WILKES COLLEGE SPRING 1985

ANNUAL REPORT OF GIFTS

A Message from the President

Dear Friends of Wilkes:

It is a pleasure to share with you this special edition of the Wilkes College Quarterly containing our first Annual Report of Gifts. With this report, the College hopes to emphasize the crucial role of philanthropy in college financing.

Private giving to Wilkes College in 1984 reached a total of $1,455,742.92 from 2,762 individuals and organizations. It is worth noting that, for planning and comparison purposes, in 1984 Wilkes College began to report gifts on a calendar-year basis. Thus, annual giving to Wilkes has become coincidental with most individual and business fiscal years.

I want to underscore the challenge and opportunity which annual giving affords to friends of Wilkes to strengthen the College. Like many other private colleges, Wilkes is heavily "tuition-dependent." Approximately 85% of the education budget is funded by tuition. While not higher than many similar colleges, such dependence on tuition makes your contributions particularly important in providing additional resources in support of the Wilkes educational mission. If Wilkes can meet increasing costs by increasing annual and scholarship gift support, for example, tuition increases can be held down. By stabilizing tuition costs -- already below many better-known, though not necessarily better - quality colleges -- Wilkes can be more attractive to high school seniors and their families. The College can thereby preserve access to quality higher education for students of modest means in Northeast Pennsylvania and in the neighboring regions.

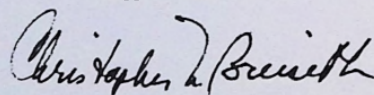

Your annual gift, then, has the double effect of helping the academic budget and the admissions program.

Special commendations goes, also, to those responsible for the record established in 1984, reflecting the help of hundreds of people who gave their interest, time and resources. I would especially like to thank the volunteers in the Wyoming Valley Campaign for Wilkes, the Alumni Executive Committee, the student and alumni phonathon callers, and the many members of the College staff and Board of Trustees who encouraged over 2,750 people to support Wilkes College in 1984.

What lies before us is the challenge of improving this record as Wilkes College prepares for the twenty-first century.

The growing support from those closest to the College represents the appreciation and respect Wilkes enjoys among its alumni and friends. It is obvious that the quality of the College's programs is held in high regard. I applaud the desire of those ready to help provide the financial resources necessary to sustain that quality for new generations of students.

With appreciation,

Christopher N. Breiseth
President

Gifts to Wilkes College in 1984 reached $1,455,742, an increase of 22.8% over the $1,184,887 received during the same period in 1983.

Gifts included in this total represent cash received from alumni, parents, friends of the College, corporations, foundations and other organizations.

Beverly B. Hiscox '58, is currently general chairman of the Wilkes campaign succeeding Harold (Jake) Trethaway in the post. Cash gifts reported for the January 1 - December 31 period include gifts received during campaigns led by both Mrs. Hiscox and Mr. Trethaway.

During 1984, the College changed its gift reporting base from a fiscal (academic) year to a calendar year to facilitate cash flow management and reporting cycles.

"The College is exceedingly grateful to both of our fine Chairmen for this excellent record," President Christopher N. Breiseth stated, "and the College is also fortunate to have such leaders as Frank P. Cuscela '58, who chaired the recent corporate campaign, and Gilbert D. Tough '56, who is our past chairman of the alumni phase."

During the "Campaign 84" victory meeting, Chairman Trethaway told an elated audience of campaign volunteers that the goal for that campaign was exceeded by 24%, bringing a total of $531,890 in scholarship assistance for capable and deserving students. That figure is included in the overall totals reported above.

The 1984 Campaign was the final one under the leadership of Wilkes President Robert S. Capin, who had announced his resignation a year earlier to enter private business. In a statement to officers and volunteers, he said, "Your willingness to give of your time and energy, your devotion to this vital effort has made this one of the most successful fund-raising years in the 50-year history of Wilkes College. I thank you in behalf of Wilkes and all the students who will be the beneficiaries of your labor."

Trethaway lauded the community for "voicing a strong desire to preserve and enhance the educational objectives of Wilkes College... to meet the challenges which lie ahead for higher education." He joined Mrs. Hiscox and Mr. Tough in extending appreciation to all volunteers and gave special recognition to division leaders Thomas Kiley, Charles Lemmond, Earl Macarty, Sandy Piccone, and Marino Santarelli.

Why Annual Giving

You might say that annual giving was founded by Benjamin Franklin. To finance the academy that is now the University of Pennsylvania, Franklin personally pledged £5,000 -- "to be paid in quotas yearly," the earliest known annual giving pledge.

Dedicated support such as Franklin's has also been a tradition at Wilkes, from the day of its founding 1933. Since then, hundreds of far-sighted persons have given the financial leadership required to build a superior College.

While tuition has always been the primary source of College income, private gifts have lifted Wilkes to its current position of educational quality. Indeed, it is only through the thoughtful annual giving of many people and organizations that private higher education -- at Wilkes and nationwide -- is nurtured and advanced. Annual gifts, particularly in their yearly continuity, constitute a needs, in fact vital resource which significantly strengthens the academic program.

