Kruger First WC Teacher To Make 'Who's Who'

By JANICE SCHUSTER
Out of every 10,000 prominent people throughout the country, 15 are chosen under carefully tested selective standards to represent the outstanding citizens of America in "Who's Who". Among the few selected distinguished persons was Dr. Arthur N. Kruger, who this year will join Wilkes' president, Dr. Eugene S. Farley, in the fifth edition of "Who's Who in the East" and "Who's Who in America", which will be published at a later date. Dr. Farley's name has appeared previously, but it is the first time for Kruger to be so honored.

Kruger, who was informed of his selection on October 29th, and Dr. Farley, College President, share the distinction of being the only two faculty members on campus who have been chosen for this honor. The purposes of this publication are to introduce American citizens with the prominent leaders of their country in various professions and for publicity reference for newspapers and other communication media.

Kruger was chosen on the basis of being an outstanding educator and community leader. The data published on Wilkes' distinguished educator, will include his biography, the schools he attended, and the organizations to which he belongs.

Some of the many organizations to which Kruger belongs include Phi Delta Kappa, Professional Education Fraternity, Speech Association of America, Speech Association of the Eastern States, and the College English Association.

Kruger, coach of the championship Wilkes Debating Team, has shown his versatility by his authorship of several articles in leading educational magazines. He has written for such publications as "The Kansas State University Journal", "The Gavel", and "The Speech Teacher".

WILKES 'COLLEGIANS' TO BE FEATURED ON CHANNEL 16 SUNDAY

The Wilkes College Male Chorus steps into the limelight (and floodlights) again this Sunday at 6:45 p.m., when it presents a 15-minute program on WARM-TV, ABC in Scranton.

The "Collegians", their correct name, will appear on the "Choral Time" show on Channel 16 and will offer a five-piece program.

Included in the program, which will be directed by Bill Crowder, student director in his fourth year at the helm of the singing organization, will be "Ave Verum" by Mozart, Victor Herbert's "Stout Hearted Men"; a Creole folksong, "Mr. Banjo"; plus "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" and "Russian Picnic".

The chorus, which saw heavy duty during the Christmas season, is planning an ambitious schedule for the remainder of the year.

Presently the "Collegians" are comprised of 24 voices.

Council Settles Budget; Clubs Are Turned Down, Conference Fund Set Up

By HELEN KRACHENFELS
The Student Council wrote finis to the lengthy budget debate at Monday night's meeting by drafting a revised budget which included a special Intercollegiate Conference Fund and excluding clubs from receiving SAF money. The freshman hazing and honor system questions were also acted upon.

In view of the developments which have occurred since the Council made its original allocations in October, it was decided that the most advisable course of action to be followed was a general rescinding of the initial appropriations and the preparation of an entirely new budget.

After much discussion the following allocations were made:

Beacon	$1500
Amnicola	3300
Manuscript	400
Debating Society	600
Male Chorus	75
Cue 'n' Curtain	900
Dormitories	100
Intercollegiate Conf. Fund	505
Social Activities	900

Some of the changes which occurred in the appropriations were made as a result of recommendations from the Administrative Council. Since Cue 'n' Curtain obviously did not need the amount of money which it previously received as a special grant for the production of "Girl Crazy", that appropriation was reduced by $200.

Because the decision has been made to give no further funds to the clubs on campus, an Intercollegiate Conference Fund is being set up so that club members who will be attending conferences as a part of their activities may receive some financial aid. A committee consisting of Gloria Dran, Dick Bunn and Dick Carpenter, was appointed to work out the details of the policy by which the ICF will operate. Clubs will be informed of the particulars as soon as they are worked out.

Other Matters

Several other matters of importance were acted upon at this meeting, including a statement of policy in regard to Freshman hazing. A letter was prepared by Dick Carpenter, chairman of last year's hazing committee, and the letter was accepted by the council as containing suggestions which would make for an improved hazing program in the future. Some of the

HOWIE GROSS NEW SAM COORDINATOR

Howard Gross was elected coordinator of the Wilkes Chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management (SAM) at a meeting yesterday.

Gross replaces Bud Price, who resigned. Price will attend only night classes next semester.

Len Mulcahy was named chairman of the membership committee to replace Chet Miller, who resigned. Bob Chase will be vice-chairman.

Leah Jean Neuburger was elected publicity chairman and Larry Cohen vice-chairman at the meeting.

New members are needed and interested persons are invited to join SAM by contacting any member.

