SG Ticket Subsidy Planned For David Bromberg Concert

A $1000 subsidy was passed by Student Government to allow a two dollar discount in the first 500 tickets sold to the David Bromberg concert on Sunday, Nov. 12.

Greg Black, SG vice-president and concert committee chairman, announced at the SG meeting Monday night that tickets will probably go on sale tomorrow, Oct. 20, in the IDC office only.

The price of the tickets is $7.50 for general admission, $6.50 for all Wilkes students and $4.50 for the first 500 Wilkes students who take advantage of the SG subsidy.

This year tickets to the concert will only be available in the IDC office because the office has proven itself successful in selling tickets to special events. It is SG's and IDC's intention that the office become a sort of ticket agency, not only selling tickets for Wilkes College events, but also around the area. IDC office hours are 11-1 and 4:30-6 Monday through Friday. Tickets may also be purchased at the usual local locations.

Black also reported that a final decision will be made by next Monday, Oct. 23, concerning the Jesse Collin Young Jesse Winchester concert which was tentatively scheduled for the first weekend in December.

Any student interested in working on the concert committee is urged to attend an important meeting today at noon in SLC 380.

In other SG business, Julie Kent reported that the new teacher evaluation forms have

NSO to Hold Careers Event

The Nursing Student Organization (NSO) will sponsor a "Career Day" Monday, Oct. 23 in the upper lobby of the C.P.A. from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Representatives from six major hospitals in the country will be present to provide information on job opportunities in their institutions. Hospitals include: Temple University Hospital, Philadelphia; Johns Hopkins in Baltimore, Md.; Graduate Hospital, Philadelphia; Wake County Hospital, Raleigh, N.C.; Sinai Hospital, Baltimore; and Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland, Oh.

All students are invited to attend.

Deans Considering Idea

IDC's Proposal Has Possibilities

The recommendation by the Dean's Council on whether quarter kegs should be allowed is expected to be submitted to IDC by this Monday, according to Dean Ralston.

"It (allowance of quarters) has real possibilities and most people (Deans) are in favor of it," he said adding that if they can get a few factors straightened out, he thinks the Dean's Council will go along with it.

"Some things just aren't in the best interest of all concerned" he stated concerning those points in the proposal which need ironing out. He commented that the major consideration against the alcohol committee's proposal as it stands now is that a single dorm could conceivably have "too many" parties even though Housing office approval is mandatory in having a quarter. It is the general consensus among all of the Deans that "there should not be a quarter keg on tap every night."

"What the Dean's Council is looking for is a restriction on the number of quarters a dorm can have," said Gary Toczylowski, IDC president who also stated that he believed that quarter kegs will be allowed in dorms in the near future.

Though quarters may soon be allowed in dorms, Dean Ralston stressed that he believed there were more important things to worry about rather than beer. "I wish the students would start thinking things of more importance than alcohol," he said, citing education as his main example. He also wants it known that the College wants to keep a low profile on alcohol.

In other IDC matters, a new problem has arisen because of the administration's non-support of towing away illegally parked cars. Those permitted parkers who find their spaces filled by non-permitted parkers have been forced to park in other College parking lots illegally and have been receiving tickets. IDC is questioning whether these people should be forced to pay these tickets.

Maintenance concerns continue to rank high on the IDC priority list. Due to obligations of getting the historical houses on campus painted before the cold weather sets in, other projects have subsequently been neglected. So far, things still to be done are the installation of baskets on the court behind Pickering Hall, the painting of pedestrian lines on South Street between the Commons and the cafeteria, and the replacement of new bulletin board windows and locks. Also, new T.V. sets, lounge furniture, lights, and end tables have not been placed in the dorms needing these items.

Ten Science Departments To Hold 'Expo '78' in SLC

Stark Learning Center will be a beehive of scientific activity Saturday, Oct. 28, as "Science Expo '78" will be presented by ten College science departments.

The day-long event is designed to expose area high school students to various career and educational opportunities in science, and also to give members of the College family the opportunity to view the activities of these departments.

Last year over 90 high school juniors and seniors attended the program, while some 60 Wilkes science majors participated by conducting laboratory demonstrations and acting as guides. Dr. Les Turoczi, biology department chairman and coordinator of the expo, stated that this year's event should attract approximately 150 high schoolers, and will involve 60 to 70 Wilkes students.

"The expo will make career options more obvious for the high school students, will give Wilkes science majors the opportunity to experience a sense of pride, and will enable members of the College family to see just what science majors do," commented Turoczi. He added that Wilkes students, faculty and administrators are invited to tour the departments after 2 p.m. Saturday.

Visitors to the expo will be welcomed by Turoczi and Provost Richard Soter before being taken on a guided tour of SLC. They will observe over 50 demonstrations by College science majors prior to a luncheon in the cafeteria.

A 20-minute slide show will follow, and participants may then return to any of the demonstrations for an in-depth visit and the chance to get some "hands-on" experience.

