

son Smith

goals for the future, but that the team will win eventually win the division by each other's abilities very well. He runs on a "ple," said Endres. Smith has seen anyone catch a valuable catches." There are indications of what football, there are big ntact

photo by Dale Ne

In PREMIERE
10,000 Maniacs arrive on Friday

Page 6

In SPORTS
Soccer team downs
Millersville 3-2

Page 2

The Beacon

Vol. 43, No. 5

WILKES UNIVERSITY'S WEEKLY

October 25, 1990

Wilkes-King's students clean-up

MICHELLE CORBETT
Special to the Beacon

Wilkes and King's students were finally able to put their money where their mouths are" on Saturday as nearly fifty students scoured the streets of the downtown picking up trash.

Approximately thirty members of the Wilkes community gathered at 9 a.m. in Stark Lobby awaiting the start of the day's clean-up. Garbage bags, donated by Boscov's, were issued to aid the students in their efforts. Wilkes was assigned an area spanning from Washington St. to Wilkes and Main Ave., while King's covered Main and Butler Sts. to the square.

Participating Wilkes students included Dave Armitage, Diana Busti, Mike Caccio, Gene Colosimo, Michelle Corbett, Rich Enders, Kenneth Etinger, Kathy Flaim, Earth and Environmental Science club president Ed Gall, Kim Gavel, Todd Hoeffner, Charlotte Hoffman, Frank Keplar, Jeff McGill, Holly Pitcavage, Sean Reilly, Eric Sullivan, Patti Skozelas, Lori Truman, Kristae Uhl, Mark Wade, and Kim Yakowski.

Earth and Environmental professors, Drs. Sid Halsor and Venkat Chebolu, and President Breiseth and his daughter Lydia, a fifth-grader at Kistler, were on hand to "pick-up" the city as well.

By noon, close to 200 hundred bags of garbage were collected. At that time, the workers rallied on the square for a recognition ceremony and prize raffle.

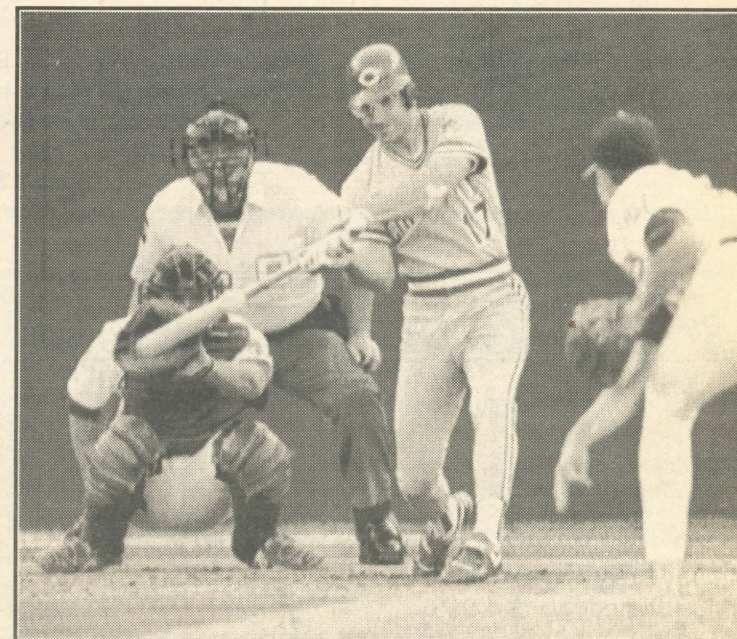

Tom Jacobs of Boscov's presented the president of the environmental club with a plaque reading, "In grateful appreciation to Wilkes University's Earth and Environmental Sciences Club for your support and dedication to the 'College Students for Cleaner Wilkes-Barre' Campaign."

Jacobs, a representative of the downtown merchants association, told the volunteers that the event would have a significant impact on the continued enhancement of the downtown area. He said that other association members should now follow this example since the "students have shown them the way."

Prizes were donated by local merchants including Boscov's, Bartikowsky Jewelers, Musical Energi, Christina, Ramada Inn, Market St. Square, Walter's Shoe Store, The Kidee Shop, Rodano's Pizza, Allied Shipping, Peking Chef, Gallery of Sound, F.M. Kirby Center, Circles, and the Book and Record Mart.

Sabo-tage!

See page 11

Job fair returns

JEFFREY C. LOBALBO
Business Editor

WILKES-BARRE — The Career Services Office of Wilkes University will be the host institution for Employment Fair XV, to be held in the Wilkes gymnasium on Thursday, November 1 from 1-4 p.m. The Employment Fair is open to students from the sponsoring institutions of Wilkes University, King's College, College Misericordia, Marywood College, and University of Scranton.

According to Eugene Domzalski, Director of Career Services at Wilkes, the Employment Fair is an annual event designed to offer career opportunities to students at the five institutions who are currently seeking employment. Each year, one of the five schools hosts the event on its campus, bringing recruiting firms from Pennsylvania and beyond to the area to meet students and discuss opportunities within their

This year's Employment Fair will feature over 70 firms from Pennsylvania, New York,

New Jersey, Washington D.C., Maryland, and Virginia who offer employment in such areas as health sciences, computer sciences, business and economics, legal services, and military service.

"We usually receive 80 to 100 business for the fair," said Dorothy Price, Career Services Employee. Because of the economic slump, unfortunately, we will have to settle for a lesser number of businesses."

Students in all areas of study are encouraged to attend the fair and distribute their resumes to prospective employers. In addition to meeting with these firms, each participating student will receive a Guidebook featuring information on all forms and organizations in attendance. There is no charge to the student for participation in Employment Fair XV.

Students at Wilkes University, King's College, College Misericordia, Marywood College, or University of Scranton who are interested in Employment Fair XV are asked to contact respective Career Service Centers, or the Wilkes University Career Service Center at 824-4651, ext. 4063.

BLOOD DRIVE

Our first Blood Drive will be held on Thursday, November 1st, 1990, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the basement of the Marts Center. We're hoping to make this year even more successful than last year!

The Student Health Advisory Council will be serving chili dogs. After donating blood, have lunch on us!

The prizes are:

- 1st PRIZE — 2 tickets to see "Anything Goes" At the Kirby Center.
- 2nd PRIZE — Lunch for two at the Ramada (formerly Sheraton Crossgates).
- 3rd. PRIZE — Lunch for two at Perugino's.
- 4th PRIZE — 1 large Domino's Pizza with a topping.
- Staff/Faculty Prize — Fresh flower centerpiece. Compliments of Washington Florist.
- Commuter Prize — $15.00 gas fill-up. Compliments of Commuter Council.
- Dorm Prize — Cash prizes for the top three dorms with the highest percentage of students donating.

Prizes compliments of IRHC.

Saudi officials censor publication

By TAREK HAMADA

Apple College Information Network

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia — Sgt. Jay Watson did a double-take when he saw a military magazine mailed to him.

All he could see on the cover was the head of a woman who appeared to be sitting on a horse.

What happened to her body?

A Saudi Ministry of Information censor covered the clothed body with white stickers.

"Why would you put stickers over her body?" asked Watson, 28, who couldn't remember the magazine's name because he tossed it aside so quickly. "We're Americans — we like to see flesh."

But you're in Saudi Arabia, now, Sgt. Watson — not back home in Birmingham, Ala. In a land that strictly adheres to Islamic law, newspaper and magazine photos showing skin are wiped out with stickers or strokes of a felt-tip pen. Personal letters aren't opened, Saudi officials stress.

"Islam says that women should be covered except for their hands, feet and face," said Jasim Alyagoot of the Ministry of Information. "We have been raised under Islam, and we don't want Muslim people to see this."

