

Best Homecoming Weekend Planned

BEACON, Committee On School Spirit Plan Big Pep Rally - Bonfire

by Mary Louise Onufer

The biggest bonfire - pep rally of the year will be on the eve of the Homecoming game with Ursinus. The Beacon, headed by Tom Myers, and the school spirit committee under Dave Vann, have been working to get full co-operation of all the students while Jack Curtis and Russ Picton have been doing the same with the Alumni. So, all in all, this should be the best remembered event of the football season.

The event will begin at 6:30, when the student body will assemble on Chase Lawn to watch the Freshmen carry Jud to his cremation at the bonfire at Baldwin field.

There, Ron Rescigno, football captain, will light the bonfire and begin the pep rally. The football and soccer teams will be presented, and their captains and coaches will speak. It is also believed that Al Nicholas and Gerard Washco, WC back and lineman of the decade, respectively, will be there.

The festivities will be highlighted by the presentation of the third annual homecoming queen and her princesses. The queen will be escorted to her throne by Colonel Wilkes and the princesses by Ahmad Kazimi and Bill Farish.

Perhaps we should mention here that anyone who has not nominated a homecoming queen candidate and wishes to do so, please drop a letter to the Beacon editor. After all, this is your queen.

Finally, the Freshmen will cremate poor "Jud", who, after all he's been through deserves some participation in these royal festivities.

The bonfire will be ended by a parade to the Wilkes gym. Gil Gregory, parade chairman, announced this schedule. The queen and princesses will lead the parade with Dr. Farley and the Deans. The student body will follow on foot and then the football and soccer teams and their coaches in cars.

Osterhout Will Exhibit Literature and Photos On Sesquicentennial

The Osterhout Library, Wilkes' cultural neighbor in the first block of South Franklin Street, holds its exhibition of Sesqui-centennial pictures and photos this weekend.

Pictures, maps and books tell the story of Wilkes-Barre and its development from the sleepy agricultural town it was 15 years ago to the industrial city it is today.

Coal mining, transportation, industry, buildings, disasters and entertainment are all features of this graphic glimpse of local history, past and present.

The main sources of the pictures are the Historical Society, Ace Hoffman Studios, the Wilkes-Barre Transit Corporation, Ralph DeWitt and Gilbert McClintock, as well as other residents of the Valley.

The hours are 3 to 5 P.M. and 7 to 9 P.M. today and 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. on Saturday and Sunday at the Osterhout Library Annex.

Reynolds States New Procedures; Four Big Changes

Don Reynolds, president of the Student Council, announced on Tuesday that several new procedures for student activities will be instituted on the campus. In a meeting held at Harding Lounge, the council decided that in the future, all requests for organizational funds will follow a standard pattern. Forms will be available from Treasurer Larry Amdur. Requests must be made in person.

United Fund co-chairmen Neil Dadurka and Ed Kotula and Don

Don Reynolds

Reynolds announced that the College drive will begin on October 8th. The Wyoming Valley UF campaign will begin on the same date, but will extend until the 30th of October. It is hoped that the College will be able to realize its quota of $1,000 before the end of the drive. The 22nd of October is the tentative target date for completion of the campus campaign.

Reynolds also announced that in the future all campus organizations planning any social event or fund-raising project will have to present their plans to the Student Council for approval. A concrete formula of procedures for these enterprises will be drawn up by the Council shortly.

The minutes of all Council meetings will be posted on the bulletin board behind Chase Hall on the day following each session.

Reynolds said that all clubs and organizations will have to alter their schedules in order that the classes may hold their meetings at a set time. The time chosen is the second Thursday of each month, and the Council president emphasized that this time is to be kept free, and no violations will be tolerated.

The committee on class elections reported everything ready for the polling, held yesterday in Chase Theater.

A budget meeting for the Student Council is scheduled to begin at 7 P.M. Tuesday, October 9 at Harding Lounge.

Arrangements have been made for a committee to meet with Luther M. Kniffen, Mayor of Wilkes-

'FALL BALL' TONIGHT AT W.C. GYMNASIUM; ANDERSON TO PLAY

City Police Set Ban On Overtime Parking

During the past months the City officials have tried to accommodate Wilkes College students by extending many courtesies and by offering every possible consideration.

Unfortunately, a few students have taken advantage of the desire of the City officials to cooperate and have abused the courtesies that have been extended. In consequence, it is now necessary for the police to enforce the law — to the letter.

Starting Monday, October 8, cars parked on South River Street after 4 P.M. will be towed away — costs $5.00, plus $2.50 for the ticket; and cars in prohibited areas or parked beyond the time allowance will be tagged and a $2.50 fine will be collected.

