Wilkes University
Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania
Volume 44

IT'S OFFICIAL!

As of January 1, 1990, Wilkes College "moved on" to be known as Wilkes University. The official change was celebrated during University Week which began on Saturday, February 10. The week started off with a Valentine's Day Dance. The theme of the dance "We've Only Just Begun" signified the beginning of Wilke's new era. Major events of University Week included the University Celebration Dinner and The University Convocation. Both events were held in the Arnaud C. Marts Center. The success of these activities undoubtedly foreshadows an optimistic and progressive new era.

MOVIN' ON

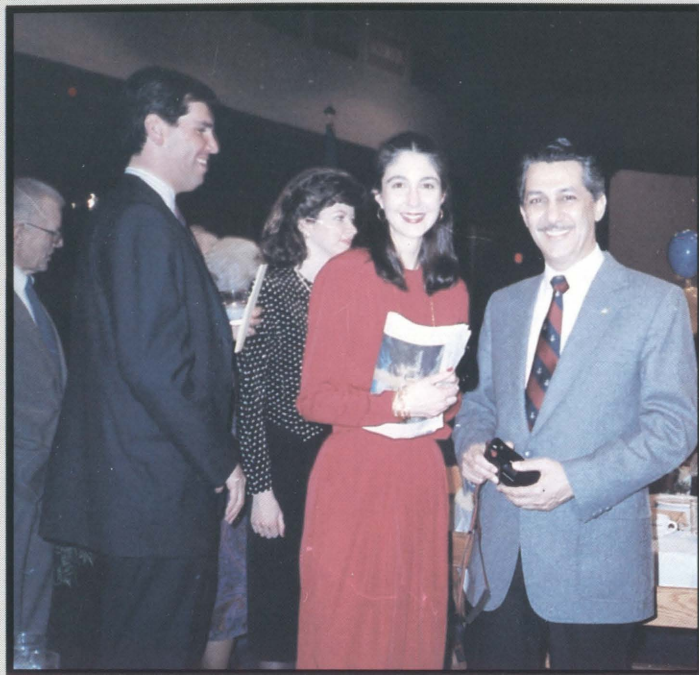

As time goes by many events shape the lives of people both young and old. There are endings to certain episodes; with every ending comes a new beginning. Wilkes ended its historical past as a college and opened new doors for itself by gaining university status. We have truly moved on to what in the future can be called a successful decision. By attaining university status, Wilkes has created new opportunities in the areas of academics, enrollment, and campus beautification.

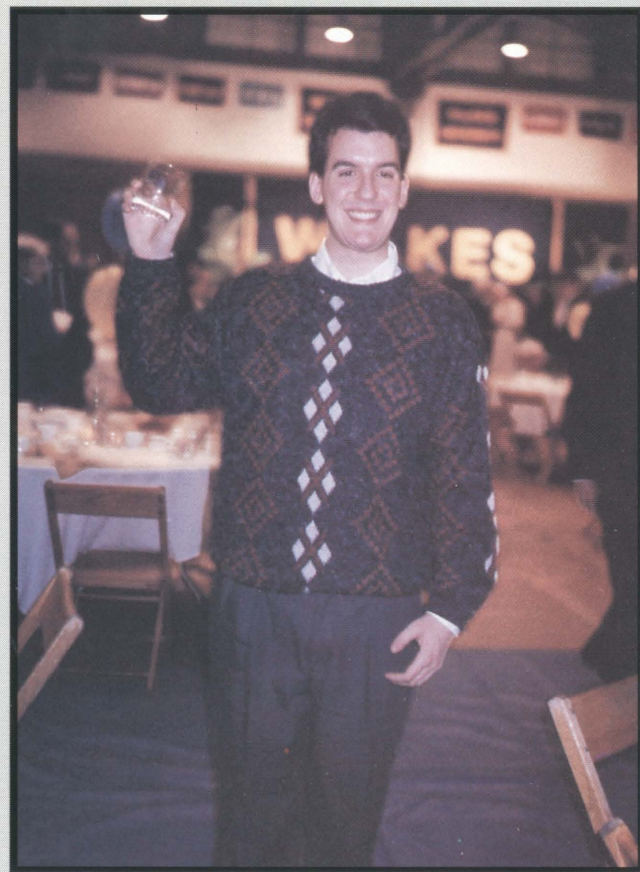

Autumn

UNIVERSITY DINNER

Wilkes College officially became a university on February 16, 1990. To commence the occasion, there was a celebration dinner in which many distinguished speakers were on hand. Among them were Congressman Paul Kanjorski and Dr. Sheldon Hackney, President of the University of Pennsylvania. There were over 700 guests in attendance to mark the "dawning of a new era" at Wilkes.

Homecoming 1989

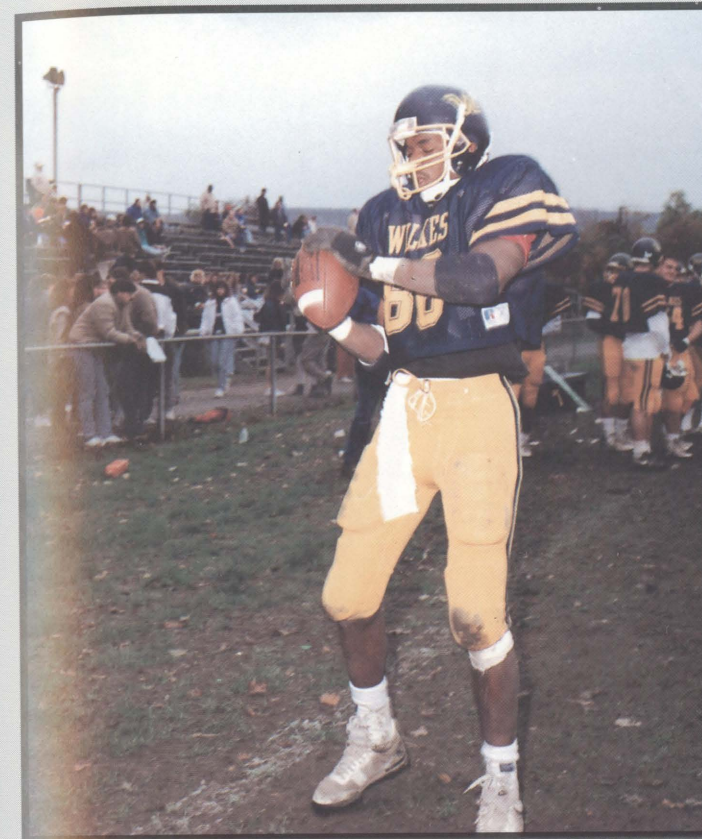

Despite a lack of cooperation from the weather, the Wilkes College 42nd annual Homecoming Weekend proved a great success.

Festivities kicked off Thursday night with a pep rally in the Marts Center. The Dinner Dance was then held Friday, October 20, at Gus Genetti Inn.

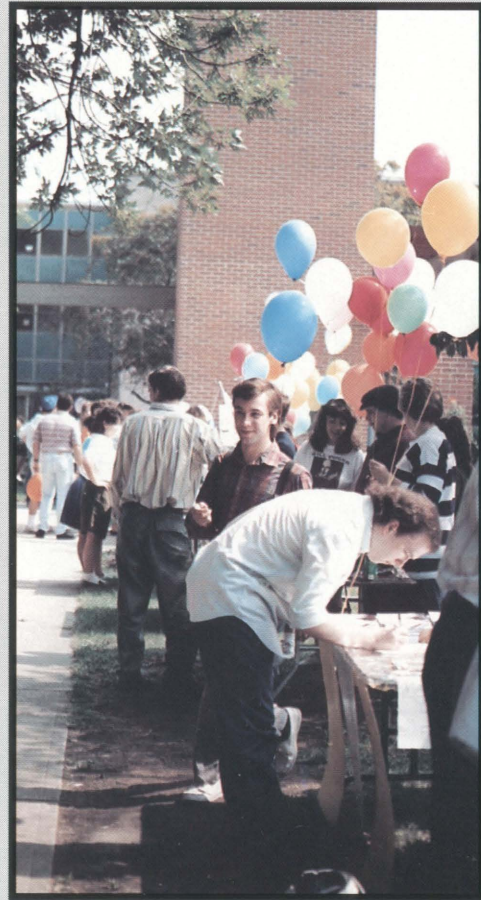

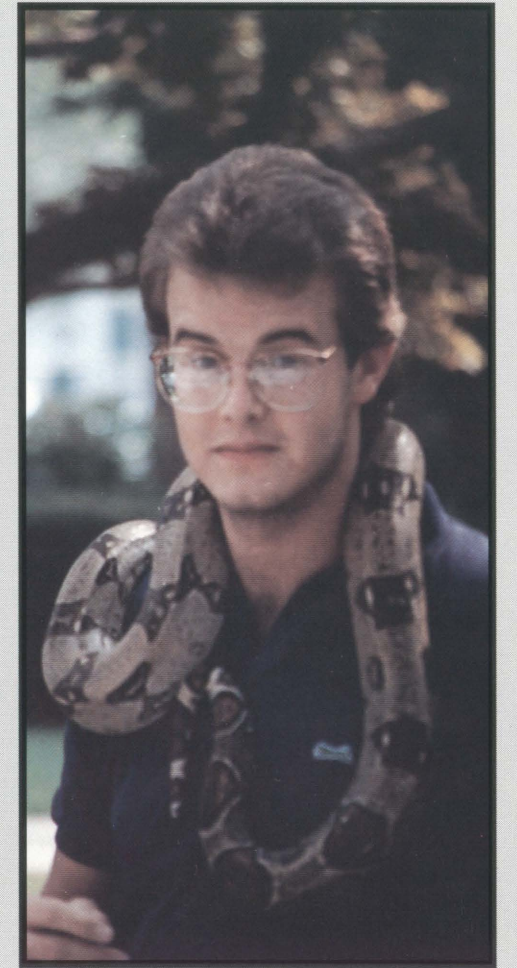

Saturday, October 21, was the day everyone had anticipated. Judging of the Homecoming displays decorated to the theme "Coming Home" was done. The winners included the Commuter Council (Wizard of Oz), Waller South (Pink Car), and Cue and Curtain (Home Cooking).

