$60 Activity Fee Included In Next Year's SG Budget

A budget for clubs, organizations, the four classes, IDC, and CC was passed by Student Government on Monday, April 7 by a vote of 16 to four.

The budget includes a $60 activity fee per student based on an enrollment of 1,975 full-time students. This means a 100 percent increase over this year's $30 activity, and before the increase officially goes into effect it must first be approved by the Student Activities Fee Fund Committee. If approved, the new fee will go into effect next year.

In addition to the budget with the new activity fee, an alternate budget with a $50 activity fee was prepared. Both budgets were formulated by the executive council of student government under the direction of former SG president Dave Blumfield and former SG treasurer Joe Galli. The executive council discussed both budgets and the one with the $60 activity fee was brought before the SG body and put to a vote.

Tucker, Miller And Galli Win Presidencies

Joe Galli, Janine Tucker and Bill Miller will be next year's student leaders. Their official victories were announced last Friday, April 11, after voting was held the day before.

For Student Government president Joe Galli ran unopposed. Out of the 220 ballots cast he received 198. 22 votes were cast for various write-in candidates. His candidacy drew roughly 10% of the student population out to vote.

Galli assumed the office of president at Monday night's SG meeting. His executive council was elected at that time. (See SG story).

The Commuter Council presidency was sought by one candidate. Of the 75 ballots cast Bill Miller was elected CC president with 38 votes. There were 37 write-in votes which were predominately for George Bath, a local character. Miller, like Galli, assumed his position at Monday night's weekly CC meeting.

This election attracted roughly 7 percent of the commuter population while Miller received a little more than 1/2 of the vote.

The Inter-Dormitory Council presidential election ended in Janine Tucker's favor. She defeated Jon Pliskin by a wide margin. The final count was 108 to 37 with 5 write-votes.

Attracting 15 percent of the dorm student population, Tucker will assume office this week.

Galli stated that the biggest reason for increase as being to allow an amount of money to be budgeted specifically for concerts. This amount would be in the $9000-$10,000 range. According to Galli, "the executive council felt that there was a definite want among the students for concerts at the school." However, because of the small size of the gym, which is where concerts are normally held, and because of the fact that SG almost always incurs a loss in sponsoring concerts, it was felt that there was a definite need to put money aside for concerts to cover any losses, and to bring in bigger and better acts.

Also, the new budget takes care of things like the calendars that are printed every year. In the past, the administration shared the printing cost with SG, and in cases SG did not even know this. The money was just withdrawn from SG's account.

Funds have also been budgeted for posters for activities. In the past, money for posters usually came from the Student Government Fund with covers expenses for supplies, phone calls, and other things needed to run SG.

Increases have been budgeted for the accounts from which funds are allocated to clubs and organizations requesting aid. Galli pointed out that this does not mean that SG will give money to just anybody requesting it.

The executive council also raised the class budgets because the classes have shown enthusiasm and interest in sponsoring activities and getting students involved.

Also receiving more funds will be the film committee and social committee of SG. The film committee needs greater funding because the

CC Office Burglarized Over Easter Vacation

Bus tokens, park and lock coupons and a small amount of cash was stolen from the Commuter Council office on the second floor of Weckesser Hall during a break-in over the recent Easter vacation.

Discovered by Peggy Jones, Dean's Secretary, the first day back after Easter break, the CC office was not the only room burglarized for the key to the Xerox room along with few other items were reported missing from the third floor as well.

According to Bill Miller, next year's CC President, the key to the CC office was accessible in Peggy Jones' office, and apparently the alleged burglar knew exactly where the key was located. This situation, coupled with the fact that

Rise In Dorm Student Population Forces College To Lease YMCA

ADDED HOUSING-The college has acquired space in the YMCA located across the street from Sturdevant Hall on South Franklin Street. Only the living quarters on the third, fourth and fifth floors will be used by the college. It is most likely that the 96 single living units will be occupied by freshmen women. The ever increasing demand for housing space is making the need for a new dorm imperative.

To help alleviate the increased need for housing, the college made an agreement with the YMCA to lease the resident portion of the facility for five years, beginning in September 1980, according to Dr. Andrew Shaw, Dean of Management. The college would have renewable options after the five years.

This will add 96 available dorm spaces for student residents. According to Jean Reiter of the Housing Office, this facility will house female freshmen, although she would like to see upperclassmen move into the new dorm space. Three floors will be used for residents. Reiter predicts that there will be approximately 32 girls and one resident assistant per floor.

The people now living in the YMCA will vacate the facility by July 15, 1980. At that time, the college will be able to enter the facility, providing new furniture and any necessary renovations. Dr. Shaw stated, "The residency section will be sealed off from the rest of the building and the college will be doing all of the maintenance during the school year." Also, a Wilkes College sign will be placed on the entrance.

Although no rooms were available for inspection, the first floor features a large lounge area with a useable fireplace. "This area will be ideal for studying or receiving guests," stated Dr. Shaw.

He explained that the rooms are singles, with about one double per floor. "They are not large rooms, but they are comfortable," he said. Bathroom facilities are present on each floor.

Dr. Shaw believes the location is excellent, since it is so close to most campus facilities. He sees it as an almost integral part of the campus. "I would like to see it become a permanent part of the campus, also," he stated.

Projections show that next fall, there will be a demand for approximately 1060 dorm spaces. There are 775 spaces on campus. The YMCA will accommodate 96 women. The Housing Office plans to place the remaining 200 students in the Hotel.

Dr. Shaw sees the Hotel as a valuable interim measure for housing, but one which can hopefully be phased out.

There is still the distinct possibility of a new dorm in the future of the college. The Department of Housing and Urban Development will review the college's application for federal funds. If the money allocation is approved, construction would begin immediately. This would give the college a new dorm for the fall of 1981. "Despite the acquisition of the YMCA, we are still pursuing the construction of a new dorm," stated Dr. Shaw.

Cafeteria Space

With the added dorm students, space in the cafeteria will be even more limited than it is at the present time. "There would be no problem feeding the students," stated Jean Reiter, "the problem is seating them." She explained that the Housing Office and the food service company, M.W. Wood, are presently working on the problem.

WCLH Station Manager Position Assigned To Chris Kosakowski

It was recently announced by Dr. Bradford Kinney, Director of Broadcasting for WCLH radio, that Chris Kosakowski will assume the position of station manager for the 1980-81 fiscal year.

Selected from a total of six nominees Kosakowski was interviewed by a committee comprised of Dr. Kinney; Fred Pierantoni, WCLH station manager; Rich Nordheim, senior program director; and David DeCosmo, station consultant.

Noting that Kosakowski did a commendable job as public affairs director over the past year, Pierantoni added that along with his staff experience and successful interview, "Chris was the best candidate for the position."

When asked what problems the new station manager may face next year, Pierantoni stated, "Internally WCLH has grown to its full potential. I feel it will be a fairly smooth change" of leadership next year. The senior manager went on to add that if there will be any problems at all, they are likely to occur because of failing equipment or the possible movement of the station to a new location.

Kosakowski said that he was extremely happy when he learned of his promotion for the coming year. He continued that although he was very confident about being chosen as manager, there was no doubt in his mind that he would still work for the station to the best of his ability in any position.

Asked about his intended relationship with next year's staff, the manager-elect commented, "At first I must be hard. I intend to weigh everything out and if something has to be done, then it will be done." He strongly added that he hopes to establish one common policy between himself and Dr. Kinney, which will ensure station unity.

Commenting on the increasing popularity of WCLH, Kosakowski pointed out that the station has a great amount of community support as well as a large campus audience. He explained that, "We pull people away from other stations" because "We try to play what people want to hear." In an effort to increase the listening audience, the new manager said that there will be some changes in the programming format although the one the station presently has is very good. Kosakowski would not comment on the exact changes under consideration.

Eagerly looking forward to his new position, Kosakowski said that he hopes next year will be even better than the one the station is presently experiencing. He went on, "Fred has been the best manager the station has ever had. I only hope I can do at least as good a job as he has done. I hope to get more members involved and extend our membership from 60 to 80 members. I hope to do a good job, and I want people to proud to be members of WCLH. I'm very optimistic, and I extend an open invitation to anyone in the college who thinks they can help us."

