

Stew Feeney Elaborates On BEACON SG Article

BEACON

Vol. XXVII, No. 10

Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania

November 14, 1974

After reading last week's article on Student Government in the Beacon, one starts to wonder what exactly happened at that meeting. I have chosen to elaborate on some of the points in the article.

First, I would like to point out that Polly Seleski was Chairman of the Homecoming Weekend. She is not a Student Government Representative. So that means after giving the final report on the Homecoming budget and answering questions, she had a legitimate reason for "leaving for parts unknown."

The second point which I will elaborate on will be the "brevity of the meeting." The reason the meeting was only 35 minutes long was because 13 Student Government members were absent. It is virtually impossible to hold an effective meeting with half the body absent. The members of Student Government are elected Representatives of the classes. If members lack in attendance, they are not fulfilling their obligations to the classes. However, if the executive councils of the classes take a lackadaisical approach to this problem, they are only creating a stagnate atmosphere which will never be terminated.

So to reiterate my position, I'm stressing that the classes start enforcing the attendance of their S.G. members, and dismiss those who still have continuing absences. Not until this goes into effect, will Student Government become an interesting and productive body.

Respectfully submitted,
Stewart W. Feeney, S.G. President

IDC Rejects The 'Dukes' For Concert This Saturday

The Inter-dormitory Council at its Sunday meeting voted not to sponsor a "Dukes" concert this Saturday. The council listened to a "Dukes" record to arrive at the decision. Most reaction was unfavorable to this 50's rock group.

The body also felt that available monies could better be spent for other purposes since IDC alone could not afford the group. One IDC representative commented to those seated near him that the "Dukes" have often performed at West Point. He also stated that if West Point prefers "that music" then "our nations' security is in trouble."

A few IDC representatives recently attended a convention of a national association for residence halls of which IDC is a member. While at the convention, the representative noticed that pictures and a list of dormitory officers were posted in each dormitory unit.

A suggestion was given IDC that this be implemented at Wilkes. IDC moved to acquire a list of dormitory officers for posting in each dorm and to take photographs of dormitory presidents in the near future.

The annual Thanksgiving Dinner will be served in the cafeteria Sunday, November 24. Entrees include steaks and turkey.

Contract negotiations for next year's resident student food plan begin in February. A student survey is being developed to gather pertinent information from students to be used as a basis for planning next year's food service.

A discussion entitled "Wilkes Bites" is being sponsored by IDC next Thursday, November 21. The discussion will occur in the Student Union Building at 9 p.m. All those interested are invited to attend and air college related gripes.

One IDC representative registered a complaint concerning the sweltering heat in the library. IDC President, Bob Howes, who also serves on the Student Life committee, volunteered to pursue the matter at a Student Life meeting.

IDC tabled a fund request by the Student Union Board for stage lighting and a sound system for use at coffee houses held in the Student Union Building.

The SUB has borrowed stage lighting from the theater department. The lights will not be loaned during the performance of "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest."

The granting of a loan will be considered when the SUB obtains a definite list of coffee house performers and can adequately assess its asset-liability status.

Kortbawi Proposes Change For SG To Meet Bi-Weekly

BY MIKE SWEENEY

Maureen Kortbawi, in a proposal to change the student government charter, asked that the student government meeting be changed to every other week instead of the present weekly meetings they now hold. Kortbawi stated that fund requests were one of the few items on the agenda that required the attention of the entire membership.

The proposal also read that the Student Government could call a special meeting if the need arose. The proposal was put to the floor for debate.

Bob Spinelli was the first to come out against the proposal saying that they should be more interested in getting to the cause of their unproductiveness rather than to condense their work into one meeting every other week. He also stated that Student Government is ineffective. "We should be able to see our progress from week to week," said Spinelli.

Dean Baltruchitis, Student Government adviser, said that if they approved this proposal the Student Government would deteriorate even more. He said that they should set aside one meeting to reflect on its problems.

Bob Howes, although not openly supporting the proposal, asked Student Government to consider moving its meetings to Thursday so that there wouldn't be a ten day lag from the time the meeting is held until the report appears in the

Juke Box, Party Among Topics

Discussed By CC

During the Thursday, November 7 meeting of Commuter Council, many topics came up for the discussion.

The Elks Club in Pittston has openings for parties to be held on a Monday or Tuesday. The possibility of a party before Thanksgiving recess is being considered.

The problem of the juke box is still unresolved. Again, anyone who knows about the possibility of its being repaired is asked to contact the Commuter Council.

Parking stickers must be picked up before the 25th of each month. After this date, it becomes an inconvenience to the council to track those few people down. People are urged to pick these stickers up on time.

Soon to be taken will be a survey of commuters consisting of how many people they have in their car, the distance they travel and the accessibility of the bus lines because soon only 50 parking spaces will be available to commuters who qualify to park there.

The Student Union Board was granted $125 by Commuter Council for the lighting system to be installed shortly.

A proposal was made by J. Suchocki to limit the size of the posters in the Commons due to the lack of space. All members voted in favor of this proposal. Before it can be passed, it must go through Student Government.

Nominations for freshman representatives to CC went well. There is still an opening, however, for one more person. The welcoming of all commuters to sit in on a meeting, held every Thursday, at 5:30 on the second floor of the Commons is urged.

Beacon. He says it would improve communication between the organization and the student body.

Howes also stated that with the progress of Academic Team that the "... ball is starting to roll ..." and the proposal should be tabled until a later date.

Stew Feeney, President of Student Government asked if there were any objections to tabling the proposal.

The proposal was tabled after Stew Feeney asked if there were any objections.

There was another proposal considered concerning Freshman elections. It read, "Nominations for Freshman Class officers shall be held no earlier than the 10th week and no later than 13th week of the fall semester. The elections are held in the spring semester. The elections are currently held in the latter half of the spring semester. This move would mean that the Freshman Class would have class officers at least five months before they now can have.

