

Columnist Jack Anderson To Speak Monday

Anderson, one of the best known and controversial journalists today, will speak at the Wilkes College on Monday evening at 8 as part of the current year's Concert and Lecture program. Anderson, whose Washington Merry-Go-Round column is syndicated in newspapers, says his purpose is "to expose and oppose. To be an ombudsman to the oppressed, the minority people who are calling out and not being heard."

Anderson, who won a Pulitzer Prize in 1964, has proven to be one of the nation's most talked-about columnists following his exposure of the Vietnam War and Nixon Administration's policies on the India-Pakistan conflict.

Anderson's controversial figure has been in the column for 26 years, as a partner until Drew Pearson died three years ago, exposing issues and conflicts.

Pearson, their exposes helped three congressmen for years, led to the resignation of power aide Sherman Adams and worked to discredit the late Senator Thomas J. Dodd for mixing private and public funds.

Anderson has seemed to thrive on secret documents, and his column thrives on inside reports of high-level discussions, as well as intimate glimpses of public figures in off moments.

Additional programs in the Concert and Lecture series include: November 21, Jose Greco and Nana Lorca — a lecture-demonstration and recital by this great master of Spanish dance and his company; December 13 — Jean Shepherd, four-time winner of "Playboy's Humor-Satire Award."

January 10, Osceola Davis, coloratura soprano; February 20, Miguel Rubio, classical guitarist; March 8, An Evening with Lillian Gish, winner of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences 1971 "Special Award."

March 28, Neil Sheehan, member of the "New York Times" Washington Bureau; April 11, "As You Like It," presented by the well-known Shakespeare company, The National Players; May 1, Alex Haley, award winning author of the "As-Told-To" story, "The Autobiography of Malcolm X," and "What Next for Black America."

Dan Flood Addresses Pre-Med Students

Members of the college faculty and the Wilkes-Hahnemann program met with Congressman Daniel J. Flood in an informal discussion prior to the congressman's speech at the Center for the Performing Arts.

Ad Hoc Committee Links Students And Board

The first organizational meeting of the newly formed Ad Hoc Committee, composed of three student organizations presidents working in conjunction with the Board of Trustees, was held recently at which time the purpose of the committee was stated as a way of "opening communications between the students and the Board."

The three student members of the committee are Mike Barski, Student Government president; Jim Fiorino, Inter-Dormitory Council president and Buddy Bryzenski, Commuter Council president.

Also serving on the committee are: Ed Baltruchitis, dean of student affairs; Jane Lampe, dean of women and Dr. John Labows and Patricia Pisaneshi, faculty members.

Four members of the Board of Trustees were selected to serve on the committee. They will in turn report to the entire Board. Working with the student and faculty representatives are Mrs. Eleanor Darling, Ben Badman, Judge Edwin Kosik, Dr. Alan Glover and Norman Weiss.

Working through the committee the students will be given the opportunity to report to the Board activities and concerns of the students such as the parking problem with members of each of the three student organization presidents being heard from.

During this first meeting the student representatives questioned and discussed with the Board members the physical planning and development of the college, enrollment and future plans for Wilkes and how they could help.

Describing the committee as a "link between the students, the faculty and the Board of Trustees," the group made plans to meet immediately following each regular board meeting.

The Board of Trustees meets four times a year or upon request of the president or chairman.

Congressman Daniel J. Flood delivered an address to pre-med students and members of the Valley involved in health care problems in the Center for the Performing Arts Saturday morning.

Congressman's talk was centered around "The views of Congress on the primary health delivery system in the United States."

Saturday morning program was part of a series of 14 such sessions as part of an orientation program in health care and health professions.

These programs are intended to introduce the student to the concept of primary health care delivery system and the relationship between the family physician and the various professionals within the system.

The program was presented in a panel-type discussion, with members of the panel grouped according to direct or indirect relationship to one another and the type of care each provides. Each panelist gives a 10 to 15 minute presentation concerning his function.

Following the presentations, a moderator directs questions of a topical nature to the panelists.

Dr. Edward Stockham is project director for the Wilkes College portion of the Medical program.

The six-year medical program, offered in conjunction with Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia aims at the successful completion of an integrated academic and medical curriculum resulting in two degrees.

There are currently 100 freshmen enrolled in the six-year Wilkes-Hahnemann program which results in an undergraduate degree on the baccalaureate level from Wilkes and a Doctor of Medicine degree from Hahnemann Medical College six years after an individual has entered Wilkes as a freshman.

These programs aim to introduce the primary health care delivery system at a very early stage in the students' development.

STRAW BALLOT

In an effort to see how Wilkes College will vote in the upcoming Presidential Election, the Beacon has organized a straw ballot to be taken this weekend. The ballot is included below and is to be filled out and deposited in one of the ballot boxes now located in the Commons or the New Men's Dormitory.

The importance of this ballot does not lie in deciding the presidential election but rather in telling all of the students in Wilkes a little more about themselves and their cohorts. It is hoped that Wilkes students will view it as such and submit a responsible ballot.

