To the Class of 2010:

Congratulations to you!

The world awaits your talent and ambition. You'll experience a much "flatter" world than your parents encountered as they reached adulthood. Societies and economies intertwine like never before in our history.

You have demonstrated the intellect and tenacity to earn you degree. We're proud of you and your accomplishments. We hope you employ the knowledge and experiences you've gained at Wilkes to make this world a better place, whether in big ways or small ways.

I hope as you prepare to move on, you'll take some time to reflect on and thank those who have contributed to your college experience: the faculty-mentors and staff who've steered you through Wilkes; parents, scholarship donors an others who may have helped financially; and the friends and family who offered guidance and support.

Remember that through your baccalaureate studies at Wilkes come to a close, the need for learning has not. You'll encounter new people, new technology and new challenges throughout life. Whether formal or not, the need for education never ends.

I urge you to stay connected with Wilkes, wherever life takes you. The Alumni Association is here for you, working to keep you in touch with friends and faculty, and looks forward to welcome you. And as you attain levels of success, we hope you'll remember your university and seeks ways to give future generations the same access to an outstanding education as you've enjoyed.

My wife, Patty, and I join in wishing you well as you venture into life. Savor the journey!

Sincerely,

Tim Gilmour President

Editors Note:

As editor-in-chief of the 2009-2010 Amnicola Yearbook, I would like to extend my thanks to the following members of the faculy staff and student body that helped make this years book a sucess:

To Jamie Miller, in your first year taking over for Margie, I would say you learned a lot, kept the coffee away from Guba and myself, took care of the numbers, and helped us be us. Of course blaming Jesse when anything goes wrong may have been the best advice I could have taught you. All that being said, the yearbook would not of been the same with out you. You got us anything we needed including a few free lunches when we needed them the most. Thanks for trusting us with the keys to the $30,000 yearbook this past year so much that you are letting us come back and do it again.

To my assiant editors: Michael Guba, and Nora Skochinsky. Guba as you know we have officially seen it all, from the moments when all is well, to the moments when we go, "what happened to the football photos." As with the 3 yearbooks prior to this it is an honor to call you my right hand man and, with the exception of the white spaces in the middle, all the work you have done for this book can not be described in words. Nora, without you, Guba and I would not have been able to keep from yelling at each other and the situations at hand. You truly are the volume meter that keeps two high strung personalities in tone. Thanks so much for picking up the slack when Guba and I needed you to do it the most.

To the rest of my staff that locked themselves in the office to finish the book before finals, and with only meals and wiffle ball breaks to keep you cool. James, Jesse, and Jason, It was a pleasure to work along side of you guys and I am looking forward to working with you next year. To the only senior member on staff, Amanda Siarkievicz, thank you for contributing to making your yearbook a great one.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Wilkes University men's and women's Cross Country team, led by head coach Nick Wadas, and assistant coach Ken Staub, had a very successful season. Both the men's and women's teams were named to the All-Academic Team this season. Not only have they proved themselves academically, both the teams hosted the 2nd Colonels Run for Kids in Kirby Park and donated some of the proceeds to Valley Santa, which is an organization that provides gifts to children during the holidays, where the teams have also volunteered. The men's team came in second in the Dual versus Misericordia, fourth in the King's College NEPA Classic, fifth in the Lebanon Valley Invitational, fifth in the Belmont Classic, sixth in the East Stroudsburg Invite and ninth in the MAC Championships. The women's team came in second in the Dual versus Misericordia, sixth in the King's College NEPA Classic, fifth in the Lebanon Valley Invitational, sixth in the Belmont Classic, seventh in the East Stroudsburg Invite and tenth in the MAC Championships.

Wilkes University's Men's Baseball team hada successful season, with an overall record of 14-19 and a conference record of 6-15. The team was led by head coach Joe Folek, graduate assistant Chris Mayerski and assistant coaches Jerry Bavitz, Bob Klinetob and Jim Rhinehammer. The team split wins with cross-town rivals King's this season, and ended the season with two wins against Delaware Valley, ending a very good season. The team did not appear in the playoffs this year, despite having some very impressive performances. The team is losing seniors Trevin Jaggars, Jeremy Watson, Mike McAndrew and Randy Dengler to graduation this year. The team is young, with plenty of time to develop into a real powerhouse in the Freedom Conference.

