the face of a college

Whether men and women attending college are day, dormitory, or evening students, all are preparing for their chosen vocations and planning to live life to its fullest. To do this, man needs wisdom.

Wisdom's light removes the blindfolds from our eyes: it illuminates the magic world around us. We soon realize, however, that mere intellectual wisdom is not sufficient. Man must learn to live with his fellow human beings and accept those responsibilities the world places upon him.

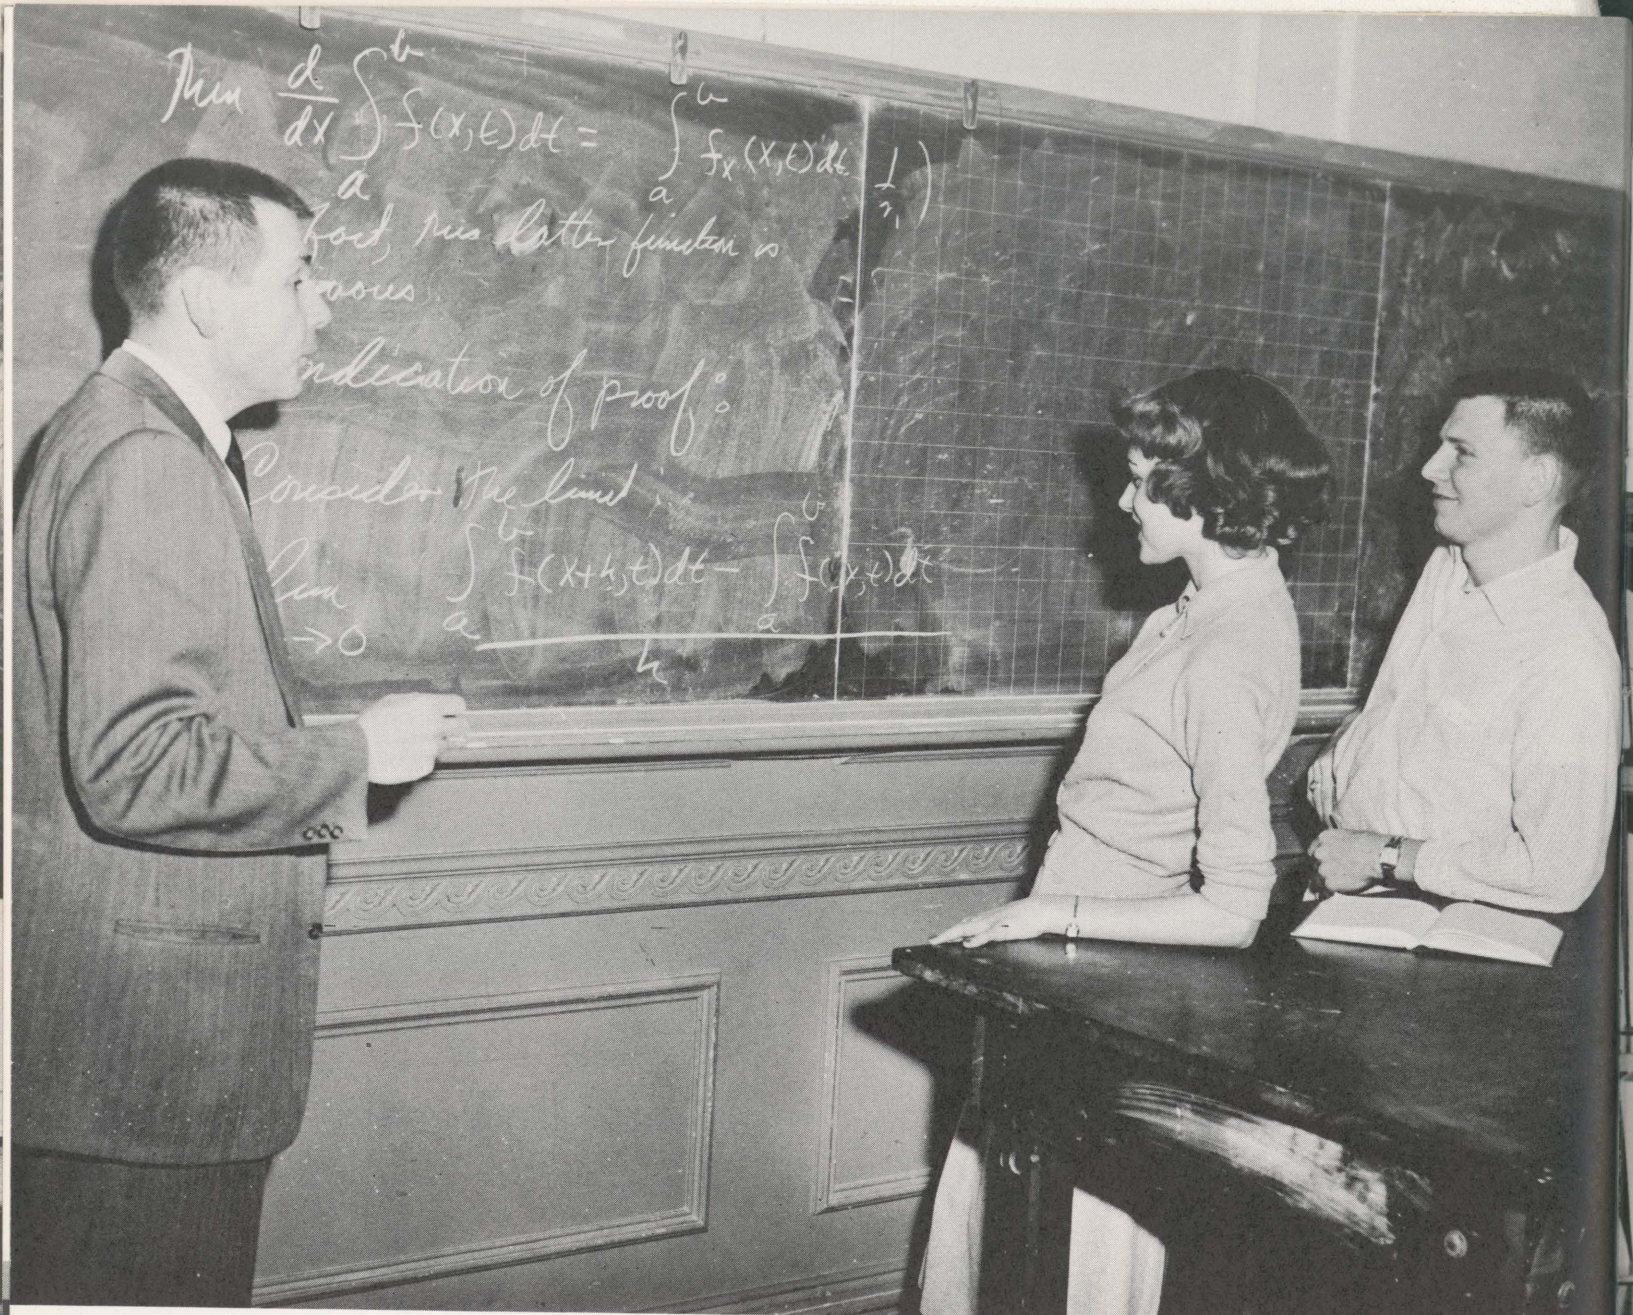

Books do not provide the only avenue to truth and understanding — exchanging ideas, together with participating in various organizations, athletic contests, community affairs, and the general social life on campus add immeasurably to one's preparations for meeting the demands of society.

Such college participation at Wilkes must be but the initial step toward our educational goal; progress requires unremitting perseverance in subsequent years.

In Memoriam

GILBERT STUART McCLINTOCK
1886 — 1959

To the Class of 1960:

As you finish your years of study at Wilkes, you must anticipate the prospects of the years that lie ahead. I join with you in this anticipation, and I wish to add one last hope to those we have shared — sometimes unknowingly — during our years of association. I hope you will find happiness; I hope your achievements will be sound and your lives significant.

