

Parents' Weekend Well Attended

Dr. Michelini Addresses Parents At Noon Lunch

Wilkes College President Francis J. Michelini officially welcomed almost 1,000 parents of commuter and resident students to the institution's campus on Saturday as the school conducted its 12th annual two-day Parents' Day.

The Wilkes president selected the noon luncheon on Saturday in the college gymnasium to deliver his Parents' Day message and used as his theme the worth of a college degree "not today or tomorrow but beyond that as the graduate moves through a lifetime of experiences."

Referring to the theme of his inauguration when he became the second president of Wilkes College four and a half years ago, Dr. Michelini told the group that he finds that theme — "Unity Amidst Diversity" — continues to linger as the most important part of his responsibilities in guiding the local college.

"In college as in life," he told them, "diversity should be looked upon as a constructive thing that can be transformed by men and women of understanding and foresight into something that will be productive. To treat diversity any other way is to invite failure."

Keeping his message brief, Dr. Michelini concluded with an acknowledgement that "most of you will want to be over there (Ralston Field) in time for the kickoff, so I will close by reminding the parents that we have not and never will lose sight of the fact that you have entrusted your sons and daughters to us. We will constantly strive to teach them the value of mutual respect and, above all, humility, so that no individual or group will feel a special privilege to dictate the norm for all others."

A post-game huddle was held on Saturday afternoon on the athletic field adjoining the football field and parents, students, alumni and members of the college family got together for an informal social.

The program closed on Sunday evening with a concert by Thomas Hrynkiw, Wilkes class of 1963, who has gained fame as an international pianist. The winner of the Geneva International Gold Competition Award, presented a performance described as "superb" in the Center for the Performing Arts.

SG Allots Money To Human Services For New Equipment

At the recent Student Government meeting, the Human Services Committee represented by Dave Davies and T. Grant Phillips, approached student government for $350 for various equipment. $208 of this sum is for two walkie-talkies. Phillips explained they were needed to improve first-aid service on campus. He stated in some cases it is only a matter of seconds between life and death.

The expenditure for the two units brought about a heated debate, one, about the quality of the equipment, two, the effectiveness of the equipment and three, the necessity of such a system.

After failing to resolve any of the questions, Student Government voted to give Human Services the $350 with the stipulation that they speak with Dr. Toole (chairman of the Engineering Department) about the quality of the units they intend to purchase and to discuss the possible alternatives.

Having done this, Human Services is free to spend the money on whatever unit they feel is best, even if Dr. Toole questions the quality of that unit.

Elections for the Freshmen representatives to Student Government and to fill the vacancy in the Sophomore Class created by the resignation of T. Grant Phillips, will be held on October 31, with the results being posted on November 1. The elections will be held under the direction of Circle K.

IDC EVENTS

The IDC allocation of $35 to replace the weights stolen from the weight room in Pickering Hall will be given to the Housing Office with the granting of $100 from the Athletic Department.

On Sunday, October 27, IDC will hold a costume party in the cafe. Everyone is urged to grab their best pitchfork or their speediest broom and attend this Halloween celebration.

The IDC concert and lecture series on October 24 will feature Mark Chamberlain, a recent graduate of Wilkes College and a member of the Luzerne County Home Rule Charter Study Commission, to speak about the charter. He will attempt to explain the major provisions of the charter and answer any questions.

All clubs have a mail box located in the bookstore. All mail received by the College of special interest to a particular club will be placed in their box. They are urged to check their box frequently.

Student Government plans to place several boxes around campus for the benefit of UNICEF. None of the local schools in the area collect for this organization and Student Government felt it would be a good idea for the student body to get involved.

A listing of all club and class officers will be compiled and distributed to the student body. This way if they have any questions about any organization they can consult this list to see who they can talk to.

CPA Sets 'Krishna Lila'

Combining East and West blends of music and dance will be the Divine Light Ensemble, which will perform its major production of "Krishna Lila" on Friday, October 25, at 8 p.m. at the Wilkes College Center for the Performing Arts.

The highly acclaimed international company will be presented by the Sordoni family in cooperation with Wilkes College.

This unique ensemble, whose home base is Philadelphia, is engaged in perfecting a new style in performing arts. This technique evolves through meditation from an internal, conscious connection with creativity. The company is comprised of 16 dancers, 12 musicians, a composer and choreographers.

"Krishna Lila," an ancient Hindu folk ballet, is a legend of Krishna, the focus of the Hindu religion, and the forest milkmaids. This forms the basis of unusual dance experience in which human love becomes divine love.

Wilkes Library Missing Books

The library has issued an appeal for the return of books taken from the loading dock of the library last week. It is believed that the books were taken by mistake by someone who confused the incoming mail with throwaway books.

Several cartons of mail were placed on the library's loading dock last Wednesday morning. The cartons contained new books destined for use in the library. The cartons were later found open on the dock and books were missing.

It is believed that someone confused the cartons of incoming books with the books which the library is throwing away. Throwaway books are placed in the area of the loading dock and students often go through the books, taking those of interest to them.

HSC Schedules Blood Donor Day

Wilkes College Human Services Committee (HSC) is sponsoring a Blood Donor Day on Tuesday, October 29, from 9:30 a.m.-4 p.m. in the Franklin Street gymnasium.

Grant Phillips and Joe Scoblick, directors of the event, noted that anyone wishing to donate blood should eat a small breakfast beforehand and refrain from taking medication, especially aspirin.

Awards will be presented by the HSC to the organizations, dormitories, or commuter groups, contributing the largest amount of blood.

The directors also stated that all blood types are needed to fill the Red Cross quota of 250 pints.

Members of the HSC Executive Council aiding in the project include: Dave Davies, Wilkes-Barre; Jan Cohen, Holmdel, N.J.; Gail MacIntyre, Broomall; and Andy Falkowski, Stanton, N.J.