Since it is a Constitutional Amendment, it must be read before

2 consecutive Student Government meetings. The amendment must then be approved by two thirds of the Student Government. It is then presented to the Administrative Council for approval. Upon acceptance, it must be ratified by a majority vote of the student body.

Charles Munson was asked by Dave Mathews, head of the judicial team, and Stew Feeney if he would accept the position of Parliamentarian. He will replace Brynley James who has been acting Parliamentarian.

Pocono Downs has been in contact with Mike Stambaugh, president of the Commuter Council. They told him that they have decided definitely not to rent their facilities to them for the purposes of a party.

But all is not lost. Stambaugh was successful in finding a hall that would take them. The Pittston Elks Club said that they would rent them their hall, but because of their busy calendar they could not rent it to them on a weekend. It was not decided if it would be worth pursuing.

New Curriculum Changes Announced By Registrar

BY DONNA M. GEFFERT

With the beginning of Spring registration this week, many new changes in the curriculum can be noted.

According to Mrs. Doris Barker, Wilkes registrar, 14 new courses have been added or changed in an attempt to offer something for everyone.

Education 595, "Workshop in Experimental Patterns in Education," is now open to all undergraduates who have completed student teaching. The class will be conducted by Dr. Franck Darte.

A professional internship in journalism will be conducted this semester under the direction of Thomas J. Moran, executive director of public relations and adjunct professor of journalism.

The session will include a supervised observation-experience program of study and assignment to a member newspaper of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association; a licensed radio or television news staff; or a professional public relations firm in Luzerne or Lackawanna Counties.

Students will work out a schedule of eight hours of professional work per week with their employers and two hours of consultation with the instructor.

Dr. Phillip Rizzo, professor of English, will present the English seminar next semester, "Satire."

A topics course in theater arts will also be available for the students. T.A. 398, "TV Programming," will be taught by Instructor Striml.

Chairman of the Environmental Science Department, Dr. Mohamed T. El-Ashry will conduct the new "Environmental Geomorphology" class. A study of man's role in changing the surface of the earth with emphasis on the utilization of geologic and hydrologic information in land-use planning will be presented. Two Fine Arts classes have also been added to the roster. Assistant professor Fuller will conduct the new "Weaving" course and Mark Cohen will present the evening advanced photography session.

Mrs. Inger Miller, assistant professor of German, will present the new German topics course, German 398, "Literature of East and West Germany."

A topics class in mathematics, "Advanced Computers," will be handled by Dr. Hansen and the "History of Mathematics" will be presented by Dr. Porter.

Andrew Shaw, Jr., director of the Institute of Regional Affairs and adjunct professor of political science, will sponsor the political science "practicum," an internship in administrative offices, community agencies, or work related to administration or politics. Department approval is necessary.

A topics course in psychology will also be offered by Instructor Edgerton, "Psychometrics."

Sociology 297 A, "Sociology of Education," will be taught by Assistant Professor Natzke.

Dr. Jaroslav Moravec will conduct the seminar in "Sociology of Everyday Life," with an analysis and evaluation of the work of Erving Gaffman.

Editorially Speaking

An Apology

The BEACON would like to apologize to Student Government and Ms. Polly Seleski for an article which appeared on page one of last week's edition. The article reflected a biased opinion which should not have been done. The writer editorialized and this is not the policy of the BEACON.

All editorializing belongs on page two under the heading and no where else. Through an unfortunate delay by the author in getting the article to us, we were rushed in getting it to the printers. As a result we inadvertently placed the article in the paper as it was. We extend our apologies for this.

The truth is however, that Student Government meetings are ill-attended and there seems to be a reluctance by S.G. Representatives to work together. The fact that little is accomplished is supported by the motion to hold S.G. meetings once every two weeks.

It is time that all S.G. representatives and officials get together and try to iron out their problems. If they are ever to get work done, they must get together.

Fire

The BEACON would like to commend all those students who played a role in averting what could perhaps have been a major fire at Sullivan Hall last Thursday. Because of their efforts, the fire was quickly extinguished and no major damage resulted.

Those who notified the proper authorities about the fire, the Resident Assistants, who evacuated the building, and the firemen who responded to the call are all deserving of praise.

The college should be thankful that such people are connected with Wilkes. Thanks again!

The Readers' Voice

Student Sees Need For Improved Campus Services

To the Editor:

It is time that the Wilkes College administration begins to realize that they are catering to students who have hundreds of other colleges available for them to attend. Sure, Wilkes gives its students an education which is the reason for attending college, but in this day of high prices and declining college enrollments, Wilkes should offer more than just an education for $3,200 a year.

It is a fact that many college students own cars. Many of us who do own cars have paid for them and pay car insurance like any faculty member who owns a car. Yet Wilkes officials ask us to leave our cars home. They erected parking gates at the college going to waste replacing entrance of every parking lot on broken gates before it at least shows campus including the lot right by our attempt to help its students solve own dormitory and the Jewish lot their parking problem rather than which was the only lot remaining for making the problem worse for the college students. it asking too much of a faculty What has the college done to member to park in Park and Lock alleviate the need for a dorm student like many other working people in to own a refrigerator? Why can't Wilkes-Barre? How much money is some of the cafeteria facilities be open for student use, especially for us in the New Men's Dorm where there are no refrigerators available for student use? With the high price of college, most students cannot afford to constantly go out for a late snack to make up for lousy meals in the cafeteria.

These problems may seem petty to college officials, but they are problems that turn students off to Wilkes College. The college must begin to solve some of these problems for the students rather than making demands on the students to alleviate college problems.

Sincerely,
David Thorne

Wilkes Graduate Thanks BEACON For Recognition

Dear Sir:

I wish to thank you for recognizing me as the founder of the Human Services Committee. I wish to point out however that I was greatly assisted in starting the committee by the then student government and the Wilkes College administration. I especially appreciate the fact that the committee has really grown into a vital part of not only Wilkes but the surrounding community. Good Luck and continued success.