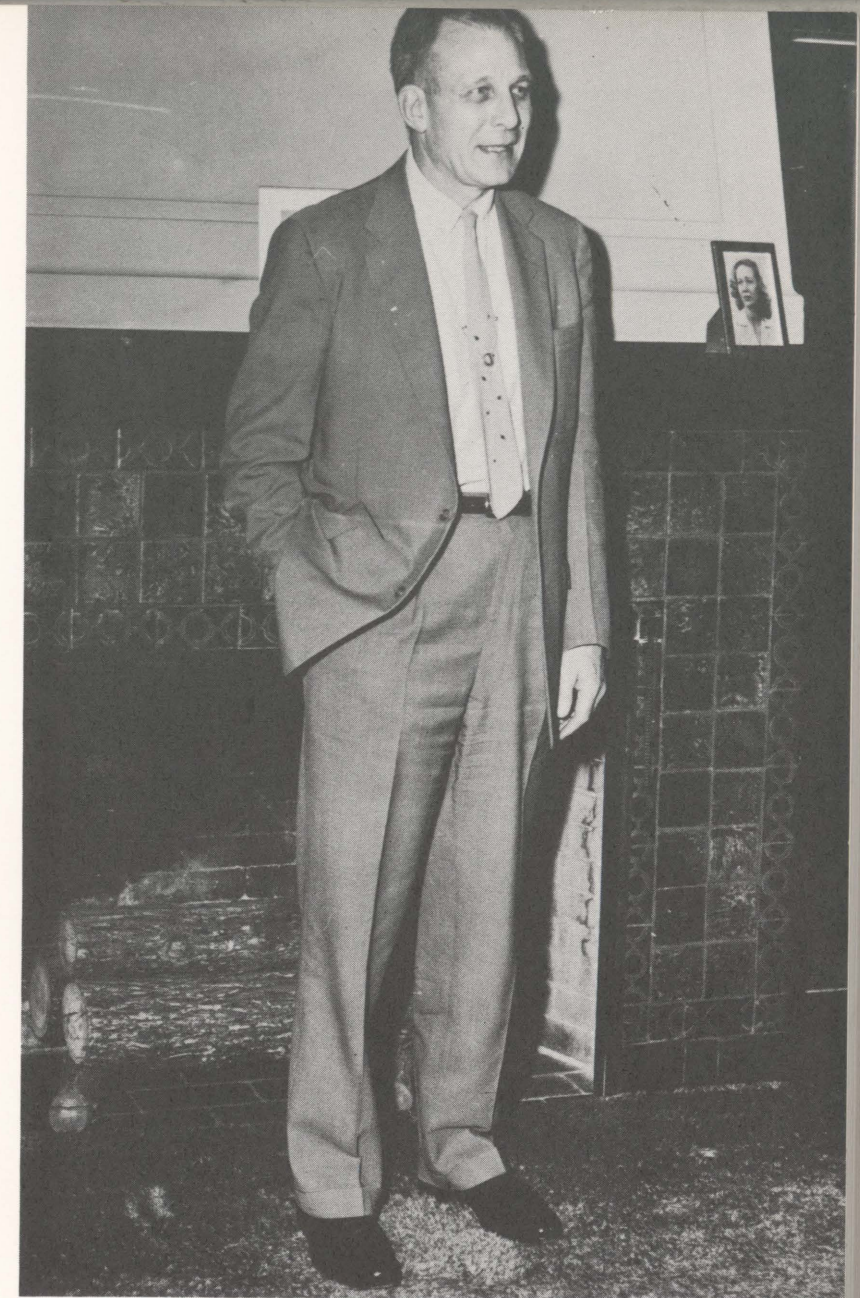

The happiness that I wish you is not to be gained by acquiring all of the possessions and honors that you may desire. It is more likely to be gained by giving yourself to some constructive cause or to the service of some loved one; or it may come from the best of the opportunities and obligations that are your lot. It will require giving of yourself rather than gaining for yourself.

The achievement that I wish you does not relate to the trivia of daily living but to the completion of tasks that are of worth. It will not come easily, for it is the product of self-discipline, persistence, and sound judgment. It will come only from sustained effort to do something that is worth while for one's self and for others. It is not to be confused with success, for it may lead to neither recognition nor to wealth.

If you undertake anything that is of worth, your life gains significance, for it then becomes part of a creative effort. The significance gained from such effort is the source of two qualities needed by all men — hope for the future and faith in the power of men, with divine guidance, to improve their lot in this world.

Devotedly yours,

THE LIBRARY

The Kirby Library is known to the Wilkes College students as a place of study and research. Over 50,000 volumes and 400 current periodicals supply the needs of the students and faculty, as well as students of other colleges who utilize its facilities during vacations and holidays.

To serve the students, the library employs five full-time people and several students and part-time assistants. Members of the staff include Mrs. Nada Vujica, Head Librarian, Mr. George Ermel, Cataloguing Librarian, Mr. James Eidam, Circulation and Reference Librarian, Mr. Frederick Krohle, Order Librarian, and Mrs. Beverly Williams, library secretary. Mrs. Mary Thom is a part-time assistant in the cataloguing department.

We are proud of our library and its service to our college — proud of the beautiful building which houses the collection, its wealth of literature, and its able and helpful administrators.

THE BOOKSTORE

The Bookstore, presided over by its smiling manager, Millie Gittens, serves as the distributing point for the many books, pencils, and various other supplies used by the students during the school year.

Millie is ably assisted in the sometimes arduous task of distributing the books by two students, Bob Eike and Dick Wileman.

Besides being the center for the sale of school supplies, the Bookstore is known to supply free coffee to innumerable gregarious faculty members who frequent the area.

Bookstore Manager

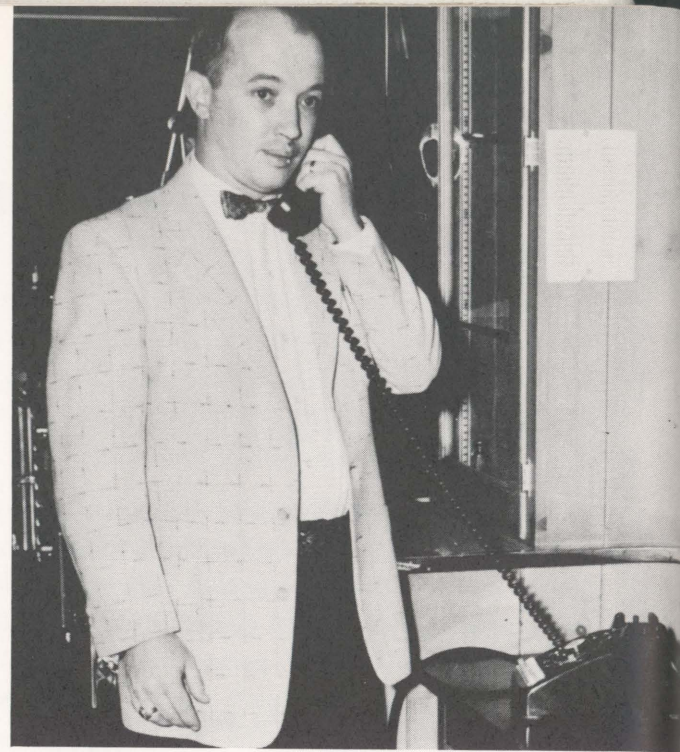

Dr. Thatcher said I'd need more paper.

THE CAFETERIA

The Cafeteria is the hub of the social life on the campus. Students gather there not only to fill their stomachs, but also to discuss world-shaking events, such as the percentage of F's on the latest World Literature tests.