CC President Reports On CC Office Robbery

"We literally got screwed." That's how Commuter Council President Bill Lewis described the robbery that occurred at the CC Office during the Easter Break. The break-in was reported to the police on Tuesday morning and an estimated $700 worth of cash, checks, bus tokens and parking stickers were taken. Lewis also noted that the office was not broken into, but rather the robbers had a key. In addition to the merchandise taken, the ledger that accounts for all CC transactions was also taken. "We have nothing to go on; whoever the robbers were, they knew exactly what they were doing." A similar robbery occurred to Commuter Council about two years ago and about $100 was taken.

As a direct result of the robbery, Commuter Council will be forced to limit its office hours from 11 o'clock to 1 o'clock each day. In addition to the cutback in hours, CC will also be investing money into a safe with only a few members of the Executive Council and the administration having knowledge of the combination. "It's a shame and it will unfortunately affect our level of service."

Executive Council Elections were held during the meeting. Installed were: President, Bill Miller; Vice President, Maurita Gries; Treasurer, John Moffatt; Recording Secretary, JoAnne Bennick; and Corresponding Secretary, Joe Rubbico.

In addition, Commuter council will also be participating in the Cherry Blossom Festival. Anyone interested in being part of the Council's team or helping out with their Ring Toss booth is asked to contact the CC office in Weckesser Hall. Also, the results from the survey taken by the CC-IDC Social Committee on "what you want to see at a party for next year" will be tabulated after school is out.

As a token of their extreme dedication, certain members of Commuter Council and of the Junior Birdmen Society of Wilkes College presented the out-going CC President Bill Lewis with a series of awards. Some of the awards include a Junior Birdman T-shirt, a poster, a pair of goggles and a pair of orange flippers. Cake and bird seed were served and the Junior Birdman Alma Mater was sung. All who attended found this CC meeting the best one so far this year.

Minors Approved In 17 Disciplines; Sociology Dept. Reorganizes Major

Minors in 17 disciplines were approved by the faculty on Thursday, April 3. The minors program will go into effect at the beginning of the fall semester of 1980.

In addition to the already approved minors, proposals for minors in political science and philosophy have been passed by the Curriculum Committee and will be brought before the full faculty for approval on Thursday, May 1.

With the approval of the minors, the Sociology-Anthropology department will no longer offer a combined sociology-anthropology major or anthropology major. The department will offer only a minor in sociology, a minor in anthropology, and a major in sociology.

The approved minors are listed below along with a description of the requirements for each. Students planning to minor in any of these areas are urged to consult with faculty members of the department in which they wish to minor. They will be able to answer any questions about the minor.

Approved Minors

Art—18 credits consisting of six courses beyond the 100 level.

Earth and Environmental Sciences—18 credits including no more than six credits at the 100 level.

History—18 credits in history. The history 101-102 sequence should be included.

Biology—23 credits consisting of Biology 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, and one three-credit biology course from the 300 level. The level course should be selected with the help of biology faculty members.

Chemistry—22 credits including Chemistry 115, and 116 or 118.

Accounting—Students must complete Accounting 101-102 before starting a minor in accounting. The minor consists of 18 credits—Accounting 111-112 additional credits.

Secondary Education—25 credits consisting of Education 101, 102, 201, 202, 203, and 380.

English—18 credits including English 151-152 and 12 additional credits in courses beyond the 100 level.

Theater Arts—A minor in theater arts consists of theater arts 141 and 15 additional credits for a total of 18 credits. Theater arts 101 will not count toward the minor.

Modern Foreign Languages—18 credits in one language beyond the 102 course in that language.

Communications—Students majoring in other disciplines may choose any one of the communications concentrations as a minor (see current student bulletin for descriptions of these concentrations). The student should include Speech 101 and Communications 101 in his program. Students choosing the concentrations in organizational communications, journalism, or broadcasting may substitute any advanced communications course for communications 252.

Psychology—18 credits including Psychology 101-102. Also, no course can be substituted for Psychology 102, and Sociology 255 and Education 202 will not count toward the minor. Psychology 215 will be the only required advanced course in the minor.

Anthropology—18 credits including Anthropology 101 and at least one of the following: Anthropology 270, 271, 272, or 273. In addition, practicum 399 may be considered.

Sociology—18 credits including Sociology 101 and at least one of the following: Sociology 255, 370, or 380. In addition, Practicum 399 may be considered.

Business Education—24 credits consisting of Math 111-112, 202, 211 or 212, 311 or 331, and a three or four credit 300 level math elective.

Computer Science—21 credits consisting of Computer Science 123, 124, 223 or 224, 227, 322 and one of the following pairs: C.S. 262 and 321, C.S. 320 and 329, C.S. 323 and 327, C.S. 323 and 328, C.S. 324 and 325, C.S. 326 and 327, or C.S. 328 and 364.

Activity Fee Increased

cost of films has gone up. The social committee will be budgeted $2000 to be used for coffeehouses and one major event.

The executive council backed the $60 activity fee because the budget with the $50 activity fee would eliminate the posters. Calendars, and decrease all accounts by $500 to $1000.

Galli pointed out that as treasurer he has seen what goes on with accounts. He has seen the limitations placed on Homecoming, Winter Weekend and the Cherry Blossom committees because of their budgets.

He says that with the increased fee SG, "can increase activities, satisfy more students, and not worry what our back pocket looks like."

He anticipates that some students will ask what if they do not participate in activities, and he

New Officers For Next Year Selected At S.G. Meeting

Student Government elected officers at Monday night's meeting after outgoing president Dave Blumfield turned the meeting over to SG's new president, Joe Galli.

Four representatives were nominated for the office of vice-president but incumbent vice-president Maria Brodsky was the only one to accept the nomination. Chris Fellin, Rob Doty, and Al Wirkman were also nominated, but they declined. Brodsky received 16 votes and three write-in ballots were cast.

For the office of recording secretary Tim Palmer, Chris Fellin, and Carol Benek were nominated, but Fellin declined. Palmer, with 13 votes, defeated Benek who had seven.

Tom Rooney, Al Wirkman, and Rob Doty were nominated for the office of treasurer. Rooney was the only one to accept the nomination and he won the election with 20 votes.

Al Wirkman was elected to the office of corresponding secretary. Peggy Butchkavitz, Elaine Kerchusky, Carol Benek, and Theresa Gabana were also nominated for the office, but they declined the nomination.

Galli announced that the position of parliamentarian will be decided by appointment this week. Also, chairpeople will be appointed for all of the SG committees.

Committee Reports

In other business, sophomore representative Ana Nunez noted that the Academic Standards Committee passed a proposal regarding academic probation and involvement in extracurricular activities. According to the proposal, "Any student placed on academic probation, as defined in the College Bulletin will be ineligible to hold student governmental office, work on College publications, participate in College sponsored intercollegiate activities, or hold a position of authority or responsibility on campus." The proposal will go before the full faculty for final approval at the next faculty meeting, and, if passed, will take effect one year after the beginning of the fall semester.

Under other committee reports, the social committee announced that a certification from the United States Olympic Committee in appreciation of the $440 donated by the Winter Weekend Committee has been received by SG. The certificate will be framed and placed in the trophy case in the gym.

It was also announced that the Sophomore class will sponsor a roller skating party tonight at Roller King in Kingston. Also, they will show the movie "Night of the Living Dead" on the last day of classes, Tuesday, April 29 at midnight. Both events will be funded through the remaining money in the Sophomore class treasury.

In other business, a vote of confidence was given to begin planning for another Hershey Park Day for next year. Also, last week, a vote of confidence was given to Dave Blumfield to look into the possibility of having a student seated on the Board of Trustees.

Galli closed the meeting by offering congratulations to those elected to the executive council of SG. He noted that he is looking forward to working with them, and he asked that everyone take a bigger part in discussions at meetings.

Coed Housing?