Music Director Of WRKC-FM Praises Concert

To the Editor:

Heartiest congratulations are in order for the Mangione-Coryell concert of last night (Nov. 3). Not only was the show of a calibre practically unknown in these parts, but the turnout and audience response were very encouraging as far as the musical culture of this community is concerned.

Pats on the back to Glen Misner, his concert committee, and the Student Government for the pleasant atmosphere. The amount of work that went into presenting the concert proved well worth it.

I've got nothing but praise for the entire evening. All I can say is thank you for another night of good clean fun in the dirty old town.

February Campus Carnival Set

New Book Views Good Old Days

Entertaining, nostalgic, humorous and accessible glimpses of days gone by are provided by Oliver Jensen and the Editors of American Heritage College Album (McGraw-Hill, $8.95 to $12.95, $10 thereafter).

Rare photographs collected all over the country bring back the whole range of campus life from the early days, when only a handful of young men attended a small number of institutions, to the bustling present, when education is America's biggest business.

Here are the Ivy League of long ago and the new, raw colleges of the windswept prairies; the classrooms, the august preceptors, the sports, the clowning; the coming of higher education for women; and the fads and revolutions that students, apart from the outside world, have inflicted on bedeviled administrations.

"Our aim has been to recall the changing look and the lasting flavor of the American college experience across the past century and more," writes Jensen in his Foreword.

Eight sections make up the book's curriculum, abundantly illustrated and highlighted by vivid anecdotes. "In the Beginning," reveals, among other things, that a Harvard student's quarterly bill in 1804 amounted to $33.57. "A Primitive Brotherhood" recalls the college man's world of the 19th century. "And a Sisterhood" shows how women slowly infiltrated the masculine retreats, then established a full-fledged college of their own.

"Light and Learning" delves into the charisma of great teachers. "Cheering Section" celebrates sagas as the season the Yale football team scored 698 points to 0. "High Spirits" runs the gamut from goldfish to nudity to riots. "Signs of the Times" revives hay rides and Marijuana Smoke-Ins. And "Last Words" echoes pompous blessings on the eve of the conquest of the world.

Energy Positions Open

Oak Ridge Associated Universities of Tennessee is looking for highly qualified young people to fill three Teacher-Demonstrator positions.

Each of these positions involves travel for extended periods of time throughout the United States as manager of various exhibit programs of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Activities include programs at shopping centers, fairs, museums, camps, conferences and other selected sites.

Teacher-Demonstrators present energy related educational programs before a wide range of audiences. Special programs are presented for teacher workshops, school groups and various community groups as well as the general public. Frequent contact with local newspapers, radio and TV personnel is required in coordinating and facilitating program publicity.

Qualifications for these positions include: a science background, preferable with some teaching experience; a desire to meet and talk with people on energy and the environment; and freedom for extensive travel assignments.

Request for additional information and for application forms should be sent to Museum Division, Oak Ridge Associated Universities, Post Office Box 117, Oak Ridge, Tennessee 37830.

Minolta Plans Student Photo Contest

Want to hit Europe next summer, with a friend, and have $5,000 in cash to spend?

Wilkes PSEA Group Seen As 'Unified'

Many students ask... what is Student PSEA? Well, Student PSEA is an education organization for any college student who intends to teach or who supports the goals and objectives of the organization.

Student PSEA has chapters and members on 82 Pennsylvania college and university campuses.

Student PSEA is the largest "unified" student member group of its kind in the nation. Student PSEA is unified and strengthened in membership and program with the Student National Education Association.

Students wishing to belong join their local chapter of Student PSEA, the State Association or the National Association.

The dues to the Wilkes College Chapter of Student PSEA are $7.50 per year, which include the following benefits:

1. $300,000 Liability Insurance Policy (Student teaching, tutoring, and playground duty).

2. Subscription to VOICE — a weekly newspaper of PSEA; PA School Journal; Impact; and Today's Education. Membership also gives discounts on: Life, auto and accident insurance; European, oriental and domestic

Pocono Resort Is Site Of February Activity

BY SANDY AKROMAS

With full approval from the College Administration, the All-Campus Winter Carnival Co-ordinating Committee has announced the final plans for the weekend function.

The Winter Carnival will begin on Friday, February 28, thru Sunday, March 2, at the White Beauty View Resort at Lake Wallenpaupack.

Time of departure from the Wilkes campus is set at 7 p.m. on Friday, and the buses will leave the resort in the early afternoon on Sunday.

The committee will rent four buses since the limit is set at 200 people. If the number of interested students (at least 50) exceeds the limit, the committee will accommodate the extra people.

Wilkes students will be charged $20.00, and outsiders, $27.50. This fee includes: all meals, boarding, use of game rooms, 800 foot toboggan chute, a place for ice skating, sleds and a hill for sledding.

People who are interested in skiing may use the facilities at the Tanglewood ski area, only seven miles away, for reduced rates. (Transportation to the ski area will be provided.)

On Saturday night, a dance will be held featuring a rock band.

Students may provide their own transportation, but the price will remain the same.

The major organizations and three classes have subsidized for this major social function. The sophomore, junior, and senior classes have contributed $500 each. I.D.C. and C.C. subsidized $500 respectively. Student Government made the largest contribution of $2,000.

One advisor per organization will be invited to the event.

Activities will be planned on the same weekend for the students who do not attend this function.

The tickets will go on sale Wednesday, December 4, at SUB, from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Students may purchase a ticket or place a $10 deposit.

For more information, a meeting will be held for all classes on Thursday, November 21, at 11 a.m. in the C.P.A.