All four floors (plus the basement) of SLC will be utilized by students from the biology, psychology, physics, mathematics, computer science, environmental science, nursing, health science, engineering and chemistry departments.

Experiments will deal with topics ranging from the phenomenon of chemiluminescence to biological imprinting; from cardiac monitoring to astronomy; and from microcomputer games to Rorschach demonstrations.

Once again the Engineering Club is the "center" of attraction as they captured first place this year in the homecoming display contest. The club was awarded $30 for their efforts.

Engineering Takes Display Prize

One of the traditions of a Wilkes Homecoming is the appearance of Homecoming displays. This year's Homecoming weekend was no exception as there were 18 such displays around the campus.

Groups representing 18 clubs and dorms set up the displays last Friday. The displays were judged by several Wilkes Alumni who were ushered by student guides Donna Krappa and Eileen Nocito.

Each display was judged on originality, attractiveness, composition, and creativity, with each category receiving from one to five points.

Three winners were chosen. The winner in the best overall category and recipient of a $30 prize was the display by the combined Engineering-IEEE club, set up in front of Weckesser Hall. Weiss Hall was the winner of the award for best dorm. The prize awarded $25.

The award for best club was won by AFROTC. Their prize was $25 and their display was in front of Kocyan Hall otherwise known as the ROTC building.

Other groups entering displays were: Circle K, Chemistry Club, TDR, Biology Club, Commuter Council, Barre Hall, Chesapeake Hall, McClintock Hall, Sullivan Hall, Susquehannock Hall, Sterling Hall, Delaware Hall, and Hollenback Hall.

Provost Soter was interviewed for the position on Sept. 25. His reason for applying for the position were "The newness of Stockton State would appeal to anyone. Tradition must be built, offering the opportunity to get in on the ground floor of an emerging institution," as was stated in the Sept. 8 issue of The Beacon. Stockton is less than ten years old.

Soter was not available for comment on the news of the decision by Stockton State College Board of Directors as he has been out of town this week.

Words & Photos Catch Homecoming Spirit

A couple of Wilkes students enjoying the weekend with a little class.

This year's Homecoming Weekend started off with a blast as the bonfire was a huge success with good participation by the student body. The spirit was flowing, the band was in time and the majorettes, strutters and cheerleaders deserved a 4.0

THE HOMECOMING COURT - Ann Marie Booth, Queen Mary Jane Nulty, Peggy Rentschler, and Sheree Kessler with their escorts at Saturday's half-time ceremony.

(contrary to what our sports editor may believe).

Dean George Ralston was on hand to once again give his patented "Ralston Cheer." Various fall sports teams were less enthusiastic, but the women's field hockey team showed everyone else up with a rousing piece of music.

Anticipation mounted with the naming of this year's Homecoming queen, and it was probably the first time in years that the names of the Homecoming court were not common knowledge.

The evening ended with the burning of a dummy representing a Western Maryland Terror while Dean Ralston once again led everyone in a cheer.

"A huge success" is small talk to describe the dinner dance which was held Friday evening at the Treadway. For the first time in four years the Homecoming dance had a lot of significance, which was demonstrated when the tickets were sold out early Wednesday. The co-chairpersons Sharon Manganiello, Gerry D'Ablis and Marla Brodsky called the Treadway Thursday and arranged to add 10 couples to the reservation list, bringing the total to 260 couples. The chairpersons, IDC, CC and SG should be commended on a job well done. The food, drink and music by Take Four were all superb, although some wished the band had played a variety of music, rather than so much disco. Nevertheless, the dance floor was crowded all night and people were not sure with whom they were dancing once they got there, but all had a good time.

Even though Saturday's game was not very exciting for Wilkes, the half-time ceremony ran smoothly without anyone falling in the mud. The court looked great and the chauffer-driven procession into Ralston Field added class to their appearance.

The fifties party appeared to be highly successful in that the majority of those who attended it thoroughly enjoyed themselves, in spite of the fact that approximately only half of the people in attendance dressed in the spirit of the provided setting.

M.C. Bob Woody from WILK and the various dance contests intensified the mood and the atmosphere of the '50's. There was plenty of food and drink and good times to be remembered.

How was the SG picnic on Sunday? It was cold. But if you put on your long johns it was great! From 2 until 6 p.m. the picnic was quiet except for chattering teeth. The soccer team provided some diversion, but basically it was just plain cold.

If you held out until 6 p.m., it was well worth the wait. The Marshall Young Band was excellent! Not many teeth were chattering when most of the people began going wild; singing with the band; bunny-hopping through the crowd, and doing whatever little dance burst forth from within them.

Crowd is hardly the word to use in the above description. The turnout was fairly lousy due to little publicity. Also, SG should applaud IDC for its tremendous help with what did come off. The few of us who attended the picnic appreciate everyone's effort.

Anyway, for those of you who missed out on the picnic, you missed a really good time. Should another picnic be scheduled, do yourself a favor and attend.

been written, and in talking with some members of the faculty, most showed a favorable response. The new form is more concise with shorter and fewer questions.

