Procedure For Selecting Cinderella Candidates Is Revised By Council

COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

By VINCE MACRI

A new method for choosing the original Cinderella candidates was decided upon at the last Student Council meeting. The representatives agreed that they, along with the heads of various campus organizations and class presidents, would select the initial contestants, and the student body will vote for Cinderella from this group.

The winner will be announced on the evening of May 20, when Johnny Long will bring his entire company to Ben Sterling's Rocky Glen Park to play for the Third Annual Cinderella Ball. Dancing will begin at 9 and continue until 1 A. M., with the price of admission being $4.00 per couple, all taxes included.

Long, who now has a national reputation, began his climb up the ladder of fame when he played his first New York engagement. This was at the Roseland Ballroom. He was next featured at the Hotel New Yorker, home of the famous Ice Terrace and one of the foremost band locations in the nation. He has also played at the Commodore Hotel and has been a yearly feature at the Paramount Theatre on Times Square.

Other than his New York appearances, Johnny has scored hits in almost every large town from coast to coast. He is featured in Chicago and Hollywood at least once a year, and his theatre tours cover nearly twenty other major cities.

Long, a graduate of Duke University, has continued to direct his efforts toward pleasing fellow students. This year, he will play for graduation proms at the United States Military Academy, University of Alabama, and other leading schools.

Here for the engagement will be all of the stars who have made Long's new signature records best sellers. Included are Natalie, The Beachcombers, Janet Brace, Junie Mays, and Floyd Sullivan and the Glee Club.

The council has also announced that the following committees have been chosen for the affair.

Tickets: Shadrach Jones, chairman; John Merritt, Pete Richards, Toni Menegus and Danny Sherman. Gifts: Bill Apfelbaum, chairman; Art Delasandro.

Arrangements: Bill Griffith, chairman; Tom Lasky, Lester Gross, Art Spengler, Don Vernall, Elvira Thomsen, Frankie Markowitz, Cy Kovalchick and John Haracz.

Decorations: Henry Vankoski, chairman; Walt Haczewski, Seymour Merrin, Dollie Frable, Barbara Hartley, Nancy McCague, Charlotte Davis and Charlie Knapp.

Publicity: Tom Robbins, chairman; Bob Sanders, Vince Macri, Bruce Mackie and Horowitz.

Students Will Use Voting Machines At Next Election

An innovation in the election of Student Council representatives will be inaugurated in about two weeks when, for the first time in the history of the college, voting machines will be used. The machines were secured through the efforts of Pete Richards, a senior member of the council.

The revised sections of the student council constitution state that the elections of Sophomore, Junior, and Senior representatives to the council shall take place no later than the twelfth week of the spring semester. This would mean that the new council would be ready to work about one week after school resumes for the fall semester.

Freshman representatives would be elected no later than the third week of the fall semester.

56 Students Make Dean's List For The Fall Semester

The Dean's List for the Fall Semester was released by the Registrar this week. Fifty-six students "made the grade". To be on the Dean's List students must have an over-all average of 85 or better in the subjects taken during a semester, and they must have taken at least 12 semester hours.

Honor students for the September-January semester were: Eugene Robinson Anderson, Anthony James Andronaco, Jacqueline Celia Bedner, Frederic Edward Bellas, Robert Lee Benson, Lewis William Blight, Edward Anthony Bogusko, Gerald Paul Bush, Bernard Stanley Cuppenski, Leon Joseph Decker, Lois Ward DeGraw, Alice Jean Dew, Helene V. Donn, David Wayne Edwards, Charles Robert Eisenstein, George Francis Ermel, Donald Elihu Evans, Marjorie Tyler Green, Irvin John Haeefe, John Edward Hudzik, Zeney P. Jacobs, Morris Kagan, Joseph Hermann Kanner, Donald Earl Kemmerer, Stanley John Kieszek, Donald R. Law, Margaret Ruth Lawlor, Glenn Reese Martin, John Wm. Murtha, Jr., Samuel LeRoy Owens, Robert Louis Perneski, Jack Robert Pheathan, Daniel David Phillips, Mary Zora Porter, Herbert Miller Quick, Arthur J. Rice, Jr., Clyde Henry Ritter, Robert Wm. Rubright, Jean Ryan, Edna Anna Sabol, Ronald E. Savage, Charles W. Schneiderhan, George Edward Shamis, Catherine M. W. Smith, Albert Wm. Spanich, James Alexander Spanos, Priscilla Mary Swartwood, Leonard Joseph Swicklik, Joseph Teno, Beverly H. Van Horn, Donald Gibson Vernall, Carol Peggy Weiss, John D. First Meeting of State IRC Chapter To Be Held At Wilkes This Month

