8 Men, 4 Women Elected For '56-'57 Council Term

Five Incumbents Retain Offices for Fall Term; 392 Voters Cast Ballots

By Marion Klawonn

Wilkes students went to the polls en masse last Wednesday to elect their Student Council representatives for the coming year. A record 392—less than half of the entire student body—voted in the annual election of representatives from the junior, sophomore and freshman classes.

The junior class re-elected last year's representatives: Larry Am-dur, Nancy Morris, Don Reynolds and Les Weiner. Seventy-seven juniors voted.

Sophomores sent 118 of their class to the polls and elected Virginia Brehm, Edmund Kotula, Mary Matthey and Ronald Tremayne. The lack of a large turn-out of sophomores seems to be due to the confusion of some terminal students who can't seem to figure out what class they should vote with.

The freshman class sent 198—by far the biggest representation. They elected Rose Weinstein, Dick Roberts, Eugene Price and John Karolchuk to lead them in the council next year.

Miss Weinstein received an overwhelming majority of 117 votes—

Frosh Approve Memorial Fund In Class Vote

The acceptance of the Memorial Fund plan by the Class of 1959 was reported last week by its president, Bob Thomas. The plan was endorsed by a large majority of the Class in a vote taken last week. It is planned to assess each member of the Class at a rate of $1.00 per semester to form the fund. By looking ahead, the Freshmen hope to avoid some of the expenses of the senior year and still have a substantial fund with which to purchase a class gift at graduation time.

Thomas appointed a committee to form policies for ironing out the details involved. Richard Roberts is the chairman of the committee and is aided by Barbara Ritter, Francine Bishop, and Daniel Reese.

The report of this group will be given at the next meeting of the Freshman Class, at which time its recommendations will be voted upon. This is an important decision, affecting all freshmen, and all are urged to attend.

Plans are also being made to

TEST-TUBE TROT TONITE

Ralph Harrison's band will entertain in the gymnasium tonight for the Test-Tube Trot, which is the College Chemistry Club's concluding caper of the current campus calendar.

The dance begins at nine o'clock and will conclude at twelve. The Chem Clubbers have been working hard and the gym will be gaily decorated.

Midway in the program, there will be some unusual shenanigans as yet unnamed, but promised to be out of the ordinary. Tickets for this sport dance can be obtained from any Club member for the usual fifty-cent, tax-deductible donation; or, you can drop your donation off at the gymnasium ticket office on the way in.

Mary Matthey is in charge of publicity for the dance, while Natalie Gripp and Virginia Leonardi will supply the refreshments. The entertainment committee consists of

1955 Queen Withdraws; Field Down To 11 Entries As Jackie Oliver Declines

By Helen M. Krachenfels

The names of eleven Wilkes coeds who will compete for the title of "Cinderella, 1956" and the accompanying "glass slipper" were announced early this week following nominations by the student body.

HISTORY CLUB LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON, D. C.

The Wilkes History Club left today for Washington, D.C., where the members will tour the various national shrines and government buildings.

Some dozen members of the club will travel to the nation's capital. They include George Silewski, club president; Clarence Michael, James Alcorn, Neil Turtel, Paul Abrams, Robert Davis, Donald Jaikes, Chip Freeman, Leo Dombroski, and Warren Williams.

(Jacqueline Oliver, last year's Cinderella, was also nominated but withdrew from the race. See "Letter to the Editor", page 2.)

At recent meetings the Student Council has been making initial plans for the annual Cinderella Ball. According to tradition the Council President, Robert Lynch, and the Vice President, Helen Krachenfels, will serve as Co-Chairmen of the dance.

The affair will be held on Friday evening, May 11, from nine to one at the gym. Lee Vincent's orchestra will play.

Bob Lynch has appointed the following Council members to serve as committee heads for the dance: Refreshments, Dick Carpenter; Tickets and ballots, Chet Miller; Publicity, Cliff Brothers; Programs, Don Reynolds; Table decorations, Ginny Brehm; Chaperones, Nancy Morris; Gifts and Flowers, Helen Krachenfels.

College Buys DeSylva Home

SEVENTH FOR GOOD LUCK—Acquisition of the former residence (shown above) of Contessa Elena De Sylva brings to seven the number of Wilkes-owned buildings on South Franklin Street. Purchased from the Contessa's estate, the lower half of the structure will be remodelled this summer to house classes displaced by construction of the College's new Science Building. The property is located at 159 South Franklin Street, a few doors below Harding and Sturdevant Halls.