The members of the Human Services Committee donate their time and effort twice a year sponsoring Blood Day in an effort to keep a plentiful supply of blood readily available for people in desperate need of blood.

Editorially Speaking

Vandalism

It has become quite obvious in the past few weeks that Wilkes College is not immune from the vandalism which is common on many other campuses across the nation.

The destruction of Homecoming displays, the removal and ripping of club posters, and the theft of articles make it painfully clear that the problem is one to be contended with.

It is a shame that this vandalism occurs at Wilkes. It is true, some of the damage is done by outsiders, but Wilkes students are also to blame.

Vandalism should not occur here and it is the duty of all Wilkes students to work against such actions. If you see someone doing something wrong, report it. It is your campus and if you won't take care of it no one else will.

Inflation

Inflation is perhaps the greatest problem in the United States today. It is something which is of primary concern to the college student as well.

The schools are forced to raise tuition because of the higher costs they must pay to run the colleges. This in turn puts more pressure on the student and his parents. They are the ones who must pay the bills and in the end they are bearing the brunt of inflation.

The student is not only faced with higher tuition. Inflation has caused prices to increase on many goods and services which the average student uses. Most students' incomes remain low despite the price hikes and the student is left in a bind.

Hopefully the government can come up with an effective program to stop inflation. Until then, some effort should be made to help students and those other sectors of society which are suffering the most because of inflation.

The Readers' Voice

Apology Urged For Ms. Seleski

To the Editor:

The "Voice of the Students" (alias the Beacon) has once again criticized without just cause. In last week's editorial entitled "Improper Planning" the staff of the Beacon saw fit to find fault with Ms. Seleski's planning of the Homecoming Weekend.

The article claimed that there weren't enough activities for the undergraduates. Let's take a look at exactly what was available to the students.

On Thursday night the traditional Bonfire, Friday night there was the highly successful Homecoming Dinner Dance as well as the Wilkes production of "Ghosts" at the C.P.A.

On Saturday there was the soccer match, football game, the card party held at the Commons (which was held as an alternate to the sock-hop, which didn't come off for good reasons) and another performance of "Ghosts."

Sunday there was the Ecumenical Service (attended by about 15 students and a total of 30 people) and the final showing of "Ghosts" at the C.P.A. The question now is: Just how many events constitutes enough? If the ones mentioned weren't, then I have no idea what would be.

Not only were these activities available to all students but there were also others. Denison Hall held a very successful and enjoyable dinner dance on Saturday night and numerous informal parties were held on campus over the weekend. Also, let us not forget, that the alumni events were also open to undergraduates.

With all this in mind, I believe that the Beacon and Student Government Representatives, who couldn't come up with an alternate to their concert which didn't come off, owe Ms. Seleski an apology. An apology meant not only for their unwarranted remarks in last week's paper but also for not coming forward before the weekend to offer their suggestions and help.

Perhaps the problem is that none of these "critics" had anything constructive to offer!

Club Disgusted Over Damage

To the Editor,

The Psychology Club members spent a great deal of time and effort in constructing a display for Homecoming. On Saturday morning, we were very upset to find our display ruined and our materials stolen.

It is not the intent of this letter to point a finger of blame at anyone. It is quite possible it was members of the community and not students of Wilkes who did the damage. Our display was promised to a parade in Plains Township but under the circumstances, it is difficult to meet their request.

We are disgusted that destruction like this occurred on campus to a display created out of spirit and fun. This will have bearing on a decision to participate in Homecoming activities in the future.

WOMEN'S CLUB

The East-West Women's Club is sponsoring a bake sale today in the Commons from 11 to 1. Brownies, cakes and cookies will be featured for a small price. The club is preparing to hold an auction for the college in the Spring. Proceeds from the auction will go to a Wilkes student scholarship fund.

SWIM PARTY

The senior swim party scheduled for this week has been postponed until the end of November because of the unavailability of the Wilkes-Barre Aquadome.

Eaton Clarifies Spanish Trip Misconceptions

To the Editor,

I would like to comment on the letter printed in the October 17 Beacon, hopefully to clear up a couple misconceptions.

The proposed program in Spain was not to have been a "hectic tour situation" but rather three weeks of residence in one Spanish city, during which time students would have lived with Spanish families who did not speak English.

There would have been four hours of class a day (20 hours a week). The usual course at Wilkes meets three hours a week. Thus the total number of class hours included in the proposed interim course (not including excursions and special lectures by Spanish artists and intellectuals) would have been greater than that of the Spanish 204 course to be offered next semester.

Spanish 204 is an introduction to Spanish history and culture. Don't you think that visiting gothic cathedrals and romanesque monasteries after having studied about them in class would give students a better idea of say, the medieval period, than just reading about them in Wilkes-Barre? Course requirements would not have been relaxed during the proposed interim course; they would have been intensified.

If students were interested in the same kind of total immersion course here at Wilkes, it could probably be done, although it would be impossible to duplicate the experience of living in a foreign language 24 hours a day. Students in such a course would probably be charged an additional fee to pay for excursions to New York museums and the Hispanic Society, possibly fees for outside lecturers, and rental fees for Spanish movies.

The handout you mention was not to "recruit" students, but to inform them of a new possibility. Students were not pressured to go. Nobody in the Foreign Language Department has any vested interest in this program. The reason for developing it was simply to offer an additional option, one we would like to offer on a regular basis in future years.

Your argument that because everyone can't go no one should go is specious, as you must realize. Everyone can't afford to go to Wilkes College, therefore no one should???? Come on!!! I'd enjoy talking to you in person if you would like to discuss any of these ideas further.

Graduates Urged To Check Attitude And Appearance

To the Editor,

I am writing to express my feelings concerning a letter in last week's Beacon in which a young man takes the Wilkes Placement Office to task. It seems that he is upset about a check list distributed at a recent job seminar.