Men's Basketball

Wilkes Men's Basketball, in 2009, had a winning record of 13 wins and 12 losses. With wins against Manhattanville, FDU-Florham, Lebanon Valley, Delaware Valley, Baptist Bible, Marywood University, John Jay Bloodhounds, Carthage, Lycoming College, FDU-Florham, Penn College of Technology and PSU-Hazleton. The honor roll includes students who are sophomore standing or higher and have a cumulative average of 3.2 or higher and are also on varsity level. Six members of the men's basketball team were recognized: Greg Colucci, Mike Donatoni, Anthony Gabriel, Chris Gulla, Kendall Hinze and Paul Huch.

Just after he received first team All-Freedom Conference selection, senior forward Tom Kresge received two other regional honors by both the ECAC and d3hoops.com. For his efforts, he was named to the ECAC Division III South Men's Basketball third team, as well as the d3hoops.com Middle Atlantic regional third team. The senior averaged 17.6 points and 8.8 rebounds per contest for the Colonels this past season, leading the team in both categories. He helped lead the team to 13 wins this year.

The Wilkes Women Basketball Team finished the season at 3-22. The women's basketball ball team was led by freshman Megan Kazmerski, whose 287 points led the way for the Wilkes Lady Colonels. Down in the paint, the Lady Colonels were lead by sophomore Lindsey Gosse, whose 45 blocks and 171 rebounds go along with her 9.9 points per game average. The Lady Colonels Lyndsay Ellis led them in team assists with 52, followed closely by Amanda Pawlowski who had 47. As a team, the Lady Colonels had a field goal percentage of 34.5%, and were lead by Megan Kazmerski, Lindsey Gosse, and Brittany Ely. Lyndsey Ellis lead the Lady Colonels in 3-pt scoring shooting sinking 18-58 shoots for 31 % and freshman Megan Kazmerski shot 85 threes in route to a 28.2 percentage. The Lady Colonels do not have one graduating player on this year's roster, and are looking forward to getting things started off right next season.

Women's Field Mockey

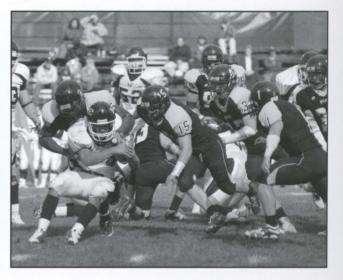

The Wilkes University Field Hockey team had a very impressive season this year, going 15-4 overall, 6-1 in the conference and made an appearance in the ECAC Championship for the second time in two seasons, losing to Hartwick in the first round. They were led by head coach, Sara Myers, assistant coach Lunda Comiskey and graduate assistant Kaitlyn Martin. There were two stand-out freshman players this year, sisters Jenna and Cassie DiSabatino, who combined for 23 goals and 24 assists all season. The sisters were named to the Division III All-Rookie Team, and Jenna DiSabatino was named the 2009 ECAC Division III Mid-Atlantic Rookie of the Year. There were 4 players that received All-Freedom Conference first team: senior Amanda Tilley, sophomore Lindsey Davenport, freshman Jenna DiSabatino and freshman Cassie DiSabatino. Senior captain Brittany Sines was also named to the All-Freedom Conference second team. Senior Amanda Tilley was a large contributor on a defense that allowed only 31 goals all season, and still scored six goals from the backfield.

