CHEM CLUB DANCE TONIGHT

LETTERMEN'S TURKEY RAFFLE SCHEDULED FOR NEXT WEEK

by Marion J. Klawonn

Huge rocket lands on Chase Lawn! Dr. Worstal's rocket has finally landed after a trip to outer space.

Hundreds of Wilkes students rushed to the scene of the landing to gaze in astonishment at the ship. One daring Wilkesman ventured to the door of the ship, while more timid men and women huddled in small groups around the strange object.

The door opened slowly and a broad-shouldered man wearing a Wilkes sweater appeared. The crowd waited breathlessly for the first words of the 'man from Mars'. His first words were, "Would anyone like to buy a Lettermen's Raffle ticket?"

The ship, which was blown from its orbit by a heavy wind, was being used by the Lettermen's Club as a 'thermometer' on raffle sales. Tuesday's rain faded the paint on the rocket but the spirit of the Lettermen was not washed away. They are still enthusiastically selling tickets to one and all on campus.

The raffle is the only fund-raising campaign carried on by the Lettermen during the year. The club does not receive any grant of money from the Student Council.

One raffle chance costs a dime but to save you money, the club is also selling three for a quarter and a whole book of twelve for a dollar. First prize is an expense-paid trip for two to the Army-Navy game. Second prize is two tickets to the Cleveland Browns - Philadelphia Eagles game. Third, fourth, and

Students Urged to Aid United Fund Appeal; Student Goal not Met

A meeting of the United Fund Committee on Reports was held Wednesday to determine the success of the drive on the Wilkes College campus. Ed Kotula, chairman, announced that the student body is slow in contributing its share to the Fund.

Kotula stated that Wilkes students have reached only thirty percent of their goal. However, $175.00 was contributed through the joint efforts of the freshmen and sophomore classes who sponsored a dance last week. In addition to this contribution, both groups are soliciting funds from their respective classes.

Kotula urged students who have pledged to the Fund to make returns as soon as possible. If any students have not been approached to contribute, they are asked to contact any member of the United Fund Committee.

The drive will terminate Tuesday. A meeting will be held Monday at 12:15 to make a final report.

fifth prizes are twenty-pound turkeys. The drawing will be held at the Wilkes-Pennsylvania Military College game on November 3.

Every student is urged to buy tickets to support the Lettermen's Club. Where else can you win a turkey for a dime?

DEBATE TEAM CHOSEN FOR N. Y. U. TOURNEY

The debating team received many invitations last week for Tournaments and Meets throughout the East.

West Point, last year's national debating champion, invited Wilkes to participate in a dual meet on November 9. Dr. Kruger, however, said that it is too early in the season for the team to consider a meet.

Wilkes will take part in the Hall of Fame Tournament at New York University on November 30 and December 1. Twice in the past, the debaters were in the Tourney.

John Bucholtz

ment and both times placed second with a 6-2 record.

The team is considering invitations from Dartmouth, Harvard, Princeton, Vermont, and the Novice Tournament at Temple University on December 1.

In the past, Dr. Kruger's debating teams have made a fine record. Professor Herbert James of Dartmouth said of the Wilkes team, "We have invited a representative number of colleges and universities with outstanding debating records and Dartmouth is honored to include you in this group."

This year's returnees include Jesse Choper, Fred Roberts, Bruce Warshal, and John Bucholtz.

STUDENT AD CONTEST TO END ON THURSDAY

Mr. Eric Stein, retailing instructor, announced on Tuesday that the Hub's advertising contest will close on Thursday, November 1st. The winning entry will appear, with the contestant's name, in the November 9th issue of the Beacon.

All information concerning size and content of the advertisements is posted in Room 203, 159 South Franklin Street. It is not essential for the entrant to possess artistic talent; there are sketches provided for those who would rather not do their own drawing.

The student whose work is chosen will receive a merchandise certificate redeemable at the Hub, in addition to having his name appear on the ad.

Time is growing short. If you are looking for a career in advertising, meet this challenge! Submit your entry today!