The results of this poll will not be official evidence of how Wilkes views the issues but will hopefully provide the school with an indication of how the majority of its students and faculty will vote this November 7.

'Sha Na Na' Concert

by Pat Moran

The Wilkes gym was the setting recently for two hours of Kirk Douglas, James Cagney, Ed Sullivan, President Nixon and songs such as "Laura," "Blue Moon" and "Teenager in Love."

A convention, an old movie or a flashback to the 50's? No, it was the Wilkes College Homecoming concert featuring "Sha Na Na" and David Frye.

Coming across to the capacity audience as a combination of old movies, old voices and songs right out of the '50's the concert got underway with David Frye, a well-known impressionist and comic.

Frye's impressions ranged from the voices and facial expressions of George McGovern and President Nixon to those of George C. Scott and Billy Graham.

Beginning his segment of the concert by requesting that no pictures be taken and the spotlights be turned down, Frye exhibited an uncanny ability to place himself into each person's character that he was imitating. This extraordinary talent made it almost impossible to draw the line between the real person and the impersonations of the comic.

The receptive audience, after bringing the star back on stage for two encores, witnessed a slight change in the format when Frye ended his performance on a more serious note than was expected. Using once again his ability to imitate a person's voice Frye assumed the voices and words of Martin Luther King and Senator Ted Kennedy. The comic expressed to the standing-room-only crowd the words of the Senator as he had eulogized his assassinated brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Frye was able to communicate with the audience on two levels — as a comedian and as a person who was attempting to make them more aware of the world around them.

After a short break the group that has caused many to change their taste in music entirely arrived on stage — "Sha Na Na."

Complete with white socks, short pants, greased hair, oversized combs and an amazing amount of talent and energy, the 12-man group began the second hour of the show.

The Homecoming crowd that witnessed the rendition of "golden oldies" wasn't all college students. Many faces could be spotted as those who had danced to these very songs while in college during the '50's, and who saw this group as a very rare opportunity to go back to the "good, old days."

Ending their portion of the program after three encores, the group left the audience still clapping and singing to the music that had already stopped in the gym but was carried outside into a world of music that two hours before had seemed modern but had now been "outdated" by the "new" music of the '50's.

David Frye and "Sha Na Na" made Homecoming '72 one that will be thought of again and again everytime they hear the voice of Jimmy Cagney or the song, "Let's Go to The Hop."

'PSYCH' CAREERS UNLIMITED

Mobility and flexibility were the watchwords of Joseph Kanner's presentation, "Careers in Psychology," delivered recently for members of the Psychology Club and interested students who do not plan to go on to graduate school.

Kanner, a Psychology Department instructor, advised the club members to live by these words when applying for and working in their first jobs after graduation.

The career opportunities in Federal and State Civil Service under the Department of Health, Education and Welfare are almost unlimited, related Kanner. He advised the psychology majors to use their first new jobs or the equivalent of five to seven years of on-the-job experience as preliminaries before even thinking about settling down. He stated that there were numerous openings in social work, psychologist training, administration and business and management training. Kanner advised the prospective job-hunters to be "a little selfish" and not allow emotional ties to bind them to a certain job or area of the country.

He stressed the creation and use of options when applying for interviews or jobs. The opportunities are there if the prospective psychologist is willing to take advantage of them. He explained that Civil Service Examinations can be requested from any state and taken at Wilkes. A professional attitude from the beginning of a career added to the willingness to keep commitments to employers is essential, explained Kanner, if the student wishes to receive any help (i.e., letters of recommendation or setting up interviews) from the Psychology Department.

Although Wilkes does not, the National Science Foundation classifies psychology as a natural science along with physics, chemistry or biology. It is also classified under the social sciences and liberal arts categories. This multiple classification enables students to utilize the Career Handbook issued by the Guidance and Placement Office more efficiently. The Psychology Department will also do everything in its power to aid the graduate.

Kanner told the audience to have patience when job hunting. He again stressed professionalism when making decisions and commitments. But he remarked that they should "start the ball rolling as soon as possible." By utilizing options, patience, professionalism, mobility and flexibility, the graduate with a major in psychology need not have to worry about finding a job.

SG Defeats Proposal For Cigarette Vendors

by Randy Steele

Student Government defeated a proposal that would secure the installation of cigarette machines on campus Monday night.

The proposal emphasized the financial benefits of such an action. It was also noted that installing machines on campus would inhibit students from purchasing cigarettes at night, possibly resulting in a hazardous situation.

The profits would be placed in a scholarship fund for needy students. The College would donate their five-cent-per-pack clearance and Roth Vending Company would add another four cents per pack to the fund.

The results from last December's student opinion poll were further voiced in support of such action. The poll reported an overwhelming desire in favor of installation.

Crusading leader of the anti-cigarette smoking forces, Vice President Bob Linaberry stated that the safety aspect of the proposal was nonsense and went further to announce, "I wouldn't want to go to school with money from smoking cigarettes." Other members simply wished to have the idea reworded. Another version is expected to be read in the near future.