All around, it has been an exciting season for the Wilkes University football team. Outside of placing second in the ECAC Division III South Atlantic Championship, having a season record of 6-6, scoring twenty-seven touchdowns overall and having more than three thousand total fans in attendance for the season; the football team has seen several of their members receive quite prestigious invitations this year. Firstly, three players, Corey Gilroy, Sean Madden, and Gennaro Zangardi received invitations to EAST PREPS Pro Football Combine. The EAST PREPS Pro Football Combine is an invitational event from which only the best college football players from each NCAA athletic division receive an invitation. Also, junior defensive back Kevin Gerhart was the first Wilkes University football player in two years to be named to the ECAC Division III Southeast All-Star Team. All, around the Wilkes University Colonels football team saw an amazing season.

Men's Golf

The Wilkes University Golf team, led by head coach Guy Rothery and assistant coach Mike Hirthler, had a successful season. They came in third in a tri-match in Scranton against FDU-Fordham and the University of Scranton, and came in third. In another tri-match against Misericordia and DeSales, they came in third with junior Brian Williams coming in third overall, shooting a 78. Sophomore Noah Svoboda had an exciting moment this season when he hit a hole-in-one at the Susquehanna Spring Invitational, where Wilkes placed ninth. In a tri-meet against Misericordia and King's College, Wilkes came in second, with junior Mike Turano finishing in second place overall, shooting a 78. At the Freedom Conference Championships, in the first round, Wilkes came in third, and senior Sean Madden shot a 78, tying for seventh place overall. The team ended up in fourth place in the Freedom Conference Championships. The team had some fresh new talent, with the addition of freshmen Brian Bedwick, Patrick Goodwin, Jesse Logsden, Darren Mensch, and Mark Wallis. The team will be graduating seniors Corey Gilroy, Sean Madden, and Jeff Simpson.

Wilkes University's Women's Lacrosse team played their hearts out this season, finishing with a 3-12 record overall, with a 1-11 record in the conference. They were led by head coach Kammie Towey and graduate assistant Ann Wisloski. Though the season may not have gone the way the team wanted it to, this season was full of trials and tribulations that the team overcame together. By pulling together, they beat cross-town rivals, King's College in their last game of the season. Sophomore goalkeeper Cassie Cronin set a school record in this game for the most saves recorded in a game with 25. This unstoppable goalie helped the team to victory against the Monarchs. This season was full of close games that couldn't result in a win for the team, but this team is very young with two seniors, Erica Sundberg and Amanda Tilley graduating this year, leaving big voids to fill.

The Wilkes Men's soccer team had an 8-10-1 record, beating DeSales University, Delaware Valley College, Eastern, FDU Florham, SUSMS, Baptist Bible, Gwynedd-Mercy, and Marywood. They had a total of 21 points scored this season and they had a tie against King's with a score of 1-1. Wilkes University's Troy Gibson was named to the All-Freedom Conference first team. while midfielder Sean Vona and defender Arthur Jankowski were named to second team voted in by coaches across the league. Six Wilkes University men's soccer players were recently named Honorable Mention through the National Soccer Coaches Association of America having at least a 3.30 cumulative grade point average throughout their career, excellent performances on and off the field, starting more than 50 percent of all games and were a significant contributor to the team. For Wilkes, seniors Keith Gardiner, Troy Gibson, Arthur Jankowski, Sean Vona and Greg Miller along with junior Tom Joyce were selected.

The Wilkes University women's soccer team had a season record of 7-9-3. Three Lady Colonels were selected to the All-Freedom Conference team in the 2009 season. Sophomores Katie Fissel and Lyndsey Ellis were selected to the first team, while senior forward Julissa Reed was selected for the second team. This summer, the team will be traveling to Brazil. Coach John Sumoski wants to give the current players the opportunity to see a different culture, play some soccer, and do some community service. "I had the opportunity to go to England when I was in high school and the memories of that trip stayed with me. I want the players in this program to have the opportunity to experience that," stated Sumoski. This will not be the first trip for Coach Sumoski and the team. In 2005, the team visited Belgium, Holland and Germany.

