

CONGRATULATIONS: CLASS OF 1984

532 Degrees Awarded

Outgoing President Robert S. Capin presided over ceremonies at the 37th Annual Commencement of the College on Sunday, May 20, and awarded 532 degrees to individuals at the South Franklin Street Gymnasium. Originally scheduled as an outdoor event at Ralston Athletic Field, the threat of afternoon showers forced the proceedings into the indoor site.

Roman W. DeSanctis, M.D., nationally-known heart specialist from Boston's Massachusetts General Hospital and professor of medicine at Harvard Medical School was awarded the honorary Doctor of Science degree "in recognition of his contributions and dedication to improving the quality of life, lengthening of life spans through better methods of diagnosis, and treatment and prevention of heart disease by fostering education of physicians in cardiology and by training of specialists in this segment of medicine."

At the Master's level, 58 individuals were awarded degrees, with 13 of those in various majors within the Education Department, and the remaining 45 in Business Administration.

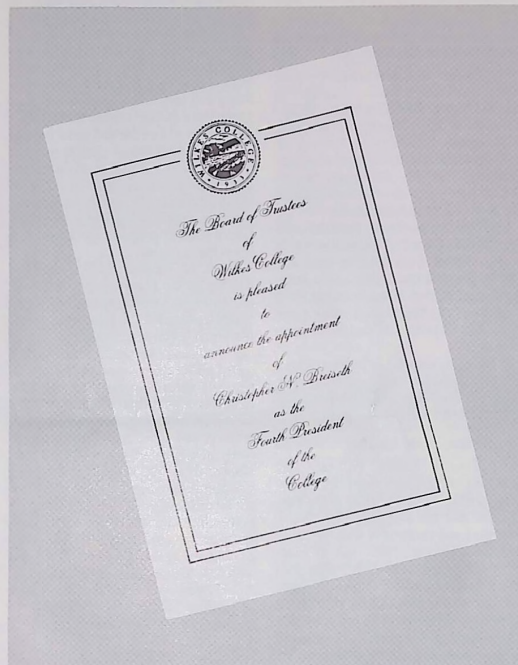

Four Bachelor's degrees were conferred, with 143 graduates receiving the Bachelor of Arts degree, 318 receiving the Bachelor of Science degree, 4 receiving the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree, and 8 receiving the Bachelor of Music degree.

Numerous Awards Presented

The two students who achieved the highest academic averages for four years at Wilkes were presented the Mabel Scott Wandell and Sterling Leroy Wandell Awards: Lorraine Ungvasky of Wilkes-Barre, and Anthony Kubasek of Mocanaqua. Ms. Ungvasky also received the Social Sciences Award, while Mr. Kubasek also received the Humanities Award. The awards in the Natural Sciences and Mathematics were made to Andrea M. Nerozzi for her work in Biology, and to Edward W. Czeck for his work in Electrical Engineering.

Ralph S. Pringle, III, Mary Anne Romanick, and David A. Talenti were presented the Alumni Award for Leadership in recognition of their contributions to student life and to the student activities program of the College. Raul A. Gochez, III, received the Nada Vujica Memorial Award as the most deserving international student of the graduating class.

NOMINATIONS SOUGHT

Are you willing to be a candidate for election to a two-year term of office as a member of the Executive Committee of the national Wilkes College Alumni Association?

Interested individuals are sorely needed to continue the leadership of the Association as we move forward into the presidency of Dr. Christopher Breiseth. A total of sixteen offices are to be filled by the end of this calendar year, with those elected serving from January 1, 1985, through December 31, 1986. The offices consist of President, First Vice President, Second Vice President, Secretary, and Regional Vice Presidents. One Regional Vice President represents each of the following twelve geographic areas specified in our Constitution:

Region I — Pennsylvania counties of Wayne, Pike, Monroe, Susquehanna, Wyoming, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Northumberland, Montour, Columbia, Lycoming, Sullivan, and Bradford;

Region II — Pennsylvania counties of Northampton, Carbon, Lehigh, Schuylkill, Berks, and Montgomery;

Region III — Pennsylvania counties of Dauphin, Cumberland, Adams, York, Lancaster, and Lebanon;

Region IV — Pennsylvania counties of Chester, Delaware, Bucks, and Philadelphia; the state of Delaware; and New Jersey counties of Mercer, Monmouth, Ocean, Burlington, Camden, Gloucester, Salem, Cumberland, Atlantic, and Cape May;

Region V — All New Jersey counties not in Region IV;

Region VI — The state of Connecticut and the New York state counties of Suffolk, Westchester, Dutchess, and Albany.

