

THETA DELTA RHO PLANS HOST OF SOCIAL AFFAIRS FOR YEAR

By ALMA FANUCCI
Theta Delta Rho held a meeting on Tuesday, October 26, at 7 P. M. in Chase Hall.

In the absence of Doris Banks, whose duty it is to make up the social calendar for the sorority, Marilyn Broadt gave the following dates:

November 18—A tea will be given for the student body in the girls lounge at Chase Hall.

November 19 — The club plans a dance at which Russ Andaloro will play.

November 30—A sorority meeting at which, it is hoped, more girls will attend than have been coming.

March—A St. Patrick's Day tea.
March—It is hoped that when the stores in the city have their fashion shows, they will allow the sorority to model some college clothes.

April—Breakfast party to be held on Chase lawn. Much work will be involved to make the affair a success.

April—A hay ride with a weinie roast afterwards.

April—A bridge party.

May—A bake sale to which the girls will donate cakes, pies, etc.

May—A Mother's Day tea at which "a reading" will be given.

June—A banquet to be held for the senior girls.

At this point in the meeting, the question arose as to whether the senior girls should get pins. The girls have about $200 in the treasury which was raised a few years ago to buy pins.

Miss Harker suggested the senior girls buy rose bushes for the school. The handicap of this suggestion is that the bushes require care and would bloom just about the time the February semester is ending.

The girls feel that if they can find ways of earning money they can give the club prestige. They will have the bridge party and bake sale for that purpose.

The president, Evelyn Penala-gon, suggested the girls make favors at the meetings, and at Christmas time give them to the hospitals, or fill stockings for the children's wards. The girls ap-proved.

The question of the jackets was brought up. Although there are 50 ordered, the company claims the order is not big enough to sell them at a discount rate. The jackets will cost approximately $14 and an added fee for the emblem. The order will be fulfilled within three weeks.

November 19 has been chosen as the date for the sorority dance.

Dance bands were suggested and Russ Andaloro received the major-ity of votes. Plans for the affair are as yet incomplete.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Davis, the housemother of the girls' dormitory, gave the girls helpful hints. She stressed social training as very important in girls' lives. The girls asked questions concern-ing etiquette and attire at teas and social gatherings.

Wilkes Reaches 85% of Intended $2000 Goal For Community Chest

PELTON'S STRATEGY NETS $1700 HERE

By GEORGE KABUSK
The third annual Community Chest Drive of Wilkes College ended on October 25th with the school falling 15 per cent short of its goal. The goal for this year's drive was set at $2000, or $500 more than last year. Last year's drive was met with more than enough pledges to meet the $1500 quota. When this year's drive had officially closed, the school was $300 short of the mark. Reese Pelton acted as chairman and was assisted by Robert Partridge and Robert Smith of the faculty. Mr. Pelton's campaign strategy was to appoint committee chairmen to supervise each campus organization in the soliciting of funds for the drive. The Letterman's Club sponsored a dance on October 15th and had planned to sell tickets at the door and contribute the proceeds to the Community Chest. However, the athletes must have crossed their signals, and they failed to capitalize on their break by not doing as they had originally planned. Last year the Community Chest Committee of Wilkes sponsored a sport dance at the Hotel Sterling and managed to collect a tidy sum, which certainly helped to put last year's drive over the top. Reese Pelton has issued the following statistics: A total of $1700 has been pledged to the Community Chest; of this amount the faculty and administration have pledged $1190, and the remaining $510 by the student body.

REGISTRAR ANNOUNCES

The posting of political campaign literature, announcements of rehearsals, etc., on trees located along River Street, the area within the bounds of the College, must not continue. This is city property and the untidy condition does not add to the prestige of the College.

Posting of announcements, etc., will be permitted on trees in the rear of buildings in other sections of the campus not located on city property.

Mid-semester examinations are scheduled for the week of November 1. All mid-semester grades should be reported to the office by November 11.

Students will receive their mid-semester grades from their advisors sometime during the week of November 22.