The Inter-Dormitory Council had been working on the possibility of coed housing for next year. Former IDC president Mike Stapleton investigated and researched the issue extensively. He wrote to several colleges that are comparable to Wilkes seeking information and read much material on the issue.

A report, not a proposal, was drafted and presented to the administration for consideration. It had passed through several channels and was receiving favorable reaction. IDC has learned, however, that there will be no coed housing next year. Someone had killed the idea.

Coed Housing used to be a controversial subject but it has become more and more accepted today. The reason is simple, many college administrations realize that the benefits far outweigh any liabilities. It is a fact that vandalism in coed dorms decreases significantly. It is a fact that on the average the social maturity level of participants in coed housing is higher than those who do not. It is a fact that students of coed housing learn to respect one another and tend to develop brother-sister relationships. It is a fact that coed housing does not affect grades like many assume. Many administrators of colleges where coed housing is offered have concluded that living experiences gained through coed housing are very valuable and practical in preparing a student socially for the real world.

All these facts are documented in the report that was presented. It was extensive and complete.

What IDC was aiming for was an alternative lifestyle. The dorm students could have the option between coed housing or not.

If Wilkes did implement coed housing there would be no guarantee that it would follow along with the trends cited above. The only way to find out is to give it a try. If after a probationary period coed housing didn't seem workable for this campus it could be discontinued.

IDC was asking for a chance to prove themselves and they were denied it. We feel this is a grave injustice on the part of the administration. Although we do not know the exact reasons why coed housing will not be offered next year we feel it reflects a very narrow minded attitude. As quoted in the college bulletin, "An educated man seeks truth, for without truth there can be no understanding." The truth about coed housing for this campus can not be understood until it is experienced.

Wilkes, like many small colleges, must now compete for high school seniors to keep enrollment up. Coed housing, as an alternative lifestyle, could be a feature that will attract students. Sooner or later the administration will realize this. We hope it won't be too late.

Next year the college will lease the local YMCA for 96 additional living units. Estimates have been reported that over 200 students will be living in the Hotel Sterling. The need for a new dorm is growing stronger every day. If construction ever starts for the dorm it should be built with the idea of coed housing in mind even if no one cares to think so at the moment.

"Over The Hill Gang" Club Holds Initial Meeting

The "Over the Hill Gang" of Wilkes College had its first meeting on Thursday, April 9, at 8 p.m. The club was formed for the benefit of those returning to college after being out of school for a few years.

Acting officers were elected: Dolores Vida, president; Dennis Hannon, vice president; Barbara Babowicz, secretary; and Terry Hincken, treasurer. Dr. Carl Charnetski was appointed as the group's advisor.

The next meeting will be on Friday, April 18 at 9 p.m. in SLC 333. Any student or member of the Wilkes College family (faculty, alumni, faculty spouses, employees, etc.) who would be interested in joining is welcome.

Willner Writes For Concern To Property

To The Editor:

This letter reflects the comments made by Mr. Raspen in his letter concerning student irresponsibility on campus. I also share his disgust that each member of the college family must contribute to the replacement of a misshapen "sculpture" of a fork and a spoon. Somehow, there are students who like to imitate Uri Geller's feats of telekinetic metal bending but by physical strength, instead of mental power. (Uri Geller is an ex-Israeli parachutist who has the psychic ability to bend keys.)

Another phenomenon I am thoroughly disgusted with is the epidemic of glass breakage that is associated with "Spring Fever." The main reason I don't care for damage is because the said vandalism is inflicted on property used by students to publicize events on campus, namely the glass covered multi-sided bulletin board outside the cafeteria. Another reason for my latent disgust is the damage to the glass panel of the SG Bulletin Board outside Chase Hall.

In case the students out there didn't know, I am the SG Publicity and Elections Committee Chairman. One of my principal duties is that of posting materials publicizing all-college events. Among the places utilized by the committee are the two bulletin boards I have previously mentioned. Furthermore, students see the senseless need to sprinkle the letters used to publicize these events, as well as putting up stupid and nonsensical messages. In short, all I am asking in this last letter to The Beacon is that students stop this senseless damage to college property, or "our property."

Campus Commentary Let Us Not Run Away From History

One need not sympathize with or condone acts of the fanatical, extremist, religious authority, resurrected in Iran, to understand the wish of the Iranian people to bring the Shah back. How would Americans have felt if, after W.W. II, some country, say Iran, had harbored, for any reason, Hitler? Surely, we would have demanded his return for judgement of his war crimes and genocidal acts. Suppose Russia's (terroristic) security forces infiltrated our government, in the early 70's, and placed King Richard (Nixon) on the throne? Would the indulgent American people, here in the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave, tolerate such a gross act of injustice and diplomatic desecration?

It is clear that the crimes of the Shah and his secret police against Iranians have been brutal and massive. That the Shah is entitled to medical treatment, like anyone, even if accused or convicted of a crime, is not the issue. The issue is whether he is to be judged for amply documented murders and torture on a large scale.

The problem of the United States Government arises from its complicity in these crimes by its reinstatement of the Shah, through the C.I.A., on his throne in 1953 and by its continued support of him. If there is any doubt that the Shah was our boy, the statement of an American diplomat that "we used to run this country" should dispel that doubt. Perhaps, one needs to consider these facts next time you see a 'Free The Hostages' sticker. History makes our current position awkward, not to say hypocritical.

If the U.S. really wishes to aid the Shah on humane and medical grounds, let it prove this by taking the following position: Let it propose that the Shah return his massive personal and family fortune, really stolen from the labor of and based on the oppression of the Iranian people, to Iran in full. Let it be distributed to his victims and their families. Also, the Shah (and those individuals who conspired with him) must be brought before an international world court of law, to stand trial for his horrendous criminal acts. The truth must always be given a chance to speak her Peace.

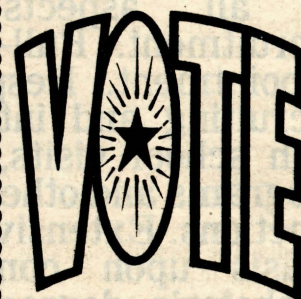

The United States would gain in many ways by such a proposal. It would, as honesty requires, acknowledge that the Shah's wealth is ill gotten and was obtained under the patronage and false disguise of the United States. Our country would gain in world opinion and bring strong pressure for the release of the hostages. It would demonstrate that we truly put life above property values, something not at all evident in our current and past policy in Iran. It would inject at least a minimum of consistency into our position that our current policy towards the Shah is based on purely humanitarian considerations.

Each day, I pray for the safe release of the hostages (everywhere). In addition, I sympathize with, support, and love those Iranians in America, who are being unjustly harassed. These individuals are being wrongly persecuted for the policies of their nation. When I travel to distant lands, I don't want to be held responsible for America's "schizo" foreign policy. Revoking visas, imposing economic sanctions, and breaking diplomatic ties with Iran, fall far short of attempting to achieve world peace. If America can strike big wheat bargains with Russia (our nuclear enemy?), surely, other avenues of negotiation can be paved in Iran.

Consider the converse: If we fail to acknowledge our complicity in the Shah's brutal regime through, for example, such a proposal, we associate our present policy with our past policy. If Mr. Carter really wishes to emphasize human rights, let him disassociate himself from the past. Let him acknowledge truth in the best way; by commencing immediate restitution.

In closing, I thank Robin W. Briehl (N.Y. Times - 11-13-79) for contributing much of the information contained within. FRIENDS. Today is the Future: World Peace is within all our grasps if we reach out with our minds. And the beat goes on. Keep the faith y'all.

Opening Reception April 19th Yatko/Foster Art Exhibit

SENIOR ART EXHIBIT—Debbie Yatko and Beth Foster will simultaneously show their works in the Conyngham Art Gallery. The combination of their works will include pottery, watercolors, oils, drawings, sculpture, photography, prints and mixed media. The opening reception will be held Saturday, April 19th from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. The show will be in the gallery until April 25th; gallery hours will be 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

Debbie has received the Manuscript Art award and been on the Dean's list three times. Beth is currently pursuing a double major in Art and Elementary Education.

