'Satchmo The Great' Is Here! Full House Seen For Concert

Junior Class Event Brings Living Legend Of World-Wide Fame

A living legend, Louis Armstrong brings his golden horn and gravel voice to the gym tomorrow night for a two-hour jazz concert similar to those he has given before the crowned heads of nearly every European country. He used his brass to penetrate the "Iron Curtain," making the usual big hit with the Moscow crowds on his most recent European tour.

The 60-year old giant of the musical world has been a part of the jazz scene since his teen years, when he played in gin-mills for a dollar a night. He now commands the top dollar wherever he goes and has played before standing-room-only crowds since 1925.

When he toured the country in the thirties, he picked up his fantastic following as he barnstormed his way to fame with his improvisations of long-established hit music. He himself waxed many of Tin Pan Alley's top money-making records, including: "Shine," "Chinatown," "I Can't Give You Anything But Love," and, of course, his best known, "Ain't Misbehavin'."

Yankee Doodle Dandy

Like another famous American musician, he was born on the 4th of July, 1900, in an alley in the back areas of New Orleans, the birthplace also of jazz.

He was determined to be a musician from his early days and when the decline in jazz of the thirties put other musicians to work in big bands, Armstrong's jazz troupe went merrily on its way, cutting more records and making more money than any other group in the entertainment world.

No Quotes, Please

Several times a day he is called upon to explain the origin of his nickname, "Satchmo." "They used to call me Dippermouth," he says, "then that got changed to Satchelmouth and then shortened to Satch." He adds that "Satchmo" was just a bit of "reverse English." Then he adds, "Please don't put Satchmo in quotes," a request no newspaper ever seems to honor.

Regardless of this adherence to the style-book, however, all his press notices are glowing with praise even to the point of outright editorializing in straight news releases — if any such news can possibly be considered "straight news." Armstrong IS news, however, and even the wire services, State Department, and students of classical music are quick to recognize it and to give him unstinted praise. The State Department, for one, considers him its best agent and at no cost to the government.

The late Constant Lambert, distinguished British composer, conductor and critic, described him as "the greatest virtuoso of his age."

He himself pointed out what can be considered his whole musical philosophy. When asked what he thought of folk music, he replied gently, "Why, Daddy, I don't know no other kind of music but folk music — I ain't never heard a hoss sing a song."

C.C.U.N. ELECTION RESULTS

President, Vince Capo; vice-president, George Watson; head of delegation, Gary DeHope; treasurer, Richard Lewin; recording secretary, Peggy Churchill; corresponding secretary, Bianca Moscatto; parliamentarian, Owen Francis; historian (4 year term), Carol Tangorra.

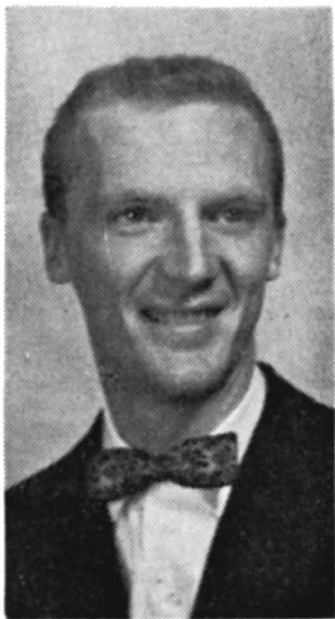

"Free For All" Starts at Nine

by Mary Frances Barone

The juniors kick off a hectic weekend tonight with their presentation of "The Free For All." As the name would indicate, there is no charge for this affair. Gil Davis, president of the junior class, told the Beacon that the class is standing the expenses of tonight's sports dance so that no economic strain will be put on the students attending tomorrow's jazz concert.

Bob Amey, business education major from Allentown, has announced that the music for dancing will be provided by John Gavazzi and the Blue Notes.

The decorations for the dance will follow the boxing theme. There will be a boxing arena and dummies in the center of the floor.

During intermission Amey will introduce the exchange students from Hampton Institute. Records of Louis Armstrong will also be played. These records are the discs which will be raffled at the Armstrong jazz concert tomorrow evening.

The following are the chairmen assisting Bob Amey: Ann Curley, decorations; Chris Loesch, refreshments; Mike Armstrong, publicity; and Joe Hiznay, band.

What makes "Satchmo" so appealing? Nobody has been able to put the answer into words, but a lot of happy people will be able to form their own opinions tomorrow night.

'Town and Gown' Band Concert Is Highlight of Parents' Day

by Lynne Dente

The last program of the Town and Gown Concert Series will be held at the gym on Sunday and will feature the Wilkes Band in their most difficult program of the year. All the selections that will be played by the band are highly respected by band directors throughout the country.

Debaters Place Second In Bucknell Tourney

by Patsy Rossi

Last Saturday, the debating team travelled to Lewisburg to participate in the Sixth Annual Good Neighbor Tournament conducted by Bucknell University. Three members of the team are novices debating in varsity competition. In spite of this, the Wilkes team brought home two individual speaker awards and a second place win based on overall team points.

The affirmative team, consisting of Roberta Feinstein and Jerome Krasa, compiled 153 points, and the negative team, consisting of Brent O'Connell and Frank Rioski, compiled 160 points. This placed the teams only ten points behind the winning teams from King's College. Roberta Feinstein, the first affirmative speaker on the team, was awarded a medal for being chosen the second highest affirmative speaker in the tournament. Frank Rioski received a medal as the third highest negative speaker of the tournament.

This Annual Good Neighbor Tournament served as the close of a successful debating season here.

BEACON NOTICE

Letters of Application for Editorial positions on next year's "Beacon" staff must be submitted by May 9. Letters should contain

A featured selection by the band will be Rossini's "La Boutique," which was arranged for the band by Respighi. This composition, which sounds contemporary, was actually written many years ago. Another selection, "The Court Festival," arranged by William Latham, was composed by Arbeau in 1588.

Other numbers include "Nobles of the Mystic Shrine," by John Philip Sousa, "Celebration Overture," by Paul Creston, and "Suite of Old American Dances," which was arranged by Robert Russell Bennett, the leading American band arranger.