They don't want soldiers to see skin of any type, either. So forget about mailing Playboy, Playgirl or even magazines with swimsuit and lingerie ads to soldiers.

Most Saudis are followers of the stern Wahabi sect, which interprets Muslim doctrines literally.

To that end, the censors leave fingerprints on British, German, French and American publications. A sampling:

— The Sept. 20 issue of Bunte magazine, Germany's version of People, is a collection of covered-up cleavage. An eagle-eyed censor used a pen to wipe out Ivana Trump's bust, as well the busts of Madonna, Princess Stephanie of Monaco and Italian porn star/politician Ilona Staller.

— Even old pictures of legendary femme fatales get the literal brush-off. In the Oct. 7 London Sunday Times, the censor covered most of a 1959 photo that showed Elizabeth Taylor filming "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof." In the Oct. 6 France Soir, Marlene Dietrich's famous legs are covered.

Army Sgt. Todd Spain of Abilene, Texas, couldn't believe it when he saw a drawing of a woman in a Digest that was covered with felt-tip pen ink.

"Reader's Digest?" Spain said. "I mean, what's the problem?"

Sgt. John Pierce said the censor tore many pages from Time magazine. "Time is something normal to us," he said. "It seems a bit excessive."

"Get used to it," said Alyagoot of the Information Ministry.

"If Islam says women can't reveal themselves, there's nothing to debate," he said. "Islam is a religion that can't change it or play with it."

Several U.S. officers said they agree with Alyagoot. "We need to respect the country's ways and customs," said Air Force Lt. Col. Doug Cole of Medford, N.J.

"We usually are when we go overseas," he said. "We have to respect their laws."

All the soldiers said the issue is a minor distraction from their duty.

They said the memories of their spouses or families at home are enough to keep them going.

"I think about my wife, Ann, all the time," said Spain as he shook his head. "The anticipation is making me

Programming board attends regional meeting in Lancaster

By NICOLETTE YEIVICH

Special to the Beacon

LANCASTER — Members of the Wilkes University Programming Board were in attendance at the National Association for Campus Activities Regional Conference held in Lancaster.

Paul Preston, Film Chairperson, Roseann Serpico, Board Member, and others, were chosen to represent the school through their level of involvement within the programming board.

The theme of this year's conference was "Building a Strong Foundation." Communication was stressed throughout the activities and interaction was required by all.

The conference offered a series of activities such as seminars, lectures, showcases, exhibits, and a film screening from 8:30 am to 1 pm.

Seminars and lecture topics varied from publicity, leadership, and motivation to personal values, ethics, and multiculturalism.

One of the most important parts of the conference deals with networking or cooperative buying which helps agents and schools to plan dates and routing schedules for particular acts.

The showcases feature comedy acts, bands, solo music performers, and other acts such as a hypnotist, jugglers, and magicians.

Films are a major part of programming at many colleges, and three newly released movies were shown, including, RoboCop, Gremlins 2: The New Batch, and Total Recall.

Wilkes contracted two acts before the conference including Gary Delaney, a comic scheduled to appear April 13th, and The Bandits, an a cappella group which will perform March 9th.

Eight hundred students and faculty members attended the N.A.C.A. conference at schools in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, and Maryland. Students learned more effective methods of serving the campus through entertainment.

Clark resigns as editor

Jim Clark has announced his resignation as editor-in-chief of the Beacon to devote more time to his academic studies.

Student Government Events

Maniacs

• Tickets for Friday's 10,000 Maniacs concert are still available at a cost of $10 for students and $15 for the general public.

Halloween Bash

• A Halloween dance will be held Saturday in Rumours. Admission is free for those who wear a costume.

Volunteers Needed

• Boscov's is asking members of the Wilkes community to assist the handicapped during the store's pre-business hours. For further information contact Bill Hannigan at 822-7431.

Tie a Yellow Ribbon

• In honor of U.S. troops in Saudi Arabia, ribbons will be available in Stark Lobby on Tuesday, Oct. 30.

Freshman Elections

• S.G. Freshman Class elections will be held November 1. Candidates include Joanne Deluca, Frank Capuano for President; Laura Kutz for Vice President; Inna Kasper, Kathy Smith for Treasurer; and Gail Humphrey, Suzanne Bianchi for Representative.

Compiled by Colette Simone

This Week
at Wilkes
Oct. 26-Nov. 1

26

Friday

Concert and Lecture Series Presents Count Dracula Lecture, 8 p.m., CPA WUPB Double Feature, "Back to the Future," parts II and III, 7 & 9:30 p.m., SLC 101

27

Saturday

IRHC/CC Halloween Party, Rumours Men's Soccer, Susquehanna, 1 p.m. Volleyball-Muhlenburg, 11 a.m. Football-Widener, 1:30 p.m. Cross Country-Dickinson

28

Sunday

See Redskins Scalp Giants, 4 p.m. CBS

29

Mo

Wilkes forms housing awareness board

By MICHELLE CORBETT
Special to the Beacon

In an effort to raise awareness and combat the issue of substandard housing in the Luzerne County area, Wilkes University has organized a Housing Awareness Board.

The establishment of the Board is the result of an intercollegiate network for the support of affordable housing in Northeastern Pennsylvania and the receipt of a mini-grant from Campus Compact.

Pennsylvania Campus Compact member institutions Wilkes and Bloomsburg Universities have invited King's College, Penn State-Wilkes Barre, and Luzerne County Community College to form a collegiate coalition to address issues of affordable housing in our region.

While each of the campuses will develop its own community service programs and agenda, the coalition will provide an opportunity for the institutions to consolidate their efforts and to capitalize on pooled energies, experience, and talents.

The collegiate alliance will affiliate local agencies and volunteer organizations to increase the personnel available to work in support of those in need in the community. An intercollegiate Student Advisory Board (SAB), with representatives from each campus, will meet at least once a month to develop projects in an effort to raise awareness through educational programming.

Mary Martino, Student Services Coordinator, and Paul Adams, Associate Dean of Student Affairs, are the Administrative representatives from Wilkes. Wilkes University will be the fiscal manager for the program, and will provide administrative assistance to the network through Martino's office.

Both intercollegiate and individual campus projects will be organized and carried out in collaboration with local community service organizations. These organizations include Habitat for Humanity, the Commission on Economic Opportunity (CEO), the Keystone Job Corps, REACH, VISION, and the Victims Resource Center.

The primary project currently being worked on by the alliance is the completion of a home in Lake Township. A handful of Wilkes students have participated thus far, and a visit is planned for the coming weekend for the purpose of completing construction. Interested students should contact Michelle Corbett, student coordinator, by 4 p.m. on Friday.

The first intercollegiate session will be held in Bloomsburg on Saturday, November 10 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The session will focus around the renovation of the Bloomsburg Area Victim's Resource Center. Participants will be asked to engage in light work such as painting, lettering, and graphic wall design. An informal educational seminar will be held. The deadline for registration is October 30.

An information night and first meeting of Wilkes Housing Awareness Board is also scheduled for this coming Monday, October 29, from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the Annette Evans Alumni House. Faculty and staff members are welcome.

Job Fair Update!