Lettermen Win Concession Stand

After a long, strenuous series of debates, the Lettermen's Club was given permission to take over the concession stand in the gym. Lee Auerbach and Peter Jadelis argued that the Lettermen would be infringing upon the dorms' fund raising.

Vice President Linaberry noted that there were other ways for the dorms to raise capital. Ease of operation and increased profits, resulting from a single organization's management, was also sighted in support of the concept.

'Sha Na Na' Concert

It was generally conceded that the "Sha Na Na — David Frye" concert went off extremely well. SG President Mike Barski declared, "Concerts can be run in the gym if properly supervised." Kathy Moran summed up the sentiments by stating, "It was well run, thoroughly enjoyable, peaceful."

About $2,000 was taken in from receipts which, coincidentally, was the price for David Frye.

President Barski's phone has been installed. His number is 822-3356.

In what has become a weekly affair, Inter-Dormitory Council President Jim Fiorino re-launched attacks against the quality of Beacon reporting. He announced that many IDC members were unhappy with their meeting's account and President Fiorino added that he had been misquoted in the recent story on the campus ministry.

IDC is also seeking to extend library hours 12 hours. Trick-or-Treats is being allowed on campus for a short time Saturday night and there will be a matinee on Sunday.

Lee Auerbach questioned some legal aspects of the new Commuter Council constitution.

Clubs can now get up to $100 from the Concert and Lecture Committee to bring in guest speakers. "We want clubs on campus to get active," cited Auerbach.

Senior Class President Joel Fischman reported that all broken favors that were to be presented at the door during the Homecoming Dinner Dance are being replaced for free and students may pick them up by presenting their tickets.

Senior Portraits

Senior portraits will be taken during the following dates and times ONLY:

October 30, Monday, 12 noon - 5:30 p.m.; October 31, Tuesday, 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.; November 1, Wednesday, 9 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.; November 2, Thursday, 9 a.m. - 9 p.m.; November 3, Friday, 9 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

The photographer (Jim Kozemchak of Paramount Studio) is located at the Ace Hoffman Studio, 36 W. Market Street, Wilkes-Barre. Phone 823-6177 to make an appointment for your sitting. Fee is $2.50 plus tax.

Any senior who fails to have his portrait taken during the scheduled time interval will not appear in the '73 Annicola. The Annicola cannot accept portraits taken by another studio.

CLUB NOTES

The Manuscript Society will sponsor a poetry reading on Thursday night, 7 p.m., at CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH. Anyone interested in reading or listening, please come prepared.

IDC Halloween Party

by Kathy Mansberry

The Interdormitory Council of Wilkes College will sponsor a Halloween Party to be held this evening at 8 in the college gymnasium. The festivities will include apple dunking, as well as contests in costumes and pumpkin carving. Everyone in attendance is requested to join in the spirit of the event and wear costumes.

IDC will also sponsor a Halloween party for the children in trailer camps on Sunday between noon and 2 p.m.

All persons willing to lend a hand in this program are requested to contact Marla Stopkoski in 36 West River.

Topics of discussion at the IDC meeting held a week and a half ago included campus security. IDC has formed a committee to look into that problem throughout the campus. An ad hoc committee has been formed in conjunction with IDC, Student Government, and the Commuter Council to act as a liaison between students and the Board of Trustees. All reports to the committee have looked optimistic.

A report submitted to the council by Mark Bucksbaum of the CC concerning an extension in library hours was voted down. The proposal asked for 24-hour-a-day access to the library and its facilities.

A map to facilitate student efforts for transportation throughout the eastern seaboard will soon be posted in the lobby of the New Men's Dormitory. In a final note, the Clean Environment Committee will put receptacles in back of the New Men's Dorm for all recycleable bottles and cans.

Homecoming Draws Hundreds

Behind every successful presentation there is a handful of dedicated workers who must plan and then carry out the arrangements so that others might enjoy the fruits of their labor.

It was a unique occasion on the lawn of Weckesser Hall last week as the presidents of the classes of 1947 and 1973 met for the first time and bridged a 25-year span of Alumni Association homecomings.

Kaska Initiates Writing Workshop

by Mark Carmon

A new course, English 100 (Writing Workshop), has been initiated for the fall semester by department chairman Dr. Thomas Kaska. The course offers remedial work to all students lacking in writing fundamentals. It is required for all English majors who scored below 400 in the verbal section of the Scholastic Aptitude Test and/or whose freshman writing sample shows weakness.

Among other revisions in the curriculum, there is a new policy concerning the fulfillment of the English requirement. Any student may be exempted from English 101, 102 or both if he or she shows exceptional ability as shown by SAT verbal scores or a superior freshman writing sample.

The student who does take English 101 and 102 is lucky this term. The department has made several, but still tentative, changes in these courses.

Each student may select any one of several different themes. The semester is then devoted to reading, discussing and writing on these themes. The theme in English 101 this semester is "The American Experience." This will include such works as "Walden," "Huck Finn," "The Great Gatsby" and "The Invisible Man." The 102 course deals with "literature and Science." Guest appearances by members of the science faculty will enhance discussions of the relationships between scientific and literary thought.

