DON MURRAY NEW PRESIDENT OF MODEL GENERAL ASSEMBLY

by Richard J. Myers

Donald Murray, junior political science major, was elected president at the final plenary session of last week's Model General Assembly. Elected to serve with Murray as vice-president was West Point Cadet Edwin Deagle. Murray succeeds Lance Lazzo, of C. W. Post College, as president.

Murray was chairman of the United State delegation in the 32nd annual meeting of the C.C.U.N.'s Middle Atlantic area colleges and universities. He serves as parliamentarian of the Wilkes chapter of C.C.U.N. and is representative to the American Association for the United Nations.

He has also been a member of the Hampton Institute Exchange program, the Wilkes debate team, member of the Thoreau Society, and is representative on the IDC.

Cadet Deagle is a candidate for Rhodes Scholar, 1960, and has been on the Dean's list at West Point in each semester. He is an active participant in sports, an officer on his class committee, ranks in the upper 5% of his class, and serves on the Public Relations Council.

In addition, he is a member of the debating council and forum, and was Recorder for the tenth annual student conference for United States Affairs.

Next Year's Site

The recent Assembly closed Sunday afternoon with tentative plans to hold next year's M.G.A. at Albany State Teachers College of the State University of New York.

Also tentative are plans to include the New England States Model General Assembly, making Albany a more central location for all schools involved.

Johnson Main Speaker

The Assembly heard Willard Johnson, president of the Committee for International Economic Growth, and former United Nations representative, speak on "The Widening Gap."

Mr. Johnson cited the recognition by underdeveloped nations that their standards of living are poor as one of the factors in creating the widening gap between people of the world.

He also mentioned strides in medical developments as stamping out, or promising to eliminate, many formerly fatal diseases, but this fact itself creates a dilemma. "We are keeping people alive only to have them face starvation," because population growth outstrips food production.

He stated that principles of sharing responsibility among "the whole human family" are emerging in the world, which will eventually show the world the means of creating a bridge over the widening gap and the eventual elimination of that gap.

The Assembly then took up the problems before it. The main topic of discussion was "the Rights of Peoples and Nations to Self-Determination."

Committees discussed such problems as: the question of the Middle East; the role of the Special Fund for the Economic Development of Under-developed countries; the question of race conflict in the Union of South Africa and the policies of Apartheid in that nation; and questions relating to the control and limitation of armaments and the discontinuation of atomic and hydrogen weapons testing.

Delegates voted in committee and caucus sessions, gaining support from other nations for their proposals, then presented the proposals through the secretariat to the whole Assembly. The Assembly then discussed the proposals on the floor of the gym before the final voting for acceptance or rejection of the proposal.

Although the general public saw only a small portion of the activity at the plenary sessions, the delegates spent time into the wee hours of the morning in caucuses and committee meetings away from the entire Assembly and it was the final results of these gatherings, after much ironing-out and rewording which finally reached the General Assembly for consideration.

Lettermen, TDR Fashion Program At Gym on May 6

by Lee Baiera

The Lettermen will venture into the modeling world when they join the Theta Delta Rho Sorority in presenting a fashion show entitled "Fashion Out of This World." Rockets, planets, space ships, and stars will set the mood for the show which will be held in the gymnasium Wednesday, May 6.

According to the co-chairmen, Ira Himmel, Carmella Insalaco, and Lynne Boyle, the show will begin with a Martian radio announcer advertising his product Sram which is Mars spelled backwards. Barry Yocum and Carl Havira will participate in this skit.

The Lettermen and T.D.R. sorority members will emerge from a space ship modeling travel, sporty, casual, dressy, and formal clothes from Louis Rosenthal's and Isaac Long's. Mrs. Louis Vincenti, well-known in fashion show and radio circles, will narrate.

Door prizes will include fruit basket from Insalaco's Market, a hair set from John Your Hairdresser, a can of paint from Raker's Paint Factory, candy from The Spa, and a cigarette lighter from Coon's Gift Shop.

Free refreshments including punch and cookies will be served. Tickets may be obtained from members of either Theta Delta Rho or the Lettermen's Club at sixty cents apiece. All proceeds from the show will be divided equally between the T.D.R. and Lettermen Scholarship Funds.

