TDR VALENTINE FORMAL NEXT FRIDAY EVENING

by Lee Baiera

Good news for the women of Wilkes! A semi-formal Valentine dance, "The Holiday of Hearts," will be held by the T.D.R. sorority on Friday, February 13, in the gym from 9 to 12. The "good news" is the fact that this dance is a girl-ask-boy affair. A special feature will be favors for the boys. The red, lavender, and pink decorations will also help to add color to the evening.

Herbie Green and his orchestra will provide the music. The admission is $3.00 per couple.

Small valentine hearts with couples' names on them can be purchased from Judy Geer, chairman of the Hearts Committee, for the mere price of 15 cents. These novelties, which will be used as decorations at the dance, can be taken as souvenirs at the end of the dance.

An extra attraction will be the choosing of a Valentine Queen. A member of the T.D.R. sorority will be chosen from a drawing of ticket stubs. The chosen queen will be given gifts in honor of her reign.

All sorority members and any other interested persons are urged to come Thursday evening and all day Friday to help decorate the gym.

Invitations are being sent out to last year's sorority members and to past presidents of the sorority.

Heading the affair is general chairman Judy Richardson assisted by the following chairmen: Backdrop, Janice Reynolds and Helen Miller; Ceiling, Mary Frances Swigert; Tables, Ruth Ann Borum; Lobby, Andrea Ginsburgh; Favors, Carolyn O'Rourke and Nancy Payne; Refreshments, Moncey Miller; Invitations and Chaperons, Marcia Senderovitz; Tickets, Mary Ellen Zweibel; Programs, Betty Lou Kozek; Publicity, Jean Shofranko; Hearts, Judy Geer; Gifts, Judy Ruggere.

The receiving line will be comprised of the following people: Dr. and Mrs. Doane, Dr. and Mrs. Symmons, Judy Richardson, and Mary Homan. Everyone is urged to attend the affair since it is open to the public.

FEBRUARY DEADLINE SET BY 'MANUSCRIPT'

The editorial staff of the Manuscript, literary and art magazine of the college, has announced that February 27 will be the deadline for accepting contributions for this year's publication.

The association encourages contributions in the following forms: short story, poetry, essays of an academic nature in various fields of study, and art work. Material should be submitted to any member of the Manuscript staff before the deadline, or it may be left at the Manuscript contribution box, which is located at the rear entrance to the Library.

In past publications, essays of a satirical nature and discussions related to sciences, social sciences, and humanities have been included. The art work in the past two years has been in the areas of paintings and sculpturing.

Both student and faculty contributions will be welcomed.

FILM SOCIETY

Subscriptions to the Manuscript Film Society, which is planning its first showing on Friday, February 20, are still available from members of the society and are sold each day at noon in the first floor lounge of the dining commons. The sale will last until Feb. 20, and the cost of a ticket, which admits the bearer to six fine films, is two dollars.

NOTICE!

There will be an important "Beacon" meeting today at noon in the "Beacon" office, 159 South Franklin St., third floor. All staff members are required to attend.

NOTICE!

Orders for class rings will be taken by Dick Roberts next week at the Bookstore. Orders will be taken at the times that are listed on the bulletin boards on campus. Anyone who has not ordered his ring and plans to do so should see Dick as soon as possible.

WILK Ball on Monday ; Vocalists to Appear In Benefit Performance

by Cynthia Hagley

WILK is producing a Birthday Ball on Monday night, February 9, in the Wilkes gym. All proceeds from this evening will go to the General Hospital Building Fund. The entertainment will start at 8 p.m. and last until 11 p.m. and will include fifteen recording stars.

In this group is Johnny Desmond, star of the television show, Hit Parade, and the Broadway musical, Say, Darling. Lee Vincent's orchestra and the Monarchs will supply the background music for the show.

For the rock 'n' roll group, Fabian of "I'm A Man" fame will be there. The following stars will appear along with some of their latest releases: Quaker City Boys with "Teasin'," Bobby DeFano with his record "All of a Sudden," Scott Garrett with "House of Love" (see him on the Dick Clark Show, Saturday night), Tony D'Noble, Lee Andrews and the Hearts with "Maybe You'll Be There," Eddie Dano with "Lonely," the Fashions and "I'm Dreaming of You," Randy Stevens, the Bridgette Sisters, Larry Bloise with "Wall Flower," the Naturals and "How Strange," and finally Sonny Vito (this one is a real doll!) with "Why." These stars and their records can be heard regularly on WILK.

Tickets for this show are selling for $1.00 now but will cost $1.25 at the door. They can be purchased at Green's Card and Gift Shop, the Square Record Shop, Boston Store Record Department, Wallace Music Company, and Kresge's Record Department, all in Wilkes-Barre.

Another addition to the proceedings is the giving away of (1000) one thousand 45 rpm records. The mc's are well known disc jockeys from WILK, 'Morning Mayor' Jim Ward, Johnny Foster, Tom Heenan, Wally Karver, and Johnny Sobol.

The General Hospital is in the process of raising two million dollars for their building fund. Since station WILK is celebrating its birthday on the 9th, they are taking this opportunity to hold the ball and donate the proceeds to the building fund. Any additional information about the evening will be broadcast over WILK.

Wilkes Gets GULF Grant

by Steve Cooney

Wilkes, along with several other local institutions, has been named recipient of a direct grant by the Gulf Oil Company. Checks totaling approximately $170,000 are being mailed to schools throughout the nation as a part of the oil company's program designed to promote the sound growth and effectiveness of American colleges and universities.

The amount given to each school will be determined by a formula based on the annual current expenditure per student by the school for educational purposes, and the percentage of contributing alumni.

Home cooking is where a lot of modern women should be.