Another 102 theme is "Education and the Young Man." This will include works by Dickens, Golding, Salinger, Hemingway and others. Other tentative 102 themes include "The Utopian Ideal," "Literature and Business," "Images of Man," "poetry," "The Individual and Society."

Although almost the entire English collection in the library was lost during the flood, Kaska stated that over 300 appeals for donations of books and money have been sent to other colleges and Wilkes alumni who majored in English. He estimated that it would take five years to recover all books and articles, abstracts and journals lost as a result of the flooding.

Kaska explained that he has many other ideas including a complete revision of the curriculum, comprehensive senior examinations and improvement and extension of the drama and creative writing curriculums.

Student Government President Mike Barski's phone number is 822-3356.

Manuscript Society Requests Material

The Manuscript Society invites all interested students to submit poetry, prose and artwork for possible publication in the Manuscript, locked box in the lobby of Bedford Hall.

The Manuscript is comprised of 20 members with Brent Spencer, e

Michael Scholnick, assistant editor; Ella McNamara, art editor. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Heaman are the faculty advisors.

The members vote on all material submitted to decide what is to be published. The name of the author or artist is kept secret until that decision is made. The results are then posted in Bedford and may be contested until the magazine goes to press in early April.

The Society will present a series of poetry readings during their meetings held every Thursday at 11 a.m. in the Bedford Seminar Room. A black poetess, Gwendolyn Brooks, is tentatively scheduled to appear at the Center for the Performing Arts in early February.

The Manuscript Society is planning to present a series of film masterpieces in the CPA throughout the school year. All films and will be shown free of charge at p.m. As of today the schedule includes:

October 31 — Vampyr with Theodore Dreyer, also Archangel; November 3 — Metropolis with Lang, also Labyrinth; December — Member of the Wedding with Zinneman, also I Have Another February 9 — Cabinet of Dr. Caligari with Robert Wienn, also And God.

March 13 — The Trial with Welles, also A Lecture on March 20 — Requiem for a Heavyweight with Ralph N. also World of Rubens; April Blood of the Poet with Jean Cocteau also G. B. Shaw; More About May 11 — Wild Strawberries Ingmar Bergman, also The Cellar the Sistine Chapel.

Winter-Summer Jobs Available In Europe

Thousands of paying student jobs are again available in Europe for this winter and next summer. Winter jobs are available now in Swiss, German, Austrian, and French ski resorts, restaurants and hotels. Jobs for next summer are available throughout Europe in resorts, restaurants, hotels, hospitals, factories, offices, shops and on farms for those who like outdoor work. Most of the jobs are located in Switzerland, France, Germany and Spain, but selected positions are available in other countries. Standard wages are always paid, and free room and board are provided with most of the jobs.

This simply means that any college student willing to work can earn a trip to Europe. A few weeks work at a paying job in Europe more than pays for the new round-trip winter youth fare to Europe and a few more weeks on the job earns more than enough money for travelling around Europe. The Student Organization Services (SOS), a Luxembourg student organization, will offer a job, a work permit, visa, and other necessary working documents required for any college student applies early enough.

Any student may obtain application forms, job listings, descriptions, and the SOS Handbook on earning a trip to Europe by sending their name, address, educational institution, and either Placement Office, SOS Overseas Services, 22 Ave. Liberte, Luxembourg - Europe SOS, box 5173, Santan Bar, California 93108. Application for winter jobs in Europe should be submitted immediately, and all job applications should be sent early enough to allow the SOS Placement Office ample time to process arrangements and working papers.

FACULTY WOMEN'S BUFFET PLANNED FOR NOVEMBER 11

Mrs. James DeCosmo and her committee met recently to plan for a Wilkes Faculty Women's Buffet Social to be held the evening of November 11 in the Regency Ballroom of the American Legion, North River Street, Wilkes-Barre. Assisting Mrs. DeCosmo with the evenings arrangements is her committee which includes Mrs. Ruth McHenry, Mrs. Boyd Earl, Mrs. Chester Molley, Mrs. Henry Casilli, Mrs. B. Hopkins Moses, Dean Linda Hobrock, Mrs. John W. Furlow, Mrs. Roy N. Martin and Mrs. Teressa McDonald.

A Dutch Treat cocktail hour from 7 to 8 p.m. will be followed by a buffet supper, and dancing will be from 9:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. Charge if $5 per person and dress will be informal. All faculty and staff members are invited to attend. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Molley at 696-3274 or Mrs. Earl at 287-6135.

New Teaching Methods Heard By Wilkes Education Club

by Ray McNulty

Dr. John W. Holbert, superintendent of the Abington Heights School District, was the guest speaker of the Education Club in a meeting held at Chase Hall recently.

The topic of Dr. Holbert's speech was "The New Breed of Teachers."

For the uninformed, Dr. Holbert noted that the Abington Heights school district is located in Clark Summit. It has a student enrollment of 4200, employs 270 workers as well as 215 teachers. The pay scale for teachers ranges from $10,000 to $15,000.