Committees for the show are as follows: Theme, Pat Hemenway; staging, Bob Chew; tickets, Carol Emanski and Barry Yocum; wardrobe, Marcia Senderovitch; refreshments, Leona A. Baiera and Connie Stukowski; program, Joanne Yurchak; and publicity, Pat Fushek and Carl Havira.

'ENGINEERS' SPONSOR SQUARE DANCE AT 9

by Connie Stukowski

This evening the engineers will prove they can do more than build bridges when they sponsor the T-Square Trot at the gym from 9 to 12 o'clock.

For the mere donation of fifty cents all lovers of square dancing will have an opportunity to swing and sway to the calls of Abe Belles. The Wanderers will also be on hand to provide modern dance music.

The decorations committee under the direction of Tom Cowell is preparing decorations coinciding with the square dance theme. Tables covered with checkered cloths will be placed throughout the gym. There will also be a bandstand in the form of a hay wagon. Arrangements have been made to provide refreshments for hungry dancers. Cynthia Dysleski, chairman of refreshments committee, promises coke and pretzels for all.

The committee reminds everyone that tonight's dance is a strictly informal affair. The mode of dress for the dance is full skirts and peasant blouses for the girls and check or plaid shirts and blue jeans for the boys.

Chairmen for the T-Square Trot are Herb Kline and Charles Sorber. Other committee members, in addition to those previously named are: Paul Gibbons, publicity; Jane Neddoff, publicity; Tom Boote, tickets.

ALL SENIORS NOTICE!

All senior class members who expect to graduate in June must report to Mr. Whitby, in the registrar's office, sometime between Monday, April 20, and Tuesday, April 28, to check out.

Mr. Whitby will explain requirements for graduation, orders for diplomas and caps and gowns will be taken, and a review and final check of academic requirements will be made.

Seniors are urged to attend to this matter at once. A delay may cause unnecessary embarrassment in June.

Conference to Hear 'Operation Moonwatch' Head, Dr. F. Whipple

by Florence Gallagher

On next Thursday, fifty-four Wilkes students will depart for the Thirtieth Annual Eastern Colleges Science Conference to be held at Suffolk University, Boston, Massachusetts.

Registration will take place Thursday, April 30; the first meeting will be the next morning. The speakers for the affair include:

The Honorable Leverett Saltonstall, United States Senator from Massachusetts;

The Most Honorable Reverend Michael P. Walsh, S.J., President of Boston College;

Dr. Leonard C. Mead, Dean of Tufts University Graduate School of Arts and Sciences;

Dr. Samuel C. Collins, Professor in charge of the cryogenic laboratory, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The main speaker on Friday evening at the banquet will be Dr. Fred L. Whipple, the director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory; professor of Astronomy, Harvard University; the director of "Operation Moonwatch," the tracking of artificial satellites.

On Saturday morning, the students will present their research papers. The following Wilkes students will present papers:

Marion Christopher, "Factors Affecting Seed Germination."

Martin Tansy, "Effects of Mustagen on the Protein Constituents of Euglena."

Alfred D'Anca and James Thomas, "Isolation of Protoplasts of Bacillus Megatherium and the Effects of the Gram Stain upon them."

James Moser, "Atomic Fusion."

On Saturday afternoon, there will be a business meeting at the Statler Hotel at which time all official delegates will be present. The official delegates from Wilkes College are Jerome Gutterman, James Moser, Carol Loweavage, and Alfred D'Anca.

A closing dance will be held Saturday evening.

The BEACON joins the faculty and student body in expressing sincerest sympathy to Mildred Patronik and her family on the tragic death last weekend of her brother, Leonard.

Redevelopment Petition Circulating

Students of this college are taking an active part in the eventual redevelopment of the Wyoming Valley area through the means of a petition to President Eisenhower to use his influence to help passage of Senate Bill 722, the Area Redevelopment Bill.

The petition cites a continued reduction of employment in the anthracite industry as a disruptive influence in the lives of area families, with women going to work while men are forced to remain idle because of the lack of jobs open to them.