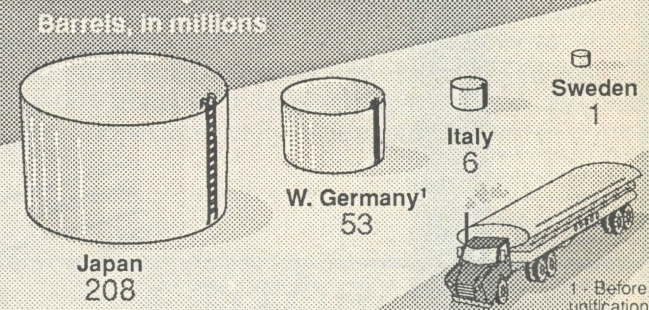

Attention Juniors and Seniors! Here is the list of the employers attending the November 1 Job Fair for all who are interested

A.G. Newell and Assoc.
Agway Energy Products
Allentown Valve & Fitting Co.
Allied Services
Altec Industries/Sterling Industries
Ames Dept. Stores, Inc.
Becker CPA Review
Blue Cross of NEPA
C-TEC Corporation
Chamberlain Mfg. Corp.
Dept. of Veteran Affairs, Medical Center
Dept. of Public Welfare
Diocese of Scranton-Office of Vocation
FASTENAL Company
Federal Aviation Administration
Federal Bureau of Investigation
First Eastern Bank
General Services Administration
Glen Mills Schools
Harris Semiconductor
Hibbard Brown & Co., Inc.
I.R.S., Internal Audit Division
Ingersoll-Rand Company
Internal Revenue Service
Jamesway Corporation
John Hancock Financial Services
KMart Apparel
Kolmar Labs, Inc.
Loral Controls
Management Training Corp.
Mary Kay Cosmetics
Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co.
Merck & Company, Inc.

Mutual of New York
National Park Service
Nestle-Beich, Inc.
New York Chiropractic College
Northeastern Mutual Life
OI-NEG TV Products
PA Dept. of Revenue-Bureau of Audits
PA Dept. of Environmental Resources
PA State Civil Service Commission
PA Gas and Water Co.
Pennsylvania National Bank
Pennsylvania Power and Light
Pennsylvania State Police
The Prudential Asset Management Co.
Rea. & Derick/Peoples Drug
Sallie Mae Student Loan Marketing Assoc.
School District of Philadelphia
Scranton Pocono Girl Scout Council
Shared Medical Services
State Farm Insurance Co.
Step-by-Step
Strawbridge and Clothier
Temple University Graduate School
Texaco, Co.
The Leslie Fay Companies
The Prudential-Northeast Penn Agency
Third National Bank & Trust Co.
United Penn Bank
United States Air Force
United States Navy
Weis Markets, Inc.
Wilkes-Barre General Hospital
Wyoming Valley Job Center
Metropolitan Life

U.S. tops in oil reserves

The United States has 590 million barrels of government-owned emergency crude oil, the largest such reserve in the world. Western industrialized countries with government reserves:

Source: Emergency Information Administration

John Sherlock, GNS

The above chart illustrates a comparison of the oil reserves in the countries of the world.

CAPITAL CLEANING SERVICE

Wanted: Part-time help nights for cleaning in the Wyoming Valley Area 10-20 hours a week
salary approximately $5.00/hour
Call: (717) 288-9160 for answering service
leave name and number

Monday

30

Tuesday

CC Meeting, 11:45 a.m.
Bio Club Meeting, 11 a.m.
Men's Soccer-Elmira, 2:30 p.m.

31

Wednesday

Halloween
SG Meeting, 6:30 p.m.

1

Thursday

Elections for SG Freshmen Reps
Bloodmobile-Rumours
NE Pennsylvania Employment Fair, 1 p.m.-4 p.m., Marts Center
Faculty Meeting, 11 a.m., SLC 101
BACCHUS Meeting, 11 a.m.
WUPB Meeting, 11:30 a.m.

Here's a cheap roommate you'll actually like.

Trying to stretch dollars when you're computer shopping doesn't mean you're willing to make sacrifices.

That's why you should consider the new, affordable Macintosh[®] Classic[®] computer.

It has everything you need—including a monitor, keyboard, mouse, 2 megabytes of RAM, and a 40-megabyte hard disk. Just plug everything in and the Macintosh Classic is ready to run, because the system software is already installed.* And, thanks to the Macintosh computer's legendary ease of use, you'll be up and running in no time.

Like every Macintosh, the Classic can run thousands of available applications that all work in the same, consistent way—so once you've learned one program, you're well on your way to learning them all. And this is one cheap roommate that doesn't have trouble sharing. The Apple[®] SuperDrive[™]—standard equipment with every Macintosh—reads from and writes to Macintosh, MS-DOS, OS/2, and Apple II floppy disks, which means you can share information with someone who uses a different type of computer.

See the Macintosh Classic for yourself. It'll change your mind about cheap roommates.

For further information contact:

John Koch, SLC Room 442, Ext. 4838
Joe Bellucci, SLC Room 113, Ext. 4674
Anne Kilyanek, SLC Room 113, Ext. 4670

* Macintosh Classic computers purchased before January 1991 include system software on floppy disks; software is not installed.
©1990 Apple Computer, Inc. Apple, the Apple logo, and Macintosh are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc. SuperDrive and "The power to be your best" are trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc. Classic is a registered trademark licensed to Apple Computer, Inc. MS-DOS is a registered trademark of Microsoft Corporation. OS/2 is a registered trademark of International Business Machines Corporation.

 The power to be your best.™

Letter

Dear Editor:

I would like who showed u Clean-up. I feel serious impact o Wilkes-Barre. W students are su stereotype in the residents.

Also, I feel th o Wilkes-Barre a may not have be although that is in When studen Saturday, that sho conviction to what others will be enco Wilkes stud hesiveness, too o attended the mber from King In closing, I ain for coming ent. A valuabl environment and th

The

Wilkes Univ

VOL. 43 NO. 4

Rated as a First Class news by the Associa

1990

JOHN T. GORDON

TOM C

VAUGH

JEFFREY C. L

JOHN M

JOHN T. GOR

RA

ANDREA SILV

DONNA YE

TOM OBRZU

ZOE SWA

ADV

PUBL

SEPT 13, 20, 2

JAN 31; FEB 7, 14

EDITORIAL REP

ON EDITORIAL ST

INDIVIDUAL WRITER

PROVIDED THEY AR

NEEDING THIS LENG

SPACE. ALL LETT

WITHHELD.

ADDRESS — 3RD

PHONE

THE FORUM

Letters to the editors

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank all of the students who showed up at the Environmental Clean-up. I feel that we did indeed make a serious impact on the people of downtown Wilkes-Barre. We showed that not all college students are susceptible to the typical stereotype in the minds of some of the local residents.

Also, I feel that we did a valuable service to Wilkes-Barre and to the environment. It may not have been so much what we did, although that is important too, but that we did it. When students get up at 9 a. m. on a Saturday, that shows that they have a strong conviction to what they are doing. Hopefully, others will be encouraged to follow us.

Wilkes students showed a type of cohesiveness, too. The number of students who attended the clean-up nearly tripled the number from King's.

In closing, I would like to thank you again for coming out and helping with this event. A valuable service was done to the environment and the city of Wilkes-Barre.

Sincerely,
Ed Gall
President, Earth and Environmental Sciences Club

Alcohol week a success

Dear Editor:

I would like to publicly thank all of those involved in the planning of events for National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week. The week was extremely successful in promoting a greater awareness among students regarding the use and abuse of alcohol on college campuses.

The collaborative efforts of Student Government, Inter-Residence Hall Council, Commuter Council, B.A.C.C.H.U.S., Residence Life, Campus Counseling, and Health Services demonstrated how students and administrators can work together in enhancing campus life at Wilkes. Alcohol continues to be the drug of choice among college students. National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week helped demonstrate that students can have a good time without drinking, promote responsible drinking when alcohol is present, and educate students to better understand the psychological and physiological effects of alcohol abuse. The programs presented during the week did not center around total abstinence, but rather on choice and responsibility.

Through a better understanding of the issues, individuals are in a better position to make sensible choices regarding alcohol.