The turnover rate among teachers with the Abington systems is approximately 30 per year. To fill these vacancies, about 300 applicants are interviewed. Turnover, according to Dr. Holbert, is a positive action since it allows for fresh ideas to be combined with traditional teaching concepts.

Three Types of Teachers Now in the Abington System

There are basically three divisions among teachers in the Abington system: (1) local people who were born and educated in Clark Summit and have never left the area, (2) those who were educated in the Abington school system but left the area to attend college and (3) people from outside Clark Summit who weren't aware of its existence until recently.

Dr. Holbert stated that the teachers in his district were excellent because they possessed the following characteristics necessary to be a "good" teacher: excellent knowledge of subject matter, a good background in educational courses in college, the ability to lead students into learning situations, a sense of humor and dedication.

Questions Asked in the Interview

A prospective teacher in the Abington Heights school district, as well as other school districts, must answer several questions during an interview conducted by Dr. Holbert, principal of the school and the department. The three questions as: "Why do you want to be a teacher?" "What modern trends in education do you know which will be beneficial to our school district?" and "What are your future plans?"

In addition to these questions the applicant is asked for his responses to hypothetical situations which might confront him if he were teaching.

Questions the Applicant Should Ask

The applicant is, by no means, to be docile, passive and indifferent while seeking the job. The teacher-applicant should be anxious to learn the answers to questions such as: "What is the ethnic background in this school district?" "What grading system is used?" "What are the conditions of the work contract?" "How are students grouped?" "What are the salary and fringe benefits of the job?" and "What kind of freedom will teachers have in a classroom?"

Following his speech Dr. Holbert adroitly answered questions asked by various members of the Education Club. He remarked that student aiding and student teaching would definitely be an asset to Wilkes students who have had experience in nongraded schools because Abington Heights has plans of becoming completely non-graded by 1975.

The question was raised "What things have been accomplished in the Abington school district on the secondary level?" Dr. Holbert smiled and answered, "Several innovations have been instituted in the Abington Heights school district, including elimination of final exams, elective programs in social studies, mini courses in industrial arts, independent study in sciences for exceptional pupils and a revolving schedule whereby a student would not have the same subject every day at the same time."

As the meeting ended several club members approached Dr. Holbert and expressed an interest in obtaining a teaching position in a wonderful school system such as Abington Heights.

Clean-Up Slated

The newly formulated Wilkes Community Effort Program, under the student direction of Steve Apaliski, has slated the clean up of Kirby Park in Kingston as its first major project on Saturday at 10 a.m.

There will be approximately 40 students, members of the Wilkes College Clean Environment Committee and Circle K, a service organization who will be involved in the clean-up project.

Advising the student body in the Community Effort Program are Charles Van de Water, assistant director of housing and Edward Baltruchitis, assistant dean of men.

The main purpose of the program is aid to people and institutions that were in any way affected by the June 23 flood.

Saturday morning's project is only one of the many projects planned to benefit the people of the Wyoming Valley Community.

Through the efforts of students, faculty and administrators, the college community is able to move outside the campus to help the Valley at a time when it needs it most.

The Wilkes Community Effort program will work under the Commission on Economic Opportunity of Luzerne County. The Wilkes project is in no way intended to overlap or duplicate any state, local or federal recovery efforts.

WCLH 90.7 FM Wilkes College Listening Habit

by Linda Stevens

Every week, WCLH offers a wide variety of musical programming. The station literally has "something for everyone."

A few of the programs are produced by Wilkes College students and faculty members. Several programs come to us from universities throughout the United States. Our foreign programs are sent to us directly from the various countries.

The music of several different countries can be heard on WCLH every week. Each program not only features the music of a particular country but also the leading performers of that country. From France we have "Hey What's New?" and "Let's Swap Pop," which feature France's leading popular performers. "Masterworks of French Music" presents the finest works of French composers performed by France's greatest artists.

WCLH's programming also includes Russian pop and Russian folk and classical music.

We also have a variety of programs from Holland. "Music on the Village Green," "Baroque of Holland" and "The Dutch Concert Hall" can give you a well-rounded view of Dutch music.

"Folk Music of Sweden," besides exposing the listener to Swedish folk music, also gives him a background of the geographical, historical and cultural setting of the music, as do many of the other foreign programs.

"Jazz Revisited" and "Sounds of the 30's and 40's" are among WCLH's Jazz programs. "Music from Rochester" offers some unusual musical programming for the listener. "University Musicale" features performances of classical works by the faculty members, artists-in-residence and students of the University of Texas Department of Music.

"Auditorium Organ" is a half hour program of outstanding organ music played on one of the greatest organs in the United States by John Obetz, a leading organist of our country. The program offers a great variety of organ music but emphasizes modern works.

On the Sunday Night Opera, you can hear such great operas as "Carmen," "La Boheme," "Madame Butterfly," "The Marriage of Figaro," "Falstaff," "The Barber of Seville" and many others. Furthermore, in the future, WCLH hopes to present some of the great rock operas of our time.