It is fitting and proper that students, many of whom are planning or hoping to remain in this Valley as permanent residents, should see fit to circulate such a petition. It is even more fitting that it receive the whole-hearted support of the remainder of the students, who are receiving an education through the foresightedness of those Valley citizens responsible for the existence of Wilkes College, an entirely public-dependent institution.

We urge that you not wait for the petition to reach you, rather, search out Gordon Roberts or any of the members of the Student Government and ask to be a part of this undertaking.

Three One-Act Plays Well Received; C'n'C Versatility Displayed

Cue 'n' Curtain's presentation of three one-act plays last week again proved the versatility and imagination of the group. Not enough praise can be given to the cast, crew and directors of the productions.

"Something Unspoken," directed by Mr. Al Groh, was the more serious play of the three. Starring Misses Mary Frances Swigert and Ginny Lyons, the play contained a message that unfortunately was missed by a large part of the audience who were looking for the lighter side. The slightly unresponsive mood of the audience did not in any way distract the two actresses.

Miss Lyons did a splendid job in the role of Grace, despite the fact that she stepped into the part only a week before the curtain went up.

Miss Swigert's aristocratic stature and slightly shaking southern accented voice established her as a versatile and dependable actress.

Miss Jocelyn King brought down the house with a tremendous display of acting talent in "A Phoenix Too Frequent." Her perfect facial expressions added just the right touch to what could have been a slightly morbid play.

Fred Malkemes added to his laurels with a thoroughly convincing portrayal of Tegeus in "Phoenix." Malkemes has the ability to relax in any part or costume and was at his best last week.

Miss Sally Price, as Doto in "Phoenix," was the surprise of the Cue 'n' Curtain season. Miss Price, although a little too aware of the audience, carried the part well.

"Fumed Oak," starring Miss Audrey Bartlett and Robert Stevens, started with all the effects of an out of control whirlwind but unfortunately began to drag toward the end. The first scene was so typical it was hysterical; however, the second scene lagged woefully behind the terrific punch of the first and gasped to a rather uninteresting finish.

Miss Bartlett snapped and yapped through her part with the polish of a professional while Stevens, attired in baggy suit, was perfectly cast for the part of Henry Gow. Stevens was delightfully smug, pompous, arrogant and diffident throughout the play.

Miss Judi Coplan sniffed and slumped to perfection while Mrs. Chester Colson, although slightly forced at times, added the needed feeling of maturity to the part of the typical mother-in-law.

The plays were perhaps a trifle too long for one program, but they none-the-less were enthusiastically accepted by the capacity audiences that viewed them.

U. of Pennsylvania Reveals Fall Opening Of New Grad School

A new graduate school the Annenberg School of Communications, was announced recently by the University of Pennsylvania.

Opening in September, 1959, the new school will attempt to prepare selected men and women for careers in journalism, telecasting, broadcasting, publishing and the fine arts.

Holders of Bachelors degrees wishing to work for a Master of Arts degree may apply for Fellowships with stipends of $1500 to $2500 for a year's study by writing to:

Patrick D. Hazard
Annenberg School of Communications
University of Pennsylvania
201 South 34th Street
Philadelphia 4, Pa.

Request for application forms for admission and/or Annenberg Fund Fellowships should be accompanied by a letter of approximately 1,000 words stating the nature of, and reasons underlying, the student's interest in mass communications; a transcript of the student's academic record to date; and a brief statement from a teacher or other academic advisor evaluating the student's ability to think and work independently. The materials should be mailed not later than May 1, 1959.

JAYCEES PLAN POLL ON CONSOLIDATION

by Marilyn Krackenfels

Now that the Wilkes College Chapter of the Greater Wilkes-Barre Chamber of Commerce has completed its annual membership drive, they have plans underway for various other activities.

Their current project, being supervised by Mike Evanko, is a poll of Wilkes students to determine their views on consolidation.

The award dinner, slated for May 10, is in charge of John Mulhall. Awards will be presented to the outstanding Jaycee, to the club member who was the greatest assistance to the permanent chairman, and to the outstanding committee chairman, that is, the chairman who conducted the most successful affair.

