Miss Leona Baiera Will Reign As Fourteenth Homecoming Queen

Rachel Altavilla and Carol Thomas Serve as Queen's Princesses

This year's Homecoming Court is more beautiful than ever. Sharing the spotlight with our gracious Queen are Their Royal Highnesses, Rachel Altavilla and Carol Thomas.

The Princesses will reign with Queen Leona Baiera throughout Homecoming.

Princess Rachel

Her Royal Highness, Princess Rachel is a senior secondary education major now doing her student teaching in biology at Meyer High School.

She has black hair, brown eyes and is five feet, two inches tall. Presently, she is co-captain of the cheerleading squad.

Besides being a Cheerleader for three years, she has been in the Biology and Education Clubs, on the class executive council, and a member of the planning committee for Associated Women Students.

Princess Rachel combines beauty with brains. She is a Dean's List student, and has worked as a waitress at Pocono Manor Inn for several summers.

Last year Princess Rachel attended the science conference at Syracuse University. She also took part in the Theta Delta Rho - Lettermen's Club Fashion Show.

A graduate of Hanover Township High School, Princess Rachel is a member of Holy Rosary Church, Park Avenue. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Altavilla, 57 East Liberty Street, Ashley.

Her future will be in either public school teaching or graduate study.

Princess Carol

Her Royal Highness, the Princess Carol Thomas qualifies as a member of the Royal Court because of her beauty, personality, and contributions to campus life.

Princess Carol is a 5 foot, 4 inch statuesque beauty, whose doe-brown eyes and shoulder-length brown tresses combine to give her a look of soft femininity.

Her taste in clothes is attested to by the fact that she has appeared in several Lettermen's Club fashion shows and was one of the ten Best Dressed Coeds on campus last year.

In her four years at Wilkes Princess Carol has been a perennial leader. As a sophomore, and again as a junior, her Royal Highness was a Student Government representative.

She counts on her list of activities participation in the Women's Chorus, the water ballet, T.D.R. (past president), the girls' basket-

Personable Education Major Will Attend All Weekend Activities

The following statement will put an end to the weeks of anticipation, the days of anxiety, and the uncertain rumors that circulate about the campus every year at this time.

THE 1961 HOMECOMING QUEEN IS LEONA A. BAIERA.

This announcement, which will bring tears of joy and moments of mixed emotion, to at least one happy senior coed, is the official word. There need be no more speculation.

Car Caravan, Bonfire, Queen's Coronation Lead Homecoming Festivities

A torchlight parade, a bonfire, and a car caravan are being planned by the School Spirit Committee in conjunction with Homecoming Weekend. The torch parade will leave Stark Hall tonight at 7 p.m. and will proceed to Kirby Park, site of the bonfire. The bonfire is slated to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Jerry Shilanski, chairman of School Spirit, will act as master of ceremonies at the Bonfire. In this capacity, he will introduce the Homecoming queen and her attendants, the football and soccer teams, the cheerleaders, Kickline, Majorettes, the Collegians, and the Wilkes Colonel, Don Ungemah. Shilanski has announced that a surprise will be unveiled at the bonfire.

A sound unit, courtesy of Nardy's and lighting from the 109th Field Artillery unit will also be in use at the bonfire.

The car caravan to the Lycoming game will leave from the Chase Hall parking lot on Saturday at 1 p.m. The Homecoming queen and her attendants and Dr. Eugene S. Farley will be the honored guests of the caravan. The honor court will have a military escort.

As an added feature to this year's car caravan, the Kickline will be transported to the game in a convertible bus donated by the Wilkes-Barre Transit Corporation.

The School Spirit Committee will award a trophy to the best decorated car in the caravan.

Elaine Kozemchak is in charge of decorating the football field. Anyone interested in assisting this committee is asked to report to Kirby Park on Saturday at 12:30 p.m.

Senior Gift Committee Requests Suggestions

A senior class gift committee under the chairmanship of Mary Ann Foley was selected at a recent meeting of the class executive council. The committee is requesting that all suggestions for a class memorial gift be placed in one of the suggestion boxes which will be located at strategic points on campus starting Monday.

The class memorial fund will contain an estimated $1400 at the close of the academic year and students are asked to keep this in mind. Deadline for suggestions is Dec. 1.

Committee members assisting Miss Foley are Dave Edwards, Mimi VasKorlis, Louise Gatto, Marion Ripple, and Wayne Thomas.

Lee, as she is known to her friends, is a charming brown-haired beauty with flashing hazel eyes. A winning smile, a most pleasing personality, and an effervescent spirit are the virtues that characterize our attractive Homecoming Queen.

She is an elementary education major who loves children and plans to teach in the primary grades upon graduation. Her long range plans are indefinite but graduate study and marriage are her aims.