Delegates of approximately 50 state institutions are expected to attend the first meeting of the Pennsylvania chapter of the International Relations Club Conference at Wilkes College on April 22, 23 and 24.

The state chapter was formed last November at the Middle Atlantic Conference of college IRC groups, when it was decided that a separate body should be organized. Officers for the organization were elected at that time, and Edward Kosik, one of the Wilkes delegates, was voted secretary. Also at the November conference, the delegates decided to hold this coming conference to better formulate plans for the group.

A meeting of the temporary officers of the State IRC was held in Harrisburg on Sunday, March 20, at which time an executive committee was chosen. During the meeting, schools were divided according to their respective locations. Each state college will be allowed three delegates and will be assigned to one of six sections. Colleges heading each section are: Northwestern, Penn State; Southwestern, University of Pittsburgh; Northcentral, Penn State; Southcentral, Franklin and Marshall; Northeastern, King's; Southeastern, Temple University.

One of the most important tasks of the April conference will be the writing of a constitution. The following colleges, on the basis of replies to Wilkes bulletins, have been asked to appoint one of their three delegates to sit in on the steering committee: Altoona, Cedar Crest, Franklin and Marshall, Lafayette, Misericordia, Pottsville, and Villanova.

CHAIRMAN OF APRIL SHOWERS BALL

Alex Molash is the general chairman for the third annual April Showers Ball. The affair is one of the high-lights of the spring semester at Wilkes. Members of committees for the dance are Clem Scott, reservations; Jack Feeney, arrangements; Chester Knapich, program; Tom Moran, publicity; Bob Waters, Gerard Washco, Don Blackenbush, John Florkiewicz, Paul Thomas, Jack Semmers, Ollie Thomas, George Lewis, Bob Gorgas, Joe Brennan and Francis Pinkowski, decorations.

Letterman's Queen Will Be Selected At Intermission

The third annual April Showers Ball, sponsored by the Letterman's Club, will be held on April 29 at the Irem Temple Country Club. The affair will be semi-formal without corsages. Music by Johnny Martin and his orchestra.

At intermission the Letterman's

Queen is to be selected and crowned. Last year this honor was bestowed upon Agnes Novak, a student at Wilkes.

Tickets may be obtained from any Letterman or in the bookstore, the price is $3.00 per couple.

Alex Molash, general chairman, is being assisted by Jack Feeney, Bob Waters and Chet Knapich.

NOTICE!

The Registrar has announced that a list of courses to be given in the Fall will be released next week.

John Snook Will Address Spanish Club Next Wedn.

The Spanish Club will have a Pan American Tea on April 6 in the girls' dormitory from 3 to 5. Mr. John Snook, traffic supervisor of the Pan American Airways System, will be the speaker. Mr. Snook lived in Ciudad Trujillo in the Dominican Republic for two and a half years. He attended classes at the University of Santo Domingo. During his extensive travels through the Caribbean and Latin America, he visited twenty-two Latin American nations. While in Peru, he visited the Inca Ruins in Cuzco, and later saw the Aztec Ruins in the Yucatan Peninsula. Mr. Snook spoke last April at the Pan American Day celebration presented by the Spanish Club and is being invited to return on the recommendation of students who heard him then.