Women's Softball

The Wilkes University Women's Softball team had a good season, ending with a record of 12-22 overall, and a record of 5-9 in the conference. The team was led by head coach Frank Matthews, assistant coaches Tom Dunsmuir and Phil Stortz. With many scheduled doubleheaders this season, the team's efforts were strong and tough. With dynamite pitching from junior Lindsey Behrenhausen and senior Maureen Pelot, the team won its doubleheader against King's convincingly, with no hits by the Monarchs in either game. Gina Stefanelli led the team in batting this year. Though the season ended with two losses, the team is very young with a lot of time to develop. The team is losing seniors Maureen Pelot, Alyssa Ciesla and Gina Stefanelli to graduation this year.

The Wilkes University Colonels men's tennis team, led by head coach Christopher Leicht and assistant coach Bobby Cozzillio had an outstanding season this year with many highlights, not the least of which was a X-X overall record. Some other main accomplishments of the men's tennis season were their streak of nine straight wins to open the season, X shutout victories one of which was over their rival King's College, a X-X record in the Freedom Conference, and earning the number one seed in the Freedom Conference championships. These accomplishments are especially impressive considering the fact that five of this season's players are freshmen this year and new to the team. Also, because they will not be losing and players to graduation this year, the outlook for next year's team looks to be as bright as the success of this year's team.

Women's Tennis

The Wilkes University Colonels women's tennis team led by head coach Christopher Liecht and assistant coaches Bobby Cozzillio, Alison McDonald, and Kristin Wilt had a phenomenal season. The Lady Colonels had several significant achievements on the tennis court this year beginning with a 13-4 overall record. The other highlights of the women's tennis season were a seven match winning streak, seven shutout victories, one of which was over their rival the King's College Monarchs, a 6-0 record in the Freedom Conference, and holding a 7-0 undefeated record on their home courts. These accomplishments are an especially impressive task considering the fact that four of the team's nine players are freshman this year. Also, the Lady Colonels will be losing only one tennis player, Xiaoqiao Zhang, to graduation this year. Xiaoqiao has had an impressive collegiate tennis career filled with several accomplishments, one being named three time first team all-conference including Player of the Year her freshman season. Xiaoqiao's shoes will be difficult to fill for the women's tennis team. Overall, this has been a very important season for the Wilkes University Colonels women's tennis team.

Men's Wrestling

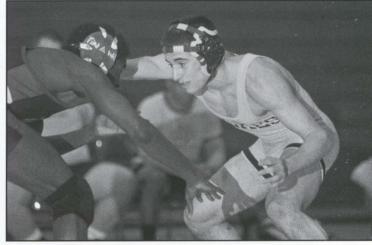

The men's wrestling team had a good year with a winning record of 22 wins and 6 losses. They started their season with a win over Hunter, with a score of 33-3. Then after winning the King's tournament with 195 points, they kept their streak rolling by betting NYU, Scranton, and Centenary. Then, with a loss against Cortland State of 9-21, they got there streak back by beating 4 opponents with a big tournament win at the Messiah-Petrofes Invitational with 146 points. With 2 losses against Ithaca and one against Kutztown, they still came back by winning against The College of New Jersey.

Wilkes placed 2nd at Metros with Seniors Frank Heffernan and Zach Pizarro each winning their respective weight classes, and at 149, Anthony Dattolo would eventually fall to Tye Boyer of Elizabethtown 4-2 in the final bout. In the heavyweight division, Andrew Feldman would eventually fall to Ed Broderick of TCNJ 7-5 in overtime. At 165, Ben Marich also picked up two pins and would eventually place third in his weight class. Freshman Scott Mantua would eventually fall to top-seeded and nationally-ranked Tyler Erdman of Elizabethtown. Ending a 2nd straight amazing year the senior of the year, Zack Pizarro, had a big win in the conference by placing first and taking 5th at the NCAA Championships at 197. Also going to NCAA was Frank Heffernan who placed 7th last year.

River Project

This year, the City of Wilkes-Barre completed their project of creating a park along the Susquehanna River. It includes many walkways, amphitheaters and beautiful bridgeways. This project has made the Susquehanna Riverbed a better place for the community to come and enjoy the gorgeous views of the river, the Market Street Bridge and our city..