Wender, Donahue Outstanding Alumni

Dr. Paul Wender, member of the Chemistry faculty at Stanford University, and Ms. Christine Donahue, operatic soprano, were honored as Outstanding Alumni during the 37th Annual Commencement of the College.

Wender, who earned the B.S. in Chemistry in 1969, received the Eugene S. Farley Memorial Alumni Award. He earned the Ph.D. at Yale University, and taught at Harvard prior to his current post in California. Paul has been building a worldwide reputation in the field of organic chemistry, and has received grants from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation as a fellow in basic research, and from the Camille and Henry Dreyfus Foundation, which directs major attention to the advancement of chemistry as a means of improving human relations and circumstances in the world. He has been an invited lecturer in such locations as Montana State University; the Institute for Organic Chemistry at Les Diablerets, Switzerland; the Reischenscastle in Reischensburg, West Germany; the Royal Netherlands Chemical Society at Koninklijke, the Netherlands; the Mona Symposium of the Chemistry Department of the University of the West Indies; and at the Gordon Research Conferences.

Christine Donahue, the recipient of the Distinguished Young Alumna Award, earned the B.A. degree in Music in 1974. She won a grant from the F. Lamont Berlin Foundation, and completed the Master of Music degree at Julliard School of Music. She has been performing with several regional opera companies, including those of Houston, TX; Sarasota, FL; Wilmington, DE; Annapolis, MD; Lake George, NY; and Columbus, OH. A resident of New York City, Christine has both performed and received coaching in Europe as well. She also placed second in the Metropolitan Opera Auditions.

Nominations

folk, Nassau, Brooklyn, Queens, Richmond, New York, Bronx, Westchester, Rockland, and Orange;

Region VII — New York counties of Sullivan, Delaware, Otsego, Madison, Oswego, Jefferson, and all others to the west;

Region VIII — All New York counties not covered in Regions VI and VII, plus the states of Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, and Maine;

Region IX — The state of Maryland; the District of Columbia (Washington, DC); and Virginia counties of Arlington, Fairfax, Loudon, and Prince William as well as the independent cities within those county areas;

Region X — The states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, and all of Virginia not included in Region IX;

Region XI — The states of Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, and those Western Pennsylvania counties not included in Regions I through IV;

Region XII — All states and foreign countries not specifically included in other regions.

The Executive Committee meets quarterly, with the Fall meeting scheduled in conjunction with the Annual Meeting of the Association during Homecoming Weekend. Included in the duties of committee members are providing advice and input to the Office of Alumni Relations regarding activities, programs, and services offered to the alumni body, and to the President of the College in those matters of concern to the alumni or in which the thinking of the alumni would be valuable. Regional Vice Presidents also assist in the coordination of activities and meetings within their respective regions.

The success of the Executive Committee, and of the Association generally, however, is totally dependent on the interest and concern of alumni across the country who are willing to get involved by becoming a candidate for office. Over the years, we have been blessed with exactly such individuals; we now ask for you to continue that leadership into the future.

Send your name and the office for which you would like to be a candidate — or the name of a classmate or acquaintance who might be interested in running for office — to Wilkes College Alumni Office, Nominations Committee, P.O. Box 111, Wilkes-Barre, PA 18766. We will, of course, contact those individuals prior to placing their names into nomination.

Faculty, Board Awards

Christopher B. Fox received the Carpenter Outstanding Teacher Award. Fox, who has been at the College since 1978, is a scholar of late seventeenth and eighteenth century literature. Dr. Fox was recently promoted to the rank of Associate Professor of English, and earned degrees at Cleveland State and the State University of New York at Binghamton.

Distinguished Service Awards were presented to Donald F. Carpenter, active board member from 1966 to 1981 and Trustee Emeritus since 1981; and to Attorney Louis Shaffer, active member from 1960 to 1979, Trustee Emeritus since 1979, and Chairman of the Board from 1969 to 1973.

In addition, eleven graduates received their commissions and appointments as officers in the United States Air Force Reserve through the ROTC program.

Turocz speaks for Faculty

Dr. Lester J. Turocz, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Biology, addressed the Class on behalf of the Faculty. He told the assembly that "Some time ago I was confronted with the time-honored questions 'Who am I?' and 'What am I doing here?' You'd be surprised how long those two simple questions can occupy your mind and heart . . . I recommend that you ask and occasionally re-ask those questions." He advised the graduates to "enrich and broaden your perspective on life. The feast that is out there is almost without end. It certainly lets you be a more valuable and interesting friend to others."