A traumatic experience like the sudden realization that a term paper is due the next day results in the unfortunate student's rushing to the Cafeteria to drink with shaking hands a cup of "heavenly" coffee. After this cup of courage, the student has the strength to announce to all within hearing that he will not have his paper in on time.

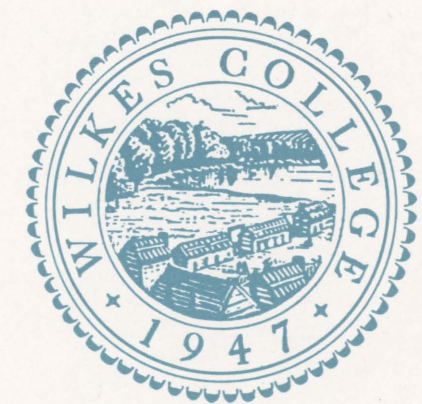

The Cafeteria is managed by Mr. William Denion, who is aided by a very capable staff.

FACULTY

THE WILKES COLLEGE FACULTY

The emphasis placed on education requires that those who dispense knowledge be of the highest caliber possible. The vital role of the teacher cannot be overemphasized. The administration, in order to obtain the most competent teachers, exercises the utmost care in the selection of prospective faculty members. Not only the teaching ability, but also the character and the interest of the person are taken into consideration before final choice is made.

The student body at Wilkes is indeed fortunate in having a faculty with such a wealth of specialized training, experience and diversified backgrounds in many fields of knowledge. The faculty personifies the cosmopolitan viewpoint so essential to the development of the well-rounded student.

It is relatively insignificant what field of study a student pursues for he will find his days are measured by classes and term papers, study and discussion. This self-inflicted delightful drudgery all seems to be worth while if a good student-teacher relationship is developed.

Throughout the four year college course, the faculty has the opportunity to mold character, initiate self-expression and give the student something time will not eradicate — knowledge.

We feel that the faculty of Wilkes College is worthy of our devotion, sympathy (for our seeming ungratefulness and respect, for without them, our goals in life would possibly never be attained.

UNDERCLASSMEN

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class, under the able leadership of President Gil Davis, has reached heights of progress in the annals of the college. The initiative and cooperative effort shown by the class was evident in two projects staged by the class during the '59-60' school year. The Donkey Basketball Game and the Louis Armstrong Jazz Concert were very successfully conducted with great benefit derived by all concerned. The Class is now looking forward to its Senior year when it hopes to continue with its fine record.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Beginning the year with enthusiasm and assurance, gained through experience from the preceding year, the now mature Sophomore Class looked to the future with an air of certainty and a feeling of accomplishment.

The social and academic life of a sophomore was nurtured by a wider variety of interests and a concern for the development of personal skills and abilities. He fully realized the hard work and long hours he had to sacrifice to obtain academic results. He also analyzed and selected each course with extreme care so that he could broaden his views and become versed on a variety of topics.

An increase in the number of class projects and activities succeeded in making the class a close-knit organization contributing much to both school and community. During the year, the class sponsored two dances and numerous other activities which enlightened the social life of the student body and faculty at Wilkes.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Boasting the largest freshman class in its history, Wilkes College welcomed the Class of '63 with bewildering avalanche of speeches, schedules, class cards, name tags, and dinks. But, firmly gripping his Student Handbook, each student accepted the challenge and soon was assimilated into the intellectual and social life of Wilkes College.

Assuming its responsibilities as a class, the freshmen sponsored the United Fund Kickoff Dance and made the initial contribution to the fund. A record turn-out at the polls during elections demonstrated their interest and concern in the selection of their class officers. Under the leadership of its officers, the Class of '63 united and formed a composite working organization.

Nearly a year has passed in the experience of excellence bequeathed to the freshman class by their predecessors at Wilkes College. The class has grown in its inheritance and has given it new significance.

ACTIVITIES

THE COMMONS

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Student Government acts as a liaison between the administration and the students. It is composed of a President, four representatives from each of the three upper classes and three representatives from the Freshman Class. The Student Government plans and co-ordinates student activities. One of the activities initiated this year by the Student Government was the underclassmen dinner dance held on Homecoming weekend.

The position of the Student Government representative is held with pride. The organization exerts a leadership on the campus which is outstanding.

DEBATE SOCIETY

DEBATE SOCIETY —
 First row — Roberta Feinstein, Dr. Kruger, Lynellen Charlton
 Second row — Brent O'Connell, Frank Rioski, Jerome Krasa, Barry O'Connell

THE DEBATE SOCIETY

The Debate Society is open to all interested Wilkes College Students even though they have had no previous debating experience. The Society maintains a varied program that includes both novice and varsity teams. These teams travel to numerous colleges to participate in tournaments throughout the academic year; programs are also arranged before local groups.

Training in debate provides not only an opportunity to acquire and put into practice essential speaking techniques but also a chance to learn the skills and application of logical analysis in relation to issues of the day.

Frank and Roberta discuss a vital issue.

CUE 'N' CURTAIN

CUE 'N' CURTAIN

Students with a yen for greasepaint and a spot behind the footlights, find their niche in Cue 'n' Curtain, the dramatic organization of Wilkes College. Cue 'n' Curtain provides an opportunity to gain experience in acting, writing, staging, lighting, directing, and other facets of the theater. Under the direction of their advisor, Alfred Groh, the members presented "A Night of Theater", a series of excerpts from well-known plays.