Senor Pablo Fahringer is the chairman of the entertainment committee, assisted by Jay Rauscher, Lorna Coughlin and Robert Levine. Jack DeRemer has offered to serve as a one-man clean-up committee. All Spanish students and their friends are invited to attend.

Open House For Theta Delta Rho

Theta Delta Rho will sponsor an open house tea next Thursday, April 7, from 3:30 to 5 o'clock in Chase Hall. All students and faculty members are invited. Nancy Ralston has been appointed general chairman. Committee chairmen are, Barbara Hartley, refreshments; Nancy Youfman, decorations; Jane Salwoski, entertainment; Beverly J. Van Horn, clean-up, and Joanne Davis, publicity.

This tea has been scheduled because the first open house tea was received enthusiastically by all who attended.

Interviews of those present will be broadcast over radio station WHWL.

House Party Set For Men's Dorm

Charles O'Shea, president of the Men's Dormitory, has announced that the dorm will hold its semi-annual open house party on April 6. Festivities will begin at 8 p. m. All members of the student body and their friends are invited.

The special entertainment will include dancing, and refreshments will be served.

Student Government

By TOM ROBBINS

At last week's Student Council meeting, the following items were discussed and acted upon:

1. Various committees for the Cinderella Ball were formed. These committees include the ticket, decoration, arrangement and publicity groups.

2. The council decided to charge $4.00 (tax included) for each ticket (per couple).

3. An election committee was organized which will take care of the operation of voting machines used in the student council elections to be held in about two weeks. Mr. Richards, head of the committee, stated that the council would be able to obtain voting machines for elections on or about the 18th of April.

4. The Student Council members, heads of various recognized activities on the campus, and class presidents will be the ones to choose the original candidates for Cinderella. The students will vote for the Cinderella from the original group.

5. An awards committee was formed with Ed Tyburski as chairman. As the name implies, the committee will check on the awards to be presented this year by the campus organizations.

6. Finally, the first stage of the revision of the Constitution was completed. The student body will have to accept the changes before the revisions are adopted. Following is one of the major changes thus far:

Article IV

(Elections of the Student Council)

Section 1. Nominations for Student Council representatives shall be made by three classes no later than the eleventh week following the beginning of the spring term:

(1) Those students who will have from 31-60 hours with the completion of the spring semester will nominate as sophomores for sophomore representatives.

(2) Those students who will have from 61-90 hours with the completion of the spring semester will nominate as juniors for junior representatives.

(3) Those students who will have in excess of 91 hours with the completion of the spring semester will nominate as seniors for senior representatives.

Freshman nominations for student council representatives will occur no later than the second week following the beginning of the fall term. All students with 0-30 hours will nominate as freshmen candidates.

Section 2. Elections for Student Council representatives shall be held by the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes, as specified, no later than the twelfth week of the spring semester. Freshmen shall elect their representatives no later than the third week of the fall term.

Section 3. The term of office of the Sophomore, Junior and Senior representatives shall begin with the first meeting of the fall semester at which time the replaced council will retire. The terms of the above named representatives shall continue until such time as they are succeeded by duly-elected representatives. Special elections to fill any member vacancies shall be held by the class represented within two weeks after such vacancy occurs.

Section 4. All voting for Student Council representatives shall be by secret ballot at an official student assembly or at a place so designated by the Student Council, the Dean of Men and/or the Dean of Women. The ballots shall be collected and audited by a committee so designated by the president of the Student Council by the Dean of Men and/or the Dean of Women. Election results shall be posted on all official bulletin boards.

Section 5. All elections and election plans are subject to the approval of the Student Council.

Music, Maestro

WILKES BANDSMEN PLAY UNDER GOULD

The Wilkes delegates to the Second Intercollegiate State Band Festival, namely Reese Pelton, leader, Vester "Broad" Vercoe, Carl "White" Strye, and myself, returned last Sunday afternoon tired but very happy with the musical experience we had shared. It was a shining example of what careful planning and flawless execution of plans can do. All the details of housing, meals, rehearsals, recreation and entertainment were perfectly timed and the three days were crowded with activity.