Queen Lee, who came to Wilkes as a freshman in 1958, has been an active participant in various extra-curricular activities. She is presently serving as a Student Government representative for the class of '62. She is publicity chairman of this organization and she served as chairman of the "Come and Meet Us" dance during the freshman orientation this year.

She is a Beacon reporter, a member of the Education Club, the National Education Association, the Pennsylvania State Education Association, and she has served as publicity chairman and Treasurer of Theta Delta Rho. Last year she was selected as one of the "Ten Best Dressed Coeds" on campus.

Her outside interests center around the Fine Arts. She has varied tastes in music, likes impressionistic art, reads poetry and novels, and enjoys the theater. She is also an active member of the Immaculate Conception Church in West Pittston.

Lee, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Baiera of 103 Montgomery Avenue, West Pittston, Pa., was graduated from West Pittston High School where she was treasurer of the band, a member of the glee club, the organ club, the yearbook staff, and a member of the girls' varsity basketball team. During her senior year she was chosen Valentine Queen.

Most of her summers have been spent working at various jobs. She has worked as a waitress at Atlantic City, N.J., as salesgirl in a local women's apparel shop, and last summer she obtained an emergency teaching certificate to work as a playground instructor for the West Pittston School Board.

Queen Lee and her court will reign over all the activities planned for the Fourteenth Annual Homecoming. Her regal role begins with the publication of this article; perhaps you will know the answer to the big secret even before her royal highness sees the Beacon.

She will make her first public appearance tonight in the Torchlight Parade to the Bonfire and Pep Rally, where she will be formally introduced to the student body.

ball team (co-captain), and the Education Club.

In addition, last year, she was chairman of the All-College Christmas Dance and is presently a cheerleader.

Off campus, Princess Carol is active in church organizations; she teaches Sunday School, is a member of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, and is a former choir member of the Firwood Methodist Church.

Rounding out her active life, Princess Carol worked for 3 years at the Nanticoke Employment Office and for a year at the Wilkes-Barre Employment Office.

Princess Carol is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas of 39 Lawrence Street, Wilkes-Barre.

The Coronation

Princess Rachel and Princess Carol will formally attend her Royal Majesty, the queen, Leona Baiera, at coronation ceremonies at the Wilkes-Lycoming football game at the new athletic field tomorrow afternoon.

During halftime representatives of the alumni, the Student Government, and the Beacon will present the members of the Royal Court with gifts and flowers, tokens of the respect of their subjects for the Queen and Princesses of Homecoming 1961.

The Changing Campus Scene

The alumni returning to campus this weekend are seeing two new additions in the form of recently acquired buildings. Howarth Hall, a women's dormitory on South Franklin Street and Bennett Hall, a men's dormitory on South River Street were opened to students at the beginning of this semester.

Many changes have altered the appearance of the college since its founding. Many of these changes have taken place in the last several years and have been occurring at a rapid rate.

The expansion shown by the college is seen not only in the acquisition of new buildings, but may be seen also in the enlargement of its staff, the addition of new courses, and the many intangible things which help to make a college great.

Returning alumni are urged this weekend to tour the campus. More than this, however, they are asked not merely to look at the many worthwhile displays, but also to observe the many improvements which have brightened the college outlook during the past year.

We as members of the Wilkes College student body and as alumni must be thankful to all who have helped to bring this about. We can truly say as a college that we are able "to look onward with courage and backward with pride."

A Job Well Done

After weeks of waiting and preparation, Homecoming Weekend is at last upon us. The identity of this year's Homecoming Queen has been revealed, the decorations are in their final stages of construction, and the best part of the entire program lies just around the corner.

Homecoming provides all of us with an excellent opportunity to greet old friends and to enjoy the social side of college life. Surely at this time, gratitude must be extended to all those who have helped to bring about this weekend of activities. The many hours of planning and preparation put into the Homecoming by students, faculty, alumni, administration, and community volunteers alike typifies the spirit felt by these people for the college. To all of these goes our thanks for a job well done.

A Reminder

A reminder that the campus United Fund Drive is now under way and your support is needed is in order at this time. With one week behind us and one week remaining in which to reach the goal, all those who have not done so as yet are urged to make their contributions as soon as possible.

Remember, the efforts of the campus chairmen and volunteer workers will all be in vain if each and every one of us does not do his share to help out. Help the college to reach its goal of $1200 in the coming week.

Letter to the Editor . . .

It was recently called to my attention by a local political party headquarters that Wilkes College is the only college in Luzerne County which does not have a campus political party.

At other colleges these political parties function in co-ordination with the local political organizations in their area. The campus parties sponsor rallies, solicit for the party, and engage in other useful and civic activities.

It would be a worthwhile project and invaluable service to the college as well as the community, if the students at Wilkes would organize such groups. First of all, campus parties would acquaint the college student with the innerworkings of the American political parties.

Secondly, it would make the college student more aware of national and international issues.