3 HIGHEST TEAMS MAY BE HONORED

By ED TYBURSKI
The Community Chest drive closed at Wilkes last Monday, and the results fell 15 per cent short of the original quota set by the school. At the beginning of the drive the goal was $2,000; however, pledges and cash only amounted to $1700. The students are credited with $500, $262 of which was cash. The faculty, office workers, and maintenance crews pledged $1190. In the battle for individual honors the Pre-Meds passed the Lettermen's Club in the closing days of the race. The race was right down to the wire; as this is being written, there is the possibility that the Lettermen might pass the Meds and regain their lead. In third place was the Cue 'n Curtain Club, and the Committee-at-large placed fourth. The Women of Wilkes was fifth, followed by the Beacon. The Cheerleaders held up the bottom of the race, coming in last. Originally, it had been planned to throw a party for the two teams pledging the most in two separate divisions. The school was divided into two groups—the seniors and juniors combined in one, and the lower two classes comprising the other. However, the Pre-Meds placed first in both divisions, and plans had to be changed. According to Reese Pelton, chairman of the drive, there is a possibility that the first three teams will be invited to the party.

Just exactly where the party will be held, or what sort of entertainment there will be, has not been decided as yet. The final plans will be announced in sufficient time for the honored guests to prepare their speeches.

Mr. Pelton announced that the college attained 85 per cent of its goal. He also stated that pledges are payable at his office on the third floor of Chase Hall, room 306.

NOTICE!

The Choral Club will not hold rehearsals on Monday and Tuesday, but everyone is expected to attend the Thursday rehearsal.

LOST

An album of Spanish records and one French record have been reported missing from the Baptist Church House. The French record can not be replaced. It will be greatly appreciated by the Language teachers if they are returned.

Spanish Club To Hold Masquerade Tonight At 8:30

Tonight at eight-thirty the Spanish Club of Wilkes College will hold a masquerade dance-party in Chase Theatre for members of the club and friends.

The following committees have made plans for the affair:

General Chairman, Mike Fex; Publicity Committee, Ned McGhee, Chairman; Jim Nolan, Richard Todd, Charlotte Davis, Mr. Davenport, Joyce Nobel and Mr. Brand; Refreshment Committee, Dolores Passeri, Chairman; Sherman Sickler, William Lavelle, Lois DeGraw, Mr. Moore, Harold Schmidt and Mr. Mikolajczyk. Entertainment Committee, Alex Molash, Chairman; Audrey Seaman, Mary Porter, Joe Klutchko, Miss Strayer, Marty Blake, Miss Wachowski and Lester Gross. House Committee, Fred Katlin, Chairman; Virginia Bolin, Joseph Gries, John Persico, John E. Jones, Marita Sheridan, Virginia Meissner and Art Spengler.

Marty Blake, president of the Club, and Miss Silseth, advisor of the group, invite all to come and join the fun.

Car Parkers Asked To Avoid Blocking Free Traffic Flow

Complaints have reached the administration concerning the parking situation on the school's parking lot at the corner of South Franklin and South Streets. It seems that certain students, and possibly some instructors, have parked in the driveway and blocked the cars already parked from leaving the lot.

The occurrence has been happening daily, and the officials of the lots are planning to take action to stop the current parking problem. A sign has been placed at the lot to warn those who park in the driveway that if they continue to park there the cars will be towed away. The warning will be carried into effect if drivers continue to ignore the common courtesies of parking.

Another parking lot is located further down on South Franklin Street, and it contains plenty of parking space. However, many car-owners of the college seem reluctant to walk the extra distance.

The officials stressed the point that this notice will be the last request for consideration on the part of the drivers. Next Monday will be the deadline for keeping the driveway clear.

BEACON-SPONSORED CABARET FETE POSTPONED TO FRIDAY

John Metcalfe To Address Assembly On Election Day

Famous Reporter and Washington Analyst Will Speak On World Affairs

By MIRIAM LONG
John C. Metcalfe, famous reporter, Washington analyst and veteran lecturer, will speak at the Assembly on Tuesday, November 2 on the topic, "Where Are We Going In World Affairs." He is well qualified to talk about this subject, since he has had twenty-one years of international reporting experience and has appeared on the American lecture platform for eleven consecutive years, during which he completed six trans-continental tours. Mr. Metcalfe was born in Dresden, Germany but was educated in the University of Notre Dame. Beginning his journalism career as a reporter for the Associated Press in 1922, he continued in this field and during World War II became the Washington Diplomatic Correspondent for Time magazine and the New York Herald Tribune.