As alcohol continues to be a leading cause of injuries and deaths among college students, it is imperative to educate and offer alternatives. The groups which put together this week unselfishly gave of their time and energy to benefit the entire campus community. Thank you.

Respectfully Submitted,
Mark Allen
Associate Dean of Student Affairs

The Beacon ...

The Beacon has been an excellent college newspaper during the three years that I have been a member of the staff. This is because there has traditionally been a strong nucleus or bond between the staff and its writers. The staff has gone through numerous turnarounds; some for the good of the Beacon, and others that caused temporary setbacks.

The Beacon underwent a tremendous turnaround this week when the editorial positions were reassigned. However, the rest of the staff and I guarantee that this turnover will in no way be a setback.

The members of this institution plan to maintain a newspaper of exceptional quality during the 1990-91 academic year. We are going to continue to exhibit the quality that has been present in the Beacon since the first issue of this year. That quality has been evident in the paper's graphic design as well as its content.

There are going to be several people out there who disagree about the content quality of the previous Beacons this year. Those disagreements, however, are not for the current Beacon staff to worry about. We have one goal in mind, and one only, to put out a respectable college newspaper.

John T. Gordon

EDITORIAL

in transition

I want to emphasize that, as the new co-editor of the Beacon, I am not out to lock horns with the administration of Wilkes University. I will do my best to see that all of my editorials are as fair as possible to all parties involved.

As many people know, as a former news editor, I know that there are two sides in every situation. In my new position, I will inform the Wilkes community of things that I would like to see changed, but not by embarrassing people. If I see a problem on campus, I will attempt to speak to all parties involved, and my response will be the result of those discussions.

In return for my fairness, I ask that you be a little more tolerant with us. In the past, there have been numerous complaints about announcements not appearing, stories not covered, etc. Please remember that there are things called deadlines. In addition, we may not be able to find room for your story, but I assure you that we will try our best.

Thank you for your attention.

Jeffrey C. LoBalbo

At The Beacon

THUMBS UP! A toast to National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week.

THUMBS DOWN! To the teenagers who were harassing a homeless person on Public Square.

The Beacon

Wilkes University's Weekly

VOL. 43 NO. 4 OCTOBER 18, 1990

Maintains a First Class newspaper with one mark of distinction
by the Associated Collegiate Press

1990-91 EDITORIAL STAFF

JOHN T. GORDON EDITORS JEFFREY C. LoBALBO

TOM OBRZUT..... MANAGING EDITOR

VAUGHN A. SHINKUS..... NEWS EDITOR

JEFFREY C. LoBALBO..... ASSISTANT NEWS EDITOR

JOHN McLAUGHLIN..... FEATURE EDITOR

JOHN T. GORDON..... ASSISTANT FEATURE EDITOR

RAY OTT..... SPORTS EDITOR

ANDREA SILVI..... COPY EDITOR AND SPORTS LAYOUT

DONNA YEDLOCK..... PHOTOGRAPHY EDITOR

TOM OBRZUT..... BUSINESS AND DISTRIBUTION

ZOE SWARTZ..... ADVERTISING MANAGER

ADVISOR..... MR. TOM BIGLER

PUBLICATION GUIDE (1990-91)

SEPT 13, 20, 27; OCT 18, 25; NOV 1, 8, 15, 29; DEC 6

JAN 31; FEB 7, 14, 28; MAR 7, 14, 21; APR 11, 18, 25; MAY 2

EDITORIAL POLICY

EDITORIAL REPRESENTS THE COLLECTIVE VIEW OF THE BEACON EDITORIAL STAFF. ALL OTHER VIEWS ARE THOSE OF THE INDIVIDUAL WRITER. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR ARE WELCOMED, PROVIDED THEY ARE NO LONGER THAN 500 WORDS. LETTERS EXCEEDING THIS LENGTH MAY BE EDITED OR REJECTED ON TERMS OF SPACE. ALL LETTERS MUST BE SIGNED, AND NAMES WILL NOT BE WITHHELD.

ADDRESS — 3RD FLOOR, CONYNGHAM STUDENT CENTER,

WILKES-BARRE, PA 18766

PHONE — (717) 824-4651, EXT. 2962

PREMIERE

There's no SUBstitute for Tom Martin

JOHN T. GORDON
Beacon Editor

If you go to the SUB at the Conyngham Student Center for a bite to eat, you will most likely be greeted with a friendly salutation by Tom... Tom... Tom, oh yeh! Tom Martin.

"I don't think anyone knows my last name," stated Tom. "The students know me as Tom or Tommy, but that's it." Regardless, he has been an integral part of the Wilkes community for the past 26 years.

In 1964, he worked for M.W. Wood catering in the original commons which used to be situated behind the library. It was there where he began his 26 years of devoted service to Wilkes as a member of the food service. The service provided food for dorm students and also acted as a snack bar for commuters.

Two years into his career, Tom became a member of the cafeteria staff in the new complex in the Pickering dorm. It was in 1968 when he was offered the position of night shift supervisor at the original commons behind the library. He willingly accepted the offer, and Martin looked forward to the chance to work with a crew of Wilkes students. "I loved working with the students, and I still see many of them today, years after we worked together."

In 1980, the Conyngham building became the new location for the snack bar, or as it is known today, the SUB.

Tom continued to serve as the night supervisor when the SUB became his new place of business. He recalls the Conyngham children, who attended Wilkes in the 70's and early 80's, telling him stories of how they used to play between the floors and hide underneath the stairs of the spacious building.

Tom has a very spacious or open personality. He always greets the community with a smile. However, he feels bad when students think that he is ignoring them when they wave to him. On the contrary, Tom would like the Wilkes students to understand that he is visually handicapped and that he reacts mostly to the spoken word.

Since this is the written word, the only thing that can be said... I mean written, is thank you Tom, for your dedication and kindness throughout your years here at Wilkes.

Tom retired from the supervisor position at the beginning of this semester, but he still manages to do everything he possibly can to help out the SUB staff.

Tom Martin in the dining area at the SUB

A sound investment

By JOHN McLAUGHLIN
Beacon Feature Editor

WILKES-BARRE — Ticket sales for tomorrow night's performance of 10,000 Maniacs have been slow. The Programming Board is confident, however, that there will be a respectable turnout.

"Sales are slow but much better than the Psychedelic Furs concert," said Nicolette Yevich, Board member in charge of ticket sales. "People usually wait until the last minute to buy tickets, and tickets are also being sold at the door, so we should do alright."

As of last night, total ticket sales numbered 900, however the Programming Board has even higher expectations.

"We're shooting for 1000," Yevich said, "but 1500 would be super."

Craig Larimer, Chairman of the Programming Board, expressed a concern for the lack of student support in past events.

"Some students say that they don't like the Furs or they don't like 10,000 Maniacs," Larimer explained, "but we need student backing to attract bigger acts, it's as simple as that."

Tickets may be purchased today and tomorrow in Stark Lobby from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. They may also be purchased at the Marts Center tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Prices are 10 dollars for students, who must present a Wilkes ID to purchase at that price, and 15 dollars for the general public. Ticket prices will not be raised at the door.