Sordoni Presents Crafts Exhibit November 11-29

The Sordoni Art Gallery, Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania is presenting a two-man Crafts Exhibition from November 11 through November 29. Featured are the works of Naomi Whiting Towner, a weaver with both national and international reputation and the works of ceramic-sculptor William Tersteeg, who has exhibited extensively throughout the United States and also in Canada.

Ms. Towner received her B.F.A. in Textile Design from Rhode Island School of Design and her M.F.A. in Textile design from the School for the American Craftsmen at Rochester Institute of Technology, Rochester, New York. She also received a Textron Fellowship for study in Sweden and travel in Europe and North Africa. She is at present an Associate Professor of Art at Illinois State University, Normal, Illinois.

Mr. Tersteeg, an instructor of art at Keystone Jr. College, LaPlume, Pennsylvania received his B.S. and M.F.A. degrees in art education and ceramics respectively at Southern Illinois University and has also done travel-study in Europe. He has recently received an award in the "Pennsylvania '74" Craft Competition sponsored by the William Penn Memorial Museum, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Both artists will be present at a reception to be held in the Sordoni Gallery Sunday, November 10 from 3-5 p.m. The public is cordially invited and encouraged to come and meet the artists as well as view the exhibition from November 11 through November 29. The exhibition will be open from 10-5 p.m.

Microform Session

Set For Faculty

The Eugene Sheddon Farley Memorial Library invites all faculty members of Wilkes College to an orientation session on microfilms. The library staff has scheduled the orientation for three sessions on November 14, 19 and 21. All sessions begin at 11 a.m.

The orientation sessions are being held to familiarize Wilkes' faculty members with the library's microfilm collection. The faculty can then use the resource better and can orient the students to this resource area.

The library has greatly increased the amount of microfilm materials available since the Agnes Flood of 1972. The microfilm resources are used by many students doing research in their academic course work.

It is hoped that once the faculty is better acquainted with the microfilm resources available, the students will be better able to utilize this valuable material.

Lois Guarilia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guarilia, 401 Meyers Street, Duryea, will hold her senior art exhibit at the Wilkes College Conyngham Gallery beginning Monday, November 18, and ending Monday, November 25.

Miss Guarilia's exhibit will include ceramics, paintings, graphics and speciality fiber glass and wood sculptures. The Gallery will be open from 7 to 10 p.m. on the opening day, November 18, and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. November 19 to 25.

A 1971 graduate of Pittston Area High School, Miss Guarilia was a member of the National Honor Society, president of the art club in her senior year, and art editor of the school newspaper and yearbook.

Foreign Language Study Important To Students

BY ANDY PETYAK

Is the study of foreign languages of benefit to the American student today? Is the study of foreign languages dying out? Many people answer both of these questions positively.

Foreign language study in high schools across the country has dropped. Not as many students are taking language courses and those who do are not bothering to really learn the language they study.

The same can be said of American colleges. Many students argue that knowledge of a foreign language is not beneficial and so is not necessary. They push for the removal of language requirements and some colleges have dropped the requirement. Many people point to these facts as proof that foreign language study is dying in the United States.

Many colleges have not dropped language requirements however, and argue that language study is necessary. It is apparent that

Richard L. Derby Sets Art Exhibit

The Wilkes College Art Department presents Richard L. Derby in his senior art exhibit on Saturday, November 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Conyngham Art Gallery, continuing through Saturday, November 16, from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

Derby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Derby, R.D. 4, Dallas, is a 1971 graduate of Lake Lehman High School, where he was the recipient of the Fall Fair Art Award and the Hallmark Award.

He is currently a member of the Wilkes College Art Club, chairman of the First Annual Beaux Arts Ball and the student representative to the art faculty.

Derby's exhibit includes works in watercolors, oils, ceramics, jewelry and printmaking.

although foreign language study may not be dying out, it is certainly suffering from a lack of interest by many students.

At the very time that foreign language study is in a slump, the need for people capable of speaking foreign languages fluently is growing. The United States is a world power, conducting business with most of the other countries of the world. Knowledge of other languages is necessary to carry out that role of world power.

It is a fact that the country sadly lacks people trained in languages. When the United States resumed relations with the Peoples Republic of China, it was found that only six American journalists could speak Chinese. As the conflict in the Middle East grew worse over the past years, it was also discovered that only one professional journalist could fluently speak Arabic!

Journalism is not the only field needing people who can speak a foreign language. Business, industry, education, government services, and the tourism business are all in need of capable American workers with knowledge of a language other than English.

Characters Picked For Production

BY DANA JAMIOLKOWSKI

"One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," a play which will be presented in the Center for the Performing Arts on November 21, 22, 23 and 24, is under the direction of Jay E. Fields. The performers working under his direction are all a part of the Wilkes College Theater. The play, with a large cast of student-actors, is currently in rehearsal. A sketch of the main characters is presented here with one of Mr. Fields.

Jay E. Fields

Jay Fields is a triple major in English, Theater and French. He received his education in West Virginia, Michigan, and is currently working for his Ph.D. degree in Theater Arts at Kent State University in Ohio.

Mr. Fields has directed several plays including two at Wilkes. He directed "The Crucible" and "Look Homeward Angel" here at Wilkes College. His success in his previous plays presented here will undoubtedly lead to another this time with "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

John E. Sauerhoff

John Sauerhoff portrays R.P. McMurphy in this production. He comes to Wilkes from New Canaan, Connecticut and has acted in many theater productions in his hometown. He is also quite active at the Wilkes Theater, having performed in previous productions.

Majoring in Theater Arts, John appears to have found what he likes to do, and perhaps, the portrayal of McMurphy will give him the attention he needs.

Agnes Cummings

Agnes returns to the stage again in this play as Nurse Ratched and will undoubtedly get a large piece of the action. After a short period of rest after her appearance in "Ghosts," Agnes will be portraying another complex character.

Agnes is from Scranton and has been involved in the theater since high school. She has appeared in over ten plays and hopes to act in many more. Agnes will have little trouble since her ability is more than apparent.