City and Police officials regret that this action is necessary, but they cannot keep traffic moving or serve the other citizens of the city without enforcing the traffic laws. They will appreciate your cooperation for they derive no pleasure from fining any student.

DORM COUNCIL PLANS HOMECOMING PARTY

Jim Moser, president of the Inter-Dormitory Council, extends an open invitation today, to all alumni, faculty, and students of Wilkes to attend the Homecoming reception. The annual affair which was started last year is to be held in the cafeteria just after the game on October 13. On hand to greet the friends of the IDC will be the guest of honor, the new Homecoming Queen of 1956-57.

A record dance is being organized for the affair and refreshments will be provided for the guests. Chairs and tables are available for the campus and card sharks and will be sufficiently removed from the center of the room to provide a reasonable area for the jitterbug fans to indulge in their curious contortions.

It was stated that provisions will be made for people loving in the dorms to eat at their own convenience that evening. A buffet supper is bill-of-fare and the students may eat any time between five-forty and six-thirty.

General chairman for the party is Earl Bahl and members of the committee are: Bill Duffy, Judy Wenger, and Jerry Stein.

Barre, to discuss ways and means of improving the parking situation at Wilkes.

The committee appointed to meet with Dr. Farley to discuss the cafeteria's hours report that the student body will have to bear with the present schedule for a few more weeks. After the staff and management of the cafeteria have been given time to iron out a few problems, it is hoped that earlier opening times will again be adopted.

Weaver, Dreisbach Co-Chairmen Of Biology Club's First Event; Skit to be Presented at Intermission

by Jerome Stein

The Wilkes College Biological Society presents its third annual dance, "The Fall Ball", at the gymnasium tonight from nine to twelve o'clock. Featured will be Al Anderson and his famous orchestra, who will supply music befitting a sport dance.

Biology Club dances in the past have been very successful owing to the imagination of its members in providing original entertainment throughout the course of the evening.

Scheduled for tonight's dance will be an original skit at intermission time as well as various novelty dances throughout the evening. Those who attended last year's 'Fall Ball' remember the very amusing skit presented by some of the members of the club in which a take-off from an "actual" operation was done. Tonight's skit is another original one which should also prove to be very enjoyable.

George Weaver and Tom Dreisbach were appointed by President Leslie P. Weiner as general co-chairmen of the dance. The Publicity Committee consists of Ronnie Olshefski, Sal Valenti, and Steve Demchak. Bill Pembroke is Band Committee head. Thanks are given to Barbara Plesko who helped in the making of posters.

Fifty cents per person will be the admission charge.

The "Fall Ball" is the first of two annual dances given by the club. The other affair is the "Formaldehyde Frolic" which is given in the spring.

The dance tonight starts the club's official program for the year. The club's calendar has made provisions for members of the faculty and members of the community to speak to the biologists at specified times during the year on various phases of biology. Scheduled also in the curriculum are movies, research projects, and outings.

NOTICE

TO ALL STUDENTS

Since the first meeting of the Tribunal, I have received conflicting comments from students regarding the character of hazing and its effect upon the entire student body.

Several persons have informed me that the hazing has been handled by the proper committees and by the students in a constructive fashion. Others inform me that certain individuals have formed "kangaroo courts" and are violating hazing policies established by the Student Council. These students should recognize that in so doing they are placing themselves in opposition to the representatives of the student body and to the Administration of the College.

I have been happy to hear, however, that the Student Council is trying to correct these abuses and hope that the student body will support their elected representatives in checking abuses of the plans developed by their own responsible representatives.

Signed,

LATE NEWS FLASHES!

Yesterday's soccer game scheduled with Lafayette College at Easton was postponed due to inclement weather. It will be rescheduled later this month.

It was learned by the BEACON, today, that star tailback Ronnie Rescigno may not play in Saturday's game against Ithaca. Ron, who missed last week's tilt, after injuring his leg in the opener, was listed by Coach Russ Picton as a "very doubtful participant".

Homecoming Pep Rally

The School Spirit Committee has lined up an excellent program for the bonfire rally to be held the night before the Homecoming game. The Queen and the Princesses will be crowned. Both the soccer and football squads will be present. We may even see Al Nicholas and Gerard Washco in attendance. Plans are being worked out for a snake dance (perhaps by torchlight) over to the rally by the frosh.

As you can see, quite a bit of planning and work have been put into this by the persons involved. There are a few things they would like to see YOU do.

1. Leave your cars on campus. Or if you don't want to walk over and watch the snake dance or even participate in it, stay out of the homeward parade with your car.

2. Attend the rally.

3. Cheer at the rally. Everything else has been done for you. You need only to cheer the teams on.

Let's have some fine co-operation on this and make this Homecoming one that will be long remembered.

Overtime Parking Ban

On page one of today's issue is a notice from the City of Wilkes-Barre informing the students of Wilkes that the abuses they have committed have cost them special parking privileges.

