CINDERELLA CANDIDATES ARE SELECTED

CAMPUS BEAUTIES AWAIT VOTING RESULTS

These are the eleven lucky candidates who will be vying for the title of Cinderella at the Student Council-sponsored dance next Friday night in the gym. Seated: Mary West, Linda Passarelli, Nancy Schooley, Carolyn Goeringer.

Standing: Janice Schuster, Jacqueline Oliver, Mary Homan, Rose Weinstein, Lynne Boyle, Raye Thomas.

Absent when the picture was taken: Virginia Brehm.

Student Council Ball to Feature Crowning of Co-ed Chosen by Vote Of Student Body in Post Card Poll

The nation seems to have suddenly become "Cinderella conscious", if one is to judge from the abundance of TV spectacles, movies, and musicals about this charming damsel, but Wilkes has its own special form of the beloved fairy tale, which will materialize at the stroke of midnight on May 10 at the Cinderella Ball.

At that hour, one of the happiest, most beautiful, and most charming co-eds at Wilkes will be crowned "Cinderella 1957". Who will she be? We do not know, but you can participate in selecting her from eleven lovely candidates who were chosen last week to compete for the honor.

Those nominated were: Lynne Boyle, Virginia Brehm, Carolyn Goeringer, Mary Homan, Jacqueline Oliver, Linda Passarelli, Nancy Schooley, Janice Schuster, Raye Thomas, Rose Weinstein, and Mary West.

Lynne Boyle, a member of the freshman class, was winner of the Beacon's "Best Dressed Co-ed" contest and is active in the band, TDR, and the Student Council. She is majoring in Education.

Secretary of the Student Council, an active member of TDR, Junior Class Council, and the Psychology club are a few of the activities which occupy the spare time of Virginia Brehm, a Psychology major.

An education major, Carolyn Goeringer was selected Homecoming Princess this year, and also participates in activities such as Junior Class Council, TDR, and the IDC.

Mary Homan, a Business Education major, is a member of the Student Council, the IDC, and the Freshman Class Council.

A former Cinderella, Jacqueline Oliver is a member of the Junior Class Council and is currently playing in the Cue 'n' Curtain production Shoemaker's Holiday. She is majoring in Spanish at Wilkes.

Linda Passarelli is a freshman dorm student, who is majoring in Medical Technology. She is a graduate of Hunter College High School in New York.

The only senior nominated was Nancy Schooley, a member of TDR. Nancy was an active member of the basketball team for three years, and is presently working in Public Relations Office.

Janice Schuster is Assistant Editor of the Beacon, Secretary of the Junior Class, a member of the Junior Class Council, TDR, Press Club, and is a majorette with the band. She is majoring in German.

Raye Thomas is another of the candidates who is a member of the Freshman Class. She is a Chemistry major and a member of the Chemistry Club.

Another sophomore on the candidate list is Rose Weinstein, an Elementary Education major. Rose is a member of the Sophomore Class Council, the Student Council, TDR, and the band.

And finally, last but not least, we have Mary West, a Business Education major. Mary is active in the Junior Class Council, TDR, the band, the Education Club, and does part-time work in Public Relations Office.

T.D.R. ELECTION RESULTS

Balloting for TDR president resulted in a three-way tie between Naomi Kaufer, Peggy Stevens and Mary West. A runoff will be held Thursday. Judy Menegus, Rosalie Huber and Pat Bedeski were chosen vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Court of Appeals Among Revisions In Constitution

The name of next year's Student Council will be changed to Student Government if the Constitution Committee's revisions are accepted.

In a "weeding out" process at last Tuesday's meeting, chairman Les Weiner listed the proposed revisions to Council members who in turn thoroughly discussed each issue to determine the advantages or disadvantages deemed necessary by the committee.

Weiner explained the process by which a Court of Appeals will operate if it is put into effect next year. According to the new system, two faculty members, two students, and one member of the administration will be selected by the Council each fall. The students, however, must not be a member of the governing body at the time they are selected to represent the students.

Any issue rejected by the Student Council can therefore be reviewed by the Court. At the time of the appeal to the Court, briefs must be prepared by both the appealing body and the Student Council.

A new system of selecting the Council President was included in the list of pending revisions. If the amendment is passed, the election of the Student Council President will not be restricted to senior class representatives.

However, the class from which the president is elected will be allowed to have another member on the Council. If the members of that class are not chosen unanimously the fifth highest nominee will be added to the organization. If the class representatives are chosen unanimously, however, a special election will be held.

The Student Council announced that bids for hazing will be accepted from clubs and classes and fifty dollars was allotted to the Girls' Chorus for expenses incurred this year.

Oliver Blasts Council In Election Campaign; Presents Many Charges

by Sol Kepler

Campus politico Joe Oliver, Student Council candidate from the junior class, sent the amateur politicians back to the Dining Commons mumbling in their beards. Joe, a veteran of the election wars on the Tunkhannock scene, hit fast, hard and often, accusing the present Council of being "an intellectual debating club", among other things.

The junior veteran made no rash election promises, made use of no trite expressions, and dodged no issues.

The debating club charge was the result of the "big name" band controversy, which Joe alleged was a squabble over "a mere" $35. Don Reynolds, Council president and moderator for the program, attempted to answer the charges from the platform, but promised to do so more fully in a letter to the editor.

Also on the gymnasium stage were 19 other students. Neil Dadurka read the Bible to open the program. The others were candidates.

SEMI-FORMAL OR FORMAL?

Don Reynolds, Student Council President, has announced that although the Cinderella Ball is advertised as a formal affair, semi-formal attire will be accepted. However, formal dress is preferred.

People who would like to work at the Cinderella Ball are urged to contact Rose Weinstein by Wednesday. Workers will be paid for their services.

Dave Roebuck and Al Jones were elected as representatives from Butler Hall to the IDC for the coming school year.