Capin's Farewell

In his final address to a graduating class as President of the College, Robert S. Capin asked the class to reflect with him on their years at Wilkes and how the education they received will affect their future lives. "A sound education," he said, is one that helps us to appreciate and better understand the experiences that come from literature, from laboratories, from art, from athletics . . . in short, from the wide and diverse world around us, and from the quiet, private, intimate world within us. My prayer for you is a simple one: May the influences that have helped to shape and direct your years at Wilkes College also prepare you to face your future with courage, confidence, and conviction. May God bless your endeavors as you go forward from this . . . our College."

YOUR VIEWS

Editor's note: While the following letter is not really a reader response, it is so interesting that we would like to share it with you in its entirety. The author has been a resident of the Republic of Liberia since his 1975 graduation from Wilkes.

Editor:

I first came to this small West African country as a Peace Corps Volunteer. I actually filled out my application in the Commons. After surviving on $188 a month for two years, and teaching at a high school in Bomi Hills, with my small class numbering 47 and my largest 69, I decided to seek employment that would pay a bit more. This turned out to be a mining company 50 miles further in the bush. I was then making a comfortable salary and only taught small classes (5 to 11 students) in their private staff school. I did this for 4½ years, and upon completion of the 1982 school year in July was transferred and promoted to the newly formed training department as the Training Supervisor. My duties include the planning, coordinating, and implementation of training programs for the employees of the company.

Types of training include operator training for the heavy equipment usually associated with mining operations, supervisory training for our managerial and almost-managerial staff, specialized training including warehouse, accounting, safety, plant protection, wash plant operators, and an extra special class in cardiopulmonary resuscitation, craft training for our employees in the electrical, maintenance, and construction fields, and finally, an apprentice program (by decree number 57 of the People's Redemption Council of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Liberia). All this in a company in dire financial straits, run by an inept group of specialists imported from Canada (known as the Met-Chem Team) and with 60% of its employees illiterate!

For recreation, I drink club beer (much better than Sledge-mire or Gibbons), go on bush hikes, drink club beer, fish, drink club beer, hunt, drink club beer, foster friendly relationships with the local population, drink club beer, add to my large collection of primitive art, and have a gin and tonic on the veranda at sundown (an East African custom imported to West Africa by former employees of East African Railways now working for West African Railways).

I live in a fine company house, complete with kitchen, indoor bathroom, other rooms, air conditioner, ceiling fan, video, stereo, and a houseboy who washes, cooks, cleans, brings my club beer and gin and tonics for the monthly salary of $10. I also have a fine garden in which you can find all the local delicacies: hot peppers, bitter ball, collard greens, potato greens, chicken greens, water greens, palava sauce, okra, eggplant, pineapple, cassava, sugar cane, bananas, plantains, sour soup, bread fruit, bread nuts, oranges, limes, grapefruit, pau-pau, mangoes, guava, kintilly, etc. The local animals enjoy these delicacies as much as I do, but I don't mind, because any that I catch soon appear on my dining room table! The local wildlife are also delicacies, but I'll wait 'til my next missive to list them.

I will continue this in the near future. . . "The Continuing Saga of a Wilkes College Grad in Deepest, Darkest Africa."

Sincerely,

Kevin Shaughnessy

Editor:

I enjoy reading each addition of the Wilkes College Alumnus; learning about the College's activities, personalities, and events. "The News of . . ." section about alumni is one I always read, to see how my former classmates are doing, since I'm out of touch with most of them. I've enclosed a small note about the birth of our first child, Stephanie. Best to you all.

Davies to Chair Wilkes Board

— Jane Manganella

Patricia S. Davies, a resident of Dallas, PA, has been appointed the first woman to chair the Wilkes College Board of Trustees in the College's 50-plus year history.

Mrs. Davies was elected to the office by her colleagues on the board at the final meeting for the academic year held in late May.

Outgoing chairman William Conyngham, who has held the office since June, 1981, extended his congratulations. "I turn the duties of chairperson over to Pat with the greatest confidence in her ability and dedication. She will bring strong leadership to the office; she demonstrated this during the recent presidential search, during which her role as chairperson of the search committee was exemplary of her commitment to duty. I am delighted with our choice and with Pat's acceptance of the challenge."

Mrs. Davies, a native of Wisconsin, has been a resident of the Wyoming Valley since 1949, making it her home since her marriage to Stanley Davies, president of Royer Foundry and Machine Company.