Bruce E. Phair

Bruce plays Billy Bibbit in this production and is another cast member hailing from outside the state. He is from Nutley, New Jersey and has been seen in many Wilkes Theater productions. His appearances in "Fiddler on the Roof," the "Wizard of Oz" and "Trial by Jury," are just a few of his accomplishments here at Wilkes.

Edward R. Coulter

Edward Coulter portrays Dale Harding in the play. He is a graduate of Mansfield State College with a degree in Theater Arts. Edward has had plenty of experience, with more than ten plays at Mansfield and five plays in Summer Stock to his credit. Wilkes College welcomes such a talented newcomer.

Andrew Smith

Portraying Chief Bromden, Andy is a graduate of Florida Atlantic University. He is originally from Hollywood, Florida and is an experienced actor. Andy has played major roles in several plays including productions of the "Canterbury Tales" and "The Cask of Amantillado."

Supporting Actors

There are several other characters who contribute to the movement of the play. Among those portraying such roles are: Jeffrey Schlicher, Center Valley, Pa.; Randy Smith, Steelton, Pa.; Drew Landmesser, Wilkes-Barre; Deane LaCava, Danbury, Conn.; Robert Schaefer, Bethlehem, Pa.; Karl Bacon, Woodbury, Conn.; Robert Klein, Pocono Lake, Pa.; Leo Gambacorta, West Orange, N.J.; Susan Latz, Vetnor, N.Y.; Victoria Moss, Hackensack, N.J.; Joanne Drapiewski, West Nanticoke; Anthony Shipula, Hanover; and Mark M. Greenberg, Wilkes-Barre.

The sophomore class has been planning and preparing many activities for themselves and the rest of the college since early September. As a part of their efforts, a movie double feature will be shown tomorrow night in the gym. The two movies to be presented are "Ten Little Indians" and "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane."

The sophomore class will help to sponsor the Winter Carnival which is planned for the Weekend beginning February 28. Tentative plans are also being made for having activities available on campus the same weekend for students that don't wish to attend the carnival. The events will include two of the following: a movie, dance, of coffee house.

On March 8 another movie is scheduled by the sophomores. This may be changed, however, due to a coffee house or some other activity.

As the sophomore spring project, the movie "Walking Tall" will be shown on April 19. It may be shown outdoors in the center of the Stark Learning Center.

The Freshman-Sophomore Dinner Dance will be held May 2, but no further plans have been made.

In October the sophomore class sponsored a skating party at the Skate Away on Blackman Street. The class was disappointed that little interest was shown. Part of the reason may have been that there was a dorm party that same night.

AFROTC—The Wilkes College Air Force ROTC color guard participated in the Veterans Day parade activities held this past weekend in Kingston and Wilkes-Barre.

Wilkes College is roughly one of 170 colleges in the United States with an AFROTC program. There is currently a consortium in Northeastern Pennsylvania which enables students from King's, Misericordia, Marywood, Luzerne County Community College, Keystone Junior College, Lackawanna Junior College, and Penn State's Wilkes-Barre, Hazleton, and Worthington Scranton campuses to participate in a training program at Wilkes.

"Showangel" Play Tryouts Planned

Tryouts for the Student Workshop Production of Snowangel by Louis Carlinio will be held Monday, November 18 at 4 p.m. in the C.P.A.

The production is to be directed by Agnes Cumming, senior English Theater Arts major. The course is under the direction of Mr. Jay E. Fields.

The play, which is one-act, deals with man's escape into the happier moments of the past when his present impoverished condition leaves him unable to cope. There are two roles available, one male and one female.

All those interested in trying out are urged to attend. The play will be presented Wednesday evening, December 18 at 8 p.m. in the C.P.A.

SUB Hosts Films And Discussions On Local Skiing

With the introduction of the new Student Union Building to the Wilkes College campus, various special programs have been scheduled from time to time.

On Tuesday, December 10 at 7:30 p.m., activity directors from Jack Frost Mountain will sponsor a presentation on skiing for the students.

The program will include various films, an introduction to both Jack Frost and Big Boulder, equipment demonstrations, discussions of free-style and racing programs, trips to Vail, Sun Valley, Killington, and Sugarbush.

Also included will be an informal discussion on skiing and a general question and answer period.

Ski Trip Planned To Switzerland

This is the time of the school year when a "just want to get away from it all" attitude seems to hit the student.

Well, this year you can do it in style by taking a trip to the beautiful Alps in Switzerland.

The trip, which is available to both alumni and students of Wilkes College, is scheduled from January 4 to the 15 of the coming year.

The Ski Week will include: transatlantic jumbo jet New York to Zurich via Swissair—dinner and breakfast aboard, 7 nights at hotels Mattenhof-Weisses Draus, American breakfast & dinner daily, fondue party-folklore evening, ski races—J. P. Tours—escort, Motorcoach group transfer from Zurich airport to Interlaken Hotels, all taxes & tips included in the price. The cost is $499 per person for a twin room with a private bath and $479 for a double or triple-share bath.

For further information please contact Art Hoover, Director of Alumni Relations and Student Activities located on the third floor of Weckesser Hall.

A deposit of $100 is required and refundable 30 days before departure on January 4.

Is stealing a long distance call worth a criminal record?

The use of phoney credit cards, electronic devices or any other means to avoid paying for phone calls is against the law. It's stealing—pure and simple.

In this state, conviction for making fraudulent phone calls may result in:

- A fine of up to $15,000
- Up to seven years in jail
- Restitution for the total cost of the fraud
- Court costs
- A permanent criminal record

One more thing: modern electronic computer systems are being used to track down offenders.

The penalties may seem harsh. But the cold fact remains that the law does not look on phone fraud as a lark.

Vista-Peace Corps Recruiter To Speak With Wilkes Students

A VISTA-Peace Corps recruiter will be at the Wilkes College Placement Office on Monday, November 18, and at the County Institution District, 54 East Union Street, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 18, 19 and 20, to interview men and women interested in the program.