Dinner-Dance Tonight At Legion for Juniors; Figart Band Featured

by M. L. Onufer

Approximately 175 people will attend the Junior Class dinner-dance this evening. The affair, scheduled to begin at 6:30, will be held in the Wilkes-Barre American Legion, Post 132. It will give the members of the class an opportunity to meet together off campus.

The dinner-dance is a follow-up of the buffet dinner held last year by the class to honor the two-year terminal students. The theme of the affair will be, "The Growth of Wilkes as a Four-Year College", since the class of '58 will be the tenth class to receive diplomas from Wilkes.

The members of the class will enjoy a dinner of either lobster tail or turkey for the nominal price of $1.00 per person or $1.50 per couple. The fee paid by the individual student is only a small part of the total expenses. The remainder will be paid from the class treasury.

Mr. Robert Riley, head of the Psychology Department, and Dave Vann, president of the class, will speak after dinner.

Bill Figart's orchestra will play for dancing from 9 to 12. Members of the class who have not made reservations for dinner may come for dancing. Invitations will be necessary for admittance to dinner.

Anyone who makes a reservation for dinner and fails to use it will be required to pay the total cost of the dinner; that is, the amount which it costs the class rather than the amount which the individual members pays.

Bob Scally, general chairman of the affair, stated that money for the dinner will be collected at the Legion.

The Senior Spectacle, the one big chance for the seniors "to let their hair down", is slated for Saturday night in the gym between nine and twelve o'clock.

Bob Moran's Ivy Leaguers, professional entertainers, and some amateurs from Wilkes have all combined their talents to help make this year's spectacle a memorable occasion.

Bob Moran has promised types of music to suit every taste, while from the professional ranks, Richard Goodall, Valley celebrity, an accordionist, and a singer from the Spotlight Artists will be on hand to enliven intermission.

Larry Amdur, master of ceremonies, has not divulged just what our senior talent will do; that information is still top secret.

Everyone is urged to attend this "special" for the nominal fee of 60 cents. This event, which is usually well attended, is an annual project and marks the beginning of the last round of activities for the seniors. Any profit made at this affair will go toward the purchasing of a class gift for the college.

The entire program will be under the direction of Gene Roth, who has appointed the following committee heads to assist him: refreshments, John Coates; tickets, Neil Dadurka; and publicity, Frank Cuscela, Jerry Stein, Norma Davis.

SHOE SHINE DAYS

Neil Dadurka, president of the Lettermen's Club, has announced that members of the organization will shine shoes next Thursday and Friday, the Lettermen's annual Shoe Shine Days. Money collected in this project will be used for a scholarship fund.

Bob Yokavonus and Art Tambur are General Chairmen. Tambur has challenged Prof. Micheli in a watermelon-eating contest, which is scheduled for next Friday at 12 o'clock behind Chase Hall.

SENIOR SPECTACLE TONIGHT AT NINE IN GYM

EDITORIAL —

Student Council Views

After listening politely to the first fourteen speakers as they paid lip service to the "high ideals" of campus politics, it was refreshing to hear the forthright, straight-from-the-shoulder speech made by Joe Oliver, a real politician. Joe levelled a scorching verbal blast at the present Student Council.

The junior Council candidate alleged that the student body was not consulted in setting up the scholarship fund from the excess of the Student Activities budget; that the Cinderella Ball will not have a "big name" band due to a squabble over a mere $35; and that the Council allowed the Administration to usurp some of its control, by exerting pressure in the selection of the Winter Carnival site, and attempting to keep the bar closed to those persons who were of age.

The Council was denounced as being an "intellectual debating club", a "social organization", and a group of quibblers and do-nothings. Members were called down collectively for failing to represent the classes which elected them.

The incidents of the specific charges are now history and it would prove little to debate them here. The general charges, which we would lump under the heading: inefficiency, deserve some notice.

REACTIONS UNDER FIRE

The Council's actions this week, while under fire, illustrate the inefficiency of the group.

First, Council President Don Reynolds took unfair advantage of Joe Oliver's position as a candidate by using his own office of chairman of the speaking platform to answer the charges made. Even if Joe had had a chance to answer Don's refutation, which he didn't, it was out of place for the moderator to jeopardize the position of a candidate in such a way.

Second, the Council President vowed to explain all the facts on the "big name" band issue in a letter to the editor. This promise was made before an estimated 800 students and faculty members at the program. At one o'clock that afternoon he was informed of the 10 P.M. (Tuesday) deadline for letters and renewed the promise. As of this writing (Thursday), we have received no such letter.

COMPROMISE? WE'RE FROM MISSOURI

Third, after receiving protests from a number of students on the decision to make the Cinderella Ball formal this year, the Council debated for approximately one hour and reached a decision (of sorts), by which the dance will still be a formal, but at which semi-formal attire will be permitted (or should we say tolerated?). This alleged compromise is supposed to appease those who protested the formal on the grounds that the cost was too high. Some compromise! Do you want to know who your poor friends are? Just look at the blue suits and see who couldn't afford to rent a tuxedo.

Fourth, since so much time was spent in debate on the above point, the Tuesday evening session of the makers of laws did not complete the business which was the stated purpose for the meeting, the first reading of proposed changes in the Constitution. Hence, another meeting was scheduled for Wednesday. It was not held, since a quorum could not be reached. We are just about convinced that the amendments will not come before the student body for a vote this semester.

FUTURE STUDENT COUNCIL FORMALS

As an afterthought, we would like to add this. The Student Council's social functions should be for the benefit of the WHOLE student body. This is only proper, since the group professes to represent the whole student body. At least that is the impression we got listening to the speeches in assembly. A formal dance cannot be attended by everyone, since many students do not have the money. Hence, the Student Council does not have the right to use the activity funds of everyone for the benefit of some.

Granted that many students requested more formals on the forms distributed in assembly some time ago. But the requests were never voted on by the students. We believe that if such a vote were taken, it would show that a great number of people would like one formal dance in the Spring, sponsored by some organization other than the Student Council. — tim

BLOOD DONOR DRIVE ON TUESDAY, MAY 14

Wilkes students are reminded once again that Tuesday, May 14, will be Blood Donor Day for the college.

