MARVIN ANTINNES DOES IT AGAIN

Athlete Cops 'Beacon' Trophy For Second Consecutive Year

Marv Antinnes, the first Colonel athlete to gain national recognition for his prowess, was unanimously named the BEACON'S "Athlete of the Year" in voting held this week by members of the newspaper's sports staff. It marks the second consecutive year he has been so honored.

Antinnes competed in football and wrestling and was outstanding in both areas of intercollegiate competition. He started the 1960 football campaign strong at full-back and only a few days after the first game was injured during an intra-squad scrimmage and was unable to participate in the next three games.

In the remaining five games of the nine game schedule he was a veritable ball of fire, grinding out yardage at a rapid rate, ending up as team leader in that department and having led Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference in total offense with 694 yards. He averaged 4.1 yards per carry, was first in the Division in rushing and second in total offense while ranking in the top ten in scoring.

He was named honorable mention on the Little "All American" squad and was once named to the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference's All-East Team of the Week. He was named Most Valuable Back of the Colonels this past season and was the recipient of the Gallagher Memorial Award for two consecutive years, the first time the latter award has been given the same man two years running.

Wrestling, however, partly because of the record of the team itself, turned out to be the sport in which he seemed most outstanding. Entering into the season with the same enthusiasm he had exhibited on the gridiron, he won all of his nine dual matches. For the second consecutive year he was runner-up in the 177 pound class at the Wilkes Open Wrestling Tournament, the farthest a Colonel grappler ever managed to get in the "Rose Bowl" of wrestling and both times he was decided by West Point's Al Rushatz.

To finish off the wrestling season he won his weight class at the MAC Tournament, despite the fact that he was wrestling with an infected, heavily bandaged elbow. It was the third MAC crown won by the good-looking "Mustang". He won the 167 pound class title in his sophomore year and as a junior he came in first in the 177 competition. In March, 1960 he entered and won the 177 class in the small college NAIA competition to finish off the highly successful 1960 mat campaign. Captain of the 1960-'61 mat squad, he was also cited with the Howie W. Davis Trophy last year for all-around excellence.

As a finale, at the athletes' banquet in March he was presented with a special athletic "honor roll" award for superior and record-breaking performance in intercollegiate wrestling. His record in four-year competition includes 36 victories and one loss. Thirty-three of the 36 wins have been consecutive with 19 having been by falls. He also contributed 146 team points, breaking Jim Ward's old record, to aid the Colonels in their current string of 29 consecutive victories.

Other winners of the Beacon award in the past years have been Mike Dydo, Ron Rescigno, Jim

A panel made up of club members discussed South African views on apartheid last night. Wilkes students Gary DeHope, Howard Hall, Sally Zupka, Jerry Krassa, Jerry Shilanski, Robert Bond, and Gary Siegel composed the panel.

Club members are now working on a booth for the Spring Carnival and are planning to help the Wyoming Valley United Nations organization with a booth for the Fine Arts Fiesta to be held on Public Square next week.

He is a junior accounting major from Kingston and a varsity soccer player. His vice-president for next year, Robert Chamberlain, a junior retailing major from Dallas, was the recipient of the "President's Award".

Also serving in an administrative capacity next year are Donald Eller, secretary, and Frank Kline, treasurer, both commerce and finance majors.

New members elected to the college chapter are: Robert Ainsworth, city; Nicholas Alesandro, Manville, N.J.; Robert Conway, Kingston; Gary DeHope, Harveys Lake; David Edwards, city; Peter Greenberg, Cheltenham; Donald Eller, Monroeville, N.J.; Erwin Guetig, Union, N.J.

The college Jaycees have learned that several other college divisions have been or are being formed. These are: St. Francis in Altoona, St. Vincent in Latrobe, Gettysburg in Gettysburg, and Scranton University in Scranton.

Many Activities Planned For Senior Class Outing

The Intramural Softball championship will be decided on Monday afternoon when the Old Timers and Rowdies meet in a "battle of the undefeated". Both squads kept their records intact this week by scoring impressive victories.

A home run in the eighth inning led the Rowdies to a 5-4 decision over Gore Hall. Glenn Johnson, peppery third sacker for the Rowdies, blasted a 3-2 pitch over Miller's head in right field to score the winning tally. The Gore Hall nine threatened in the bottom of the eighth but a nice catch by Craig Huddy halted their rally.