The final number will be "Fanfare and Allegro," by Clifton Williams, one of America's leading composers. As a special feature, a percussion ensemble consisting of Mary Jean Sakoski, Carol Zur, David Edwards, and Harry Owens, will play "Tom Tom Foolery," by Alan Abel.

Mr. Weed has striven throughout the year to achieve a full symphonic band sound, a blend of all the sections of the band. He has been aided by the member of the band who have been working exceptionally hard this past year.

applicant's qualifications, year, and experience. Positions open will be: editor-in-chief, news editor, feature editor, sports editor, and business manager. All letters should be addressed to Mr. Francis J. Salley, "Beacon" faculty advisor.

Transform Gym Into Concert Hall

Hard-working Juniors
Present Year's Top Event

by Leona A. Baiera

The "King of Jazz," Louis Armstrong, will hit the town tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m. His jazz concert with the "All-Stars," is being sponsored by the Junior Class. A great deal of work has been put into the affair by Gil Davis, Junior Class President, and Maury James, coordinators, and their committee chairmen.

Bill Shupert of "Shupert's Alley" on WGBI, Scranton radio station, will introduce Satchmo and his All-Stars. During intermission a number of his records will be raffled off.

The Stage

A special stage, 24 feet by 16 feet, 3 feet high, has been constructed. This exceptionally large elevated stage has been constructed so that everyone will have an opportunity to see the whole show.

The stage will be illuminated by eight 1000-watt spotlights controlled by the Cue 'n' Curtain lighting board. A blue backdrop has been erected behind the stage. The lighting board, backdrop, and lights have been donated by the Cue 'n' Curtain Club and will be assembled and controlled by Ray Litman, technical director, John Tiedeck, lighting director, and George Watson, stage manager.

Seating Plan

The seating of the audience for the concert will consist of the bleachers and seats placed on the floor between the bleachers. A capacity crowd can be handled comfortably and is expected. Head usher is Vince Capo.

Tickets

Co-chairmen of the ticket committee are Hugh Gladstone and Betsy Hoeschele. The number on the reserved seat tickets will correspond with the numbered seats in the reserved seat section. Tickets will be sold at the door. Head of the door committee is Bob Bobin.

Refreshments

Soft drinks may be purchased during intermission. Refreshment stations will be set up outside of the four side exits of the gym, in the kitchen, office, and lobby. The refreshment concession is being handled by Ashley Hall.

Parking

All students are requested to cooperate with the Wilkes-Barre Police Department who will be on hand to handle parking and traffic. Because of the lack of parking facilities, the junior class requests students to leave as much space as possible for distant travelers.

Publicity

All media possible have been used to publicize this concert: radio, television, bumper tags, and 400 posters have been distributed throughout the Valley. This has been done by co-chairmen Jim Nedoff and Gale Hughes. Information about the concert, posters, and tickets have been sent to colleges in Eastern Pennsylvania through the efforts of Ann Curley, chairman

Prejudice, Discrimination Hit Home

We are pleased to welcome as guests this weekend students from Hampton Institute, who are here in the exchange program between the two colleges. With the "Free for All" tonight and the Jazz concert tomorrow night, they couldn't have picked a better time to come for a week end of excitement and entertainment.

Perhaps nothing which takes place this week end can top what happened to Wilkes students when they visited Hampton, however. A routine exchange visit was turned into a hectic situation which pointed up the South's determination to continue keeping Negroes held to second-class citizenship. The situation was odd and happened as follows:

A Wilkes student was driving a car belonging to one of the Hampton men. A policeman, seeing the integrated carload, stopped the vehicle and asked for the usual show of cards. The Wilkes driver produced his driver's license, but the owner's card was not available. The Hampton student owning the car had just recently purchased it and had not yet received his permanent record.

He produced the legal binders showing legitimate ownership, but the policeman was not entirely convinced that all was in order. The Wilkes man was then taken to headquarters, fingerprinted, and booked for driving an illegally licensed car . . . which was not in fact illegally licensed, as later evidence proved.

We must emphasize here that the Hampton officials were prompt to act, sending lawyers, school officials, and bail bond money to get the Wilkes man released. We learned Tuesday evening that Dean Hawkins of Hampton informed Dean Ralston that the case was thrown out of court Monday as ridiculous.

We further wish to make it clear that there were no violations involved when the arrest was made. The only reason that the policeman stopped the group was that the occupants of the car were of mixed color. The fact that he had found an apparent legal violation was only incidental.

The students and citizens of the locality were outraged and were quick to offer help. The officials and students of Hampton were embarrassed by the action and of course were in no way responsible for the unhappy circumstances.

Perhaps the reasons for the arrest may be that some Hampton students were at the time picketing various businesses in Richmond and Newport News in connection with the "sit-in" strikes which have recently been formed to combat the discrimination in the South.

Whatever the reasons, we can only deplore the whole mess from the present "race" problems right back to the first day man put another man in slave chains. Finding the solution to the problem is no easy task, but before we go off to other continents, officially and officiously criticizing racial subjugation, we might better heed some good advice: "Physician, heal thyself."

Misericordia Hosts Press

Members of the Beacon staff recently attended the Second Annual Intercollegiate Press Conference held at College Misericordia. All those who attended had the opportunity of hearing professional journalists speak on various aspects of the newspaper business. They were encouraged and discouraged alternately as the afternoon progressed through the words of these experienced men and women. During the discussion of these periods however some of the more common problems of running a college newspaper were brought out and various solutions that have been discovered on the college level were analyzed for their appropriateness at the present time.

Beacon staff members were glad of having the opportunity to compare problems and solutions with students from Marywood, King's, and Misericordia. The only disappointment of the day was the lack of representatives from more colleges and universities. Since the conference was so well planned and organized, the loss was to those who were not in attendance. The afternoon proved revealing for us and we hope the other college students felt same. To the women of College Misericordia who surmounted many difficulties and pressures surrounding such an affair, we wish to express our appreciation, and hope that we were as gracious as guests as they were as hostesses.