Finally, campus parties would help to facilitate students in electing honest and qualified officeholders. Thus, this would make America a stronger and better country.

Anyone interested in campus parties should attend the meeting at 4 p.m. today in room 306 in Stark Hall.

Sincerely,
Philip Siegel,
Class of 1963

TRES CHIC
Textiles Make News
In Multicolor Fashion;
The Motto - "Be Bold!"

by Nancy Tinklepaugh and Maryann Wilson

The big textile news for fall 1961 is the greater diversity of fashion colors. There are three major color movements: first, the blackened, inky colors mixed with bright, clear shades; second, the inky colors again but mixed with bright hues and pale ones; third, pale colors used with other pale colors for a very new light-struck effect.

Here are some suggestions made by the Mademoiselle Color Abacus. Take a blackened shade, deep black tea, for instance, and spice it with brights — Red Fox, Fuchsia, Ming Blue or Paddy Green. Start with Rush Gray or Straw and add dollops of Peach and Ming Blue or Red Kite. Aim for strong combinations with bright reds and yellows held together with deep blue. Mix pale colors with inky ones for serene, unusual effects.

Be bold, be different. No matter what your line is, Mademoiselle abacus always comes up with the fashion answer.

Novice Debaters to Attend Clinament

Four novice members of the Debate Society have been chosen by Dr. Kruger to represent the college at the Lehigh Clinament on October 28, at Lehigh University. They are Marguerite Gelli, Pauline Bostjancic, Andy Majikas, and John Campbell. All four sophomores will have their first taste of college debating at the Clinament.

This team and another novice team made up of Joy Platsky, Mary Ann Berger, Bill Holmes, and John Pikulski, will also enter the Harpur College Tournament at Binghamton on November 18. Miss Platsky and Pikulski are sophomores and Miss Berger and Holmes are freshmen. They will be accompanied by Lynne Dente and Bob Bomboy who will serve as tournament judges.

The varsity members, Lynne Dente, Bob Bomboy, Jerry Krasa and John Pikulski, will begin their forensic activities at St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia, on November 10 in a two-day tournament. Later they will compete in the Villanova Tournament at Villanova University.

STUDENT SKETCH

Senior Accounting Major Active
In College and Community Affairs

by Jerome Krasa

An old adage holds that to have a job well done, you should give it to a busy man. This is certainly true of Clyde Roberts, who in his years at Wilkes has been active in both college and community affairs.

It is easy to see why Clyde, a remarkable personality and a sharp wit, has been able to successfully combine college work with the great many extracurricular activities in which he participates. He brings to his seemingly easy going ways a determination to get a job done once he starts it.

Clyde Roberts

One sign of the drive that makes Clyde seek perfection is his present position as president of the Wilkes Chapter of Jaycees. In addition, he is the treasurer and a charter member of the Accounting Club.

A lover of sports, Clyde is playing soccer for the fourth year at Wilkes, presently at the center forward position. He commented that he had never played soccer before coming to Wilkes and that he found the sport great. He has been a Letterman for the past two years.

Active in community affairs, he is superintendent of the First Welsh Presbyterian Sunday School in Edwardsville. His love of sports also carries over into his activities in the community. For the past two years, he has been a member of the Wyoming Valley Bankers' Bowling League. In 1959, he bowled with the team from the First National Bank which won the league championship. Last year, he bowled for the Hanover National Bank team which reached the league playoffs.

Clyde attended high school at Girard College in Philadelphia where he took a double curriculum, that is, he studied both academic and commercial courses. He graduated from Girard with first honors. He has continued his scholastic feats here at Wilkes, lending little credence to the belief that extracurricular activities necessarily impair grades.

A senior accounting major, Clyde this year won the award of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Chapter of Certified Public Accountants. This award is given each year to the accounting major with the highest average going into his senior year.

His past work experience is varied. For the past two summers, he has worked as a night auditor at Bushkill Falls. Demonstrating that he can put his knowledge to practical application, Clyde is presently a lab instructor in the Accounting Department. He noted that the Accounting Department at Wilkes is very good.

In talking about Wilkes in general, Clyde pointed out that the college was providing a great service for, not only him and his fellow students, but the community as a whole. "Wilkes is right for the community," he added. "A student can get interested in community affairs for the college has become an integral part of community (continued on page 3)

S.A.M. Drive Now Open

S.A.M. President Francis J. Machung announces that the club's annual membership drive is now in progress. The organization, open to students in all fields of study having a sincere interest in the art and science of management, meets on Mondays at 12:00 noon in Par-rish 23.

Present S.A.M. plans for the coming months include tours of Gar Wood Industries and Tung-Sol, discussions with business executives, and films on labor management. Joining the national chapter is optional, but dues for the Wilkes chapter have been set at 50 cents per semester.

The 1961 drive will end on Monday, October 30.