Election of next year's officers will take place in the near future.

THE MAILBAG

Dear Senior:

As president of your class, I should like to take this opportunity to present you with the results of the election of the class gift and also point out the possibilities which have been emitted by the election.

The three-sided, lighted bulletin board was elected and will be installed by the end of May, taking the place of the present bulletin board and extending seven feet down both sidewalks. The cost has been greatly reduced, due to the fact that the college's maintenance department will do the installing.

This leaves a balance in the Memorial Fund that would allow for the purchase of the 36 six-foot pennants of our Middle Atlantic Conference opponents to be installed in the gymnasium.

The other possibility would be to present the college with a cash gift to be used at the discretion of our class trustees, who will be elected during Commencement Week.

This decision, along with determining whether to have a treasury-sponsored outing or dinner-dance during Commencement Week, will be decided at our next meeting this Tuesday, April 28, at 11 a.m. in Pickering 203.

Sincerely yours,
RODGER LEWIS,
President, Senior Class

The members of the Wilkes College Chapter of the CCUN are proud to report that the 1959 session of the MGA was a tremendous success in spite of the pessimistic attitude expressed by the editor of the Beacon two weeks ago.

Among the highlights of the weekend's activities was the election of next year's officers. Our own Don Murray was elected President of the 1960 MGA, and as such will also sit on the Continuation Committee.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to each individual who made this year's MGA the success that it was. A special thank you is in order for Mr. Francis Pinkowski who did more than any other individual toward making the MGA what it was.

CLASS MEETINGS ARE MANDATORY

by Michael Salinsky

At the class meetings on Tuesday, a variety of speeches was delivered by the prospective candidates for office. All different, the speeches ranged from mildly passive to extremely energetic in tone. They were also unusually brief this year.

One of the most important considerations brought before the students was that of a student-faculty honor court. The proposal is pending revision and final ratification by the Student Government.

Although no definite structure has as yet been adopted, the general outline of the honor court has begun to take form. Thus far, a provision for an actual student honor system has been deleted from the draft of the parent measure. It was stated that although the student honor system is not in prospect at the present time, there is a possibility that it will be taken under consideration in the future.

Next week's assembly will consist of regular class meetings, to be held in the places designated for last week's speech-making. The meetings, as last week's, are mandatory, and any absences will be counted as assembly cuts.

Recital Postponed

In two weeks, on May 5, assembly will be conducted in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, this city. Mr. Clifford Balshaw will give an organ recital for the benefit of the students.

Serving on the faculty of Wilkes as a part-time instructor, Mr. Balshaw is well known not only in Wyoming Valley, but in other regions of the U.S., for his organ virtuosity. A leading member of the Wyoming Valley Organist's Guild, Mr. Balshaw also directs the Oratorio Society of the Valley, and is an instructor of both piano and organ at Wilkes.

The Chairman of the 1959-60 assembly committee has been announced. He is Gilbert Gregory. Together with Mrs. Doane, assembly coordinator, he has been already working to organize an entertaining as well as informative assembly series for next year.

A request for an exchange of assembly programs has been sub-

DEBATE STARS FACE DILEMMA - GET TWELVE GRADUATE BIDS

by Steve Cooney

Which one to choose? That's the problem facing our top-notch debating team of Fred Roberts and Gwen Evans.

Two Choruses to Sing At Dunmore Tonight; More Programs Planned

Tonight the Collegians and the Girls' Chorus will present a sacred concert for the fund-raising drive of the Dunmore Methodist Church. The Church has recently purchased a new organ, imported from France, and is halfway through its drive to raise $105,000 for a building and redecorating project.

On Wednesday night, the combined group presented the same concert at Calvary Episcopal Church, City, in another fund-raising program.

They will repeat the program at the Dallas Methodist Church Tuesday night at 8:00, and once again will present the concert at Firwood Methodist Church, City, on Sunday evening, May 10, at 7:30.

Original Work

The Wednesday night concert at Calvary offered the first performance of an original work by Collegians' baritone soloist, Wayne Walters. A short number in Latin, Gloria in Excelsis, it was presented immediately after the organ recital by the director of the Collegians, Bill Peters. It was the first full recital performed on the newly purchased Calvary organ.