Student Center Party Follows Talent Show

On this Saturday night, the Red Cross will present its annual variety show in the Irem Temple, on North Franklin Street at 8 p.m. Musical groups, comedy acts and magic tricks will abound as amateur performers from local colleges put their talents on display. The Wilkes segment of the show, which was coordinated through student Government, will feature two acts from the college as well as a party in the Conyngham Student Center afterward.

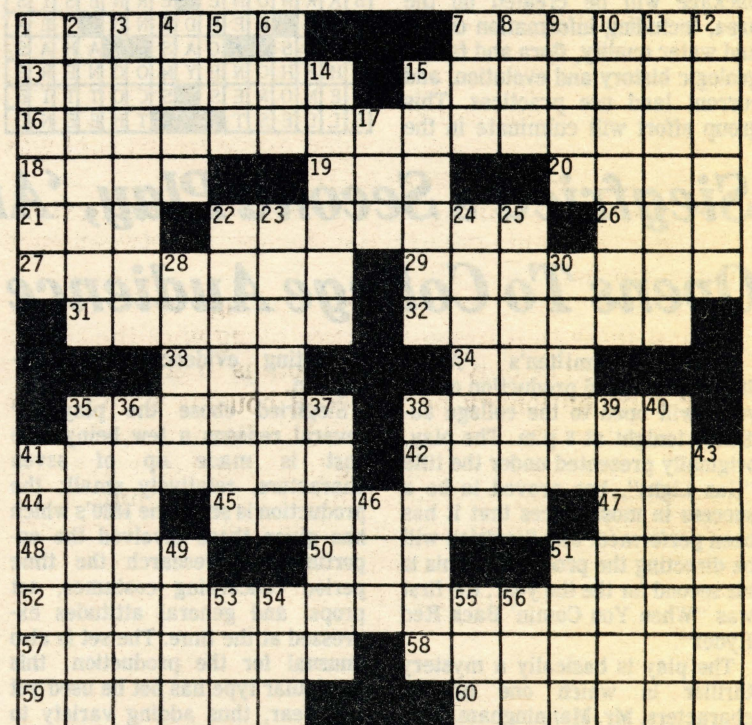

The show usually attracts some of the best talent the local colleges have to offer and the competition for the top awards is always close. Representing Wilkes this year are Steve Demko and Storm Feigles who will perform magic tricks and Missy Smith who will be one of the featured singers of the evening. Besides just these acts from Wilkes, King's, Misericordia, and Luzerne County Community College will also send acts to perform at the show.

The party which will be held after the show at 9:30 in the Student Center will feature disc jockeys Rick and Rob and will also have cold cuts and refreshments. Tickets for the party and show will be on sale in the Student Center and the Cafeteria. The first 100 tickets will be sold as a combination ticket, "Two for the price of one" at the cost of only $2. All proceeds from the show will benefit the Wyoming Valley Chapter of the Red Cross.

Poet W.S. Merwin To Read Apr. 22

The Wilkes College Poetry Series will conclude with Pulitzer prize winning poet W.S. Merwin, who will read from his works at the Dorothy Dickson Darte Center for the Performing Arts on April 22, at 8 p.m.

Merwin, who was a resident of Wyoming Valley, is a graduate of Wyoming Seminary. He left the area in 1949 to travel and write.

In addition to poetry, Merwin has written numerous articles and scripts for BBC and journals. In 1970 he wrote "The Carrier of Ladders", for which he won the Pulitzer prize in poetry.

Critic Anthony Hecht wrote of him, "His poems are in (in "Carrier") mysterious in the most fundamental and ancient ways that poetry has always striven for. The mysteries are touching and human but they are also majestic and awful.....W.S. Merwin is, quite simply a first rate poet."

A reception will follow the reading. The public is cordially invited to both reception and reading without charge.

NOTICE

To all commuter students, positions are available on Commuter Council for next year. Interested members of next year's sophomore and junior classes should contact any member of Commuter Council or come to the CC office on the second floor of Weckesser Hall.

Environmental Science Dept. Offers Two Field Courses

The Earth and Environmental Sciences Department announces two field courses for the near future. They are part of a series of trips which started last year in the Pocono Mountains and continued this year at Assateague Island.

The first course is a three-week canoe trip. The group will launch near the headwaters of the Susquehanna River in upstate New York and dock in Wilkes-Barre, camping on the shores along the way. Major emphasis will be on study of the changing physical and biological properties of the river as it flows through mountains, farm lands, and urbanized areas. The trip is scheduled for August 1-21 at a cost of $275. (including canoe and all supplies, excluding tuition). Mr. Case will lead this three-credit course (E. & E.S.-394). Enrollment is limited to nine.

The second course is a 4-day camping and hiking trip to the Tubs, a recently acquired 550-acre nature preserve near Bear Creek. A data package will be created on the area, including information on air and water quality, flora and fauna, geologic history and evolution, and current land use practices. This group effort will culminate in the writing of a park development master plan. The trip is scheduled for the fall semester break (Oct. 18-21) at a cost of $30.

All E. & E.S. Departmental staff will participate (assisted by seniors Mike Stapleton and Kathy Ochs) in this one-credit course (E. & E.S.-394). Enrollment is limited to 25. For further information on either course, contact any faculty member of the Earth and Environmental Sciences Department.

Siegfried's Second Play, 'Angel Street' Opens To College Audience Tonight

Patrick Hamilton's "Angel Street", the third production of the year, will open to the college audience tonight at 8 p.m. The play, originally presented under the title "Gas Light", has proved to be a success in most places that it has been performed. Jay Siegfried will be directing the production; this is his second for the year, the first was "When You Comin' Back Red Ryder".

The play is basically a mystery thriller in which one of the characters, Mr. Manningham, tries to torture his wife to insanity. The game of mystery begins when a police inspector tries to uncover the convicting evidence on Manningham.

Siegfried chose the play for several reasons a few being: the cast is made up of seven characters, relatively small; the production is set in the 1880's which has given those involved the opportunity to research the time period concerning costumes, set props, and general attitudes expressed at the time. The set is also unusual for the production; this particular type has not been used yet this year, thus adding variety to plays performed this year. The set is a box set which is a three-walled set with an imaginary fourth wall.

Because of the nature of the production—a suspense-mystery—the set design, lighting, costumes and such will play an extremely important part in lending to the atmosphere. Siegfried explained that it is the type of Angel Street play that most people think of when they think of plays. A curtain will be used to hide the sets from the audience until the curtain is raised adding to the mystery of the play.

The director also felt that the play is mystery at its best. The play does is close to the genre of the television series Columbo. Vincent Price at one time played the villain.

The main characters of the play are Chris Golanski as "Mr. Manningham," Betsy Keller plays "Mrs. Manningham," and John Chervak portrays "Inspector Rough."

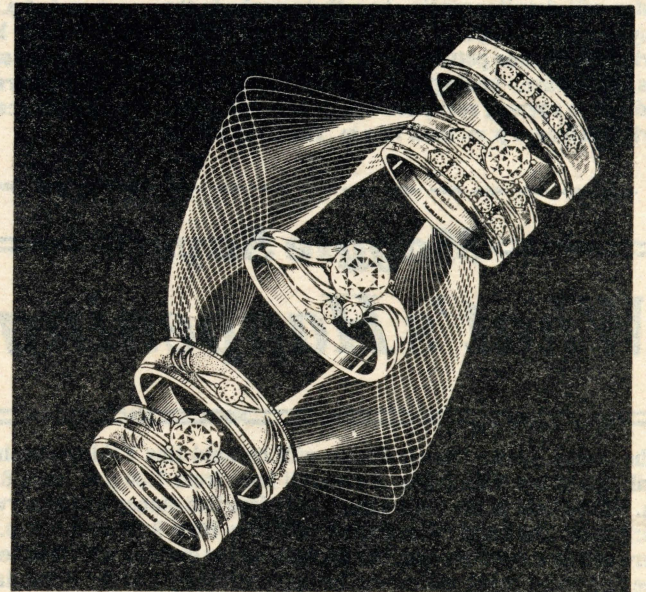

Curtain times for the productions will be 8 p.m. on April 17th, 18th and 19th in the Center for the Performing Arts. Wilkes College students are able to obtain 2 free tickets with the tickets being $1.50 after thereafter. Administration, faculty, staff are given 2 free tickets with the price set at $2.50 thereafter. After tonight's performance the audience is invited to meet the cast and crew in the lounge upstairs.