Tomalis Econ Club Head

At the regular meeting of the Economics Club held this past Tuesday, Tom Tomalis, junior business major, was elected to the post of vice-president, a position which was left vacant by the resignation of the former vice-president.

It has been announced that the membership will be held open one more week, until the meeting on Tuesday, October 24. This will be a very important meeting since details of the forthcoming field trip will be discussed. Flyers concerning further details will be distributed.

Student Support Lacking in Campus United Fund Effort

by Mary Alice Isganitis

According to figures compiled on Tuesday morning, student contributions to the Wyoming Valley United Fund campaign total approximately $250. The profit realized from the freshman-sponsored dance held last Friday evening in the gym was $145. Lou Coopey, head of the student drive, states that he has received only a little over $100 from the students.

As can be seen from the above figures, support for the drive seems to be lacking among students. The $1200 student goal may still be easily achieved if each student will spare one dollar as requested. The money collected will be used to sustain fifty-two health and welfare agencies throughout the Valley.

Dr. Charles Reif, campus chairman of the drive, has announced that as of Tuesday morning approximately $4500 has been collected from faculty members, the administration, and the maintenance staff.

In the week ahead representatives of each class will contact by phone all those who have not already contributed. Chairmen of these solicitations include Jerry Krassa, senior class; Jeanette Bucholtz, junior class; Mimi Wilson, sophomore class; and Mike Mosteller, freshman class.

Contributions of the dormitory students are being handled by Peter Greenberg, president of the Inter-Dormitory Council, with the aid of the respective dorm president.

This year's theme for the United Fund drive is "Be a people helper."

Down-East University Scraps Tradition to Revitalize Education

Durham, N.H. (I.P.) — Entitled "The University and the Future", the 120-page report released by a six-member Committee on Academic Programs and Teaching Methods at the University of New Hampshire highlights these conclusions:

1. The University may be obliged to abandon its traditional two-semester academic year in favor of a three-semester or quarterly calendar. Either system will require 12-month operation.
2. Undergraduate courses are too narrow in scope. Education should come in "larger packages" to eliminate duplication, small classes, and proliferation of courses.
3. Professional programs are too narrow. The report urges that every student from English major to electrical engineer should attend a required series of liberal arts courses and follow a mandatory "great books" program of outside reading.

"Its unique feature," says Dr. Allan A. Kuusisto, professor of Government, who chaired the committee's study, "is that it was faculty sponsored and faculty conducted. Similar studies have been conducted at other colleges, but in most cases the administration played the lion's role if not the exclusive role."

The study was proposed by the Faculty Council and the University Senate Curriculum Committee. President Eldon L. Johnson named six faculty members to the task. Three of the professors were relieved from their teaching duties; the others worked with the committee on a half-time basis. They were given a budget of $18,000 and the authority to call in outside consultants.

The professors went to work with tape measures, questionnaires, and a cold eye for tradition. Their report gave low marks to the University's approach to liberal education, a goal they found to be overshadowed in all three colleges by an emphasis on professional undergraduate training.

They urged that every student should take a year's work in English, history, science, social studies, and the humanities, in addition to a four-year independent reading program. "Remedial courses in English and mathematics should be given in the summer prior to entrance," the report noted, and fa-

Dr. and Mrs. Farley to Be Honored at AWS Affair

Associated Women Students will sponsor a breakfast in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Farley on November 11 at 9 a.m. in Hotel Sterling.

Tickets will be available to all students, faculty members, administrators, and office personnel of the college for two dollars.

Cynthia Hagley, president pro tem of the organization, announced that the next meeting date is Tuesday at 12:15 in Pickering 203. At this time the group will examine the new women's lounge in Pickering, decide upon a constitution for the organization, and discuss future projects. Tickets for the breakfast will also be distributed to the membership.

Discussion of Dr. Dorothy J. Lipp's interview will be held at this time. Dr. Lipp, Dean, Pennsylvania State University, held an informal information session with a committee of A.W.S. members when she was on campus recently.

The constitution committee appointed at last year's special women's assembly, and the women who talked with Dr. Lipp, are urged to attend Tuesday's meeting.

All coeds from every class are invited to attend.

Accountants List Speaker

On Tuesday at 11 a.m. in Room 35 of Parrish Hall, Mr. Clerio Pin, a graduate of Scranton University and a Supervisory Auditor of the United States General Accounting Office, will speak to the Accounting Club and all interested persons.

Mr. Pin will present an interesting and informative discussion of the diversified and challenging auditing assignments available in the General Auditing Office.

Student Field Trip to UN, Comprehensive Tour Set

The students of the International Law Class, under the direction of Dr. Kaslas, have proposed a field trip to the United Nations building in New York. As of yet the details have not been worked out. However, the trip, by bus, will take place after October 31. All interested persons, at their earliest convenience, should contact Bud Menaker, Dave Fendrick, or Jim Jackie-wicz.