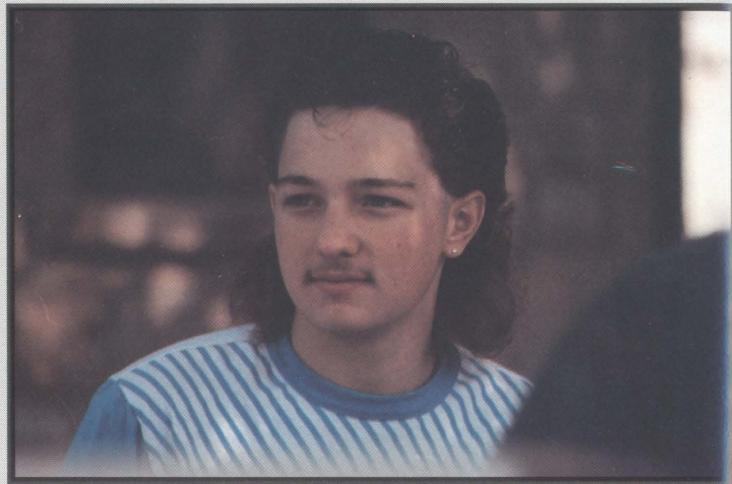

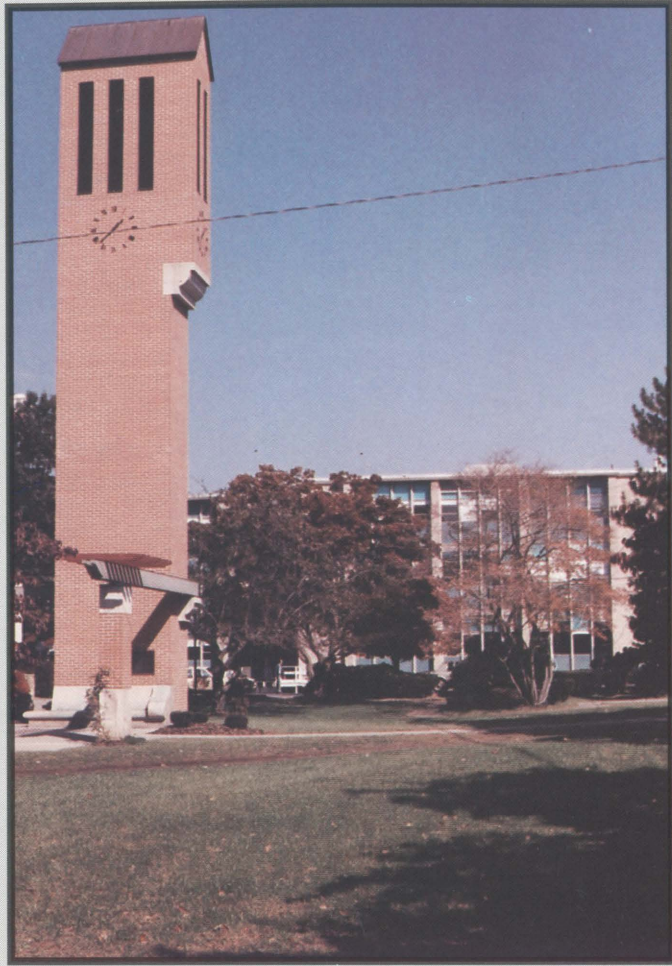

The King and Queen were finally announced as being Ron Miller and Marcie Kreinces. Runners up were: Dave Rogers, Steve Schannauer, Valerie Sweeney, and Susan Barr.

Despite a 20-7 loss by the football team to Lebanon Valley, a good time was had by Wilkes faculty and students alike.

CAMPUS EVENTS

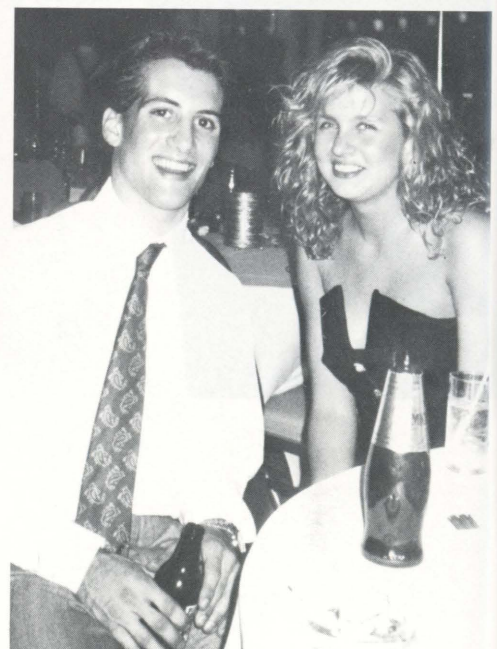

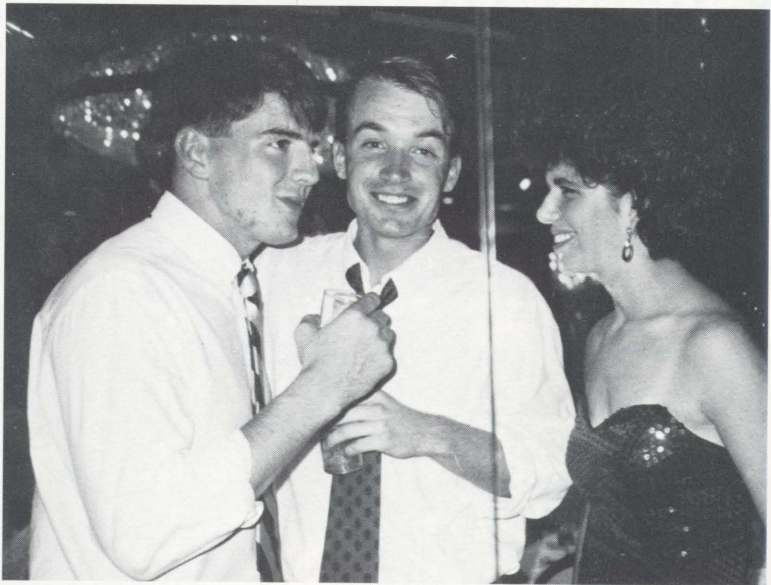

PARENT'S DAY

The parents of Wilkes' students had a chance to get a taste of college life Saturday, Sept. 23rd. The annual Parents' Day program featured a wide range of activities for both the parents and students enjoyment. Because of incimate weather, the Men and Women's Soccer and Field Hockey games were cancelled. However, the football game against Susquehanna University resumed.

Afterwards, the parents and students enjoyed a lovely reception in the Mart's Center.