We can sympathize with the city fathers, since it is plain that the students have not returned the favor granted to them last year. In order to move traffic in and out of the city in the evening rush hours, two lanes of southbound traffic are necessary on South River Street.

Every night from 4 to 6 p.m., we have seen cars parked on this thoroughfare, restricting the use of the street to one lane of traffic. Also, the police have to take time out from directing the heavy traffic to give tickets to the offenders and tow the cars away.

This is also expensive to students. Not many of us can afford $7.50 a day to park.

Some solution to the problem will have to be found. Does anyone have an idea? If so, get in touch with Student Council President Don Reynolds.

And when and if someone solves the problem, let's not abuse any privileges extended by the city again. The city is willing to go along with any feasible plan which will not interfere with the flow of traffic, or cause any added expense to the already heavy budget.

4 Added to College Faculty
In 1956 Expansion Program

Albert Christopher

Theodore Krohn

Wilkes College 25th Anniversary Development program moves ahead this semester in full steam. Evidence of this expansion manifests itself not only in the form of new buildings, but also in the acquisition of many new faculty members.

Four new members include: Albert Christopher, Miss Bernice Leagus, F. Lincoln Grahls, and Theodore L. Krohn. Both Miss Leagus and Mr. Krohn are Wilkes alumna but have received graduate degrees at other universities.

Albert Christopher, one of the new appointees, is an assistant professor in the department of business administration. Now seeking his doctorate, Mr. Christopher holds a master of business administration degree from New York University and also holds his bachelor's degree from N.Y.U. He has studied at both Harvard and Columbia University.

New instructor in the biology department is Miss Bernice Leagus who teaches anatomy, physiology, and chemistry.

A Wilkes alumna, Miss Leagus received her bachelor of science degree from Bucknell and her master's degree in bacteriology from Penn State.

Also the possessor of a certificate in medical technology from Geisinger Memorial Hospital, Miss Leagus served as medical technologist for three years at the Wilkes-Barre General Hospital.

Now teaching sociology and anthropology at Wilkes is visiting professor F. Lincoln Grahls, who holds his master's degree from Columbia University. Grahls also holds a certificate from the East Asia Institute and comes to Wilkes after teaching at Baldwin School, New York City.

Back at Wilkes after getting his L.L.B. this past June is Theodore L. Krohn, a '53 graduate who will teach accounting and law in the commerce and finance department of the college.

JR. CLASS CANDIDATES
STAGE VERBAL BATTLE
IN TUESDAY ASSEMBLY

MERCHANTS FORM
ADVISORY COUNCIL

A newly formed organization, known as the "Merchant's Advisory Council", held its first meeting during the past week. The Council is composed of ten Wilkes-Barre businessmen working with retailing students and faculty members.

The purpose of the group is to discuss the problems confronting the co-operating stores and the college, and to make plans for resolving them.

The main objective of the Council is to stimulate interest within the student membership by planning a continuous program of expanding retail activities.

Luncheon meetings are scheduled once a month, with an interesting program for all students concerned with retail studies.

The faculty members of the council are Dr. Samuel Rosenberg, Mr. Albert Christopher and Mr. Eric Stein. Miss Jane Keibel and William Farish represent the retailing students at meetings.

Wilkes College elections were off to a bang-up start last Tuesday in Assembly as 14 presidential candidates stated their platforms, made their promises, and bellowed their slogans.

Neil Dadurka, a senior dorm student, was the only candidate for president who was unopposed. Dadurka, who succeeds Larry Amdur as class president, pointed out the success which the class has had, both financially and socially, and asked for further participation of everyone in the class affairs. Dadurka's running mate, Gene Roth is also unopposed.

The Junior class presidential speeches stirred interest when Dave Vann repudiated Bob Sokol's charge that the class council did not have fair representation from the class as a whole, and that the class had been run by a clique. Vann reviewed the method by which the council was selected, and then attacked Sokol's poor attendance record at class meetings.

Speeches of the many sophomore and freshman candidates abounded in slogans such as "Think before you vote!", "Remember the names, Remember the faces, The Class of '60 is Going Places!", "Don't forget the guy who never forgot you.", "I will appreciate your problems, both in love and in war." An interesting highlight of the Sophomore candidates' speeches, was Bob Thomas's request that the class did not vote for him because he wished to give someone else the opportunity to serve.

ECON. CLUB
HOLDS OUTING

Regular members of the Economics Club had a chance to meet incoming Freshman members at the annual Get-Acquainted outing held by the Economics Club. The event was held at Dragon's Grove, Sunday, September 30, and started at 2 P.M. Freshmen and new members were guests of the Club.

All members who have not yet paid their dues may contact Bill James as soon as possible.