As students of political science, the tentative excursion party will be given special consideration and will receive much detail in the functioning of the UN. The tour will be much more comprehensive than the usual public tour.

culty members in all departments should demand better writing from their students.

Working within this framework, the professors then studied the University's 1,435 separate courses. They urged that some be abandoned, offered in alternate years, or combined with similar courses in other departments. Laboratory training, they suggested, might well be replaced in some cases by closed-circuit television demonstrations to save faculty time while introductory courses subject to particularly effective lecture-treatments should be offered in extra-large classes of 150 students or more.

University of Delaware Parking Rules Sparked By Increased Enrollment

Dean of Students John E. Hocutt of the University of Delaware has outlined reasons for the University's policies with respect to student-operated motor vehicles. Beginning with the 1961-62 academic year, only commuters will be eligible to operate motor vehicles on campus and in the city.

With greatly increased enrollments forecast for the next decade, land which the University now owns or will purchase must be used for academic buildings or dormitories. Recent bids submitted on parking areas and driveways call for an expenditure of approximately $235 per car accommodated. These figures include only grading and surfacing and do not include the much greater cost of the land itself or the building of high-rise parking facilities.

"When funds for basic educational programs and faculty salaries already are so difficult to obtain, we believe it would be unwise, indeed, to invest such large amounts in parking lots," Dean Hocutt added.

Many other colleges and universities, especially those in small communities, already have a policy similar to that which the University has initiated. Under the provisions of the Student Motor Vehicle Code, students who commute daily from their homes and who live at such distances from the campus that travel by automobile is necessary will be given priority. Special permits also will be made available by the Dean of Student's staff to resident students who have a physical disability which makes travel by automobile necessary.

While these regulations have been enacted as a solution to financial and parking problems, there also are important educational advantages to be realized. As has been true on other campuses where automobiles have been restricted, academic performance has uniformly improved. Moreover, social, cultural, and intellectual programs, specially on weekends, have shown similar and not unrelated improvement. Studies at other universities have shown an inverse relationship between high academic performance and the operation of a motor vehicle on campus by undergraduate students.

life." However, he did have something to say as to one area of possible improvement. "I would like to see school spirit pick up. Although it has come a long way, there is still a great deal that can be done by the students."

Looking ahead, Clyde noted that in the second semester the senior accounting majors take a six-week internship, comparable to the student teaching done by education majors. However, he pointed out that this work is not done in the area and it is possible that assignments will be made to firms throughout the country.

After returning from this work, the students take accelerated courses to allow them to finish their required work in time for graduation.

Upon graduation, Clyde is looking forward to work in a public accounting firm. After two years in this work, he can take his exam to be registered as a Certified Public Accountant.

Clyde is the son of Mrs. Margaret Roberts of Third Avenue, Kingston.

The Old Timer

"No matter how much you nurse a grudge, it won't get any better."

Student Government, Alumni to Sponsor Saturday Dinner-Dance

The 14th annual Homecoming Weekend will conclude on Saturday evening with two separate dinner-dances. One of these affairs will be held for the alumni and the other for the undergraduates.

The alumni dinner will be held for the classes of '36, '41, '46, '51, and '56 beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the Alexander Room of the Host Motel. At 9 p.m., the traditional Homecoming Dance will begin in the Dorian Room of the Host Motel for all alumni. Music for dancing will be provided by Lee Vincent and his orchestra.

Ed Rogalski

From 7 p.m. until midnight, the Student Government will conduct the undergraduate dinner-dance to be held in the gymnasium. The menu features cold cuts, salads, and desserts served buffet style, with the serving being done by the Columbia Catering Service. Other refreshments will be provided for the dancing segment of the evening.

Tickets for the latter affair will be on sale in the cafeteria from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. today. Admission is two dollars per couple and no tickets will be sold at the door.

Under Student Government sponsorship, the dinner-dance decorations will be provided by Theta Delta Rho, under the chairmanship of Nancy Tinklepaugh.

Special guests for the evening are Clayton Bloomburg, president of the Alumni Association; Gordon E. Roberts, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association; Mrs. Doane, Mr. Ralston, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morris. Ed Rogalski is master of ceremonies.

The Warner Trio, specialists of vocal music, will provide special entertainment. The group is comprised of George Evancho, sophomore; Ronald Borick, junior; and Robert King, senior. The group has appeared professionally in many local night spots.

Art Club Sets Plans for New York Trip, Exhibits by Mary Frances Barone

The Art Club has planned an overnight trip to New York on November 4 and 5. The members will see the Metropolitan Museum, Museum of Modern Art, and the Frick collection. The cost of the trip is ten dollars. A five dollar deposit is requested before October 28 and the balance is to be paid by October 28 to Michael Stretanski. There are still a few seats available and reservations can be made by contacting any member of the Art Club.