By MARYAN POWELL

The freshman class of Wilkes College will sponsor its first dance tonight in the Wilkes gym from 9 to 12. The initial frosh event will be a square dance, Chairman Cliff Brothers has announced. Harry Wilkie, well known in square dance circles, will be the caller. Music will be by the Sharp Trio, who are famous western style music. Tickets are only 35 cents.

The purpose of the dance is to raise funds for the freshman class treasury. This will be the third fund raising project by the class. The other two projects—selling chrysanthemums at the Homecoming game and Christmas cards—were very successful. The class has high hopes that this undertaking will be as successful.

The president of the freshman class, David Vann, has appointed the following committees: General chairman, Cliff Brothers; publicity, Bruce Warshal, John Scandale; decorating, Marian Laines; refreshment, Edmund Kotula; ticket, Janice Schuster; entertainment, Marilyn Carl; art work, Mary Bortez, Larry Guninger.

David Vann, class prexy, and the chairmen of the respective committees request your unanimous cooperation in this freshman class event.

EXAM LIBRARY HOURS

Library Hours to be in effect during the final examination period were announced yesterday by Mrs. Nada Vujica, head librarian.

Hours will be: Daily from 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., except Friday, when hours will be 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. On January 26 (Wed.) and 27, hours will be from 9 to 5.

COLLEGE GETS HOME ON W. RIVER STREET FOR NEW DORMITORY

Former Roberts Home At 64 West River Street Gift of Daniel Warner

ONE MORE—Wilkes added another property to its rapidly expanding campus recently with the joint announcement by President Eugene S. Farley and Chairman of the Board Gilbert F. McClintock that the Daniel Roberts residence on West River Street had been presented to the board by Daniel Warner, grandson of the former owner.

Many of the Wilkes properties have been obtained in this manner through the generosity of local people who desire to provide a lasting memory and at the same time help the local college in its effort to provide even greater service to the community.

The new property will be completely done over inside and will be another men's dormitory.

NEW BUILDING, at 64 West River Street, which is only about half a block from campus (left), will be new men's dorm.

Winter Carnival Set For January 27

Mid-Semester Spree to be Held At Pocono Mountain Inn, Cresco; 'Cool' Sports, Figart's Orch. Featured

The on-again, off-again Winter Carnival is on-again, according to the Student Council and the announcement came just in time to nix a skiing trip to the Dike, which was in the planning stage.

Jim Neveras, who along with Dick Carpenter, is serving as a co-chairman of the annual winter sports spree and just plain spree, announced late yesterday that the Carnival will be held at Pocono Mountain Inn, Cresco, Pa., and that it will be held as planned on Thursday, January 27.

The Inn will be open to Wilkes students free of charge from 11 in the morning to 1 a.m. the next morning. There will be skiing (there is a shortage of skis, so bring your own slippery skates—coined by Nancy Wood), ice skating, (better also bring your own skates) and tobogganing (bring your own cushions), if there is snow. Otherwise there will be such fine winter sports as tennis, outdoor shuffleboard, etc., available. (Water-ski anyone?)

The Inn, a former nightclub, will not serve anything out of the ordinary to drink, however, there is no rule against assorted brands of firewater on the premises.

Latest rumors have most well-equipped Wilkesmen carrying their hip flasks, full of Pepsi-Cola, of course.

There will be bus service to the Inn. Schedules will be posted on all bulletin boards during finals. Maps and routes to the Inn will also be posted.

Music will be supplied by Wilkes' Bill Figart and his orchestra in the Rainbow Room of Pocono Mountain Inn. A fine crowd is expected to attend the annual between semester blowout.

Many of us are wearing last year's clothes, driving this year's car and living on next year's income.

Ugly Man Dies Horrible Death

It appears the novel "Ugly Man" contest, which was to have been sponsored by the Wilkes sorority, Theta Delta Rho, has been cancelled. This contest, which might have been responsible for a little more college hi-jinx and spirit being instilled here, was just not for Wilkes. Who wants spirit anyway?

There were many objections to the contest, which is only a harmless popularity contest in the final analysis. Just what they were, we were not informed. This we know! The sorority has foregone a chance to make some money for its charity project, and we wasted space aplenty in the last issue because of its decision to back down.

We want it understood that this mess is not the responsibility of Naomi Kivler, president of TDR, or the two planners of the contest, Pat McNelis and Freda Billstein, who backed the contest with enthusiasm. A majority also was in favor at the offset.

