Plans Complete For 27th Annual Homecoming

"All that remains is for alumni to return their forms," was the way Art Hoover outlined progress for the 27th Annual Alumni Homecoming Weekend, scheduled for October 11-13.

"The mailing has been completed to all alumni," stated Hoover, "and from early reports a large group is expected back on campus."

Co-Chairmen of this year's event are W. Brooke Yeager '64 and Bob Silvi '69.

The weekend will take on added significance for the class of 1949 since it will be their "Silver Anniversary" celebration. Other classes enjoying five-year milestones are the classes of 1939, 1944, 1954, 1959, 1964, and 1969.

Launching the alumni slate of events will be the judging of homecoming displays on Friday evening. Annually the Wilkes student body cooperates with various creative floats and displays.

Later at 9 p.m. the grads will move on the Hotel Sterling where a relaxed and informal "Homecoming Huddle" will get the alumni primed for Saturday's athletic events.

Various features of the Friday get-together include refreshments, souvenirs, and a sing-along with Mildred Gittins at the piano.

The annual meeting and report of the executive committee of the alumni association will convene Saturday morning at 9:30 at the College Commons. Campus tours will also be available to the visiting alumni.

Also taking place Saturday morning is a soccer match, pitting the Wilkes varsity soccer team versus the Scranton University Royals at Ralston Field. Match will begin at 10 a.m.

Always the premier attraction in any year's alumni reunion is the annual football encounter which this season will feature the Colonel gridgers against the high flying Juniata College Indians. Game time at Ralston field is 1:30.

Following the football game, the scene will shift across the street to Artillery Park where the grads and their friends can recount the days events at a "Fifth Quarter" gathering. Refreshments and pretzels will be served.

An alumni smorgasbord at the Hotel Sterling fills the 6:30-9 p.m. time slot while the busy menu of Saturday activity concludes at 9:30 with a "Homecoming Dance" in the Grand Lobby and General Sullivan room of the Hotel Sterling.

Rounding out the hectic weekend is a Sunday morning brunch, scheduled for 11:00 at the Alumni and Faculty House, 146 South River Street.

Assisting co-chairmen Yeager and Silvi with 1974 homecoming committee arrangements are Pat Burke '69,

Adonizio and Davidowitz Join Board of Trustees

Two prominent residents of Wyoming Valley have been added to the Wilkes College Board of Trustees, according to an announcement made by Thomas H. Kiley, president of the Board.

The two new members are Mrs. William Davidowitz of 621 Meadowland Avenue, Kingston, and James Adonizio, 611 Charles Avenue, Kingston.

They were formally welcomed to positions on the Board's Planning and Development Committee at a recent meeting. Shown, left to right, following the session are: Dr. Francis J. Michelini, president of Wilkes College; Mr. Adonizio, Mrs. Davidowitz, and Mr. Kiley.

Mrs. Davidowitz has been a long-time friend of Wilkes College and has been active in all campaigns over the past decade. She personally supervised many of the telethons that helped to raise thousands of dollars in contributions for Wilkes.

The Kingston woman served as the chairman of the Women's Annual Jewish Appeal Campaign in 1972 and is a life member of the Wyoming Valley Jewish Federation and a member of the Board of Delegates.

Mr. Adonizio is president of Addy Asphalt Company and Addy Construction Company, as well as vice president of Adonizio Brothers, Inc. He is a member of the boards of directors of the Associated Contractors of Pennsylvania and the Bituminous Association of Penna.

The new board member is a graduate of Wyoming Seminary and Fordham University. He is a member of the Westmoreland Club, Fox Hill Country Club and the Downtown Athletic Club of New York.

Obtaining Transcript Made Easier

Need a transcript? Sooner or later every alumnus falls into this situation at one time or another.

To dispell any uncertainties in obtaining an official Wilkes College record, Doris Barker, newly appointed Registrar, has outlined the procedure.

"We accept only written requests," she explained, "this must be done to protect the student or graduate."

The first transcript after graduation is free but additional ones cost one dollar. All requests should be directed to the Recorder, Wilkes College.

"To avoid unnecessary delays, we would appreciate the payment with the written request," Mrs. Barker added.

Also included with the request and payment should be the name and address to whom the transcript should be sent. A transcript is an official document only when it is signed.

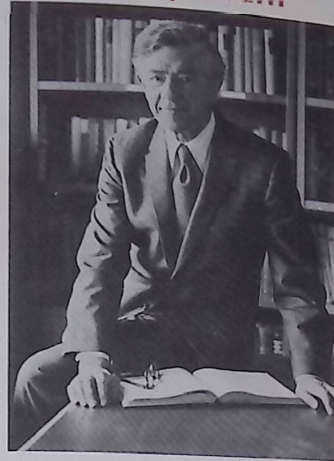

"For obvious reasons we will not send an official transcript to the person whose name appears on the document," Mrs. Barker stated. "We also prefer not to send an unsigned or unofficial transcript but will do so when requested by the student or alumnus."

In addition to the initial free transcript, all students actively enrolled are now mailed an unofficial form at the end of each school year. "This has proven invaluable in correcting problems which later crop up in the senior year," the new Registrar said.

Dr. Samuel Rosenberg Claimed By Death

Dr. Samuel A. Rosenberg, a professor at Wilkes for 25 years and first chairman of the department of Commerce and Finance, died in Wilkes-Barre on Aug. 10 at the age of 69. Dr. Rosenberg was born at Boston, Mass. and was educated at Boston U. where he received his A.B. and M.B.A. degrees. He was awarded his Ph.D. in economics from the University of North Carolina in 1950.

Before arriving at Wilkes in 1948, "Dr. Sam," as he was affectionately called, was rooted in work for humanity. He spent 14 years as a professor of Economics at Hampton Institute, a negro college. After that came three years as an economist working with a team for the United National Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, which included much of the time being spent in Yugoslavia.