The first no-hitter of the season was swirled by Don Goobic as the Old Timers crushed the Bio Club, 11-0. Goobic struck out 12 Bionmen with his assortment of hooks and blazing fast balls. The winning hurler also helped his cause by blasting two doubles. Paul Deeb led the Old Timers' hitters with three hits while Pugh, Yoblonski, Jacobs, Close, Karmilovitch, and Harty each turned in two-hit performances. One of "Lens" Yoblonski's hits was a bases-loaded double in the third inning where the Old Timers scored seven runs.

Chemistry Club Elects Officers for Next Year

Letters to the Editor ...

Dear Editor:

Certainly no one, after witnessing the showing of "Operation Abolition" or listening to the ensuing discussion could ever again consider Wilkes a school without spirit, thought or opinions.

Those who contend that American youth is placid and unopinionated lost a decisive battle last Thursday evening. The mere fact that enough students, interested in seeing this controversial film for themselves, were able to fill Stark 116 to capacity, with many sitting on the steps and standing in the rear is ample proof that such a contention is not only false but absurd.

At times the discussion which followed the film grew so heated that measures had to be taken to insure order. Perhaps this is not in the best interest of debating, but it was inspiring to see that American college students were willing to publicly take a stand—pro or con—according to the dictates of their conscience.

I do not deny that many students overly enthusiastic disregarded the proper deportment that is necessary for such a debate. However, the fact that they were allowed to express their views is significant in that it typifies the system under which we now live. Many of the students argued solely to protect this system and those rights which enabled them to speak.

It may well be that students with the same objective in mind are those who have been labeled 'dupes' of the Communists by those who defend this film. It would be sad indeed if students of this campus were also labeled 'dupes' because they chose to disagree with the accusations made by the narrator of the film.

Let us beware of any organization that grows so powerful that it can distort the facts, deny the right of reply, and most of all, defame the character of individuals on the basis of guilty association. To assert the infallibility of a man's opinion or a group's decision is naive. There have been documented cases in the past that bear out the possibilities of human error in our courts and our government.

It has been said that truth is eternal, immortal, and needs no human agency to support it. This statement might be well applied to the people who promote the communist witch hunts. It has also been suggested that those who try to probe into the affairs of others perhaps do not have much confidence in their own system, country, or people.

What are we so afraid of? We believe we are right and we believe that we have truth on our side. If we sincerely believe this, we have no need for fear, we have only to consolidate our beliefs and reaffirm our faith in the two great documents of this country — the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence.

If we have reason to fear after this, let us re-evaluate our ideals and principles, or better yet, let us live up to those already stated in these charters. We must beware of fear, lest we let it strangle us into using the same tactics we oppose ideologically and have seen fail when used in totalitarian countries.

Communism is an idea, and ideas can be fought with committees, catchy slogans, nor weapons; ideas can be fought only with better ideas.

Jan Bronson, Busy Senior Co-ed, Has Proud Record of Activities

by Jerry Shilanski

Vim, Vigor, and Vitality. That's the way to get through school successfully. How do I know? Jan Bronson told me so! Obviously these are not Jan's words, but she is certainly the personification of this philosophy.

In her two years here at Wilkes Jan has come to be known as a spirited spark in the current of campus activities. Her performance as this year's chairman of the School Spirit Committee typifies her energy and ambition.

Upon transferring from West Chester State College last year, where she had been a popular Dean's List student, Jan immediately found a place in Wilkes' social life. She was elected vice-president of Chapman Hall, historian of the Education Club, and was the instigating force in the formation of the Kickline.

This year she is president of her dormitory, captain of the Kickline, a member of the senior class executive council, Charity Chairman of the Theta Delta Rho Sorority, a member of the Education Club and the newly formed Associated Women Students organization. Jan was chosen to be one of the Homecoming Princesses, a candidate for Cinderella, and she was selected to represent Wilkes in this year's edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She attended the ICG convention in Harrisburg as a delegate and also assisted the Beacon in coordinating the "Best Dressed Coed" Fashion Show.

Jan, an education major, commented on her recent student teaching in the Kingston Elementary Schools, by remarking that "it's a valuable experience in helping you

IDC Re-elects Greenberg; Barre Contribution Cited by Neil Castagnaro

Pete Greenberg, Nancy Palazolo, and Nick Alessandro will head the Inter-Dormitory Council next year. They were elected on Tuesday evening by the newly chosen dormitory representatives.

Greenberg, who has been this year's president, was re-elected by a strong majority. Miss Palazolo who has been responsible for the orphan adoption program will serve as secretary. Alessandro who headed the Freshmen Weekend program will be treasurer of the council.