Pi Kappa Delta Tournament Debate Union Captures 28 Awards

The Wilkes College Debate Union established itself as one of the strongest forensic-debate schools on the east coast this past weekend, while participating in the annual Province of the Colonies (Pi Kappa Delta National Honorary Forensic Society) Tournament. The members of "Kinney Kids" won 28 trophies at this tournament. No school in the history of the Province of the Colonies has ever won that many trophies at one time.

Pi Kappa Delta was founded in 1913 and is the largest national honorary forensic-debate fraternity of the United States. The society rotates its tournaments every year — one year it holds a combined national tournament (including schools from all states) and then the following year it holds province tournaments. Pi Kappa Delta has 8 provinces throughout the United States. The Province of the Colonies covers the states from Maine to West Virginia (12 Atlantic states in all). Wilkes has been a member of Pi Kappa Delta for only four years but has firmly established itself as a forensic power with its impressive victory this past week.

The Debate Union had representation in all divisions of competition. Working with a very small number of students and a moderate budget Dr. Kinney's debaters and public speakers not only set a tournament record but brought back to the campus a wide variety of awards.

The debaters captured the title of Number One School in debate. Fred B.K. Deets won a 4th place overall individual award for his debating skills, with Colleen Gries and Patti Sparlow capturing the 5th place awards. Karen Orlando completed the Wilkes sweep with an overall finish of 6th place.

In discussion competition Wilkes was awarded an overall second place. This marked the first time Wilkes has entered this field of tournament competition. Three Wilkes students entered and all three came out with awards. Jon Pliskin won a 4th place overall award for competition. Darlene Schaffer and Norm Witko also received honors. However, it was in the individual public speaking events that Wilkes brought home the "pot full of gold." Colleen Gries, in addition to her debate award, won a second place in extemporaneous competition, a second place in oratory and a third place trophy in informative speaking. Jon Pliskin won, in addition to his discussion award, a 4th place trophy in extemporaneous, a 4th place in impromptu and honors in informative speaking.

Fred Deets continued to show his speaking skills from debate and won a trophy for extemporaneous speaking. Davida Roberts walked away with four individual trophies — a 5th place in rhetorical criticism, 3rd place in persuasive oratory, 2nd place in after-dinner speaking, and a 4th place trophy for prose interpretation competition.

Darlene Schaffer won a 4th place in rhetorical criticism, honors in prose interpretation competition, and an impressive 2nd place in informative speaking. Norm Witko got honors in prose competition, Patti Sparlow moved into honors in impromptu, and Darrell Lewis secured honors in the field of informative competition.

The top speaker at the tournament (out of 100 speakers) was Colleen Gries. Wilkes was edged out of the overall first place team award by one point — first place going to the very large delegation from West Chester State College.

With just nine students Wilkes secured the overall second place team award and brought the College to the attention of the entire tournament. Wilkes went into the competition ranked 19th in the East and 10th in the nation. The tournament was co-hosted by Shippensburg State College and York College. The actual tournament was held in York, Pa.

In addition to all the award and honors won by the Debate Union another recognition to the College came when Dr. Bradford Kinney was elected to the office of Lieutenant Governor of the Province of the Colonies. Dr. Kinney and Prof. Susan Miskelly (Governor) of Bridgewater State College, Bridgewater, Mass. will be in charge of the development and coordination of forensics-debate activities for the twelve-state area for the next two years. Dr. Kinney was also recognized as the best "twister" at the annual Pi Kappa Delta Dance Contest.

To add to their list of victories, Wilkes just two weeks ago received national recognition when Davida Roberts was recognized as a qualifier for competition in the American Forensic Association's Championship Individual Events Tournament. The senior along with her team mates participated in District Seven competition of the AFA at George Mason University, Fairfax, Va. Davida was the qualifier from this tournament for rhetorical criticism and became one of twenty-four to receive a bid to participate in the AFA tourney.

The awards won this past week raise the number of awards won by the 1979-80 Debate Union to 58 for the year and overall to 336.

Debate and forensics is coached by Dr. Bradford L. Kinney of the Communications Division.

2nd Annual Visitation Day Held

PROSPECTIVE FRESHMEN TOUR THE CAMPUS. This past Sunday was the second annual Visitation Day. The purpose of Visitation Day is to give students an introduction to the college's faculty, administration, student body, facilities and programs. The day began around 9:15 a.m. with registration in the gym.

Robert S. Capin then addressed the students and their families; they were able to tour the campus and listen to speakers participate in various program happenings around campus. Several faculty members and administrators addressed groups of students on such topics as "Transfer Policies," "Academic Standards and Expectations," slide presentations, and a student personnel panel discussion was open to all freshmen.

Members of the faculty and student body were set up in the Stark lobby to answer questions that the students may have. Those clubs and organizations that were present in the lobby were out in full force to acquaint new students; there were quite a few clubs that didn't bother to send representatives.

Close to 1000 people were present on the Wilkes campus to guide and introduce the incoming students. More student were present than last year and the Admissions Office considers it a definite success.

"All That Jazz" Seen As Brilliant

"It's showtime!" — this is a line used throughout the movie 'All That Jazz' and is probably most prevalent in the vocabulary of Bob Fosse. Fosse is a well-known choreographer-director on Broadway and has most recently brought his expertise and brilliance to the screen in the interesting and different hit movie "All That Jazz." Fosse has won a Tony Award for his work in his Broadway creation "Dancin'" and "All That Jazz" was nominated for nine Academy Awards; the film won four Oscars including Best Art Direction, Best Adaptation Score, Best Costume Design, and Outstanding Film Editing. These awards alone show the high quality of technical merit contained in "All That Jazz."

"All That Jazz" is largely autobiographical and the character

Joe Gideon, played by Roy Scheider, is a perfect stand-in for Fosse himself. Fosse has written and also directed the film which includes the staging of his own death scene and an actual filming of open-heart surgery.

Gideon, a writer, choreographer, film director, womanizer, is somewhat like a high-flying moth slowly being drawn to that all-consuming flame. In the film, he never slows down, not even while hospitalized. Gideon seems to have an obsession with death and to him death has taken the form of a beautiful woman played by Jessica Lange. Death finally calls him in the last number, "Bye, Bye Life." Ann Reinking, the dazzling dancer in "Dancin'" turns in a stunning performance and proves herself more than a dancer.

The musical numbers in the film are excellent and show Fosse's versatility; they are not only unusual and dazzling but are performed with precision pace and rhythm. Whether or not you bring any of Fosse's personal life into the film, you can still enjoy the totality of the film and experience its great scope and dimension. What's vital about the movie musical of Fosse is the driving choreography and Roy Scheider's excellent performance of a director at the end of his rope.

All clubs and organizations are asked to take down their old posters and signs from bulletin boards and walls.

Housing Situation Discussed At IDC

At IDC's Sunday night meeting, run by Vice President Mike Sibilia in the absence of President Mike Stapleton, a lengthy discussion concerning campus housing took place. Housing Director Paul Adams stated that approximately 1100 students will be housed in on and off-campus residence facilities next year. With only 841 on-campus spaces available, many students will have to stay in the Hotel Sterling next year. However, other possibilities are being considered, and some changes are being implemented, such as converting several of the larger single rooms into double rooms.

Mike Sibilia gave the Parking Committee report, stating that the handling of the applications for parking spaces for dorm students would be done by the R.A.'s in each dorm. The Parking Committee will pass out the applications for dorm student parking to each R.A. at the beginning of each semester. The R.A. will also be responsible for informing those people in their dorms who receive stickers.

Sibilia also stated that concrete rules for determining which students receive parking sticker will be worked out by the Parking Committee, and included in the IDC constitution. The Parking committee itself will consist of four IDC reps and one member of the executive council of IDC.