A graduate of Milwaukee-Downer Seminary in Wisconsin, Mrs. Davies continued her education at Wellesley College, where she earned the B.A. degree, Phi Beta Kappa, in 1946.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Davies was an administrative assistant with the Economic Cooperation Administration of the United States government (The Marshall Plan) in Paris, France in 1948 and 1949. Prior to that, she was a member of the Editorial Staff for Scholastic Magazine in New York.

As a member of the Wilkes Board since 1976, Mrs. Davies has been involved not only in the day-to-day college activities and decision-making process, but also in the long-range plans for the College. As indicated by Conyngham, she most recently served as Chairperson for the Presidential Search Committee during the quest for a new chief administrator to replace outgoing president Robert S. Capin. In that capacity, she, assisted by committee members William Conyngham, Frank Henry, Mary Rhodes, Arnold Rifkin, Richard Ross, James Ferris, Donald Henson, Robert Heaman, and David Fife, recommended to the Board the selection of Dr. Christopher N. Breiseth. Dr. Breiseth was subsequently appointed to the office, and is expected to assume the duties of the office during the Summer.

Mrs. Davies has maintained an active role in community enrichment through volunteer work. She is former president of several organizations including the Northeastern Pennsylvania Philharmonic, the Wilkes-Barre Philharmonic Orchestra, and the Wellesley Club of Northeastern Pennsylvania. She has also served on the Boards of the Family Service Association, the Sordoni Art Gallery Advisory Commission, and the Back Mountain Memorial Library.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies are the parents of four children: Anne Davies Newman; Peter; Gordon, a student at Rochester Institute of Technology; and Molly, a recent graduate of William Smith College.

Mrs. Davies begins the duties of her two-year term immediately.

Classmates Remember Findora

If the efforts of a small group of Chemistry alumni from the Class of 1970 come to fruition, the College will add yet another named scholarship to the list of those already appearing in the Bulletin. Dan F. Kopen, a general and vascular surgeon from Kingston, PA, along with Joanne Levandowski, a chemistry teacher with the Wilkes-Barre area school district, conceived the scholarship as a memorial tribute to David Findora, a fellow Chemistry graduate with the Class of 1970, who died January 1, 1984.

Kopen recently sent a personal mailing to other members of the 1970 Chemistry class, asking for their support over the coming five years. Dan's letter was so well-written, and is sufficiently universal to apply to other members of the Class of 1970, regardless of major as well as to other Chemistry majors, regardless of year of graduation, that it is worth repeating verbatim:

"You may know that one of our Wilkes College classmates, Dave Findora, died a tragic death on New Year's day of this year. At the time of his death, Dave was employed by the U.S. Department of Environmental Resources, as a lawyer in the division devoted to the preservation of our nation's wetlands.

"Many of us remember Dave as a classmate who always pulled his own weight, who was an asset both to our class and to the College, and who was a reliable personal friend. Over the nearly fourteen years since our graduation, Dave and I kept in touch on occasion. I know through our conversations during that time that Dave held a fond place in his heart for Wilkes College and for the people he knew while we were students at the College.

"It is my feeling that it would be appropriate for us, as the Chemistry Class of 1970, to provide a lasting tribute to Dave in the form of an endowed scholarship in his name, and I invite you to join me in this most worthy endeavor.

"What I propose is that we seek to endow a DAVID J. FINDORA MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP, to be awarded on a yearly basis to a junior- or senior-level chemistry major who best exemplifies the characteristics of teamwork and reliability as judged by the Chemistry Faculty in conjunction with our class. The details of the selection process can be worked out in the future.

"According to the College's development officials, a minimum of $4,000 to $5,000 is necessary to endow a scholarship. Depending upon both the amount of money we can accumulate and prevailing interest rates, the amount of the scholarship will vary from year to year.

"While this $5,000 amount may be more than we as a group could comfortably pledge in one year, it does seem reasonable to expect that we could raise or even exceed this minimum over a five-year pledge period if we all join together on behalf of our classmate Dave.

"I would appreciate your thoughtful consideration of this endeavor; please use the enclosed pledge form to designate your commitment to the memory of our friend. With some determination, we can, over the next five years, raise the necessary funds to establish this tribute in memory of Dave at our Alma Mater."

This initial mailing has already resulted in pledges from several members of the Class of 1970, and additional commitments are anticipated as others make their decisions to become personally involved as the result of follow-up letters that Dan and Joanne plan to mail.