You can hear the finest in classical music, Monday through Friday, on "Musical Potpourri" which is produced by Wilkes student Bonnie Church, the station's musical director. Great variety is also to be found in this program. In the past "Musical Potpourri" has presented traditional and synthesized classical music, and in a special program, some of Mussorgsky's works were played in the traditional manner and then compared to the modern "Emerson, Lake and Palmer" version.

A new program this year, "Specials from the CPA," presents many of the musical offerings of the Wilkes College Concert and Lecture Series and productions of the College's Music and Theatre Departments.

Finally, WCLH offers live rock programming on Friday nights from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m. and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. until 1 a.m. Sunday. So, no matter what your taste in music is, whether classical, jazz, popular, folk or rock, WCLH has something for you.

For those of you who will be unable to attend Jack Anderson's lecture, WCLH will be featuring live coverage of his speech on Monday, October 20, at 8 p.m.

Wilkes Homecoming Wrecked Again By Ithaca

COLLEGIAN SKI OFFER

Are you still paying full price for skiing?

Now a nation-wide organization of skiing college students has reduced the price of this once expensive sport.

The Student Ski Association, in conjunction with over 150 ski areas, offers significantly reduced prices on lift tickets, ski lessons and ski equipment rentals. Similar in concept to the airlines' youth fare cards, the program is open to college, professional and graduate students.

The Student Ski Association was founded and is directed by Kim Chaffee, a Harvard and Berkeley graduate, whose brother and sister are former Olympic skiers. Last year, during its fourth season, over 35,000 college students joined the organization.

Membership entitles students to savings of up to 50 percent on lift tickets, lessons and rentals during the week. Saturday, Sunday and holidays the program brings at least a $1 savings on lift tickets. In addition to these savings, the members also receive a monthly underground ski magazine. The STUDENT SKIER, along with the annual POOR HOWARD'S College Guide to Skiing. Membership is $5. Airborne Frank Galicki bursts through the Ithaca defense and springs in to block a punt which resulted in the Colonels' initial score in Saturday's disappointing 28-21 loss.

Second-Half Bomber Blows Ithaca's Undoing

by Ray McNulty

A homecoming crowd of approximately 5000 watched the Ithaca Bombers explode in the second half to record a 28-21 win over Wilkes.

The victory was Ithaca's straight over the Wilkes Colonels. They also gained the lead in the series 8 wins to 7 for the Colonels.

Some bright spots in the effort were the yeoman effort of Andy Check, Bill Horan and Galicki. Check battered his 150 yards on 30 attempts while Galicki came up with his fifth recovery and blocked a punt which resulted in a Colonels score.

Wilkes won the coin toss and elected to receive. Marianac the ball and raced it 17 yards to the Wilkes 22-yard line.

The Colonels offense in the drive was the running of Andy spiced with an occasional pass to Collins or Horan.

With the ball at the Ithaca line Giberson threw a pass to Lohman who raced it to the 10-yard line. A second down pass was deflected and intercepted.

Ithaca quarterback Ed He then ran the ball three plays as he was stopped by Galicki and Rich Lack. On an attempted Galicki burst through the Ithaca defense and blocked the kick as Van Gorkum punted the ball.

Still stunned the up-state team was scored upon on the play as Andy Check ran in from 10 yards away behind some blocks by Panetta, Lorenzo first Metzger. The PAT by Ives clicked and it was Wilkes 7-0.

On the kickoff Blaum muffed the touchdown saving tackle since was the last man between the receiver and the Wilkes goal. Five plays later Galicki separated the Ithaca players from the pigskin and reads. himself. Wilkes had possession for Ithaca 43-yard line.

When the Ithaca defense was ed Blaum came in to punt. plays later the quarter ended with Wilkes on top by seven points.

The second period began with Wilkes on offense. The Colonels forced to punt exchanges. Fre Colonels had the ball at the 39-yard line. A big gain resulted in a pass completion to Check for a face masking penalty. With 10:15 in the quarter Wilkes got a first down as the Ithaca defense interfered with Sillup as he kicked a Giberson pass.

TURNING POINT IN THE GAME

Wilkes had the ball at the 11-yard line with a first down by Check and Lohman brought a crucial fourth down and inches. A power burst over tackle by failed just as it appeared Wilkes waltzing to a commanding touchdown lead.

Three plays later Rich raced 95 yards on a sweep for a score. The PAT was good and game was suddenly deadlocked to run by Bryant had changed the complexion of the fray drastically. The teams then settled down to a defensive donny-brook as the game ended in a 7-7 tie.

Ithaca took the second half and began to move the ball from wishbone formations. The Colonels finally forced them into a However, the Blue and Gold defenders were only given a breather as the Wilkes offense not make a first down.

Colonel Cross-Country Squad Experiencing 'Tough Going'

Plagued with facing teams sporting winning records, the Wilkes College Cross-Country team lost five meets during the past two weeks, as they entered the home stretch of their season.

The squad has one and a half weeks remaining before the Middle Atlantic Conference Tournament in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia.

The first losses incurred came at the hands of Delaware Valley (8-0 and a likely candidate for the MAC championship) and Lebanon Valley (4-3). The two losses were offset in some part by the fastest times run over Wilkes' 4.7-mile course.