I have been visiting college placement offices for fourteen years as a recruiter of teachers. Many I have visited but one time and one time only. I didn't bother returning to many for a second time as I was not at all impressed with the appearance and attitude of candidates presented me for interviewing. However, I did and have

Sullivan Girls Visit Veterans Hospital

The students of Wilkes College have a long record of service to the community around them. Wilkes students are usually among the first to volunteer their services to a worthwhile service project of benefit to the area. The women of Sullivan Hall are no exception.

The women residents of Sullivan Hall get together once a month with female employees of the Bell Telephone Company and visit the Veteran's Administration Hospital. There they entertain the psychiatric patients of the hospital.

The women talk with the patients, dance with them, and offer them their time and friendship. In this way, the patients get a chance to socialize with individuals who are not connected with the hospital. The patients often have very little contact with non-hospital personnel and the visits of the women is looked forward to by many of the patients. Anyone interested in giving some time and friendship to the patients is invited to go along. Those interested should contact Rosemary McGuire at the Red Cross Building or Patti Fichtner in Sullivan Hall.

Mark Chamberlain To Speak To IDC

Members of the Wilkes College Inter-Dormitory Council will get a first-hand report on the meaning of the proposed Luzerne County Home Rule Charter which voters will be asked to approve in November.

Mark Chamberlain, a Wilkes graduate and a member of the Charter Study Commission, will interpret the proposal for the IDC on Tuesday, October 29, at 8 p.m. in the Wilkes College cafeteria. The affair will be open to all members of the Wilkes faculty, administration and student body.

Following the talk by Chamberlain, there will be a question and answer session. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Seniors Sponsor Ski Trip

The Senior Class of Wilkes College is sponsoring a ski trip over the semester break. A special meeting is being held today at 12 in the CPA lounge for interested students. The trip will take students to Killington, Vermont, which is considered to be one of the best skiing areas on the East coast.

The skiing area at Killington consists of four large mountains with twenty separate slopes. The slopes range in difficulty from the very easy for beginners to the very hard for experienced skiers.

The trip will last from January 12 to January 18 and will cost approximately $130. The price includes round trip transportation, five nights at the Killington Village Condominiums, and a five day lift ticket which entitles the bearer to the use of all slopes.

Special group rates will also be available for meals, rental of equipment and for beginner ski lessons.

The trip is not restricted to experienced skiers, but is open to all Wilkes College students. For further information, students are urged to attend the meeting today at the CPA. Interested students can also obtain more information by calling Dave at 675-1306; Jack at 825-2545; or Kerry at 822-7480.

European Trip Held Over Easter Break

A trip to Germany, Austria, Italy and Switzerland is being offered to Wilkes College students. The trip, under the direction of Mrs. Inger Miller, will take the students to Europe over the Easter break. The trip will last from March 27 to April 8.

The students will depart from New York on March 27 and will fly to Luxembourg on Icelandic Airlines. They will arrive in Luxembourg on March 28 and will travel to Munich by train the same day.

While in Munich the group will make excursions to Garmisch and the Kockelsee and will visit some of the castles of Ludwig II of Bavaria. They will also tour the city and will have a chance to attend Easter Mass at the Frauenkirche if they so desire.

On Sunday, March 30 the group will depart for Salzburg, Austria. The group will visit Chiemsee along the way for a visit to the palace of Herrenchiemsee. While in Salzburg, the group will also visit Hitler's underground city at Berchtesgaden and the Konigsee.

The next stop on the tour is Innsbruck on April 1. The group will leave Innsbruck on April 2 and will travel over the Brenner Pass to Italy. The group will visit Bozen and Verona and will spend the night in Milan.

The group's next stop is St. Moritz in Switzerland. The group will travel through the famous ski areas of Switzerland and then visit Luzerne.

In Luzerne the group will visit the medieval wine cellars and will take the cable car to the top of Mt. Pilatus.

The tour will also take the students to the postage stamp nation of Liechtenstein. The group will also visit Oberammergau, famous for its passion play, and Lindau.

The twelfth day of the tour finds the students in Munich once more. They will have a chance to visit the Olympic Village, Nymphenburg palace, the Haus der Kunst, and other noted sights. The group will leave that night by train for Luxembourg and will return to the United States the next day.

The price for the tour is $515. This price includes transportation from Wilkes-Barre to JFK and return: airfare, hotels, breakfast and dinner daily, ground transportation, sightseeing, entrance fees and tips. Anyone interested in the tour should contact Mrs. Miller in Kirby Hall 309. She can also be reached at her home by dialing 472-3438.

Jazz-Rock Concert Set

A jazz-rock concert termed "the musical event of the year in Wilkes-Barre" will be held in the Wilkes College gymnasium on Sunday, November 3. The Eleventh House and the Chuck Mangione Quartet have been engaged for the concert.

The Eleventh House concerts have been rocking the best clubs and theaters in the country. Larry Coryell, one of the world's master guitarists, heads the group.

Mike Mandel, a long-time colleague of Coryell, takes care of the keyboards and synthesizer. Alphonse Houzon will be on drums and percussion, Danny Trifan on bass and Mike Leonard on trumpet.

The second bill act, the Chuck Mangione Quartet, was nominated for the "Best Jazz Performances by a group" in the 15th annual Grammy Awards. They have also occupied five places in "Playboy's" Jazz and Pop poll.

Chuck Mangione is featured on the Fleugal Horn, Gary Neiwood on the electric piano, Al Johnson on soprano and tenor saxaphones and alto flute, and Joe La Barbera on the electric bass.

Tickets went on sale Monday in the SUB from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Cost for students is $1 and all others $4.

returned to the Wilkes College campus at least twice a year for the last several years, chiefly, because I was impressed with the candidates that had scheduled interviews with the Placement Office. I might add that over the years I was so impressed that I hired approximately 125 of them for our System; 50 of whom are still employed in various capacities, ranging from Supervising Principal to Department Director to classroom teacher.