Also on the program was the number which won honors for the two choruses in the recent Eisteddfod competition, "The Heavens Are Telling," from Haydn's Creation.

In addition, the combined choral groups performed a canon processional by Thomas Tallis, and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah.

Wayne Walters sang a familiar spiritual, "Let Us Break Bread Together."

Accompanists for the entire program were: Janet Cornell, organ; Pat Yost and Walter Umla, piano; Carroll Davenport and Jack Evans, trumpets; and Harry Owens, tympani.

The choruses each performed separately, with works by Palestrina, Meuller, Gounod, and Gaul being performed by the Girls' Chorus. The Male Chorus sang sacred works by Bach, Shaw and Mozart, as well as Negro spirituals.

Jean Pyatt, director of the Girls' Chorus, and Wayne Walters sang three selections from Mendelssohn's Elijah.

They have been offered a total of twelve scholarships between them for graduate study at some of the nation's top colleges and universities. These grants range from assistantships, which include partial teaching or research work while attending classes, to fellowships, which are outright grants paying full costs and tuition.

Miss Evans has a choice between assistantships at Michigan State, Penn State, and Duke University; and fellowships at Ohio State, Bryn Mawr, and University of Chicago. She is also listed as an alternate for a foreign exchange assistantship in France.

This scholarship is applicable to any French conservatory and includes teaching English courses at a French lycee. Only forty of these awards are made each year in the United States, and this is the second time in recent years that a Wilkes student has achieved such recognition. Tom Kelly from the class of '56 is now in France working under such a scholarship.

Miss Evans, a four-year Dean's list student, was First Speaker last year at the State Debate Tournament, fourth this year at King's, and with Roberts won the first team award at the Bucknell tournament. She was recipient of the Linda Morris Award this past semester for obtaining the highest scholastic average for three consecutive years. Presently she is student teaching at Coughlin High School, and will obtain her B.A. in English at Wilkes this June.

Roberts will also be in this year's graduation class, receiving a B.A. in Political Science. He is also a Dean's list student and a four-year debate man.

Roberts was first speaker at the Bucknell tournament this year, and placed in the top ten at the Johns Hopkins tournament. Besides his position on the debating team, he is chairman of the new Court of Appeals here on campus, was a delegate to this year's Model General Assembly, and wrote "The Roving Chimera" which appeared weekly in the Beacon.

Roberts must choose between an assistantship at Pittsburgh, and fellowships at Princeton, Pittsburgh, Penn State, and Yale.

It's a difficult decision to make.

NEW BOOKS IN LIBRARY

THE SHORES OF AMERICA — by Sherman Paul, University of Illinois Press, Urbana, Ill., 1958.

Thoreau — the fascinating personality — is revealed in a new light after thorough research and study into his varied writings. This is an "inner biography" of a great man; it is a study of his mind and cultural determinations.

NATO AND THE FUTURE OF EUROPE — by Ben T. Moore, Harper & Brothers, New York, 1958.

NATO, the symbol of the determination of United States and Western Europe to defend their security against the Soviet threat, is the timely subject of this book. Answers to pertinent questions about the value of NATO and what its future will be are revealed. The future of Western Europe, namely, "Can it stand on its own two feet?" is also discussed. The book, timely as the daily headlines, is well-written and quite informative.

A Chinese visitor says: Funny people you Americans. You take a glass — you put in sugar to make it sweet and lemon to make it sour; you put in gin to warm you up and ice to keep you cool, and then you say, "Here's to you," and then you drink it yourself.

If you're out on a limb about choosing your cigarette, remember this: more people smoke Camels than any other brand today. The costly Camel blend has never been equalled for rich flavor and easygoing mildness. The best tobacco makes the best smoke.

Tennis Players Drop First Match; Second Game with Juniata Postponed

by Fred Jacoby

Hofstra handed Wilkes a resounding defeat last Friday, as their experienced tennis team smothered their comparatively young opponents. The match was not without its good moments however, as the Colonel team fought valiantly for each point.