WINTER

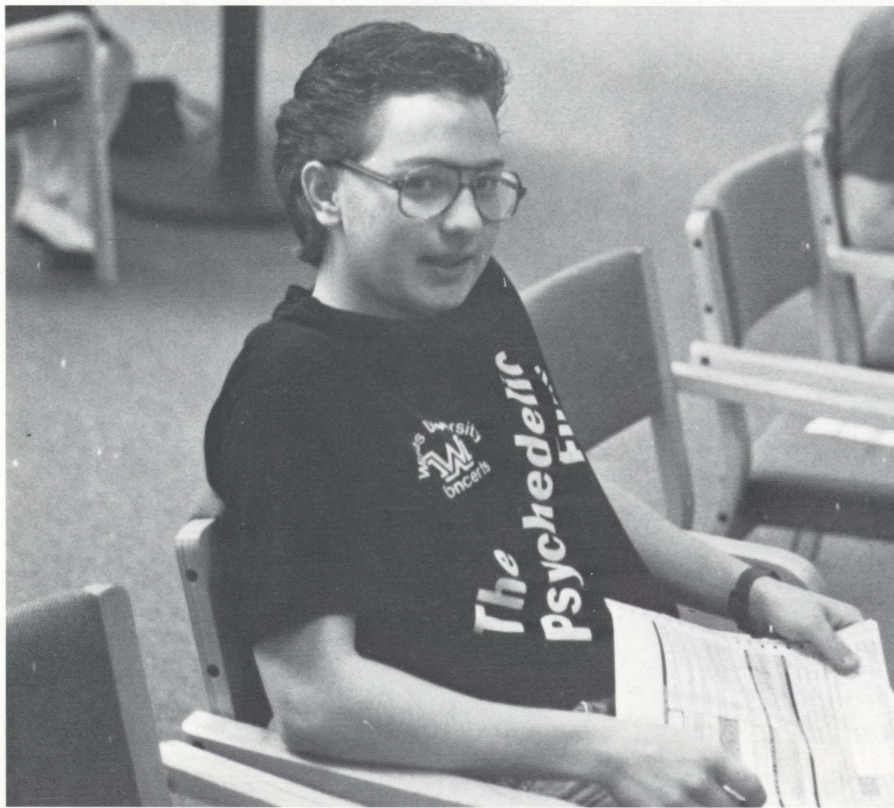

Despite the fact that there was no snow, spirits remained high as the winter weekend festivities took place on February 23-25, 1990. Friday, February 23, was the opening ceremonies and spirit competition to the theme of "It's About Time." There was also a banner competition won by "War" and "The Freedom Fighters"; best costume honors went to "The Freedom Fighters." The overall winner for all events was "Team 2000," followed by "The Freedom Fighters," and "The Cavemen."

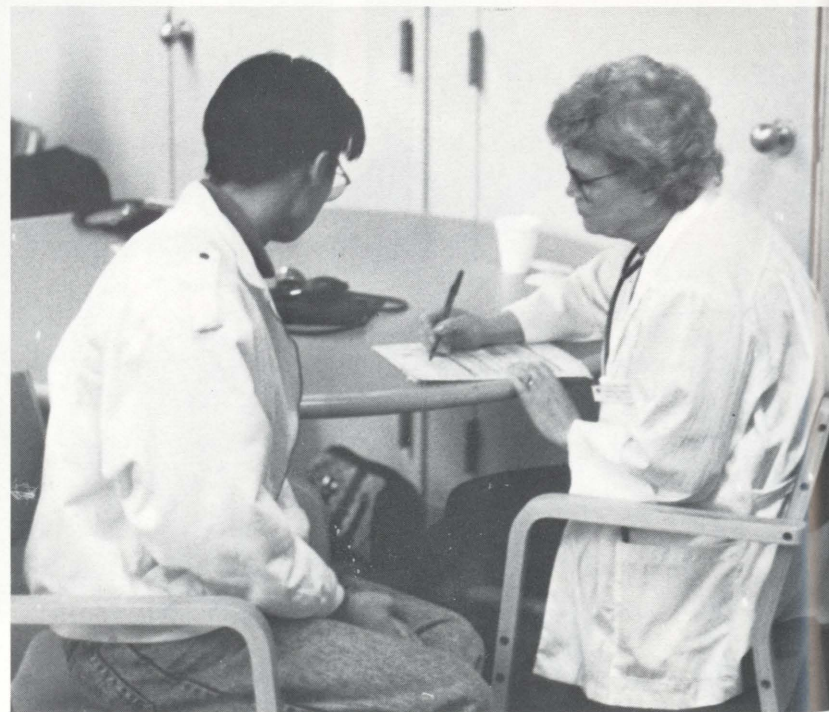

Week —

END

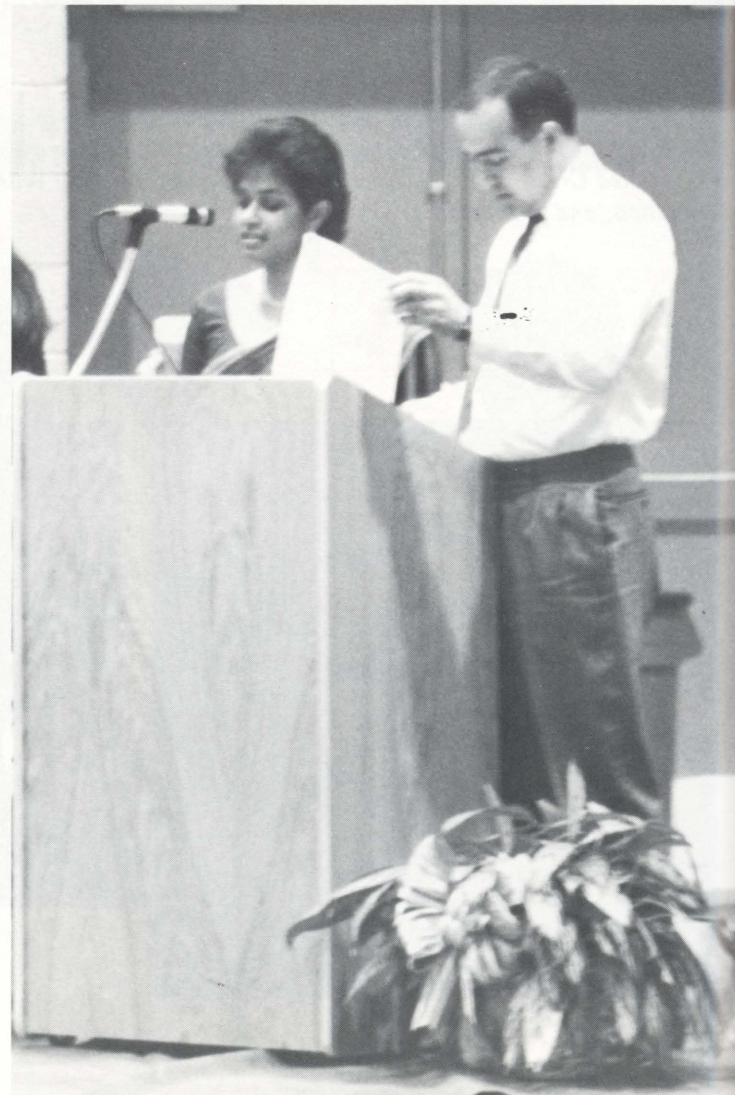

Blood Day is a time for students to give much needed attention to a worthy cause. 'Give' is exactly what Wilkes' students did on November 1, 1989, and May 3, 1990. Many students were seen anxiously awaiting their turn to give blood to the American Red Cross. The record number of donors proved that Wilkes students cared enough to support such a needy organization, and to save lives.

International Night was held on Friday, April 6th. Entertainment for the night included a Japanese Tea Ceremony, a Malaysian Wedding Ceremony, a Vietnamese Band, and an International Fashion Show. Guests were asked to bring a sampling of their favorite ethnic dish.

The Wilkes University Education Club visited the Pediatrics Ward at Nesbitt Memorial Hospital in Kingston in special costume and with gifts for the hospitalized children.

The Wilkes students are seeking certification as teachers and have a keen interest in activities centering around young people. It was that interest which led to the visit to Nesbitt Hospital. The students prepared for the visit by making hand puppets and get well cards for the children as well as securing children's books. The special costumes were provided by Education Club member, Jennifer Richards.

To the Class of 1990:

As the first class to graduate from Wilkes University you will remain a very special class. I trust you will find that Wilkes has prepared you well for professional opportunities, including graduate school and other careers beyond. I also hope that for those of you who raise families you will apply the values you have formed at Wilkes to help you and your families make a better society.

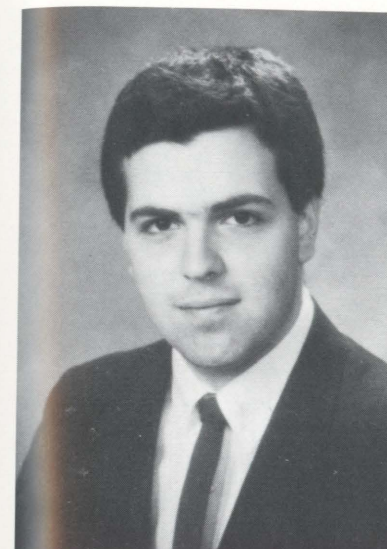

Mrs. Breiseth and I wish you happiness and success in your lives. Like Wilkes College graduates before you and Bucknell University Junior College graduates before them, we know you will contribute significantly to improving our world. We look forward to hearing from you. Your personal stories will add to the larger story of how Wilkes graduates are successful both for themselves and for others.