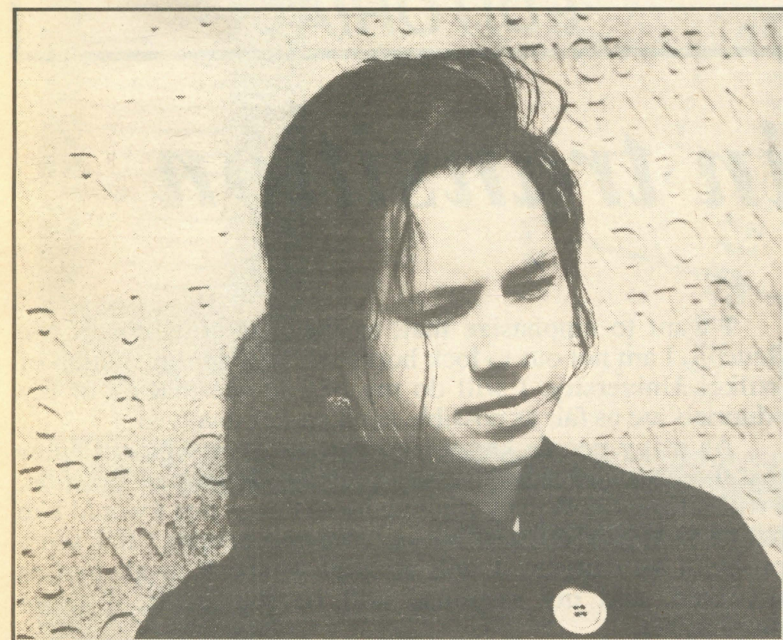

The doors of the Marts Center will open at 7, and a special guest, to be announced, take the stage at 8.

"Students really should come out and show some support for the show even if they're unsure of the 10,000 Maniacs investment," Larimer, "They can think of it as an investment."

Checkin' the sale

Classic Maniacs

By ANDREA SILVI
Beacon Copy Editor

WILKES-BARRE— 10,000 Maniacs latest album, Hope Chest, combines songs from many of their "classic" 80's tracks to produce an album which accurately defines the band's distinctive rock-folk sound.

Songs like "Planned Obsolescence," "Orange," and "Anthem For Doomed Youth" are reproduced on the Hope Chest album. This newest album provides a chance for Maniac fans to rediscover the original sounds which catapulted the band to fame. Wilkes students will get their chance to "rediscover" 10,000 Maniacs when the band visits Wilkes on Friday, October 26 at 8 p.m.

By CATHY SLEBODNIK

Are conc

Becky Stein
Junior
Yes, I think their good and I'm happy
got a band that re views of colleg

Sandy Boz
Sophom
No, because I hav interest in

Joe Bil
Junior
What night is that

OPINION IN FOCUS

By CATHY SLEBODNIK

By MARY ANN BOBKOWSKI

Martin Are you going to the 10,000 Maniacs concert on Friday? Why or why not?

Becky Steinberger
Junior

Yes, I think their music is really good and I'm happy that Wilkes got a band that relates with the views of college students.

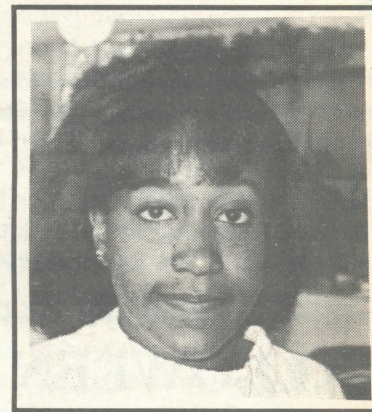

Cory Schwoyer
Freshman

No, because I had other plans before I heard about the concert, but I do like them.

Judy Durilla
Freshman

No, because I don't like their music.

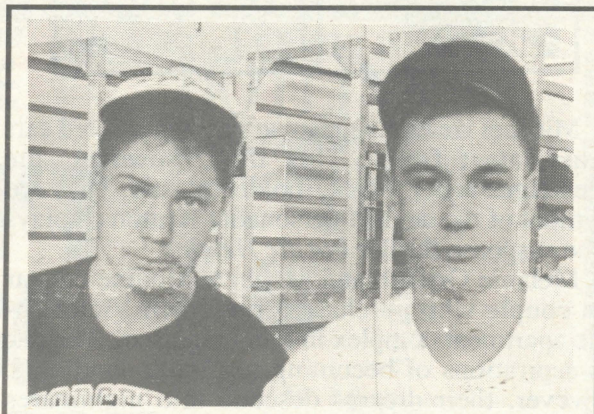

Theresa Inniss
Freshman

Yes, and I'm on the hospitality committee.

Sandy Bozenbury
Sophomore

No, because I have no particular interest in them.

Tim Snyder and Brad Trager
Freshmen

No, we have a New Kids concert to go to that night, but it was a tough decision.

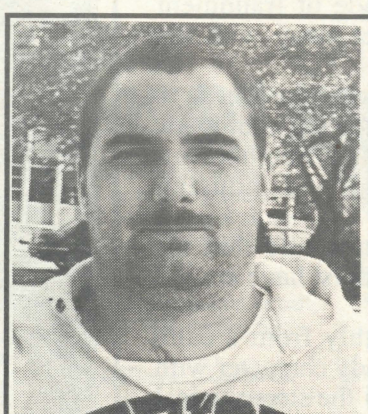

Kim Zoka
Senior

No, because I work that night.

Joe Bilko
Junior

What night is that concert again?

Mike Scott
Junior

No, it's not my kind of music.

Dave Orsheski
Sophomore

No, because I think they suck.

Terry Elias
Junior

No, because I already made plans.

Music world mourns loss

American composer passes on

It's hard to imagine the world without Leonard Bernstein. The great composer/conductor died last week of a heart attack complicated by lung disease.

The 72-year-old Bernstein had retired from his podium just three days before, stating that he would still be around to "advise and educate." Fate did not have it that way.

Although he was a classical composer who produced four major symphonies and the famous "Chinchester Hymns," Bernstein will always be remembered best as a man of the theater. Bernstein's scores to West Side Story and On the Town have become classics of the American theater genre. Who can forget the lilting themes resounded in the love-struck Tony's Act I solo, "Maria," or the exhilarating Latin rhythms of Anita and Bernardo's sarcastic "America?"

Stephen Sondheim, who wrote the libretto for West Side Story, described Bernstein as "the greatest and most energetic composer of his day."

"My friend will earn a place in musical history," Sondheim added.

Bernstein was born of Russian-Jewish parents and began his musical career later than most greats. He started piano at age 11. By the time he was 21, Bernstein had written 18 compositions and was advised by critics to stay out of music! Time proved the critics to be sadly disillusioned, and Bernstein went on to become the greatest serious composer of his day and a well-known celebrity — something extremely rare for a composer.

Stage Door

Paul Winarski

"His death is a great loss. He was the American composer to conduct a symphony," explained James Harrington, Music Department. "He had a tremendous influence on the musical world."

Critic or admirer, one cannot deny the presence of greatness in Leonard Bernstein. He may not be able to hear our praises any longer, but Leonard Bernstein, immortalized in the world of music, certainly will be praised for generations to come.

HALLOWEEN DANCE

Saturday Night
October 27, 1990
In RUMOURS
9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Keaton: Terror Tenant

Beacon
at the Box Office

John Gordon

Michael Keaton appears to possess pointed ears in his latest film. This time, however, the appendages aren't black, molded plastic. They are a symbol of the devilish personality Keaton displays in the suspense thriller Pacific Heights.

Melanie Griffith and Matthew Modine co-star as a couple who purchase a run-down Victorian-style apartment complex in San Francisco. The duo has aspirations of becoming profitable landlords. However, their dreams descend into nightmares when they take in a mysterious tenant, Carter Hayes, played with a maniacal touch by Keaton.

Hayes comes across as the typical urban yuppie upon his first meeting with Melanie Griffith while applying for one of the apartment modules in the complex. However, suspicions begin to surface when Keaton shows a desperate need for obtaining the apartment. He has a multitude of fraudulent credentials that allow him to get away with his phony front.

This is only the beginning. Keaton proceeds to tighten his grip of terror on the innocent couple by changing his door lock, infesting neighboring apartments with cockroaches, and housing undesirable guests.