Before the elections, the council reviewed old business and heard the president's yearly report. The council advises that all dormitory students, especially male, observe the rules governing attire in the cafeteria at evening meals (no Bermuda shorts). It was noted that the men of Barre Hall contributed $20 for the "Zoes" fund of their own volition. Unfortunately the orphan clothing drive was not as successful as had been hoped, therefore this drive will be renewed next semester.

The Council voted to create a committee to work in conjunction with the Student Government on all matters which are related to both of these organizations. It is the hope of the Council that this hand-in-hand cooperation between IDC and SG will promote a more unified feeling between dorm and day students. Buzz Lewin and Dave Peters are the co-chairmen of this committee.

In his report, president Greenberg gave a summation of the accomplishments of the IDC for this past academic year. Items like the Freshmen Orientation Program, the Student Union, Dining Hall improvements, and the Foreign Orphan project were mentioned.

find out whether or not you really want to teach." This statement was made in a tone of doubtfulness, since Jan's fourth grade class gave her a bad case of the Three Day Measles as a going-away present. The blotches appeared the day after she had completed her eight-week adventure with the "kids" and the classroom.

Still she admitted, although a little hesitantly, that she is planning to teach and perhaps someday enter the guidance field. Her tentative plans are to teach next year in an elementary school in San Bernardino, California.

When asked about long-range plans, "far away places" she replied with a traveling gleam in her eye.

Last summer she and another girl from Wilkes, Doris Gademian, instilled with a desire to get out into the "cruel world", went job-seeking at the shore. After "beating the boards" for eight days, and trying to "stretch the remainder of their grub stake" by sharing hot dogs, the girls finally landed jobs in Atlantic City.

Beginning as an inexperienced waitress, Jan's amiableness was soon recognized and she was offered the job of Assistant Social Director in one of the large seaside hotels. At the end of the season she helped with the 1960 Miss America Pageant and was hostess to four of the contestants: Miss Alaska, Miss Hawaii, Miss Iowa, and Miss Mississippi.

When asked to give her opinion of Wilkes, she candidly pointed out that it was growing. Then with much enthusiasm, she remarked, "I am really glad I transferred to Wilkes. I wouldn't have missed it for the world. The campus life is wonderful and I hope the dorms will always remain as they are now."

"However," she nostalgically continued, "it would be better if all students would take an active part in what goes on around campus. Although the school spirit continues to improve, it's too bad the pride and spirit that prevailed at the Middle Atlantic Wrestling Tournament does not exist at all times."

Miss Bronson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Bronson of Sweet Valley, Pennsylvania. She graduated in 1957 from Lehman-Jackson-Ross Joint High School where she exhibited the same indefatigable personality that qualifies her as a "human dynamo".

Although hobbies are the last thing you would expect a vivacious coed to pursue, Jan is quite apt to blare out a "Trumpeter's Lullaby" on the instrument she has been playing for nearly ten years. In addition to music, she is fond of swimming, tennis, and horseback riding.

Bisons Make It Third Straight; Colonels Place Tenth with 718 Score

Bucknell continued its dominance of the Middle Atlantic Golf Conference by capturing the MAC tourney championship crown for the third consecutive year in the twelfth annual tourney held Monday at Irem Temple Country Club in Dallas.

It marked the fourth time in the last five seasons that the Bisons have clinched the tourney championship. Their four-man team posted a 36-hole total of 647 to win by four strokes over Lehigh University which posted a 651.

Coach Farrar's four-man team found the going rough and ended the day's play with 718 to place tenth of the 18 entries. Last year the Colonels ended in 16th place in a field of 18. The host Wilkes team consisted of Al Stralka, Dick Belas, John Adams and Bob Januszko with Stralka posting the best card with rounds of 86 and 71 for a total of 167.

The Bisons, led by co-captain Bob

Etzweiler and Curt Mull, shot well on the last nine holes to edge Lehigh and the University of Delaware for the title. At the mid-way point of the tourney the Bisons trailed Franklin and Marshall by a single stroke but the F & M golfers faltered on the wet, rainy afternoon round to fall out of contention.

Michael Turbill of the University of Delaware won the Ron Stuart Memorial Trophy for having the 36-hole low score of 152 with rounds of 77 and 75. Turbill putted well on the afternoon round and in spite of a steady drizzle shot 75, just three over par. Bob Goodman of Albright matched Turbill's performance but had a double bogey on the 16th hole in the morning round to end the day with 154. Mike Reynolds of F & M faltered in the afternoon and after leading the golfers at the 18-hole mark ended the day with 155 at third place.