In order to gather inside information and focus national attention on the subversive activities of the German-American Bund, he spent six exciting months during 1938 in that organization, disguised as a storm trooper and secret agent. Information gained at this time, when placed before Congress, resulted ultimately in the prosecution of alien agents from coast to coast. During this undertaking, he was retained by the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice as an expert witness on Nazi and Fascist propaganda.

His brilliant and revealing articles, he has won several awards, among which are a gold plaque from the Chicago Academy Board for a story on Americanism and the Order of Merit from the Chilean Government for his work on Inter-American Relations.

This diplomatic correspondent has covered many famous international conferences in the United States, Europe and Latin America. Since the end of World War II, he has been back in Germany on six occasions, gathering first-hand information on all four zones of Allied occupation and last minute facts on the international situation. This information has been integrated into his lecture, in which he will endeavor to answer some of the questions which are prominent in the thoughts of the people of the world today.

Music By Pelton's Orchestra. Floor Show To Highlight Affair

By Romaine Gromelski
The elusive date of the BEACON Cabaret Dance has finally been established. The dance will be held next Friday evening, November 5 in St. Stephen's Church House, commencing at 9 p. m. The change in the date has been necessary because the Church House facilities were not available on October 30, the original date of the dance.

Cabaret dances have always been well attended in the past, and it is the hope of the committees that this affair will be the biggest and best party of its kind ever to be sponsored by a Wilkes College organization.

Chairman Marty Blake has announced that the two floor shows are shaping up. The first one will go on at 10 p. m. and the second will be on the boards at 11. Chairman Blake has stated that these floor shows will be the best ever witnessed by a Wilkes audience.

Reese Pelton and his Collegians will be on hand to supply the music for dancing, and Don Lennon, chairman of the refreshment committee, has stated that there will be enough refreshments to satisfy the appetites of everyone present.

Admission to the dance is, as usual, free, and anyone planning to go is requested to make reservations any day next week from 12 to 1 p. m. in Chase Lounge. No reservations will be taken after 1 o'clock on the day of the dance.

Pelton's band is appearing through the courtesy of the Musicians Union Transcription and Recording Fund.

Silseth Group Plans Cuba Trip

Miss Martha Silseth, Spanish instructor, is sponsoring another trip to Havana, Cuba. The trip will start on December 26 and return midnight January 2. Most of the trip will be made via Pan-American Airlines. The itinerary will cover Havana, Morro Castle, night tours and tours through the country. All expenses, with the exception of meals, are covered by the $230 fee. Anyone who is interested in the trip should contact Miss Martha Silseth on the second floor of the Guidance Center.

All students, and especially Spanish students, should make an effort to hear "On Wings of Imagination" presented over WHWL at 11:30 a. m. This week's program is about the city of Sao Paulo, Brazil. Brazilian music will also be played.

IRC Proposes Five School Joint Meet

A five-school joint meeting of IRC organizations from Wilkes College, King's College, Marywood College, College Misericordia, and Scranton University was proposed at last Friday evening's IRC session. A delegation from King's College was present. Accordingly, the three schools not represented Friday evening will be notified. No date was set for the tentative meeting.

A motion to discuss the Palestine problem at the October 29 meeting, entered by John Faneck, was removed from the floor when Barbara Noble asked that it be reconsidered. Reed Lowry then moved to have Attorney Arthur H. James speak at the next meeting.

Since Attorney James had to be notified, the discussion was listed as the alternative program. Joe Kanner will be moderator if the Palestine problem is discussed.

Earlier in the meeting George Maisel reported that the budget committee had submitted a request for transportation cost to the convention at Penn State for five IRC delegates.

Also, Phil Baron, IRC president, dissolved the refreshment committee.

Barristers To Hear Attorney

The Pre-Law Club of Wilkes College will hold its first meeting as a permanent organization on Thursday evening, November 4th. The program committee of the club, with the aid of its faculty advisor, Attorney Hibbard, has obtained a local attorney, who has just been admitted to the Pennsylvania bar. This young lawyer will address the future Wilkes legal aspirants on the problems confronting a law student who is preparing for his bar examination. All members of the club are urged to attend this meeting at 8 p. m. in Chase Lounge. All other students who are interested in the legal profession are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

At the final organizational meeting of the club which was held last Thursday, the following were elected to the offices prescribed by the club's constitution:

President—Joe Radko
Vice-President—John Faneck
Secretary—Marion Weltman
The program committee consisting of the faculty advisor, Mr. Hibbard, John Tasker and Al Miller will arrange for other speakers to address the club during the course of the semester.