In December, Cue 'n' Curtain celebrated the repainting of Chase Theater with an Open House. The theater was jammed with students eager for a look at the face-lifting and a sample of the cookies.

AMNICOLA

The Amnicola staff, with Mr. Cathal O'Toole serving as adviser, has worked diligently throughout the year in an effort to produce a yearbook that will please both the students and the administration at Wilkes. Plagued by unforeseen problems with the Student Government (we understand), deadlines and club pictures, the result is one that should please all concerned.

The staff met weekly in Conyngham Annex, during which time much was done to locate missing pictures, rewrite copy to discover at midnight that there was no coffee to drink or no ride home.

The yearbook serves as a collection of the year's activities at the college and we hope it will long be remembered by the class of 1960 as a record of four years of self-discovery and preparation for the future.

THE BEACON

Every Friday morning throughout the school year, everyone on campus can be seen carrying a copy of the Beacon. All of the students enjoy reading the Beacon, but few realize the work that goes into it. One has only to attend a Tuesday night work session to gain an appreciation for the hard-working Beacon staff and its long-suffering editor Dick Myers. They are a credit to Wilkes.

MANUSCRIPT

RONALD KRYZNEWSKI, EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

THE MANUSCRIPT ASSOCIATION

The Manuscript Association was founded in 1947, and it has grown as Wilkes College has grown. Its primary purpose is to edit the Manuscript, an annual publication containing the creative efforts of students in the realms of literature, art, and music. Since its inception, the Association has gradually expanded the scope of its activities. Its present activities include poetry readings, literary discussions, social hours, and film presentations.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The Lettermen's Club, which is made up of our finest athletes, has long been known as one of the most active groups on campus. The Lettermen annually sponsor some of the best events on the social calendar. Among these are the Christmas Formal and the April Showers Ball. When they are not working to promote their many social activities, they are exhibiting their athletic prowess on the athletic field and in the gym. For their services in athletics and social affairs, the Lettermen have earned the respect of both the faculty and the students.

THETA DELTA RHO

The service sorority, Theta Delta Rho, is one of the most active organizations on campus and is open to all women students of Wilkes. Here new friendships are made and the girls work together for the good of the college and the community. TDR gives the women of Wilkes an opportunity to plan and direct social activities on the campus and to assist in a larger program of social training that will include every student.

Under the guidance of Miss Beryl Cole, Dean of Women, TDR sponsors many activities. Some of the yearly functions include the Old Folks' Christmas Party, the Valentine Formal, collection of toys for underprivileged children and several teas and buffets.

Fifth row — Leona Baiera, Jane Neddoff, Nancy Palazzolo, Linda Spier, Romelle Gomba, Rosalie Kackauskas, Cynthia Hagley.

The Wilkes College Band is one of the most active musical organizations on campus. During the year, the band, under the direction of Mr. Larry Weed, played for all the Wilkes home football games and traveled to many of the area high schools for concert performances. In March, the band sent six members (Harry Ownes, Bib Eike, Ed Yadzinski, Bill Zatkowski, Jack Evans, and Don Jones) to the Intercollegiate Band Festival which was held at Drexel Institute of Technology in Philadelphia.

The band climaxed its busy schedule with the Annual Parents' Day Band Concert in May.

COLLEGIATE COUNCIL FOR UNITED NATIONS

The Collegiate Council for the United Nations is an organization concerned with strengthening the United Nations ideals. After collecting information on current events, members meet weekly to discuss the issues that may directly or indirectly effect each individual in the world today. Each year, the group sponsors a prominent speaker for assembly. Another project is to send delegates to the model United Nations General Assemblies and Security Councils where the members participate in simulated sessions to consider the many problems faced by the U. N. Wilkes College should be very honored to have Don Murray serving as President of the Model General Assembly this year. The C. C. U. N. has been an active organization since its inception and the existence of such a group on campus is a credit to Wilkes.

SWIMMING TEAM

Coached by Francis Pinkowski and captained by Carl Havira, the swimming team compiled a seasonal record of two wins against three losses. The Colonels won a protested meet over Lycoming and finished off the season by defeating P. M. C.

The team's high scorer was Carl "Hummer" Havira, the team's captain.

S O C C E R

Although the Colonel boosters did not end up on the winning side of the register, the teamwork and fine sportsmanship displayed by the team more than accounted for the lack of wins. Throughout the season the Colonels were most unfortunate by losing several games by one point. Three ties proved that the Wilkes Soccer Team was a serious threat to any team in the conference and was a team to be "reckoned with." The highlight of the season came midway in the soccer schedule when Wilkes booters registered their first win with an impressive 1-0 victory over a highly rated Muhlenberg team. James Ferris is to be complimented on his fine work as coach for the team.

FOOTBALL

Coached by Mr. Francis Pinkowski, the 1959 Colonel football team proved to be a fighting eleven. The team always did its best, and never failed to provide thrills in every game. Win, lose, or draw, the Wilkes gridders consistently displayed sportsmanship and fair play. The high point of the season came when the Colonels scored a 12-7 upset over a heavily favored Susquehanna team. We congratulate the coaches and team for the excellent spirit that they showed.