CUE 'N' CURTAIN

Officers of Cue 'n' Curtain remind all members that there will be an important business meeting on Wednesday, October 10 at 7:30 P.M. in Chase Theater. For all those interested in theater workshops, the first one will be held on Monday evening, October 15 at 7 o'clock.

BARTLETT TO ASSIST CHORUS

The Wilkes College Mixed Chorus is to be featured on the Parents' Day Program, which will take place Sunday, October 14. Mr. Ferdinand Liva will be director of the chorus again this year.

Audrey Bartlett, sophomore, will be filling the shoes of Ruth Remley, former accompanist for the chorus. Miss Bartlett, having studied piano for 13 years, is exceptionally well qualified for this position. As a result of winning no less than four superior ratings as pianist in auditions for the Northeastern Federation of Music Clubs, Audrey plans to give a recital for the Federation tomorrow in Dushore, Pa. Also, next Spring, Miss Bartlett plans to represent Wilkes by entering the Young Artists Competition at Pittsburgh.

Mr. Liva is pleased with the many new voices added to the chorus this year, the Music Department is larger than ever with more than its share of the new freshman class. The Mixed Chorus plans to sing many new numbers this year, largely in the same style as in the past, with a few of the old favorites repeated.

WC Male Chorus to Use St. Stephen's Church For Evening Rehearsal

by Richard J. Myers

Same Lowe, director of the Male Chorus, announced on Tuesday that the usual three hours of rehearsal each week will be augmented by an additional session. The tentative time will be every Monday evening at St. Stephen's Church.

Lowe said that this year the Chorus, with nearly forty men, is too large to be able to have satisfactory rehearsals in the three one-hour lunch periods through the school week. Several of the members have noon classes on various days. In order to have a fuller representation and more thorough coverage of the material to be used this year, the evening meetings are being scheduled.

Lowe also announced that the members are planning to hold their Annual Fall Festival sometime in the near future. No definite plans have been made as yet, but the members are urged to submit any suggestions concerning the type of affair they would like to have. Because this is one of the group's two major social events of the year, the men are asked to give their full support to make the party a successful one.

Several new numbers have been added to supplement such old favorites as the Fred Waring arrangements of "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Dry Bones", traditional college songs and selections from musical comedies.

WILSON EXHIBIT AT COLLEGE LIBRARY

A special exhibit of books, historical documents, photographs and other materials dealing with Woodrow Wilson, whose Centennial Anniversary is being observed nationally during 1956, is now on display on the walls of the main reading room in our library. Documents include his first Message to Congress, his famous "War Message", his "Fourteen Points Speech", etc. The theme of the exhibit is Freedom for Man — A World Safe for Mankind.

SCHLINGMAN DISPLAYS JUD'S CORPSE

Freshman Revolt Stopped at Start; Funeral Monday

All of Wilkes College was in mourning on Monday, for "Jud" was laid to rest. Many curious upper-classmen as well as the lowly freshmen paid homage to the guest of honor, "Jud".

For those who don't know, "Jud" is a dummy which was hung in effigy by the freshman class, representing a sophomore tribunal member. This was the frosh's last sign of active resistance to the hazing program.

Since then they have accepted the dictates of the upper-classmen and have entered into the fun and enjoyment of the hazing program.

But back to the funeral. Jud laid in state on Chase Lawn from 10 until noon. His casket, although not pretentious, was the hearty work of two upperclassmen, Carroll Davenport and Warren Glass.

At noon the services for the dummy began. All freshmen were obliged to visit the casket and "button" before the "deceased". Then under the direction of Johnny Saba and other tribunal members the freshmen escorted the casket of "Jud" on a last trip around the campus and back to Chase Hall, and so went "Jud" to rest.

This was the first attempt of the sophs to regain their control after the Student Council had pre-empted last Thursday's Tribunal meeting to bring the freshmen under control. The meeting was well attended by both upperclassmen and freshmen.

Don Reynolds stated that this hazing program can be a success only if all the student body participate. All upperclassmen are asked to co-operate with the tribunal from now until the conclusion of the hazing period.

"The hazing program is not a time to settle personal grudges," commented Reynolds. So let's keep the rest of the hazing period free from grudge or vengeance punishment. Freshmen should be only punished for real offenses not imaginary ones.

Reynolds stated that tribunal meetings will be held every Thursday in the Gym at 11 o'clock. All freshmen are obliged to attend and an attendance check will be made.

So from now on let's make the hazing period a success. To do this it is necessary for both upperclassmen and freshmen to lend whole-hearted support to Johnny Saba and his sophomore tribunal members.