Debaters Tie for Second Place in Eastern Forensic

The Wilkes College debate team tied for second place at the Eastern Forensic Debate Tournament held last weekend at King's College. Competing against 23 leading colleges and universities, the local squad shared second honors with five other teams as Dartmouth took top place. Wilkes finished with a record of 9 wins and 3 losses.

Winner of the overall sweepstakes which included debate, persuasive speaking, and extempore speaking was Fordham.

Wilkes used the same lineup which brought them into the final round of the State Tournament two weeks earlier. The Wilkes affirmative team of Fred Roberts and Bruce Warshal defeated Fordham, Temple, and Army, while losing to Vermont, Dartmouth, and Brandeis.

Dr. Arthur N. Kruger, coach of the Wilkes debaters, commented, "It was a splendid performance for a relatively inexperienced team against topnotch competition." Both Roberts and Warshal are in their first year of intercollegiate debate.

Another District Heard From

Today is slated for the first intercollegiate meet of the newly-organized golf team; while this group is beginning its schedule, another athletic team for tennis is also rolling rapidly into shape.

Both of these sports carry out the more practical aspects mentioned a few weeks ago in regard to the recently-organized Fencing Club, which, by the way, last week overcame one of its last hurdles when its charter was approved by the student Council. The advantage to all three of these sports lies in the fact that they are not particularly brutal or violently overactive, and consequently offer more to the ordinary student.

Why Play?

The college's two newer sports, golf and tennis, are perhaps even more to the advantage to the participants than the others inasmuch as they are those more apt to be enjoyed off the campus and outside the college.

In short, sports are finally giving a vague of returning to what they were once in the happy past before they enjoyed the noble benefits of the great panacea, Organization; there exists a dim chance that sports might be turned back into games — something done (not Activities Participated In — something done) not for plaudits or letters or spirit, but for that ignoble, unsophisticated, taboo reason known as fun.

Economics Club Visits Bank, Stock Exchange

The Economics Club returns from an overnight field trip to New York City this afternoon. The trip included visits to the Chase Manhattan National Bank and the New York Stock Exchange. Much valuable information was absorbed by the members.

The trip was made in automobiles provided by the Club. Each member will be reimbursed for their expenses, including the three dollar fee paid for transportation.

Reservations for the trip were made through Chet Miller, Len Mulcahy, John Scandale, Bob Scally and Al Kuchinskis.

Letter to the Editor . . .

To: The entire student body,

I wish to thank all those who nominated me as a candidate for Cinderella, but I feel that I must decline the nomination. Having received the honor of Cinderella last year, I believe now that it is only fair that I withdraw my name from the ballot. At the same time I extend to each one of the girls my sincerest good-luck wishes in the coming election.

Sincerely,
Jacqueline Oliver

The DEAN'S CORNER

By George F. Elliot, Acting Dean of Men

One vital institution in every office, sewing circle, and Saturday Evening and Chowder Club is the end-of-year report. This is the time when the President of the organization points to such solid achievements as the new one-way lock on the ladies' room and the more strategic grouping of cuspidors. He hopes these symbols of progressive leadership will end once and for all any remaining doubts as to how his wife's brother happened to be appointed treasurer.

This is the month when the harassed Secretary ponders long hours trying to decode his faded shorthand notes in order to make a permanent annual record. The notes he took at that emergency meeting following the New Year's Eve Party are particularly hazy, and he still can't quite decide whose wife it was that ran off with whose husband.

It is also the time of the year when the Treasurer reports from somewhere in the vicinity of Las Vegas that the organization's assets now consist of six one cent postage stamps, one fifty cent poker chip, a rain check to a Union City burlesque house, and seventeen personal IOU slips totalling a sum of $1,000,043.

In line with this tradition I feel that it is proper and necessary for the Acting Dean of Men to submit a similar report to Dr. Farley. This is one way to prove that retailing majors are not the only people who conduct surveys. It will also have the added advantage of assuring my permanent return to the teaching faculty.

Dear Dr. Farley:

The following facts are hereby submitted to prove that a few legitimate activities occasionally took place behind the smoke screen in my office. This should substantially discount the rumors that good food was the second most common topic of conversation between me and the students.