Michael Keaton succeeds in a role that his Batman co-star, Jack Nicholson, must have envied from a distance.

Keaton converts very smoothly from a calm and collected individual into a shady character with a sadistic grin. He reminds you of the stereotypical liar who would stand before you as if nothing happened, even though you know the truth.

The truth about this film is that it comes straight out of the Hitchcock genre, but it is a separate entity of artistic film making.

Director John Schlesinger dabbles with some unique brush strokes of lighting in some of the more suspenseful and terrifying sequences.

In one scene the electricity goes on the wall and Melanie Griffith goes into the basement to check the fuse box. When she does so, she finds what appears to be Keaton sitting in the driver's seat of his Porsche. A streaking, misty blue light outlines the silhouette of the terrorizing tenant. This camera shot is just one example of the numerous techniques Schlesinger uses to develop a true and chilling shocker.

If you check all the references for Pacific Heights, you will see that it is truly a work of a tenant at the box office this fall.

Pacific Heights Grade= 3.5

Michael Keaton.....Carter Hayes
Melanie Griffith.....Patty Palmer
Matthew Modine.....Drake Palmer

A cautious Melanie Griffith

Lady Remington Jewelry

Needs Demonstrators For The Holiday Season

No Investment

Excellent Commission Paid

We also do home shows & fund raisers

Call Maureen for free details at 655-6002

Soccer

(continued from page 7)

At the start of the season, the Colonels scored two goals in the first half, won the contest 2-0. The goals of the season sequence by him over the defense headed it to She. Both teams minutes, but Wilkes came c Colonel played midfielder Phil

Ve

Soccer

(continued from page 12)

At the start of the second half, Millersville scored two goals in four minutes and had the Colonels on their heels. Shenefield, however, won the contest with one of the prettiest team goals of the year. Lenczycki started the sequence by hitting a right-footed corner kick over the defense to Steve Moloney who headed it to Shenefield.

Both teams had chances in the last thirty minutes, but no goals were scored, and Wilkes came out on top. The win had the Colonels pumped up. Sophomore midfielder Phil Joyce commented on the win in the Colonels' locker room, "It was a great win, hopefully this can get us considered for the N. C. A. A.'s at the end of the year."

The Colonels look to tie the school record for wins Saturday when they take on Susquehanna at 1:00 at Ralston Field. The team will then finish the season at home next Tuesday versus nationally ranked Elmira at 2:30. If the Colonels can pull off a pair of impressive performances, they may find themselves playing in post-season action for the second year in a row.

Spikers in transition

By MAUREEN MANGAN
Beacon Sports Writer

The catch word for the Wilkes volleyball team this season is transition. After 13 years of coaching, Doris Saricino has passed the torch to Theresa Gozik-Tyson, last year's assistant coach.

In her first year as head coach, Gozik-Tyson's goal was a smooth transition. She wanted to get the team member accustomed to her methods of coaching and her expectations. Gozik-Tyson attributes the difficult 3-13 season to the low turnout, as only eight players tried out.

The team is also a very young one. The two oldest players are juniors, and the rest are sophomores and freshmen. This gives Gozik-Tyson high expectations for the 1991 season. After a year of playing together, she feels they will be stronger.

Lisa Kravitz, a 1989 Wilkes graduate, is the team's assistant coach. Kravitz feels the season has been a transitional one. But she also has high expectations for next year.

Sue Ketner, a sophomore, has turned in an outstanding performance thus far. She is the team's strongest hitter and best blocker. Gozik-Tyson calls her "an all-around good player who was well coached in high school."

Mary Jo Moses, also a sophomore, is the team's setter. Kathy Monahan, a junior, is the team's captain. Monahan has displayed a positive attitude and has kept the team in high spirits throughout the season. Monahan is looking forward to next year.

"We have pulled together since the beginning of the season and worked well together considering the coaching change and the new players," said Monahan. "Hopefully next year some more players will walk on and we will have a successful season."

Vermont Ski Trip!

February 14-18, 1990

$75 Deposit Due Tues., Oct 30.

For More Info, Contact Gay Meyers/ext. 4036

SPECIAL REPORT, 8B

'90 NEW MODELS

Line blur between cars and vans

Muscle Trucks

Behind-the-wheel look at hot vans

NCAA LINE

LIFE

Celebrated

Crossword

Homepage

Television

TAX HELP HOTLINE

Fashions of 1990

Special to USA

Fashions of the include a wide and new major a number of fashion design women, but number of started to in many fabrics are a f their p

Summer Movies

INSIDE TALK

BY DAN DORFMAN

SPECIAL REPORT: 1A

CHEMICALS NEXT DOOR

BASEBALL

SPRING TRAINING GUIDE

See how your team is shaping up!

USA AT PLAY

LOOK AHEAD TO THE '90s

Money

Ask Money 28

Loan Refinancing 28

Investing 28

Your Money Plan 48

WEATHER ACROSS THE USA

Particulate Shelters in various states, light snow, partly cloudy in the north.

SUPER BOWL

Air fares to t

By Dr. USA

When you fly, you'll find the best prices on the web.

SPORTS

Baseball

Golf

Football

Lacrosse

State-by-state

Keep informed about the changing world around you in NEWS, see how to prepare for your taxes in MONEY, keep on top of all the action in SPORTS and get the latest trends in film, fashion and fitness in LIFE.

Sign up now by completing the coupon, or call us toll-free at 1-800-USA-0001, and ask for Operator 513.

ORDER NOW & SAVE!

☒ YES, PLEASE SEND ME USA TODAY FOR THE TERM CHECKED BELOW.

Choose your savings:

☐ 52 weeks for $87.10
(Save $42.90)

☐ 39 weeks for $65.25
(Save $32.25)

☐ 26 weeks for $43.50
(Save $21.50)

☐ 13 weeks for $21.75
(Save $10.75)

Name _____ (please print)

Address _____

City/State/Zip _____

Phone(_____) _____

Payment method:

☐ Check Enclosed (payable to USA TODAY) ☐ Bill me

Charge my: ☐ VISA ☐ MC ☐ AMEX

Credit Card # _____

Exp. Date _____

Signature (if paying by credit card) _____

For faster service, call 1-800-USA-0001,
ask for Operator 513

MAIL TO: USA TODAY,
Subscription Processing,
PO Box 7878,
Washington, DC 20044-7878

USA TODAY

Same day mail and home delivery available in selected areas. Mail delivery available throughout the USA. Savings based on newsstand rates. Renewals and extensions must include payment. Offer expires Dec. 31, 1990.

1V 2V 3V 4V

ACA-AC

I would've bought a Macintosh even without the student discount

Greg Gallent
Consumer Economics and Housing
Cornell University

"The first time I saw a Macintosh, I was immediately hooked. It's a work of art. I saw the student pricing and my next move was obvious: get one.

"Some other computers are cheaper, but they're a pain to learn, and working on them can be a grueling experience. Last year, a friend bought another kind of computer against my advice and has used it for maybe 15 hours. What a waste.

"Macintosh, on the other hand, is a logical extension of the mind. It lets you concentrate on what's in your paper, not on how to get it on paper. You can create professional-looking documents in minutes, and you lose the fear of learning new programs because they all work in the same way.

"Once you've worked with a Macintosh, there's no turning back."

For further information visit or call
Stark Learning Center Room 113
824-4651 x4674

Why do people love Macintosh?
Ask them.

By JOHN
Beacon Featu

The Oak
their brash p
After four ga that same ba away, but we

"We wan
Canseco befo wish, regreta defeat in one

Canseco
Reds in a fou themselves at

A majorit that they were Lansford, and individuals.

"If we we games, they Stewart.