Bob Florio's Quintet to Perform At Test Tube Trot in Wilkes Gym; Gripp, Matley Head Committees

by Carol Breznay

A terrific time is in store for all who trip tonight at the "Test Tube Trot". The Chemistry Club has concocted a sure-fire formula for fun: You plus 1 ticket equals 1 real ball; you plus 1 partner could equal romance; you plus romance could equal marriage; and you might get away from all this.

SEEK CONTRIBUTIONS FOR WILKES JOURNAL

The Manuscript, advised by faculty member Robert Tener, met this week to discuss the policy of the college publication for the coming year. The magazine, representing the student body, is a journal in which Wilkes students may express their creative ability.

Fred Krohle, editor, announced that all students in every department of the college are invited to submit articles to the magazine. Contributions should contain self-expression of the individual student.

Material accepted may be of architectural design, advertising display, photography, painting, of musical composition, or of poetry, short stories, plays, and critical or creative essays.

Manuscripts and other material may be turned over to Mr. Tener, Mrs. Vujica, Millie Gittins at the bookstore, or any member of the staff.

Fred Krohle, editor of the publication, is assisted by Edward Milowicki, associate editor; Norma Davis, secretary; Ruth Younger, business manager.

U.N. MEMBER SPEAKS AT WILKES ASSEMBLY

Dr. Frank T. Graham, well-known diplomat and special mediator for the United Nations, addressed the assembly on Tuesday. He spoke on the occasion of the Woodrow Wilson Centennial.

Dean George Ralston introduced the speaker. The guest is a former president of North Carolina University, Mr. Ralston's alma mater.

With his soft and conversational manner, Dr. Graham quickly captured the attention of the students. He began by mentioning that we are currently observing several anniversaries including the Wilkes-Barre Sesquicentennial, then cancelled his talk into the main theme. He punctuated his oration with frequent illustrative anecdotes which brought many appreciative chuckles from his audience.

In making the students aware of the observance of the Wilson Centennial, Graham pointed out the need of Man for a world-wide fellowship. He brought up the subject of the United Nations by referring to Man's struggle from the beginning of History, through the Middle Ages and up to World War I. At this point he gave a brief resume of Wilson's efforts to unify the major nations of the world in opposition to war, then concluded his remarks by telling of the evolution of the United Nations.

At the completion of his address, the enthusiastic student body broke into prolonged applause which subsided only after he arose in acknowledgement.

This function is the second annual one conducted by the Club, and from all indications, this year's dance promises to be even better than last year's, which was highly successful.

Music will be beamed through the air by Bob Florio and his Amplitones. Florio played at the renowned Glenwood Resort in the Pocono Mountains this past summer as part of Gene Marchetti's orchestra. Modern dance music will be featured.

Mim Thomson, chairman of the Ticket Committee announces that 50 cents will admit one to an evening of fun. Virginia Leonardi and her Refreshment Committee will be on hand to sell cider (sweet, of course).

Mary Matley is chairman of the Publicity Committee. Decorations are being handled by Pete Maslowski. Natalie Gripp, president of the Club, hopes to see a large crowd in attendance to enjoy the dancing, which will last from 9:00 to 12:00.

HUGE CROWD ATTENDS U.N. PAGEANT AT GYM

by Cliff Brothers

Last Sunday, the Wilkes gymnasium was the scene of the sixth annual United Nationalities Pageant. It was attended by an estimated 1700 persons.

The pageant is traditionally held in the Wilkes gym each year. Its purpose is to show the unity of the many national groups living and working together in Wyoming Valley and to show how these diverse groups have all become part of America.

Alfred S. Groh, instructor of English, wrote the script of the pageant, and he also served as its director. In addition, he wrote the lyrics to a song especially for the program, entitled My Valley. The music was written by Ferdinand Liva, music instructor at Wilkes and prominent conductor in the Valley.

The program opened with the singing of the National Anthem by the audience led by Robert Moran. Many telegrams from various parts of the state, offering their congratulations, were read by Mayor Kniffen. Then an address of welcome was made by the Mayor.

I.D.C. PLANS PARTY

The Inter-Dormitory Council, at last Wednesday's meeting, discussed the plans for putting in washing machines in the girls' and boys' dorms. The machines will probably be placed in Sterling and Butler Halls. Each new machine will require a quarter to operate. As soon as enough money has been collected to pay for the machines, the quarter charge will be eliminated and washing will be free again.