The ten-hour bus ride to Indiana (Pennsylvania) State Teachers College was completed Thursday morning and immediately after lunch intensive rehearsals with the assembled 125-piece band was begun. Nothing interrupted the rehearsal except a half-hour "Clarinet Clinic" during which special problems and peculiarities of the instrument were discussed by an expert clarinetist. The evening meal provided a second break and was followed by rehearsal with the guest conductor, composer Morton Gould, until 9:30. By that time the students thoroughly wished they had stayed home and taken the nice mid-term examinations. They were, shall we say, "bushed".

Delegates were comfortably housed at local tourist homes (courtesy of the Indiana Kiwanis Club) and Friday morning breakfast was over in time for the nine-to-twelve rehearsal and a French Horn clinic. The band had to learn nineteen concert numbers in time for the afternoon broadcast and concert for local schools, so rehearsal was resumed at one o'clock. At 3:00 the concert went on the air over station WDAD, Indiana (rebroadcast locally over WCNB, Bloomington) and afterwards the band practiced until 5.

The evening was given to entertainment. Supper was provided at the college hunting lodge outside of town and then a dance, sponsored by the college glee club gave welcome relief to the hard-working bandmen. Music was provided by a 32-piece college-sponsored dance orchestra, complete with comedians and smooth vocalists. By then, the local delegates had an entirely different attitude toward the festival in general, and were eager to go to work Saturday morning for another 3-hour rehearsal.

This informal pose of Morton Gould was taken between rehearsals as he talked to the students.

Saturday afternoon, Maestro Gould lectured on "Modern Composing and Arranging" and, incidentally, gave the students an excellent chance to see and hear a real, live composer telling his life story and attitudes toward music's present, past and future. Morton Gould is not modest about his successes, as he dislikes false modesty in anyone, but he won the hearts of those who heard him with his practical, polite philosophy of success.

Saturday night was the big concert. The huge auditorium was filled and as the bandmen came in, each in the uniform of his school band, the stage came alive with color. Every conceivable type of uniform was represented, from modest suits of Wilkes-men to the Scotch Kilties of Carnegie Tech. The program included several guest band directors, but the highlight of the evening was the appearance of Morton Gould, who conducted Aaron Copland's OUTDOOR ORCHESTRA, selections from CAROUSEL, and a MARCH by Prokofiev, in addition to his own compositions of rather recent origin, BALLAD FOR BAND, First Movement from his SECOND AMERICAN SYMPHONETTE, and his HOLIDAY MUSIC, including EASTER MORNING, HALLOWEEN, FIRST THANKSGIVING, HOME FOR CHRISTMAS, and FOURTH OF JULY.

After all, the Wilkes delegates left for home with inspired hearts grateful for the experience they had had and with firm ambition to do much for improvement in the home college musical organization. Here's hoping!

Coffee Hour Is Well Attended

Women of Wilkes and faculty wives conducted a "Coffee Hour" yesterday afternoon for the students and faculty in the college cafeteria.

The social events have become an important part of the college's extra-curricular activity and the attendance on the part of the faculty and students has been large.

Mrs. Eugene S. Farley and Dr. Mary E. Craig poured for Thursday's coffee hour.

Hostesses for the affair were Miss Phyllis Nelson, Miss Martha Silseth, Mrs. John Chwalek, Miss Lorna Holbrook and Mrs. Carl Schindler.

Sorority's Social Activities Listed

Theta Delta Rho officers presented a full program of social activities for the next several weeks at the organization's Tuesday night meeting. The first of these socials will be the All-College Tea on April 7. On April 27 the sorority will sponsor a bridge party; and a Mother's Day Tea has been planned for May 7. Last year the Mother's Day Tea was very well attended. The last scheduled event is a combination hayride and weiner roast on May 13.

A committee, headed by Norma Jean Persiani, was appointed to choose a design for the sorority's pin.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By TOM ROBBINS

I struggled to my feet and watched my assailant move swiftly down the street.