SORORITY DISCUSSES FALL WEINER ROAST

by Carol Breznay

Plans for the coming Weiner Roast highlighted Tuesday's meeting of Theta Delta Rho. The event, which has always been highly successful, is slated for October 20, at O'Connell's Twin Lakes. Tickets go on sale Friday, according to Pat Kennedy, chairman of the ticket committee.

Plans for Homecoming were discussed. Jackie Oliver and Mary West were appointed chairmen of the decorations committee for the weekend.

A feature of the evening was a beautiful display of dolls by Elnora Metroka. This year, as one of its charity projects, the sorority will dress dolls for Christmas for the Salvation Army.

Qualifications for membership were reviewed, and a history of the sorority was read.

A LAMENTATION FOR "JUD"
by Janice Scuster and Dave Vann

Pore Jud Fry wuz lain ta rest,
Wit a posey on hiz brest,
What a frosh he cudda bin.
But now he laze in a coffin.
All hiz life he were so good
Although hiz haid wuz made of wood.
Den one day he met hiz fate
Now he's by da goldan gate.
Survices wuz held at noon,
While da frosh dey sung a tune.
Lamenting loudly dat he are gone
Teers were shed on Chase Lawn.
In da future he will rize
And da teers will leave our ize.
On a fire hiz creamashun
Will take hiz sole to kingdom cum.

SOCCER SQUAD AT HOFSTRA TOMORROW IN SECOND GAME

Booters Seek Victory In Second Away Game; Home Tilt on Saturday

With only one day of rest after yesterday's clash with Lafayette, the Colonel kickers will leave for Hempstead later this afternoon for tomorrow's contest with the Hofstra College booters. The team will stay at Hofstra overnight and then will face their hosts the following morning at 11 o'clock on the soccer field.

Coach John Reese has been pleased with the way the squad is shaping up. The line has looked sharp and is starting to play as a unit, and the backfield has shown plenty of spirit and fight.

Reese's netmen are anxious to cop Saturday's tilt as the two following games are with Rider, a team which always gives Wilkes a tough time, and big-time Temple, which perennially fields a powerhouse.

Soccer is a big sport out Long Island way, and Hofstra always comes up with a strong squad. Last year's meeting between the two schools saw Wilkes notch a 3-2 victory in a tight tussle.

LETTERMEN'S RAFFLE TO START THIS MONTH

The Lettermen's Club began plans today for their third annual turkey raffle which soon will begin in full scale. The winners of the raffle will be picked by a drawing at the Wilkes - Penna. Military College game on Saturday, November 3rd. Turkeys and football tickets will be awarded to the lucky winners.

Five prizes in all will be awarded as follows: First prize, two tickets to the Army-Navy game with transportation provided; second prize, two tickets to the Cleveland Browns - Philadelphia Eagles game on November 18. No transportation is provided with the second prize. The third, fourth and fifth prizes will be a twenty-pound turkey to each winner.

The raffle is primarily the means by which the Lettermen cover the usual deficit incurred in their dances each year - namely, the April Showers Ball (semi-formal) and the Christmas Formal. Neil Dadurka, president of the club, stated that since these dances are not to make money for the club, but rather for the benefit of the student body, it is urged that everyone help the Lettermen by buying as many tickets as he can. Prices of the tickets are ten cents each, three for a quarter, and a dollar per book. Tickets may be purchased from any Letterman.

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE CAPTURES FIRST BOWL WIN IN SIX YEARS; WC LOSES, 39-6

by Cliff Kobland

Playing in their second-straight Kiwanis-sponsored game, against another team of Flying Dutchmen, this time from Lebanon Valley, the Colonels suffered their second-straight setback, this time by a score of 39-6, at Lebanon last Saturday night.

Completely fooled by the faking and passing of Valley's capable quarterback, Dom Garda, the Blue and Gold was never in the ball-game.

Garda threw two quick TD passes late in the first quarter and early in the second. Then, the Dutchmen tallied once before intermission and led at the half, 20-0.

Leading 26-0 by virtue of another Valley score, the Colonels broke into the scoring column in the fourth period. With Ronnie Rescigno sidelined by a bad leg, the tailback chores were shared by Ray Yanchus and Dick Wozniak. Wozniak was the man who sparked the Colonel touchdown drive that started on the Blue and Gold 18 and ended in the Valley end zone with "Woz" tossing to end Neil Dadurka for the score.

But the Colonels were too far behind to pose any serious threat to Lebanon.

The game was the sixth annual Bologna Bowl and the first bowl game that Wilkes has ever participated in. This was also the first win in six tries in the Bologna Bowl for the Flying Dutchmen.

In a post-game ceremony, Wozniak received the outstanding player award for Wilkes and Dom Garda won a like award for Lebanon.

Administration Fiddles, Fans Burn

Anyone who attended the Bologna Bowl last Saturday night at Lebanon, saw dramatic proof of what we contended in this space last week.