Letter to the Editor . . .

To the Editor of the Beacon

Dear Sir:

As a member of the Court of Appeal, I must admit to a feeling of acute disappointment at the attitude expressed in Bob Washburn's letter to the Beacon. In a sense, it seems to me that our long deliberations and sincere interest in trying to arrive at a just solution resulted in naught. Either we were derelict in not being able to put across to the members of Student Government clearly and effectively our several reasons for deciding in favor of ICG, or else Bob chose only to emphasize the one part of our reasoning that seemed to justify his contemplated actions.

Our decision, Mr. Editor, was a lengthy one. To our minds, far more important than the immediate issues in this particular case was the paramount question of a legal provision (Policy 3, section b) which is so dangerously ambiguous, so woefully inadequate, and so carelessly written that it leaves unlimited and arbitrary power to the particular individuals serving on Student Government at any given point in time. Strangely enough, however, we also saw in this provision a possible loophole by which certain organizations, no less guilty than ICG, could conceivably escape any possibility of punitive action by the Student Government. In summary, Mr. Editor, it seems to us that if Policy 3 is allowed to continue unchanged all subsequent decisions of the Government must at best be subjective interpretations of doubtful legal activity.

In the decision of the Court we were trying to say in effect to the members of Student Government, "Put justice first! Do not punish an organization, no matter how guilty, as long as there exists any uncertainty as to what Student Government can constitutionally do." We were also making what we considered to be a necessary constructive recommendation to Student Government, a recommendation that we feel is of immediate and acute importance to every Wilkes College student and campus organization. In order to provide equal protection before the law, it behooves Student Government to initiate steps by which its constitutional provisions will be made to conform to at least the minimal standards of common and statutory law. Otherwise, long after the details of the ICG case have been forgotten this provision may continue to plague the Student Government and to neutralize its effectiveness.

Permit me to express one final thought, Mr. Editor. I was amused and slightly nonplussed at some of the actions of individual members of Student Government following the decision of the Court. They rushed out to consult with a trained lawyer to check on whether our understanding of legal processes was correct. Secondly, they showed, however momentarily, obvious irritation and resentment toward a student member of the Court. Thirdly, I understand that a proposal was made for a secret ballot at the meeting of the Government on the question of upholding or over-riding the Court's decision. Finally, I read about "spinelessness and lack of intestinal fortitude" because of a position taken by certain members of Student Government on an issue that is at least subject to conflicting interpretations.

Let me try to make certain things clear. We, the members of the Court, are not trained lawyers. We can only offer to the students our judgement, our sincerity, and our objectivity. We are wasting our time and our energies if decisions we are supposed to make judiciously can be upset by subsequent actions of Student Government based upon political and personal animosities. We do expect that certain of our decisions will be over-ridden by the Government, but we would hope that such action

Gordon Roberts, Jim Walters Attend National Conference

by Mary Frances Barone

Last weekend James Walters and Gordon Roberts represented Wilkes in Washington, D.C.; they were attending the National Student Conference on the Sit-In Movements. Approximately 600 delegates from student governments of colleges and universities throughout the United States attended.

Strunk Appointed to Administrative Staff; Heads New Department

In an effort to coordinate the functions of the development office, alumni office, and public relations, the College has named J. Horace Strunk, a former newspaperman, to fill the newly created post of Director of Development and Public Relations. Mr. Strunk will direct the activities of these offices, and will be charged with coordinating their related functions.

The present change has occurred in part as a result of the acceptance of new positions by the present administrators. Russell R. Picton, Jr., director of development and executive alumni secretary, resigned to accept a similar position with Randolph-Macon women's college in Lynchburg, Virginia, and William A. Zdanczewicz, director of public relations, is leaving the college to accept an executive position in industry.

Mr. Strunk comes to Wilkes from Bethlehem where he was administrative assistant in the Redevelopment Authority of the City of Bethlehem.

A graduate of Blair Academy and Lafayette College, Mr. Strunk served as director of public relations at the institution. He is a veteran newspaperman, served in the European Theater during World War II, and became director of Alumni and Public Relations at Blair Academy after his honorable discharge.

He has also served as executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and Vacation Bureau, and is former editor and publisher of Homefront, a wartime magazine prepared for servicemen both home and abroad.

He resides with his wife, the former Mona Lloyd, at 227 South Franklin Street.

Freshman Piano Recital Given by J. A. McMahon

Jean Ann McMahon, a scholarship student in the music department, presented her freshman piano recital on Palm Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Liva, Scranton. Miss McMahon is on the dean's list at Wilkes, she is treasurer of the Young Musicians Society of Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, a member of the National Guild of Piano Teachers and National Fraternity of Student Musicians.

A graduate of St. Patrick's High School in Olyphant where she maintained the High Honor average, she acted as the school pianist through her four years of high school. She has performed annually in the National Guild Auditions and holds a superior rating for eight programs. In May she will receive the Collegiate Freshman Diploma from the National Guild of Piano Teachers. She will perform a fifteen-piece program.

Her recital included: Organ Prelude and Fugue No. 5, Bach-Kabalevsky; Allegro, from Sonata in C, K 284, Mozart; Concerto in B flat, No. 2 (Allegro), Beethoven; Tom Hrynkiw, second piano. Also included: Valse in C sharp minor and Revolutionary Etude, Chopin; Cir-will only be taken on the basis of logic and reason. Either the Court of Appeal represents an effective and dependable safeguard of the rights of individual students or it ought to be abolished as a meaningless and ineffective sham.

Sincerely yours,
George Elliot

The conference was sponsored by the United States National Students' Association, composed of student government presidents. A special Taconic Foundation grant made this conference possible.

On Friday, Donald Hoffman, president of the USNSA, presided over the general session. The session was held in the auditorium of the All Souls Unitarian Church. The topic for this meeting was, "The Southern Movement in Perspective." Several speakers represented southern colleges. One of the main speakers was Mahendra Wijesinghe, a representative of Ceylon University of India.