Ross Mantione reported that the use of an optical scanner from an outside source may be possible and at no expense to SG.

An optical scanner would read the data from the evaluation form into the computer automatically, and save hours and hours of work where each form's data would have been entered manually. Definite arrangements will be known by next week. He also estimated that the cost of printing 14,000 evaluation forms to fit an optical scanner would be $345.

The news of the use of an optical scanner was encouraging to SG and Mantione stated that many departments around campus would like to see the administration purchase one for the general use of the college. It is hoped that the use of the optical scanner in the evaluations will impress the importance of such a machine upon the administration.

Mantione, also chairman of the film committee, reported that $200 will be needed to repair the SG film projector as the amplifier system burned out. The cost of a new projector is approximately $500 in comparison.

The next film to be presented is "A Boy and His Dog," a science fiction film, on Saturday, Oct. 28, at 7 and 9 p.m. in the CPA. Admission is .25 or an SG film pass.

Steve Kirshner, SG president, thanked Sharon Manganiello, Gerry D'Albis and Gary Toczylowski for their work in making Homecoming weekend a success. It was noted, however, by Dave Blumfield, that the executive council of SG showed very poor participation in their past weekend's activities as student leaders. Toczylowski also expressed feelings that the administration's participation could have been increased.

Under the social committee, Marla Brodsky reported that Winter Weekend has been changed from Feb. 9, 10 and 11, to Feb. 16, 17 and 18. This was done because of three home athletic games which would dominate the use of the gym. Brodsky, however, noted that the Gong Show for that weekend will now be held off-campus. The Paramount and the Jewish Community Center are being looked into.

On the lighter side of things, Becky Toton, CC representative to SG, reported that problems still remain with the juke box in the Commons. The machine is apparently malfunctioning in that it takes the student's money but does not always supply music. Toton offered a solution whereas before depositing the quarter, if you blow into the coin slot first the machine respond accordingly.

Frosh Apathy Disturbs CC

The Commuter Council was very displeased with the turnout for the CC freshman nominations held October 12. According to the council, only three freshmen showed up at nominations and those three were the only nominations the council received.

The CC is disturbed by the lack of concern that freshman commuters have shown toward the council. This apathetic attitude prompted CC Secretary Karen Supkoski to write a letter to the Beacon reprimanding the freshmen.

Many council members hope that there will be more nominations received before the elections on October 19.

Under new business, the council discussed the possibility of buying one of the showings of "The Horror Picture Show" at the Wyoming Valley Mall. The movie is a comedy in the Frankenstein genre and received rave reviews, as well as a cult following. The proposed midnight showing would be open to all Wilkes students and a nominal fee of .50 could be charged.

The Halloween Party scheduled for Saturday, October 21, will be held in the Commons. Tickets will be $1.50, but there will be a .50 refund at the door for those people who attend in costumes. The CC and the IDC will be co-sponsoring the event.

Tickets for the New York trip will be on sale in the Commons and in the CC office. The bus will leave from the Sterling Hotel at 7:00 a.m., Saturday, October 28, and the return bus will leave Radio City Music Hall at midnight.

The juke box in the Commons is still swallowing quarters without playing all of the music selections. If the company cannot repair it, the CC will request another to replace it.

EXPONENTIAL, MY DEAR WATSON

If you have at least two years of graduate or undergraduate education ahead, and you keep getting clues that your money is running short, then a two-year Air Force ROTC scholarship may be the solution.

Currently we're seeking young men and women who would like to serve their nation as Air Force Officers. Consequently, if you're majoring in a selected technical/non-technical scientific, nursing, or pre-medical field, or can qualify for pilot, navigator, or missile training, then you may be eligible for a two-year Air Force ROTC scholarship. The scholarship pays your tuition, lab fees, (plus incidental fees), books, and $100 per month tax free. And even if you don't qualify for the two-year scholarship, you still receive the $100 a month while enrolled in the Air Force ROTC two-year program.

What do we ask in return? That you serve America at least four years as an Air Force officer. Your Air Force ROTC counselor has the details and qualification requirements. Check it out. It might even make your education finances seem elementary.

Foreign Languages

Who's Responsible for Failure?

To The Editor:

In the October 13th issue of the Beacon, Michael Seitz, former chairman of the department of foreign languages, wrote which seemed to me to be an accusation with vicious implications of Dr. Kaska, chairman of the English department. I have had Dr. Seitz in class (ironically for English) and have found him to be an extremely effective teacher, who always seemed to have a very clear view of what was going on. He refrained from passing judgement too quickly, and was almost always skeptical of that which he did not see with his own eyes. I, therefore, cannot dismiss as idle, nor revengeful, his accusations of Dr. Kaska.