The various campus clubs and organizations will compete to stimulate interest in the drive. Winning clubs will be chosen on the number of pints of blood donated and the percentage of club participation in the drive.

Students are reminded, too, of the new type blood insurance plan now in operation, through which eight families of Wilkes students have obtained blood.

W.C. DEBATERS FINISH NINTH IN WEST POINT TOURNAMENT

After three days and 12 rounds of debating on the national debate topic, "Resolved, That the United States Should Discontinue Giving Direct Economic Aid to Foreign Countries," little Augustana College of Rock Island, Illinois, emerged as the national debate champion by defeating West Point in the final round of the National Invitational Debate Tournament, held at West Point, April 24-27. Both teams survived the elimination rounds in what is known as the "World Series of Intercollegiate Debate," which brought together this year 36 of the leading debate teams of the United States.

Wilkes College, represented by John Bucholtz and Jesse Choper, finished in ninth place. The top ten teams in the nation were:

- | | |
|---------------|----------------|
| 1. Augustana | 6. Dartmouth |
| 2. Army | 7. St. Peter's |
| 3. Fordham | 8. Harvard |
| 4. Pittsburgh | 9. Wilkes |
| 5. Oklahoma | 10. Houston |

After surviving the 8 seeding rounds on Thursday and Friday, Wilkes was eliminated in the quarter-finals on Saturday morning by Dartmouth, winner of their district tourney. Four other District VII teams, besides Wilkes, qualified for the final rounds — Pittsburgh, St. Peter's, Princeton, and St. Joseph's, last year's runner-up to Army.

Although Wilkes placed ninth in the final standings, they placed second in total team points. Both Jesse and John placed in the top ten speakers, with Choper being third and Bucholtz tenth best individual debater in the nation. Only Augustana had a higher team point total. For the first time in the history of the National Tourney a woman debater, Patricia Stallings of the University of Houston, won the top speaker award.

This year's national tourney saw several interesting sidelights. For the first time a man and wife team was entered in the competition, Anthony and Elynor McPeak, both seniors, representing San Diego State College. Mrs. McPeak, besides being an outstanding debater, is also an expectant mother. Also entered for the first time was a team consisting of two brothers, Ronald and William Young, representing Pacific University.

Wilkes also had its human interest story. J. Harold Flannery, Jr., star Wilkes debater of two years ago and a member of the Wilkes second place team in 1955, was in attendance as the coach of the University of Pennsylvania team. A protege of Wilkes coach Dr. Arthur Kruger, Flannery often teamed with Choper during the 1955 season and compiled a brilliant record for Wilkes as a debater. In his first year as coach of the Penn team he has done an equally outstanding job as indicated by his team's entry in the national tourney.

Wilkes expects to wind up the season next week at the Eastern Forensic Association Conference Tourney, which is being held this year at N.Y.U. A full contingent has been entered for the various debate, extemporaneous speaking, and oratory events which are scheduled.

RECITAL BY ISAACS SUNDAY NITE IN GYM

by Ruth Younger

Mr. Wilbur G. Isaacs will present a recital of art songs in the gymnasium on Sunday, May 5, at eight P.M. Mr. Bruce Barbour will be the accompanist for Mr. Isaacs.

All of the art songs that Mr. Isaacs has chosen to be present in this program are the works of Gabriel Faure.

A graduate of Randolph-Macon, Mr. Isaacs is a member of the faculty in the Music Department, where he teaches voice.

The recital is open to the public and there will be no admission charge.

BIOLOGISTS TO HOLD OUTING AT WOLFE'S

by Jerome Stein

President Leslie P. Weiner of the Wilkes College Biological Society announced last week that the annual outing of the group will be held this Sunday at Wolfe's Grove. The festivities will begin at 11:00 A.M. and will last until the evening hours.

The Juniors of the club have been designated to take care of all the arrangements. Sam Puma is in charge of sports. Ronnie Olsheski is making preparations for providing refreshments, while Tom Dreisbach is providing the ice to make the refreshments more enjoyable.

Sam Mines and Barry Miller are responsible for the food and Frank Gallia is in charge of transportation.

All those who attended last year's outing enjoyed themselves very much. This year's outing promises to be as enjoyable. A cordial invitation has been given to all those people who served at the Biology Club's Science Show two weeks ago.

COLLEGIANS LIST PERFORMANCES

The Collegians will perform for a Plymouth-Nanticoke Rotary meeting at Plymouth on May 6. On May 7 the group will sing for the sell-out crowd at the Wilkes-Barre Chamber of Commerce Banquet in the college gym.

On May 8, the chorus will give an evening performance at the Commons. The affair will be sponsored by Mr. Chwalek. On Sunday afternoon, May 12, a benefit performance will be given at the Second Presbyterian Church.

Preview Performance For Area High Schools Deemed Satisfactory

Tonight is the final performance of Cue 'n' Curtain's major production of the year, The Shoemaker's Holiday, an Elizabethan comedy by Thomas Dekker.

The play was originally written in five acts, but has been cut down to three acts by director Alfred S. Groh, the drama club's adviser.

In typical Elizabethan style, the story has two romantic plots and two sets of lovers to reconcile at the end. The shoemakers, being the "gentle craft", naturally have a good time while getting the four lovers together.

A preview performance was given on Wednesday night for students from the area high schools and an estimated 175 persons were in attendance. The performance on the whole was satisfactory, although the listener had to have a good ear to catch all of the dialogue. The actors could have enunciated better, although the fault lies mostly in the acoustics of the gymnasium.

Merri Jones was the standout of the Wednesday performance as the wife of Simon Eyre, the shoemaker. Merri's lines were consistently audible and she did not quit acting when she wasn't talking, which is a virtue others could learn. Andy Evans gave a rollicking performance as Firk, as he does in any role he assays. The two performers put most of the life into the drama.

A word of praise is in order for Arlene Martin and her crew, who did an excellent job of costuming for the production. The lighting crew also did a first-rate job.