"Come back and fight like a man," I shouted, waving my Roget's Thesaurus threateningly. "Come back and I'll beat you to within an inch of your life with a statement of irony."

Harry Ikelblob! I couldn't believe it! Striking me, his best friend. I sagged down to the ground, choking back a sob.

"What's the matter, lover?" said Jim Tinsley as he stepped over the "Please Keep Off The Grass" sign and sprawled down next to me on the green stuff.

"Oh, Harry and I have just had a little spat."

"What about?"

"Well, he's in favor of vocational training, and I'm a Hutchin's man. Need I say more?"

"Why don't you compromise?" asked Jim.

"I was willing to do that, but Harry Ikelblob is stubborn. He wants all or nothing."

"What was decided?"

"Not much," I muttered. "He knocked me down with a pipe wrench—he's taking an apprentice plumber course, you know."

Then that whichas howsoever in any event falls on the latter hour of horror featuring Phil Bones and his all demented orchestra."

"I believe that is clear enough for any demented student to understand. Are there any suggestions for changes or additions?"

"I object! I want to play a game."

"You're overruled, Mr. Harebrain. Now, Mr. Secretary, please read the last paragraph of Article 63."

Earl Jobs currently is looking for hidden talent to play for the Beacon Batboys. Many teams will be entered such as the Payne Pains of the boys' dorm, the Lousy Loungers of Chase, and the Conyngham Cuties of the lab. building. Lots of good competition with top men on the diamonds. Batting averages will be compiled the same way World Lit. marks are estimated. Try hard!...

Wilkes Students Tour City Hall

Functions of city government were fully outlined by Wilkes-Barre City Hall officials for Wilkes College Political Science and Journalism students last Monday night.

Mayor Luther M. Kniffen welcomed the students in the councilmanic chambers and described his duties as the city's chief executive and as the head of the Department of Public Affairs.

The tour included visits to the offices of the five department heads and subsidiary offices. Duties and functions of their respective departments were explained by Councilmen Oliver J. Price, William D. Jones, Frank A. Goeckel, J. Bowden Northrup and City Treasurer-Tax Collector Tom A. Evans, who acted as guide for the tour. Other officials who spoke to the students were City Assessor C. Edward Tite, Fire Chief Ambrose Saricks, Superintendent of the Bureau of Electricity John Alles, City Solicitor Howard Kennedy, City Engineer Guy B. Walker, Deputy Frank J. Andes, License Clerk William Turnbaugh, Building Inspector Nicholas Macking and Bob Foote, speaking for City Clerk Lucius K. Eldridge.

Accompanying the students on the tour were Political Science instructor John Hibbard and Mrs. Gertrude M. Williams, instructor in English and Journalism.

Wilkes Debaters In Debate Series

The Inter-Collegiate Debate Council of the Anthracite Region Colleges, comprised of Scranton University, Marywood College, King's College, Misericordia, and Wilkes, conducted a series of debates yesterday evening at eight o'clock on Wilkes' campus.

Jack Faneck and Tom oMrgan, Wilkes' affirmative team, and Don Kemmerer and George Maisel who upheld the negative side of the argument met Scranton University in the contest. Harry Hiscox acted as student chairman in one of the debates.

At the regular meeting of the Council following the debates Jack Faneck spoke briefly to the group on Parliamentary Procedure.

Dr. Kruger, advisor for Wilkes' team, and Mr. Powell, who guided the Kingsmen, acted as counselors during the event.