I am not making the claim that all this is a result of the check list but I would suggest that the concerned student check with those several thousand successful alumni mentioned in the Editorial on page three and see if the check list is offensive to them. I would also recommend that he think about the reference in the same Editorial to the present job market and perhaps urge graduates to take an inventory of their appearance and attitude. I am sure that they will measure up very well.

Further, I would;

1. Suggest that perhaps the young writer might better vent his spleen on Madison Avenue as they, too, seem to be quite concerned about personal hygiene and hosiery as evidenced by the commercials we are bombarded with and;

2. Take some time to visit the Wilkes Placement Office to see how the candidates deport themselves.

Volunteers Essential For Successful Charter

Sister Marie Turnbach, the executive director of the Committee for the Charter, says college student volunteers are absolutely essential if the campaign to adopt the proposed Luzerne County home rule charter is to succeed on November 5.

"The sad part of the campaign is the way the opposition is distorting the facts and deliberately misleading the public on the issue," Sister Marie stated. "Because of this, we have to work extra hard in getting the facts to the voters."

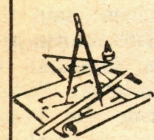

Sister Marie said that students are needed to distribute literature at the Wyoming Valley Mall and the Laurel Mall each Saturday before the election and to go door-to-door with pamphlets in their neighborhoods. Also, volunteers must be stationed at each of the county's polling places on election day to watch for voting fraud and to hand literature to voters as they enter the polling building.

Mark Chamberlain, vice chairman of the Government Study Commission which wrote the charter and a 1974 graduate of Wilkes, also stressed the need for student involvement. "If the college students don't care enough to help get this charter passed, this area will continue to stagnate. The charter can mean a more favorable climate to attract business and good-paying jobs to the county, as well as make county government more economical, effective, and accountable."

Chamberlain said, "It is unfortunate that the opposition is resorting to scare tactics to defeat the charter. We are trying to debate the charter on its merits, but the misinformation being circulated is making our job very difficult."

Sister Marie invites those interested in working in the campaign to contact the Committee for the Charter at the Wyoming Valley Mall (next to the outside entrance to Pomeroy's Restaurant) or phone 825-6471.

SUB Is Serving As Social Outlet

Purpose Of New Building Revealed By Bill Horan

One of the recent additions to the Wilkes College campus is the Student Union Building (SUB).

For many, however, the building remains a mystery as to its purpose, facilities available, allocation of funds, and its organization.

In an exclusive interview with Bill Horan, Director of the SUB, and Tom Marcy, Treasurer, information about the SUB was obtained.

The SUB was chartered by Student Government, last January, on a one year trial basis as a social service outlet for the campus.

The Student Union Board members are representatives from I.D.C., Commuter Council, and Student Government, appointed on a volunteer basis, Arthur Hoover, Advisor, the Dean's Council, three Assistant Directors, and a Director and Treasurer, who are appointed by the previous Director and Treasurer with consent from the Board.

The SUB is for the benefit of all the students and any campus organization who would like the use of the facilities.

To reserve the Building, a contract must be signed preferably a week in advance with the approval of Bill Horan. His office hours are Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 11 to noon, and Tuesday and Thursday from 10 to 11 a.m. and again from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Jackie Pickering, assistant to Horan, can tentatively reserve the date but the final approval comes from the director.

Certain policies of the SUB are no rowdiness, it is a place for students to go to study, converse, and relax. It is not a garbage dump for cigarette butts on the floor as the management stressed.

Hours for the SUB are:
Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m.-11 p.m.
Friday 9 a.m.-8 p.m.
Saturday noon-8 p.m.
Sunday 1-11 p.m.

If something is scheduled, however, the building stays open longer.

Finances for the SUB are received from the Pinball machines. Dave Trethaway is assistant director of the Commons game room and John Zimmerman is assistant director of Pickering Hall's game room.

Other sources of revenue for the SUB are from the magazine stand, assistant director is Tom Marcy, candy and tobacco sales.

The SUB has a paid staff who work anywhere from eight to ten hours a week. If there is a party, a staff member is also present to see that things run smoothly.

As far as future plans go, an extension of the stereo system to the basement is high on the list. Also a modified form of stage lighting to enhance coffee houses, guest appearances of entertainers passing through, and the jazz band was discussed.

This, however, can only be done by the support of the students to the various fund raising endeavors.

"We would like an influx of ideas from the students on how we can improve the SUB for the students' benefit," said Marcy.

"We would also be appreciative of suggestions on how to raise money for the improvements that could be made," noted Horan, "it seems everyone only knows how to spend the money."

The building is for the benefit of all and is encouraged to be used.

The charter, if not renewed, goes back to Student Government including it as another political part of the campus.

By the students' support, the building will remain a Student building run by the students for their specific uses.

SUB—The Student Union Building was chartered by Student Government, under Pete Jadelis, as a social service outlet for the benefit of the student body.

It takes a lot of hard work and long hours for those who are placed in charge of the building and the various places of financial endeavors, such as the game room in the commons and Pickering Hall.

Standing: Arthur J. Hoover, advisor; Bill Horan, Plains; Dave Trethaway, Wilkes-Barre; and Tom Marcy, Wilkes-Barre.

Environment Club

The Committee for a Clean Environment will present a slide show and discussion on the environmental impact of throw-away beverage containers and the regulation of their use. The meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 in Room 376, Wilkes College Stark Learning Center.

Special guest speaker will be Richard Wells of the Pennsylvania Alliance for Returnables. The Alliance, a coalition of citizens and environmental groups, is working for the passage of a "bottle bill" in Pennsylvania.

The bill would ban the sale of disposable beverage containers and set a minimum deposit per container. A similar bill was already passed in Oregon.

Refreshments will be served during a mid-meeting break.

Car Wash, Toy Campaign Scheduled By Vets' Club

The Wilkes College Vet's Club is sponsoring a car wash on Saturday, October 26, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The car wash will be held at the Arco service station, corner of Kidder Street and Route 309.