1. Number of students in for for counselling: 1,801
Number of students who claim to study: 1,801
Number of students who don't study: 0
2. Number of grandmothers who died, remarried, or gave birth: 537
Number of students reported missing their history quizzes: 537
3. Students in wondering whether they ought to marry the girl: 42
Students in wondering whether they ought to divorce the battle-axe: 46
4. Students in because of difficulty in French: 129
Students who suddenly decide to become teachers: 129
5. Number of parents worried about sons: 402
Number of sons worried about parents: 411
6. Strangest illness of the year: Dorm student reported suffering from glanders and a misplaced varicose vein.
7. Most common illnesses: virus, virusitis, acute galloping virus, virus digitalis, virus-virus
8. Students reporting Spring Fever this year: 0
9. Student with greatest number of cuts: Humphrey Diffledorfer
Student with richest uncle: Humphrey Diffledorfer
Student most likely to succeed: Humphrey Diffledorfer

Respectfully submitted,

Mollie Beard Named Queen At '56 'April Showers' Ball

COLONELS' CHOICE — Colonels' Queen Mollie Beard and escort Tony Bianco at Friday's April Showers Ball.

Howie Gross Presents Award to Senior Coed At Annual Semi-Formal

The crowning of Miss Mollie Beard, lovely senior coed, as Colonels' Queen highlighted the traditional April Showers Ball, sponsored by the Wilkes College Lettermen's Club and held this past Friday at the South Franklin Street gymnasium.

Howie Gross, president of the Lettermen's Club, conferred the title on Miss Beard and presented her with a gold wrist watch donated by Meyer's Jewelers and with a dozen long-stemmed roses as a remembrance of the occasion.

A group of senior Lettermen chosen by the Club's executive council, and by Mr. and Mrs. Farrar, served as the selecting committee. The Queen was chosen on the basis of beauty, brains, poise, and service to the school.

Miss Beard was escorted by Tony Bianco, Wilkes Letterman.

DEBATERS TIE

The crack Wilkes two-man team of John Bucholtz and Jesse Choper, debating negative, again went undefeated, taking six straight from West Virginia, Misericordia, Penn State Women, Maine, St. Anselm's, and NYU. Added to their seven straight wins in the State Tourney, Bucholtz and Choper wound up the season with 14 successive victories, for one of the finest performances of any Wilkes team. Only Wilkes team to surpass this record was last year's championship team of J. Harold Flannery, Jr., and James Neveras, who last season took 20 straight wins against the top teams in the United States and wound up a close second for the national championship.

In addition to debate, Warshal participated in the persuasive speaking contests and Choper in the extemporaneous speaking contests. After piling up many points in the first two rounds of extempore speaking, Choper gave a brilliant performance in the final round and had apparently won the event, when one of the judges declared that he had spoken 15 seconds overtime and was thus disqualified.

In outright debate, Choper took "superior" ratings in every round. At the State Tourney he was top speaker with a practically perfect record.

The only other undefeated 2-man team in the Eastern Tournament was the Dartmouth negative team, which narrowly beat the Wilkes affirmative by a score of 81 to 77. Had the score been reversed, Wilkes would have emerged as the winning four-man combination in the tourney.

With their 9-3, Wilkes debaters wound up the season with a total of 60 victories in 90 debates, one of the outstanding records in the East and comparable to last year's 70-25 mark. Among the teams to lose to Wilkes this year were such debating powers as Harvard, MIT, Penn, Princeton, St. Joseph's, Columbia, Army, and the winners of both the District VII and VIII Tournaments, William and Mary College and Vermont.

Although finished with intercollegiate debating for the year, Bucholtz and Choper will present a program this Sunday, April 29, before the Young Marrieds of Temple Israel. Dr. Kruger, who will serve as a guest judge at the West Point Tournament this weekend, will act as moderator for the program, which will deal with the national debate question of the guaranteed annual wage.

TREMAYNE ELECTED I. R. C. PRESIDENT; ALCORN NAMED VEEP

The Wilkes International Relations Club elected officers for next year at the organization's meeting in Barre Hall Tuesday afternoon, with Bill Tremayne taking the race for the club presidency.