Alumni or friends not already on the mailing list can obtain a pledge form by calling the alumni office or by simply noting the amount of the gift for each year of the five-year pledge period, and the frequency of payment (monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually) that best fits the circumstances of the donor, noting that the gift is designated for the Findora Scholarship Fund; such pledges should be mailed to P.O. Box 111, Wilkes-Barre, PA 18766.

Toll-Free Convenience

Need to contact the College about transcript information? . . . payment of your pledge to the annual fund? . . . billing information about a student loan? If you live in one of the geographic areas served by the College's WATS lines, you can get answers to your questions toll-free.

The local calling area — Wyoming Valley — residents can reach the College at area code 717-824-4651. This number connects you with the switchboard operator, who can transfer any incoming call to any on-campus extension. In addition, alumni residing in the Scranton-Lackawanna County area can call us toll-free at area code 717-342-5617.

Two "800" numbers are available to alumni who reside in those areas served by the lines: From within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (and outside the local calling area): 1-800-572-4444. Calls originating from the New England states (excluding Maine), New York State, New Jersey, Ohio, North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia can be made toll-free using 1-800-537-4444.

Two other numbers of interest to alumni are the direct number of the Public Relations Office: area code 717-822-8413; and the Wilkes College Connection: area code 717-826-1135. The Connection provides 24-hour service of a taped message concerning campus events such as art exhibits, athletic scores, and general happenings at the College. Both of these numbers are toll-free within the local calling area only.

A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY ONLY FOR ALUMNI AND FRIENDS OF WILKES COLLEGE

The Annette Evans Alumni and Faculty House

A signed and numbered (S/N) limited edition pointillist graphic . . . perfect for home or the office. "The Annette Evans Alumni and Faculty House" depicts in detail a pointillist graphic of the building which served as the presidential residence of Dr. Eugene S. Farley, the original home of the Health Sciences Office, and now serves as the Alumni/Faculty House. Pointillism is a post-impressionist art form exemplified by Seurat and his followers in the late 19th century France. The method is characterized by the application of ink in small dots to create a blending illusion.

ABOUT THE ARTIST . . .

William O. "Bill" Williams was born in Sayre, Pennsylvania, in 1932. Because his father was employed by the Lehigh Valley Railroad, travel for the family was frequent, and he attended nineteen schools before graduating from high school in Jersey City, New Jersey. Even as a child of five, Bill felt a need to draw with dots, although it was not until much later as an adult that he learned the name of his unusual artistic technique: pointillism.

A Korean veteran of the U.S. Air Force, he attended St. Francis College in Brooklyn, and finally Hobart College in Geneva, NY. As a talented self-taught artist, Williams has been on many television shows to discuss his unique style, and he draws full-time as a professional artist. Specializing in buildings and unusual architectural structures, Williams has drawn the Golden Gate Bridge, the George Washington Bridge, the Empire State Building, and many other state and county buildings, including the State Capitol in Harrisburg. Here in the Wyoming Valley, Bill has drawn the Luzerne County Courthouse, the Wilkes-Barre General Hospital, the skyline of Wilkes-Barre as viewed from the West Side, and now the Annette Evans Alumni House.

Bill exhibits his works regularly, and it is not unusual for an original pointillist work by him to require in excess of four hundred hours of intense drawing effort.

AN OFFERING . . .

The Alumni Association commissioned Bill Williams to provide us with the original signed graphic and 200 signed and numbered graphics of the Alumni House, to be used as a fund-raiser in conjunction with the Alumni Fund campaign.

While the edition will not be offered for sale, alumni and friends of the College can obtain a graphic (S/N) by pledging $100 or more to the 1984 campaign in excess of the pledge made to the 1983 campaign. The image size of the graphic is 23" x 14" unframed; for framing purposes, the overall size is 25" x 16". Each graphic will be shipped via United Parcel Service at an additional cost of $5 per graphic. In view of the limited supply, all pieces are subject to prior commitment, and will be issued on a first-come, first-issued basis, by the date of receipt of payment of pledge. No further signed and numbered graphics will be issued as the original work of art will be retired.

The original signed graphic is offered to the alumnus/alumna or friend of the College who first pledges $1,000 or more to the 1984 campaign in excess of the pledge made to the 1983 campaign. The image size of the original is 16" x 26" unframed; for framing purposes, the overall size is 20" x 30".

This Offer will be Absolutely Withdrawn when the Original and 200 Graphics have been Committed.

OTHER PRODUCTS

To increase both the value and the visibility of this offering, the College may from time to time selectively issue similar graphics of other landmarks of the campus. The graphic of the Alumni House at 146 South River Street, however, will not be repeated.