Currently VISTA and Peace Corps have approximately 12,000 volunteers in the states and abroad.

Students of Wilkes College are being urged to take a look at joining the organizations during the three-day recruiting drive in Wilkes-Barre.

Most of the programs sponsored by the Peace Corps and VISTA request applicants to have either a specific degree or a technical skill.

Yet, the emphasis of volunteer requests from overseas countries and communities within the states is on the ability of the volunteers to do a specific job — to teach high school physics, to develop an adult education program or perhaps to train surveyors.

Instead of degrees, VISTA-Peace Corps are looking for volunteers who possess a desire to help, and who have either experience or a skill trade.

Farming is a current thrust for the Peace Corps, providing a variety of opportunities for farmers with three to five years of experience and young people with farm backgrounds.

Peace Corps does provide language training to each volunteer, though for some programs they prefer people who know Spanish or French.

The second area in which VISTA and Peace Corps volunteers work is health. There are positions for doctors, BSRN's, dieticians, sanitarians, some LPN's, home economists, health educators, dental technicians, French speaking biology majors, and some BA graduates with an interest in health extension and immunization programs.

Varieties of positions are open for people with experience or degrees in civil engineering, architecture, urban planning, construction, business, accounting, economics, and for people who have skilled trades.

Throughout the country VISTA projects involve socially committed volunteers in referral agencies, counseling programs, emergency food and medical relief programs, special and adult education, day care centers, dental clinics, credit unions and cooperatives, recreation programs, community newspapers, researching housing codes, building or reconstructing low cost housing.

The representatives will answer specific questions — call 822-4151, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. and 822-2187, 5 p.m.-8

Radio Needs Recognition

Those of you from Metropolitan areas are probably familiar with a certain phenomenon of electromagnetic radiation called frequency modulation. This term has been shortened, and has come to represent what is generally known as FM radio. Unknown to most Wilkes College students who own an FM radio, three stations to the left of the dial there exists WCLH-FM, Wilkes College radio.

WCLH is a relatively new station when compared to other stations, yet we do broadcast in stereo and we're growing quickly. Our main problem is one of recognition. Many students are too quick to turn to the already established WRKC (King's College radio) or even WILK, WBAX and other AM stations, rather than giving WCLH a fair chance. We have problems but they are easily solved, if we have student support.

A radio station has unlimited potential. More people own radios than ever before, especially college students. More people can be reached with information of national, local, social, and personal impact than through most other forms of communication media.

For instance, if there is to be a campus or community function, all that is needed to inform people is a 60 second announcement over the radio (to be repeated at various intervals). Just drop us a post card or a note in our office on the third floor of Dart Hall.

Suppose you need a ride home or want to share one, our new programming allows 5-10 minutes for these ride announcements at 11:30 each night (and possibly at other times). Again, just drop us a postcard with your destination, the time you'll be leaving, returning and where you can be reached. It's all that simple.

Don't forget our regular programming, either. 2-5 Monday through Friday is classical showcase, 9:30-10:30 is Sounds of Jazz and 11-1 weekdays and 10-3 Saturday, Progressive Rock. Comments, criticisms and a programming guide are available at

Wilkes College

Foreign Language Department To Sponsor Free Spanish Film

The department of foreign languages is sponsoring a free film on Wednesday, December 4 at 7 and 9 p.m. in the CPA. To be presented is the Spanish film "Lazarillo." It will have Spanish dialogue and English subtitles.

"Lazarillo" is the story of faith and harsh reality in 16th century Spain. An impoverished and widowed woman gives her son Lazarillo (Marco Paoletti) to a traveling blind beggar next adopted father, turns out to be just as poor as the youth.

When the beggar proves to be a cruel master, Lazarillo runs away. Finally, Lazarillo is befriended by the chief actor (Memmo Carotenuto) in a troupe of theatrical players, a wily character who makes extra money by posing as a Friar and selling papal indulgences.

He aligns himself with a Sacristan-Priest, who also proves to be neglectful and only interested in using the boy to serve his own purposes. A wee-dressed squire by his conscience, he realized that he has to eat.

Sports Chatter

By Paul Domowitch

IN MEMORIAM

Two years ago, a courageous young man named Bobby McBride lost his life while playing football for the Wilkes College Colonels. His loss has left a void in many of our lives, but the memories of Bobby while he was alive; as a vibrant, unselfish human being, who gave 100 per cent in life as well as on the gridiron will never be forgotten.

On Saturday afternoon, Bobby's teammates will have an opportunity to attain a goal that he himself never experienced: BEING PART OF A CHAMPION.

When the clock ticks away the final seconds this weekend and the Colonels become number one, let's not forget an individual who gave more than 100 per cent for Wilkes; he gave his life. God bless him.

BOBBY MCBRIDE

Five years is a long time, but it will have been worth the wait if the Colonel gridders can down Albright this Saturday and lay sole claim to the Middle Atlantic Conference football championship.

Time was, when this was a yearly possession for the Wilkesmen, but the tide turned at the end of the last decade and the illustrious MAC title trophy has not rested in the Wilkes award case since 1969. For a minute there last Saturday, it appeared 1974 would end in utter disaster, but coach Rollie Schmidt's team finally got down to business and cooked the Del Val Aggies 24-14.

It took sub quarterback Chuck Suppon to shake the complacencies out of the Colonels, and he did it in heroic proportions. Coming off of the bench in the second half, the Wyoming Valley West grad led the Colonel offense in for two scores; capping his story book performance with a one yard plunge for the score that put Wilkes into the lead for good.

As the Blue and Gold carried Chuck back to the bench in jubilation and he raised his hands to give the "we're number one" sign, everyone realized how important this Middle Atlantic Conference championship really was to these kids. After two lackluster performances the previous weeks, critics felt this team just didn't want that title. But that comeback performance Saturday proved them wrong.