Proceeds from the car wash will be used to help fund a trip to the Penn State Invitational Softball Tournament in May.

The Vet's Club is also sponsoring a Toys for Tots campaign in conjunction with the Marine Corps Reserve. A barrel will be placed in the Commons shortly and all unwanted toys will be accepted. Donations of new toys are also welcomed by the club.

The club will also place Toys for Tots collection cans near campus cash registers for monetary donations.

The Toys for Tots campaign is an annual event sponsored by the Marine Corps Reserve. They collect old toys and restore them for distribution to needy children.

AT DEDICATION CEREMONY—In a special dedication ceremony held during the week, the late Dr. Samuel A. Rosenberg, founder of the Commerce and Finance Department of Wilkes College, was honored when a plaque was placed in a room of Parrish Hall that houses the collection of books that he left to the school for use by present and future students of the department.

Dr. Rosenberg came to Wilkes College in the early 1950's and built the department to its present status of recognized excellence in the undergraduate and graduate levels. He retired as department chairman in 1972, but remained on the faculty and continued his varied outside responsibilities as one of the acknowledged experts in the field of labor management in the northeastern part of the country.

Members of the Rosenberg family, as well as many friends and former colleagues in the department, attended the ceremony.

Rams And Roosevelt Clash Today

Ralston Field will be the site this afternoon at 4, for the battle of the unbeaten in the Eastern Division of the Intramural Football League, as the Rams (3-0-0) take on the Roosevelt Roughriders (3-0-0). The winner will undoubtedly take home the division title, while the loser will be forced to win its final regular season contest to make the post-season playoffs.

The Rams are led by the passing of quarterback Rich Cronauer, who has thrown for four scores in his team's initial three ball games, and has run for two others.

Cronauer has two very capable receivers in split end Bill Kalish and halfback Mike Ellis, who each have three touchdowns to their credit. Ellis has also been sterling on the ground, and had his best game of the season a week ago, against the Purple Gang, when he ran for more than 80 yards in only six attempts.

The offensive line has given Cronauer more than enough protection thus far, and has opened gaping holes for the running corps. Spearheading the forward wall is center Bob Montgomery, and guards Jack Keller, Larry Gurnari, and Jay Thomas. Jim Calkins, the 6'1, 210-pound Ram fullback has not run with the ball much, but his blocking has been the key to some big gains.

While the offense has been scoring at will, the defense has created a stir also. In three games already, Ram opponents have managed fewer than 10 first downs between them. Defensive end Fred Klein has gotten to the quarterback on numerous occasions and has contained the sweep consistently.

Linebacker Woody Haydt has been spectacular against the run and pass, and could be the key to victory this afternoon. The defensive secondary has performed flawlessly, with Bill Kalish, Joe Chmiola, and Mike Ellis all experienced performers.

Roosevelt is led by an awesome running attack, which has rolled over opponent after opponent. Rowe's Boats gave them some trouble in the second game of the season, but the Roughriders displayed their true form against the Dennison Howlers last week, popping them 27-0.

Bob Balfour quarterbacks the Roosevelt offense, with Zeke

Zaborney, and either Bob Armstrong or Brian Haekler accompanying him in the backfield. Big blow to the Roosevelt Roughrider running attack was the loss of Vernon Zellner, who is concentrating on wrestling now. Vernon broke loose on a 90 yard run against Dennison.

Making the Roosevelt sweep so successful has been the play of linemen Tom Lubas, Don Nash, Jim Yosh and Jim Garner.

The Roosevelt defense has been as awesome as the Rams. Lubas, Armstrong and Nash make up the line, and have been getting to the opposition's signal caller time and time again. Linebackers Skip Murray and Rick Molash are both very quick and blitz well.

Probable starting lineups for the Rams and Roosevelt: Rams: offense-Bob Montgomery (C), Jay Thomas (G), Larry Gurnari (G), Jack Keller (T), Bill Kalish (SE), Charlie Calkins (TE), Rich Cronauer (QB), Jim Calkins (FB), Mike Ellis (HB). Defense-Fred Klein (DE), Bob Klish (DE), Paul Domowitch (DT), Jack Keller (DT), Rich Cronauer (LB), Woody Haydt (LB), Bill Kalish (CB), Joe Chmiola (CB), and Mike Ellis (S).

Roosevelt: offense-Tom Lubas (C), Don Nash (G), Jim Yosh (G), Jim Garner (T), Bob Partyka (WR), Mike Luberto (WR), Bob Balfour (QB), Zeke Zaborney (HB), Bob Armstrong or Brian Haekler (HB). Defense-Don Nash (DE), Tom Lubas (MG), Bob Armstrong (DE), Bruce Douglas or Steve Libby (LB), Rick Molash (LB), Skip Murray (LB), Kevin McCall (CB), John Sloane (CB), and Paul Olivers (S).

The BEACON sports department regrets the lack of information on the other teams in the league, but league officials have been slow in getting us the results. Yesterday, Butler and Webster II vied for what could be the title in the Western Division, and we will have complete results on that contest, along with the Roosevelt-Ram game next week.

Sports Chatter

By Paul Domowitch

The play of the Wilkes gridders last weekend reminded us of a quote, which appeared in "Sports Illustrated" magazine last week. The article, written by Larry Keith, dealt with Alfred University and gave an inside look at small college football. The few words that made the greatest impression on us were spoken by Alfred coach Alex Yunevich, who said of his squad: "We never lose. Finish second maybe, but we never lose."

The Colonels did not lose last weekend either. They played their hearts out against powerful Ithaca College, and finished in second by ten points. No one can be considered a loser, when they give 100 per cent effort, and that's exactly what coach Rollie Schmidt's boys did.

For one half of a ball game, their offense, under the brilliant guidance and play-calling ability of Greg Snyder, and their defense completely devastated the Blue Bombers and took a 14-7 lead into the locker room. The Bobby McBride field house was chaotic during intermission. Every player, from co-captains Terry Blaum and Billy Horan down to the little-used reserves were in ecstasy, and were not hiding what they felt. They were ready to go out in that second half and play some more inspired football.