The council also discussed plans for a dormitory swim party to be held at the Jewish Community Center. The date will be announced as soon as it is definite.

S.C. APPROVES BUDGET

Male Chorus Presents First Program of Year On Color TV Circuit

by Richard J. Myers

The Collegians, under the direction of Sam Lowe, made their first public appearance last Friday. In the afternoon, the men participated in a color TV presentation at Pomeroy's department store over a closed circuit. Later in the day, they appeared before a fine crowd at the Freshman-Sophomore United Fund Dance. The program was well received at both performances.

Tomorrow evening at about 6:30 P.M., the men will assemble at Hickory Grove for their annual fall outing. There will be food and drink, with Carroll Davenport providing a few hours of tape-recorded dance music.

At their Monday night rehearsal, the group heard President Jerry Luft read a proposed constitution for the organization. Members will be asked in the next few weeks to offer any helpful suggestions for the final resolution of this project.

It was again emphasized by Lowe that punctuality and regularity of attendance are vital to the success of the chorus. He repeated his statement that any member who misses three consecutive rehearsals or is absent too frequently without just cause will be dropped from the rolls.

Heading the Student Council agenda at last Tuesday's meeting was the approval of the budget for the current year. The Administration allocated to the Student Council $9,900 for distribution to various campus organizations — 2% of the money received from tuition.

The budget, which was accepted by the Council, was almost the same as the budget submitted to it by the Budget Committee. The main differences were in the amounts given to Cue 'n' Curtain and the Dormitories. Cue 'n' Curtain received $850 instead of $750, and the Dormitories were allocated $200 instead of $180.

The ICC fund was set at $1,050 — $125 for each of the eight campus clubs plus an emergency $50 emergency buffer. The amount set aside for the student Activities Fund was $1275.

The budget, with appropriations totaling $11,000 is subject to the approval of the Administrative Council.

Other business discussed at the meeting included the All-College Dance and the Winter Carnival. Ginny Brehm offered to act as chairman of the dance while a committee of Council members offered to look into the possibilities of obtaining Split Rock Lodge for this year's Carnival.

United Fund

Approximately 59 agencies are the beneficiaries of the dollar you give to the United Fund. This isn't much for each agency, but it shows what giving the United way can do. This organization carries on virtually all the charity work in the Valley, so everyone benefits in some way from the drive.

We're not going to hedge, either. . . .

DONATE A BUCK

It's not 10 coffees or cokes, it's one Yankee dollar. At the minimum. It won't break anyone and it will help someone. So, let's all dig down when approached and give. This will be the only charity drive on campus this year and so the actual expense is considerably less than it would be otherwise.

Again - The Lettermen's Raffle

The Lettermen's rocket misfired on Tuesday, due to the long-overdue rain, but the ardor of the athletes has not dimmed. They are still going all-out to sell their raffle tickets.

There is but little time remaining, since the drawing will be held next week at the Pennsylvania Military College contest, and this drive is one that benefits you. The benefit is indirect, since the lettermen use the proceeds to finance the Christmas formal and the Cinderella Ball. The organization gets no money from the extra-curricular activities fund.

Besides, you may be the holder of one of the lucky stubs. Five lucky persons will be the recipients of prizes, so take a chance Help the Lettermen's Club.

On the Bulletin Boards

We noticed that the Student Council took prompt action to see that all election campaign signs were removed from about the campus. A good move.

However, there are always notices placed on the bulletin boards of the campus and forgotten long after their value is current. We know that on one board in Chase Hall, a sign proclaiming a coming event, stayed up from early March until late in the summer.

Perhaps the Council should take action on this matter, although it really shouldn't be necessary. If the persons responsible for putting them up will see that they are removed when their worth has ended, the situation will take care of itself. The publicity chairman of each affair could be made responsible for taking down the notices, as well as putting them up.

Quotable Quotes

Dr. Vujica (after reading the scores from a recent exam): "If anyone wishes to discuss the marks, he may see me in my office."

Voice from the back of the room: "There'll be so many people there that we can have a tea party!"