The Art Club will hold its first demonstration of the year on Tuesday, October 24 at 12:00 till 1:00 p.m. at Conyngham Annex. There will be a discussion on materials, preparing the surface, and stretching paper. The demonstration will be given by Ed Kay, a senior art major.

Long range plans are being made for the annual events, the Art Fair and the Artists and Models Ball. Four hundred people attended the Art Fair last year. Plans for the fair include some displays repeated from last year and new ideas are being worked on. The fair has been expanded to two days. The fair will be climaxed by the Artists and Models Ball which is a "costume only" affair with prizes. It is similar to the annual Artists and Models Ball of New York.

At present, the Art Club is making a sign for the United Fund campaign. Mike Crush, a member of the group, is making a sign for Conyngham Annex for identification purposes.

In late November, the Club will show five films free to all students. The subjects of the film are of a "How to" nature concerning arts and crafts. Bob Hrynkiw is in charge of the films.

In this way the student will be able to acquire a sound liberal education, and at the same time, meet, well in advance, the specific requirements for admission to a graduate school.

Univ. of Washington to Meet Teacher Demand Under Foundation Grant

An excellent program whose purpose is to increase the supply of teachers in colleges and universities has been initiated by the University of Washington in cooperation with other institutions of higher education in the Pacific Northwest.

The other schools participating in the program: Western, Central and Eastern Colleges of Education; Gonzaga University and Whitman College. The Cooperative Program of Education for College and University Teaching, as it is known, was made possible by a grant from the Ford Foundation, and seeks to encourage superior undergraduates in the participating institutions to proceed to graduate study in their chosen fields.

Since the purpose of the program is to meet an increasing demand for college and university teachers, its emphasis is in the area of the Arts and Sciences, and in particular, in the fields of chemistry, English, history, languages, mathematics, and physics. However, exceptional students in other major fields will also be considered for selection.

The program is designed to extend over a period of three years, commencing with the student's junior year and following through to the completion of the first year of graduate work at the University of Washington. Most of the students in the program would be able to earn a Master's degree by the end of their first year of graduate work.

Each undergraduate selected for the program will be awarded a pre-graduate assistantship, and will work under the direction of a professor in his chosen field. The professor will use the services of the assistant in such a way that the work done is of positive assistance to the professor in the discharge of his duties in teaching and research, and, at the same time, gives the assistant some instruction and experience in college and university activities.

In addition, a pre-graduate counselor at each institution will advise the student concerning his general program of studies, while coordinators from the University of Washington representing each of the major departments involved in the program, will be available for consultation concerning the student's program as it relates to his plans for graduate study.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Tackle Brunza's Jarring Defense Earns Him "Beacon" Laurels

This issue's Athlete of the Week award goes to James "Jungle Jim" Brunza, senior Secondary Education major. Jim gained approval for this accolade by virtue of his outstanding play in last Saturday's loss to Ursinus College at Collegeville, Pa.

From his right tackle position, the 5'11", 202 pound Kingston High School graduate played a steady game both offensively and defensively. On defense, he seemed always on hand to bring down any Ursinus ball-carrier who tried to breach the Wilkes line. His offensive play was equally proficient as he constantly aided in opening gaps in the big Bear line.

Jim's week to week performances may not be termed spectacular, but he plays steady, aggressive football, while not attracting particular attention as a star. However, we on the Beacon staff feel that Jim is deserving of such attention as do the scribes who follow the small college contests. As a result of their recognition, Jim was selected to the current ECAC Team of the Week.

We extend congratulations to Jim Brunza for his vital contribution to Wilkes College football.

Coach Ken Young will hold a meeting of the swimming team and its candidates on Thursday at the gymnasium, immediately following assembly.

Lettermen's Club Raffle Drawing Tomorrow; Queen Leona to Choose Winners at Halftime

Tomorrow at the half-time of the Homecoming football game the winners of the Lettermen's Club Raffle will be announced. Don Eller, Club president, has announced the Homecoming Queen will choose the lucky stubs.

A large crowd is expected to attend the game, as many are eager to hear the names of the winners. The sale of raffle tickets has been going on for several weeks and many people hold stubs. Five of these people will walk off with the prizes offered this year.

First prize is two tickets to the Army-Navy football game. Transportation to the world's most colorful gridiron clash is included to make the top prize even more popular.

As second prize the Lettermen's Club is offering two tickets to the Broadway musical, "Sound of Music". This production has been the most successful musical of the season and the Club was very fortunate in securing tickets.

The third, fourth, and fifth prizes will be three ten-pound turkeys, so come one and all you hungry souls, here's a chance to win some real food.

With the exception of Shoe-Shine Day, the raffle is the only money-making project taken on by the Lettermen during the year. Out of the profits of the raffle they sponsor their annual scholarship to a freshman athlete. Past recipients of the award have been Marvin Antinnes, Al Dobrowalski, and Lou Zampetti. Also through the raffle the Lettermen hope to raise enough funds to finance the other activities they undertake during the college year.