A strong Lebanon Valley College squad romped over our Colonels, 39-6. But the Lebanon club isn't that strong.

However, the line of the Colonels showed up very poorly. Playing straight football, the Dutchmen went nowhere. But on any play they ran that involved more than elementary play, the Wilkesmen were easily deceived.

On several screen passes, the offensive set up the Colonels in a way that would have been beautiful to watch, if you were not a Wilkes fan.

The line looked mostly good on defense, although they pulled a few rocks. The pass defense and the backfield defensively were poor.

Coach Russ Picton has done a fine job in the time he has had available. He deserves a lot of credit for the unit he has formed. But he has not enough time to cover all the subtleties of line play, work with his backs, run scrimmages, and so forth ad infinitum, every day. With an assistant, many of the weaknesses of the club could be materially strengthened.

Bill Farish and Bob Masonis, erstwhile assistant coaches, while still trying to get in their own practice, may be good coaches; we don't pretend to try to pass judgment on them. But they are also players, and as such, peers of the other men on the team.

In their position, they do not like to order their teammates around. And human nature being what it is, the others could

STUCK FOR MONEY? DO A

Stickler!

STICKLERS ARE TICKLERS and a mighty soft way to make money! Just write down a simple riddle and a two-word rhyming answer. For example: What's a ball player who gets a raise? (Answer: richer pitcher.) Note: both words must have the same number of syllables —bleak freak, jolly dolly, vinery finery. Send your Sticklers, with your name, address, college, and class, to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Don't do drawings! We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we use in our advertising—and for hundreds that never see print. And remember—you're bound to Stickle better when you're enjoying a Lucky, because Luckies taste better. Luckies' mild, good-tasting tobacco is TOASTED to taste even better. Fact is, you'll say Luckies are the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!

Gridders Seek First Win Tomorrow

The Way the Ball Bounces

by Ed McCafferty, Sports Editor

In the two football games played to date, the Colonels have scored six points as compared to the opposition's 79.

Something is wrong.

The team has great potential; but as of yet, not very much kinetic action has been exhibited.

Percentage-wise, we diagnose the trouble thusly:

Tough opponents	35%
Bad breaks	5%
Injuries	15%
Costly mistakes	30%
Lack of talent	4%
Lack of line coach	10%
Lack of hustle	1%

Let's discuss the above-mentioned items one at a time:

TOUGH OPPONENTS: Let's face it. Hofstra and Lebanon Valley have been tough. Hofstra fielded a squad small in number, but in number only. The Long Island gridgers had strength at every position. Coach Howard Myers even had men who could readily play two positions. His two top-notch quarterbacks, Wine and Magilligan, never allowed the T-formation to slow up.

Lebanon Valley had 16 returning lettermen whom their coach called the brightest prospects he has seen while coaching at the Annville institution.

BAD BREAKS. From where we viewed both games, it appeared that Picton's charges didn't get either a flood of good breaks or of bad ones. However, the two quick second half touchdowns that Hofstra unleashed against the Colonels really took the heart out of the Wilkes gridgers after a scoreless first half. The fact that these counters came so fast in such a short time was a bad break for the Pictonites as the team's spirit was crushed.

INJURIES. An ankle injury which kept speedster Ronnie Rescigno out of action in the disastrous second half against Hofstra forced the Blue and Gold's biggest scoring threat to sit out the entire Lebanon Valley contest. Ron was joined on the sidelines by stalwart guard Bob Masonis, who had suffered a hand injury. One bright prospect is that both boys will soon be back in action.

COSTLY MISTAKES. It was costly mistakes that cost the Colonels the Bologna Bowl loss. And these mistakes were defensive errors made by the line-backers and by the backfield. The forward wall was rough. All its members played a steady, hard game.

Four of the six touchdowns scored against the Colonels came on pass plays or as a result of pass plays. Except for Sam Puma, who did a neat job of backing up the line, the defense past the line of scrimmage was weak. It was here that we saw several costly mistakes in pass defense made.

LACK OF TALENT. Lack of talent, we feel, is only 4 per cent of the footballers' trouble. We sincerely believe that the team is high in potential. Of course, Picton could always use new faces on his squad to give some depth to the team.

LACK OF A LINE COACH. The Colonel line has looked good in the two games played to date; but with a line coach drilling the forward wall, perhaps Picton could turn most of his time into correcting the defense weaknesses in the backfield. George Rlaston has given some of his free time to drill the line; Al Nicholas spent his week-long vacation doing the same; and in between time, co-captain Bill Farish has been putting the line through its paces.

A full-time line coach, whom the players deserve, certainly would not hurt the team or the school's name as a non-football factory.