He also sa
jock, and they second place
less wins than

make brief wo Stewart a though the "N series. It's time realizes that h

AT

Co

Has

RI

155 P

Spe

without discount

conomics and Housing
rsity

logical ncentrate on get it on oking
the fear of they all work

a Macintosh, K."
visit or call Room 113
74

Macintosh®?

The A's: die nasty, not dynasty

By JOHN GORDON
Beacon Feature Editor

The Oakland A's got a little carried away with some of their brash predictions before the 1990 World Series began. After four games against the Cincinnati Reds, however, it was that same band of ego-maniacs who were not only carried away, but were swept away.

"We want this team to be remembered forever," said Jose Canseco before the Series. After the Series, Jose would get his wish, regrettably. The team would be remembered as falling to defeat in one of the biggest World Series upsets of all time.

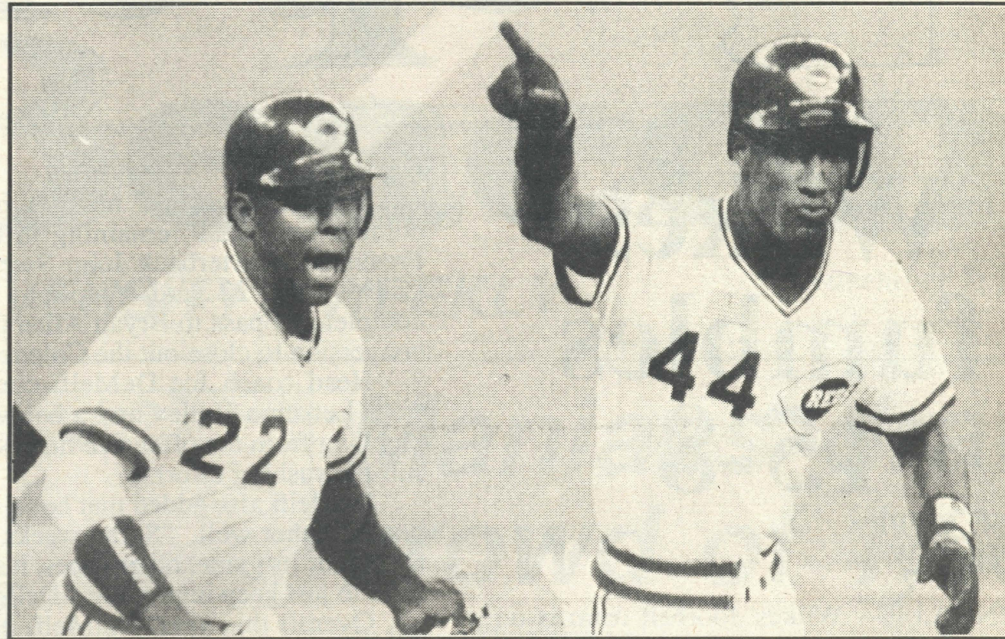

Canseco had also predicted that the A's would crush the Reds in a four game sweep. However, the Athletics found themselves at the short end of the stick, the broomstick that is.

A majority of the Oakland ball club will not admit the fact that they were beaten by a better team. Jose Canseco, Carney Lansford, and Dave Stewart were the three most outspoken individuals.

"If we were in the same division as them (Reds) over 162 games, they wouldn't have been in the World Series," said Stewart.

He also said that the Chicago White Sox couldn't hold his jock, and they finished with a better record than the Reds in second place behind the A's. However, the Reds, who had less wins than the White Sox, needed no jocular support to make brief work of the Athletics.

Stewart also said that Rob Dibble couldn't pitch, even though the "Nasty Boy" threw 4 2/3 shutout innings in the series. It's time Stewart, who lost both of the games he started, realizes that he was the one who didn't come through when it

Eric Davis celebrates with Billy Hatcher after hitting a two-run homerun in game one of the World Series counted, and Dibble did.

Hunt for REDS October is over!

It seems that the Oakland Athletics need to brush up on their baseball studies. The World Series was created to establish the true world champion each year. This season, the Reds are that elite ball team.

Cincinnati outscored the A's 22-8 over the four game thrashing. The Reds batted an electrifying .317, while the A's sticks were silenced to a lowly .207.

Billy Hatcher (.750 in the series) and Chris Sabo (.563) were a big part of the 1990 version of the "Big Red Machine." Hatcher surpassed Babe Ruth's .625 mark which was set in the 1928 series. He also hit safely in seven straight at bats, creating another standard. Sabo sparked at third base as well as with the bat. Sabo was at his best in the third game, where he set a World Series record with 3 putouts and 7 assists, most of which were dazzling defensive leaps.

Most of the Cincinnati players agree that it was Eric Davis' two-run homerun in the first game of the series which sparked the Reds. However, you can't look past the astounding pitching efforts of the Reds starting hurlers and bullpen "Nasty Boys."

The team ERA for the series was an amazing 1.70, with the "Nasty Boys" average staying at 0.00 due to the efforts of Rob Dibble, Randy Myers, and Norm Charlton.

Jose was expected to win the series MVP, and he did. However, it wasn't the bash brother, Jose Canseco, who received the honor, it was José Rijo of the Reds. Rijo put together his best stuff in the short series.

Rijo was the winning pitcher in the final game, and he posted a 2-0 record after the sweep. His ERA was 0.59 as he pitched 15 1/3 innings, striking out 14 and yielding only 9 hits.

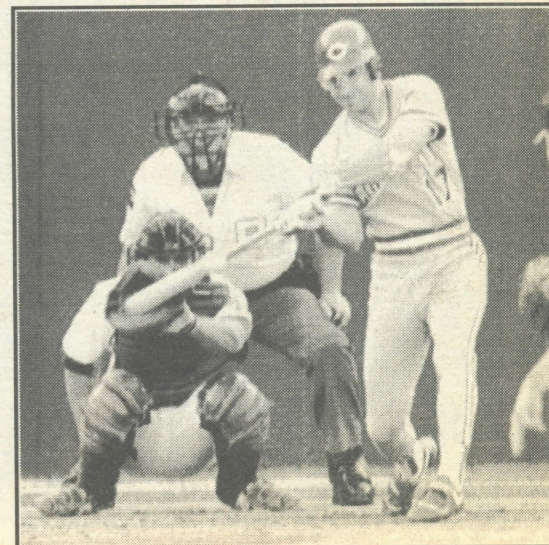

The Reds had great depth in their line-up. Throughout the playoffs and the World Series, key contributions came in many surprising forms: from catcher Joe Oliver's game winning smash down the third base line in game 2, to the Reds seven run flurry in game 3 which catapulted them into the driver's seat with a 3 game lead.

This team was one with explosive potential that faltered throughout the year. However, the Cincinnati Reds seemed to pull out all the stops in denying the Oakland A's a second straight World Series title.

Oakland had hopes of becoming a baseball dynasty. The Reds pitching, however, made the A's die "Nasty."

1990 World Series
Game 1... Reds 7, A's 0
Game 2... Reds 5, A's 4
Game 3... Reds 8, A's 3
Game 4... Reds 2, A's 1

ATTENTION:

Comic Book Collectors HEROES & LEGENDS

Has moved to Midtown Village
South Main St.

Phone: 829-6626
Open 7 days a week

RICCI'S PIZZA

155 Park Ave. Wilkes-Barre
Phone: 825-3652
Specialing in Pizza & Beer
6 packs to go
Sunday Sales

Sports

Inside Sports

VOLLEYBALL

PAGE

THE BEACON
October 25, 1990

Wilkes fumbles 15-8

By J. R. RUPP
Beacon Sports Writer

ANNVILLE— Wilkes' football team is on a streak. Unfortunately, it is headed in the wrong direction.