French Club Plans Christmas Party

Waclawski Elected President

The French Club, which meets every Monday at 12:15, recently held its election of officers. The following were chosen to serve during this year: President, Clem Waclawski; vice president, Chester Omichinski; secretary, Gytelle Fried; treasurer, George Heffernan.

The club is formulating plans for a Christmas Party to be given in the Lounge of Chase Hall on the tentative date of Wednesday, December 15. Elva Fuller will serve as Chairman of the party. The menu will be planned by Doctor Dworski and Alma Fuller, the decorations by Ann Pavlik and her committee, and the program by the entertainment committee with John Baloga as chairman.

The French Club will also prepare several Christmas Carols to be sung in Assembly before the Christmas holiday. Anyone wishing to participate may do so by attending the Monday meetings.

Class Officers Elections Show Sophomore Tie

After one of the hottest political campaigns ever witnessed on Wilkes campus, the various classes held their election last Tuesday. Voting took place from 11 to 3 in the Baptist Church House and Chase Lounge.

Those elected to office are as follows: Senior Officers, President Tom Moran; Vice President, Tom Gill; Secretary, Eleanor Krute, and Treasurer, Sam Elias. Junior President, John Florkewicz, Vice-President, Bob Waters; Secretary, Marty Blake, and Treasurer, Geo. Lewis. The Sophomores came through with a tie for president Henry Supinski and Charles Knapp. Vice-President, Henry Heiman, Secretary, Norma Persiani, and Treasurer Marilyn Broadt. Freshman Officers, President Ed Bolinski; Vice-President, Chet Maleshefski; Secretary, Elaine Turner, and Treasurer, Mary Mieszkowski.

Tony Zabiegalski, President of the Student Council, has stated that the tie which has occurred in the election of the Sophomore president will be decided in an election to be held Tuesday, November 2, from 12 noon to 2 p. m. in Chase Hall lounge.

Cue'n Curtain To Sponsor Contest

Casting Complete For Three One-Acts

By ART SPENGLER

In an endeavor to make the students aware of the existence of such a field the Cue'n Curtain Club has inaugurated a play-writing contest. To qualify, the plays must be of the one-act type and have a playing time of from 15 to 30 minutes. Contestants will not be limited in the amount of manuscripts they may submit to Mr. Alfred Groh.

The Play Selection Committee will select three plays from the number submitted and the Cue'n Curtain group will enact these plays sometime during the current semester.

On January 29 the contest will close and the Selection Committee will start the process of elimination.

The casting for the one-act plays to be presented in November was completed during the past week. The 16th, 17th and 18th have been tentatively selected as the playing dates.

Howard Ennis, Bruce Mackie, Phillip Nicholas, Henry Merolli and William Griffith have qualified for roles in NETTIE, a comedy by George Ames.

The cast of LORD BYRON'S LOVE LETTER, by Tennessee Williams will include: Virginia Bolen, Betty Kanarr, Doris Kanarr and Ross Leonardi.

Letterman's Club To Hold First Formal Affair of Semester Soon

5-TURKEY RAFFLE TO BE HELD BY WILKES ATHLETES AT WILKES-KING'S DANCE

By NORB OLSHEFSKI

Wilkes College will have its first strictly formal dance sometime in December when the Letterman's Club holds its Annual Christmas Dance, it was decided last Monday night at a meeting held by the club in Chase Hall.

There were many good arguments raised for and against the proposed formal dance when the question was raised by club president Bob Waters. After a hot debate, the question was put to vote and the men who wanted the formal won by a vote of 20-7.

The only other formal affair that has been held at Wilkes, was held last summer when the Student Council sponsored a dinner dance at the Hotel Sterling for the graduating seniors.

Tentative plans, which must be approved at the next meeting of the club, call for the dance to be held on either the tenth or eleventh of December at either Wyoming Valley Country Club or the Irem Temple Country Club. The officers of the club and a few of the members will investigate the possibilities of each date and place and will report their findings at the next meeting of the club.

Clem Scott, who was appointed chairman of the raffle committee, has announced that tickets for the raffle are now on sale and can be purchased from any of the members of the Letterman's Club. Also he stated that the drawing, which will award five turkeys to some lucky winners, will be held at the Wilkes-Kings dance on Friday, November 19. Other members of the committee who will work with Scott are: Tom Lasky, Paul Huff and Chester Knapich.