LACK OF HUSTLE. We think that the team's hustle has been great. We feel that hustle and spirit are all-important as some games can almost be won on spirit alone. We saw the team stop for a breather only once — after Hofstra's first two quickies.

Someone remarked to me that the team isn't giving me very much praise-worthy material to say. To paraphrase John Paul Jones's famous remark, "I have just begun to write."

I hope.

JUST SLIPPING AROUND THE EDGES . . .

No use kicking . . . Jim Stocker, running at outside right on the soccer team, has a wicked foot; but he often fails to keep his toe down when kicking for the goal. Consequently, he sometimes lofts the ball over the nets instead of into them. At a recent scrimmage, Stocker changed his tactics as he used his usually weak head — no insult intended, Jim — to score a neat goal and to bounce some neat passes to his mates. After the scrimmage, Stocker jokingly announced that in future games he was going to head everything that came his way — even if it was rolling on the ground.

Quick like a bunny . . . With the ball one yard away from a touchdown, the football team was so anxious to score against Lebanon Valley that on their fourth down, the Colonels did not calmly file from their huddle in their snaky pattern. They just ran up to the line of scrimmage, took their places, and banged over.

That's our Zack . . . Zack Zachman, the booters' student manager, was heard to say the following after soccer practice had ended for the day: "I guess I'll take two laps 'cuz I'm goin' to a farmer dance tonight, and I don't want to get tired too fast."

easily resent it. We have enough difficulties without adding dissension to the woes of coach Russ Picton.

So, the only alternative we can see is to find a line coach. The Colonels deserve more of a break from the Administration than they've been getting. The fans we've talked to are all of the same mind. They want action!

Fencing Club Becomes Intercollegiate Squad With Mr. Tener, Coach

There is a new sport on campus! Fencing is being initiated into our athletic program. This sport is open for the participation of the co-eds as well as the fellows. Besides being a good sport, fencing is valued for the grace and poise it develops.

Last year those who were interested in fencing organized a club which was accepted by the Student Council as a regular campus club supported by the college. Mr. Robert Tener, who has experience as a fencer, was chosen as the advisor of the club. The club members elected Don Henry as the first president of the Fencing Club.

Henry announces that the aim this year is to develop a team which will be able to go into inter-collegiate competition. Also, fencing instruction classes for beginners as well as for those who have some experience will be scheduled this week.

On October 11 at 11 o'clock the Fencing Club will meet in the gymnasium for its second annual election of officers. An invitation is extended to anyone who is interested in fencing to attend this election meeting.

Colonels Ready to Down Bombers In Night Game at Kingston Stadium; Rescigno to Return to Tailback Spot

by Cliff Kobland

The Wilkes gridiron team, looking for their first victory of the season, will take on once-beaten Ithaca College, in the Colonels' second home game of the year this Saturday night at Kingston Stadium.

Wilkes, after two straight setbacks, will be out to avenge last year's 12-7 loss at the hands of the Bombers from New York.

Ithaca suffered a defeat in their opening game, last Friday night, bowing to East Stroudsburg, 13-0.

The Blue and Gold, who played without the services of their star tailback, Ronnie Rescigno, in last week's defeat, hope to have Ron back at his familiar slot for this week's tilt. Also missing last week's game was star guard Bob Masonis. Bob, who is sidelined with a broken hand, will most likely miss this contest, too.

Ithaca, paced by a powerful line and a small but fast backfield, should prove to be a tough opponent for the Colonels in their quest for their initial win.

The Bombers, who couldn't do much against a strong Stroud secondary, will be sparked by a very fine quarterback and two fast halfbacks.

In Perry Noun, Ithaca has a fast and clever signal-caller, who was the third leading ground-gainer for the New York Staters. LeRoy Prettyman, last year's top ground-gainer for the Bombers, and Brian Wade, 150-pound scatback, round out the speedy halfbacks.

Bob Marella, a 300-pound center, takes up most of the Ithaca forward wall.

With both teams victory-starved and evenly matched, an exciting game is in store for all who wander over to Kingston Stadium this coming Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Second Frosh: "He's nothing! What do you think of that great Yankee catcher, Yeggi Borra."

DICK WOZNIAK 'ATHLETE OF WEEK' FOR BOLOGNA BOWL PERFORMANCE

WOZNIAK AND HIS BOLOGNA BOWL TROPHY

Wins Kiwanis Trophy As Leading Colonel In Press-Coach Ballot

by Barry Miller

This week's Beacon "Athlete of the Week" award goes to speedy tailback Dick Wozniak. For his sparkling efforts against Lebanon Valley in the Bologna Bowl, Dick not only received our acclaim, but he also was presented with a trophy from the sponsors of the game for being the outstanding player on the field for Wilkes College.