ED. CLUB MEETING

The Education Club will meet at eleven o'clock in Sturdevant Hall next Thursday to vote for the senior boy and girl who have contributed the most to the club in the past four years.

HAMPTON EXCHANGE STUDENTS TO ARRIVE TODAY AT FIVE P.M.

Wilkes will entertain five students from Hampton College this weekend in its second annual exchange program. Wilkes students Les Weiner, Jim Moser, Robert Morris and Bill Farish, accompanied by Dean Ralston, traveled to Virginia for a weekend at the college a few weeks ago.

The men will arrive at five o'clock this afternoon and will stay in the dormitories. A program has been arranged in which the guests will participate in the weekend activities of the college.

Tonight they will attend Cue 'n' Curtain's production of The Shoemaker's Holiday, and on Saturday following a morning tour of the campus the Hampton men will have a conference with Dr. Farley. The afternoon will be spent at Dr. Farley's farm, then at the Senior Spectacle, the guests will be given a taste of Wilkes' talent. The men will leave after the noon meal on Sunday.

The program was initiated to give the students experience in human relations. It is hoped that the program can be extended in the future so as to allow women to participate and also a study program in which the students would spend a semester or year studying

PARENTS' DAY PROGRAM

Invitations are being mailed this week by the Administration to all the parents of Wilkes College students for the annual Parents' Day Program which will be held Sunday, May 12, in the college gymnasium. The Wilkes band will provide entertainment.

Bandleader Bob Moran has announced the final rehearsal will be held in the gymnasium at 7:45, Wednesday evening, May 8.

at the exchange school. Hampton has been carrying on such a study program with Yale, Princeton and Oberlin.

The men from Wilkes had an enjoyable and informative weekend at Hampton and it is hoped that the students from Hampton will receive the same hospitable welcome.

Warner Hall Dormitory Elects Jerry Minturn As 1957-1958 President

Gerald Minturn, Genoa, N.Y., has been elected president of Warner Hall for the 1957-58 school year. A former member of the United States Marine Corps, Jerry is studying electrical engineering.

Holding a double office, Arthur Richards, Wilmington, Del., serves as vice-president and IDC representative from Warner. Art, a transfer from Wesley Junior College and a commerce and finance student, is a member of the Wilkes baseball team.

Handling the financial affairs as treasurer of Warner Hall is Charles A. Jones from Pittsburgh, Pa. Charlie is also a transfer from Wesley Junior College and studying commerce and finance.

Again representing Warner Hall for the third straight year as IDC member is James Moser of Danville, Pa. Jim is currently the president of the Inter-Dormitory Council, and is majoring in chemistry.

Current Events Director for Warner Hall is William Foose from Nuremberg, Pa. Bill has been a Dean's list student and is studying chemistry.

CAMPUS RETAILING GROUP PLANS CAREERS CONFERENCE

by Bill Zdanczewicz

At a recent meeting of the Retailing Group, final arrangements were made for the Career Conference to be held at the college on Friday, May 10.

Invitations have been sent to high schools in surrounding areas.

T.D.R. MOTHER'S DAY TEA

This afternoon the girls of TDR will entertain their mothers at a Mother's Day Tea on the lawn of McClintock Hall. The administration, office staff and all faculty wives have been invited also.

The chairman of the tea is Virginia Brehm, with Mary Frances Swigert and Judy Menegus serving as co-chairmen. Other committee heads are Rose Weinstein, publicity; and Mary West, program.

'BEACON' COPIES NEEDED

Anyone having copies of the April 5 Beacon in reasonably good condition, please give it to one of the members of the Beacon's staff. The staff would like some copies of this issue to complete its files.

Mr. Stein, faculty adviser of the group, stated that such a career conference will not only present a clearer understanding of the field of retailing to high school students, but that it would also provide an opportunity for the college student to learn more about retailing, by first-hand information from persons employed in that field.

Several planned events are: a coffee hour, speakers, a film on retailing, lunch, and a panel discussion by Wilkes graduates now employed in retailing positions.

The conference will conclude with three tours to various stores in the Wilkes-Barre area.

The following committees were formed: panel discussion, Ronald Tremayne; publicity, Bill Zdanczewicz; refreshments, Barbara Gates, Patsy Reed, Arlene Martin, Helene Szymaszek; registration, Jacob Dvornicky, Bill Zdanczewicz; research, Joseph Leibman; equipment and contacts, Elmer Snyder, Myron Suseck.

Survey Ends Tomorrow; Parking Lots Checked By Retailing Students

by Bill Zdanczewicz

The third and final stage of the traffic survey will end tomorrow. During this past week, all parking lots in the Wilkes-Barre area were surveyed. The completed forms will be collected on Monday by the group of students working on the survey.

The parking lot form required more work on the part of the owner, as compared to the other two phases. In addition to supplying background information, the proprietor also had to take a count of the spaces still available on his lot, every hour during the day.