Dr. Seitz's liberal attitudes and appearance livened up the otherwise dead and ultra-conservative nature, which so many students detest, of the administration of this school. I, for one, was shocked to find that he had been fired rather than tenured. Asked why he thought Seitz was fired, one teacher, whose name I cannot disclose, said, "He was a thorn in the ass of the administration."

Is Dr. Kaska in some way responsible for the drastic failure of the foreign language department and the firing of Dr.

Seitz? Did he actually fall down low enough to tell the Beacon the lie that Dr. Arden rather than Dr. Seitz was department chairman for seven years? Have we unknowingly witnessed a clash between the liberal and the ultra-conservative in which the latter has won out? I, for one, would like to see Dr. Kaska come forward and present his view of exactly what went on when Michael Seitz was given his terminal contract.

One more question to ponder: Is Wilkes refusing to tenure the foreign language department because it no longer has students interested in foreign languages, or are students no longer interested in foreign languages because Wilkes keeps firing its best foreign language teachers?

Since Wilkes is already on the AAUP censured list, why doesn't the administration ignore the tenure policy altogether, fire all its tenured but ineffective teachers, and hold on to people like Michael Seitz? So many young men and women with PhD's are looking for jobs that Wilkes will get good teachers even if it tells the AAUP to shove it. (By the way, Wilkes is on the AAUP censured list for attempting to keep a teacher on the payroll pass seven years without granting her tenure.)

SG Equals Student Involvement

To The Editor:

I am writing in reference to a student's letter which appeared in the editorial column last week entitled "Concerned Student Feels Abused." As a Student Government representative, I feel that it is my responsibility to respond to this article.

Student Government meetings are held every Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Board Room at Weckesser Hall. These meetings are open to ALL students, where they can present their ideas or viewpoints.

I would just like to state that this student, who feels abused and who criticized SG, has never attended a Student Government meeting to present his gripes or his proposed solution to "the current state of affairs" at Wilkes College. Once again, we find someone complaining or criticizing - yet, unwilling to get involved. Sure, it is very easy to complain, but where are the complainers when work has to be done? I feel that it is unjust to criticize a system unless one fully understands how it operates and can offer a better solution!

As stated in the SG constitution, "The purpose of Student Government of Wilkes College is to represent the entire student body, to act as a liaison between the students and administration, to plan and coordinate activities on campus, and to promote fellowship, scholarship and the name of Wilkes College." This is a huge responsibility and Student Government encourages ALL students to participate!

Currently, Wilkes College has one voting SG member for every seventy-five full-time students. When compared against the governing student bodies at three mentioned in last week's letter (Harvard, Princeton, and Yale), Wilkes' students have a much greater representation. In the United States government, there is only one voting member in Congress for every 407,757 citizens.

HC Chairperson Thanks Helpers

To The Editor:

Most letters written to you are letters complaining about one thing or another. This letter however, is written in total contrast to any of that nature.

I am writing to publicly express my gratitude to everyone who helped in making Homecoming Weekend a success.

I would especially like to thank the following people, without whom, Homecoming Weekend would not have been possible: Gerry D'Albis, Marla Brodsky and the social committee, Peggy Jones (Secretary to the Deans), Gary Toczykowski and the IDC Activities committee, and the people of Slócum and Sullivan Halls.

To the numerous other people who aided in any way, thank you. Every job done, no matter how small was deeply appreciated.

Thank You,
Sharon Manganiello

Frosh Apathy Obvious In CC Rep Elections

To The Editor:

An Open Letter to the Class of 1982:

Don't look now, freshmen, but your apathy is showing!! We're speaking in reference to the disgracefully poor turn-out at Commuter Council nominations for freshmen representatives held this past Thursday, October 12, at 11:30 a.m. The number of people who were interested enough to attend you could count on the fingers of one hand. That's right - THREE freshmen were present and in turn were nominated. Six spaces on the council now exist. Where are all the rest of the freshmen? We on Commuter Council can only assume that something is drastically wrong. The meeting was well publicized, yet only three people showed up. Why?

If the reason is because you don't even know what Commuter Council is, we are a branch of Student Government who specifically try to solve the problems of the commuters. We work together with the Inter-Dormitory Council (IDC) to improve the student life of Wilkes College. Our efforts are worthwhile only if we get favorable student response. Seeing our efforts realized is one of the rewards of being a CC rep. If you are willing to devote your time and energy to help us in our cause, WE NEED YOU! We don't need idle bodies on Commuter Council, so please don't run because you feel you're doing somebody a favor if you really aren't interested.

It's not too late. If you are interested, write-in ballots will be accepted on election day. To all who decide to campaign, we wish you the very best of luck and look forward to seeing you soon. By the way, everyone is welcome to come to our meetings in the Board Room of Weckesser Hall (Tuesday at 5:15 p.m.) whether you are an elected member or not.

Thank You for Listening,
Karen Supkoski
on behalf of Commuter Council

Sincerely,
Ross L. Mantione
Class of '80 SG Rep

Manuscript Commentary

The following article is not aimed at specific personalities but at institutions and attitudes that have become particularly offensive.