Dr. Vujica: "There won't be any tea but there'll be plenty of sympathy."

Mrs. Mui (during a discussion of wit and humor): "Are political speeches witty? Usually it takes some intelligence to do that!"

When Ed Milowicki began translating a passage in a Chaucer class, he was reprimanded by Mr. Tener, who requested, "Please read in Modern English, Mr. Milowicki, not Middle English."

Ed retorted, "That's an insult! I am reading in Modern English."

CUE 'N' CURTAIN WORKSHOPS
BEGIN MONDAY NIGHT AT 7

Letter to the Editor . . .

October 23, 1956

Editor,
The Beacon
Dear Sir:

I am a little puppy dog, and for many months now I have been sniffing and scratching my way around this Wilkes College campus. I have attended classes from Conyngham Hall to Gies Hall, and I must confess I have slept somewhat more often than the typical Wilkes College student. I have also scratched a little more often. However, I did receive certain impressions about college and college men, which my canine friends and I now question.

We were accustomed every once in a while to hear sobbing cries coming from the girls' dormitories as someone whimpered over a lost love or a missing letter. However, we never expected to hear supposedly virile and mature men engage in the same sorry spectacle over a tarnished bit of jewelry. We also heard over the months about a thing called good sportsmanship, and we always thought it meant accepting the judgment of a referee or a teacher with grace, with dignity and with quiet calmness. We have seen our football players bitterly disappointed and defeated, but we never heard them threatening to quit or openly questioning the wisdom of their coach. Something smells, and it isn't Ken-L-Ration.

Sniffing my way around the college I have also come across certain individuals who were interested this year in fostering and improving school spirit. They claimed to want to stimulate enthusiasm and student support in campus affairs win, lose, or draw. Now some of these individuals threaten openly not to participate in certain school activities in the future unless they, personally, are assured of winning. Sometimes I wander down the street to a near-by grammar school to watch the fourth-graders play marbles, and I have seen similar demonstrations. I always thought, however, there were at least a few blocks that separated grammar school from Wilkes College.

Now I gaze at the trophy on my master's table with wonder and with horror. Seven years they worked to get this thing, and seven years they lost. Sometimes I understand they were quite bitter over the judges' decision, but they knew that the judges had a formula and reason behind them, and so they did not protest. Most of them felt that the cooperative effort and enjoyment that went into the project was the important thing and that the trophy itself was relatively insignificant. Apparently Ashley Hall, at least, still believes that.

I like Wilkes College. Where else could I get a free education, free handouts, plenty of sack time, and occasional female companionship? However, I do wish there was a little more of the Brooklyn spirit here so that the defeated and the frustrated would raise up their eyes and challenge the world with, "Wait Until Next Year!"

Your sincerely,
SAM WECKESSER

PRE-MED SOCIETY TO MEET

The Pennsylvania Delta Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta, National Pre-medical Honor Society, has announced that the Seventh Annual Eastern Pennsylvania Pre-medical conference for students contemplating Medicine or Dentistry will be held in Philadelphia on Saturday, October 27, 1956.

Ten members of Wilkes College Biology Club plan to attend the Conference.

FENCING CLUB PICKS
GOLDEN, BROTHERS

by Ruth Younger

At its annual election last week, the Fencing Club chose as president, Jack Golden; vice-president, Cliff Brothers; and as secretary-treasurer, Marion Christopher. Frank Pinola and Ruth Younger will make up the permanent publicity committee.

Classes to learn how to fence are being held in the gymnasium from 3 to 5 o'clock, Monday through Friday. Don Henry is in charge of these classes. Anyone who would like to learn the art of fencing is invited to come to any or all of the classes. You do not need to bring any special equipment to the classes; it is supplied by the school.

The classes have just begun this week, so you are urged to join them now.

JRS. AID UF DRIVE

by Mary Louise Onufer

The Junior Council met to discuss the method of collecting for the United Fund drive.

Ed Kotula, council chairman, divided the class into three sections headed by John Wanko, Ron Tremayne, and Clarence Michael. Each council member was given a list of people to solicit. Anyone not wishing to donate is reported to a trouble shooting committee headed by Virginia Brehm. This committee will approach the students again.