Despite the importance of the Del Val game, it was hard for the team to get really sky high for the Aggies after seeing that 2-5 win-loss record in print. Rollie told them they were better than that, but it took one half of a ball game to find out for themselves. At halftime, coach Schmidt didn't give them a repeat of Pat O'Brien's moving locker room speech from "the Knute Rockne Story." He just concentrated on correcting the malfunctions in the Colonel defense. Schmidt felt he didn't have to kick this team in the head to make them realize what was on the line. They hadn't wasted pounds of sweat and even a few drops of blood on that gridiron since mid-August for nothing. Getting up mentally for that second crucial half of play would have to come from within each and every man on that team. And the results speak for themselves.

We know it's probably repetitious to keep yapping about the family atmosphere on Wilkes College athletic teams, but it's true. The wrestlers were the most significant possessors of this unique quality in today's sports, but the basketball squad is also very close. And now, with that championship ever so close, the situation presents itself on the football team, and it could be a very important factor. Sure there have been a few scenes of temperament by some of the players. You just don't bump heads day in and day out and not get peeved at each other once in a while. But on the whole, these kids are close.

Why, you ask? It's simple. Wilkes College is not a football factory. Probably none of the Colonels will ever go on to play pro ball. Winning isn't a do or die effort. Instead of making a business out of college football, Wilkes has kept it a sport, where winning is a matter of pride; pride in yourself, and pride in your team. That pride is a personal emotion, which emits itself time and time again. And for the Wilkesmen, it's the pride of succeeding as a team and not as an individual. There are no $100,000 contracts waiting to be signed by these boys. The only reward is congratulations from their teammates and fans, and many times that can be worth much more than money. And winning that MAC title will earn the Colonels myriads of congratulations and respect in addition to a trophy which says in effect: we are the best.

As the song goes: "It's been a long time baby." Too long perhaps for the Wilkesmen. And Saturday afternoon, a talented, inspired football unit will make being a Colonel something to be proud of . . . win or lose.

With a playoff berth hanging in the wings, once beaten Butler and Webster battle this afternoon at 4 p.m. on the Ralston Field turf to decide who will go on to participate in next week's postseason action.

Butler has displayed an awesome offense thus far this season, rolling up almost 25 points a game in its five previous outings. Its only loss this season, came at the hands of Western division leader Webster II, who has already clinched a playoff berth.

Their offense operated out of a T-back formation, and sweep their backs time and time again. Big ground gainer in the Butler running attack is halfback John Panelli, who has great speed, and is capable of breaking any play for a touchdown.

When Butler takes to the airways, they utilize tight end Steve Coleman, and Jay Lemonjelli very effectively. Lemonjelli is a long threat, while Coleman is utilized out of his tight end position for short tosses. However, Coleman can catch the long ones when they need him.

Defensively, Butler works out of a 4-2-3, and has limited opponents to little success against it. Coleman, who doubles as a defensive end, is the stalwart in the Butler line.

Led by the passing of quarterback Joe Germaine, Webster also possesses a powerful offense. Germaine's two favorite receivers are John Lack and Jim Collins, who have been on the receiving end of a number of touchdowns.

The ground attack for Webster is led by halfback Andy Kresky, who has speed, and is utilized by Germaine on a great deal of passing plays.

Last week failed to produce very many significant changes in the standings, with many games being postponed, and a few others forfeited.

In a game that was played this past Monday, Butler House obliterated Slocum by a score of 33-0. Butler got on the scoreboard very quickly, with Steve Coleman taking a pass from his own 30-yard line, 70 yards for a score.

A few moments later after the Butler defense forced Slocum to punt, John Panelli took the kick 60-yards straight up the middle, to put his team up by 13 points.

The victors put two more scores on the board before the end of the half with split end Jay Lemonjelli on the receiving end of two long scores. His tremendous speed carried him past the Slocum secondary, and the passes were right on the numbers.

Halfback Panelli put the finishing touches on the game, scampering for a 30-yard score around left end with five minutes left in the contest.

There are several important games which have to be made up within the next few days, and at presstime, the scheduling of these contests were not released. With the Purple Gang, Roosevelt, and Rowe's Boats all fighting for the second playoff berth in the Eastern Division, the Purple Gang must play both Roosevelt and Rowe's Boats, and the Boatmen must still play the undefeated Rams in a game that was questionably cancelled this past Tuesday.

The semi-finals of the IM football league will be held this Monday and Tuesday, while the finals are scheduled for Thursday. Complete coverage of these contests will be included in the BEACON.

Win Saturday Will Give Gridders MAC Crown

BY PAUL DOMOWITCH

Saturday is what it's all about for the Wilkes College grid eleven, as they travel to Reading, Pa. to take on Albright College for the Middle Atlantic Conference "Northern Division" title.

It has been five long years since the Colonels last captured the MAC crown, but a victory Saturday will put an end to that drought. A loss to the Lions will enable Albright and Juniata to share the diadem with the Blue and Gold.

Running out of a "wishbone offense," Albright is 6-2 on the year, but is coming off of a surprising 33-6 defeat at the hands of Lebanon Valley. It has been nine years since the Lions and the Colonels have clashed on the gridiron, and ironically, that last meeting determined the MAC champ that year, also with Wilkes pulverizing Albright 37-7 to give them their first title in history. The Blue and Gold went on to win four more MAC crowns, but have not turned the trick since 1969.

Only other meeting between the two institutions was in 1964, with the Lions prevailing 48-14.

High Scoring Offense

This year's Lion team has counted on a punishing offense to overcompensate for a weak defense. In other words, they just keep racking up the points.

The Lion offense is led by quarterback Pat Sharp, who was injured two weeks ago, and did not see action in the Lebanon Valley loss. His status for Saturday's game was questionable at press time.