Debaters Seventh In Hopkins Meet

Two representatives of the Wilkes College debating team, Fred Roberts and Roberta Feinstein, traveled to Baltimore for the Johns Hopkins Tourney over the weekend of January 30. In a field of forty teams the Wilkes debaters placed seventh with a total of 272 points.

The topic debated was "Resolved: That future development of nuclear weapons should be prohibited by international agreement." Roberts and Feinstein upheld both sides of the topic.

In the competition Wilkes defeated Northeastern and Navy in the first round. In another round which paired winners against winners, Maryland and Wheaton defeated the Wilkes representatives. Later, in another round, Wilkes rallied to defeat St. Michael's of New Hampshire and Johns Hopkins.

In this year's tournament Roberts, with a total of 141 points ranked eleventh in the individual scoring. In previous years Wilkes placed third three times with 5-1 records and won the tourney in 1955 with a 6-1 record.

Collegians Plan Trips Seeking Tenor Soloist

The Collegians, musical ambassadors of good will for the College, are planning several important trips in the near future. The first of these, a jaunt to Green Park Union High School, near Harrisburg, is another in a series of distant performances in the eight-year history of the chorus.

Now numbering thirty-five, the male choral group has been invited downstate by a charter member of the Collegians, Jack Curtis, now teaching in Green Park.

Another former member of the chorus, Jerry Luft, presently teaching at Phillipsburg, New Jersey, has made tentative plans to have the men sing for a student assembly at his high school.

Locally, the group, under the direction of junior music major Bill Peters, has sung at the Hotel Casey in Scranton and for the District Rotary meeting at Hotel Sterling during the past ten days.

They have presented concerts at several area schools and are scheduled to appear at Wilkes-Barre Township, Kingston, Westmoreland, and Plymouth High Schools.

Peters has announced that the chorus is still in need of tenor voices in particular and especially needs a tenor or baritone soloist. Anyone interested in trying to gain one of the openings may see Peters

Miss Dworski joins a former part-time faculty member, Miss Charlotte Lord in the supplemental Women's edition of the nationwide directory of famous people.

Associate Professor in the Department of Modern Languages, Miss Dworski is now in her eleventh year as a member of the Wilkes faculty, and is well-known to all French and Spanish students.

Before joining the Wilkes instructors, Miss Dworski taught French, Spanish, and English at New Haven State Teachers College, Connecticut, and in the East Haven, Connecticut, High School.

She also instructed in Romance languages at Sweet Briar College, Virginia, and at the St. Helena Extension of the College of William and Mary.

In addition to her teaching duties, she has worked as a translator for the Strategic Index of Latin America at Yale; a secretary in the Yale University French Department; clerk-typist for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agency, and Archiviste-Secretaire for the French Mission in the United States.

She received her B.A. degree from Connecticut College, with highest honors, in 1935; then received her Master's degree with distinction from the same College in 1937. She attended the University of Paris as a Yale French Travelling Fellow, and the Spanish Language Institute of Mexico.

In 1942 she received her Ph.D. in Romance languages as a visiting Fellow at Yale.

Among her publications are her Master's essay and Ph.D. dissertation devoted to the works of French novelist and short story writer,

Improvements Needed

Registration again proved to be a mass confusion — even after all the improvements instated by the administration. The choice of classes was enthusiastically approved by those who managed to get to the gym at 7 a.m. on Friday and therefore got first choice. For those who didn't get there early, or those whose names don't begin with R to Z, there was much dissatisfaction.

The A to M lines wound around the jam-packed gym, out the door and back to Ohav Zedek Synagogue, while the rest of the alphabetically lucky ones marched right into the gym, up to the registrar's table and on to the best classes.

We can not see why: 1) the alphabetical distribution was not checked beforehand and made more equal; or 2) why there were not more registrar's tables — perhaps one on each side of the gym.

We fully realize that to have more tables means more people will have to be paid for working; that is if the system of employment continues. On this topic there are several suggestions. The first and foremost is to have TDR, a service organization, or the Lettermen, volunteer members to assist in giving out trial registration forms at two tables. This would free experienced personnel to help at the finance desk, and would also facilitate the possibility of having a more equal breakdown of the alphabetical lines.

The second suggestion calls for a club or organization on campus, such as the Student Government or the Economics Club for instance, get together and volunteer to assist in the registration.

The finance line, usually the worst in the entire process, was improved considerably with the use of already printed receipt. However, this line could be speeded up by instigating a new system. Perhaps payments could be made due by the week before registration. For those who could and would pay, the line would be eliminated. For those who do not pay before registration, the usual long grumbling line would be the only solution.

There could possibly be a separate table set up for those who have paid, or for those who have tuition scholarships and do not have to pay. Having to stand on a long line just to tell someone that you do not pay tuition is annoying to any student.

On the whole, registration this year was better than ever — just like the movies; but like the movies, improvement is not impossible. —mjk

Oh, Say Can You See

Wilkes College is by far the most patriotic institution in the United States. This statement can be made without reservation if one considers the fact that the American Flag is rarely, if not never, taken from its station atop the flag pole on Chase lawn.

Students who leave the library at 9:30 at night have the opportunity to admire our beautiful red, white and blue through the inky blackness. Neither rain nor shine nor night will deter us from our whole-hearted patriotism.

Letters To The Editor:

Since a few Student Council actions have recently come in for some criticism, it is worthwhile at the beginning of the new semester to point out that Article VII of the Student Constitution provides a means of effective protest against Student Government decisions. According to that section a Court of Appeals, made up of two faculty and two student members and one representative of the administration, has the power by majority vote to overrule the Student Council subject only to a two-thirds vote by the Council upon the Court's final decision. The procedure for getting a matter before the Court is relatively simple; just give a written brief containing a summary of the argumentation and evidence presented on the matter before the Council. The Council in turn shall also file a summary of the case presenting its reasons and the minutes of the meeting at which the matter was argued. The Court may, before rendering a decision, require further investigation before a hearing.