Every junior who can afford to do so is expected to contribute to the drive.

Drama Club will Give
Three One-Act Plays;
Committees Appointed

Students of Wilkes will have the opportunity to see just what this school's drama club — which they have heard so much about lately — can do. During the first week in December, Cue 'n' Curtain will present three one-act plays to the student and friends. All three plays were chosen by the members of the club, and they will be student-directed.

It was decided at the October business meeting that a freshman be elected to the executive council, thereby giving the freshmen members equal voice in the decisions of the club officers. This will be the first attempt, since the beginning of the College drama club, to give the freshmen equal "say" on important issues.

At last Wednesday's meeting, the heads of various committees for the year were chosen. The following people were appointed: head of the technical department, Paul Abrams; property and furniture, Pat Yost; costuming, Arlene Martin; house, Bev Dodson; and publicity, Roy Morgan and Bob Lutes.

Marian Laines, president of Cue 'n' Curtain, announces that workshops are scheduled for the semester, and that anyone who is interested may come. The schedule follows:

Oct. 29—Acting 7 P.M.
Nov. 5—Make-up 8 P.M.
Nov. 7—Lighting 7 P.M.
Nov. 12—Set Design 7 P.M.
Nov. 19—Stage Ethics 7 P.M.
All interested students are welcome. You need not be a member of Cue 'n' Curtain to attend the workshops.

SPECIAL DATES SCHEDULED FOR ORDERING OF CLASS RINGS

There's something new in the purchasing of class rings this year on the Wilkes campus, according to word from Amby Nolan, L. G. Balfour Company representative in this city.

For the first time this year, Wilkes juniors will be afforded a chance to order and receive their rings — before their senior year even begins.

Bob Chase, resident of Ashley Hall, who is the campus representative handling class ring orders this year, advises that three special dates have been set aside to enable all seniors and juniors to avoid the last minute rush and disappointment which often comes with second semester buying.

According to Chase, orders will be taken at the Bookstore, Harding Hall on South Franklin Street, on Monday, October 29 from 12:30 to 4:00; Wednesday, October 31, 12:30 to 4:00; and Thursday, November 1, 8 to 10 A.M.

No late orders have been set and there is no assurance of a scheduled delivery for stragglers, Mr. Nolan stated. He urged every junior and senior to avoid the rush and order now.

THE KERNEL'S KORN

by Dick Myers

Political parties prepare pre-election campaigns. A political campaign is a prestissimo pressing of prevaricating, promising, and promising pretentious programs, preceding the procurement of the president.

This is an American phenomenon where a man who would rather be right than be president could conceivably be neither. They promise two cars in every garage, which prompts one cynic to remark that there are people being born today who may never see a parking place.

The campaigners promise to ease the high cost of living. They should start by lowering the high cost of giving. One politician says that what this country needs is a good five-cent nickel.

New York politicians, seeking the vote of the Flatbush Faithful, are pledging to get the Dodgers a stadium with a sliding plexiglas roof. They promise "any sport in a storm."

One party wanted to run a drapery salesman for office, but they decided he didn't have a chintz. They replaced him with a farmer reputed to know his onions, but the voters take this with a grain of salt.

One powerful party machine was once thrown out of office because the hunters and fishermen objected to its disinterest in wildlife conservation. It was the first time in history that the reign was called on account of game.

ECONOMICS CLUB PLANS TRIP

The Economics Club will take a trip to Binghamton, New York, on November 24. The members of the club will visit the Ansco Film factory and the I.B.M. company.

The purpose of the trip is to familiarize the members with these areas of the business world.

Football, Soccer Games Saturday

Soccermen Home For Fifth Game; Away Next Week

With only one win for the first half of the season, the Blue and Gold booters are in for a very busy and a very important tour of duty this coming week. The soccermen tangle with Elizabethtown tomorrow at two in their fifth straight home game, and then the Wilkes ickers take to the road next week battle Lafayette on Tuesday and ast Stroudsburg on Saturday.

These three games are crucial ones for the booters if they are to notch a winning season. The team record now stands at one victory, three losses, and one tie. Two of the defeats handed the soccermen came in overtime tussles with Temple and Rider. A clean sweep of the three forthcoming tilts would almost insure Coach Reese's squad their fourth consecutive winning year.

