate intentions are to head for the Poconos this summer where he will catch a bit of rest and relaxation between the times he is acting as Social Director and Life Guard at one of the resorts. He has been working in the mountains for more than six seasons.

When fall comes Gil will come back to the lowlands where he will accept a teaching position at the Union County Regional High School in Springfield, New Jersey.

For long-range plans he is looking forward to graduate school and a master's degree in guidance and personnel which he hopes to obtain within the next five years.

Gil is a 1957 graduate of Plymouth High School and is at this time residing in Plymouth, Pennsylvania, with his family.

Diamondmen Down Scranton U., 6-3; Meet Crusaders in Return Game

The Colonel baseball team will journey to Selinsgrove tomorrow to meet the Crusaders of Susquehanna University in a return MAC contest. The Crusaders won the first contest, 5-3, on the five hit pitching of Tom Williams. The big right-hander sent eleven Colonels down swinging in downing Bob Fleming. On Tuesday afternoon the Colonel diamondmen celebrated their first game at the new athletic field by defeating the University of Scranton nine, 6-3. Bob Fleming won his second game of the campaign with a neat six-hitter while sending seven Royals back to the dugout strike-out victims. After a scoreless first inning Coach Dydo's men exploded for four runs in the second stanza. A base on balls to Sam Cooper was followed by successive singles by Len Yankosky and Lou Zampetti to account for two runs. After "Tagu" Mulford received the second free pass of the inning, Matt Himlin sent two more runs home with a sharp single to left field. The Royals scored single runs in the second and third innings and the Colonels added two in the bottom of the third. The Dydomen put together three walks, a sacrifice by Cooper and a single by Yankosky to account for the runs. Scranton completed the scoring for the contest on a home run by catcher Ozzie Quinn in the sixth. Len Yankosky led the Wilkes batsmen with three singles in four trips to the plate. The lanky catcher also scored two runs while getting an rbi. Matt Himlin registered two runs batted in while Lou Zampetti scored two runs. Last Saturday the diamondmen dropped a 14-7 decision to Lebanon Valley. An eleven run fourth inning made the contest a runaway as pitcher Mike Schwefel lost his first starting assignment of the season. Five Wilkes fielding miscues aided the Flying Dutchmen in gaining the victory. Walt Folek and Matt Himlin each produced two hits for the Colonels and Lou Zampetti smashed his first home run of the season.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Joe Hiznay Sparkles on Greens, Undefeated in Four Matches

In recognition of his steady shooting and prolific scoring ability against four tough opponents, Joe Hiznay gains this week's nod as "Athlete of the Week". Joe demonstrated some beautiful shotmaking in shutting out his Mansfield and Lycoming opponents by 3-0 scores. In both matches he shot rounds in the seventies as his booming drives and consistent iron game proved too much for his opponents. Against Lycoming the slender senior shut out the Warriors' Grant Jones and followed suit in Tuesday's action against Mansfield.

The veteran swinger is in his fourth year of collegiate competition and will be one of the Colonels' contingent of four looking for honors in the Middle Atlantic Conference Tourney at Irem Temple Country Club on Monday.

Hiznay is an alumnus of Wyoming High School where he starred in football, basketball and track. While at Wyoming High he was introduced to the game of golf. The school counselor sent Joe to Fox Hill Country Club for summer work as a caddy and soon after he became an avid golfing fan.

After leaving school Joe entered the Navy and served Uncle Sam for the next four years. In September, 1957 he entered Wilkes and will graduate in June with a B.S. in Retail Merchandising. A week after graduating he will take the "step beyond" to marry pretty Marie Opsitos. Marie is currently a secretary in the Alumni and Development Office.

The future of the Hiznay-to-be family is set as Joe will attend management training school with W. T. Grant Company before accepting a position with the company.

Twenty-Five Teams to Compete For Stuart Trophy at Irem Temple

Wilkes will become the center of collegiate golfing on Monday when we play host to 25 colleges and universities in the annual Middle Atlantic States Conference golf championship play. This is the first time the United States' largest collegiate tourney will be held in this area.

The four-man team, 36 hole medal play will be at Irem Temple Country Club. The par for the Dallas course is 72. Tee-off time for the tourney will be 9 a.m. Practice rounds will take place on Sunday afternoon.

Looming as favorite in the tourney is the 1960 Ron Stuart Trophy winner, Bucknell. Lehigh and Juniata are the strongest competition the Bisons will face.

Thus far this season the Bisons have compiled a 2-1 record by scoring impressive wins over Delaware University and Lafayette. The Bucknell squad is well balanced with Bob Etzweiler and Bob Schad as their top men. Pete Sang, Curt Mull, and Jerry Singer round out the varsity lettermen. Ted Casey and Don Mother round out the squad.

Individual medalist play has Jack Vernocy as the favorite but improved play of Etzweiler has made the Bisons a chief threat. Both golfers captain their squads with Vernocy leading the Juniata hopefuls.

The tourney has Temple University, Upsala College and Rutgers of South Jersey entering for the first time. These additions bring the roster of entries to twenty-five.

The Colonel duffers picked up their third win of the season against one loss Monday in defeating Mansfield State College's squad at Irem Temple by a score of 11½ to 6½.

Dick Bellas continues undefeated in two years of match play after downing Barry Jones, 3-0. John Pierce, however, was defeated for the first time in two seasons.

Frank DiGennari.

In last week's competition the league-leading Playboys went down in defeat for the second consecutive week, losing this time to the Boozers, 3-1. The Tornados and Screwballs again switched places in the league standings, the Tornados in third with the Screwballs in fourth. The Gutterdusters took over sixth place from the Pinbusters, who dropped into seventh.