Demon Seed is at best a grade B form of its own genre. You won't see it presented in the various film festivals on campus, however, this has not prevented its insinuation into our midst. Tex and Fritz (inflatable orificial Rona Barrett dolls) have recently attempted an abortion. Finding themselves unsuccessful they consulted their horoscopes and timed the birth to coincide with the election of homecoming queen; thus securing the future intellectual ability of their progeny. To their joy all this was accomplished and the monster Dim-Wit was appropriately named.

Riddle: What does homecoming queen and Tex and Fritz have in common besides an insensitive column in the Oct. 5th Beacon?

Answer: Both are insults to anyone with enough intelligence to tie their shoes.

Amazing enough there is a vast majority on campus who would like to see Wilkes College as something besides an anachronistic joke. The first move into modern life might be an elimination of the concept of homecoming queen. This must be an elimination; substitution just will not do. Establishing a homecoming king will not only perpetuate sexism. Besides entirely missing the point, this will only serve to increase the monster population of the College. (After experiencing Dim-Wit who could suffer the results of a homecoming king-queen union!)

History

Homecoming queen grew from a motion that the dream of every girl was to hold this exalted position - the necessary qualifications including some sort of popularity and position of the current vogue in female bodies. In essence traditional homecoming queens need no more than the most popular version of inflatable dolls. Form is the thing, stuffing is secondary.

In recent years there have been some attempts to include accomplishments and school spirit among the qualifications. It's necessary to realize that there has been lipservice concerning this since the beginning of the ritual. Inclusion in this case has the same results as the aforementioned substitution. It's pointless. The sexism inherent in Homecoming queen is inescapable, and nothing can serve as a cover for this. It's a "tradition" only in the sense that it has been happening for years. There is nothing honorable regarding this custom. Homecoming could still be celebrated and enjoyed without it.

Homecoming-Coming Home, a gentle moment, a return to a shared sense of purpose. We have created so many distances between the sexes that we have truly lost our sense of common humanity. Those women who have participated in this years Homecoming are victims of gossip column insensitivity. I don't want them to be my victims. The ritual is over for this year but the future can be changed. I hope.

However, Tex and Fritz I'm not through with you yet. Take heart-there is still time for you to acquire jobs as dolly keepers (also known as lavatory attendants - a job for which you are ideally suited as indicated by your past performances) in the nearest carney. Besides think of the advantage: you can take Dim-Wit along to the stars in the side show.

WCLH's Growing Pains Probed

NOTE: The information relayed in this article is based on my work as Operations Manager for WCLH, the Wilkes College radio station.

I'm sitting here reading last year's Beacon article concerning the "new look" radio station. The station with "new ideas for the future." The station that stands as the largest student organization on campus. Forget it. The bright future is dimming rapidly. WCLH began broadcasting in 1972, but due to the effects of Hurricane Agnes it never really got started until 1973. James Berg, a professor at Wilkes, was the driving force behind the birth of WCLH, located at 90.7 on the FM dial. WCLH began broadcasting from the third floor of Darte Hall with 175 watts of power.

It seems that WCLH was born into controversy. From 1973 till 1977 the station operated virtually unnoticed despite the sincere efforts of Mr. Berg. Things bottomed out in the summer of 1977, when a normal broadcast day ranged from four to six hours. The administration all but turned its back on WCLH as many looked on it as a mere "toy" of the students. A toy that few were playing with.

It was around this time that the college decided to expand its floundering communications program. At present, the reasons for that action appear clouded. Perhaps they saw it as a means of drawing students away from area colleges that already displayed an established communications program. Perhaps not.

In any case, Tom Beck was hired as advisor for WCLH. A graduate of Slippery Rock State College, Beck came to Wilkes with a Masters in Radio and TV from Ohio University. He had experience, and he had enthusiasm. Once he had built a radio station in Baltimore. Now he had to rebuild a radio station at Wilkes.

There is no doubt that Tom Beck was an authoritative figure, much to the dismay of some station members. Of the fifteen or twenty members at the that time, four remain. Many saw too many rules and regulations for their liking. So they left. Some quietly.

Some grumbling. Still the changes began. Beck started an active campaign for new members. He went to the administration...over and over again. Soon the station had funds for its own AP machine, and blue card money for some of its personnel. Beck got the radio station out of the Publications committee and under direct administrative control. Then he tackled the mammoth job of getting the station's application for a power increase straightened out. The funny thing is, he did it all with enthusiasm, as if the future could really be bright.

Membership increased. Regular broadcast hours were set up and maintained. In time, WCLH began to look almost like a real radio station. Not a toy.

In January of that year, Keith Jones became Station Manager, a position which he still retains. However, Tom Beck left. His stated reason was that he had found a better job at the University of Akron, as the advisor for that college's radio station. But there is no doubt that his enthusiasm had been dimmed. One strongly suspects that Beck had grown tired of the college's action, or lack of action, concerning the station. That's where we'll end. For now. This issue is far too important to drop. Next week Keith Jones and I will combine to show you exactly where the station is at now, where it is going, and why the college has given us cause for disappointment.