The Wilkes backfield has been bright, but the line has had some trouble in scoring although they have continually launched scoring threats. Reese has been experimenting with his forwards trying to find a clicking combination and he has come up with Seth Ansah as his key man. Seth is not listed as a starter, but his tricky play has been utilized at either left wing, right wing, or inside right whenever the offense shows signs of dragging.

MASONIS NAMED WEEK'S ATHLETE FOR OUTSTANDING LYCOMING PLAY

BISONS TIE BOOTERS IN OVERTIME MATCH

Nick Giordano scored the only two Wilkes goals this week as the victory-starved booters wound up the first half of their season losing to Gettysburg Saturday and tying Bucknell Wednesday in the third overtime contest for the booters this season.

The Wilkes soccermen were anxious to prove their worth to Bucknell for the Bisons had bested Temple, 2-1, while Temple defeated the Colonels by one goal in an overtime tilt.

But the team had to settle for a 1-1 tie as the regular 88 minutes of play ended in a deadlock and neither squad could push across a counter in the overtime period. Giordano's goal came in the third quarter on a penalty kick.

The play against Bucknell was nip and tuck all the way, but not so against Gettysburg last Saturday. The visiting bullets readily controlled the game and went home with a big 3-1 victory. Although a look at the Wilkes record shows but one win, this was the only game, so far, in which the Colonels failed to outplay their opponents.

Giordano rifled in the lone Wilkes goal.

Hand Fracture Healed After 3 Week Layoff, Returns to Gaurd Spot

Bob Masonis

They say you just can't keep a good man down, and Bob Masonis really proved this adage as he returned to the lineup after an absence of three games to turn in a sparkling performance against Lycoming College and cop this week's award as "Athlete of the Week".

WILKES DROPS 4TH TO LYCOMING "11"

A spirited Lycoming grid team pounded out a 26-6 victory over Wilkes College last Saturday night at South Williamsport High School stadium, as the Warriors scored in all but the third period.

The scrappy Colonel crew unleashed an early first period drive that penetrated to the Lycoming 27 yard line, but lost the ball on downs.

The situation really reversed itself as on the first Lycoming play, halfback Dick Grier broke free and raced to the Wilkes 20-yard stripe. Six chops at the Colonel line produced the Warriors' first score.

On the next series of Wilkes plays, halfback Wayne Bohn intercepted a Rescigno pass and raced 40 yards to score. Another pass interception early in the second period paved the way for the third Lycoming tally, which was scored by 225-pound sophomore fullback John Joe.

Wilkes fought back gamely in the second half to try to close the big twenty-point gap, and Picton's charges battled to chalk up a total of 12 first downs as compared to their rival's 13. But in that all

Gridders Travel To Susquehanna Sat. Afternoon

Hoping to continue playing like they did in the second half of last week's ball game at Lycoming, the Wilkes football squad tackles the Crusaders of Susquehanna University this Saturday at Selinsgrove, Pa.

The Wilkesmen, who couldn't get started in the first half of last Saturday's encounter, are of the opinion that they can keep on playing the type of ball that held the powerful Lycoming eleven to a second half tie.

The Crusaders will be looking to get back on the winning trail. After an opening win against Ursinus, they lost their next three games.

The game also is the annual Susquehanna homecoming and the Crusaders will try to put on a good show for the returning alumni.

Wilkes will try to play the role of the spoiler. In the Colonels' homecoming, two weeks back, Ursinus dumped the Blue and Gold before its own alumni.

Wilkes will be in top physical condition for the contest. Although the team will be small in numbers, the boys really want this one. As of now, the Colonels record is 1-4. The tough part of their schedule is coming and the Pictonmen will be giving it all they've got for that elusive second victory.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I derive a great deal of pleasure out of following Wilkes athletic teams, in reporting their activity to the readers of the Beacon, and in editing the sports sheets of the Beacon.

But I feel that I have left all of the students of Wilkes down. I have left you down because due to my pressing studies, not enough time remains to put out a good sports page. I have left myself down because, due to time spent working on the Beacon, my science course has been neglected.