The Boozers started strong with a team effort in the first game of 907, the highest team score in the league, and almost succeeded in winning four points from the Playboys, but the Playboys came through with a strong surge in the closing frames of the final game to produce their one point win. Two bowlers from each team were over the 500 mark. Butch Kaplan recorded 194-538 and Regina Ritzie 188-504 for the Boozers while Tom Dysleski hit 210-521 and Bill Watkins 207-516 for the Playboys.

The Gutterdusters won four points by forfeit from a short-handed Ebonite squad. No one succeeded in cracking the select 500 circle in this match.

The Tornados kept in the race for second place by registering a 3-1 win over the Pinbusters. Anchorman Jerry Chisarick led the Tornados with 182-488 while Ed Stofko was high man for the Pinbusters with 177-447.

Frank DiGennari fired 213-548 to lead the Alley Cats in downing the fourth place Screwballs. Frank would be in line for the high average award but he is seven games short of the number needed to qualify. Barry Shevchuk rolled 167-471 for the Screwballs.

Tomorrow the tennis team travels to Selinsgrove for a match against the Crusaders of Susquehanna University, the second of the season between the two teams, the Crusaders having won the first, 5-4.

The tennis team posted its second victory of the season on Saturday as it defeated Lebanon Valley at Annville, 5-4. It was a close match all the way with the meet not being decided until the final doubles match.

The singles matches ended with each team winning three of the matches. Bill Klein, playing his first match as number one man, was defeated by a strong Ron Bell. Buddy Menaker, usually number one man, played in the second slot and was defeated by Bob Kilmeyer in two long sets.

Dirk Dunlap was the first to win for the Colonels as he defeated Larry Stein in three marathon sets at number three. Gary Einhorn continued his fine tennis by defeating Charles Burkhart at the fourth position. Gary's record now stands at four wins and one loss.

Ron Bienkowski turned in the other singles win for Coach Art Hoover's team as he topped Harkim Lys after losing the first set, 3-6. Owen Francis was defeated by Dick Blair in a three set match. He came back in the third set to win, 6-3, only to lose in the last set, 6-4.

The Colonels won two out of three doubles matches to cop the match. Dunlap and Bill Klein played well only to be defeated by the Dutchmen's number one combination of Bell and Kilmeyer in the last set, 7-5. The doubles teams of Menaker-Bienkowski and Einhorn-Francis defeated their opponents to give Wilkes its second tennis win of the season.

College Symphonic Band To Participate in Parents' Day Program

by Gloria Zaludek

Climaxing this year's series of Town 'n' Gown concerts will be a concert by the Wilkes Symphonic Band on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the gymnasium.

The series of concerts, which began October 23, 1960, will highlight the annual Parents Day at the College, with the public invited at no admission charge.

Sunday's program, which will feature the brass ensemble and chamber music ensemble, will be one of the most difficult presented during the year.

Compositions on the program include: "The Queen of Sheba Grand March" by Gounod, "Chorale and Fugue" by Bach, Dvorak's "Serenade in D Minor", "Lincolnshire Posy", Grainger; Leroy Anderson's "Horse and Buggy", and Dvorak's Finale from "West Point Symphony".

The Wilkes Band, organized in 1947 and today conducted by Larry Weed, is distinguished from the more popularly known military band by the term "symphonic". The reason for this distinction is the predominance of reed and brass instruments in the symphonic band, which render it somewhat softer than the traditional marching brass band.

Intramural softball swept into its second week with the Old-Timers and Rowdies running their victory skeins to three games each. The Rowdies downed the Engineers, 10-7, while the Old-Timers dumped Gore Hall from the unbeaten ranks with a 9-1 win. In other action the Juniors won their first game of the season by halting a Naughty-Nine last inning effort to cop a 13-11 decision.

The Old-Timers scored in each of the first five innings to build up a big lead to ease into victory number three. "Guff" Pugh led the victors with three hits and was given strong support from Steve Petras, "Casey" Jacobs, Paul Deeks, and George Tensa as they each chipped in two hits. "Tosh" Karmilovich blasted a three-run homer in the fourth inning for the big single blow of the contest.

The Gore Hallmen were led by Dick Morgan and Len Basilio. Christopher Loesch was a ball of fire behind the plate for the dormies and was robbed of two base hits by Tom Pugh.

The Rowdie effort was led by Jungle Jim Brunza and Glenn Johnson. Rick Rees ended his famine at the plate by collecting his first hit in ninety-three times at bat. For the Engineers the big noise was Howie Herring who collected two hits.

Savitz Addresses CCUN; DeHope Outlines Plans

"We have to know what is going on in the world and what our country is doing, because it is the intelligent opinion of the public that determines our foreign policy."

So stated Attorney Joseph J. Savitz, in a speech given to the Collegiate Council for the United Nations at its recent membership day meeting.

Attorney Savitz is president of the local American Association for the United Nations, which is the parent group of the campus organization. He is also a member of the college board of trustees. The Collegiate Council has nearly doubled its present membership with this active membership drive.

President-elect Gary DeHope also outlined future plans for the campus group. He explained that the CCUN was one of over 300 such organizations designed to support the United Nations.

Attorney Savitz announced the fact that United States participation in the United Nations costs less than 67 cents a year per person. He continued by saying that it was much better and much cheaper to spend this money for peace, rather than for war.

"We must realize that we are a community involved in world affairs, we must be well read, well informed, and we must take part in discussions and lectures. The AAUN and the CCUN were created to accomplish these objectives by informing the public and promoting the United Nations."