The next general session on Saturday considered the topic, "Northern Supporting Action." After the general session, delegates participated in various discussion groups. In these groups the delegates considered recommendations for solving the Negro equality problem in the South.

The conference, according to the Newsletter, of the USNSA, was called because of "the wide spontaneous spread of the student demonstrations, which began in the South on February 1, 1960, has generated interest and concern among students across the United States and around the world. . . ."

Local "Society" Members Sing In Barber Shop Concert Parade

by George J. Tensa

In the village barbershop the gaslights illuminate four men: the barber and three of his customers. As the barber removes a hot towel from the face of his last customer, the man in the chair sits up, smiles and begins to hum softly.

As if this was the cue for which each had been waiting: the barber pauses, strokes his mustache, his eyes twinkle and he hums a sweet tenor; the man holding the Police Gazette stops reading an article on Anna Held and contributes a baritone; and the solitaire player, sitting in front of a shelf of ornately decorated mugs, adds a deep bass. Soon the room is filled with masculine voices singing in close harmony.

The gaslights of the "Gay Nineties" are gone but the era's singing style of close, four-part harmony has remained with us throughout the years and has become an accepted part of the American music heritage.

Because of the interest in barber shop quartet singing today, the barber-shoppers are organized into a national organization known as the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

This month the 26,000 balladists of SPEBSQSA are celebrating their 22nd anniversary. Among these are the 30 carolers of the Wyoming Valley Chapter.

The local group meets every Monday evening at the Kingston House. They extend a "chordial" invitation to all male music lovers to join them.

Among the festivities of the local organization will be the Annual Parade of Quartets which will be held at Kingston High School next Saturday. Headlining the Parade will be the Pittsburghers, International Champions; the Check-Mates, Mid-Atlantic Champions; and the Del Chords, a comedy troupe.

Local flavor will be added to the show by the Never Home Four, the Clef-Men, and the Wyoming Valley Chorus.

Why do these carolers get such a lift out of their hobby? They give many reasons, but most frequently they mention fun and fellowship.

The barber-shoppers believe that the world could do with a lot more harmony these days and they think that more harmony might be brought about through group singing.

The Honorable Charles M. Merrill, in his keynote speech to the National Quartet Society in 1954, said something which sums up much of the members' feelings toward their society:

"... to the amateur maker of music, no thrill can compare with the thrill of the chord accurately hit and well-blended; the chord with the barbershop ring to it."

WC Students Recognized At I.C.G. Convention

by Ralph Price

On April 7, 8, and 9 seven members of ICG attended the State ICG Convention in Harrisburg. The Wilkes group was quite active at the convention with many delegates holding important positions during the proceedings.

Mike Bianco and Betsy Hoeschele were on the State Executive Committee. Bianco was also a parliamentarian. Rose Neuser held the position of secretary of the major committee, the Committee of Labor and Industry. Carol Tangorra was timekeeper, and Pat Shovlin was a sergeant-at-arms.

In addition to his other positions, Bianco was elected to the office of director of the Northeast Region of ICG. This region numbers among its members such schools as Lehigh University, Lafayette College, Scranton University, Moravian College, Marywood College, and Mansfield State College.

The ICG here is currently in the process of scheduling activities for next year. They hope to include a mock presidential election in their plans for the next term.

Activities Galore Arranged For Annual Spring Weekend

by Wayne Thomas

The meeting of the School Spirit Committee last Tuesday was devoted entirely to plans for Spring Weekend. The program for the affair which will be held May 13, 14, and 15 was outlined and chairmen of the various committees conducting the event were chosen. Jim Stephens and Doris Gademian are co-chairmen of Spring Weekend.

"House of The Angel," Argentine Movie, Scheduled Next Week

by Jim Jackiewicz

A third foreign film of the semester, "The House of the Angel", (La casa-del'angel), will be presented in Stark Hall by the Language Department on Wednesday from 3 to 5, and on Thursday from 11 to 1.

The movie is in Spanish dialogue with English subtitles. It was produced in Argentina and is the fifth film endeavor of director Leopoldo Torre Wilsson. "La casa del angel" is based on the novel of the same title by Beatriz Guido, who is one of the most noted Latin American novelists.

The movie deals with the adolescence of a 15 year old upperclass Argentinian girl in the 1920's. She is aroused to free herself from her pietistic and stern mother who raised her in a background of strict puritanism when she meets a politically inclined young man who is also a victim of his rigid upbringing.

This film which was selected for exhibition at the Cannes International Film Festival and the London Film Festival in 1957, is an excellent example of Wilsson's skill as a director. The London Times states that, "The film's atmosphere of prurience and moral decay is evoked with such authority as to leave no doubt of a rare and uncompromising talent. . . ."

The weekend will begin with a punch party sponsored by TDR to be held on Friday afternoon from 1 to 3 on the lawn behind Chase Hall, if weather permits. Cinderella Ball will be held on Friday evening from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

On Saturday, a water ballet will be conducted at 2 p.m. Cynthia Dysleski is chairman of this affair. An outdoor event in the form of a dance and possibly a carnival will be held on Saturday night from 9 to 12. Two members of the School Spirit Committee have been appointed to investigate the possibility of staging a carnival.

William Hess and Roger Rolfe are contacting presidents of various organizations to seek aid in setting up booths for this event. If favorable support is received, the committee will hold a carnival on Saturday night in the Parrish Hall parking lot. Anyone desiring to have a booth should contact a member of the School Spirit Committee immediately.

An all-college outing will be held on Sunday afternoon from 12 until 9 p.m. at a place to be announced later. Jay Keller is general chairman of the outing. The committee is also planning to conduct a car caravan to the outing.

Publicity chairman of Spring Weekend is Wayne Thomas, who will be assisted by Roger Rolfe and William Hess. A program describing the events of Spring Weekend will soon be made available to all students.

Economics Club Members Hold Outing Sunday

The Economics Club will hold its annual spring outing at Rummage's Grove this Sunday. The outing will begin at 4 p.m. with non-members invited at a small charge.