Ira Himmel, playing in the number two position surprised Hofstra by beating his experienced opponent, 6-4, in the first set. The remainder of the team, Paul Bliefer, Jim Swaback, Durk Dunlap, Bill Woll, and Jack Thomas, played well and forced Hofstra to earn every point.

The meet scheduled with Juniata was postponed, but no date has been set for the makeup game.

Keglers Going to N.Y., Top Twelve Men Seek Honors in EIBC Event

Twelve of the top intramural keglers will leave Sunday morning at 10 for New York City and the Bowlmor Recreation Center to compete in the Ninth Annual Eastern Intercollegiate Match Game Championships. The Eastern Championships are sponsored by the 25-team Eastern Intercollegiate Bowling Conference.

Eight games will be rolled across sixteen alleys with two men to an alley. The top twenty men will qualify for the semi-final round scheduled for Saturday, May 2. The final round consisting of sixteen games will be rolled on Sunday, May 3, by the ten highest men. Last year's low qualifying average was 183 but the scores are expected to be higher this year because the alleys have been resurfaced and new automatic pin-setters have been installed on all alleys.

The twelve men include: Dan

PINBUSTERS TROUNCED, 3-1; STILL END SEASON IN FIRST

The Pinbusters, although soundly thumped by the Teetotalers, finished the season as champions of the 1959 intramural Co-ed bowling league. The Pinbusters clinched the pennant with an 888-815 win in the first game, while the Playboys were dropping an 804-764 first match to the Bio Club.

Lewis, Dick Myers, Pete Maholik, and Emil Petrasek making their second appearance in the tournament. Newcomers Bill Watkins, John Sapiego, John Kuhar, Tom Evans, Fred Jacoby, Jerry Chisarick, Dave Sokira, and Morgan Davis will be trying to become the first Wilkes man to survive the qualifying round.

All twelve men will be wearing bowling shirts with their names lettered on the back and Wilkes emblems sewed on the left sleeve. The shirts, lettering, and emblems were purchased by the bowlers.

The parents of Emil Petrasek have graciously extended their hospitality to the entire twelve-man squad for Sunday dinner. Last year's bowlers received a warm welcome at the Petrasek home and the returnees are looking forward to this wonderful treat.

Teetotalers 3, Pinbusters 1

Led by captain Dick Myers' 185-532, the Teetotalers bounced back from their first loss to hang a 3-1 pasting on the champs for the second time this season to become one of the only two teams to hold their own against the leaders.

Teetotalers: Myers 532, Ray Yanchus 182-463, Merle Cohen 156-422, Lois Tremayne 153-420, and Wayne Walters 173 and 142.

Pinbusters: John Sapiego 186-532, Bill Watkins 201-522, Fred Jacoby 183-480, Emil Petrasek 206 and 144, Don Wilkinson 163 and 157, and Dick Dyanick 160 and 108.

Bio Club 4, Playboys 0

John Maylock sparked the cellar-dwelling Bio Club to a 4-0 upset whitewash of the second-place Playboys with a 188-485. Fred Mountjoy was high for the losers with 169-484.

Bio Club: Maylock 485, Leigh Humphrey 161-467, Rose Weinstein 176-454, Fred Williams 166-439, and Marty Tansy 153-380.

Playboys: Mountjoy 484, Warren Denmon 178-475, Joe Shemanski 164-446, Ron McKinnon 157-421, and Ron Phillips 162-414.

Goldbricks 2, Tenpins 2

Dan Lewis made a determined try to upset Bill Watkins' seasonal high mark of 265, but had to settle for a very satisfactory night, 238, 214, 195-647. Lewis led his Goldbricks who took two points by winning the first match and total pins, 2146-2090.

Goldbricks: Lewis 647, Dave Sokira 193-546, Jerry Chisarick 185-509, and Gil Gregory 173-444.

Tenpins: John Kuhar 203-557, John Matthey 203-521, Tom Evans 186-485, and Don Matthey 133-365.

Tennis Players Drop First Match; Second Game with Juniata Postponed

by Fred Jacoby

Hofstra handed Wilkes a resounding defeat last Friday, as their experienced tennis team smothered their comparatively young opponents. The match was not without its good moments however, as the Colonel team fought valiantly for each point.