Other, and we might add, spirited colleges, which are probably looked on as abnormalities by some Wilkes students, have run "Ugly Man" contests, and they were not only a howl, but also financial successes. Just a few schools running such contests this year are Penn State, Buffalo, Bucknell (our mother school), and Utica College.

It is considered a great honor to win such a contest at these and other colleges, and we're sure that Wilkes men wouldn't have objected to being entered in a humorously-tagged popularity contest.

Any other takers?

Otherwise, to the Beacon's embarrassment, the "Ugly Man" has died a horrible death. A pity we weren't told before we wasted space on the thing. Ah, this changing world (with minds to match).

Beacon Gets Money

It was gratifying to note that there was no opposition to a proposal by Irv Gelb that the Beacon get an increase of $200 in its budget. The Student Council obviously realizes that it does take a considerable amount of money to run a good school paper. Even though we are running far behind most college papers in our budget, we realize that the Council has only so much money to work with. We'll do the best we can to stay within our financial bounds.

A sincere vote of thanks to the Wilkes student government for reconsidering in our favor,

WC Economics Club Visits IBM Factory

By IRENE TOMALIS

Members of the Economics Club visited the International Business Machines Corporation (IBM) and the Endicott-Johnson shoe factory at Endicott, New York, recently.

They were met by Mr. Austin, an IBM employee, who is also president of the Economics Club at Harpur College. Austin described the economic background and history of the corporation and conducted a tour of the various buildings. Club members saw most of the business machines that are made at the Endicott plant, except those which are still considered secret.

All White Collars

They were impressed by the extreme cleanliness of the factory and the fact that "you couldn't tell the difference between the managers and the workmen", because even tool-makers wore white shirts on the job. After a complete tour of the various buildings of the IBM plant, the members of the group were literally presented with "meal tickets" which were prepared on IBM punch machines.

After an enjoyable lunch at the IBM cafeteria, the Wilkesmen proceeded to the Endicott-Johnson shoe plant, where they saw men's shoes go through all the manufacturing processes.

To conclude the field trip, a visit was made to the IBM country club.

Service Schools Criticized On Year's Debate Question

By T. R. PRICE

Dr. Arthur N. Kruger, Wilkes College debate coach, condemned the action of Annapolis and West Point in refusing to debate the question of American recognition of Red China as undemocratic in a recent article.

Both the Naval and Military Academies had recently refused to recognize the question for fear that they would find themselves on the affirmative, thus producing material for Communist propaganda.

The question of censorship in regard to college debate subjects goes deeper than mere endangering of collegiate debate programs. It goes beyond, to an attempt to stifle and abridge freedom of thought in America's institutions of higher learning, Kruger declared in an article in the January issue of "Today's Speech", the publication of the Speech Association of Eastern States.

Such refusal to permit students to inquire freely into a subject, no matter how much of a tinderbox it may be, seems a breach of the traditional freedoms of inquiry and speech, according to Kruger.

Commenting further on what the publication titles as "The greatest controversy in many years in debate circles," Kruger remarks that while the American mind is closed on the subject, the minds of American colleges must remain open.

If the service schools, or any other schools which consider themselves institutions of higher learning in the democratic sense, continue to refuse debate of the 1954-'55 subject, he concludes, their actions are inconsistent with their principles.

TDR INVITES CAMPUS TO FORGET EXAMS AT "FROST FANTASY"; CHARITY TO BENEFIT

By IRENE TOMALIS

Theta Delta Rho's first charity ball, the Frost Fantasy, will be held Tuesday night, January 25, in the gym. Dancing will be from 8 to 12.

Tickets will sell for 50 cents, and the attraction will be Jack Melton's music, Jim Jones' ventriloquism, and selection of a king and queen.

The patient for whom the benefit is held has been hospitalized for some eight years with a back injury incurred in childhood.

The dance will fortunately fall after the fiendish and frantic finals are fatiguingly finished, and the fantasy will presumably provide a relieving froth of frolicsome fun to which not only local students, but collegians from all over the area have been invited.

Ed. Club to Sponsor FTA in Local Schools

By NORMA DAVIS

The Wilkes Education Club embarks on another of its series of annual projects this month with a program to encourage and assist Future Teachers of America Clubs in local high schools.

The purpose of the FTA is to give its members a better idea of the teacher and his job and also to encourage those who might wish to make teaching their career. Coughlin, with assistance of the Education Club, is currently following through with the idea. Other schools are organizing.

Students from Coughlin and Meyers, who are interested in the FTA, were guests at a recent party of the Wilkes organization.