Chaperones will be Mr. Farrar and Mr. Hoover. Many activities are being planned by the outing committee, such as an egg-throwing contest. Food will consist of hamburgs, hot dogs and soft drinks and will be available throughout the day.

Sports will include softball, football, bowling, quoits, and card playing.

Bob Jones is chairman of the outing. Assisting him are Carmella Insalaco and Joseph Molski.

Everyone will provide his own transportation.

Golf, Tennis Teams Produce Victories

Golfers Beat Lycoming For Initial Triumph; Januszko Regains Form

The Colonel golfers, led by the excellent shooting of Bob Januszko, finally broke into the victory column last Tuesday at the expense of Lycoming's Warriors. The score was 12½ to 5½.

The match at the Williamsport Country Club was played under trying weather conditions as the course was hit hard by rain and lightning throughout the afternoon.

Januszko evened his point record at 6-6 for the season by sweeping all three points from his Lycoming opponent. His foe was never in the match as Bob fired a brilliant, six-over-par 78, which included three birdie holes.

Equally impressive for the Colonels were freshman John Pierce and sophomore Rich Bellas. Pierce played remarkably steady golf as he shot 42 on each nine for an 18-hole score of 84 and a sweep of all three points. Bellas, playing along with Pierce fired a fine 89, his seasonal low. Both men were playing the Williamsport course for the first time, and this fact alone added immensely to their achievement.

Wilkes vs. Moravian

Last Friday, the Colonels suffered their third straight defeat as Moravian came out on top with a 12-6 victory at the Irem Temple links.

Pete Perog and Bob Januszko provided the only scoring as they blanked their opponents by scores of 3-0.

Perog astounded himself as well as his opponent by sinking a wedge shot from 100 yards out on the tough ninth hole for an eagle 2.

Januszko beat Moravian's Volko who is considered in many ranks to be one of the top players in Eastern college competition. Bob gave a good indication in this match that he is ready to return to the fine form he exhibited during his freshman year.

VOLLEYBALL NOTICE

The Butterflies and the Dirty Sneakers will participate in the championship volleyball game Tuesday at 7 p.m. Each team was the winner of its respective league during the regular season.

The winner of Tuesday's game will play College Misericordia next week at the Wilkes gym.

Dan Lewis Places High; Is Top Wilkes Bowler In National Tourney

by Tom Dewey Evans

Dan Lewis emerged the only survivor out of the eight Colonel bowlers who entered the National Collegiate Match Game Championship on Sunday. The blond bomber from Kingston smashed the pins for a blistering 188 average over eight games. When the bowlers left New York, Dan was among the top ten bowlers out of a field of two hundred. If his scores hold up, he will be the only Wilkes bowler to reach the semi-finals of the tourney. However, there were still some 70 bowlers with scores still out and there is a slight possibility that Dan might be eliminated.

The semi-finals will be held Saturday in New York at the same Stadium Lanes. For his accomplishment, Dan would receive a trophy, plus a special shirt, bowling bag, and shoes.

Two other keglers, Dave Sokira and Emil Petrask, just missed qualification as they racked the pins for respectable averages of 179 and 175. The rest of the bowlers had a good day and improved over their previous showing in the tourney. The complete results are as follows:

Girls in Sports Day At Bloomsburg State

The female athletes of Wilkes College participated in a College Sports Day held last Saturday at Bloomsburg State College.

Lock Haven, Mansfield, Wilkes, and Bloomsburg took part in the all-day activities which included swimming, diving, softball, and badminton.

In the swimming events, Wilkes took third place in the medley relay race. Pat Van Scoy swam the backstroke, Carol Rhines - crawl, and Elaine Wolfe - breaststroke. Pat Van Scoy also took first place in the individual backstroke race. Carol Thomas placed third in the diving contest.

Cynthia Dysleski, Jane Woolbert, and Carol Thomas took part in a form swimming exhibition.

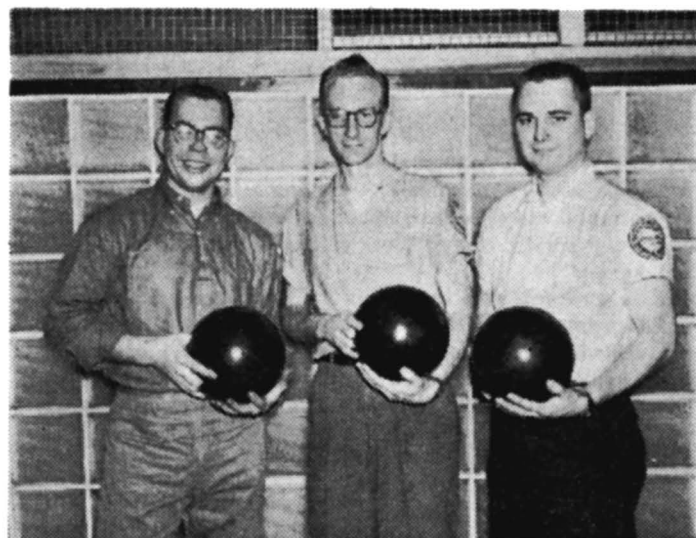

The badminton and softball teams were beaten in a round-robin tournament and did not place. Alice Powell and Mary Ann Lee played badminton, while the softball team was made up of Estelle Manos, Ellie Nielson, Rowena Simms, Ann Ligetti, Andrea Crease, Ruth Boorom, Wilma Schmolz, Regina Ritzie, and Sandra Rosehard.

Gutterdusters Cop Bowling Title; Trim Pinbusters in Playoffs

The Gutterdusters won the Coed Intramural bowling championship last week by trimming the Pinbusters, 2340-2274, in a three-game playoff. Dave Sokira was high man for the match as he led the losing cause with games of 214, 209, and 170 for a 593 series. Gutterduster "anchor man" Dan Lewis hit 210-532.

The Pinbusters took an early 27-pin lead in the first match, but the Gutterdusters took the second, 775-722 and took the final match by 803-763 in the special playoff series. The Pinbusters finished second, the Gutterdusters will receive first place trophies for the win. The defeat marks the first time in three years that the Pinbusters' name has not been entered in the championship column.