Ira Himmel, playing in the number two position surprised Hofstra by beating his experienced opponent, 6-4, in the first set. The remainder of the team, Paul Bliefer, Jim Swaback, Durk Dunlap, Bill Woll, and Jack Thomas, played well and forced Hofstra to earn every point.

The meet scheduled with Juniata was postponed, but no date has been set for the makeup game.

Keglers Going to N.Y., Top Twelve Men Seek Honors in EIBC Event

Twelve of the top intramural keglers will leave Sunday morning at 10 for New York City and the Bowlmor Recreation Center to compete in the Ninth Annual Eastern Intercollegiate Match Game Championships. The Eastern Championships are sponsored by the 25-team Eastern Intercollegiate Bowling Conference.

Eight games will be rolled across sixteen alleys with two men to an alley. The top twenty men will qualify for the semi-final round scheduled for Saturday, May 2. The final round consisting of sixteen games will be rolled on Sunday, May 3, by the ten highest men. Last year's low qualifying average was 183 but the scores are expected to be higher this year because the alleys have been resurfaced and new automatic pin-setters have been installed on all alleys.

The twelve men include: Dan

PINBUSTERS TROUNCED, 3-1; STILL END SEASON IN FIRST

The Pinbusters, although soundly thumped by the Teetotalers, finished the season as champions of the 1959 intramural Co-ed bowling league. The Pinbusters clinched the pennant with an 888-815 win in the first game, while the Playboys were dropping an 804-764 first match to the Bio Club.

Lewis, Dick Myers, Pete Maholik, and Emil Petrask making their second appearance in the tournament. Newcomers Bill Watkins, John Sapiego, John Kuhar, Tom Evans, Fred Jacoby, Jerry Chisarick, Dave Sokira, and Morgan Davis will be trying to become the first Wilkes man to survive the qualifying round.

All twelve men will be wearing bowling shirts with their names lettered on the back and Wilkes emblems sewed on the left sleeve. The shirts, lettering, and emblems were purchased by the bowlers.

The parents of Emil Petrask have graciously extended their hospitality to the entire twelve-man squad for Sunday dinner. Last year's bowlers received a warm welcome at the Petrask home and the returnees are looking forward to this wonderful treat.

Teetotalers 3, Pinbusters 1

Led by captain Dick Myers' 185-532, the Teetotalers bounced back from their first loss to hang a 3-1 pasting on the champs for the second time this season to become one of the only two teams to hold their own against the leaders.

Teetotalers: Myers 532, Ray Yanchus 182-463, Merle Cohen 156-422, Lois Tremayne 153-420, and Wayne Walters 173 and 142.

Pinbusters: John Sapiego 186-532, Bill Watkins 201-522, Fred Jacoby 183-480, Emil Petrask 206 and 144, Don Wilkinson 163 and 157, and Dick Dyanick 160 and 108.

Bio Club 4, Playboys 0

John Maylock sparked the cellar-dwelling Bio Club to a 4-0 upset whitewash of the second-place Playboys with a 188-485. Fred Mountjoy was high for the losers with 169-484.

Bio Club: Maylock 485, Leigh Humphrey 161-467, Rose Weinstein 176-454, Fred Williams 166-439, and Marty Tansy 153-380.

Playboys: Mountjoy 484, Warren Denmon 178-475, Joe Shemanski 164-446, Ron McKinnon 157-421, and Ron Phillips 162-414.

Goldbricks 2, Tenpins 2

Dan Lewis made a determined try to upset Bill Watkins' seasonal high mark of 265, but had to settle for a very satisfactory night, 238, 214, 195-647. Lewis led his Goldbricks who took two points by winning the first match and total pins, 2146-2090.

I.C.G. RETURNS FROM PARLEY, POLITICAL MEETING MAY 4

by Jean Shofranko

Thirteen Inter-Collegiate Government members returned to Wilkes-Barre on Saturday after attending the 25th annual Inter-Collegiate State Conference on Politics and Government. The conference was held at Harrisburg, the hub of state politics, on April 16, 17, and 18.