WRESTLING

The Wilkes wrestling team has again had a highly successful season this year. Coach John Reese led his team through an eight wins, no losses, and one tie season. In addition, the team won the Middle Atlantic Conference Championship at Lebanon Valley in March. The teams recognized throughout the east as one of the finest small college wrestling teams.

BASKETBALL

The basketball team, sparked by an unusually large turnout of freshmen, has had a successful season. Under the leadership of its able coach, Eddie Davis, the team romped through eleven victories against ten losses. The team is a credit to the college and well deserves the acclaim of the student body. The team displayed good sportsmanship not only in victory, but also in defeat and the games which they did lose were closely scored contests.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Colonelettes, the girls' basketball team of Wilkes, under the able direction of Coach Marita Zoolkowski (affectionately known as "Coachie"), has shown marked improvement in this season's games. Evoking the utter amazement of all interested persons, the team gained a momentous victory in defeating Mount Aloysius College by one point. The girls displayed vim, vigor, and high spirits in their games, and ended the season with a home game against Moravian College. The girls are looking forward to next season's games with their customary enthusiasm.

TENNIS

With Ira Himmel as this year's captain, the tennis team worked hard to achieve a successful season. Tennis is the youngest sport at Wilkes, and it had made a great deal of progress since its inception. New members, who have joined the team this year, have helped strengthen the team greatly.

BASEBALL

Under the leadership of Coach Francis Pinkowski, the baseball team worked very hard to achieve a successful record. At no time during the course of the exciting season did the team lose sight of the sportsmanship set up by former Colonel teams. Looking back at the highlights and thrills of the spring games, one can easily see why baseball is the favorite sport of many people.

GOLF

Featuring many returnees last year's squad, the golf team was further strengthened by a welcome turnout of newcomers. Pete Perog and Pete McLaughlin captained this season's team which was ably coached by Mr. Welton Farrar. Hopes were unusually high for a winning season this year, and the team is to be commended on its hard work and spirit.

WRESTLING TOURNAMENT

WILKES OPEN WRESTLING TOURNAMENT

This year, as in previous years, the Wilkes Open Wrestling Tournament drew large numbers of spectators as well as wrestlers. Known as the "Rose Bowl of Wrestling," this tournament is one of the largest of its kind in the country. Once again this year, Dave Blubaugh was named Outstanding Wrestler and he led his team, the New York Athletic Club, to the team championship. For the first time in the history of the tournament, a Wilkes wrestler reached the finals, as Marv Antinnes took second place in his weight class. Wilkes also amassed more team points than the Colonels had ever scored before in this event. As an interesting addition to the regular tournament, a fine wrestling match was put on by the young sons of Mr. John Reese, the Wilkes wrestling coach, and Mr. Donald Kemp, a local high school wrestling coach.

Congratulations, Marv.

DONKEY BASKETBALL

The Donkey Basketball Game, sponsored by the Junior Class, was again a howling success. John Reese led his Faculty Flashes in defeating the Student Stars 18-16 in an overtime playoff. The crowd literally fell off their seats with laughter while the players fell off their donkeys with tears. During the last quarter of the game, some rather interesting innovations, in the form of what one might term "cheating", occurred. Any person unlucky enough to be in possession of the ball was attacked from all sides, and severely beaten about the head and ears. Leaving the mangled player behind, another jubilant player would make off with the ball, only to find himself suddenly trampled by players and donkeys alike. Despite various minor injuries sustained by the players and the donkeys, the game was termed a huge success.

Bernie takes a long shot.

Who has the last "Hee-haw" now?

CHEERLEADERS

There are always high hopes of the Colonels being victorious when the cheerleaders lead the fans in the Wilkes' cheers. The lively cheerleaders, whose captain is Eugene Stickler, perform at every athletic event. If anyone happens to walk by Chase Hall and see arms swinging and skirts flying, this is only spirited display of Wilkes' students as they join the cheerleaders and band in weekly practices. The cheerleading squad is to be commended for its enthusiasm, faithfulness and for adding immeasurably to the school spirit at Wilkes.

CUE 'N' CURTAN PRODUCTION

On April 5-8, the Cue 'n' Curtain production, under the direction of Alfred S. Groh, was held in Chase Theatre. The production this year consisted of scenes from four well-known plays including, "St. Joan", by George Bernard Shaw; "The Changeling", by Thomas Middleton; "Our Town", by Thornton Wilder; and "Winterset", by Maxwell Anderson. Members of the casts for the various plays were, Mary Frances Swigert, Steve Cooney, Carol Vaughn, Stewart Swett, Joel Harrison, Eleanor Nielson, Steve Robertson, Virginia Lyons and Joseph Shambe. Much credit is to be given to the actors, stage hands and make-up artists for the many hours of rehearsing that they sacrificed to present such a fine performance for the benefit of the students and members of the community.

Mary Frances Swigert portrays "St. Joan."

For Goodness sake, Steve, don't eat it!

All right, don't believe me.

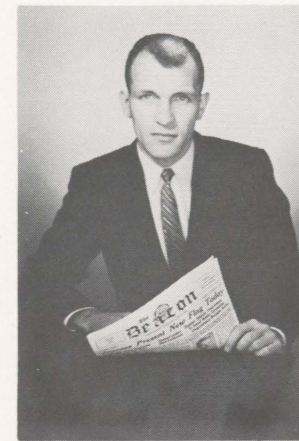

Joseph Shambe and Steve Robertson enact a scene from "Winterset."