But Ithaca . . . powerful Ithaca did what they had to do in that final 30 minutes and pulled it out 24-14.

Rollie Schmidt was disappointed over the loss. Who wouldn't be. They had one of the best grid teams in the East on the ropes, and couldn't put them away. But with that disappointment went justified pride. No one gave his boys any kind of a chance against the New Yorkers, and yet they came ever so close to upsetting them. Rollie, like ourselves realized the Colonels came of age in that game, and even though they are still a year away from national recognition, this year's squad is going to win itself a Middle Atlantic Conference title, if nothing else. They have found a bonified leader in Greg Snyder, and the defense, which was supposedly a weak spot, has played super football.

A perfect example of the confidence that showed itself out on the Ralston gridiron on Saturday was the play of safety Dave Trethaway. With time ticking away in the first half, Dave picked off an enemy aerial and took it down the sidelines. With only twenty seconds remaining, the obvious move by Dave would have been to run it out of bounds at the twenty and save the precious seconds that remained. But Jake felt he could take it in, and turned upfield getting all the way to the four before being nailed. That's what ability and coming of age can do to a ball club.

Snyder's two touchdown passes were two of the best calls we've seen a quarterback make in a long time. The first was a 24-yard scoring pass to Billy Horan, in which Greg rolled right giving the indication of a run, and then throwing against the grain to a wide open Horan. The second was even more brilliant. Using a full house backfield, Snyder tried unsuccessfully twice on dive plays up the middle. Then with the same offensive formation, he had fullback John Baron fake into the line, and then spring right, where Snyder hit him right in the hands for a score. Great execution!

This superb, mature football unit will travel to Selinsgrove, Pa. this Saturday, to take on Susquehanna University, and we've got a feeling, the Colonels won't be finishing second any more in 1974.

Tough Task For The Booters: Beating 20th-Ranked Madison

"You just can't contain Stellios two games in a row." That was the observation made by a Colonel fan last weekend, as the Wilkes soccer team broke a two-game losing skein, with a 3-1 shellacking of Wagner College, at the loser's field.

Stellios Patsiokas, who could very well be the greatest offensive player in Colonel soccer history, notched his seventh and eighth goals of the season against the Seahawks. Last year, on his way to becoming an all-MAC selection, Patsiokas hit the nets for 19 tallies.

The final goal in the big win for coach Tom Rokita's team was collected by co-captain George Bene Hoane. Assists were by Patsiokas, Pete Papodopoulos, and Steve Sergi.

The play of junior Papodopoulos has been a pleasant surprise for coach Rokita thus far, with Pete coming off the bench in the third game of the '74 season and jumping into a starting role as a replacement for John Chakmakas. Pete has filled in like a veteran, and is improving with every outing.

The Colonels will have all they can handle this Saturday in New Jersey, when they take on Madison FDU, which is ranked 20th nationally in small-college soccer. Despite the outcome, coach Rokita is hoping the experience against a squad of Madison's calibre will help the Blue and Gold in the long run. The Colonels face MAC foes Susquehanna and Elizabethtown in their final two '74 games, and victories over both teams would give Wilkes an unexpected Middle Atlantic Conference sectional crown.

The odds defy it, but the Colonels have been known to go against the odds, and with a few breaks anything can happen . . . anything.

Wilkes Harriers Climax Busy Week Tomorrow With Meet At E-town

The Wilkes College cross country team prepped for their busiest week in history with a 27-28 exhibition win over Luzerne County Community College on Friday.

Following a ten-day break in varsity competition the harriers of coach George Pawlush met Baptist Bible and Susquehanna on Tuesday at Ralston Field and then traveled to Scranton yesterday for a five-way meet with Wagner, Upsala, Scranton and Albright.

Tomorrow the Blue and Gold will finish the week with a trip to Elizabethtown where they will encounter E-town and Messiah.

The Colonel runners did a yeoman job in stopping LCCC, which is currently enjoying a 7-3 record. Paul Boris and Mark Zavoy tied for first against the Minutemen, covering the revised 4.4 mile Colonel layout in 24:35.

Coach Pawlush was elated with the performance of freshman Barry Wildoner, who finished seventh, 26:11, only four seconds behind LCCC's number two man.

Steve Standiford and Dave Kowalek placed eighth and ninth to seal the win.

Swim Meeting

The Wilkes College Swim Team will hold its second meeting on Thursday, October 31 at 11 a.m. in the gym lobby on South Franklin Street. All male and female swimmers interested in joining the team are asked to attend. No previous competitive experience is necessary.

Colonels Get Down To Business

Facing Conference Foes In Final Four Contests

BY BOB DAVIS

Wilkes, after making a good showing in their defeat last weekend at the hands of powerful Ithaca College, tangle with a tough Susquehanna University grid unit this Saturday afternoon in Selinsgrove, Pa.

The Colonels played great ball last Saturday, but the Blue Bombers came from behind in the second half to notch the 24-14 victory. Coach Rollie Schmidt's boys are ready to rebound this week, however, and keep their one game edge in the Middle Atlantic Conference standings. Susquehanna is not going to make it a picnic for Wilkes though.

The winner of this year's contest between Wilkes and Susquehanna will be awarded the Amos Alonzo Stagg trophy, symbolic of victory in the 15th annual Stagg Bowl, in honor of the late great grid mentor.