If there are any other questions as to the particular form of the briefs, the chairman would be happy to consult with any interested party.

Dear Editor:

It was brought to my attention that some individual in our student body had placed an unauthorized notice on the blackboard in Pickering Hall to the effect that the S.A.M. meeting was cancelled. The notice caused several members to miss the meeting held at 12:00 noon on Tuesday, February 3. The notice was also falsely signed with the name of one of the S.A.M. officers.

I can not help questioning the intelligence of the person responsible for that notice. I am also sure that that person would not have the courage to admit his guilt to me personally or to any other member of the S.A.M. Chapter.

I am only consoled in knowing that students whose character shows disregard for the rights of others are in the very minority at Wilkes.

With regret,
David D. Compton

A BIT OF HUMOR

Note from an understanding wife:
My darling,

So you did forget!
Our anniversary. — Don't fret!
My birthday passed you unrecalled?

Am I upset? Am I appalled?
Close heed to things like Mother's Day

Or act heartbroken, stew and pine
Because you sent no Valentine?
Why, Silly, keep your make-up gift!

Of course, I'm never hurt or miffed;
I won't complain, I have my pride —

Must sign off, dear . . .

DIMS OR HALF-DOLLARS

Ever hear the story about the rich Texan oil millionaire who said to his son, "Dan, my boy, I'm giving you a choice of two gifts for Christmas. You can have a barrel full of dimes, or a barrel of similar size full of half-dollars." Which would you take?

Answer: If you wanted the most money, you'd take the barrel full of dimes. Being much smaller and thinner, dimes yield less space between coins. They fill a barrel more completely. There'd be approximately six times as many dimes as half-dollars — or about 20% more money!

Musto In Challenging Job; Teaches Foreign Children

by Steve Cooney

John J. Musto, a member of the graduating class of 1957, is presently a staff member of the Roosevelt Junior High School in New Brunswick, New Jersey, with one of the most difficult teaching assignments that a teacher could have.

He has a small class of nine pupils each morning. These boys and girls speak many languages fluently — two can converse in Austrian, Russian, German, Portuguese, and Spanish, while the others speak Hungarian, Spanish, or Italian. But none have more than a smattering of English.

Musto, a bit of a linguist himself, is faced with the big job of teaching them English so that they can move into regular classes. He also tries to incorporate Americanism and democracy into their regular class work, giving them a clearer picture of life in the United States.

By teaching them five or six new words a week, he has now gotten them to the stage of writing complete sentences. Musto explained that he "lets them work at their own pace and doesn't move them along as a group." He now has two groups — one well advanced, and the others beginners.

He pointed out that an Hungarian-speaking girl who had been in his class at the start of this year already has gone into the regular eighth grade English class. He said that he hoped another of his pupils would be in senior high school before the year is out. All of the students range from the junior high school age up to 17.

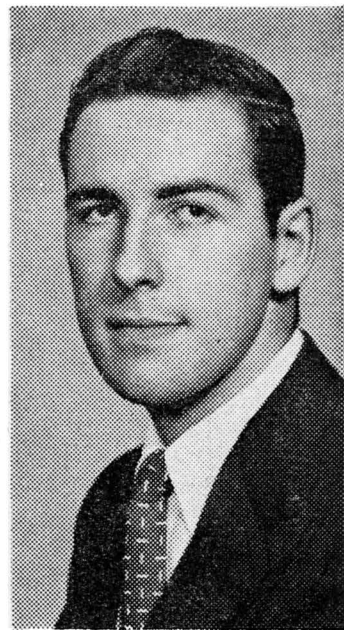

He also has two Austrian girls in his class, three other Hungarian girls, two Italian boys, and two Puerto Rican girls.

Fortunately Musto has a good command of French and Spanish from his studies at Wilkes. He also has a limited command of Italian, because of his Italian ancestry, and because he is an opera fan.

"I explain something in Spanish and usually the two Italian boys go right along with me," he noted, pointing out that words in the two romance languages are very similar.

For his Hungarian-speaking pupils he added, "I work it out with the dictionary." He's also been helped, he said, by the fact that "some of the students have a small background of English."

John Musto

Musto started working with the non-English speaking students last year, and his success has been remarkable. He also teaches regular English classes and social studies at the junior high school.

Musto formerly resided on Wyoming Avenue in West Pittston with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Musto, Sr. He received an A.B. degree in English from Wilkes, and was a member of the Education Club and was also on the Manuscript staff.

Accomplishments of Year Are Reviewed by Council

by Jim Eidam

Bob Pitel, senior commerce and finance major, officially took over the reins as President of the Student Government at the close of the regular business Tuesday evening in the dining commons. Gordon Roberts was elected to the Vice-Presidency for the remainder of the term.

Retiring President Bob Morris presided for the business session, calling the meeting to order at 5:20 p.m. Paul Klein offered a prayer, after which minutes of the previous meeting were read by Martha Menegus, Secretary.

Bob Washburn, Winter Carnival chairman, gave a summary of the affair, reporting that some people did not abide by the request of the PMI, and brought alcoholic beverages to the carnival. He reported that there was a fine attendance, and the various sport contests through the day were well organized and participation was good.

Much of the meeting was devoted to a recapitulation of the progress made by the Student Government during the past semester under Morris' leadership. In a prepared written report, Morris listed accomplishments and various unfinished business of the group. The extensive freshman orientation program, the numerous government-sponsored social activities, the student leaders' meetings, the political speeches, and various policies adopted for a smoother functioning government are among the many achievements reached during the semester. Additional work will include preparation for a more complete intramural program, arrangements for Cinderella and spring elections, and a second student leaders' conference.