Jeanette Perrins will be the director of the new program.

Lettermen Hold 'Low Down' Feb. 4

The Wilkes Lettermen's Club will sponsor the first dance of the new semester, it was announced at a club meeting yesterday. A square dance, "The Letterman Low-Down" has been scheduled for Friday, February 4 at the college gym.

Walt Chapko, chairman of the affair, revealed that Abe Bellas and The Night Hawks will be on hand to supply the western and modern music for dancing, which will be from 9 to 12.

Committees include: Publicity, Don McFadden, Howie Gross, Jack Richards and Tony Greener; refreshments, Andy Breznay, Jim Ferris and Mel McNew; tickets, Joe Wilk, Ron Rescigno and Cliff Brautigan.

A big crowd is anticipated for the dance as is the case for all Lettermen-sponsored affairs.

Administrative Council Nixes Vets' Charter

(BULLETIN)

The Administrative Council turned thumbs-down on the chartering of a Veterans Club at Wilkes, it was learned in a letter released late yesterday to the Beacon by Student Council President Arthur Hoover.

The Vets have an appeal left, according to the letter written to Hoover from Dr. Eugene Farley, Wilkes prexy. The Student Council approved the Veteran's organization earlier in the year.

The status of the Vets' Club basketball team in the Intra-Mural League is now uncertain, in view of Dr. Farley's letter.

WilkesCollege
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
January 11, 1955

Mr. Arthur Hoover
President, Student Council
Dear Art:

The Administrative Council considered your request for approval of the constitution for the suggested veterans club.

Preliminary to a consideration of this request, we felt it best to re-examine the policy that has governed the formation of student groups for the past fifteen years. It has been our policy never to encourage or approve an organization that has its origins outside of the College and which is organized for purposes unrelated to the welfare of the general student body.

It is our impression that veterans would organize to serve their special ends rather than to advance the interests of the College, and it is also our impression that they can most effectively work for the attainment of their ends through existing veterans organizations. Under these circumstances, the Administrative Council is withholding approval at this time, but will be glad to hear from the veterans group if the Student Council and the veterans group feel that this appeal should be reconsidered.

Very sincerely yours,
EUGENE S. FARLEY
President, Wilkes College

which hold their meetings at the same time which the Tribunal meetings were usually held. The clubs were requested to excuse all freshmen from their club meetings for the two week period of hazing in order that better cooperation might be obtained.

Art Hoover appointed a committee to work on the question of taking action against the cheating which has been occurring at Wilkes. The problem was not discussed at length at the meeting because of insufficient time. Nancy Morris, Dick Bunn, Bill Crowder and Helen Krachenfels will serve on the committee and report at the next council meeting.

NO CIGAR — Wilkes' Cliff Brautigan (16) goes up in the air a la ballet, but misses after eluding two Hartwick defenders. Joe Jablonski (23) looks on. Wilkes won anyway, upsetting the Warriors for the first time in the series between the two schools.

HOOPSTERS UPSET HARTWICK BY DECISIVE 83 TO 61 SCORE

By RODGER LEWIS

The Colonel basketball squad registered win number three Wednesday, as they whipped Hartwick 83 to 61 in the Wilkes drilshed. The victory marked the first time in the series between the two schools that the Colonels were able to turn back the New Yorkers.

Carl Van Dyke led the Blue and Gold scorers with 18 markers followed closely by Jim Ferris and Parker Petrilak, who tallied 17 points apiece.

Petrilak Hot

Coach George Ralston was impressed by the improved showing of Petrilak. When ace rebounder, John Bresnahan, was forced from the game due to too many personal fouls, Parker was inserted and came through in fine style. Big John had three fouls against him in the first six minutes of play. Then after sitting out the remainder of the first half, he fouled out of the game within eight minutes of the second round.

At half time the Colonels led, 37 to 25. From that time on the locals gradually increased their lead to a twenty point margin at one time. The Warriors cut the lead down to nine points midway in the second half, but the Ralstonmen put on a final spurt and finished with a comfortable lead.

Hartwick's scoring load was assumed by their classy forward, Jim Barber, who was high man on the score sheet with 23 tallies.

Coach George Ralston's crew broke even in last week's play as they opened with a victory over Ithaca then lost to a powerful Lafayette squad.

Wrestlers, Cagers See Action In First Twin Bill of Season Saturday Night at Home Base

Both the cagers and the grapplers will see action under the same roof Saturday night in the first twin bill of the season at the gym. The matmen will start off the evening's festivities at 6:30 when they lock horns with a powerful Cortland State Teachers outfit. Following the match, the cagers meet Rider College.