It just doesn't work out right. So, with much regret, I am forced to resign as sports editor of the Beacon.

Anyone interested in becoming sports editor is urged to write a letter of application to Mr. Francis Salley, faculty advisor.

Bowling Leagues Begin Season, J.C.C. Scene of Sunday Night Contests

by Barry Miller

Keen competition marked the opening of the Wilkes College bowling tournament as League A took to the floorboards of the Jewish Community Center last Sunday night.

The Ghost Riders and the Mixed Masters came through with shut-outs over Warner's Learners and the Sextets, respectively. In the other match played, the Flying Jets managed to salvage the last game and get one point off the Aristocrats.

Dick Morris, with a 189-506 series, both high for the night, led the Ghost Riders to victory. Lois Jago, high among the women with a 153 first game, also helped to pile up the score. Bob Scally, was top man for the losers with a 433 series.

The Mixed Masters, headed by Pete Perog's 180-480, overwhelmed the battling Sextets. The losers made a grand effort, but they just couldn't get those pins to tumble.

Led by the usual fine bowling of Bill Tremayne, the Aristocrats barely missed a four-point sweep. Bill racked up a 180-488 series. However, in the last game, the Flying Jets managed to break into the scoring column as Dick Murray fired a 183 and Bill Duffy a 162.

In the scoring system employed, each individual match was worth four points, one per game and one for high series. Only the four highest scores were counted in computing the team totals. This method of scoring will be employed during the entire season.

In this coming Sunday's competition, League B will gather for its first set of matches in games commencing at exactly 7:15. Teams 2 and 4 will roll on lanes three and four, Teams 6 and 8 will bowl on lanes five and six, and Teams 10 and 12 on lanes seven and eight.

TOUCH GRID LEAGUE RESULTS

The second week of play in the Wilkes College Intramural Touch Football League was again highlighted by one-sided runaway contests as the Golden Trojans, sparked by Dick Morris, stole the spotlight again outclassing all competition in their drive for a fourth straight touch football championship.

Last week the Trojans copped wins number two and three by lopsided scores of 42-0 over Butler Hall and 27-6 over the Shawnees. This latter tilt probably decided the intramural championship as the Trojans and the Shawnees have thus far fielded the two classiest teams in the league. The Trojan offense was so well balanced that in the two games played, eight different players scored touchdowns.

In other games played, the Shawnees, paced by Frank Mikolonis's two touchdowns, romped over Weckesser Hall, 40-13; and the Snakes, led by Bob McGurrian's twin tallies, defeated Butler, 20-6.

The teams each play each other once in a round-robin series.

The standings are:

	W	L
Golden Trojans	3	0
Shawnees	2	1
Snakes	1	1
Weckesser	0	2
Butler Hall	0	2

The new trustees are Francis O. Case, president of the Glen Alden Corporation; Thomas F. Morgan, Jr., president of Marts and Lundy, Inc., a New York public relations firm; and Aaron Weiss, founder and secretary-treasurer of Triangle Shoe Co., Inc.

With these new additions, Wilkes College now has a total of 28 trustees.

Francis O. Case, a native of Chattanooga, has been president of Glen Alden since 1953.

He is a graduate of Cornell University with a Bachelor of Science degree in chemical engineering and is a member of the Cornell Council.

Mr. Case has done graduate work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Northwestern University.

Thomas F. Morgan, Jr., is the second member of the administration of Marts and Lundy, Inc., to join the Wilkes board. Dr. Arnaud C. Marts, chairman of the board of the New York philanthropic firm is vice chairman of the Wilkes trustees.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

A broken hand forced "Mo" to sit out the Lebanon Valley, Ithaca, and Ursinus tilts; but he certainly didn't gather any rust during these three weeks. He stepped right back into action against Lycoming and stole the spotlight with his rugged line play.

Masonis was warmly welcomed back into the Wilkes lineup as his mighty big frame presents a mighty big argument to enemy ball-carriers as to just who has the right-of-way in that forward wall. "Mo", a native of Kingston, pairs with co-captain Bill Farish to make up one of the brightest guard combinations seen on the Wilkes grid-iron in some years.