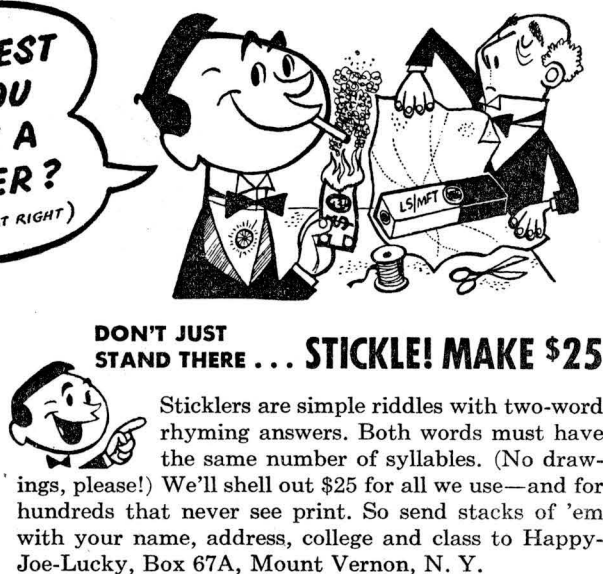

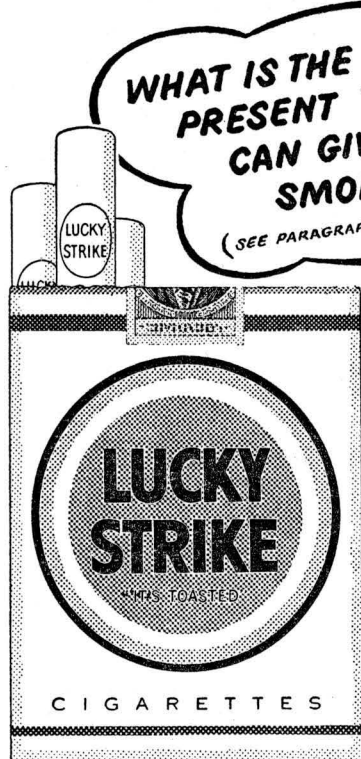

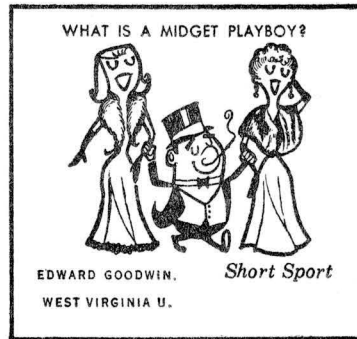

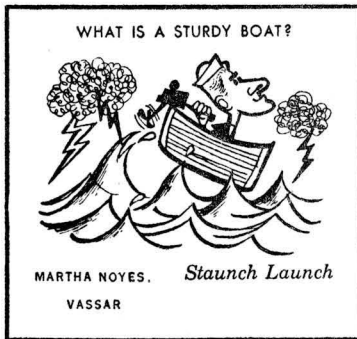

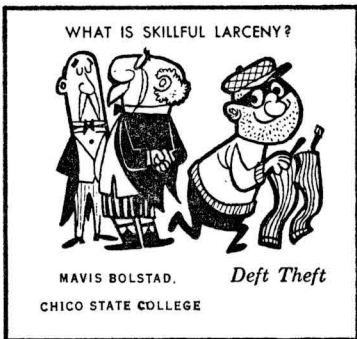

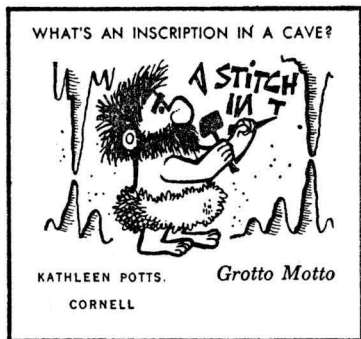

Survey students were also required to take "spot checks" of these parking lots, which would act as a double check, to be used later for tabulation.

Forms from the business firm phase are still being returned. The survey group reported that of the total, only a small percentage of firms refused to co-operate. However, due to the seasonal aspect, many firms misplaced or lost the forms. These were replaced with new ones.

Wilkes College statistics classes are now tabulating the information received from the bus transportation phase of the survey. Their work is under the supervision of Dr. Samuel Rosenberg. They are tabulating such information as days traveled, hours, origin of trip, classification, reasons for trip, and other facts.

At present the survey group is collecting background material and other pertinent facts, which will be combined into a booklet to assist the committee in the final tabulation.

BIRNBAUM IS "ATHLETE OF WEEK" FOR SPARKLING SIX-HIT PITCHING

Ed Struck Out Seven, Walked Three Batters In Win Over Warriors

Eddie Birnbaum was awarded this week's Beacon "Athlete of the Week" title.

Moving up from last year's role as relief pitcher, the 21-year-old junior is now the Colonels' number one starting pitcher.

Last Saturday, against the Lycoming Warriors, Eddie pitched the first full nine-inning game recorded by a Wilkes pitcher this season, scattering six singles throughout the contest to record his second win.

The stocky left-hander had himself a busy day at the plate, in addition to his stint on the mound. He had two hits in four times at bat, scored a run, and had a run batted in.

On the hill, Eddie was in trouble in the fourth and eighth innings, but came out of both jams. In the final stages of the game, Eddie called on his hidden reserves and uncorked a hopping fast ball that had the Warriors guessing and swinging badly.

He allowed six hits, but only in the fourth inning did the visitors get more than one. He walked three men, struck out seven, and left only three men on base.

It was a good day's work for the southpaw hurler, who has played courageous ball all season; but most satisfying is the fact that in turning in his nine-inning six-hitter, Eddie has proved himself to be ready and able to handle any assignment.

The team he beat on Saturday afternoon was, and is, a strong contender for the Mid-Atlantic crown. They had won four in a row when Eddie slapped them down.

Eddie Birnbaum Hurls 1st Nine-Inning Game For Win Over Lycoming

The Colonels registered their fourth win in six starts at Artillery Park on Saturday by a 5-2 score, over Lycoming.

Some 200 fans saw the first nine-inning performance by a Wilkes pitcher this year, as Eddie Birnbaum turned in a six-hit performance for his second win of the campaign.

The game lasted about four hours, being held up in the fourth inning by a half-hour downpour. There were a couple of fullfledged "rhubarbs" and eight errors to live up the afternoon.

Ron Rescigno, Bob Sokol, and Eddie Birnbaum each had two hits, all singles.

For the Colonels, the win was their third in Mid-Atlantic competition. The win over Rider and the loss to Ithaca will not affect Wilkes in conference standings, since these teams are not conference members. The other non-conference team on the schedule is Saturday's opposition, Stroudsburg.

HENDERSHOT, GACHA HONORED IN TARDY 'ATHLETE' AWARDS

Because of space limitations in the last two issues of the Beacon, there were no weekly awards for outstanding athletes.

To correct that unavoidable lapse, the sports staff wishes to acknowledge the efforts of two men who have done some fine work on the diamond from the start of the season up to last week.