Two of these are the Christmas Formal and the April Showers Ball, two affairs on which they usually lose money. Everyone enjoys these dances, but to run them takes money. Since the Lettermen depend on the raffle to raise the money, it is up to everyone to support them.

Only hours remain; but any Lettermen will be glad to sell as many tickets as one is willing to buy. Chances are ten cents for one, three for a quarter, or twelve for "one hundred pennies".

Hockey Colonelettes Open Season Tuesday

The thudding of footballs and soccer balls has been filling the air of the Athletic Field with the feeling of Fall sports but recently the cracking of hockey sticks has been added to the sports clamor as the Colonelettes prepare for their first field hockey game.

This year the coeds will add a new chapter to the sports history of Wilkes College by fielding a field hockey squad. In past years the girls have been hampered by the lack of a sufficient playing field, but with the athletic plant becoming a reality a hockey field was set up.

For the past three weeks the girls have been working out under the direction of their coach, Mrs. Doris Saracino. The team has been actively developing individual techniques and skills while improving team play.

An away clash with College Misericordia on Tuesday initiates the season for the Colonelettes. Additional matches with G.A.R. and Misericordia will be staged throughout October.

had a one-man conference about your future lately?

You:
Why the gold bars?

Future You:
You're needed... just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet. If we don't...

You:
All right. But what can I do for the Air Force?

Future You:
The Air Force needs college trained men and women as officers. This is caused by the rapidly advancing technology that goes with hypersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs.

You:
Say I was interested...how can I get to be an officer?

Future You:
You know about Air Force ROTC and the Air Force Academy. Then there's the navigator training program. You've probably heard about Officer Training School...where the Air Force takes certain college graduates, both men and women, and commissions them after three months of training.

You:
Starting salary is important. What about that?

Future You:
Add it up. Base pay, tax-free allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay. You don't have to be an eco major to see it adds up to an attractive package.

You:
I've been thinking about getting my Master's.

Future You:
As an officer you can apply for the Air Force Institute of Technology. At no cost, and while on active duty some officers may even win their Ph.D. degrees.

You:
Tell me more.

That's the job of your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write to Officer Career Information, Dept. SC110, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

Booters Meet Hofstra In Morning Match

COLONELS DOMAIN — Here's an aerial view of the new Wilkes College Athletic Field taken from the Kingston Armory side. Tomorrow the Colonels will celebrate their first homecoming with an athletic field of their own. In past years, the soccer games were played at Kirby Park and the football games were played in either Kingston or Meyers Stadiums. At the top of the picture is the section of the athletic plant that is utilized for soccer with the football field at the bottom. Separating the respective playing areas is a bleacher structure which can accomodate 1,100 fans. Brooke Yeager did most of the work in measuring, lining off, and grooming the fields.

Ferrismen Out to Avenge Last Year's Defeat to Dutchmen

Tomorrow, as part of the Homecoming Weekend festivities, the Wilkes soccermen will meet the Flying Dutchmen of Hofstra College at the new Athletic Field in a game commencing at 10 a.m. The Colonels will be seeking to reverse a 2-0 defeat by the Dutchmen last season. The Hofstra team appears to have the same fine offense it displayed last year. The only common opponent of the Ferrismen and Hofstra thus far has been Wagner College, who lost to Hofstra, 6-0, and to the Colonels, 3-0.

Last Saturday the soccer team journeyed to Gettysburg, only to drop a hard-played 5-2 match to the Bullets in the rain and cold wind. The home team's offense was spearheaded by the combination of Taylor and Johnson. Taylor collected four assists and a score, as Johnson accounted for three tallies.

The goal of the day, however, was a scorching 45-yard blast by Colonel lineman Walt Prusakowski. The amazing distance of the shot, from the left sideline, caught the Gettysburg team totally unaware. Halfback Ted Toluba also hammered home a penalty shot from 30 yards out for the other Wilkes score.

Again in this game, the Wilkes offense failed to materialize to any great extent, as difficulties arose in moving the ball past the eighteen yard circle. The defensive secondary, with a few notable exceptions, played its usual strong game.

Rider 2, Wilkes 0

This past Wednesday, the soccer team lost to a fast, strong Rider College eleven, 2-0, in a well-played game. Rider goals were scored by Sam Farrante, in the first period, and Henry Glover, in the second. Farrante, a center halfback, played an excellent match against Coach Ferris' charges. He was nominated to the All-American squad last year and should repeat this season.

The game, which was played in favorable weather conditions for a change, saw the Wilkes eleven put forth a determined effort against the highly regarded Rider team. Fine play by the entire squad prevented the visitors from running up the score as they had in last year's contest. That game was a 14-0 humiliation of the Colonels.

Frank Lepore, Chuck Weiss, and Tom Tomalis gained nominations to the ECAC All-East team as a result of their play in the Rider match.