The group also discussed possibilities for taking charge of campus bulletin boards, which are frequently cluttered with out-dated and relatively useless notices.

The meeting concluded after the approval of an activities form submitted by the senior class for its St. Patrick's Day Dance.

S.A.M. To Hold 'Best-Dressed' Contest

I.C.G. MEMBERS PREPARING FOR REGIONAL CONFERENCE

by Sue Snoop

Executives from ten college chapters of the Northeastern Region of Intercollegiate Conference on Government and Politics will meet in the Commons Sunday at 2 o'clock.

The executives will plan for the Northeastern Region Conference to be held at Lehigh on March first. During the Sunday meeting, Rules and Strategy Committees will be officially appointed. John Salva will represent Wilkes on the Rules Committee and Gordon Roberts will be on the Strategy Committee.

After the Sunday meeting, the individual college I.C.G.'s will appoint five committees to prepare mock bills which will be presented for debate and discussion at the March first meeting. Those bills that are accepted at that meeting will be presented at the state I.C.G.

Labor, Industrial, Agricultural and National Resources: Mike Bianco, chairman, Frank Steck, Jay Zook, John Cook, Ira Himmel and Pat Shovlin.

Constitutional Revision and Judiciary: Don Brandt, chairman, Art Evans and John Mulhall.

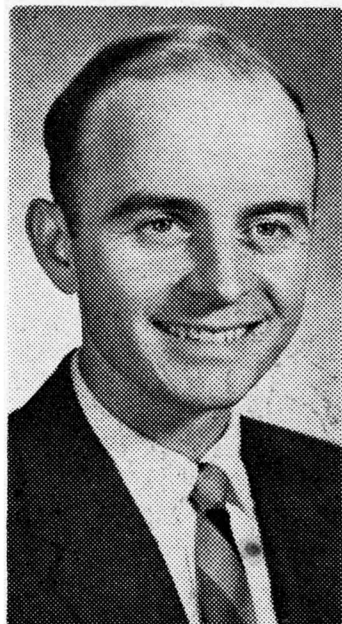

Education, Health and Welfare: Gil Davis, chairman, Tom Ruggiero, Betsy Hoeschele, Charles Billings and Gordon Roberts.

State Government and Local Government: Ralph Pinsky, chairman, Wayne Griffith.

Taxation, Finance, Highways and Transportation: Carl Zoolko-

John Salva

Gordon Roberts

to be held in Harrisburg on April 16, 17 and 18 at the Education Forum Building.

Also on the agenda of Sunday's meeting is the election of general committee chairmen and nomination of officers for the March first meeting. All officers and members of the individual I.C.G. chapters will be present at the March first meeting.

The five Wilkes committees are composed of the following members:

ski, chairman, Dick Salus, Jack Hotchkiss and John Salva.

The ten colleges who will attend the Sunday meeting are: King's, University of Scranton, Moravian, Misericordia, Lehigh, Lafayette, Muhlenberg, Marywood, Mansfield and Wilkes.

The purpose of this and other I.C.G. meetings is to familiarize college students with the operation of government. Any interested person is invited to attend the Sunday meeting.

FUN WITH FIGURES A BOREDOM REMEDY

If you can add four-digit numbers, do long division and smile mysteriously, you have all the talent required to be a skillful amateur magician. You can "guess" a stranger's age and year of graduation... come up with solutions to number puzzles... mystify and entertain your friends... just by mastering a few numerical techniques recently suggested by engineers of Interchemical Corporation.

Start by learning the way to "guess" a secret number. Ask someone to think of a number (his age, date of graduation, anything) without telling you what it is. Now have him take his number and:

- multiply it by 2.
- add 4.
- divide by 2.
- add 7.
- multiply by 8.
- subtract 12.
- divide by 4.
- subtract 11.

Ask him his result. As soon as you hear it, you can immediately tell him his original number. How? Just take his result and subtract 4. Then divide by 2. Works every time!

In the magic world of numbers, things aren't always what they seem. Few people realize, for example, what a tremendous difference exists between two large numbers such as 100,000 and a billion. If you counted one number every two seconds for eight hours a day, five days a week, you'd pass 100,000 in less than two weeks. But if George Washington had begun counting at the same rate of speed — starting when he was 26 years old — he wouldn't even be three-quarters of the way to a billion if he were alive and still counting today!

Maybe you knew that a stack of 100 one-dollar bills was 3/8 of an inch thick, but did you know that a billion one-dollar bills would be about 59 miles high — more than ten times higher than Mt. Everest, highest mountain in the world!

Here's a brain teaser for you. A grocer had a scale and four weights. Nothing in his store weighed more than 40 pounds. With these four weights, he could weight every single pound from 1 to 40. How much did each weight weigh?

Answer: The four weights weighed 1, 3, 9, and 27 pounds each.

Put your family in a race to see who can get the answer to this first. What is the smallest number that you can double, add 2, and get your original number with its digits reversed?

Answer: Twenty-five. Twice 25 is 50; plus two equals 52.

Suppose your neighbor appears at the kitchen door to borrow two pints of milk for a cake she's baking. And suppose all you can find is a five-pint bottle and an eight-pint bottle. How can you measure out the pints using nothing but these two bottles?

Answer: Fill the 5-pint bottle and pour its contents into the 8-pint bottle. Fill the five-pint bottle a second time, and again empty it into the 8-pint bottle. But the latter will take three more pints, leaving two pints left in the smaller bottle.