"OLD FOLKS TRIES A COMEBACK"

(a true story)

Among the candidates reporting to coach Ralston for the preseason training was George "Old Folks" Brody. Inspired and encouraged by the entrance into the majors by Satchel Paige of the Cleveland Indians, "Old Folks" borrowed a glove and a pair of spikes, and hobbled over to Kirby Park. George or "Old Folks" was given a "Look-See" by the Brooklyn Dodgers way back when Babe Ruth was still breaking records for the Yankees, and a young fellow named Roosevelt was just getting acquainted with the White House. Brody, who is considered the oldest active player in the good old U. S. A., is determined to try just once more before applying for his Social Security. When Ralston spotted "Old Folks" gamely trying to get the bat off his shoulder before the catcher returned the ball to the pitcher he snapped, "Hey there is an age limit on this club—you old men take it easy—we don't want to get anyone hurt". Upon hearing this remark, "Old Folks" turned to Phil Sekerchak and said, "Hey mister, you heard what the man said—take it easy or you'll get hurt". As we go to press Ralston is still trying to figure out how to explain to "Old Folks" that baseball is a young man's game, and maybe he should return home and send his grandson, who it is rumored is a great prospect, over to take his place.

SHORT SHOTS:::

Borrowing a line from Garfield Davis, we will take a short glance over the campus sport scene. Tom Miller has been appointed to take over the direction of the Intra-Mural softball league. so far entries have been received from ten teams. The bowling league has been divided into two divisions—one division will bowl on Thursday and the other on Friday evenings. Mr. Partridge starts spring training for his soccer team in Kirby Park Monday at 4 P. M. Anyone interested in soccer is once again urged to try out for the team. Nick Dyback will again field a softball team in spite of the urging of his friends to rest on the laurels he won last year when his team beat the Beacon team with the help of lady luck. Billy Meyer, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, figures the Bucs have improved 25 percent over last year; that should assure the pennant for the Pirates this year. Connie Mack says that his present infield is the best that he has ever had—that should prove that the old man is really getting OLD. And that my children is all until next week when your reporter in compliance with the demands of thousands of readers, who eagerly await these predictions, will name the pennant winners in each of the major leagues and also predict how the other teams will finish.

Connections For Your Collections

By JOE GRIES

Do you think you can name the ten most popular tunes since 1900? Just for the fun of it, see how many you can get right. O. K.—You've had enough time. According to Sigmund Spaeth in his column in the New York Times, here are the immortal songs that still live on: SWEET ADELINE, SCHOOL DAYS, SHINE ON HARVEST MOON, THE ST. LOUIS BLUES, LET ME CALL YOU SWEET-HEART, DOWN BY THE OLD MILL STREAM, I WANT A GIRL, SMILES, STARDUST, AND GOD BLESS AMERICA.

That classic of close harmony, SWEET ADELINE, was composed by a Boston watch-maker in 1903. He gave it many titles, but it never set the music world on fire until he gave it the title by which we know it today. The song became an immediate hit when the Quaker City Four sang it in Hammerstein's Victoria Theatre.

SCHOOL DAYS was written in 1907 by Will Cobb, who also wrote IN MY MERRY OLDSMOBILE and a fine group of other tunes. This song completely out-sold all his others in immediate success and in vitality through the years. The words and music are simple and direct; the tune is gay and easily remembered, and it has served as a theme for many of our great stars of the past.

SHINE ON HARVEST MOON and LET ME CALL YOU SWEET-HEART were written as show numbers and you will find them present in any home party where a song or two is urged to pass the time.

DOWN BY THE OLD MILL STREAM and I WANT A GIRL are two songs whose appeal lies not only in the waltz melody, but also in the romantic nostalgia of their words and in other properties both usual and unusual.

William C. Handy's ST. LOUIS BLUES has to be placed on this list because of its frequent performances and variety of waxings.

SMILES first appeared in the first World War, and in less than one year it sold two million copies. This song is still heard wherever people congregate.

An instrumental hit in 1929, STAR DUST, had to wait until four years later to become the hit we know it to be. Hoagy Carmichael wrote the haunting melody.

GOD BLESS AMERICA was written in 1917 but remained unpublished for more than twenty years until Kate Smith introduced it on the air. Since then it has become our unofficial national anthem.

What, then, constitutes a hit? Look back over the ten and you will see, with the possible exception of STAR DUST, and ST. LOUIS BLUES, the big factor is simplicity. They are easily sung and the lyrics are full of homely American words and phrases.

I wonder what they will be singing in the year 2000! Probably these same ten..