Successful Season

This year's intramural program was one of the most successful in the eight-year history of bowling at Wilkes. Over the course of the season, 40 bowlers participated, beginning in October, and have spent an estimated $935 pursuing their favorite sport. Only about twelve bowlers are seniors, giving next year's league an even rosier outlook. One entire team, the champion Gutterdusters, will be lost through graduation, however. This indicates a re-alignment of teams next Fall, which should create better balance.

After the final day of classes, the bowlers will hold a post-season party at which the trophies will be awarded to the winners. Dan Lewis, Dave Sokira, and Emil Petrask will share honors for high game; each has rolled 245. Sokira hit the high mark twice during the season.

Petrask, after two years of being second for high series trophy, will take that hardware home this year for his 629 series. Each member of the championship team will receive an eight-inch trophy, each member of the runnerup Pinbusters will receive a five-inch second place trophy. All awards have been purchased from Gene Shaker's Bowling Supplies.

Playoff Results

Gutterdusters: Lewis 532, Dick Myers 177-507, Bernie Shupp 164-461, Carl Borr 162 and 148, John Rentschler 192 and 106, and Lois Myers 119 and 113.

Pinbusters: Sokira 593, Petrask 182-507, Roger Cease 140-411, Bob Barovich 160 and 125, Tony Doknovich 140 and 118, and Jim Bogden 115 and 94.

Netters Gain First Wins, Beat Rutgers, S.U.; Dunlap, Bienkowski Star

The tennis team won its first meet in its three-year history when it defeated Rutgers of South Jersey at Camden on April 9 by a score of 8-1. They swept each of the doubles sets while dropping only one of the singles. The scoring of the individual sets is listed below.

Owen Francis, who played the first singles set, was the only Colonel to lose, dropping his set by scores of 4-6 and 3-6. From then on, the Colonels swept every match. Ira Himmel won, 6-0 and 6-2; Nick Picaretta, 6-0 and 6-1; Dirk Dunlap, 6-0 and 6-1; Ron Bienkowski, 6-1 and 6-0; and Klein finished off the singles by winning two quick matches, 6-2 and 6-1.

In the doubles, Owen Francis and Nick Picaretta won, 6-2 and 6-2; the team of Dirk Dunlap and Ira Himmel swept two matches, 6-1 and 6-2; and Klein and Ron Bienkowski finished off the Colonel scoring, 6-1 and 6-1.

Drop Susquehanna

On April 20, the Colonel tennis team defeated Susquehanna University, 5-4, on the loser's home courts. The two teams evenly split the singles and Wilkes won two of the three doubles sets to clinch the meet.

In individual competition, Owen Francis lost to Summer, 3-6 and 1-6; Ira Himmel lost to Wurster in three matches, 6-3, 6-2, and 4-6; Dirk Dunlap defeated Pressley, 6-2 and 6-0; Ron Bienkowski won over Rhodes, 6-0 and 6-2; Klein defeated Williams, 6-4 and 6-3; and Mark Halperin, making his first appearance for the Colonels, lost to Purcell in three matches, 1-6, 6-3, and 0-6.

The score was then tied, 3-3, going into the doubles and the Colonels won the meet by sweeping the first two of the three sets. Ira Himmel and Owen Francis defeated Wurster and Rhodes, 6-2 and 6-4; Dirk Dunlap and Ron Bienkowski won over Summer and Platt, 9-7, 2-6, and 6-1; and in the last set Mark Halperin and Klein were defeated by Pressley and Williams, 6-3, 3-6, and 1-6.

Lose First

Last Saturday the tennis team lost an 8-0 meet to Dickinson at Carlisle, Pa.

The Colonels came up against such strong competition that they were unable to win a match through the entire meet.

In the singles the individual scoring went as follows: Owen Francis lost to Tull, 0-6 and 1-6; Ira Himmel lost to Wolf, 6-8 and 2-6; Nick Picaretta was defeated by Waxman, 1-6 and 1-6; Dirk Dunlap lost to Ayers, 1-6 and 1-6; Ron Bienkowski was downed by Gorham, 2-6 and 3-6; and Klein lost to Smyth, 4-6 and 0-6.

Dickinson went on to sweep all three doubles: Himmel and Francis lost to Tull and Wolf, 2-6 and 1-6; Ron Bienkowski and Dirk Dunlap to Waxman and Smyth, 2-6 and 4-6; and Picaretta and Bill Woll losing to Ayers and Gorham, 0-6 and 0-6.

The next meet is at Rider in Trenton on Wednesday afternoon, May 4 with the first home meet on Saturday, May 7, when the Colonels will host a strong Lebanon Valley team.

Colonels Tackle Dutchmen Saturday

Human Beans Take Two, Recruits Rally to Win; Deebe Pitches No-Hitter

The old familiar cry of "Play ball!" resounded throughout Kirby Park last week as thirteen intramural softball teams swung into action.

On Tuesday in the American League, Dr. Gaito's Human Beans crashed out from the gate by no-hitting Ashley, 8-0. Paul Deebe set Ashley down without a hit and then came back on Thursday with a two-hitter against Gore Hall. By virtue of this 19-4 win, the Human Beans clinched a tie for first place.

The Neurotics overcame early jitters to scramble Gore Hall, 7-6, and then came back on Thursday to knock off the Undesirables, 4-3. Ashley broke into the win column on Thursday by trouncing the Aces by a score of 17 to 1. Harvey Rosen was the big man for Ashley with four straight hits, including a home run. The Undesirables grabbed a share of second place by squeezing past the Demons in a pitchers' duel, 19-4.

The favorites in the American loop now seems to be the irrepressible Human Beans. This team, directed and led by Dr. Gaito, looks like a "shoo-in" for the title.

In the National League, last year's champions, Ray's Recruits, had a scare thrown into them when John Bresnahan, Plymouth fireballer, held them scoreless for five innings, while his Fearless Fifteen collected one run off Clem Gavenas. However, the powerful latent bats of the Recruits erupted for ten runs in the fifth inning to win the game. Final score was 12-1.