The first of these is hard-hitting Ralph Hendershot. The freshman Plymouth native opened the Colonels' 1957 season with a home run in his first appearance at the plate. Since then, he has added two doubles, a triple and a single to his list of accomplishments.

Ralph will be remembered particularly for his ninth-inning batting in the Albright game, when he broke up the 6-6 tie with a booming double off the 410-foot marker on the right-field scoreboard. Running like a deer, and taking advantage of poor fielding, he streaked home with the winning run.

Ralph leads the team in runs scored with seven, and is tied with Bob Sokol in runs batted in. He leads the team in extra-base hits.

Second of the men to be honored is George Gacha. Another of the freshman stars, George has appeared in relief of southpaws Birnbaum and Hoats four times this year, gaining credit for two wins against one loss.

The five-foot-nine right-hander shows a tricky soft curveball, a good fastball and a respectable amount of control.

In the Scranton contest, George scored twice, aided his mates with a hit, and in a flashy show of heads-up base-running, capped the five-run eighth inning with a steal of home.

George also has banged out a double. Disproving the old bromide that pitchers can't hit, George has been used as a pinch-hitter twice this year, getting on base both times.

The 26-year-old Navy vet was also a standout on the basketball court, one of the starting team.

Coach Reese, expects to give George his first starting assignment at Stroudsburg tomorrow in reward for the fine relief hurling he has done this year.

TENNIS TEAM GETS USE OF CITY COURTS, WILL BEGIN PRACTICE MONDAY AFTERNOON

Bart Sokol, student manager of the Wilkes tennis team, announced that practice will be held daily at the City courts, located behind the Luzerne County Courthouse. The sessions will begin at 5:00 P.M. and will last as long as there is daylight. Next Monday will be the first day.

The match scheduled for last Friday at Moravian had to be cancelled because the team was unable to hold any practice due to the bad weather and unplayable conditions at the courts.

On Monday, all players are requested to be prompt, since a maximum use of the remaining time is necessary.

Anyone who would like to join the eight men already trying out for the team is requested to report to Bart Sokol immediately, or to report for practice on Monday afternoon. Players are asked to bring their own rackets. Balls will be provided.

AMNICOLA DEADLINE

Today is the deadline for making applications for positions on the staff of next year's Amnicola.

Make friends with Winston!

WINSTON is in a class by itself for flavor!

It's fun to share a good thing! That's why you see so many Winstons being passed around these days. Try 'em. You'll like their rich, full flavor, too. And you'll like the way the Winston filter, snowy-white and pure, lets that rich flavor come through. Smoke America's best-selling, best-tasting filter cigarette! Find out for yourself: Winston tastes good — like a cigarette should!

FORMER COLONEL STAR HONORED

From Philadelphia comes word of the progress of a former Colonel Athlete. George J. McMahon, a 1953 grad and recipient of the Beacon's "Athlete of the Year" award for that year, was recently honored for his work in the field of medical research.

Myers

McMahon was co-captain of the football team, a member of the wrestling squad, and served as president of the Senior class.

George is another in the long line of college graduates who are dispelling the popular notion that all collegiate athletes are muscle-bound products of athletically strong, but educationally weak diploma foundries.

We at Wilkes can be especially proud of him in this respect, for he came to Wilkes as an athlete of some renown at Coughlin High School in wrestling and track.

In addition to the awards he won at Coughlin, Wilkes, and now at the U. of P. Medical department, he will receive his crowning achievement in June when he is awarded his Doctorate in Medicine. From the sports staff of the BEACON — congratulations on a job well done.

TENNIS PLAYERS STILL NEEDED

The Wilkes tennis squad, operating under the severe handicap of too little practice, was forced to cancel its first match. Part of the reasons for the squad not getting underway, however, can be traced to apathy on the part of those students who earlier had expressed desires to compete with other colleges in the net sport.

Now the team is operating with eight candidates and will begin daily sessions at the Courthouse tennis courts beginning at 5:00 P.M. on Monday. All those who are interested in playing are urged to see Dean Ralston or Bart Sokol as soon as possible.

INTEREST IN SWIMMING GROWS

Several students have expressed a desire for the re-institution of a Wilkes varsity swimming team. They seem to feel that this department should take the initiative and start things rolling.

We can only suggest, and try to "build a fire" under those who might wish to enter into competitive swimming. It is the opinion here that there are some fine swimmers in the student body, and if sufficient interest is shown before the start of the next term, satisfactory arrangements could be made at the local Y.M.C.A. or the J.C.C. for use of a pool.

Such arrangements are made through the Department of Athletics, the director of which is Dean of Men George Ralston. If any hopeful mermen (or mermaids) would organize themselves at once, perhaps with the possible aid of former swimming letterman Bob Sutherland, this sport could be added to the Wilkes intercollegiate calendar next year.

LET'S FILL THE SPORTS CALENDAR

We would like to see the addition of yet another new sport, namely bowling. There was a mild show of interest among intramural bowlers when an announcement was made of the 7th annual Eastern Intercollegiate match singles championship, and since then, several of these persons have indicated a willingness to form a team for intercollegiate competition.

This writer will be more than happy to see what plans can be drawn up if a sufficient number of bowlers will step forth and make themselves known.

BASEBALL FANS — ARISE!

A final word on an old subject . . . fan support. One of the greatest spectator sports, a fine American-made game, is being played at Artillery Park, featuring the Wilkes Colonels. Coach Reese's diamondmen have demonstrated that we have another potential winning team on campus, but the response from the student body leaves much to be desired.

It is true that we see a lot of support from the fans who do attend the game, but it seems that there should easily be a larger representation than the 200 or so who have been to the games played to date. We have another championship contender and we owe it to the team, Coaches Reese and Mock, and to ourselves to get out to the park and make some noise.

The only reward an athlete gets at Wilkes is the recognition of his fellow students and the faculty. We are being unfair to all concerned, ourselves included, if we fail to give them that recognition in the form of jammed stands for every home game.