Emerging from his many accomplishments over his last 25 years as a resident of Wyoming Valley was the fact that Dr. Sam conducted his life on the theme of dedicated service to the people.

One editorialist said in part: "Endowed with character and patience as well as character and ability, Dr. Rosenberg was an indefatigable worker and had the confidence and respect of the public, labor and management for his diligence and knowledge. Moreover, he was a good example of what our higher institutions of learning are doing in many spheres for the area through their outside interests beyond the call of duty."

He was active in labor-management circles in the Wilkes-Barre area and served as chairman of the Labor-Management Citizens Committee of Greater Wilkes-Barre.

Dr. Rosenberg also served as an impartial chairman for the Amalgamated Clothing chairman for the Amalgamated Clothing and Workers of America and the ILGWU and also as a private mediator and arbitrator for the Federal Mediation Service. He was a consultant for the U. S. Department of Commerce and a past member of B'nai B'rith.

Besides publishing a number of books in his chosen field, Dr. Rosenberg served as chairman of the Laundry and Dry Cleaning Minimum Wage Board of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry.

In Memoriam

Cmdr. George Brown '51, of 2265 Trant Lake Drive, Virginia Beach, Va., died July 28, 1974, in the U. S. Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va., where he had been a medical patient.

Born in Hanover Township, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brown of 47 Miner St., Wilkes-Barre, he graduated from Wilkes College '51 and earned a degree in engineering from Lafayette College in 1953. He entered the Navy as a civil engineer.

Commander Brown was serving in the Atlantic Division of the U. S. Navy Facilities Engineering Command at Norfolk, where he was stationed the last three years. During his more than 20 years in the Navy he served in many of the naval facilities throughout the world, with two tours of duty in Vietnam.

Surviving besides his parents are his widow, the former Marilyn Phillips of Plymouth; daughter, Mrs. Cheryl Smith, Virginia Beach; and son, Scott, at home.

For Jan Kubicki '67 the Wilkes College Theatre program has proven to be a springboard for bigger and better horizons.

After 18 months of work, Jan, now a member of the English faculty at Marple Newtown High School, near Philadelphia, recently had a dramatics book published on the "Techniques of Group Theatre."

"The book contains several illustrations," explained Kubicki "and includes several techniques which I perfected during my years at Marple Newtown."

"Hopefully the book which covers the experimental aspect of theatre will be used as a resource for dramatics on the college and high school level," Kubicki added.

Since assuming the duties of head dramatic coach at Marple Newtown, Jan's students have captured state championship honors at Penn State, three of the last four years.

Kubicki traces the start of his theatre experience to Al Groh and Wilkes College. "I really enjoyed my parts in Othello and Camelot," he recalled.

Later the Avant Garde theatre group influenced him towards the experimental phase. Optimistic about the future, Jan hopes to some day form his own traveling company and perform throughout the country.

Gridders Favored for MAC Title

Colonels Looking Towards Bountiful Fall Campaigns

Hoping to gain their first Middle Atlantic Conference title in five years are the Wilkes College footballers, who enter their 29th varsity season on an air of confidence.

If any one word could be used to describe Wilkes teams in pre-season fall training sessions it was "optimism" as all four Colonel squads prepared for their campaigns on hopeful tones.

Football coach Roland Schmidt believes that he has the material to bring home a fine season. "We won't be bowling people over," expressed the 13-year grid mentor, "but will have to rely upon quickness and intelligence to get us into the win column."

Schmidt, who has five Middle Atlantic Conference titles and two Lambert Bowl's under his belt, enters the 1974 season with a lifetime 62-32-1 coaching record.

The Colonels just barely missed capturing MAC Northern Division laurels last year, finishing runnerup to Juniata which posted an identical 5-1 record. Wilkes is hungry this time around and is being favored to garner their first circuit crown since 1969.

Big project for Schmidt in early practices was rebuilding a defensive "front four" which lost three starters, including All-American tackle Jeff Grandinetti.

Junior ends Don Kulick and Lou Maczuga form the nucleus of the revamped unit while junior Tom Bradshaw is a sure regular at tackle.

Senior captain Terry Blaum and junior Steve Leskiw pace a veteran linebacking corps while the Colonels defensive backfield has been rated by some observers as one of the best in history.

Three juniors — Fred Marianacci, Tony Schwab, and Dave Trethaway, make up the defensive secondary.

Another strong Wilkes point is the offensive line

which will find juniors Bob Para and Joe Dettmore in the tackle slots, while the guard posts are up for grabs between sophomores Dennis Mazonkey, Len Dalmas, and Frank Wengen. Senior Bob Mazitelli is the incumbent at center.

Wilkes has two fine quarterback veterans in juniors Greg Snyder and Chuck Suppon. Coach Schmidt is faced with the question of which will better fit in his "Power I" formation.

The Colonels have five solid running backs in seniors John Baron, Rodney Smith; junior Fred Lohman; sophomore Mick Calabrese; and newcomer Ed Murray. All were Wyoming Valley All-Scholastics at one time in their high school careers.

Equally excited about his teams prospects is soccer chief Tom Rokita, who points to a talented group of veterans plus several fine newcomers.

Offense will be built around senior Stellos Patsiakos, who set a Blue and Gold one season scoring mark last annum with 18 goals. Joining him on the line is George Bene Hoane.

Other veterans being counted on are seniors Mike Shoemaker, Gary Mocko, Steve Sergi, and junior Tom Trost.

This marks the 26th year of play for the booters, who come off a 6-8-1 log. According to Coach Rokita, "If we can play consistently and avoid any major injuries, we should be able to better the .500 mark."

Always the eternal optimist, cross country coach (cont'd on page 7)
