

1973

"SHE DON'T LOOK LIKE NO NUN TO ME"

When we first found out that Matt Fliss was leaving us to become the Director of Malabar, we almost cried. Luckily we overcame our sadness, despite the unfortunate things we thought would be happening to us.

We had a chance to meet the two people who would be competing for Matt's job. The first was Mr. Hawk; the second was a NUN, Sister Barbara Craig. We were shocked to think of what would happen to us if that NUN ever got the job. But to our surprise we all fell in love with the sweetest nun we'd ever met. When she walked into the room we could hear someone whispering, "she don't look like no NUN to me."

When Sister Barb finally got the job officially, everyone was looking forward to the summer ahead. When our summer first started, we made sure we had our share of fun. The only problem was that we kind of misused it, so some of us had to have it taken away for awhile.

We overcame that penalty and we hope you did too, Sister Barb, because even though we did some pretty rotten things, you always seemed to understand or at least try to anyway. We are all truly grateful; for you've helped some of us make up our future plans when we really needed help.

So we dedicate these photo albums of our many adventures, treasures, and joy of six weeks of bliss!

THANK YOU, SIS, for all the time and trouble you've spent on every last one of us.