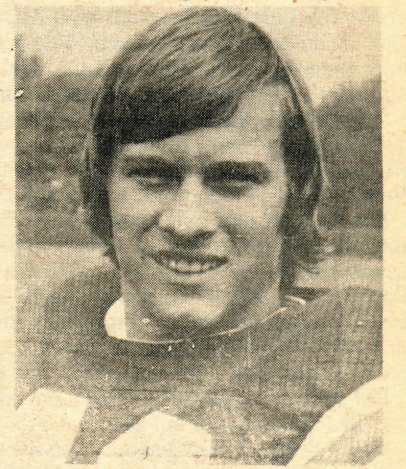

Susquehanna University is deep in football tradition. Under the guidance of legendary coach Jim Garrett, who later went on to be an assistant coach with the New York Giants, the Crusaders compiled a 39-4-1 record between the years 1960 and 1964. But as the glory years dissipated for Susquehanna, Wilkes began a golden era of their own, which included their legendary 32-game winning streak.

This year's Crusader ballclub under the direction of head coach Jim Hazlett, is in the midst of a so-so 2-3-1 season, including a 14-0 shutout of Delaware Valley last weekend. Hazlett has 27 lettermen returning from 1973's 2-7 unit.

Chuck Smeltz, who earned all-conference laurels in '73. Smeltz's aggressive hustle has inspired his fellow teammates, and they are maturing into a fine squad.

Smeltz Also Kicker

Smeltz also handles the place-kicking duties for the Crusaders. Last season, he kicked 10 field goals, and during his collegiate career, has kicked 58 consecutive extra points without a miss. The punting chores are handled by Pete Rambo, who has a 36.3 average so far this year.

TIM LAWLOR

Lawlor Is Tough

The offensive attack is led by stellar sophomore halfback Tim Lawlor. The 5'10, 175-pounder was the first freshman in Susquehanna history to gain over 500 rushing yards in one season. Lawlor turned the trick last annum, collecting 669. Tim is a top candidate for All-Mac honors this season.

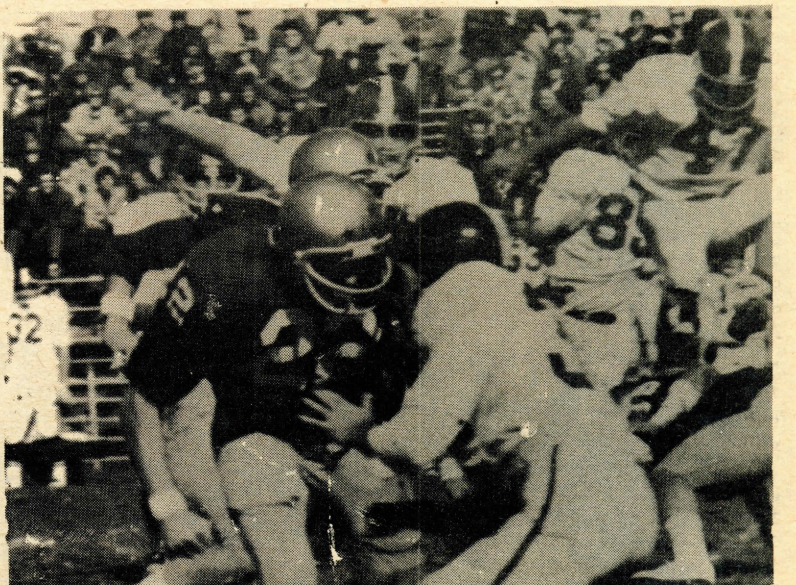

Handling the quarterbacking duties is senior Mike Butterbaugh. Mike stands 6'0, 170 pounds, and completed nearly 50 per cent of his passes last season. Mike's favorite target is split end Jeff Stelty. Stelty, a junior, had 26 receptions last season, which was good for 340 yards. In his first two contests this year, he has hauled in 17 aerials for 225 yards! The key to a Colonel win will be shutting off the Butterbaugh-Stelty combination, along with containing Lawlor's running.

Although they are last in total defense, giving up an average of 358 yards per game, the Crusaders have posted two shutouts this season already. Key to the Susquehanna "D" is 5'11, 205-pound defensive end