*Sincerely,
Christopher N. Breiseth

CURRENT EVENTS

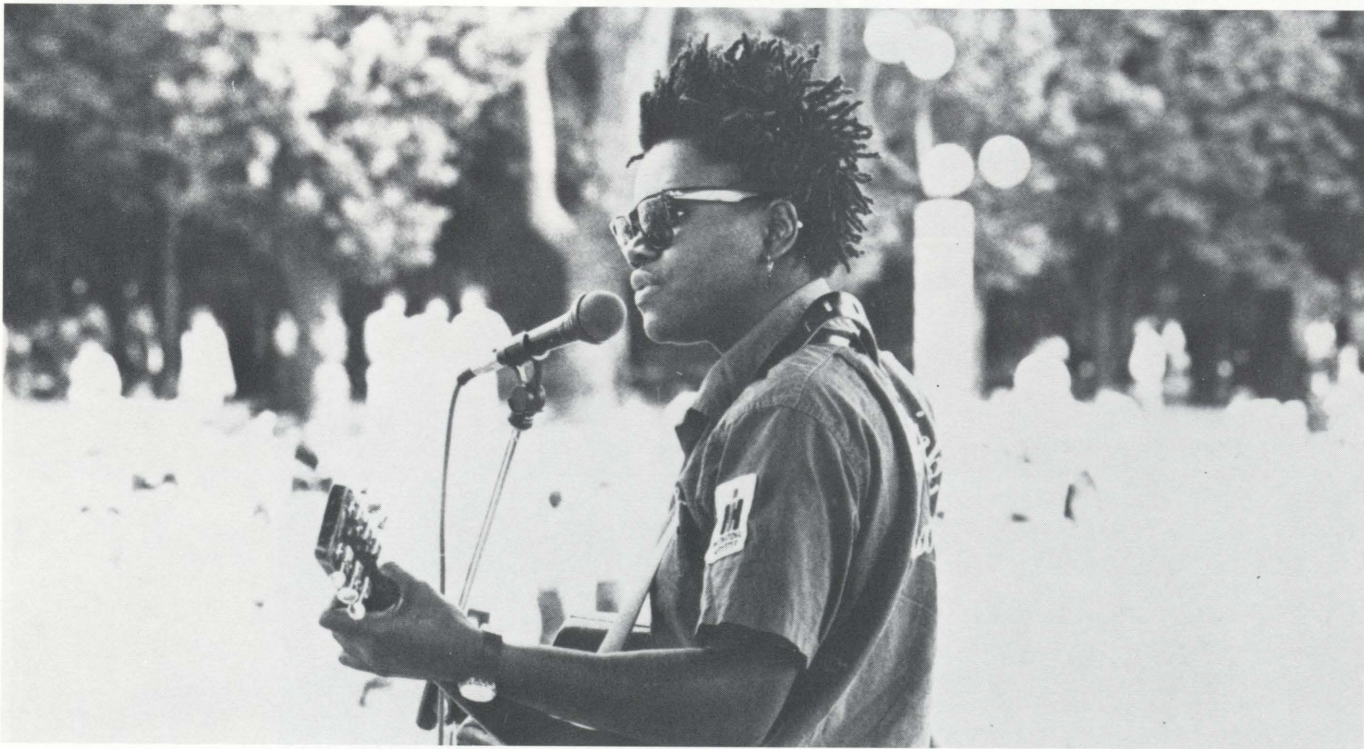

Despite the global repercussions of student unrest in China, and war in the Middle East, beauty queens still get crowned, and brother and sister musical acts (Don and Neneh Cherry, at right) still grab the spotlight.

CURRENT EVENTS

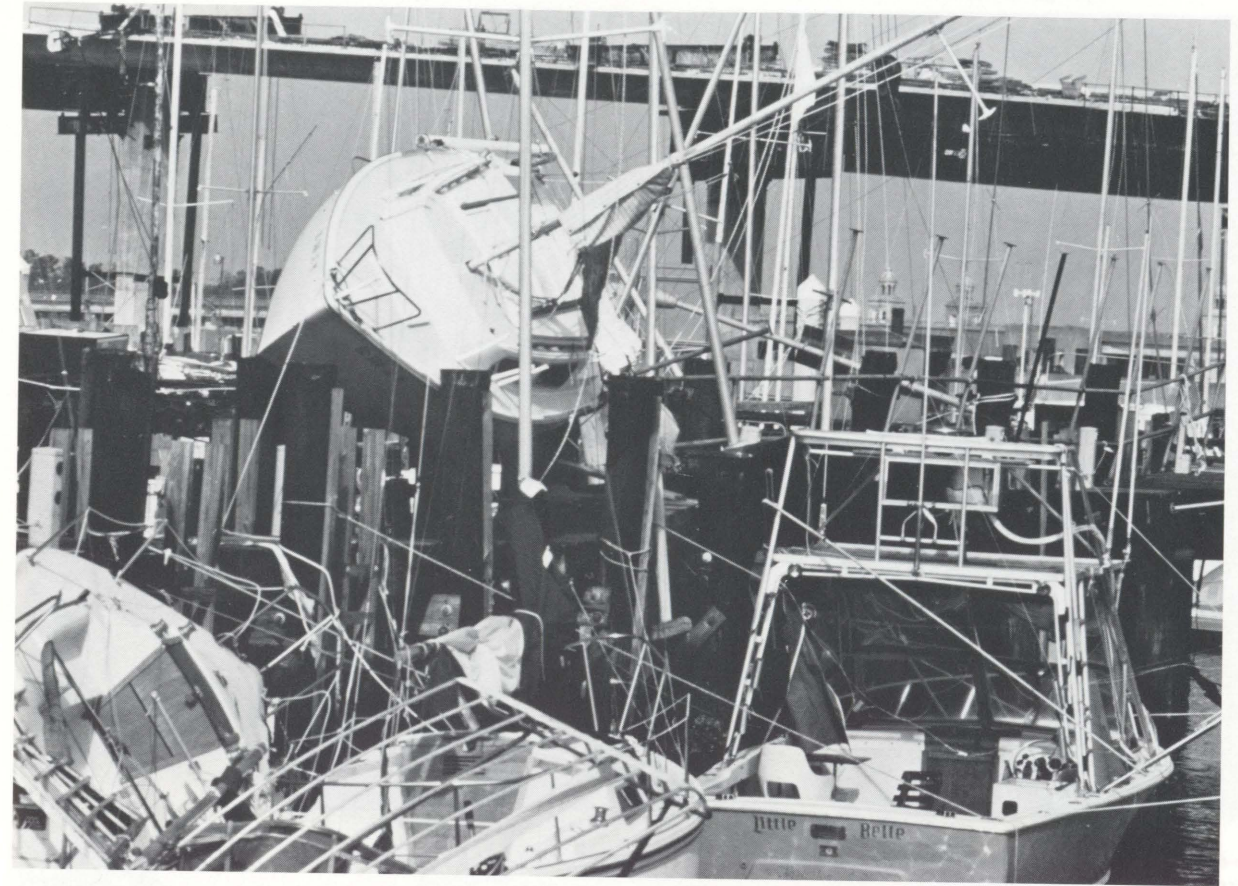

CURRENT EVENTS

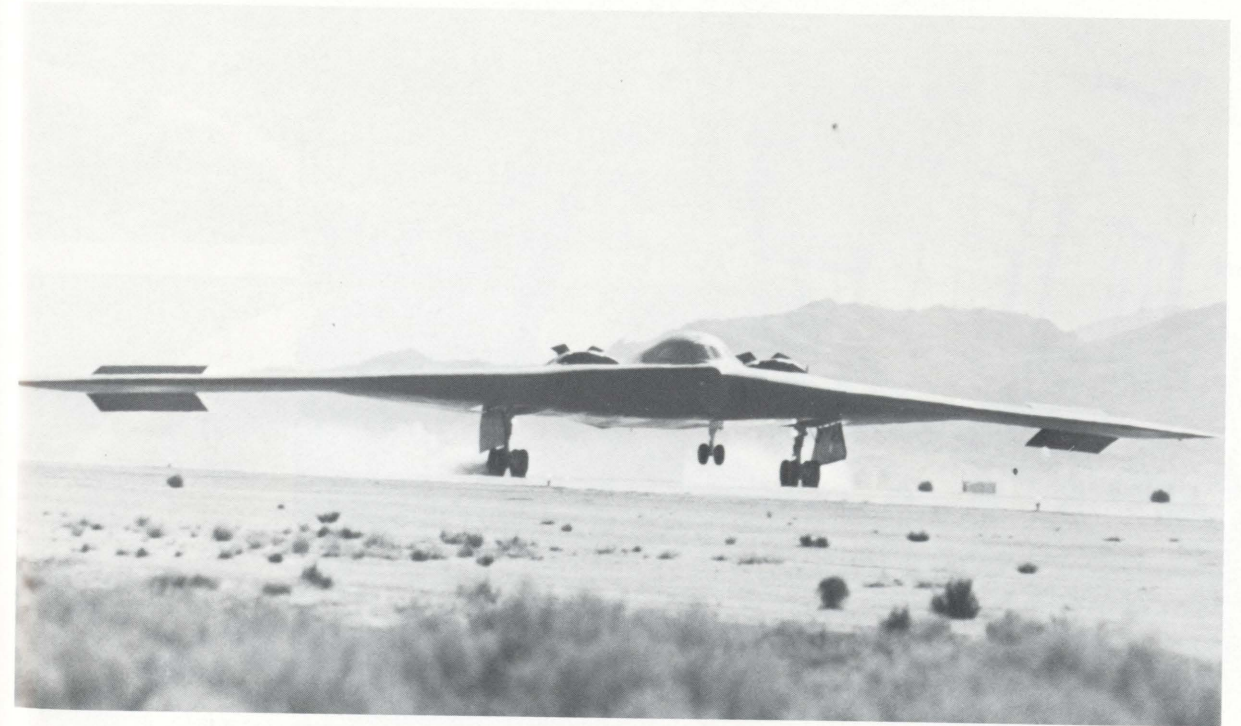

Tracy Chapman's lyrics talked of homelessness and desolation. These issues had an important impact on Society throughout the 80's, and will continue to be key issues to be addressed through the 90's.