Who's Who Applications Now Available

Nominations forms for Who's Who in America Colleges and Universities can be obtained at the Housing Office, Pickering Hall; Registrar's office, Parrish Hall; and Dean Art Hoover's office, Weckesser Hall.

To qualify for nomination to Who's Who you must: 1) be a senior, 2) have a minimum grade point average of 2.0, 3) show evidence of participation in both college and community activities, and 4) demonstrate potential for leadership.

Seniors may nominate themselves by picking up forms and filling them out, or any student, faculty member or administrator can recommend them.

Dean Hoover has sent a memo to all department chairmen and has requested that they nominate seniors whom they feel are worthy of this honor.

This year the council of Deans, faculty members, and undergraduates will review the submitted forms and a maximum of 33 seniors will be nominated.

Those students who have been selected will be honored at the annual awards luncheon in April in the CPA.

They will receive a personalized certificate and their biographies will be listed in a volume of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

All forms must be returned to Dean Hoover's office no later than 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 31, 1978.

Pascoe, Thomas Lead The Way, Colonel Harriers Over .500

The cross country team of Coach Kevin Davenport raised its overall season record to 6-4 last Wednesday with a convincing win over Albright in Reading.

AND THE TIMEX IS STILL WORKING - Wilkes College head cross country mentor Kevin Davenport is shown taking times of our successful harriers. Davenport has done a fine job with Wilkes this year, and has the Blue and Gold in the midst of the second winning season in a row.

The Colonels were led by the one-two punch of this year's freshman sensation Ken Pascoe and last year's freshman sensation Danny Thomas. Both passed the finish line tied for first place with a 31:08 clocking. Thomas, out of Valley West High School, took the summer off from running due to lingering effects of mononucleosis. He is just rounding into competition form now. Pascoe, out of Nanticoke Area, has run well all year and has been a pleasant surprise for the Wilkesmen.

Other Colonels who ran well in the Albright meet were Ed Eppler, the captain Don Patrick, John Supinski, Dave Kerek, Jeff Davis, and Rodger Davis.

The Blue and Gold will complete its dual meet season at home. On Tuesday, they faced an always tough Susquehanna University team. On Oct. 25, the Colonels close out the 1978 regular season with arch rival Scranton University.

"We can beat both squads if everything goes well," said Davenport. "Both teams are strong this season and we will need our best efforts to come out on top."

The Colonel harriers are already assured of at least a .500 record, but hope to come home a winner on the season.

Same Old Grid Story: Wilkesmen Fall Again

I could have saved a lot of time in writing this article, and used one of the last three Beacon grid stories. Because, the story is still the same.

Yes, Wilkes lost again, this time 27-7 to undefeated Western Maryland at Ralston Field in the annual Homecoming encounter.

Again, the story for the day was the lack of offense. First of all, Wilkes was dealt a severe blow when No. 1 quarterback Mike Wilson was injured and removed from the game early in the first quarter. Freshman Tom Cywinski came in and followed the Wilkes offensive pattern to perfection, hitting on only TWO of 11 for 26-yards and three interceptions. Also seeing action at the QB slot were: freshman lefty Tony Vlahovic and junior transfer Andy Hreha, the old-time QB who is really exciting to watch.

The Green Terrors of Western Maryland showed why they have one of the top "D's" in the country, holding Wilkes to ONLY 54 yards total offense.

The Terrors first score came after a short Wilkes punt. It was probably the only mistake on the day for senior kicker Dan Pisarcik. Pisarcik was one of the most exciting elements on the day for the Colonels, as he had a great day punting, including a 64-yard boomer. Two weeks back, he kicked one 58 yards. Pisarcik was also perfect on his PAT, after the Colonels only touch-down. Dan has not missed one this year. Still another surprise in his bag was a fourth down fake punt, which he passed instead to junior receiver Bill Molnar, who if he had held on to the ball, would have had a first down. Molnar was given such a shot when he touched the pass, that the "Hulk" would not have held on either. That incompletion gave the Terrors the ball on the 24-yard line of Wilkes and set up W.M. for their third score.

The Terrors second score came after a Wilkes interception, which gave the visitors the ball at the Colonel 36-yard line.

The Heights Packers mini-

football team could score three times when given the ball in that kind of field position. Lets clear something up right now, the Wilkes Defense is by no means, I repeat, by no means, responsible for the 21-points tallied against Wilkes last Saturday. To tell it like it is, the blame should fall on the ineptness of the Colonel offensive attack.

With just under ten minutes remaining to play, Wilkes got on the board with its only TD of the day. The offense? No. The defense? No. What did we do, buy some points?

Freshman Rob Luby, out of Maitland, Fla., took a W.M. punt on the 12-yard line and sprinted 88-yards to paydirt. Luby, who has been pressed into service in the defensive secondary because of the Dave Korba injury, has done all Coach Schmidt and Co. have asked for. Great Job, Rob.