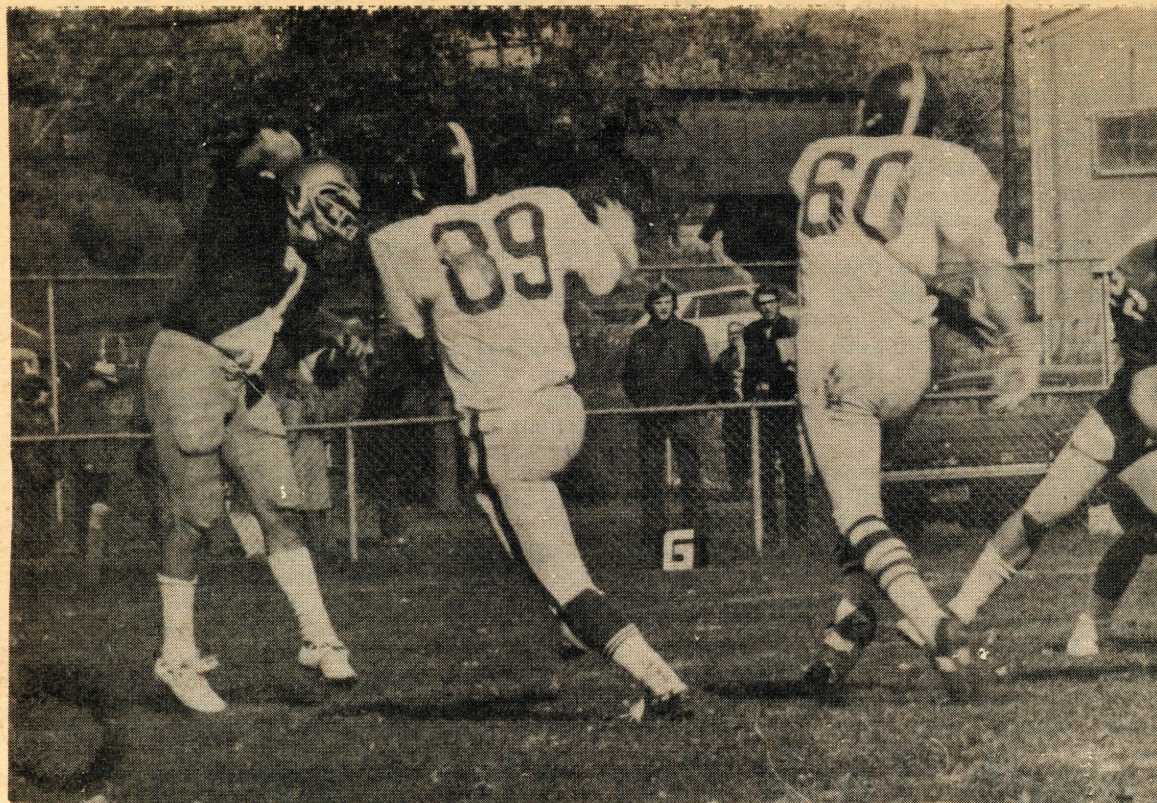

Overall, the Crusaders are a team, who can give anyone a tustle when they want to play. They proved that against Juniata, when they outplayed them for three full quarters, before succumbing 21-7. Their win last week indicates that their spirits are high, but Wilkes will be their toughest opponent to date, and Rollie and his boys want that MAC crown so bad they can taste it.

Although last week's loss to Ithaca may have a detrimental effect on the Colonel's, they will be just too much for the home team to handle. The Wilkes running attack should have its best afternoon of the 1974 season, and when the final whistle blows, Susquehanna will walk glumly away with a 2-4-1 log, and the Colonels will move another step forward, towards the Middle Atlantic Conference championship.

Wilkes by nine.

BLOCKING WINS BALL GAMES—And fullback Freddy Lohman (22) does it better than most. Here he is pictured leading the way for a partially hidden Rodney Smith in last Saturday's contest. When he wasn't blocking, Lohman was lugging the ball himself. Against the Blue Bombers he gained almost 80 yards on the ground.

UP AND OVER—Colonel signal caller Greg Snyder is pictured here letting one of his aerials fly against Ithaca last weekend. The Colonels fell to defeat, 24-14, after holding a seven point halftime lead. Snyder looked very impressive in throwing two touchdown passes.

BEACON SPORTS

Colonelettes Are Number One; Girls Capture NPWCAA Crown

BY DOTTY MARTIN

Getting off to a very slow start, but exploding in the second half, the Wilkes College Colonelettes were able to down the Misericordia Highlanders, 5-1 on Saturday morning and capture the championship of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Association (NPWCAA).

Many parents of the Colonelettes were on hand for the clash as this game was designated as Parents' Day 1974. Wilkes will now go down in NPWCAA history as the first team to earn the league's field hockey championship as this league was just formed this year.

Misericordia was really fired up in the first half, while Wilkes was sluggish and had trouble putting plays together. But, the second half belonged to Wilkes. Diane Jones and Debbie Titus had many key interceptions and set up plays for the offense. Miss Jones played one of the better games of her career and should be credited with tough "heads-up" defensive play.

Barb Long and Angela Centrella set the offense in motion with their fine passing. The whole line rushed well in the second half which was reflected in the Blue and Gold scoring. Penny Bianconi exploded for three goals while Miss Centrella and Marivita Saleski each added one. Angela was also credited with two assists as Barb Long, Ellen Schwartz, and Miss Saleski each had one also.

Nancy Roberts, having an excellent season for the Colonelettes, did a fine job at the goal cage, stopping some hard shots in the first half to keep Wilkes in the game.

Earlier in the week, the amazing skill of Penny Bianconi was once again displayed on the field as the "super sophomore" crashed the nets for five goals in the Colonelettes' big 6-1 victory over the girls of Lycoming College. Senior Marivita Saleski added the other Wilkes goal, her first of the season.

The Blue and Gold offense was clicking throughout the game and the line had some good passing and dodging. Assists were credited to Ellen Schwartz, Marivita Saleski, Barb Long, (2), and Penny Bianconi.

Coach Gay Meyers commented, "Penny could do no wrong; she was rushing harder than I've ever seen and really hustled all day. Barb Long sent her some beautiful passes and she just crashed them by the Lycoming goalie."

Susan Funke looked like the "old Susan" before her ankle injury as she dazzled the crowd with her excellent stickwork. Susan drove into the Colonelettes' scoring circle by keeping the ball in the air off the tip of her stick.

Miss Funke, Diane Jones, and Debbie Titus played excellent defense and allowed the offense to continue attacking throughout the entire contest. Fullbacks Kim Flis and Jean Johnson displayed good back up play for the Blue and Gold defense.

The Colonelettes will play host this afternoon to Keystone Junior College at Ralston Field. Wilkes enters the game with a season overall record of 4-3-1.

Juniata Indians Pound Albright To Put Colonels On Top Of MAC With 2-0 Log

By virtue of Juniata's exciting 28-27 victory over previously undefeated Albright College last weekend, the Wilkes College gridders have taken sole possession of first place in the Middle Atlantic Conference "Northern Division."

The Colonels were idle in conference play last weekend, but travel to Selinsgrove, Pa. this Saturday to take on arch-rival Susquehanna in the Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl. Albright will oppose Gettysburg in Reading.

The MAC statistic leaders were released Tuesday, and despite having very few individual leaders, the Colonels are first in the "Northern Division" in total defense, and second to Albright in rushing. In two games, the Colonels have given up an average of 158.5 yards a contest, while amassing almost 300 themselves.

Donny McDermott, the Blue and Gold punter, is pacing the Middle Atlantic Conference in that department, with a 38.8 per game average.

The standings as of Tuesday in the Northern Division look like this:

	W	L	T	PCT.
Wilkes	2	0	0	1.000
Albright	4	1	0	.800
Juniata	3	1	0	.750
Delaware Valley	1	2	0	.333
Susquehanna	1	2	0	.333
Lycoming	1	3	0	.250
Upsala	0	3	0	.000