Assisting Tremayne as vice-president next year will be Jim Alcorn, this year's ICG chairman. Replacing Alcorn as ICG head for the campus group will be Donald Jaikes, while the organization's new secretary will be George Black.

Treasurer for the IRC next year will be Paul Kanjorski, with Richard Davis getting the nod as parliamentarian.

TERMINAL STUDENTS' BANQUET SCHEDULED BY SOPHOMORE CLASS

By Janice Schuster

The Sophomore Class will honor its terminal students at a banquet scheduled for May 5th, it was recently announced by Class President Dave Vann. Since the terminal students will be leaving in June, the Class thought it would be a nice gesture to sponsor one last affair at which the entire Class will be together as a unit.

Later in the year the Class is planning to have an outing, but the representation will probably be somewhat deficient since many of the students will have finished final examinations and will have returned home.

Len Mulcahy has been appointed chairman of the affair and Same Lowe has been named Master of Ceremonies. Mulcahy has announced that the banquet will be held in the College cafeteria.

Chairmen of the committees are: Invitations, Margo Malko; Clean-up, Sam Puma; Publicity, Rodger Lewis; Decorations, Carol Goeringer; Refreshments, John Morenko; Entertainment, Don Wilkinson; Receiving, Dave Vann.

Link Team Makes Debut On Local Course Today; Play Scranton Tuesday

The newly formed golf team will make its first start this afternoon at Wyoming Valley Country Club when it meets Wyoming Seminary at 3:45.

Actually, today will be a day of several firsts for the linksmen. Not only will the first Wilkes College golf squad be playing its first match in competition, but it will mark the debut of Jack Curtis into the coaching ranks.

Six Qualify

Nine candidates for the inaugural squad went through eliminations on the Irem Temple links yesterday with the six low men winning the right to represent the college today.

The low men who qualified were: Bernie Dancheck, Felix Serafin, Jr., Neil Dadurka, Mickey Perlmut, Dave Polley and Irv Kaye.

Dancheck and Serafin will probably be paired today with Dadurka and Kaye, Perlmut and Polley making up the other Wilkes couples. Each pair will play a round with two Seminary duffers in match play.

The Colonel golfers will face the University of Scranton in their first home match at Irem Temple this coming Tuesday.

All match play will be best ball of partners if Wyoming Seminary gives its "okay".

Diamondmen Meet Ithaca Squad at 4

Last April Home Game At Artillery Park; Batterson May Start

By JONNI FALK, Sports Editor

John Reese's Colonel clouters will return home this afternoon after a three game road trip to play a power-packed Ithaca College nine at Artillery Park. Game time is 4 o'clock.

Today's tilt with the Bombers will be the last home appearance for the diamondmen for 10 days as they leave on a road jaunt which will take them to Cortland, N.Y., Scranton and East Stroudsburg before returning home May 8 against Lebanon Valley.

Starting pitcher for today's contest remained a question mark at press time due to the schedule which had the Colonels slated for four games in four days. However, the call could go out to Mo Batterson, number one man in the bullpen, for his first start of the year.

The Colonels have been hitting well in recent starts, but will have to tighten up afield.

Ithaca brings one of the best clubs in the history of the New York college into town today. Top major league prospect on the team is Walt Judd, a 6-3, 200-pound chucker, who fanned 18 while giving up only one hit in last year's NCAA playoffs.

Behind Judd, the Bombers have a well-seasoned pitching staff and a heavy-hitting outfield. This team could be one of the best intercollegiate clubs in the East this year. Jim Ferris has snapped out of his hitting slump and crashed five safeties in two games. Joe Parsnik has also been producing in the cleanup spot.

John Milliman will return to the hill in tomorrow's game at Cortland State Teachers College. Currently possessing a 2-3 record, the big righthander could set a Colonel mound record this year for most games started. Reese will continue to work the fireballer in steady rotation, giving him an opportunity to use Mel McNew, the hill staff's number two man, in the outfield due to his hitting prowess.

Milliman has come up with a knuckle ball which has been causing the opposition's hitters and his catcher, John Harvey, plenty of

CLOUTERS CLOBBER LYCOMING FOR EASY WIN; MANARSKI AND SOKOL LEAD HITTING ATTACK

The Colonels walked off with an easy 23-3 victory over Lycoming yesterday, in Williamsport, to give the team a 3 win-loss record. Two more victories were added this week, with wins over Muhlenberg and Lycoming, while dropping one to Bloomsburg.