Frank Spudis led the Rowdies to a 12-1 win over the Phonies. Spudis tossed a two-hitter and starred at the plate with four hits and five runs batted in.

The Blivits, led by the spectacular fielding of Gary Vandenberg and the pitching of Fred Mountjoy, disintegrated the Mutants, 14-2.

The league is now in a three-way tie for the lead with Ray's Recruits, the Rowdies, and the Blivits. However, it is generally conceded that Ray's Recruits are not as strong as they were last year and contrary

Ralph Hendershot Provides Big Bat, Produces Runs, Hits in Early Games

Ralph Hendershot, slugging centerfielder on the baseball nine, is this week's Beacon "Athlete." Hendershot was cited for his consistent hitting and run-producing bat in the Colonels' early season games.

The speedy flychaser is currently batting .455, having made 10 hits in 22 appearances at the plate. He leads the team in RBI's with 10. Figures being what they are, Hendershot to date has averaged a run produced every time he has gotten a hit.

Hendershot has hit safely in every contest and figures to be on his way to his greatest season in a Wilkes uniform.

The hustling senior has provided the Colonel fans with some topnotch batting as he has ripped off four long doubles among his 10 bingles, including two tremendous shots against Scranton, both traveling around 400 feet.

In the Stevens game Hendershot collected three hits and drove in two runs to keep the Colonels in the game. Against Susquehanna he pounded out a long two-bagger to deep left-center in Artillery Park to give Wilkes two needed runs at a crucial point in the game.

Hendershot continued hitting in the Dickinson doubleheader as he garnered three hits and drove in another run.

Hendershot is in his fourth year of varsity baseball competition and was also familiar to college basketball fans as he lettered three years on the hardwoods. He will graduate this June with a B.S. degree in Secondary Education with a major in History.

Gacha, Mathews to Hurl; Hendershot, Folek Hot; Both Hitting Over .400

by George Tensa

Tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock the baseball team will tangle with the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley in a doubleheader at Annville, Pa.

The Dutchmen edged the Colonels, 7-4, in a close contest last year. The Wilkes squad was hampered with sore-armed pitchers last year but are ready with strong front-line hurlers for this year's contest.

The starting assignments for the Blue and Gold will probably go to George "Grizzly" Gacha and Gene Mathews. The Colonels' chief hope in the long ball department will come from Ralph Hendershot, Walt Folek, Bobby Ontko, and Jerry Lawrence.

On Tuesday the Colonels will venture to Williamsport to battle the Lycoming College nine. Last season the Warriors went down to defeat at the hands of the Wilkesmen, 5-4 and 7-1.

The Warriors have five starters back from last year's squad and are led by their left-handed pitching duo of Luke Kauffman and Marlin Strohecker.

Lose Doubleheader

Dickinson turned back the Colonels twice last Saturday by 16-4 and 7-2 scores.

Walt Folek had a home run to lead the Wilkes offense in the opener. Singles by Ralph Hendershot and John Matthey and a long double by shortstop Jerry Lawrence were the other Wilkes hits.

Just Saves Game

A brilliant relief job by Jack Just highlighted a 5-4 victory over Susquehanna.

Just took over the pitching chores in the last inning after the Crusaders had loaded the bases and scored a run. Just struck out the next two Susquehanna batters to preserve the win for starting hurler Nick Alesandro.

Second baseman Walt Folek and centerfielder Ralph Hendershot led the Blue and Gold stickmen. Folek registered three singles and scored two runs while Hendershot blasted a double to knock in two runs.

Rightfielder Dick Harvey and leftfielder Clete Miller also registered singles in a winning cause.

Stevens Triumphs

The Colonel nine outthit Stevens Institute, 12-7, but left 16 men on base in absorbing a 4-3 setback. Gene Mathews, Wilkes hurler, looked very good in his initial start of the season.

Ralph Hendershot and Bob Ontko led the Colonel batsmen in the contest. Hendershot collected three singles and had two RBI's while third baseman Bob Ontko had a triple and a single in five times at bat.

CAPO ELECTED VEEP

Vince Capo, junior psychology major, was elected vice-president of the 1961 Model General Assembly of CCUN. The election was held at the Model General Assembly, Albany State College early in April.

Economics Club Ends Successful Drive

WHICH PAIR IS YOURS?

The Economics Club has concluded its annual "New Eyes For The Needy" campaign, having collected 5,200 pairs of used eyeglasses, frames, and lenses.

Frank Steck, club president, and Joseph Durishin, campaign coordinator, are packing the eyeglasses which will be sent to the "New Eyes For The Needy" organization in Short Hills, N.J. where they will be repaired and distributed to needy persons. The lenses will be readjusted; frames beyond repair will be sold in order to obtain the funds required to provide eye operations for needy children.

During its two-month campaign the club was aided by various organizations, Girl Scout troops, Kiwanis clubs, high school groups, church organizations, disc jockeys, and the Drake-Wear V.F.W. Post of Hazleton.

"Tramp" Is Final Play of Season; Original Comedy Begins May 9

Cue 'n' Curtain's final production of the year, "The Tramp," will be presented in Chase Theater May 9 to 11 at 8:30 p.m. "The Tramp" is an original comedy by Miss Myvawny Williams, a local high school teacher. Miss Williams' first play, "The Reciters," was presented as part of the Wilkes Summer Theater program in 1958, and it was well received by the audiences. Directing the play along with Miss Williams will be Alfred S. Groh, Cue 'n' Curtain director, and William Crowder, a Wilkes graduate.

Fred Malkemes

The cast of seventeen will consist of members of the community, high schools, Cue 'n' Curtain, and the college. Fred Malkemes, a '59 Wilkes graduate who has returned to the college to take education courses, will play the role of Reverend Evans. Fred has taken part in many productions of Cue 'n' Curtain, and he probably will be remembered for Oscar-winning roles in "Annie Get Your Gun" and "Holiday."