The Colonels traveled to Annaville, Pa. this past Saturday to take on the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley. Wilkes ended up on the short end of a 15-8 score.

Adding insult to injury, the Colonels have now lost twenty straight M. A. C. games.

A slew of turnovers and a poor ground performance proved costly for the Colonels who fell to 1-6 (0-5 in the M. A. C.).

Wilkes managed only twenty yards on the ground on thirty-one carries. In the turnover category, Wilkes fumbled three times, including a botched snap on a field goal attempt, and two interceptions.

The Colonels did not get into the scoring column until 2:39 remaining in the second half. Freshman quarterback John Swearhart hit Steve Endres for a 22 yard reception. Swearhart then completed a pass to Bryan Allen for the two point conversion to close out the Colonels' scoring.

Head coach Joe DeMelfi cited a strong rush from Lebanon Valley and a below average job of blocking from the offensive line as the cause of the sub-par rushing effort.

DeMelfi also added that he felt that the defense played rather well. "Some weeks the offense is at the top of its game, other times, it's the defense, we have to just keep improving," DeMelfi said.

Overall this year, DeMelfi and his coaching staff feel the team has been competitive with the exception of one or two games. The coaching brain-trust feels that a strong finish, a good recruiting year, and an effective off-season program will put Wilkes' football program back on the right track.

With just three games remaining in the season, the Colonels may be down, but they are definitely not out. The Colonels could decide the M. A. C. champ since they play the top three teams to close out the season. Wilkes now takes on the nickname of "spoilers."

The boys of the gridiron make their final road trip this Saturday to Widener. Kickoff is set for 1:30.

Soccer team stages comeback

WILKES-BARRE— Things can sure change in one week. The Wilkes Colonels' soccer team beat the Division II P. S. A. C. leading Millersville University soccer team 3-2 on Monday, and in the process, threw their hat back into the post-season honors. The win gave the Colonels a perfect 3-0 record versus Division II teams this year.

The victory came after the Colonels' loss to Drew, which knocked them out of M. A. C. play-off contention. However, with a 12-5 record, the team has an outside shot at the N. C. A. A. (Pennsylvania can send up to five teams to the play-offs this year).

Wilkes won this roller coaster game on a late goal with thirty minutes left in the second half. The Colonels jumped out to a 2-0 goal lead as Ron Rainey headed home a Mike Lenczycki cross for the first goal. Mike Lenczycki then beat the Millersville goalie on a breakaway after receiving a pass from Paul Lenczycki's goal ended the scoring in the first

See Soccer, page 9

McGuire optimistic about future

By RAY OTT
Beacon Sports Editor

When you get a chance to do something that hasn't been done in eight years, you usually go after it with zest.

Or at least that is what head cross country coach Tom McGuire is hoping, as his troops prepare for this Saturday's crucial race at Dickinson College.

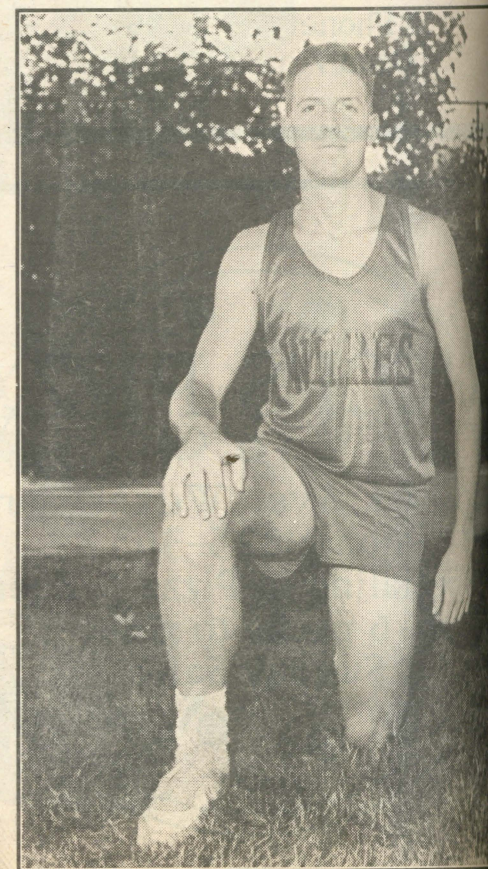

Coming off Saturday's impressive showing at Baptist Bible College, where the Colonels recorded victories over Kings and Drew while losing to Baptist Bible, Wilkes has a chance to reach the .500 plateau for the first time since 1982.

"This is really something to shoot for," said McGuire, "The kids are really psyched and looking forward to it. The last eight years have been a struggle, so it would be a major accomplishment."

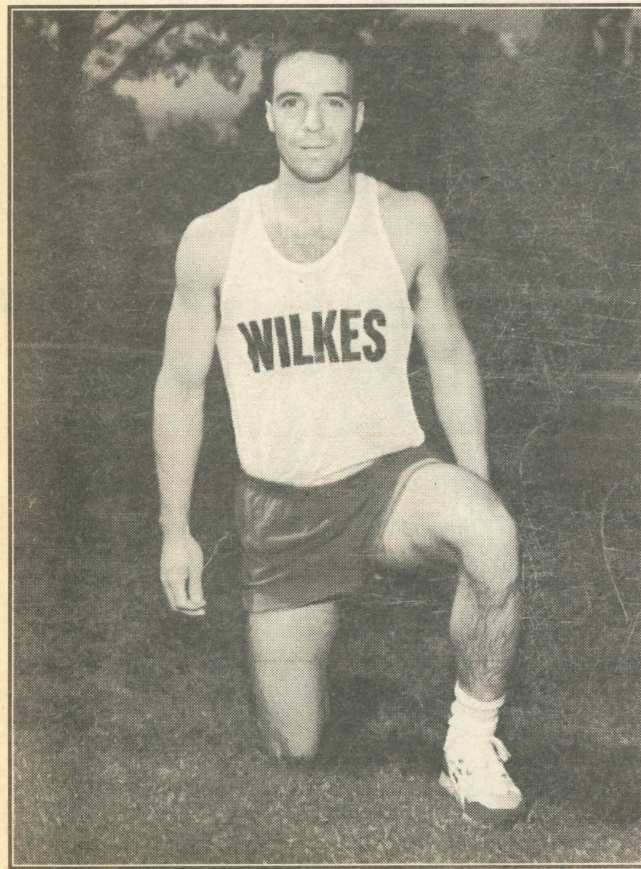

In Saturday's showdown, Baptist Bible's Frank John and Dan Pusey captured the top two spots to nail down the victory. But the Colonels were not discouraged. Pat O'Connell finished first for Wilkes and fifth overall. The Colonels then had Mike Fontinell, Tom Devine, Jim Robinson, and Kevin Gamarello nail down the ninth through 12th spots to secure the second place finish.

"I'm real happy with the way we put everything together, it was a tough, hilly course and we pulled through," said McGuire, "I'm especially happy for the guys who have been here for the hard times. Tom Devine, Mike Fontinell, and Pat O'Connell have had some tough seasons, and now being 4-4 on the season has to feel great."

Ah, but wouldn't 5-4 have a nice little ring to it.

Tom Devine

Pat O'Connell

In FO
The I some

Vol. 43 No. 6

Natalie Merchant

Stud worl

Collette Elic
special to the Beac

Every day, near world go hung malnutrition—t
Members of the arly one million
ore Thanksgiving
ual Fast for a W
"Millions of th
oice about going Wilkes graduate anizers. "Most re a choice, an dents to give
ney they wou am America," Students can p istering to skip
ceeds will be do
Students can sig
arning Center lo
the cafeteria fro
or 13. Individua