Nominations and elections for the outstanding male and female senior IDC reps were held at the meeting. In the category of Outstanding Male Rep, Shep Wilner and Mike Sibilia were nominated, and Sibilia won the election. Bobbi Lou Hamilton ran unopposed for Outstanding Female Rep.

Sibilia also reminded reps that the elections for all offices of IDC except for that of president would be on Tues, April 15. On the same day, elections for outstanding senior male and female dorm students would be held. Sibilia also acknowledged the newly-elected IDC president, Janine Tucker.

Under advisor's comments, Paul Adams reminded reps that the $50 deposit with the dorm contracts is due on Friday so that dorm students may participate in the room selection process. Adams also stated that any dorm student who is not on the meal plan and who would like to remain off the plan next year must re-submit all the necessary documentation to the Housing Office.

RA Selections Posted

Due to the vast number of seniors graduating this year, the largest amount of incoming RA's was selected by the Housing office.

Applications for the positions were received at the beginning of the semester, with all applicants undergoing an extensive interviewing selection process.

Responsibilities of an RA include management and coordination of life in the dorm facility. Each RA is compensated with free room and board and an unconditional single.

Colonel Netmen Lose First Three; Come Back To Down Juniata

After losing its first three matches of the 1980 campaign, the Wilkes College tennis team came back to defeat Juniata College 7-1 at the Ralston Courts on Saturday.

Last week the Colonels of Coach Tom Rokita lost a strong Scranton University team by a score of 9-0. The Colonels, however, played remarkably well without the services of first-seeded sophomore Dave Battle. Coach Rokita was forced to alter the lineup therefore the Colonels lost some tough matches they would have probably won had Battle been there.

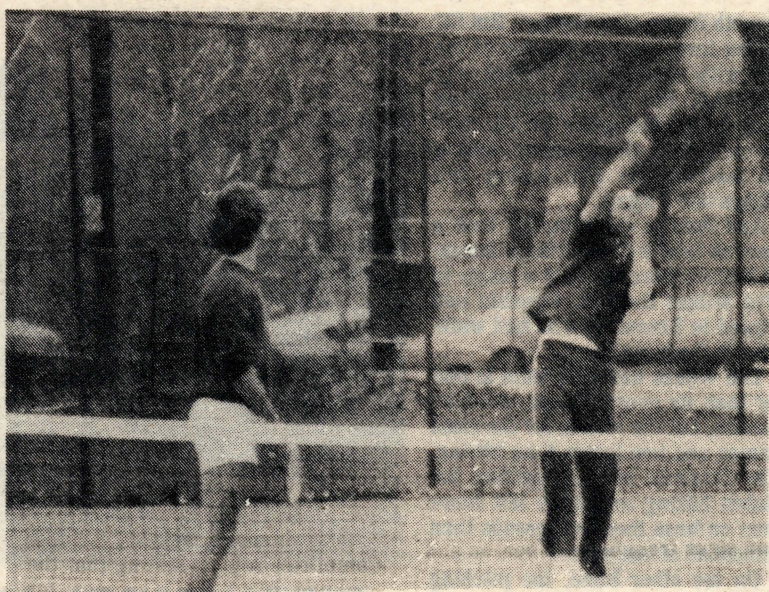

Junior Stan Manoski and freshman Marcus Eckert played tough, smart matches against two of the top college players in the area. Rokita expects the team to do much better when the Blue and Gold take on the Royals on April 21.

Wilkes then took to the road for the first time against Susquehanna University. Both teams have a reputation for playing close tough matches. SU had a 4-2 lead going into the double matches.

After winning the first two, the Colonels needed only one more match to take the victory. However, the netmen were downed and suffered a 5-4 decision.

Shocked and upset over their 0-3 slate, the Colonels let out their frustrations by downing the Indians of Juniata from Huntingdon, Pa. Wilkes took the win with a 7-1 score.

Under threatening skies and a gusty wind, the team rolled to its initial victory of the 1980 campaign. Gaining points in singles competition were Dave Battle, Mike Hromchak, Stan Manoski, Marcus TUNING UP, Shown are two members of the tennis team practicing for the upcoming roadtrip.

Eckert and Bill Murtagh. Manoski and Eckert, and Barry Sweeto and Murtagh took doubles wins for the Blue and Gold. The Colonels were expected to have an excellent season and beating Juniata may be the last hurdle the Blue and Gold will have to face. Coach Rokita said after the match, "a win is just what this team needed at this point in the season."

DROP-SHOTS: ... Stan Manoski showed his anger by eating six jumbo hamburgs after the Susquehanna match ... the Colonels lost EIGHT three-set matches in a row before beating Juniata ... basketball coach Ron Righter made the trip to Susquehanna as a driver ... senior co-captain Biull Murtagh has the highest winning percentage on the team ... Wilkes begins a long road trip against Elizabethtown College on April 19, Scranton April 21, and Albright College Lions April 26.

Golfers Lose: 408-425 To King's

THE Wilkes College golf team opened its 1980 campaign with a loss to archrival King's, 408-425.

The Colonels then had a triangular involving another archrival, Scranton and Upsala. Scranton defeated Wilkes, 413-433, while the Colonels won by forfeit over Upsala.

Against King's, Coach Schmidt felt the golfers did "better than expected." Copping medalist honors in that meet was King's Bob Rendle with a 76. Colonel captain Mark Lepore followed closely behind with a 77. Rounding out the field for the Colonels were Chris Reilley, Joe Rubbico, and Karl Blight with 88's and Ray Ward with a 94.

In the Scranton meet, Mark Lepore and Scranton's Mike Gonski copped top honors with 80's. The other Wilkes' finishers were Chris Reilley and Karl Blight at 87, Ray Ward, 88, and Jim Fialko, 91.

Wilkes, now 1-2, was to travel Monday to a triangular at FDU also featuring King's. Then on Wednesday they were to meet King's again, in the home opener of this season.

BETWEEN THE WHITE LINES

BY EDDIE WHITE III

Well it's official, I think. President Carter has announced that he will do anything in his power to stop any athletes from going to the Soviet Union to participate in the upcoming summer Olympics. That is one of the few issues we agree on with that old peanut farmer from the south.

Still can't figure out how the United States Olympic Committee keeps insisting it is very interested in the American athletes and would like them to participate. They come into the spotlight now, but where were they when Bob Seagren had his poles taken away from him? And where were they when two American sprinters were not told the right time for an event?

We agree with Howard Cosell when he says the problem isn't with the president or the athletes themselves, it's with the U.S. Olympic Committee. They better straighten themselves out or we might never be in an Olympics again!

You have to admire the stand taken by the greatest lady to ever touch a basketball - Nancy Lieberman. She quit the United States Olympic team saying, she agrees with the president and thinks that we are all Americans first, and athletes second. It took a lot of guts for her to do that, and she should be credited. Now if only a few others would have enough sense to realize what a serious problem this is and back our country.

One guy who you might see smiling because of the United States boycott is WBRE-Radio's Joe Gries. Gries told this writer, that if NBC does not cover the Olympics, (and they won't if we don't go) then the WBRE Metro Intercollegiate Conference (MIC) dinner will have a top-notch NBC sports personality as its speaker. Hey Joe, if you can't get Al McGuire or Billy Packer, we'll settle for Bob "gibby" Gibbon.

The Wilkes baseball team looks like it has regained the great pitching that long-time Colonel followers will remember from the days of Stehle and Kresky. But where has the "lumber company" gone? If anybody knows, please contact Dave Kaschak before he goes bald! The Colonels are just not hitting in the key spots and Kaschak has done everything with the lineup except insert assistant coach Mike Broda and himself in the order. Hey, that's not a bad idea!

Former Wilkes College pitching coach Jerry Bavitz, who set the ground-work for the success of the year's Wilkes hurlers, is now head coach at Nanticoke Area High School. Bavitz, known as the "bear" had his coaching debut last week in a 9-7 loss to Bishop Hoban. The Trojans are not expected to be that tough this year, but Bavitz's bunch showed they won't be a push-over as they came back against the Argents after being down 9-0 at one time.