Mansfield Ties Colonels, 7-7

By BILL APFELBAUM

The Wilkes College Colonels played a tie game with the Mountaineers from Mansfield last Saturday afternoon at Mansfield, the game ending in a 7-7 score. Wilkes led by John Florkiewicz, crossed the Mansfield goal line in four minutes of the first quarter, then limited the Mansfield team to one touchdown to earn the tie.

Wilkes kicked off to the Mansfield team, and when the Mountaineers got nowhere Wilkes took over on its own 40-yard line. With Florkiewicz, Pinkowski and Waters carrying, the Colonels rolled to the Mansfield 4 on ten ground plays. From that point Florkiewicz went through center for the score. Jack Feeney kicked the extra point.

A sensational Burian-to-Dokas pass that was good for 67 yards gave Mansfield its score in the second quarter. Leo Castle had kicked out on the Mansfield 22. Burian carried for eleven yards for a first down on the Mansfield 33, then tossed a long pass to Pete Dokas, of Hanover Township. The pass, thrown by Burian from the Mansfield 25, went 45 yards through the air, Dokas catching it on the Wilkes 30. He caught it over his shoulder and went on to score. Tackle Tony Dombroski kicked the extra point.

The passing attacks of both teams were hampered considerably in the second half because of the steady downpour of rain. On the last play of the game Jack Feeney attempted to kick a field goal from the Mansfield 30-yard line, but the kick was short of the mark.

Wilkes rolled up 10 first downs to Mansfield's eight, and gained a total of 165 yards, compared to Mansfield's 186. The Colonels completed three passes out of eight attempts, while Mansfield tossed seven and made good on four of them.

'Tomorrow' Offers Writing Contest

By BOB SANDERS

In 1946 a short story contest was originated for all college undergraduates by the editors of TOMORROW, one of the nation's leading literary magazines. This contest has a two-fold value in that it gives encouragement to future writers and a financial reward by awarding $500 as first prize, $250 second prize. Any accepted stories will be awarded the magazine's established publishing rate of $125. The judges of the contest are the editors of TOMORROW and of the Creative Age Press, book publishers.

The fiction in "Tomorrow" has been widely approved by outstanding journalists and literary critics such as Herschel Brickell and Harrison Smith of the Saturday Review of Literature, and for the third year in succession Martha Foley has used many of TOMORROW'S short stories for her annual collection of the Best Short Stories of the year.

Copies of TOMORROW have been sent to Kirby Hall for any reference needed by those competing in this contest.

All entries are not to exceed 1000 words and are to include the following information on the manuscript and the envelope: College Contest, Your Name, Wilkes College, Your mailing address. A self-addressed envelope should accompany each entry and the deadline for the contest is December 31, 1948.

The address to which the entries should be sent is, TOMORROW Magazine, 11 East 44th Street, New York, N. Y.

Economics Club Has Noteworthy Record; Plans Active Semester

By CHET OMICHINSKI

The Economics Club of Wilkes College, which has been very active in the past in organizing trips to various industrial plants in order to furnish first hand information to its members, has recently reorganized, and is planning to continue its good work.

The club, which was organized in the Winter semester of 1947, carried its original officers until it lost them all through graduation last June.

Through the hard work of its former president Eugene Repotski, the club made it possible for its members to visit the Okonite plant and the Bell Telephone Co. in Wilkes-Barre, and the American Car and Foundry plant at Berwick.

Perhaps the most interesting trip undertaken by the club was to New York City. There they visited the New York Stock Exchange on Wall Street, where they had the good fortune to be for the opening of a day's business and to see the vast amount of business carried on in the seemingly utter confusion.

They also visited the Federal Reserve Bank, where they saw, in one room, nine hundred million dollars in gold bullion which is stored there for credit of foreign countries.

As part of this same trip they paid a visit to the United Nations buildings, where they saw the Security Council in session, and where the Economic Council prepared a special session and program for the Wilkes students. The high light of this trip was reached when they were requested to ask questions of the Economic Council.

The newly reorganized club has already presented this semester a guest speaker in the person of Mr. Duke Wolpert, representative of the Coca Cola Bottling Company.

They are contemplating presenting many other guest speakers as well as movies pertinent to the work of the club.

Plans for various trips, similar to those made in the past, have already been forwarded.