Ask someone to write down on a piece of paper four numbers:

- the year of his birth.
- the year of some other big event in his life—graduation, marriage, etc.
- how old he'll be on December 31st of the current year.
- the differences between the year of the big event in (b.) and the current year.

Ask him to add up his four numbers. While he's adding, you scribble a number on a piece of paper, fold the paper and lay it on the table. When he's finished, he opens up your folded scrap paper and

Wilkes College Girls Eligible, Organizations Will Nominate; Deadline February Thirteenth

Noted Czech Statesman Will be Featured at Next Assembly Program

by Connie Stukowski

The Honorable Stefan Osusky, the noted Czechoslovakian statesman, will make an appearance at Wilkes as guest speaker at the February 10th assembly program.

Dr. Osusky, who has been described as a dynamic speaker and brilliant diplomat, will present a talk entitled "The Way of the Free." Our speaker is well qualified to expound on this subject, for he has had a diverse and renowned background.

In World War I Dr. Osusky was the youngest collaborator of President Thomas Masaryk and was one of the founders of Czechoslovakia. From 1920 to 1937 he represented his country at the Assembly of the League of Nations. For his exceptional service rendered to Czechoslovakia, this country awarded him the Karlik Prize, the Czechoslovakian Nobel Prize.

From January, 1921, until the fall of France, Dr. Osusky served as minister of Czechoslovakia to France. Upon the fall of France Dr. Osusky took refuge in London. There he became a member of the Czechoslovakian government in exile and of the Legislative State Council, organized on British soil after the fall of France.

For the past four years Dr. Osusky has been a Visiting Professor of European Civilization and Culture at Colgate University.

The work of this great statesman has not been limited only to his native Czechoslovakia. He has received decorations from France, Poland, Yugoslavia, Greece, Rumania, Luxemburg, Bolivia and Chile.

The students at Wilkes are privileged to have such a renowned person to share his experiences with them. This assembly program will undoubtedly prove one of the high spots of this year's program.

finds you have already written his total!

Solution: Think about the four numbers you asked him to write down. A plus C will always equal the current year. B plus D will always equal the current year. The answer will always, in all cases, be two times the current year!

The best dressed Wilkes girl will be selected in the following manner. Each organization on campus (including classes) will nominate one girl by means of written forms. Full length pictures will be submitted with the forms.

These nominations will be reviewed thoroughly by a panel of judges chosen for capable knowledge in this area of selection. Their criteria will consist of (1) good figure, beautiful posture; (2) clean, shining, well-kept hair; (3) imagination in managing a clothes budget; (4) good grooming — not just neat, but impeccable; (5) appropriate campus look (she's in line with local customs); (6) a clear understanding of her fashion type; (7) individuality in her use of fashion color, accessories; (8) a workable wardrobe plan; (9) a neat way with make-up (enough to look pretty, not overdone); (10) appropriate — not rah rah — look for off-campus occasions.

All entry forms must be placed in the S.A.M. mailbox in Chase Hall by February 13.

Having reached a decision, the judges will submit three pictures of the Wilkes candidate — in campus outfit, a daytime off-campus outfit, and a date dress (full or cocktail length) — and the official entry form to Glamour. In early March, a panel of editors from the national publication will choose the "10 Best Dressed College Girls in America" from entries submitted by hundreds of colleges in the United States and Canada.

The 10 winners will be photographed on college campuses for the magazine's August College Issue and will be flown to New York in June as the magazine's guests. During their visit to New York they will stay at the Biltmore Hotel and will participate in the publication's College Fashion Show that previews the August issue for over 500 stores.

They will appear on television (the 1958 winners were on Dave Garroway's "Today" show and Arthur Godfrey's morning show), will be entertained in the homes of the editors, at the theatre and in famous New York restaurants. They will also have photographic appointments and will be interviewed by various editors from the magazine.

The S.A.M. committee in charge of the contest consists of Mary Homan, chairman, Lou Marcus, Marty Menegus, Jake Zook, Norb Hysick, James Braniff, and Lou Bierly.

The contest was discussed at an S.A.M. meeting held last Friday at the Westmoreland Club, 59 S. River St. Dave Compton, S.A.M. President, and Jake Zook, chairman of the board of directors and treasurer, introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Franklin L. Hertig, the society's alternate national director, who spoke on the business world in general and the advantages of S.A.M. in particular. The Wilkes chapter was the guest of Mr. Edward B. Stringham, executive vice-president of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Senior Chapter of the society. Television coverage was provided.

George Kozich in the cafeteria, Tuesday, 11:15 a.m. — "Gee, I forgot to go to assembly this semester!"

W. Glogowski Athlete of Week On Fast Pin In CCNY Meet

177-Pounder Impressive, Leads Team to 3rd Win In 15 Secs. of 2nd Round

Walt Glogowski is this week's recipient of the "Athlete of the Week" award. He pinned Jerome Levkov, CCNY's prize 177-pounder in 3 minutes and 15 seconds to lead the Colonel matmen to a 27-3 victory and the season's third win.

This is a typical performance by Walt, whose electrifying style of wrestling has made him a great favorite of the fans. He has great strength but also possesses quick, cat-like movements which have led the followers of the Colonels' wrestling team to nickname him 'Tiger.'

Undefeated this season, the Blue and Gold captain has compiled a fabulous 26 win - 6 loss record in dual meets through his four years of college wrestling. Last year Walt was runner-up in the Middle Atlantic Conference and is a favorite to capture the 177-pound championship this year.

The popular senior is seeking a B.S. in Art Education and is well-known for his artistic ability. Most of the backdrops for the College's formal dances are the work of the 'Tiger.' Walt is also an active member of the Letterman's Club, Education Club, and the CCUN.