Coach John Reese was anything but overjoyed at the prospects of Saturday's meet. He stated that Cortland is a powerhouse and just fresh from a win over nationally recognized Syracuse.

He was pleased, however, with the showing that his badly damaged and almost scuttled crew made against a strong Ithaca team. "They deserve a lot of credit," he said, "and did well under adverse circumstances of being shorthanded."

There is a chance that Neil Dardurka, who recently rejoined the squad, will be available to take over the 167 pound chores, although Reese doesn't expect him to be in shape before the Lafayette meet.

Hoopsters Ready

The hoopsters, on the other hand, should be operating at full strength for their tussle with Rider. Coach George Ralston feels that his charges are a drastically improved team from the one that started the season, and are capable of making the night a rough one for the invaders from New Jersey.

with Al Jeter

The Weekly Quiz

A good question for the week would be—What happened to the wrestling team? A short two weeks ago there seemed an excellent chance that this year would be a repeat performance for the grapplers. With returning veterans and quite a few promising newcomers, it seemed almost certain that the team would go places, barring injury to key personnel.

The team never, never heavy in manpower, dwindled in the two-week period to a shadow of itself. To begin with, Bobby Morgan broke his hand, which was a blow to the Reesemen, although not a fatal one. Then the size of the squad was further cut by men dropping from the roster for reasons better known to themselves.

But For One

So no matter how you look at it, the fact remains that Reese was forced to take a badly undermanned squad to Ithaca. The boys came close, but there just weren't enough men to go around. If one more wrestler had been available the Wilkesmen could have come home with the victory scalp under their belt.

The matmen have eight meets left, and unless something is done, the prospects for the remainder of the season are not on the bright side, to say the least. It would be a shame if the season ended up in a disastrous fashion for Reese, as well it might, unless something is done. Reese is a nice guy.—They don't come any better.—And more than that, he is a good wrestling coach who deserves the best of talent to work with.

What's Your Line?

There are names of former high school wrestlers from this area dotting the school roster. However, this column has noticed that these names are conspicuous by their absence on the wrestling roster. It would seem like an excellent time for these former grapplers to re-join the sport just one more time. It would be the perfect answer to the ills that are causing Reese sleepless nights.

As a matter of fact, it might be helpful to note that Reese isn't looking for these men with experience only. There are the teams of the future to look forward to and anyone interested in the sport will be given plenty of chance to make the grade.

Cage Crew Splits Even; Hammers Ithaca, 86-72, Loses at Easton, 104-63

The Colonels entertained Ithaca last Wednesday and gave theupstates a rough night beating them, 86 to 72. The Wilkesmen in this game looked like they had finally hit their stride, hitting for better than 50 percent of their shots.

Then, later in the week the locals traveled to Easton to tangle with Lafayette, one of the stronger teams of the east. The Leopards showed their class and layed it on WC by taking them over the coals to the tune of 104 to 63.

The host club ran the score up in order that star center, Todd Walker, could set a new club scoring record of 38 points for a single game.

Ralston's charges were handicapped in that they were unable to get a percentage of rebounds due to the height disadvantage.

Jim Ferris Cops 'Player of Week' In First Repeat Selection of Year

Because of the outstanding performance that he turned in during the past week's competition, Jim Ferris is the first repeater in the Beacon's 'Player of the Week' feature. The little speed artist played two of the finest games of his career against Lafayette and Hartwick.

At Lafayette, working against the 'Towers of Easton', Ferris demonstrated that he could perform in any league at any time. Coach George Ralston was high in his praise for the diminutive guard, calling him one of the best all-around and steadiest ball players that has hit the Wilkes scene.

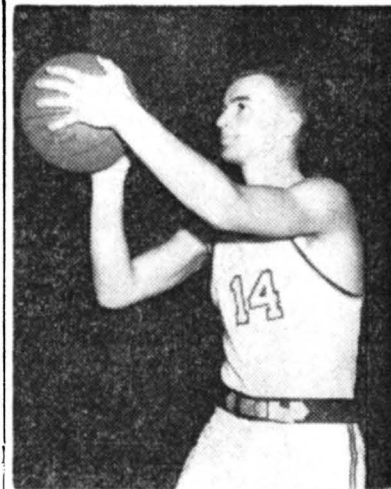

Hustle Plus

Ferris isn't an 'on-and-off' ball player. Every game that he plays, he is out to do his level best. No one can remember any time that the Kingston flash loafed on the job. His teammates and coach are quick to say that he is a real hustler all the time and never lets up.