With the outcome of the game already in the bag, Western Maryland added two fourth-quarter field goals, which could probably be blamed on the defense. What are you guys trying to do? Your giving up six point, that's a sin when your offense is giving up 20.

This week Wilkes will close its three game home stand with the Albright Lions at 1:30 at Ralston Field. Last year, the Colonels upset Albright 7-0 in Reading. Although they have been hampered by injuries this season, the Lions should be in shape for Saturday's contest. Albright, has won the MAC title the last three years, and they remember last year's embarrassing loss to Wilkes in their Homecoming game, and sources tell us they are looking for revenge.

GRID BITS: Due to pressure, we give the M-C-S a 3.0, but they still have to go some to get a perfect 4.0 like our favorites, the BAND....Dave Korba, injured Wilkes safety, is keeping in shape by taking in rock concerts, how were the Doobies, Dave?....Paul Yurko, Wilkes baseballer is doing a fine job at the Wilkes football games. He is the guy you have to pay to park...Make sure you pick up a game program this week. It is a great item. Also, remember to support the Letterwomen's Club, by buying candy bars, for .50 apiece..

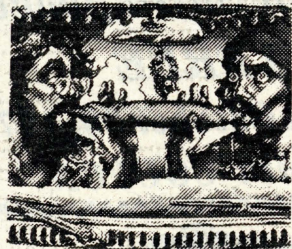

...On a serious note, although his team is suffering through a four-game losing streak, Wilkes head grid mentor Rollie Schmidt is the same to talk to, as if his club were undefeated. Truly, a touch of class.

MAC Top Spot One Win Away

Despite a week of illness and injuries, the Wilkes College field hockey team continued to show what it is made of. As the phrase states, "When the going gets tough, the tough get going" has been best exemplified by the Colonelettes, who are right now battling many difficulties. The Colonelettes continue to put their heart into every game and continue to WIN.

Wilkes started the week with a 5-2 win over Lycoming College. Julie Kerrick had an outstanding game, including three goals. Others scoring goals were Mary Lynn Drebelis and Pam Snyder. Assists went to Mary Jo Frail, Pam Snyder, and Jerry Ann Smith. Goalie Lee Ann Earl had an impressive game with 10 saves and played "tough" against the good LYCO offense.

The score at the half was 2-2, but Wilkes dominated the second half to conquer Lycoming, outshooting them 20-14. Mary Lynne Drebelis, a freshman from State College, Pa., started her first varsity game and scored her first goal. Coach Meyers is looking for much success from this freshman in the year's to come.

In Wilkes second meeting of the week, they tied rival Marywood, 0-0. Although Wilkes outshot Marywood 25-10, the Colonelettes could not tally the one needed goal. Four Wilkes players had injuries at this time - Mary Jo Frail, Marie Elko, Lee Ann Earl and Mary Lynn Drebelis. Also, Pam Snyder had an ear infection and Jerry Ann was taken out at halftime because of what was later learned to be a lung infection. Coach Meyers later commented, "Everything that could go wrong, did."

On Saturday, the Colonelettes defeated a strong Drew University team. The final score was 3-1 as Pam Snyder scored one goal and Marie Elko tallied two. Julie Kerrick, she is everywhere, and Pam Snyder each had one assist. Kerrick started the Colonelettes attack on the first goal with an assist, and later Drew tied the score at 1-1. Marie Elko took a beautiful pass from Snyder and made it 2-1 with four minutes left in the half. Then on a penalty shot with ten minutes remaining in the game, Snyder closed out the scoring.

The Colonelettes record is now 5-2-2 with some very big games coming up this week. On Wednesday, they traveled to meet Misericordia, and today, the Wilkes team meets Susquehanna before traveling to meet Kutztown on Saturday.

Big story for the ladies is that they are one win away from the MAC title. Coach Meyers and Co. should be applauded for this as this season did not look like to would be a good one, and has turned into a championship season.

Leading goal scorer on the team is Snyder with six, followed by Elko with five and Kerrick with four. Assist leader is Frail with nine, followed by Elko with three and Smith and Kerrick with two apiece. Wilkes has outscored its opponents overall, 21-11.

Tennis Team Loses 8th Season Match

Women's tennis team dropped its eighth match of the season Tuesday, as it was blanked by cross-town rival King's College.

King's, an MAC and NPWIAA opponent, assured itself of its first winning season by taking this match.

Every Wilkes player lost in straight sets, with the exception of doubles players Karen Polomski and Sandy May. They won the first set 6-4, but dropped the next two 4-6, 3-6, to lose the match.