He is a graduate of Plymouth High School where he earned six letters, three each in wrestling and

I-M BASKETBALL

Intramural basketball is off to a quick start again with last year's defending champs, the Neki Hokis, jumping off to take the lead with a 3 win - 0 loss record in the American League. The National League is in a tremendous turmoil with three teams, the Hotrods, Slickeroos, and Clowns tied for first place with identical records of 1 win - 0 losses.

With only limited results available at press time, the standings are:

BIO CLUB WHIPS PINBUSTERS, 3-1; PLAYBOYS NARROW GAP TO THREE

The faltering Pinbusters dropped three points to the Bio Club Sunday night, while the second place Playboys closed the gap on a 3-1 win over the last place Teetotalers in the intramural bowling league.

Dan Lewis, captain of the Goldbricks, set a new season's high series mark of 664 with games of 229, 222, and 213, but his team lost a 3-1 decision to the Raiders.

Next week, the Playboys are not scheduled, will pick up four automatic points, could tie or take over first place from the Pinbusters if the latter team loses three or four points from the hot-handed Raiders who have climbed from last to fourth place in three weeks of play.

Playboys 3, Teetotalers 1

Both teams were shorthanded in a fast match between the Playboys and the Teetotalers, who split the first two games. The Playboys took the third game by 48 pins however, and took the fourth point for total pins by a margin of 71 pins.

Dick Myers was high man for the match, leading the Teetotalers with 190-530. Warren Denman was high for the victors with 179-471.

Ron McKennon and Fred Mountjoy contributed 162-463 and 154-428 to the winning total, while Gene Brozowski and Lois Tremayne rolled 136-362 and 135-357 for the losers.

Bio Club 3, Pinbusters 1

Emil Petrasek was high man for the Pinbusters with 242-615, but the Bio Club took the last two games and overcame a 106-pin deficit to win total pins by 26 pins.

For the winners, Hill Hoffman led the way with 197-532, and Rose Weinstein's two games were 132 and a big 215 to help secure the upset. Other scores: Marty Tansy 167-470, Lee Humphrey 179-452, John Maylock 126 and 106, and Bob Barovich 115 and 104.

Bill Watkins and John Sapiego hit over 500 for the losers. Watkins rolled 177-503, Sapiego 198-502. Other scores: Fred Jacoby 175-462, and Don Wilkinson 164-418.

Raiders 3, Goldbricks 1

Bob Hewitt led the Raiders with 183-475 in their 3-1 win over Lawis' Goldbricks. Florence Kornblatt was right behind with 179-474. Pete Maholik had games of 194 and 144, Len Glassberg 177 and 147, Larry Choper 187 and 120, Bob Licato 133 and 116, and Andy Lowenberg 128.

Dave Sokira added 174-482 to Lewis' 664 in the losing cause. Jerry Chisarik followed with 174-468, Steve Klein hit games of 182 and 131, Gil Gregory 158 and 124, and Roy Morgan 105.

Home Finale Tomorrow For Matmen

Hoopsters Home; Oppose Broncs After Four Losses

The Wilkes cagers encounter two tough foes this weekend in an attempt to return to winning ways and to bring their 3 won - 7 loss record nearer to the .500 mark. Standing mid-point in their schedule with ten games played and ten more to come, the Colonels still have an excellent opportunity to finish with a winning season.

Tonight at 8:00 o'clock on the Wilkes home court the Davismen will clash with the Broncs from Rider College. Rider is only having fair success this season as compared to former years and posts a four won - eight loss record. The Broncs were hit hard with early season injuries to key players but have been coming with a rush after the Christmas vacation.

Coach Tom Layden's squad will be led by high scoring forward Jack Madden who is averaging 18 points per game and guard Richie Piotrowski who is ripping the nets at a 10.7 clip per game. Coach Layden also expects some help from two new transfer students, 6 foot, 5 inch Jack Pilger and Frank Kopp, who joined the club at the start of this semester.

Tomorrow night the Wilkes hoopmen take to the road again in an attempt to break the away-court jinx. The Blue and Gold will match baskets with the East Stroudsburg Warriors at 8:00 p.m. in the State Teachers College fieldhouse in Stroudsburg.

The Warriors are coached by Richard Luce and are not enjoying one of their better seasons. Hit hard by the loss of high scorer Charley German, last year's mainstay, the Warriors present a squad with only one returning letterman, John Kryso, junior forward.

Lack of height and depth has hurt Coach Luce's chances of a winning campaign but the Warriors will have the added advantage of playing on their home hardwoods which should even the competition and make for a hard fought contest.

Wednesday Results

The Lafayette Leopards proved to be too much for the Wilkesmen Wednesday night on the Lafayette home floor. Showing a decisive advantage in height the Leopards soundly whipped the Blue and Gold by the score of 107-75. The entire game can be summed up with a look at the foul shot attempts; Lafayette attempted 54 free throws to 24 for Wilkes.