CAMPUS PERSONALITIES

Leadership, participation in extra-curricular activities, and general campus citizenship were the criteria the Amnicola staff used in the selection of this year's Campus Personalities. The sixteen students chosen well deserve special recognition, for all have been leaders in their special fields of endeavor and in various social organizations on campus.

HOMECOMING WEEKEND

Wilkes College extended a warm welcome to the alumni in October and planned a busy schedule of events in their honor. A bonfire in Hanover Stadium officially opened Homecoming Weekend. The Engineering Club captured first prize in the decoration contest with their display of a Colonel blasting the Lycoming Indians. Queen Lynne Boyle and Princesses Jean Shofranko and Moncey Miller appeared at the football game and were presented with their royal gifts.

The weekend was climaxed by a dinner-dance at the Irem Temple Country Club for seniors and alumni. For the first time, underclassmen were entertained at their own dinner and dance in the gymnasium.

WINTER CARNIVAL

The thirteenth Annual Winter Carnival, sponsored by the Student Government, was held at Pocono Mountain Inn. The cool air and crisp snow provided ideal conditions for a day of relaxation and fun. A full day's program was scheduled to please the whims of all students. Included among the indoor activities were ping-pong, shuffle-board, and billiards; ice-skating, tobogganing, archery, and foul-shooting contests comprised the outdoor games. Dancing to the All-Stars climaxed a perfect day, one which was enjoyed by all and will be long remembered by everyone.

FRESHMEN HAZING

At the beginning of the fall semester, a few weeks were set aside for the sole purpose of "Hazing Freshmen." The program got underway with a "mock trial" performed by upperclassmen (composed chiefly of sophomores) who were eager to subscribe to the tradition. Despite the numerous lectures and pamphlets given freshmen, there were always a few Frosh who violated the rules of the program. Upperclassmen were always joyful when this happened since they too, remembered their first days at college. All violations were reported, taken to court, and heard by a jury. The penalties inflicted on the guilty (a Frosh was never acquitted) were the usual ones consisting of wearing two different shoes, hair in pigtailed, lipstick on boys, pants rolled to the knee and potato sacks or bags for dresses. When the laughing was over and the giggles had subsided, everyone realized the Frosh deserved recognition and were ready to take their place in life at Wilkes.

Lee demonstrates how a freshman should act when confronted by an upperclassman

We told you we weren't music majors.

I told you I was only a tourist.

The "mock Jury" returns with a verdict.

LETTERMEN'S CHRISTMAS FORMAL

The Christmas Formal is sponsored annually by the Wilkes Lettermen's Club. The dance this year featured a beautiful winter scene as the orchestral backdrop and a huge snowman dominated the center of the floor. The group enjoyed carols sung by the Lettermen at intermission. The evening will long be remembered by all in attendance.

AWARDS BANQUET

The Thirteenth Annual Awards Banquet was held in the Commons on April 5, to honor the men and women of Wilkes who had participated in athletic events during the past year.

Awards, in the form of trophies, were given to those athletes whose ability and sportsmanship had been exemplified on the playing field.

The tribute given these sportsmen is only a small token of appreciation for the fine work they all did during the past season. They are to be commended by both the administration and student body.

MARV ANTINNES — Athlete of the Year.

AWARDS —

VALENTINE FORMAL

VALENTINE DANCE

The drab winter season was brightened by the yearly semi-formal presented by the Theta Delta Rho. In celebration of leap-year, some of the girls took the initiative to ask their favorite beaux. The girls of the sorority skillfully blended the shades of pink and red into a romantic backdrop; and delicate silhouettes and hearts transformed the gym into a royal hall fit for the reign of the King and Queen of Hearts.

CINDERELLA - 1959

Each spring the Student Government conducts a formal, the Cinderella Ball. Last year's dance featured a picturesque fairy tale motif, with sets depicting the stories of Cinderella, Little Red Riding Hood, and the Three Bears decorating the gymnasium.

The highlight of the evening, as always, was the announcement, at midnight, that Ann Dixon had been voted as the year's "Cindy." Every Wilkes co-ed is proud to be "Cindy," for this title carries with it the honor of being the choice of one's fellow students.

All the young women who attended this highly-successful extravaganza received miniature brandy snifters as favors. The festive atmosphere, augmented by the music of Jack Melton, brought one o'clock all too quickly, and everyone departed with pleasant memories.

CINDERELLA AND CANDIDATES —

First row — Jean Pyatt, Mary Louise Spinelli, Ann T. Dixon, Nancy Jayne Payne, Janice Mary Reynolds
 Second row — Nancy Edith, Beverly Gates, Lois Jean Wasserstrom, Helen Grace Miller, Marion Judith Christopher, Mary Jean Broody.

A good time was had by all.

WHY YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN SHOULD CONSIDER RETAILING BEFORE CHOOSING A CAREER

Every year at this time, young men and women get serious about this question:
what next?

Yes, after four years of school, after texts and theories, bull-sessions and books:
what next?

Where to find the job which will be good enough for a life-time?