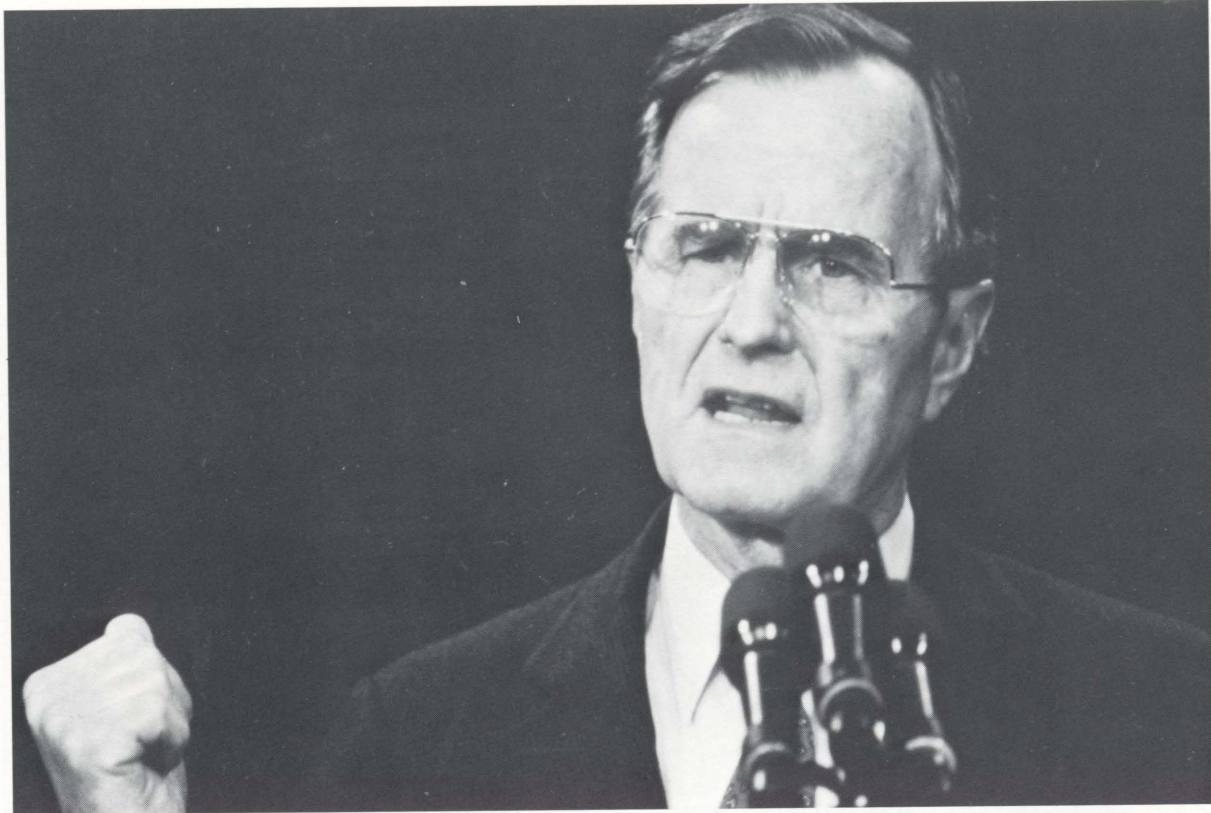

CURRENT EVENTS

Hurricane Hugo destroyed lives and property as it rocked the coast of Charleston, South Carolina. The storm marked one of the worst to ever hit the Eastern coast of the United States.

CURRENT EVENTS

George Bush took over for two-term President Ronald Reagan in January of 1989. Bush won a landslide victory over Democratic opponent Michael Dukakis. Bush promises "a kinder, gentler nation."

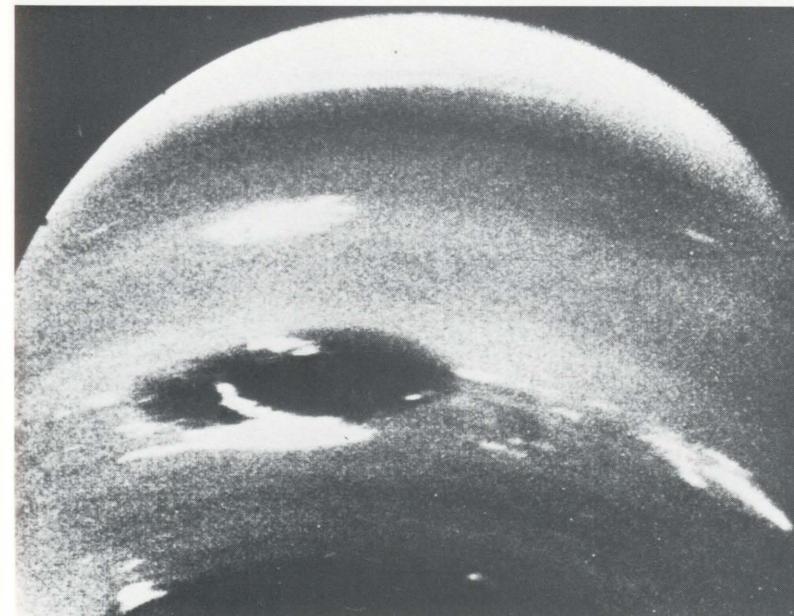

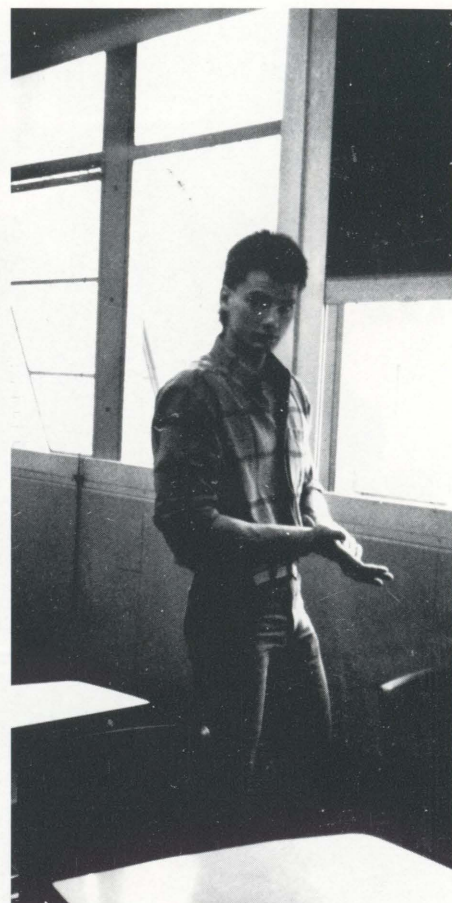

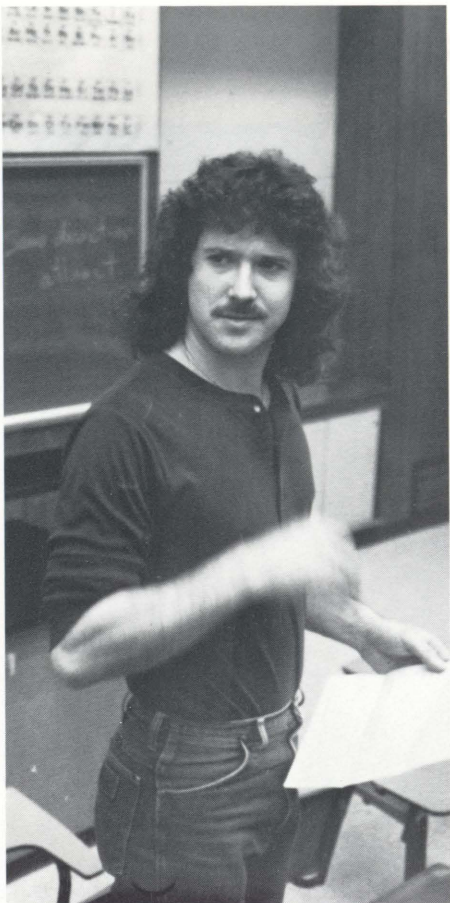

The San Francisco Earthquake of October 1989 was almost as devastating as its predecessor of nearly a century ago. The quake caused death and destruction throughout the bay area. Countless heroic rescues and the rebuilding that ensued are testaments to the resiliency of the human spirit.