Other team scores: Delaware 652, Franklin and Marshall 652, Lafayette 680, Gettysburg 681, Temple 689, St. Joseph's 703, Wilkes 718, Susquehanna 720, Juniata 721, Upsala 731, Moravian 741, Albright 757, Lycoming 760, Hofstra 767, and Scranton, no card.

Other individual leaders: John Rogers, Gettysburg, 77-79—156; Lee Owens, Lehigh, 78-19—157; Bob Etzweiler, Bucknell, 80-77—157; Jim Henley, Drexel, 81-78—159; Robert Fuerst, Lehigh, 75-84—159; Richard Humphrey, Delaware, 81-79—160; Curt Mull, Bucknell, 80-81—161.

In Sunday's intramural bowling competition the Playboys clinched the title for the second half of the season's play and for the season, as they had previously won the first half.

The Playboys clinched the title by winning a forfeit match over the Pinbusters. Only Emil Petrasek of the Pinbusters showed up to engage the Playboys in competition and he turned in a 190-533. Joe Shemanski had a 172-449 for the Playboys.

The Boozers five-man team turned in four totals of over 500 and in the second game racked up a total pin fall of 921, the highest single game team total of the year. Jerry Chisarick led the Tornados with 200-535.

Boozers: Kaplan 208-551, Howie Williams 193-540, Mike Dydo 178-511, Ed Roos 178-510, and Regina Ritzie 179-437.

The Ebonites shut out the Screwballs in a forfeiture to climb out of eighth into seventh place in the final league standings. Dave Sokira led the Ebonites and both teams with 181-513 while Barry Shevchuk paced the Screwballs with 160-462. Emil Petrasek and Joe Shemanski bowled with the Screwballs to affect only their averages. Ebonites: Sokira 181-513, Roger Rymer 180-489, Bob Scheeter 142-387, and Elva Chernow 128-368. Screwballs: Shevchuk 160-462, and Bob Hudock 164-437. (For average only, Emil Petrasek 190-533, and Joe Shemanski 172-449).

Freshman Gary Einhorn Turns in Impressive Court Victories

The week's Beacon "Athlete of the Week" award goes to Gary Einhorn, who thus far this season has turned out to be the tennis team's secret weapon. Gary boasts the best singles record on the squad, having been defeated only once, at Susquehanna.

His overall record of four wins and one loss has been amassed at the expense of Rider, Lycoming, Lebanon Valley, and Dickinson opponents.

The "sleeper" of the team at the outset of the season, he promptly turned in the only victory in the match against Rider and thereby announced that he'd be an opponent not to be reckoned with easily for the remainder of the season.

His opponents may easily be baffled by his quiet unassuming manner, for he sometimes gives the impression of a basset hound which is too polite to mention that someone is standing on his tail. On the court, however, this quiet young man turns into a tough foe who quickly gets down to the business of winning.

A member of the freshman class and a resident of Warner Hall, Gary is majoring in business administration. He hails from Belle Harbor, New Jersey and graduated from Far Rockaway High School last year. He was recently elected Warner Hall secretary for the 1961-'62 year. He whiles away whatever leisure time he has playing chess, ping pong, and squash.

On Saturday afternoon at 5:30 p.m., the Spring Weekend Carnival will begin in the Parrish Hall parking lot. Booths will be set up by many campus organizations and drea Crease, Terry Makarczyk, will consist of a variety of games and novelties. A special feature of the carnival will be charcoal hot dogs.

The Carnival committee is composed of Roberta Slotnick, George Gavales, Jim Jones, Ted Begun, and Patricia Lutz.

Dancing to the music of the Continentals will begin at 9 p.m. and continue until midnight at Parrish Hall parking lot. Nancy Palazzolo is general chairman of the dance.

An All College Outing on Sunday will climax the weekend activities. The outing will begin at 1:30 p.m. at Rummage's Grove, Hunlocks Creek. A car caravan will leave the Parrish Hall parking lot at 1 p.m. Maps indicating the route to Rummage's will be available on Friday and at the carnival on Saturday.

Facilities for roller skating, bowling, and swimming will also be available. Refreshments may also be obtained at a nominal fee.

At 4 p.m., a folk-sing featuring several campus personalities from Warner and Chapman Halls will be held.

The overall plans for the entire weekend have been made by the School Spirit Committee of which Jan Bronson is chairman.