Dick, called on to fill the vacancy caused by Ronnie Rescigno's leg injury, did a more than adequate job. Besides taking over as field general, Wozniak led the Colonels' attack with 91 yards in 23 carries. After Dick had spear-headed an 85-yard drive with his running, he flipped a short pass to end Neil Dadurka for the lone Wilkes touchdown.

Coach Picton, although disappointed in the final outcome of the game, was pleased with the job Wozniak turned in. Russ feels that Dick has the potential to develop into one of the finest tailbacks we've ever had.

The brightest aspect of all is that Dick, who is a junior, did such a fine job even though the position of tailback is comparatively new to him. He ordinarily works out of the halfback's spot.

Dick, while attending Nanticoke High School, lettered in baseball as well as football. Here at Wilkes, he is majoring in Commerce and Finance.

KEG LEAGUE READY FOR COMPETITION

Anyone who can lift a bowling ball is eligible to join the 1956 Wilkes College Mixed Bowling League. Preparations are now in progress for its opening on October 21. The matches will be held at 7:15 P.M. on Sundays at the Jewish Community Center on South River Street. The teams, consisting of 2 women and 4 men will be divided into two leagues, bowling on alternate Sundays. Trophies will be awarded to the winning team in each of the two leagues and also to the outstanding bowlers.

Students interested in bowling are urged to sign up now on the lists that will be posted about the campus, or to get in touch with either of the student co-directors, Jane Keibel (Sterling Hall) or Barry Miller (Ashley Hall).

MATTIOLI ELECTED

Reginald Mattioli was elected dormitory president of Butler Hall at the first dorm meeting of the year.

Mattioli, a veteran, is a sophomore who has been active in activities held by that class. He will be assisted by Charles Robinson, house secretary; and Ira Himmel and Edwin Vail, dormitory house officers.

Reader's Digest

$41,000 CONTEST

Open to All College Students (Faculty, too!)

Nothing to buy...nothing to write

...and you may find you know more about people than you think!

How well do you know human nature? Can you tell what subjects interest people most? Here is a chance to test your judgment—show how good an editor you are—and you may win $5,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.

It's fun to try. Maybe you can top other students in colleges across the country... and you can match wits with the editors of Reader's Digest.

Why do far more college graduates read Reader's Digest than any other magazine? What is it that makes the Digest the most widely read magazine in the world—with 11 million copies bought each month in the United States, plus 9 million abroad? Why is it read each month by at least 60 million people, in 12 languages—Arabic, Danish, English, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Portuguese, Spanish and Swedish?

Can you spot in a typical issue of Reader's Digest the universal human values that link scholars, statesmen, scientists, writers, businessmen, housewives? Can you pick out the articles that will be most popular with the average Digest reader?

You may find... you know more about people than you think!

Here's all you do. Study the descriptions (at right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—or, better still, read the complete articles in the issue itself. (But you are not required to buy The Reader's Digest to enter the contest.) Then simply list the six articles—in order of preference—that you think readers of the magazine will like best. This will be compared with a nationwide survey conducted among a cross section of Digest subscribers.

Follow the directions given below. Fill in the entry blank, paste it on a post card, and get it into the mail before the deadline. Additional blanks are obtainable at your college bookstore.

All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, October 25, 1956. Don't delay. In case of ties, the entry with the earliest postmark will win.

Just pick in order the six articles
you think most readers of October
Reader's Digest will like the best.

READER'S DIGEST CONTEST, Box 4, Great Neck, L. I., New York

In the space opposite the word "FIRST" write the number of the article you think will be the most popular of all. Opposite the word "SECOND" write the number of the article you think will rank second in popularity. List in this way the numbers of the six top articles in the order of their popularity. (Note: Use only the numbers of articles you choose. Do not write the title of any article.) Clip and paste this coupon on a Government post card.

local college bookstore

And if your entry is the best from your college you will receive an extra award—an additional $10 in book credit at your college bookstore.

FOLLOW THESE EASY RULES

1. Read the descriptions in this advertisement of the articles that appear in October Reader's Digest. Or better, read the complete articles. Then select the 6 that you think most readers will like best.

2. On the entry blank at left, write the number of each article you select. List them in what you think will be the order of popularity, from first to sixth place. Your selections will be judged by comparison with a national survey which ranks in order of popularity the 6 articles that readers like best. Fill in and mail the coupon. All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, October 25, 1956.

3. This contest is open only to college students and faculty members in the U. S., excluding employees of The Reader's Digest, its advertising agencies, and their families. It is subject to all federal, state and local laws and regulations.

4. Only one entry per person.

5. In case of ties, entries postmarked earliest will win. Entries will be judged by O. E. McIntyre, Inc., whose decision will be final. All entries become property of The Reader's Digest; none returned.

6. All winners notified by mail. List of cash-prize winners mailed if you enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.