Former Wilkes College men's basketball coach Rodger Bearde is now head baseball coach at Lake Lehman High School. The Beardmen should have a good year. Remember, "Roger the Dodger" was a bonus baby out of high school, signed by the Pittsburgh Pirates!

Our sources say the Colonel cagers next year won't get new uniforms. It figures! Don't you think anybody in the big white castle would realize how embarrassing it is for the team, and the college with those ugly white old home uniforms. They don't care, all they want is their picture in paper.

Another source of ours tells us the King's College school paper should be in great shape, sports-wise, next year with Matt Engel leading the way. Matty is a good one, who is always attending sports events - either at Scranton, Wilkes or King's. Matty reports the Monarchs will be tough to beat next year in basketball as Ed Donohue is hot on the recruiting trail and should come home with some top-notch prospects.

We send our best wishes out to a super athlete in Diane Kendig who this past week earned first-team All-American status. It's a tribute to her, the team and Coach Nancy Roberts who did a super job in her first year of collegiate coaching. New coaches Roberts and Righter have brightened up Weckesser Annex.

You have to admire the hard-work of Wilkes women's athletic director Doris Saracino. She's always on the go and is one of the folks we're really going to miss when we leave here in May. Without Doris, the Wilkes women's program would have died.

Who's that tanned young "Italian Stallion" walking around the campus? Why its Wilkes football co-captain Carmen "Homer" "Meatball" LoPresto, who just returned from a vacation to the Bahamas.

We received some hassle over our comments on Luzinski and Jackson in the last issue. Well the slim-downed Bull blasted a three run homer his first time up this year. If there is a full season, look for the Bull to garner the MVP with 40 homers, 130 rbi's and a .345 average. Reggie could not do that in a decade. How can you call somebody who has yet to hit .300 in his career, a super-star?

Bob Waskiewicz reports that Mount Saint Mary's has recruited two top players and will tough to stop next year in Division II basketball. Jim Phelan does a super job there for the Mounties!

Colonels Finally Open 1980 Campaign

Believe it or not, since the last Beacon, the Wilkes College baseball team HAS PLAYED! Yes, our beloved Colonels own a 4-2 overall mark and a 2-1 MAC slate at press time. This does not include Tuesday's non-conference twin-bill with East Stroudsburg State.

Today the Blue and Gold will travel to Reading to meet Albright College in a 1:00 doubleheader which will count in the MAC standings. On Saturday, Wilkes will travel to Doylestown to meet Delaware Valley for two games before returning home on April 21 to host Division II Bloomsburg State in a 2:00 double-header at Artillery Park. And on Wednesday, April 23, the Blue and Gold will host Scranton University at 2:00.

After seeing two straight

The Colonels then took its 2-1 overall slate into a MAC doubleheader with Elizabethtown on the road. For the second time this year, the Colonels wasted excellent pitching in a 1-0 opener loss. Soph Dave Taylor was the victim here. Wilkes came back to take the second game 3-2 behind the top-notch hurling of sophomore Steve Swanson and Vlahovic, who recorded another save.

This past Saturday, the Colonels hosted MAC foe Susquehanna University in what was supposed to be a doubleheader. Well they played 14 innings, but it wasn't two games. The two clubs locked horns in a four and one half hour, 14-inning marathon in the opener and never had enough time to play the second game.

The Blue and Gold took the game 9-8 behind the offensive play of Morrissey, who had a school record six hits including three singles, two doubles and a homer. He also had two rbi's and three runs scored while catching all 14 frames behind the plate. Way to go Jim! As if we had to tell you, reliever Vlahovic came on to pick up the victory.

Wilkes, behind the hurling of ace DeFelice took a 3-2 lead into the seventh frame (last inning). But SU tallied three runs in the top of the last with two out and Wilkes was down 5-3. But the Colonels came back to tie the game at 5-5 after seven. Again, Susquehanna took a 7-5 lead in the 13th inning, but Wilkes tied it again.

And then in the 14th, SU took a one-run lead 8-7. Morrissey knocked in Rich Borofski with a single to give Wilkes the win. Borofski had tripled in Brezenski who had walked with the tying run.

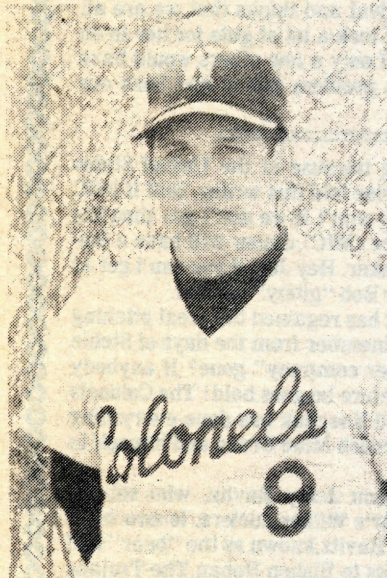

The Wilkes baseball team is better than its overall mark of 4-2 indicates, but the reason for the close games and two losses is no hitting. The Colonels are not getting the clutch hitting and have left more men on base these six games than almost all of last year.

On the other hand, the pitching has been super. The team era is 1.70 and the worst era on the staff is a 3.00. Not too shabby, and to think there are some tough pitchers who have yet to hurl in 1980.

Hopefully the offensive attack will pick up and some bench-men will get a shot where others have failed. Remember, if one guy does not do the job, another has to take his place.

Coach Kaschak

doubleheaders get rained out, the Colonels finally opened the year with a single game at home against Muhlenberg College. Bolstered by homers by Chris DaRe, Phil Marino and Chick Andrewsavage, the Colonels downed the Mules. Jim Kearney got the win.

Then came a non-conference doubleheader with cross-town rival King's College at the Monarchs' home field in Swoyersville. King's shutout Wilkes 1-0 in the opener, defeating Wilkes ace Carl Defelice.

It was the first time in 109 games dating back to 1976 that Wilkes had been shutout. The last time that occurred, Elizabethtown shutdown Gene Domzalski's Colonels 1-0.

Wilkes managed only four hits in the opener against King's in a game which typified the Colonels' attack so far in 1980. Where has the "lumber company" gone? The Colonels saved some respect in the nite-cap coming back to win 3-1 over an under-rated King's squad. Big hit for Wilkes was a booming opposite field homer by senior catcher Jim Morrissey.

Senior Ken Hodick picked up the win for Wilkes but needed relief help from sophomore Tony "Sparky" Vlahovic, who has really come on to shine for Wilkes. At press-time, Vlahovic had accumulated two saves, recorded his first career win for a 1-0 slate and owns a era somewhere around 1.50. Super job T.V.!

BOWLING RESULTS

Two teams are definitely in the play-offs, while four more are left to fight for the two remaining berths as the Wilkes College Mixed League neared the end of the regular season last Friday evening. The Avengers (Lisa Prokarym 442) clinched the Pacific Division pennant by sweeping the EE's 3-0 while the Whippets (Craig Jackson 172-460) were able to take only two of three from The Force. Bud's clinched at least a wild-card slot, despite dropping all three contests to the Mother Brothers (Guy Zehner 199-505), by virtue of Poky's losing two of three to the 752 Crew. Bud's magic number for clinching the Atlantic Division remains at two. In the Midwest Division showdown the Aristocrats picked an opportune time to complete their first sweep of the year; led by Ed Salley's excellent 222-574 and Steve Levitski's 510, the Aristocrats humbled the Assorted Nuts to take a two-game lead over those Nuts.

My boss didn't understand that I was healthy again.

So I was let go.

A lot of people are like my boss. They think that everyone dies of cancer. I thought so, too. Until the American Cancer Society, through one of its service and rehabilitation programs, helped me return to a normal life.

The ACS also has local Units that help Americans who've never had cancer understand it better.

Today, more and more, cancer is a curable disease. Ignorance about cancer is curable, too.

LACROSSE TEAM DROPS THREE STRAIGHT; COLONELS HOST UPSALA SATURDAY AT 2

After a strong start, the Wilkes College lacrosse team of Coaches Brian Blesi and Bill Harris is having trouble staying on the winning track.