Any one interested in the work that the club is doing, is invited to attend the meetings.

EARL JOBES

Fifteen candidates answered Mr. Partridge's call for soccer players. Since most of the men had never played soccer, Mr. Partridge had a blackboard drill and explained the basic principles of the game. The practice sessions will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays at four o'clock in Miner Park. We want to repeat that any man who would like to play soccer is asked to report to Miner Park on the above named dates. The following named men were present at the first meeting of the candidates: Lester Gross, William B. Griffith, John J. Faneck, Leonard S. Von Heil, J. E. Jones, Samuel L. Owens, Leon E. Markowitz, James C. Smith, C. Kovalchik, G. Gayseritu, Crane Buzby, Dave Hall, Joe Pelmoter, Earl Wolfe and Andrew Basar.

The Pigskin Parade

Last Saturday afternoon the Colonels put Wilkes on the football map by holding the strong Mansfield Teachers eleven to a seven-all tie. From all reports, the Colonels could have brought home a victory if Lady Luck had been a little kinder. This week the Colonels should continue to be undefeated as they meet a not too powerful Lycoming team at Williamsport, Pa., on Saturday afternoon. Our carrier pigeon just got in from Retreat with predictions from our secret operator. (By the way, we hear the Retreat team is using an unbalanced line again this year.) Here is the way we look for the local high school teams to finish this week:

Newport 27—Nanticoke 14
Kingston 35—Meyers 7
Plymouth 20—Hanover 13
Plains 21—GAR 7
Avoca 13—Tunkhannock 7
W. Pittston 20—Kingston Twp. 6
Shickshinny 7—Forty Fort 6

Major League Flashes

The axe continues to fall on the heads of major league baseball managers. The latest victims are Bucky Harris of the Yanks, who was replaced by Casey Stengel. This shift has Benzadrine George Brody upset, as he had predicted Tommy Henrich would replace Harris. Another change was Jack Onslow replacing Ted Lyons as manager of the White Sox.

There were a couple of player deals completed lately. The Phillies traded Harry (The Cat) Walker to the Cubs for Bill "Swish" Nicholson. The Phillies also bought pitcher Russ Meyer from the Cubs. Pitcher Hugh Casey joined the "Brigade of Ex-Bums" in Pittsburgh. It is reported that the Red Sox have their eyes on Bob Dillinger of the Browns with the owners of the Browns casting envious glances at the Red Sox fat bankroll.

COLONELS AT FULL STRENGTH FOR LYCOMING GAME TOMORROW

By GARFIELD DAVIS, Beacon Sports Editor

The Wilkes footballers, still looking for win number three, go to Williamsport tomorrow night to engage the Lycoming College eleven at 8 p. m. at the South Side Stadium.

The game will be the homecoming contest for the Lycoming team. It was originally scheduled to go on at 2 p. m., but plans were changed and the game will be a night contest.

The Lycoming team has a small squad but has, nevertheless, a big line and a hard-hitting back — Jack Hamm. The team's record so far this year has not been imposing; its record shows losses to King's College and Wyoming Seminary. Last year Lycoming won three, lost two and tied three. That year the team tied King's 7-7, beat Wyoming Seminary, 18-6, and lost to Wilkes, 33-12.

The Lycoming team is led by two capable coaches — G. Lee Baer, head coach, and Joseph D. Babcock, end coach. Baer, who began his first year as head coach this fall, is a graduate of the University of Delaware, where he played four years of varsity football. Babcock was an end at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., during his playing days and has been a member of Lycoming's coaching staff for ten years.

For the second time this season the Wilkes team will be at full strength. Norman Cross, Bob Waters and Gerrard Washco were injured in the Mansfield game, but all three should be ready to go against Lycoming.

Probable starting line-ups:

Wilkes		Lycoming
Molash	LE	Manville
Hendershot	LT	Reppi
Gorgas	LG	Fessler
Elias	C	Muffley
Lewis	RG	Gagan
Washco	RT	Keller
Feeney	RE	Walters
Cross	QB	Gore
Florkiewicz	HB	Staley
P. Thomas	HB	Maltby
Pinkowski	FB	Hamm

Wilkes Surprises Forecasters

There were those who stated with a good deal of assertiveness about ten days ago that Ted Casey's Mansfield eleven was at least two touchdowns better than the Wilkes College football team. It was a good theory but it didn't work out on the playing field. The Colonels pulled a fast one on the foretellers of doom by outplaying the Mountaineers most of the way, limiting them to one touchdown, and winning a hard-earned 7-7 tie.