Activities began Thursday, with delegates from colleges and universities throughout the state registering at the Penn-Harris Hotel.

Governor David Lawrence began an evening of speech-making by welcoming the 500 delegates and reviewing a list of ICG alumni who are now outstanding figures in state and national politics.

Miss Genevieve Blatt, State Secretary of Internal Affairs and executive director of Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Government organizations, welcomed delegates and informed them of the purpose and functions of the Department of Internal Affairs. She concluded her speech by inviting members of the assembly to attend her inauguration which will take place in Harrisburg on May 5.

Next on the agenda were speeches by members of the State Senate, House of Representatives, and candidates for State Speaker and State Clerk. The evening's activities were concluded with a sport dance which was held in honor of the delegates.

Friday morning was devoted to committee meetings. Each organization was represented by at least one member on each of the ten committees. These representatives introduced and voted upon bills which were presented to the entire assembly that evening.

Mike Bianco, Wilkes representative on the Labor and Industry Committee, had his bill on Unemployment Compensation passed as the third best bill in the state. Selection of top bills was made by members of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Elections for next year's state officers was also held at this session. In voting for Lehigh University representative, Thomas Gilhool, for State Speaker, Wilkes helped break the Central Pennsylvania political machine which had been in power in ICG circles.

Wilkes ICG members who attended this conference are: Donald Stein, Patrick Shovlin, John Salva, Charles Billings, Michael Bianco, Betsy Hoeschle, Frances Walls, Arlene Tanalski, Gordon Roberts, Frank Sabach, Arthur Evans, John Hotchkiss, Francis Steck, and Ralph Pinskey.

The next project of the ICG will be a political meeting to be held May 4, concerning local primary elections. The purpose of this meeting is to acquaint Wilkes students and the general public with the platforms and policies of the various Republican factions and of the Democratic party.

If you've been following Luzerne County politics you're probably aware of the fact that the Republican party has split into three factions: the Regular Republicans, directed by Clark; the Real Republicans, backed by Stroh; and the Victory Republicans, headed by Flack. Atty. J. P. Olexy, Atty. Silverblatt, and several "Victorious Republicans" will represent their respec-

APPLICATION LETTERS ARE DUE BY MAY 8

The editorial staff of the Beacon has announced that letters of application for positions on next year's staff may be submitted now by interested and qualified persons to Mr. Francis J. Salley, newspaper adviser. Letters should be addressed to Mr. Salley with a Wilkes College address, and may be placed in his mailbox in Chase Hall.

Positions to be available on next year's staff will be editor-in-chief, assistant editors (2), sports editor, and business manager. The positions will be awarded on the basis of the content of the application letters, which should include information on past newspaper experience, position being applied for, and personal data. Persons having experience on the Beacon or another college or high school paper may submit letters, and the deadline for applicants is Friday, May 8.

The Beacon staff wishes to encourage any student interested in becoming a staff reporter to begin writing before the end of the current semester. Persons with experience may well be considered for editorial staff positions next June. Anyone wishing to become a reporter is asked to see a member of the editorial staff or come to the Beacon office Friday afternoon, when assignments are issued.

slates (in the named order) at the May 4th meeting. Dr. Dorris will probably represent the Democratic party.

The faculty, student body, and the general public are invited to attend this meeting, which will be held Monday, May 4, at 7 p.m. at the Commons.

Do You Think for Yourself? (THIS SHORT QUIZ WILL TIP YOU OFF!*)

1. When your friends impart confidences, do you feel (A) uncomfortable, or (B) complimented?

A ☐ B ☐

5. Do you find that you work or study more effectively (A) under supervision, or (B) on your own schedule?

A ☐ B ☐

2. Do you prefer a task which demands (A) the organization of complex details, or (B) a constant flow of ideas?

A ☐ B ☐

6. Is it your feeling that close friendships with superiors would be (A) a great help, or (B) actually a hindrance to your career with a firm?

A ☐ B ☐

3. Would your first reaction to a difficult committee appointment be that you had been (A) "stuck," or (B) honored?

A ☐ B ☐

7. Which, to your mind, has the greater influence on you in making a good grade: (A) the instructor, or (B) the subject matter of a course?