Wilkes started the season with a 5-4 victory over Widener College and reached the 2-0 mark with a Maryland forces returned shortly after to even up the sides.

Adams is currently sharing the top scoring position with Rich Modica, a sophomore from Plainview, N.Y. Both have contributed 8 goals and 3 assists for a total of 11 points in MAC contest's. Modica hit registered two Wilkes goals, while Sanders and Adams had one a piece. Burnett added an assist to the Colonel cause. Although Sanders was winning most of the face-offs in the mid-field position, the FDU team was too strong. Wilkes just didn't play up to its potential Saturday as the numerous spectators concluded. Several times the opponent stole the ball from behind and made it look easy.

Coach Blesi noted, "I was disappointed at first, but realized we were outweighed in talent against FDU". The FDU stickmen are ranked 15th in the Division III competition, behind Williams College and number 13 Western Maryland. Blesi pointed out that the first period score was 1-0, favor FDU and the half score was 5-2, but our guys really played hard in the first half and ran out of gas in the second.

"The defense was tough the first half, with the Pohorely's Glenn and Gregg and freshman phenomena Larry Buffalo. The Pohorely's, sophomore's from Whitehouse Station, N.Y. are two of the Colonel's big guy's, as Glenn tips the scale at 205 and Gregg is 185. The second mid-field of freshmen Tracy Cloth, Kevin Cavanaugh and Alex Rae have been showing promise and will probably see a lot of action in the future. Also battling for a starting berth is junior Jeff Harper, who is in his second yer of lacrosse.

The Colonel lacrosse men have brighter day's ahead as the schedule is going to get easier as they go on. On Wednesday, Wilkes was slated to travel to Haverford College in an effort to avenge a one goal loss of a yer ago. On Saturday, Upsala College will be in town for a 2 p.m. encounter and the Blue and Gold will have an open date on April 23. Looking ahead, Wilkes is on the road to Swarthmore April 26.

Bob Gaetano

Pass the word, the Wilkes College campus is the home of an All-American. Junior Diane Kendig of the Wilkes women's basketball team was recently named to the first-team Division III All-American squad selected by the American Women's Sports Foundation.

Only one other player from the Middle Atlantic Conference earned first team honors and that was Juniata's Julie George.

Kendig, already the school's all-time leading scorer, also earned the MAC's MVP award this year. She led the Wilkes ladies of Coach Nancy Roberts to its best season ever - 16-10. THE BEACON sends its best wishes to a super athlete!

Pocono Downs will hold its first annual "College Night" on Thursday, April 24th. All college student producing their I.D. cards will be admitted free. In addition, there will be a handicapping contest with all students invited to participate. Prizes will be awarded to the top finishers. Plus, music will be provided by the local band, "Two Plus Two." During the evening, Pocono Downs is located on Route 315 past the Woodlands.

decisive 11-5 win over Dickinson College. But the past 3 contest's brought bad news for the stickmen and they are currently 2-2 in the Middle Atlantic Conference (MAC) and 2-3 overall.

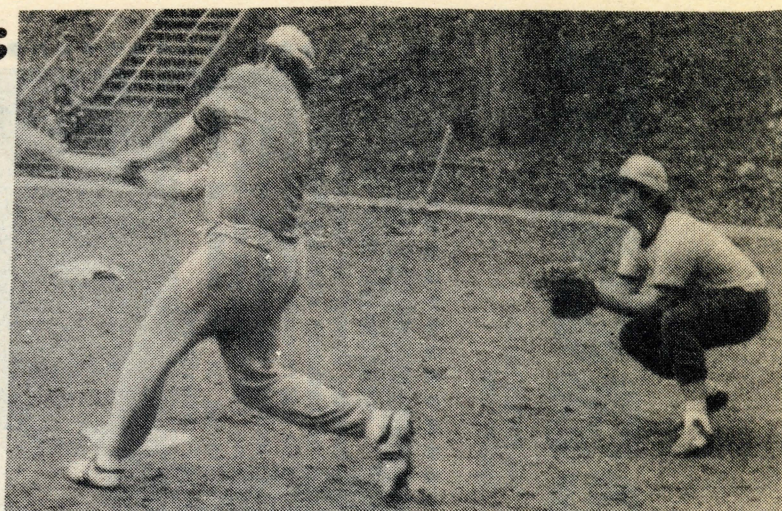

The Blue and Gold was hoping to garner a victory over Western Maryland or FDU Madison to remain in the race for a playoff berth, but fell both times. The Western Maryland match was played before a large cheering section which did a fine job at riling the coach but couldn't shake up the players.

The Western Maryland squad withstood the seven-goal Wilkes rally to edge out a 12-11 decision. With the Colonels trailing 11-4 entering the second half, the explosive 7-1 scoring spree wasn't quite good enough. Wilkes had a three man advantage late in the fourth period and was only able to generate one goal with the time running out. Senior Billy Adams, Bethpage, N.Y. found the range with 1:40 remaining, but the the nets three times and assisted once against the Maryland team. Senior Mark Sanfers, West Islip, N.Y. added two goals and an assist while Joe Burnett, a senior from Binghamton, N.Y. found the range once for our Colonels. Goaltender Dave Singer, a junior from Fairlawn, N.Y. turned aside 19 Maryland shots.

Also breaking the scoring ranks for the Blue and Gold were Freshmen Larry Buffalo and Eric Farber, junior co-captain Pete Canine and sophomore John Nordstrom. Buffalo, a freshman from Hempstead, N.Y. is one of the Colonels quicker players and tallied an assist in the game. Farber, a good attackman from Cherry Hill, N.J. registered a goal, while Canine, and Nordstrom, Whitehouse Station, N.J. each had an assist for the locals.

Wilkes didn't have any luck on Saturday either, dropping a 16-4 verdict to FDU Madison on the Wilkes field. Rich Modica

INTRAMURAL SOFTBALL

Softball Team 5-0

Rookie coach Nancy Roberts has picked up in softball right where she left off in women's basketball. Her women's softball team is off to a fine 4-0 start behind some excellent all-round performances.

"All the girls are playing well," said Roberts. We're playing as a team." So far this season the Wilkes women have trounced Baptist Bible 35-0; beaten King's 4-0; and Keystone Junior College 13-2 and 11-1.

Two freshmen pitchers have thrown very well for Roberts and company. Linda Dayer has picked up three of those wins including a one-hitter against King's College. Cheryl Frystack earned the other win over Keystone Junior College.

Against Baptist Bible, Mary Jean Farrell, Karen Johnson, Pam Snyder and Joyce Walsh all accounted for three hits each.

Farrell, ala Lou Brock, added six stolen bases and three rbi's while Johnson chipped in with five rbi's.

Rose Shanahan had two singles and four runs batted in to aid the offense. In the King's contest, winning pitcher Dayer had two singles and two rbi's. Snyder chipped in with two safeties while Lynn Yedlock contributed two singles and a rbi. Johnson and senior slugger "Sudden Sue" Freda each added a single to the cause.

In the first Keystone Junior College game, Farrell blasted three hits with Shanahan and Yedlock each chipping in with two safeties apiece. The game was marred by 14 errors, nine by the visiting Keystone. Cheryl Frystack picked up her first career collegiate victory in the contest.

In the nite-cap, Dayer led the offense with two hits including a triple. Freshman standout Stacey Keeley and Karen Johnson along with junior Pam Snyder all had two hits apiece.

The pitching corp has been throwing exceptionally well giving up only nine hits and three runs in the first four games, for an earned run average of under one run a game.

The Colonelettes were expected to meet a rival Misericordia College on Tuesday afternoon. The ladies will host Division II power Bloomsburg State College today at 2:00 in a doubleheader at Kirby Park. On April 22, the ladies will travel to Susquehanna University and on April 24 they will be on the road at Marywood College for a 4:00 start.

After a April 26 away twin-bill with the Royalties of Scranton University, Wilkes will return to the friendly confines of Wyoming Valley to host L.C.C.C. on April 28 to 3:00.