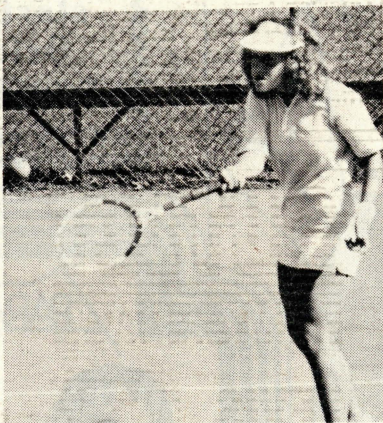

King's sported a group of young players who appeared to have no little experience already under their belts. Three of the top four singles players are freshmen, while the remainder of the team is also composed of mainly underclassmen.

Parts of the match were filmed by WBRE-TV 28, which used the segments to promote the station's innovation tri-college sports competition between Wilkes, King's and Scranton University.

The Colonelettes have already lost to Scranton once, but played the Royals yesterday. They will face King's again Monday before traveling to Seton Hall the next day for the final regular season match.

Booters Suffer Two Losses ; Blue and Gold Shutout Twice

It was a sad week for the Wilkes College soccer team and the Colonels will entertain Albright College in a "must win situation" today at 3:30 at Ralston Field in hopes of bringing its overall record to 3-5.

In last week's action, the booters were outscored 13-0 in two games, losing 4-0 to Baptist Bible and 9-0 to the University of Scranton. The Wilkesmen are going through a very tough time and the team spirit which was once sky-rocketing, has crashed recently.

When a team is doing well and winning, everyone wants to be a part of the success, but now that the club is taking it's bumps, a couple of players have quit. The "true athletes" are those who understand that losing usually comes before winning, or with winning. Nevertheless, the Colonels who are "sticking it out" are the ones who have been giving 100 per cent and the remainder of the season can only improve.

Wilkes College soccer has come a long way this season and is fast becoming a popular spectator sport on campus. It might take some time to reach its goals, but in the end it will be worth it to those who went through all the hard work-out sessions and were able to take the bumps.

A "good athlete" is one who truly realizesthat "Victory goes to those who are willing to pay the price." Anyone not willing to pay the price, should not go out for the team in the first place. Granted, there are times when dropping out of a sport is appropriate, but quitting, should not come about when a team is losing.

The Wilkesmen lost more than a 4-0 decision to B.B.C., but also lost team morale. The Clarks Summit team is not really a tough team and Wilkes downed them last year, 4-3. The Blue and Gold booters fell into a hole early in the game and the victors never let up. Some of the Wilkes players said, "It was hard to believe we were losing, since we have a much better team and although we thought we would come back to win, it was too late."

The next upsetting moment came when the strong MAC performer, Scranton University invaded the campus for a Homecoming encounter. The match was originally slated to take place on Saturday in Scranton at Memorial Stadium, but due to the poor weather, it was moved to Sunday, in Wilkes-Barre. This meant another day of rest for the Royals since they were tired and injured after a hard-fought contest with Elizabethtown on Thursday, which they lost 2-0 in OT.

The Royal booters took out their animosities on our Colonels and ran the score up to 9-0, humiliating Wilkes before a large crowd. The first half was mostly a defensive struggle with Wilkes trailing 2-0, on a pair of late goals. But the second half was completely dominated by Scranton, which found the range to the nets from just about every angle and distance. The experience definitely proved to be a factor in the outcome, as the Royals played a good game, and it was evident that the Blue and Gold had had an off day.

Despite a 9-0 setback, it should be noted that the soccer team has drawn dedicated spectators to its games. There were no criticism heard from the sidelines, but sympathy. With fans liek that, the Blue and Gold booters should be able to kick themselves out of the slump and get back to winning ways.

After today's game with the Albright Lions, Coach Hagman will lead his forces to meet a strong Elizabethtown team on Sat., Oct. 21. Last year, Wilkes posted a 1-0 decision over Albright in Reading, as Colonel Mario Apuzzo registered the lone goal.

After seven games, Wilkes carries a 2-5 overall slate and a 1-0 league mark. Mario Apuzzo leads in scoring with four goals and two assists, followed by Dung Chi Doung, with two goals and Carlos Ribiero and Kelly Noseworthy, who each have one goal and one assist.

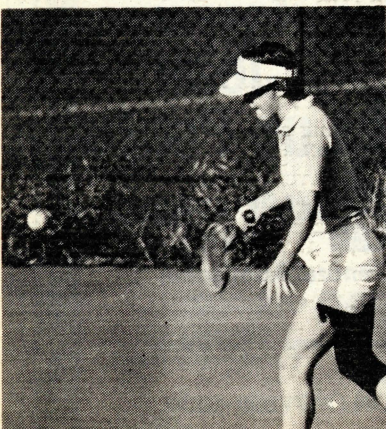

Wilkes can still finish in the top two of its Northern Division - West section but will have to overcome Albright today, E-Town on Sat., and knock off Susquehanna. The Colonels are 1-0 in the league by virtue of a 2-0 win over Lycoming. There are a lot of good athletes on the soccer team and the proper balance of team spirit, coaching technique, and fan-support, can lift the Colonels from the cellar and allow them to complete the season with a respectable finish.