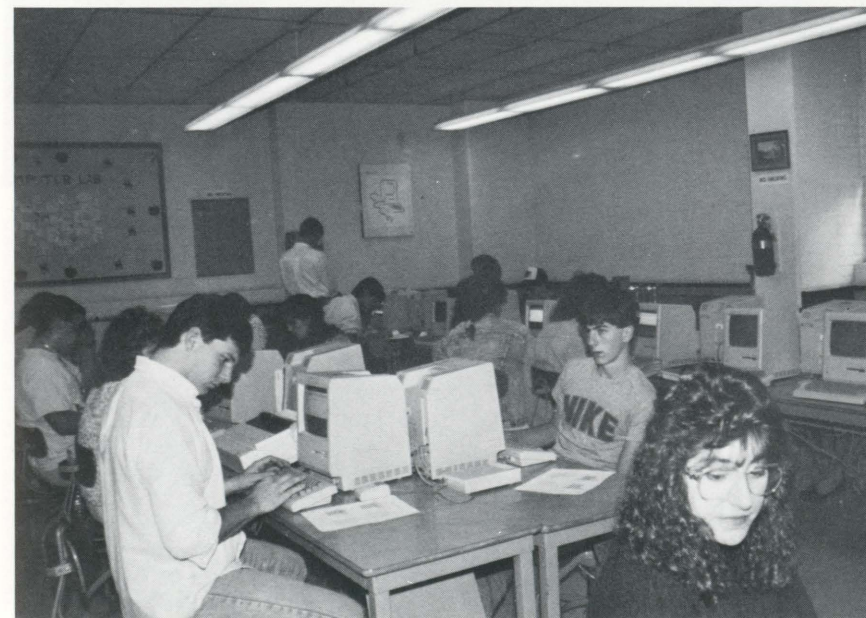

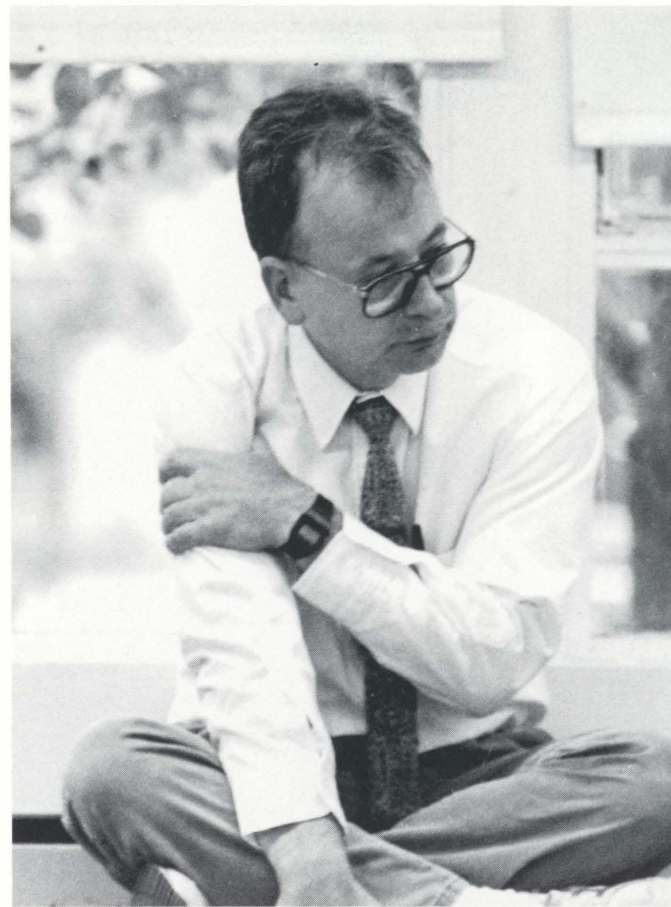

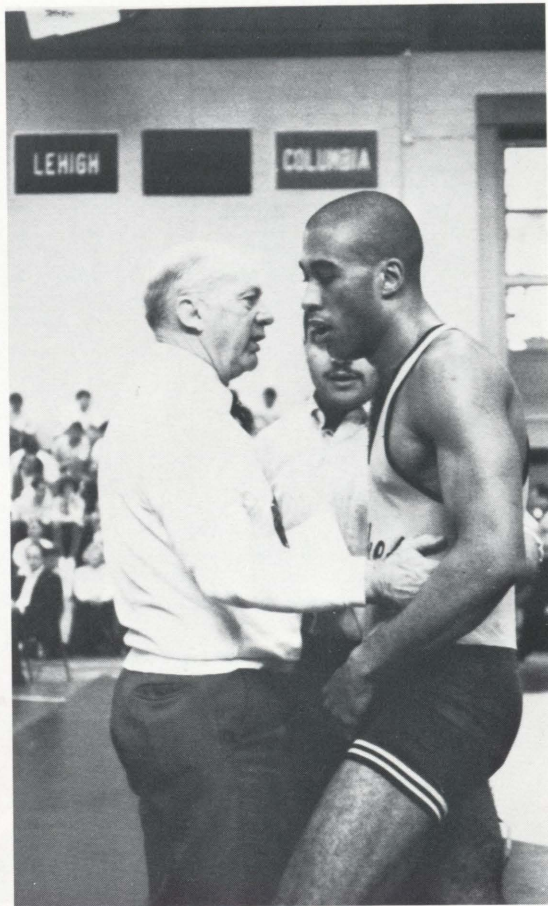

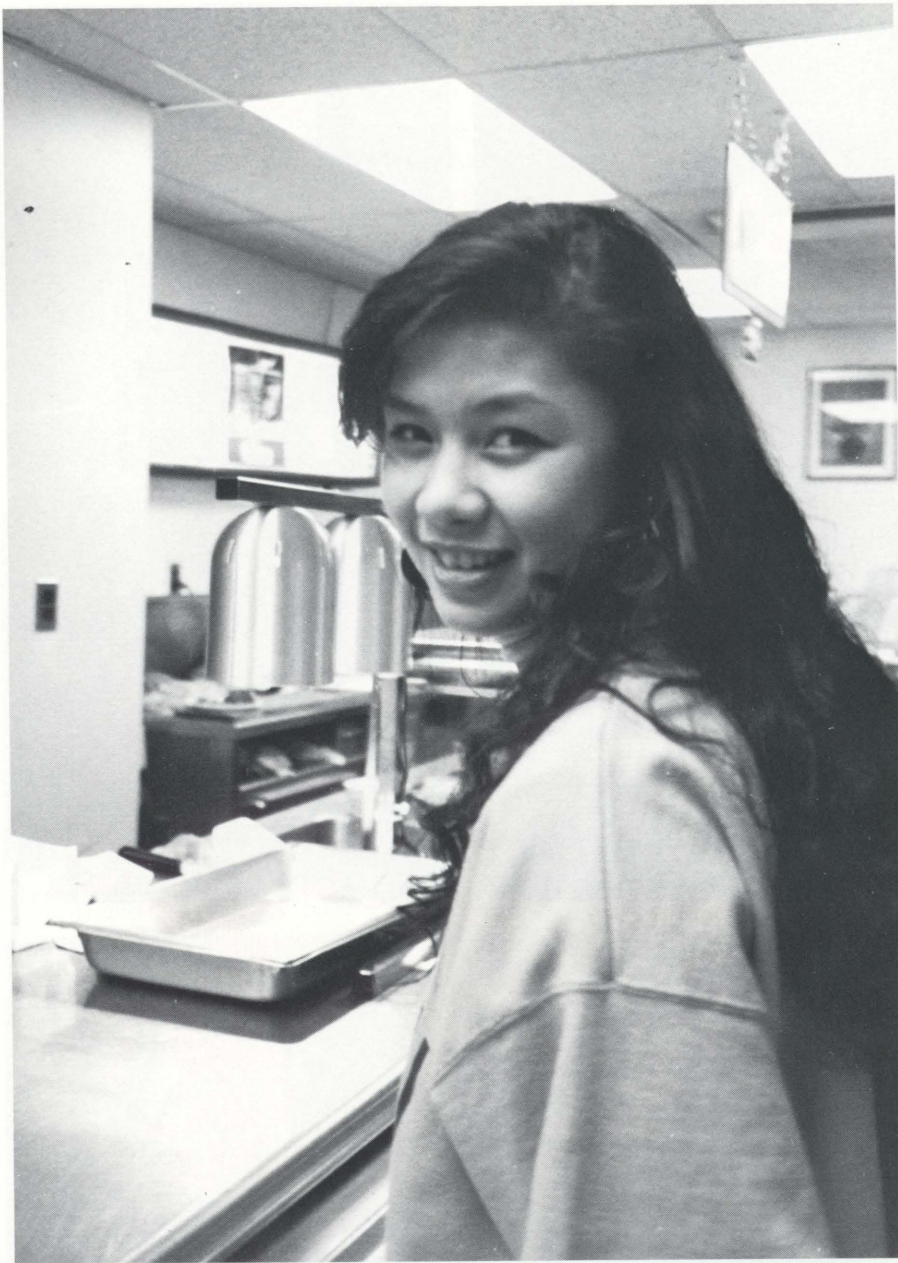

CURRENT EVENTS

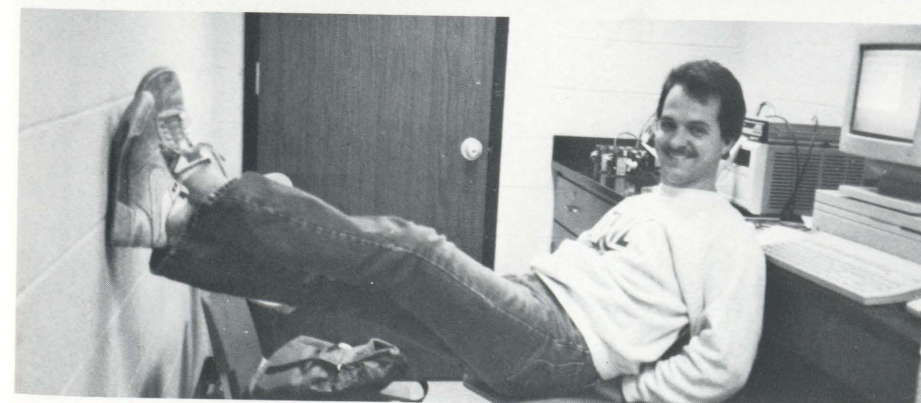

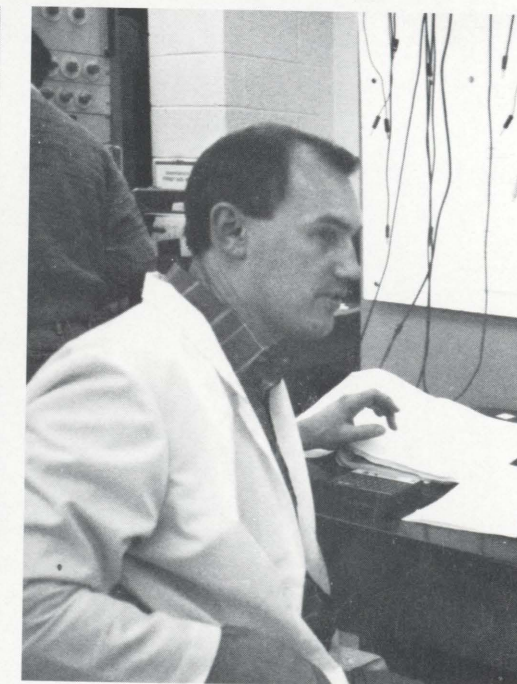

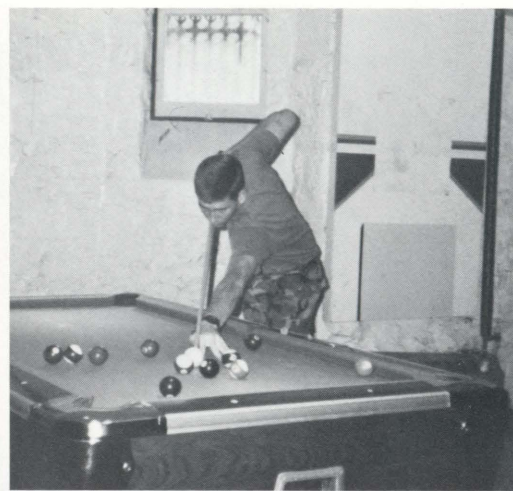

The oil spill of the Exxon Valdez caused disaster for the coast of Alaska. Alaska's waters were soiled with millions of gallons of oil after a negligent captain made a mistake in steering his oil tanker. The natural beauty of Alaska's waters and coastline may not be the same for many years.

Changing of the Guard

This year's graduating class differed somewhat from those of the few score years before it. The class of 1990 is the first under the banner of Wilkes University, declared as our official name in a convocation ceremony on February 16, 1990, after long-awaited university status was approved.

'Change' was the watchword for the year 1989-1990. Our goal at the Amnicola was to capture the spirit of this benchmark academic year, and the changes that characterized it.

I'd like to take this opportunity to commend the core of the editorial board of the yearbook staff, and all who contributed. Without their dedication, diligence, and energy, this record of Wilkes University life would not have appeared.

The staff had an exciting year to chronicle. But although change was a large part of it, much of university life here stayed the same, bound in the tradition of collegiate education.

The year marked not only the beginning of a new decade, but a new era in the history of Wilkes as an institution of higher learning serving Northeastern Pennsylvania and beyond.

As an institution, we've grown in enrollment, faculty, course offerings, academic disciplines, and learning facilities.

As a community, we've grown by not only keeping pace with societal trends, but by being at the vanguard of them in preparing our graduates for the marketplace of ideas and industry.

The evolution of a university parallels that of a commonwealth or a corporation. It involves change, adaptation, leadership, and vision.