Lefty Ed Birnbaum got the win last night in relief of Mel McNew, pitching the last four frames. The two Colonel hillmen allowed four hits in the seven-inning contest, while the Wilkes clouters had nine. Al Manarski and Bob Sokol led the hitters with two safeties each. Manarski's single and double drove in five runs.

The Colonel baseball team lost their fourth game of the season, bowing to Bloomsburg State Teachers College, 7-5, this past Wednesday, on the victor's field.

John Milliman suffered his third setback of the campaign. This was by far the worst effort that Milliman has come up with this season. He was belted solidly for twelve hits and seven runs. Five of those seven runs came in the first three innings. After Milliman settled down and pitched his usual good game.

But the damage was done. The Colonels pecked away at the Huskies' lead with single tallies in the fourth and fifth and two more scores in the sixth. At the end of the sixth, the Colonels trailed by two, 6-4. But the lead that Bloom had built up in the early innings withstood the late Blue and Gold rally.

Milliman's record is now two up and three down. He picked up his second win when the Colonels beat a highly touted Muhlenberg nine down at the losers' field last Saturday.

trouble.

Big John will probably come right back Wednesday as the Colonels defend the trophy won from the University of Scranton last year.

Flyers, Weckesser Pace Softball Loop

Six games opened the intramural softball league for the first week of the season. The Spanish Flyers looked strong in downing a powerful Club 20 team, 23-10. The Flyers were paced by the clouting of Dave Panzetta, who rapped four four-baggers in the game.

In other games: Nutcrackers 4, Dukes 3; Hawks 2, Bombers 0; Weckesser 24, Snafus 10. Last night's games: Butler Hall 14, Cards 12; Club 20 21, Snafus 10.

CATRINO ON BRIDGE

How to respond (as partner) to an opening bid of one in a suit by your partner when the next hand has passed and it is your turn to bid:

A. You raise to two (i.e., 1S-2S.) when:

You hold from six to ten and either four small trumps or three headed by the queen.

B. You bid another suit, when: You hold from ten to thirteen points and the suit is biddable—such as—if partner opened one spade, you bid two hearts with example 1; two diamonds with example 2; two clubs with example 3.

Example 1:

S - x x x
H - A Q 10 x x
D - A x x
C - x x x

Example 2:

S - x x x
H - A x
D - K Q J x x
C - Q x x

Example 3:

S - x x x
H - K x
D - A Q x
C - K 10 9 x x

C. You bid two no trump if you hold from twelve to fifteen points and a balanced hand such as examples:

S - J x x
H - A Q x
D - K x x x
C - K x x

S - Q x
H - K Q x
D - J x x x
C - A Q x x

S - Q x x
H - J x x x
D - A Q x
C - Q J x

D. You bid three no-trump if you hold from sixteen to eighteen points and a balanced hand such as above.

E. If partner has opened the bidding with a suit bid of one and the next hand has passed and you have a biddable suit that is of higher rank than the one partner has called and you are permitted to enter the bidding at the one level (that is, if partner has bid one club you may enter the bidding with either one diamond or one heart or one spade). The requirements for calling this suit is a minimum of five points if your suit is five cards long—otherwise it is six to ten points.

F. The forcing bid: This is when you as responder hold from eighteen to twenty and above. (This will happen to you once in every thousand hands or deals.) You must express this type of hand by a jump bid in a new suit. This obligates partner to continue bidding until game is reached at least.

The elections, for the information of those who didn't bother to vote, were held in Chase Theater.

Elections for the incoming freshman class will not be held until the arrival of the frosh in September. This necessary oddity of the council electoral system makes the freshman class, which votes each spring for its sophomore representatives, the only class to vote twice in one year.

TDR Mothers' Day Tea Next Friday Afternoon

Members of the Theta Delta Rho will honor their mothers at the annual Mothers' Day Tea next Friday afternoon in McClintock garden from 3 to 5.

Each year the sorority takes this opportunity for its mothers to become better acquainted with Wilkes and other members of the sorority.

Invitations have been issued to all the mothers and Connie Kamarunas, general chairman, has declared that she hopes each girl will take a special interest in honoring her mother.

Theta Delta Rho members also consider this affair a small token of appreciation to their mothers