Looking ahead, Wilkes has adopted a new program of mission. building on the outstanding quality of the past, Wilkes now embarks on an intensified plan to undergird the liberal arts core curriculum while engaging students in the quest for knowledge and preparation for life.

In order to accomplish these ambitious goals for this decade and beyond, Wilkes must broaden and improve College gift support. This is the challenge and the test. With the continued involvement and interest of loyal alumni, local businesses and national corporations, parents, and other friends of the College, the goals for the 80's will be met, and the tradition which is Wilkes will thrive for future generations.

Why Annual Giving

You might say that annual giving was founded by Benjamin Franklin. To finance the academy that is now the University of Pennsylvania, Franklin personally pledged £5,000 -- "to be paid in quotas yearly," the earliest known annual giving pledge.

Dedicated support such as Franklin's has also been a tradition at Wilkes, from the day of its founding 1933. Since then, hundreds of far-sighted persons have given the financial leadership required to build a superior College.

While tuition has always been the primary source of College income, private gifts have lifted Wilkes to its current position of educational quality. Indeed, it is only through the thoughtful annual giving of many people and organizations that private higher education -- at Wilkes and nationwide -- is nurtured and advanced. Annual gifts, particularly in their yearly continuity, constitute a needs, in fact vital resource which significantly strengthens the academic program.

Looking ahead, Wilkes has adopted a new program of mission, building on the outstanding quality of the past, Wilkes now embarks on an intensified plan to undergird the liberal arts core curriculum while engaging students in the quest for knowledge and preparation for life.

In order to accomplish these ambitious goals for this decade and beyond, Wilkes must broaden and improve College gift support. This is the challenge and the test. With the continued involvement and interest of loyal alumni, local businesses and national corporations, parents, and other friends of the College, the goals for the 80's will be met, and the tradition which is Wilkes will thrive for future generations.

The John Wilkes Club

Wilkes College has been shaping the lives of its students for more than five decades. In order to maintain its tradition of academic excellence, Wilkes needs the continued and substantial support of alumni and friends, thus helping the College advance its heritage as an outstanding institution of higher education.

The primary goal of the John Wilkes Club is to provide a strong base of unrestricted support for current operations. During 1984, gifts from John Wilkes members provided $812,803.51 in gift support, including $324,572.94 in direct support to the academic program and $488,230.57 to designated projects.

Membership in the John Wilkes Club is open to alumni, parents of students, and other friends of the College on a yearly basis. Active Memberships are available in the following categories: Trustee Associate - a gift of $10,000 or more; Founders' Circle - a gift of between $5,000 and $9,999; President's Circle - a gift of between $2,500 and $4,999 and John Wilkes Associate - a gift of between $1,000 and $2,499. Active Memberships may be fulfilled with gifts of cash, securities, real estate, or other property.

Lifetime Honorary membership is attained when cumulative contributions to the College reach the level of $100,000 or more. Annual Active and Lifetime Honorary Memberships may be held concurrently.

In addition to serving as an important financial resource, membership in the John Wilkes Club provides individuals with an opportunity for closer association with the Board of Trustees. An annual dinner meeting, sponsored by the Board of Trustees, is held to provide John Wilkes members with special insights into College programs. In addition, John Wilkes members are invited to special College events and receive communications from the President on important issues.

The Eugene Farley Club

As the first president, Eugene S. Farley established ideals for strengthening character and goals of scholarly excellence which the College has always endeavored to emulate. These qualities have been essential to the continued success of Wilkes.

Taking the name of the exemplar whose vitality still infuses the institution, the Gene Farley Club is also an essential part of Wilkes College. Resources given by Club members, in the form of gifts of $100 to $999, provide a critical margin of assistance insuring that Wilkes retains its position as an outstanding, private, liberal arts college.

Membership in the Farley Club is open each year to alumni, parents, and other friends of the College. There are three categories of giving: Gold Circle ($500 - $999), Blue Circle ($250 - $499), and Farley Associate ($100 - $249).

In 1984, the 674 Farley Club members provided $143,334.04 in annual gift support. Unrestricted support was $100,647.58, while designated gifts totaled $42,585.46.

During the next year, Farley Club membership will be strongly encouraged. New and increased gifts of $100 or more are vital to the strength of the College and will be actively sought during the year. With the help of Farley Club members, Wilkes will continue the proud traditions established by Eugene S. Farley during his 35-year presidency.

On the Cover

Chase Hall was built in 1918 as the residence of Fred M. Chase, then president of Lehigh Valley Coal Company. It eventually became the property of Admiral Harold Stark who was Mrs. Chase's brother and the second chairman of the Wilkes College Board of Trustees.

Admiral Stark, who served as chief of Naval Operations and Commander of the U.S. European Fleet during World War II, donated the Chase home to Wilkes in 1937 as a memorial to his late sister and her husband.

Chase Hall was one of the original buildings given to Wilkes and provided the nucleus around which the campus grew. Architecturally, it is representative of the Tudor Revival style of the early 20th century.

Of special interest to visitors are the amber leaded-glass windows and the mosaic floors. Chase Hall currently houses the Admissions Office and the Division of Graduate Studies and Continuing Education.