Jere Woods ran a school record of 26:24 and Gary Horning knocked three minutes off his previous best of 30:16, with a 27:19 clocking.

Overall the first five men on the Colonels' squad broke the 30-minute barrier but to no avail.

Loss to Harpur

The third loss came at the hands of Harpur College, which was 8-1 against the tough competition of SUNY Colleges and universities. Harpur smashed the course record with an almost unbelievable 24:30 effort. Jere Woods was again top finisher for Wilkes with a 25:55 and truly established himself as one of the top distance men in the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Gary Horning was second in the 27:26, followed by Duane Sadvary, Steve Spock and Rich Curry.

The meet marked the first time this year that the Colonel Harriers performed in a snowstorm and bitter cold weather.

The final losses were versus Haverford and Albright Colleges on Albright's 4.8-mile hilly course in Reading last Saturday. The race was won by Haverford with Wilkes best finisher Jere Woods again. Woods

Pigskin Predictions

by Ray McNulty

WILKES VS INDIANA (PA.)

This week the Colonels find themselves in a road encounter against a team they have never defeated — Indiana (Pa.). The Indians have beaten Wilkes by 13-0 and 13-7 scores in 1969 and 1971 respectively. Last year's loss marred the Wilkes Lambert aspirations, Homecoming festivities and a possible bid to the Knute Rockne Bowl. The powerful Colonel defense will face one of its severest tests of the season since Indiana has not been held scoreless in 98 straight games dating back to 1961. The Blue and Gold would love to pull off the upset but they seem to lack the overall depth of the Indians. The final score will be — (would ya believe) Indiana 13-Wilkes 10.

DELAWARE VALLEY VS UPSALA

Both teams will enter this contest with identical records of 3 wins and 2 losses. Each team has played Moravian; Delaware Valley defeated the Greyhounds 26-22 while Upsala won 18-7. Last year, the Upsala Vikings garnered a 22-13 win over the Aggies. Upsala will probably be slight favorites in the game but the pick from this corner is the home town Aggies. Final score will be Delaware Valley 27-Upsala 21.

LEBANON VALLEY VS FRANKLIN & MARSHALL

In this contest we have two teams who have played two common opponents — Dickinson and Swarthmore. Lebanon Valley lost to Dickinson 12-14 and defeated Swarthmore 28-6. On the other hand, Franklin & Marshall has defeated Dickinson 27-7 and beat Swarthmore 35-0. Lebanon Valley won this fray last year by a narrow 22-20 margin. Look for the Diplomats under coach Robert Curtis to upset the home town Lebanon Valley squad. Final score will read Franklin & Marshall 27-Lebanon Valley 20.

Booters Bow To Kutztown; Whip Wagner

GRYSKO AND GARABEDIAN IGNITE 'O'

The Wilkes College soccer team brought its record to 3-5-1 last week, bowing to Kutztown 2-1 at home and facing Wagner 3-0 on the road.

Kutztown, though having played some very fine teams, was 0-8 on the season before they entered the Ralst- were goalie chip Eaton, Drew unusually sluggish throughout the contest and stinging cold weather and snow flurries hampered both teams.

On Saturday the Colonels of yesteryear, the Alumni, returned to give the Rokita group conniptions before they succumbed 2-0 in double overtime. Gryski and Garabedian scored the Wilkes goals.

Looking sharp for the Alumni, were goalie Chip Eaton, Drew Gubanic, and Jim Ferris.

At Long Island, New York goalie Marty Pobutkiewicz registered his first shut-out of the season against Wagner.

UPCOMING WRECKED

Starting from midfield Ithaca's offense began to assert themselves. A pass to halfback Nunn netted 30 yards. Greves then rolled out for a big first down. Three plays later Greves scored. The PAT was good and Ithaca led 14-7.

Following the kickoff Wilkes ran twice and then had a Giberson pass intercepted at their own 21-yard line. On a busted play Greves eluded tacklers and picked up 12 valuable yards. Soph Dave Remick then ran over for the tally. The PAT was successful as Ithaca now led 21-7. Marianacci returned the kickoff 22 yards. The Colonels began moving the ball behind the rushes of Check and Lohman.

Blaum then punted and the ball was fumbled and alertly recovered by Fred Lohman. Check took a handoff and raced 10 yards to the Ithaca 15-yard line. With :49 left in the third quarter Giberson threw a pass to Horan for a touchdown. After the PAT Wilkes trailed 14-21.

Abraham made the tackle on the kickoff as the bomb squad showed great pursuit. Two plays later the third period ended.

Greves started the final quarter by running for a first down on a crucial third down play. Ithaca then went in to up the score by Remick to lead 28-14. The Colonels still had the time to check back in the game as 10:20 remained. Horan made an unbelievable pass catch as he outfought three defenders. The reception was good for 42 yards as Giberson passed on a third down and 24 situation.