Almost completely dispensing with the pass (they had thrown only 45 times going into last week's game), the Lions of coach John Potsklan count on the outside running of halfbacks Kevin Daniels and Frankie Francks. Daniels, a 5'11 175-pounder is leading the conference in rushing, and has 676 yards on 82 carries for the season.

Francks is a 5'9, 160 pound back and has been right up there with Daniels, accumulating 529 yards on 81 lugs. These stats do not include last week's game.

The Albright offense uses their fullback on dive plays occasionally, but basically they utilize their two speedsters to the outside.

Last week, Lebanon Valley shifted into a 6-2 defense and successfully stifled the Lion wishbone. They contained the option, and time and time again had Albright pinned against the wall.

Weak Defense

Defensively, the Lions are weak. They have counted on their high scoring offense to win ball games, and have had trouble containing the weakest of teams. While their defense against the rush is not bad, they are very susceptible to the aerial, and victory may hinge on signal caller Greg Snyder's arm.

The Colonel defense is well adept to contain the Albright "wishbone," with ends Don Kulick and Lou Maczuga both possessing the great lateral pursuit to stop the running offense. The big key to stopping Albright however, will rest on the Blue and Gold outside linebackers, who will have to keep the Lion halfbacks from turning the corner and heading up field.

If they can do that, and the Wilkes offense can put at least three scores on the board, there will be no joy in Reading Saturday.

GRIDIRON TIDBITS: Saturday's contest will be for the "Pretzel Bowl."

Albright's Kevin Daniels Paces MAC In Rushing

With only one week remaining in Middle Atlantic Conference play, the Wilkes College gridders have clinched at least a tie for first place, and can take home all of the marbles with a win this Saturday against Albright. The Colonels are presently 5-0 in league competition, while Juniata and Albright trail the locals with one loss marring their individual records.

This week's Wilkes-Albright matchup will bring together the number one offense in the MAC against the number one defense. The Colonels are by far the most superior defensive team in the conference, limiting opponents to an average of 207.8 yards a contest. The Lions of Albright, operating out of a wishbone offense, have been averaging 350 yards a game, with 322 of it coming on the ground. Albright is last in the conference in passing however, accumulating only 28 yards an outing.

The Colonels are third in the conference in total offense, but utilize a well balanced attack, averaging 210 yards a game on the ground and 103 through the airways.

In the individual statistics,

Albright's speedy halfback Kevin Daniels is pacing the league in rushing with 511 yards on 60 carries for 8.5 average. Trailing Daniels is Delaware Valley's Floyd Alderfer with 488 yards on 122 carries.

Mike Buterbaugh, the outstanding quarterback from Susquehanna University leads the MAC in total offensive production as well as passing. He has been completing nearly sixty per cent of his aeriels, and can also run when it is necessary.

Leading in both the pass receiving and scoring categories is Juniata's premier end, Pete Lentini. Lentini has caught 23 aeriels in six games for 561 yards, and has crossed the goal line on eight occasions for 48 points.

With a fine day against the Aggies last weekend, Wilkes' Donny McDermott has moved within .3 of a yard of surpassing Susquehanna's Pete Rambo for the MAC lead in punting. Rambo is averaging 37.7 yards a boom, while Donny has a 37.4 average.

Colonelettes Are Disappointed Over Tournament Showing

BY DOTTY MARTIN

The 1974 Susquehanna Field Hockey Tournament proved to be a big disappointment to the Wilkes' hockey team as the girls found themselves returning from a weekend at Lock Haven State College with one tie and five losses.

The Colonelettes lost to Penn State, 6-0; Bucknell University, 1-0; Susquehanna University, 1-0; Bloomsburg State, 2-1; and Lock Haven State, 3-1. The Blue and Gold played to a scoreless tie with the Centre County Club.

Tournament play was at a very high level this year with excellent hockey being played all weekend. In a few of the games the Wilkes women were right in step, but just couldn't score. It was, however, a great experience for the girls to participate.

Penny Bianconi scored the goal against Bloomsburg and Barb Long scored against Lock Haven. Miss Long's goal was the only goal to pass the Lock Haven defense all weekend.

Lock Haven and Penn State dominated play with Lock Haven placing ten of the twenty two players named to the Susquehanna I and II teams. Penn State sent nine players to these teams.

Penny Bianconi was the only Wilkes player to be asked to trials for these teams. Miss Bianconi was later named "honorable mention." Coach Gay Meyers commented, "The selectors were impressed with the way Penny could get the hard shot off against the best of the defensive players."

Many of the Colonelettes had a good tournament, playing consistently all weekend. Debbie Titus, Diane Jones, Jean Johnson, and Susan Funke excelled on defense. Offensively, the Wilkes girls just couldn't push the ball in, but the forward line did a good job trying. Some fine passing came off the sticks of Barb Long and Ellen Schwartz. Sue Ann Knight did a good job filling in for injured Kim Flis. Despite her injury, Kim did see some action, but not as much as she ordinarily would have, and her knowledge of the game was greatly missed by her teammates.

When asked to comment on the tournament as a whole, Coach Meyers remarked, "Most of the girls played as well this weekend as I could expect them to, but not everyone was sharp every game and that's how it has to be to win down there."

"Losing all weekend is no fun, but the kids did play some good hockey and learned from the experience — each year we show more improvement."

So ends the 1974 field hockey season for the Wilkes College Colonelettes. With the exception of seniors Ellen Schwartz, Marivita Saleski, and Angela Centrella, Coach Meyers is expecting her starters back next season. With a little more experience, maybe next year will prove to be promising for the team.

HOCKEY CAREERS OVER—For these three girls, the Susquehanna Field Hockey Tournament last weekend spelled the end of fine careers. Angela Centrella (left), Ellen Swartz (center), and Marivita Saleski (right) have all been stellar performers for Coach Gay Meyers team during their four years of service.