He gathered up 17 points against a favored and much larger Hartwick five Wednesday while playing an outstanding floor game. For a little guy he gets way up in the air on rebounds and is an apt ball stealer as many of his opponents have found out to their chagrin.

Double Threat

As a scoring threat, Ferris is the type of player that every coach wishes he had. His outside shots are deadly and if given an inch he can drive in for layups with amazing speed and accuracy.

Now in his third season as a Wilkes cager, Ferris has yet to hit his peak and seems to improve with every game. Ralston is fortunate in the fact that he will be on hand next year to see duty with the cagers.

Colonel Cuties Decisioned Twice In Row

Chuckle 'n' Smile

At a welfare agency a weebegone gent came in and asked for relief. "I have a wife and eleven children dependent on me," he said, "and I haven't worked for a long time."

"Well, that's quite a family," said the clerk.

"It certainly is," remarked the mournful one, "and you can be sure there won't be any more. If there is, I'll hang myself, that's what I'll do."

But in a few months the sad fellow was back again, asking for more assistance and listing an additional dependent.

"I thought you said you'd hang yourself if the stork visited your family, again," the clerk recalled with a smile.

"I started to," the parent declared, "but just as I got the rope around my neck, I got to thinking: 'Sam (that's my name), what if your hangin' an innocent man?'"

CLAWED BY MISERICORDIA MOB, 74 TO 17; BOMBED BY MARYWOOD MARAUDERS, 54 TO 21

By HELEN KRACHENFELS

Dark clouds of doom settled over the Wilkes gym as the Colonelettes suffered double defeat in their two most recent clashes this week.

On Saturday afternoon, before a capacity crowd (of screaming Scranton lassies), Marywood barely edged out the Women hot and cold since the beginning of the season. However, if John Bresnahan and company are operating at full steam, the hoopsters should be able to pull this one out of the hat.

The Colonels have been handicapped in the height department this season. Ralston has been forced to abandon the two platoon system that he initiated last year, due to this lack of height in the reserves. This has hampered the efficiency of the cagers to some extent, but they are still a fast-breaking team that is well able to outrun many taller opponents.

of Wilkes for a 54-21 victory. Nancy Schooley and Barbara Vavrek were high scorers for the Colonelettes, tallying 10 and 7 points respectively. Murdock of Marywood had 12 points. Georgia Tomasetti and Phyllis Shrader each contributed 2 points to the Wilkes score.

Guards for the Kernelettes were Metroka, Davis, Morris, Thompson, Bretz and Menegus. The gals fought long and hard (as can be evidenced by the battle scars they bear proudly) but they just couldn't seem to get their hips operating fast enough—oops! I mean they couldn't seem to hang on to the ball!

Pull That Hair!

The Tuesday evening encounter with the Misericordia Mobsters was almost called because of "unnecessary roughness". (You thought that applied only to football? Man, you should see these women in action!) There was probably one advantageous aspect to the ref's warning: the Misery gals were obviously so upset that they failed to hit the big 100 mark even though they played their "four year" women against Wilkes' freshmen and sophomores.

The final score of the game(?) was 74-18. Phyllis Walsh, co-captain of the Colonelettes chalked up 6 points to be high girl for the night, while Schooley added 4, Bretz and Sparks 3 each, and Vavrek 2. Misericordia's 7-foot (well, she looks that tall when you're tryin' to guard her) Lillian Maluo paced the Dallas team with 19 points.

Caught in the Act

Again the guards for Wilkes did their best, which this time showed considerable improvement over last Saturday's game. Metroka played an especially good game, but unfortunately she got caught—er, that is, well, she fouled out! Morris, Davis, Thompson, Menegus and Krachenfels also added their bit to hold down the miserable score.

TDR's Future Wives Hold Bake Sale

Yesterday, TDR's future wives of America held a bake sale at Harding Hall. The goods, consisting of various pies, cakes, cookies, and bread, were bought by hungry students.

Doris Merrill, chairman of the sale, had the cooperation of Mrs. Brennan of Harding House fame, who gave the girls space to sell the assorted baked goods. Other members of the committee were Pat Reese, Bernice Thomas, Mary Jones, Barbara Tanski, Justine Battisti, Jeanette Perrins, Ruth Wilber, El Nora Metroka, Naomi Kivler, and May Pomietter.