A pass completion to Horan and then to Howe brought the Schmidt- men to the Ithaca 30-yard line. Andy Check picked up another first down on a draw play. A pass interference call gave Wilkes a first down at the yard line. Lohman hurdled his body over a stack of defenders for the score. Blaum's PAT made it Wilkes one Ithaca 28.

Blaum kicked off with 5:36 remaining in the game. Ithaca methodically employed its ground back to kill the clock. The Colonels valiantly to come back in the last two minutes but they couldn't come up with the big play needed for the score.

Frank Galicki maps out pre-game strategy with Coach Rollie Schmidt, after Frank was named to the ECAC Division III All-Star team for his outstanding performance of 12 tackles and six assists versus Upsala.

WILKES WRESTLING SCHEDULE TO INCLUDE 'THE BIGGIES'

Wilkes College wrestling fans will be treated to the most lucrative wrestling schedule in school history this winter. The 18-meet schedule released by the Colonel Athletic Department lists major college powers Hofstra, Arizona, Army, Buffalo, Massachusetts and Navy.

Also on deck are bouts with college division strongholds Old Dominion, Lycoming, Oswego State, East Stroudsburg State, and emerging Montclair State, under the tutelage of a new mentor, Larry Sciacchetano, former NCAA "Coach of the year" at New York Maritime. Other fledging and upstart teams in the Wilkes lineup include Oneonta State, Western Maryland, Binghamton State, Delaware Valley, Madison FDU, Elizabethtown and York.

The Colonels posted a 10-3 mark last winter and delighted their following with a fifth place team finish at the NCAA Tournament.

Wilkes taskmaster, John Reese, has eight of ten starters from last year's team, including Bob Roberts and Mike Lee, both third place finishers at the NCAA confab.

Only marks on the 1971-72 dual card were dealt by Buffalo, 27-6; Oregon State, 29-14; and Army, 17-16.

The complete Colonel grappling schedule: Dec. 2, Oneonta St., Montclair St., and Buffalo quadrangular at Oneonta; Dec. 9, Western Maryland, away; Dec. 13, Binghamton St., home; Dec. 16, Delaware Valley, away; Jan. 6, Elizabethtown, home; Jan. 17, Navy, away; Jan. 18, Old Dominion, away; Jan. 26, Arizona, home; Jan. 27, Madison FDU, away; Jan. 31, York, home; Feb. 3, Lycoming, away; Feb. 6, Oswego St., away; Feb. 10, Hofstra, home; Feb. 17, East Stroudsburg, home; Feb. 17, Army and Massachusetts triangular at Wilkes; Feb. 23-24, MAC Tournament at Widener; March 2-3, NCAA Tournament at S. Dakota St.

Colonelettes Victorious

Ever since a South African War cry became the women hockey team's cheer before a game, the Colonelettes haven't lost a game. The trend started last week with Wilkes defeating Bloomsburg and continued through this past week as Wilkes defeated College Misericordia, Lycoming and Keystone Junior College.

The week opened with Wilkes playing a match away at College Misericordia. Misericordia was up for this game, hoping that this would be their year to beat Wilkes. Unfortunately for Misericordia the win wasn't forthcoming as Wilkes defeated them by a score of 3-1.

Coach Gay Meyers felt that you "could see the offensive line beginning to click." She was also pleased with the cross-goal passes especially those by inner Kathy Haughey and wing Donna Donces.

Three Wilkes Goals

All three Wilkes goals were scored by center forward Rae Greene on two assists from Donna Donces and one from Stephanie Pufko.

With the forward line still hot from their game against Misericordia, Wilkes went out on Tuesday to meet Lycoming College and win by a score of 8-2.

The game opened with Lycoming taking control of the ball off the game's first bully and rushing down field to score. Wilkes came right back and did the same exact thing on the second bully. From that point on the Wilkes line continued to rush the cage and score seven more times.

Mrs. Meyers felt that the line displayed it's best passing so far this season along with some super rushing of the Lycoming goal. Credit was given to Halfbacks Lindsay Farley, Stephanie Pufko and Sue Ditson who did a commendable job keeping the ball up to the offensive. On the whole the defense played well against the Lycoming line having well-timed interceptions.

Inner Kathy Haughey and center forward Rae Greene each scored three of the Wilkes goal with wing Donna Donces scoring the final two goals of the game. Assist on the goals came from Donna Donces with three, Kathy Haughey with two and Rae Greene and Stephanie Pufko each being credited with one.

After scoring eight times against Lycoming, bringing this two total to 11 goals, the Colonelettes were ready and waiting for Keystone Junior College.

If anything was unique about the Wilkes-Keystone match it was that for the first time it snowed during a game played on the Wilkes Pitch. Although the weather was extremely cold, the forward line proved to be as hot against Keystone as it was against Misericordia and Lycoming. Wilkes downed Keystone by a score of 5-2.

The scoring for Wilkes was extremely spread out with Rae Greene, Kathy Haughey, Donna Donces, Brenda Reppart and Stephanie Pufko. The goal scored by center halfback Stephanie Pufko was her first as a Wilkes Colonelette. Receiving credit for assists were Rae Greene and Kathy Haughey with one each and Donna Donces with two.