Colonels Seek Repeat Win Over Stroudsburg, Meet Dutchmen Tuesday

Tomorrow afternoon, the Colonel sluggers will take a trip to East Stroudsburg. The Reesemen will be out to repeat last year's 7-1 victory in the last game between the two teams.

Wilkes played a game with the Muhlenberg Mules at Allentown yesterday, but the final score of that game was not available when the Beacon went to press.

Prior to yesterday's game, the Colonels turned in successive wins over a strong Scranton club and previously undefeated Lycoming. Their record as of yesterday was four wins against two losses.

With the steady hitting power throughout the lineup and the solid pitching shown by Eddie Birnbaum in the contest with the Warriors, it seems that the Colonels have the potential to produce a winning record.

Possible starter for tomorrow's game is right-hander George Gacha. "Zip" has been throwing hard all week, and seems to have worked out the soreness that plagued him at the start of the campaign.

Following the game tomorrow, the team will be idle until Tuesday afternoon when they will again take to the road. They will journey down to Annville to take on the ever-dangerous Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley. They will return home for a Saturday contest with Ursinus, following a Friday afternoon game at Ithaca.

The record of the team and the remaining schedule is as follows:

INTRAMURAL SOFTBALL PACED BY HIGH-SCORING 'MONSTERS'

By virtue of their third win in as many games, Marleen's Monsters took undisputed possession of first place in the American League. The Monsters batted around twice in the first inning of the Tuesday game against the Probation Nine, and scored 15 times before being retired.

A total of six home runs were hit off losing pitcher Gavazzi. Shaver had two, Yurkowski, Roman, Rinkin, and Davis each had one. Shaver's second blast cleared the right field fence.

Macri was the winning pitcher, relieved by Bill Tremayne in the sixth inning. The final score was 27-16.

In other American League action, the Champs took an 18-5 decision from the Butler Bombers. Perky was the winning pitcher and aided his own cause with a mighty home run blast as well as two other hits.

Batteries for the winners: Perky and Weiss; for the losers: Schecter and Lubushtiz.

Scores of last week's contests in the American loop: Marleen's Monsters 19, D.R.L. Hombres 5; Probation Nine 7, Champs 5.

In the National League on Monday, April 29, John Wasickan pitched the Incinerators to a 7-5 win over the Spanish Flyers, who had only seven men at the game. Losing pitcher was Tambur.

Club 20 took a close 15-13 win over the Phonies. Michaels was the winning pitcher, and also had four hits.

In National League play last week, the Eagles were shot down by the Sleepers, 11-6, due mainly to the hitting of Jack Nealon.

In the other contest, Wasickan was the winning hurler in another tight game. The final score was 8-7.

Standings in the American League on April 30 are as follows:

	W	L	Pct.
Monsters	3	0	1.000
Champs	2	1	.667
Econ Club	1	1	.500
D.R.L. Hombres	1	1	.500
Butler Bombers	1	2	.333
Probation Nine	1	2	.333
Butler Bombers	0	3	.000

National League standings up to April 29:

	W	L	Pct.
Incinerators	2	0	1.000
Club 20	2	0	1.000
Spanish Flyers	1	1	.500
Sleepers	1	1	.500

GOLFERS DOWNED IN ROUND-ROBIN PLAY, HOLDING EXTENSIVE PRE-TOURNEY DRILLS

The Wilkes golf team, in their first competition of the season, went down to a double defeat last Friday afternoon. Hofstra won the triple meet, defeating Scranton by a score of 12½ to 5½, and shutting out the Colonels by the maximum 18-0 score.

Scranton, finishing in the middle, took the measure of the Colonels by a 17½ to ½ count.

Scoring is based on every team member's results for each nine holes. For every team member who captures the first nine holes, his team is awarded one point. For every man who takes the back nine, another point is awarded, and for the whole 18 holes, the final point is given.

The lone Wilkes tally came from Art Belles, who halved the back nine with his opponent from Scranton.

The total score, however, can be misleading. For instance, in several cases, Wilkes men halved some holes, took a few by close margins, and lost some by close scores, yet did not turn in few enough strokes to be awarded a point for the overall nine holes.

In addition, the Colonels, in their first match of the year, were pitted against two teams who have each had ten previous matches.

The golfers will get plenty of practice daily in preparation for the Middle Atlantic tourney, which will be held this year at the Mount Union American Legion Country Club over the weekend of May 11.

It is hoped that a few of the good golfers on campus who have not come out for practice will give coach Curtis a hand now when the need is great, and bolster what is potentially a fine squad.

U. OF P. CITES W.C. GRADUATE FOR RESEARCH ON 'THE BENDS'

George McMahon, a Wilkes graduate, has made a valuable contribution in the field of science. He has received a special award for a research project done at University of Pennsylvania Medical School involving caisson disease, commonly called "the bends".

This affliction is one of the many hazards faced by the daring deep sea divers and sandhogs, for if not fatal it frequently causes paralysis. It is due to the great pressures divers are subject to in the ocean depths and is also encountered by the men who work in pressurized compartments driving tunnels beneath rivers.

McMahon's award-winning project was entitled "Use of Multiple Inert Gases in Decompression". The decompression involved is the gradual ascent to normal pressure with an attempt to replace the fatal nitrogen with inert harmless gases.

The research in which McMahon was engaged is a part of the U. S. Navy's medical program at the University of Pennsylvania. After receiving his M.D. this June from the university, he will immediately begin his internship.

While a student at Wilkes, where he received his bachelor of science degree in 1953, he was co-captain of the football team, wrestled for the Colonels and was one of the first lettermen to receive the "Athlete of the Year" award presented by the Beacon.

EDWIN C. HEINLE IS AWARDED DOCTORATE

Mr. Edwin C. Heinle, an instructor in the English department, received notice last week that he had been awarded his doctorate by Columbia University.

His dissertation is, "The Eighteenth Century Allegorical Essay". Dr. Heinle said that these essays were a popular literary style during that century, and appeared in many of the journals, such as the Spectator.