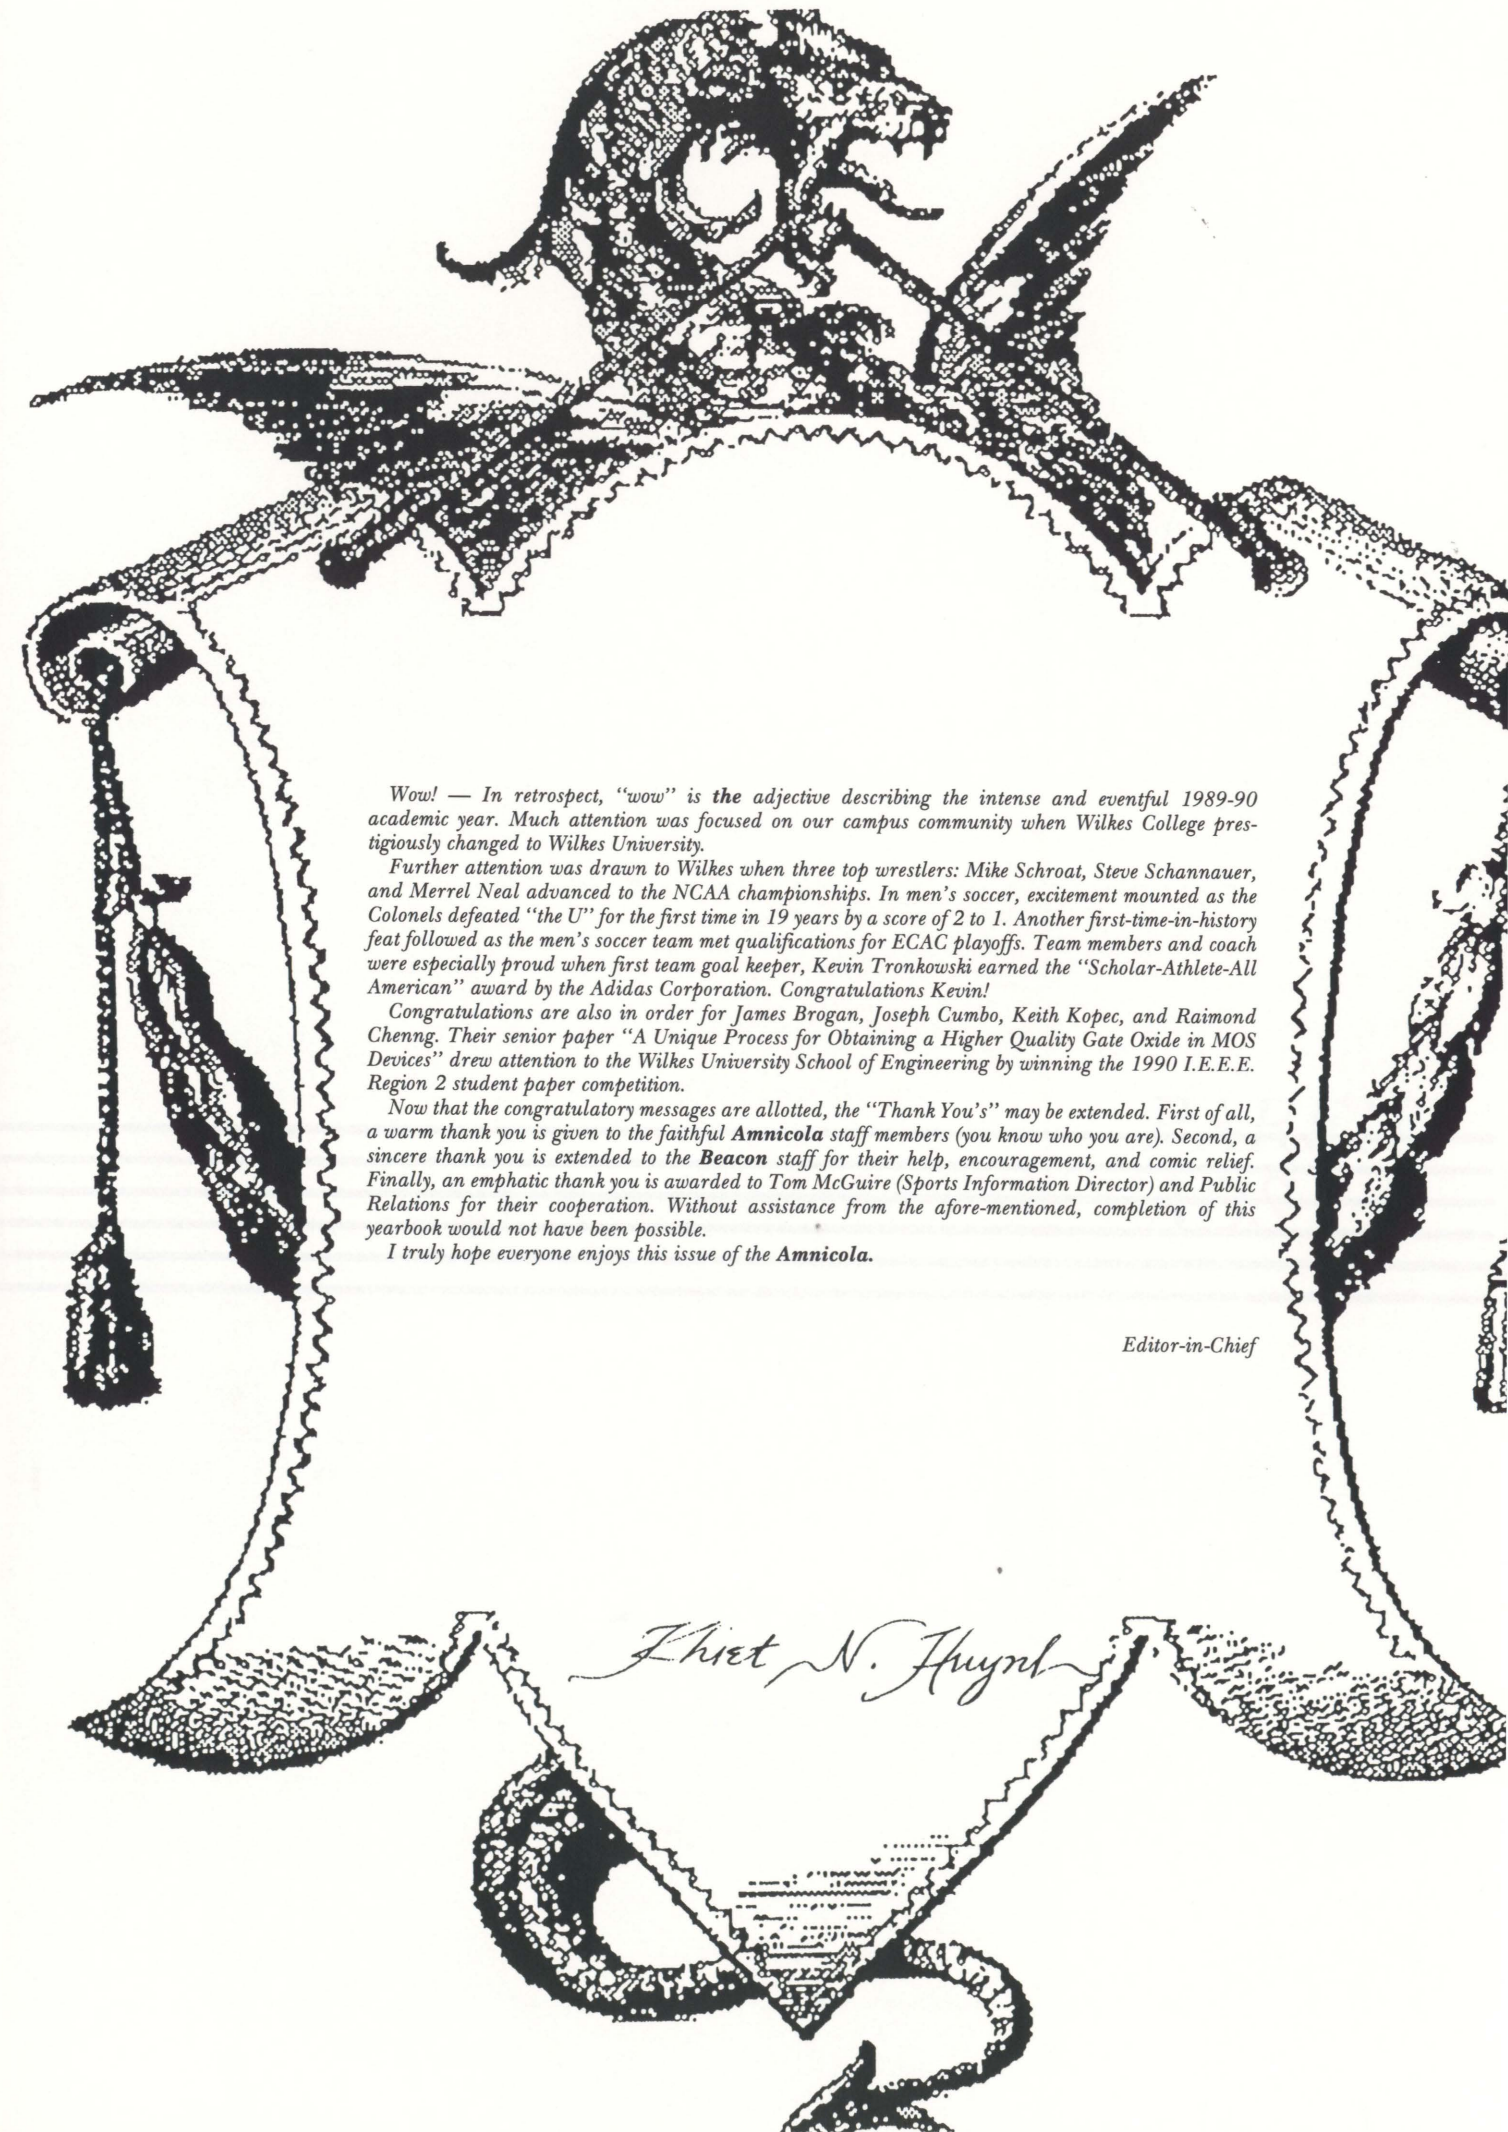

It is the ability to look to the wisdom of the past to shape and guide the present, and it is the courage to forge a bold and pragmatic future built on a foundation of tradition.

In this, the 67th year of what is now Wilkes University, we reaffirmed our mission of educating young people in the pursuit of knowledge and truth.

If, as Bacon said, knowledge is power, then our graduates of yesterday, today and tomorrow, have been and will be equipped with the ability to change our world for the better.

Browning said "A man's reach must always exceed his grasp, else what's a heaven for?" Like all of mankind, our graduates need only reach to achieve their goals.

Michael A. Incitti,
Assistant Professor of Communications and Amnicola Adviser

Wow! — In retrospect, "wow" is the adjective describing the intense and eventful 1989-90 academic year. Much attention was focused on our campus community when Wilkes College prestigiously changed to Wilkes University.

Further attention was drawn to Wilkes when three top wrestlers: Mike Schroat, Steve Schannauer, and Merrel Neal advanced to the NCAA championships. In men's soccer, excitement mounted as the Colonels defeated "the U" for the first time in 19 years by a score of 2 to 1. Another first-time-in-history feat followed as the men's soccer team met qualifications for ECAC playoffs. Team members and coach were especially proud when first team goal keeper, Kevin Tronkowski earned the "Scholar-Athlete-All American" award by the Adidas Corporation. Congratulations Kevin!

Congratulations are also in order for James Brogan, Joseph Cumbo, Keith Kopec, and Raimond Chennng. Their senior paper "A Unique Process for Obtaining a Higher Quality Gate Oxide in MOS Devices" drew attention to the Wilkes University School of Engineering by winning the 1990 I.E.E.E. Region 2 student paper competition.

Now that the congratulatory messages are allotted, the "Thank You's" may be extended. First of all, a warm thank you is given to the faithful Amnicola staff members (you know who you are). Second, a sincere thank you is extended to the Beacon staff for their help, encouragement, and comic relief. Finally, an emphatic thank you is awarded to Tom McGuire (Sports Information Director) and Public Relations for their cooperation. Without assistance from the afore-mentioned, completion of this yearbook would not have been possible.

I truly hope everyone enjoys this issue of the Amnicola.