Other major roles will be played by Bonnie Jenkins as Mrs. Evans; Phil Lawlor, Wynn Rowland (the tramp); Mary Frances Swigert, Lucy Jones; Steve Cooney, Judge Parry; Dave Aston, Morris Hughes; and Dolores Amir, Mrs. Thomas.

Others in the cast are Bonnie and Jerri Baird, Sue Vaughn, Gene Stickler, Mike Murphy, Roy Morgan, Vicki Bershad, Arnold Popky, and Joe Shambe. Ray Litman will act as technical director for this final production with George Watson as stage manager.

A preview performance of the play will be given in the theater on Saturday, May 7, for the alumni of the club. The other three performances will be open to the public. All students and faculty will be admitted free; for the people outside the college a donation of seventy-five cents will be asked.

"Mikado" to Be Staged By Little Theatre Group; Begins Thursday Night

by Frances Olack

The Little Theatre of Wilkes-Barre will present its final show of the season on May 5, 6, 7, 13, 14. The production, Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" will feature the musical direction of Ferdinand Liva, conductor of the Wilkes-Barre Philharmonic, and the dramatic supervision of George Winterstein. Choreography for this operatic offering is being done by Robert Rodham.

Little Theatre did "Mikado" thirteen years ago on its initial attempt at a musical. Cast again in roles that they created thirteen years ago are Joe Mirmak as "Pooh-Bah" and Walter Mitchell as the "Mikado". Other principals in the cast include: Janet Simpson, a Wilkes Business Education major, "Pitti-Sing"; Eleanor Krushefski, "Deep-Bo"; Raymond Ansilio, "K-Ko"; Jaye Strum, "Katisha"; and Dr. Mervin Gold, "Pish-Fush".

The box office is open daily from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. For reservations call VA 3-1875.

Lettermen, Sorority Display Sun, Sea Wear At May 4 Fashion Show

by Frances Olack

Ira Himmel, senior commerce and finance major from Passaic, New Jersey, is co-chairman of "Fashions on the Boardwalk," annual fashion parade sponsored jointly by TDR and the Lettermen's Club. This year the show will highlight fashions by the HUB and will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium. Tickets are 60 cents per person and $1.00 per double ticket.

Following the title of the show, decorations and setting will feature the nautical theme. The platform will be constructed in an "L" with backdrops representing an ocean scene and boardwalk shops. The program will include swimwear, afternoon clothing, and evening attire. Commentators for the evening will be Mrs. Thomas Mack and Mr. Harry Hershey.

Among the many attractions of the evening will be surprise intermission entertainment, door prizes, and refreshments which will be served at the end of the show.

TDR member who will model the fashions include: Jacqueline Pashinski, Carol Thomas, Ruth Ann Boorum, Nancy Tinklepaugh, Jean Shofranko, Lynne Boyle, Lee Baira, Linda Paonessa, Mary Homan, and Bianca Moscato.

Representing the Lettermen will be: Carl Havira, James Neddoff, Robert Herman, George Gacha, Marvin Antinnes, Edward Kemps, Louis Zweibel, Art Eckhart, Robert Chew, and Vincent Capo.

Co-chairmen working with Himmel to achieve the professional touch are Alice Powell, Bianca Moscato, and Louis Zweibel.

Cue 'n' Curtain Alumni To Hold Dinner, See Play

by Steve Cooney

Graduates of Wilkes College who were members of Cue 'n' Curtain are in the process of forming the first club alumni association on campus.

The Cue 'n' Curtain Alumni Club, as it will be called, will hold a reunion dinner in the Commons on Saturday, May 7, at 6 p.m. After the dinner, members of the alumni will be guest at a special performance of the C'n'C production of "The Tramp."

The cast, officers and active members of the club will then in turn be guests of the alumni group at a special cast party in their honor at the America Legion Black Diamond Post in Kingston.

Coming to the reunion celebration will be former members of the club dating back to the beginning of theater at Wilkes College. The alumni group hopes to form an active organization to stimulate interest in theater at the college and to help the theater group in its productions.

Student Ballot To Choose 'Cindy'

by Steve Cooney

The date of the Cinderella Ball is fast approaching! In exactly two weeks (as of midnight tonight, that is) the glass slipper will be fitted and the 1960 Cinderella will be crowned.

There are eleven senior girls seeking the crown, and only one will be chosen Cinderella. Selection of the queen is open to ALL the members of the student body. Election day is May 5, and the Student Government sponsor of the event, will conduct the voting in Chase Theater.

General co-chairmen of the event are John Hosage and Dick Salus. Both are members of the Student Government.

The Cinderella Ball, as always, will be held in the gym. Jack Melton's orchestra will play for dancing from nine to twelve, and tickets are two dollars per couple. For renting tuxedos a check of the Beacon advertisers might help, or a glance at the main bulletin board where additional information can be found. Millie Gittins at the bookstore, is handling orders for corsages. Through Millie, a corsage of any type can be ordered at a reduced rate.

Dr. and Mrs. Reif will be caperones for the evening.

Other committee chairmen are the following: tickets, Paul Klein; refreshments, Ralph Pinskey; Cinderella selection, Betsy Hoeschele; band, Rhea Politis; and publicity, Bob Washburn.

Frank Steck Named "Outstanding Jaycee"

The "Outstanding Jaycee of the Year" award went to Frank Steck, senior commerce and finance major. Steck is also president of the Economics Club, Senior Class treasurer, member of the Society for the Advancement of Management, and member of the Freshman Advisory Committee. He received the award at last week's banquet.

John Mulhall, senior political science major and president of the Senior Class, was given the "President's Award."

Gilbert Davis, junior political science major and president of the Junior Class, received the "Rotating Chairman Award."

A trophy was given to Richard Salus in recognition of the excellent job he has done as president of the organization. William A. Zdancewicz, advisor to the group, was given a special award in appreciation for the guidance and assistance given to the college Jaycee members through the last year.

At the Annual Awards Dinner of Greater Wilkes-Barre Junior Chamber of Commerce, Leonard Mulcahy, Wilkes '58, was given the "Outstanding Jaycee of the Year" award.