Dr. Heinle added that the principle writers of this period were Addison, Steele, Goldsmith, Swift, Fielding, and Johnson. These writers turned to this style when they were pressed for something to write.

Dr. Heinle said that his study shows how these allegorical essays use two ancient Greek allegories, The Choice of Hercules and The Table of Cebes, as their models. He stated his study also shows the relationship of the Renaissance and eighteenth century allegorical paintings to these essays. Dr. Heinle also included some of the fascinating pre-Freudian theories of dreams in his dissertation since most of the allegorical essays were presented in a dream framework.

Dr. Heinle joined the English department this past fall. He had previously taught at Delaware and Columbia Universities. Dr. Heinle had done his undergraduate study at Drew University from where he received his A.B. He received his M.A. from Columbia University. His master's thesis was also on the field of eighteenth century English literature. Dr. Heinle also attended a special course in Elizabethan drama conducted by the University of Birmingham, England, at Stratford-on-Avon.

Dr. Heinle has accepted a position for next fall at Wagner College, Staten Island, New York.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

Willard Hughes: "I didn't come to college to learn anything. I came to get credit for what I already know."

Dr. Davies (discussing Shakespeare's 'Juliet'): "Girls of fourteen should be engaged in playing hopscotch — not engaged to be married."

Mr. Miller (after a discussion of Wordsworth's Ode on Intimations of Immortality): "Get this title straight. Don't give me what one boy did — Indications of Immorality."

Dr. Davies (speaking of English 152): "That marvelous course that gives more material to forget than any other course."

Lettermen Select Pat Reed

Neil Dadurka, left, is shown presenting the Colonel's Queen, Pat Reed, with a gold wrist watch, while Bill Farish is ready with other gifts for the Queen.

Beauty, Poise, Service Bases for Selection Of the Colonels' Queen

by Marion J. Klawonn

In a Central Park setting, pert, brown-haired Patsy Reed was chosen Colonel's Queen at the annual April Showers Ball Saturday night.

Neil Dadurka, president of the Lettermen's Club, conferred the title on Miss Reed and presented her with a lovely Bulova wrist-watch donated by Meyer's Jewelers.

A group of senior lettermen and the executive council served as the selection committee. The Queen was chosen on the basis of beauty, poise and service to the college and the Lettermen's Club.

Miss Reed is a sophomore economics major from Kingston. While at Wilkes, she has been active in the Economics Club, the girls' basketball team, and TDR.

Miss Reed was escorted to the dance by Ed Birnbaum, Wilkes Letterman.

INTER-DORM OUTING SUN. AT LAKE LOUISE

by Marion J. Klawonn

The Inter-Dorm Council will hold its annual outing on Sunday, May 5, at Lake Louise.

IDC president Jim Moser announced that games will be played and prizes awarded. There is a baseball field available and, if it is warm enough, the merry-makers will be able to splash around in the lake.

Although the outing is restricted to dorm students, their guests will be welcome. Food will be supplied by the Council. Jim promises that there will be plenty of food for the hungry athletes.

The outing starts at one o'clock and rides will be supplied by those dorm students who have cars.

This will be the last affair sponsored by the Council this season. They have held several swimming parties, a dance and a horseback riding party during the year.

Elections are being held for new representatives and the results will be published as soon as they are received.

"I saw a doctor today about my loss of memory."

"What did he do?"

"Made me pay him in advance!"

CHEERLEADERS CHOSEN

Five smiling coeds and a most happy fellow have been selected to represent the college on next year's cheerleading squad. Two other coeds were chosen as substitutes.

The new cheerleaders are: Jean Broody, Carol Herwig, Georgianna Sebolka, Mary Ann Turner, Rose Weinstein, and Gene Stickler, last year's Wilkes Colonel. Substitutes are Doris Dzurica and Mullie Spinelli.

The judging committee included Mrs. Doane, John D. Curtis, Millie Gittins, Judy Menegus, and Alison Rubury.

CHEM CLUB ELECTIONS

In last week's meeting of the Chemistry Club, Mary Matthey was elected president of the organization. Assisting her in office will be: Sal Valenti, vice-president; Carole Lowcavage, secretary; and Raye Thomas, treasurer.

Plans were discussed to attend the Intercollegiate Chemical Society's outing at Rocky Glen picnic grounds on May 5. The I.C.S. is a Northeastern Pennsylvania group composed of students from Wilkes, Misericordia, King's and Scranton.

The meeting featured a lecture on high temperature factories by Dr. Harry Mikami of Philadelphia's Levino Company.

ECONOMICS CLUB

Members of the Economics Club have elected the following officers for next year: president, Bill James; vice-president, Bob Scally; recording secretary, Harold Shannon; corresponding secretary, Bill Savitsky; and treasurer, Frank Kogut.

Peter Gale IRC President

Peter Gale was elected president of the International Relations Club at a recent meeting. Mr. Gale, a first-semester senior, won on a re-ballot over his opponent, Joe Oliver.

Gordon Roberts was elected by the members of the club to represent them as chairman of the Intercollegiate Council on Government.

Other officers elected were: Richard Davis, vice-president; Arlene Martin, secretary; Daisette Gebhart, treasurer.

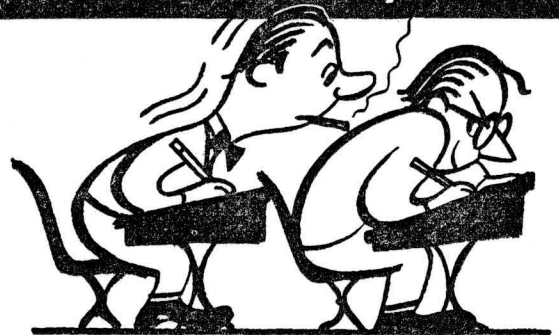

For the position of parliamentarian, the members chose Robert Davis; and for sergeant-at-arms, Clarence Michaels was chosen.

MANUSCRIPT NOTICE

The Manuscript Association will meet next Wednesday evening at 7:30 in Harding Hall to elect next year's editorial staff.