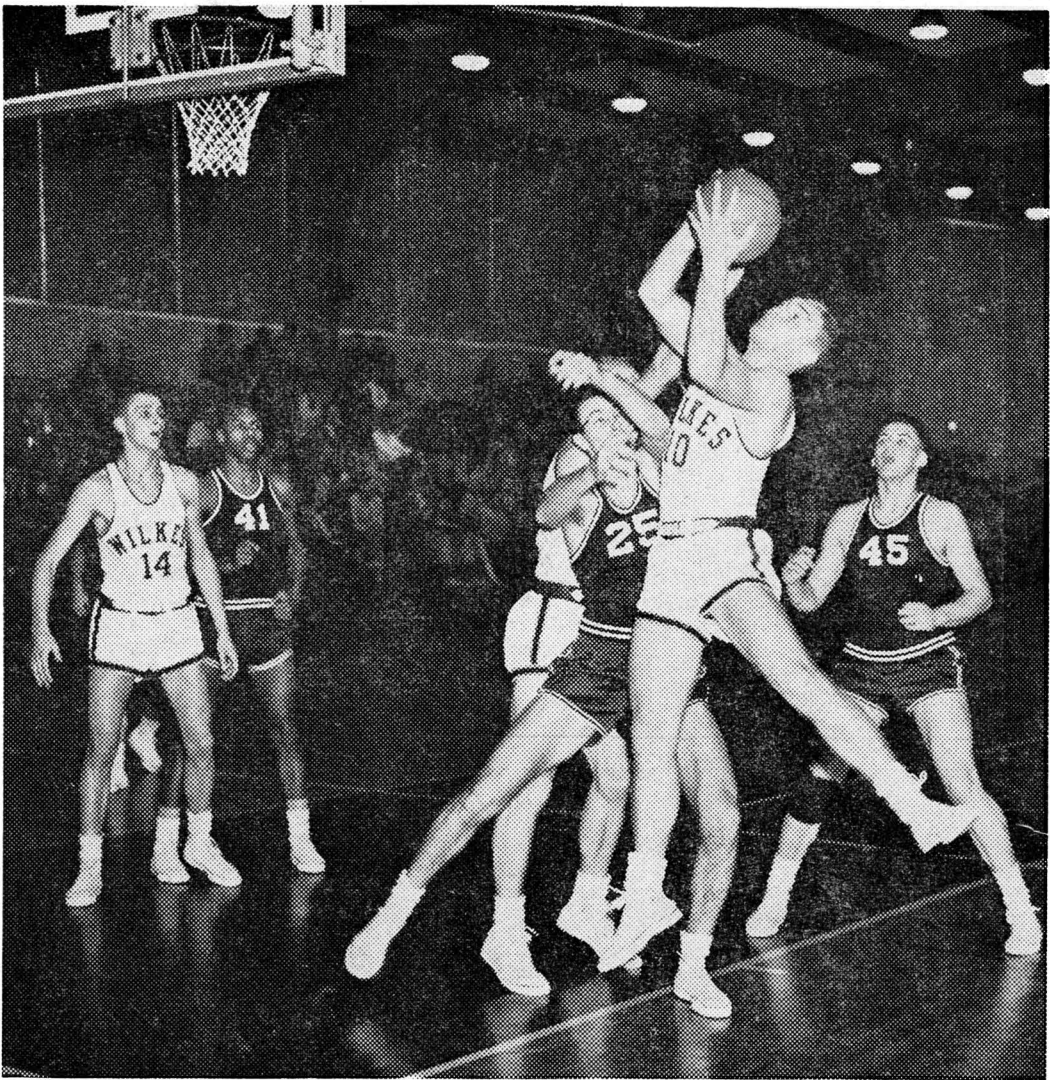

Vacation Results

The past week proved to be disastrous for the Blue and Gold as they played three of the top opponents in the Middle Atlantic Conference and were handed defeats by all three. On January 24 Wagner College of Staten Island downed the Wilkesmen, 70-62, on their home floor.

Although the Colonels fought hard and played on even terms in the first half, Wagner came back strong to take the contest. The Scranton Royals invaded Wilkes on January 28 and emerged victorious by an 82-69 count with big Ed Kazakovich proving to be the determining factor with 25 points.

Saturday, January 31, the Moravian Greyhounds sent the Davismen down to their third straight defeat by the score of 71-65. The Greyhounds were led by "Ducky" Potter who netted 30 points in the afternoon encounter.

The Wilkes trio of Fran Mikolanis, George Gacha, and Bernie Radecki performed well in all three games. Mikolanis tallied a total of 66 points while Radecki poured 41 tallies through the net and played fine defensive ball. Gacha added 32 points to the total plus his excellent generalship in leading the playmaking of the squad.

Leopards Test Streak, Reesemen Vie for Win And Undefeated Season

by Richard J. Myers

Tomorrow night at 8:00 p.m., the grapplers take on the Leopards of Lafayette in the last home wrestling meet of the season. They will put a four-meet winning streak on the line, a streak extending to the final contest of the 1958 season, when they defeated Fairleigh-Dickinson.

Last year the Colonels trounced the Leopards soundly, pounding out a 26-0 shutout for their 23rd consecutive victory. Four days later, they had that string broken when the rugged Millersville Marauders eked out a thrilling 15-14 upset.

Joe Morgan, at 137 pounds this year, took a great 4-1 win at Lafayette last year from Dick Pike, team co-captain at 147. Walt Glogowski and Marv Antinnes turned in shutout decisions, 9-0 and 8-0 respectively. Tomorrow's meet will present a strong Colonel lineup and this coupled with graduation losses by Lafayette, establishes the Colonels as heavy favorites to win their fifth straight.

CCNY Walloped

Last Saturday's delayed contest proved no problem to the Colonels as they took a 27-3 win over the wandering Beavers of the College of the City of New York.

Dick Stauffer set the scene with a 1:45 fall over sophomore Barry Silverstein after taking about one minute to execute a takedown.

Ted Toluba set the Wilkes fans buzzing when he turned in his third straight fall this year, pinning sophomore Phil Rodman in 38 seconds of the second period after a scoreless first round.

Captain Walt Glogowski showed his fans some more of his famous whirlwind brand of wrestling when he came from behind to pin Jerry Levkov in 3:15. Levkov led at the end of the first round, 2-0. Walt escaped in three seconds of the second period, only to be taken down before the period was five seconds old. On his back, and momentarily in trouble, the wily 177-pounder pulled a beautiful reverse and pulled off the pin. All this fast action took place in just fifteen seconds.