Out of all phases of American life, which is the right one for me? Where can I find this blend of ingredients: freedom to express thoughts and ideas; a chance to learn and grow; an opportunity to work with people in a vital, ever-changing basic industry?

LOOK TO RETAILING . . . LOOK TO DEPARTMENT STORES!

Giants of modern distribution, they serve their communities diligently, tirelessly, efficiently. Proud products of the American System, they believe that profits are created through service and that community service is the result of the activities of many people, working together, thinking together, building together.

POMEROY'S is such a department store.

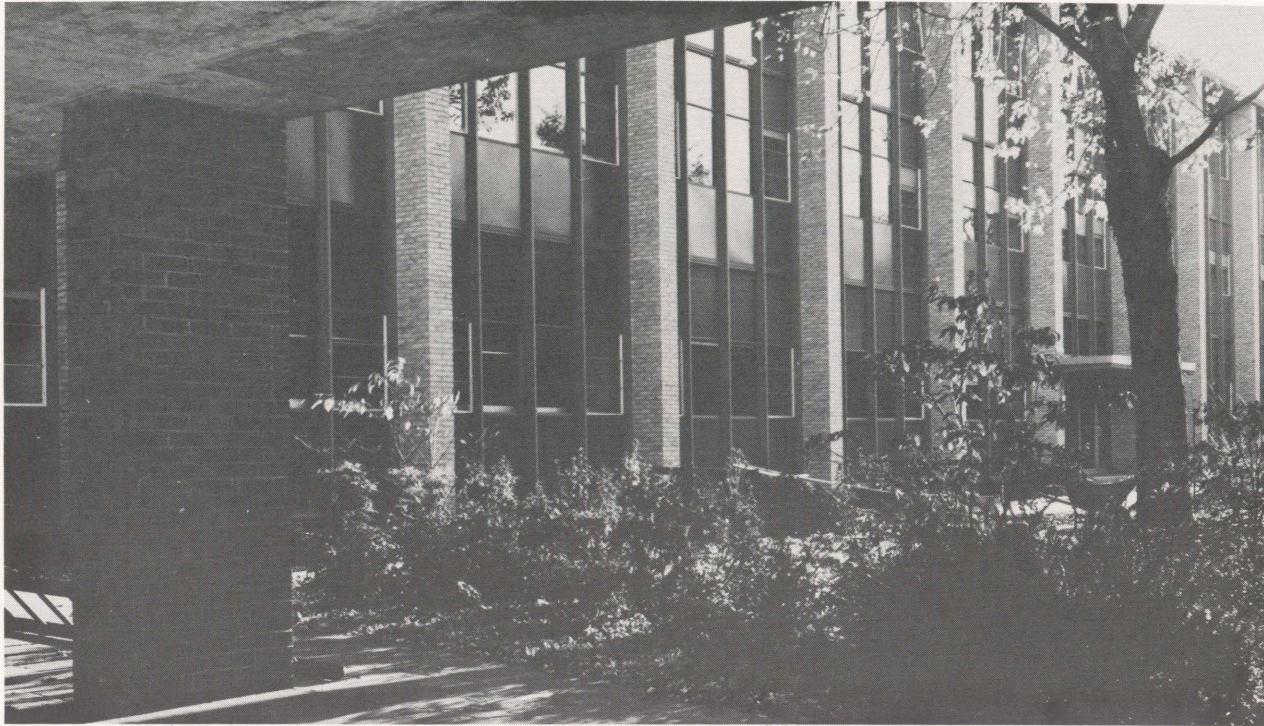

Our training program could be the first step to a great career for you.

If you would like to work with people who believe in their future, in the future of Wyoming Valley and in the future of their country . . . if you are willing to learn . . . if you have an open mind and are willing to think for yourself . . . if you recognize the need of a good day's work for a good day's pay . . .

then we think you would like to talk to us at

Pomeroy's

Pomeroy's a Wyoming Valley Institution since 1860 is a Member of the World's Greatest Department Store Family. Among Pomeroy's affiliates are such stores as Jordan Marsh (Boston), Bon Marche (Seattle), Gertz (Jamaica, Long Island), Stern's (New York City), Joske's of Texas (San Antonio and Houston), Donaldson's (Minneapolis) and over 70 other stores from coast to coast.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Now that the 1960 AMNICOLA has been completed, I would like to thank the many people who worked with me, directly or indirectly, to help produce this yearbook. Without their help, advise and criticism this job would have been impossible.

I would like to thank . . .

Llewellyn Brothers for being so patient when all the copy didn't arrive exactly on time and for giving me a great deal of help throughout the year.

John Mulhall and the members of the Senior Class for the confidence they had in me during the past year. Thanks, John.

The School Spirit Committee for the help in collecting "patrons" for the yearbook.

Gordon Roberts and the Student Government for their financial help.

Joan Leggetts for the many hours she sacrificed to help me in the layout of the yearbook. A special thanks to you, Joan.

Ken Evans, Len Yablonski, and Fred Brown for the many fine pictures they took to help produce a yearbook of which we would all be proud.

All the members of the AMNICOLA STAFF for the long Tuesday nights we spent writing copy and getting on each others nerves. Thanks a million!

The assistant editor, Bev Major, for the last minute copy she was called upon to write.

My parents for the encouragement they extended to me throughout this venture. I will always be grateful.