In fact, in the closing minutes of the contest the Colonels gave the teachers a very uncomfortable time of it, taking over on the Mansfield 10-yard line after Ed Netski fumbled in attempting to kick. It was fourth down for Mansfield and Netski juggled a bad pass from center and was hit down on the ten when he picked up the ball and made a run for it. The Mansfield line came through with some brilliant play at that point, however, and the Wilkes team was unable to score on the three plays it ran before the game ended.

John Florkiewicz faded back to pass on the first play, and was thrown for a 5-yard loss by Frank Raykovitz, huge Mansfield tackle who played an outstanding game for the Mountaineers. Florkiewicz then attempted to throw to Joe Gallagher in the end zone, but that one didn't work, either. Then, on the last play of the game, Jack Feeney attempted to kick a field goal from the 30-yard line. It was short, and that was the ball game.

Florkiewicz, playing his first full game of the season, showed his customary sparkle in leading the attack of the Colonel backs. He carried the ball 15 times and picked up 64 yards, for an average of better than four yards per carry. Florkiewicz connected on two of the six passes he threw, one good for an 11-yard gain and the other for 13 yards. Francis Pinkowski and John DeRemer also saw heavy duty as pigskin toters, Pinkowski going 34 yards in 10 trips and DeRemer picking up 23 yards on five carries.

Excellent Line Play

The Colonel line, of course, played a fine game, as did the Mountaineer forward wall. The bruising line play, in fact, was the most notable feature of the game. The passers of both teams were rushed by the linemen and had difficulty in getting their passes off with any accuracy. The Wilkes linemen, sparked by Gerrard Washco and Sammy Elias, succeeded in bottling up the elusive Tony Amendola and the other Mansfield backs. Only Nello Burian managed to go very far against the Colonels, and Nello went through the air as well as on the ground, his touchdown pass to Pete Lukas providing the most spectacular play of the game.

The Mansfield line also gave a good account of itself. The play of Vito Magdelinskas, Jack Dunbar and Frank Raykovitz was especially noteworthy. Raykovitz, a 230-pounder, broke through several times to break up Colonel passing attempts and throw the passer for a loss. Dunbar and Magdelinskas were in on most of the tackles all afternoon. Both were local All-Scholastic football performers in 1942, Dunbar at Meyers High and Magdelinskas at GAR.

Colonels Go To Williamsport Tomorrow

When the Wilkes eleven takes the field against Lycoming College tomorrow night it will be facing a team that has been beaten by both King's College and Wyoming Seminary. Lou Weidensaul, a glue-fingered Seminary end, set up two scores by catching long passes, giving Seminary a 13-6 victory. King's won over Lycoming last Saturday by a 12-7 count.

The Lycoming team has a small squad but features a hard-hitting backfield led by Fullback Jack Hamm. The team seemed unable to click against Seminary except for a 60-yard march to a touchdown in the second quarter. Hamm plunged over for the score.

TWO NEW WAYS TO JOIN THE RANKS OF AMERICA'S YOUNG LEADERS

DIRECT COMMISSION

A commission as second lieutenant in the Officers' Reserve Corps with a 2-year initial tour of active duty is ready for you if you meet these requirements: one year of honorable service in any of the Armed Forces between 7 December 1941 and 30 June 1947; have completed two years at an accredited college or university; U. S. citizenship; AGCT score of 110 or better; not more than 32 years old; physically fit. Once commissioned, you'll be assigned to a 3-month officers' training school, and, on successful completion, you'll be free to compete for a Regular Army Commission if you meet the competitive tour age requirements. Go to your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station for complete details at once.

OCS FOR HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

If you've graduated from high school or can pass an equivalent examination, are between 19 and 28 years old, are a U. S. citizen, and have necessary physical qualifications, apply now for enlistment for Army OCS. After your application is approved, you'll be enlisted as a Sergeant and given basic training if you have not had it already, then sent direct to Officer Candidate School, subject to quotas, of course. Upon graduation, you'll be commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Reserve, and placed on two years of active duty. Top OCS graduates are commissioned in the Regular Army—all others may compete for a Regular Army Commission. Get all the facts about applying for OCS entrance at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station without delay!