Senior Jack Izower, co-captain of the Beavers, turned in the only win when he was awarded the decision in the 147-pound bout with Ron Bienkowski. The score at the end of the bout was 1-1, but Izower had a time advantage and saved the meet from being a shutout.

Gerard Senick took a sturdy 130-pounder, Ron Alter, by an 8-3 score. Tunkhannock's Joe Morgan, at 137, won a solid, 6-1 decision from junior Ron Reis.

Marv Antinnes displayed fine riding ability to register a 5-2 decision over Jerry Horowitz in the 167-pound class, and heavyweight Bob Sislian took a 3-0 win from the other Beaver co-captain Milt Gittleman after holding his man in check throughout the entire second period when he was "up" in the referee's position.

Next action for the wrestlers will be next Saturday at Lycoming College in Williamsport, Pa.

Splashers Hoping For Reversal Of Close Losses To Lycoming

The once defeated Colonel splashers get their first real chance for a win tomorrow as they meet the Lycoming Warriors at 2:00 p.m. in the Wilkes-Barre Y.M.C.A. In their last meet the Warriors defeated Millersville by one point.

Last year Lycoming took advantage of the youthful team from Wilkes and defeated them in two close contests by narrow margins. This year, even with the loss of their ace short distance sprinter, Clete Miller, the aquatic team has been refreshed with new blood in the form of Art Ekhardt, freshman sprinter, and Jake Zook, an experienced-looking sophomore with plenty of talent.

"Ironman" Carl Havira will also be present to take his estimated fifteen points, the maximum number possible in a swimming meet. Another old hand, Pat Shovlin, will be expected to be pulling in the backstroke event for at least one first place, while letterman Bernie Wahalla, primarily a distance man, should see action in at least three events.

Two more new bloods, Berill Friedman and Walt Zionkowski will be relied upon to round out the meager Colonel seven-man team. Friedman and Zionkowski will both see action primarily in the freestyle short distance events.

Coach Picton is having particular trouble in the diving department. Freshman Art Ekhardt will be the main Wilkes stalwart in that department, with no foreseeable help in the near future.

The weekend during finals gave rise to the splashers first questionable win of the season as the nators from Scranton University failed to field sufficient men for their scheduled meet with Wilkes.

COHEN ATTENDS CONVENTION DEVOTED TO ALLERGIES STUDY

Sheldon G. Cohen, M.D., associate professor of biological research, will leave this morning to attend the 15th annual meeting of the American Academy of Allergy to be held next week in Chicago.

Dr. Cohen is a member of the Governing Board of the Academy Research Council and he was appointed Chairman of the Section for the study of food allergy by Dr. Francis Lowell, newly elected president of the Academy.

At the morning session on Monday, February 9, Dr. Cohen will present an original research paper entitled, "Immune Sera in the Study of Food Antigens. I. Fish II. Crustaceans." Thirty-three original research papers prepared by research workers and physicians from universities, medical schools, and teaching centers throughout the U. S. will be presented at the 15th annual meeting of the Academy.

Dr. Cohen's original investigation involved animal experimentation and was related to certain problems in allergic reactions to fish and shellfish. Dr. Cohen explained the research project to have been divided into three parts. "First," he said, "we found that in some instances that certain vitamin preparations and pharmaceutical products of fish origin, were capable of causing allergic reactions. We then studied the relationships between eatable fish and shellfish that would explain allergic reactions in susceptible individuals.

"Certain water insects are used in the preparations of commercial products are used as food for tropical fish and goldfish. We studied the properties of these insects that would indicate their potentiality in causing reactions in people who are allergic to related eatable shellfish such as crab, lobster, and shrimp."

In the collection and study of water insects, Dr. Cohen was assisted by Dr. Charles Reif, head of the Biology Department. John Sa-

January Grads Honored at Dinner

by Sue Snoop

For the first time in the history of Wilkes College, a graduation dinner was held for January graduates. The Mid-Year Graduation Dinner was held on Wednesday, January 28 in the Commons.

Honored at the dinner were fifteen day school and eight evening school students who completed their requirements for degrees on January 27.

The dinner, originally suggested by the senior class executive council, will become an annual affair in the future.

The program for the festivities included an invocation which was followed by the singing of several selections by the Wilkes Collegians. Mr. Russ Picton then said a few words of welcome to the graduates on behalf of the Alumni Association. Mr. Picton then introduced Dr. Farley who gave the principal address of the evening.

The following students have completed their requirements:

B.S. in Nursing Education: Theresa Elizabeth Abate, Helen Elizabeth Beizup, Ann Margaret Richards, Florence Dorothy Shusta and Elizabeth Leona Talmon.

B.S. in Business Administration: Paul Rubin Abrams.

B.S. in Commerce and Finance: William E. Acornley, Ernest Ashbridge, Jr., Arnold Marty Hoeflich, Walter F. Horschheimer, Robert Burton Morris, Larry George Pugh, Ronald Arthur Reed, Donald Earl Wilkinson, Jr., and Raymond Edward Wilson.

B.S. in Elementary Education: Mary Boretz Brand.

A.B. in History: Eileen Maureen Fatsie.

B.S. in Secondary Education: Robert Clem Gritsavage, James John Hennighan and Robert Joseph Sacco.

A.B. in Political Science: George Sander Morris.

B.S. in Business Education: John Stanley Salva.

A.B. in Math: Edward G. Sherbert.

Although these students have completed their requirements, they have not yet received their diplomas, which will be given to them at regular graduation exercises on June 8.

Seated at the head table at the January 28th dinner were the following: Dr. and Mrs. Farley, Russ and Mrs. Picton, Mrs. Doane, Mr. Whitby, Mr. Hoover, Mr. Heltzel, R. Mattioli, Rodger Lewis and Mr. Ralston.