Shawneeites Continue to Win; Ashley, Butler Rule Dorms

by Judy Barger

The Shawneeites made it two in a row in their quest for a fourth consecutive intramural football title on Wednesday by downing a fighting, but outmanned Bandit squad, 54-0. The high-scoring game wasn't a question of when the Indians would score but whose turn it was to score. Each of the tall men braves from Plymouth got in the scoring column with Tosh Karmilovich crossing into pay dirt three times and Johnny Tensa scoring twice.

The Bandits had only one scoring opportunity in the contest but an intercepted pass by Phil Russo cut their chance short. The interception took place in the end zone so the gallant Shawneemen put the ball in play ten yards deep in the zone and rattled off the play of the year. Don Matthey took the snap from center and after faking a pass lateraled to Tom Pugh. Pugh unleashed a sixty-yard missile to John Tensa who took the pass over his shoulder, crossed the field, and lateraled to Karmilovich who scored the TD. The play covered 110 yards.

In the Rockets-Mau Mau action, the Rockets spotted their opponents a nineteen-point lead in the opening period before thundering back with twenty points in the second half to win a 20-19 thriller. Bill Roots was a standout for the Rockets and pulled in the second extra-point for the margin of victory.

'Alumni Swing' Follows Bonfire; Baird Plays Chem Club Affair

by Leona A. Baiera

Welcome alumni! The Chemistry Club will welcome the alumni at the "Alumni Swing", which will be held tonight in the gymnasium from 9 to 12 p.m. Admission is fifty cents.

Bobby Baird and his orchestra will provide the music for the affair. Appropriate blue and gold decorations, combined with displays made by the Chemistry Club, will add color to the Homecoming weekend.

Joseph Stretanski, junior chemistry major, is general chairman of the affair. The following are committee chairmen: Don Matthey, tickets; Irene Szulinski, decorations; and Joseph Stretanski, refreshments.

The Chemistry Club held a freshman initiation party last Wednesday night in Stark Hall. A buffet luncheon was served and faculty members were present. Marilyn Krackenfels, senior chemistry major, was general chairman of the affair.

Chemistry Club members recently attended the Intercollegiate Society meeting at King's College in which all area colleges participated. Tentative plans for field trips and films are being prepared for the year.

Psych-Soc Plans 'Bop'; Club to Hear Krasno; Hospital Tour Tuesday

by Mary Frances Barone

The Psychology-Sociology Club held its meeting on Tuesday. Plans were made for the annual "Beatnik Bop", a trip to Retreat State Hospital, and a talk by Dr. Krasno.

Dr. Isadore Krasno, instructor of Wilkes College and head clinical psychologist at the V.A. Hospital, will speak on Tuesday, October 24 at 11 a.m. in Pickering 203. He will consider one of the following topics: psychopathic personality, nondirective therapy, or alcoholism.

On Thursday, October 26, members of the Club will make a trip to Retreat State Hospital. The trip will include a tour of the hospital, a discussion with the doctors on the staff, and interviews with some patients.

Among the other plans which were discussed at the meeting was the preparation of the Beatnik Bop. Barry Shevchuk was appointed chairman of the dance. Other chairmen for the various committees are Jeanette Bucholtz, intermission; Mike Winslow, band; Cecile Gratkowski, refreshments; Pete Hometchko and Francis Machung, tickets; Mary Frances Barone, publicity; Joe Gelli, decorations; Bob Hudak, chaperones; and Ken Napiersteck, clean-up.

Haxton Addresses Next Assembly; UN Week Sponsored by CCUN

by Barbara A. Lore

Shades of the United Nations! That's what it's going to look like around Wilkes College during the next week — United Nations Week — due to the efforts of the Wilkes chapter of the Collegiate Council of the United Nations. Not only will the UN flag be flown over the campus on United Nations Day, October 24, but an informative display exhibiting various facets of the UN's activities will be set up in the library throughout the entire week.

To accentuate observance of this week, the CCUN will present an assembly program on October 26 featuring Mr. David P. Haxton, field representative of UNICEF, which is the Children's Emergency Fund of the UN and provides supplies, equipment, and technical training for the care of millions of children and mothers the world over. While he is in this area, Mr. Haxton is also scheduled to speak on Wednesday evening at the College Commons to the American Association of the United Nations, parent group of the CCUN, and on Thursday at a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club, where he will be presented by Dr. Farley.

Coordinating the local celebration of United Nations Week are the officers of Wilkes CCUN, Garry DeHope, Jerry Shilanski, John

Moore, and Elaine Adams and community representatives of the AAUN, Atty. Herbert Winkler and Atty. Joseph Savitz. In conjunction with the community observance of UN Week, Cathal O'Toole, well known local artist, will present an exhibition of paintings, featuring the UN, in the lobby of the Miners National Bank Building.
