

MINERS' FAMILIES TO BENEFIT FROM BUTLER HALL DANCE

by Cynthia Hagley

The men of Butler Hall are sponsoring a dance this Saturday night in their dormitory. The evening will be patterned after the usual Friday night dance: Admission, 50 cents; refreshments for sale; and dancing to the music of the Mary Jean Quartet from 9 to 12.

There will be, however, a slight difference between this dance and those held in the gym. When Butler Hall last sponsored a dance of this type, it was a huge success. Some students were sorry that they missed the opportunity of attending. Now Butler Hall is giving them the chance to join the rest of the student body for the evening. The men of Butler promise a fraternity atmosphere will be prevalent.

Prior to the dance and during the dance itself, raffle tickets will be sold. The proceeds from this sale and any profits made otherwise on the dance will go to the Port Griffith Disaster Fund. In the latter part of the evening, the drawing for the raffle prizes will take place. First prize will be a transistor radio; second prize, a flash bulb camera; third prize, a pen and pencil set; and fourth prize, a five-dollar gift certificate from the Hub.

The general chairman of this affair is Ira Himmel. He is assisted by Bill Cox, refreshments; Bob Washburn, tickets; Don Lewis, raffle; Dave Roebuck, publicity; Larry Major, entertainment; and Reggie Mattioli, clean-up.

Remember, this will be the only dance open to the whole student body over this week-end.

ICG Conference Held on Sunday

by Lee Baiera

A meeting of the student representatives from ten college chapters of the Northeastern Region of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government and Politics (I.C.G.) was held Sunday at Asa Packer Hall at Lehigh University.

The purpose of the meeting was to present mock bills of legislation for debate and discussion. Wilkes' delegation submitted four bills, three of which came out of the committee and were enacted by the general assembly.

The Health, Education, and Welfare committee, headed by John Mulhall, vice-president of the Wilkes I.C.G., submitted two bills. The first bill, introduced by Don Stein, provided for mergers of small school districts. A second bill, introduced by Charles Billings, provided for salary increases for public school teachers based on accredited work in their major field.

The Labor-Industry committee submitted one bill. This bill was introduced by Mike Bianco and provided for the preventing the receipt of unemployment compensation benefits by striking employees who have been lawfully replaced.

Comments by representative schools lauded the Wilkes delegation for the adequate presentation and argumentation of its bills. Wilkes made an excellent showing in getting three bills passed.

Gordon Roberts, I.C.G. chairman, was elected to be the chairman of the major committee, Labor-Industry, at Harrisburg on April 17, 18, and 19.

Matmen Bring Home Third Title As Three Win Championships

F. ROBERTS HONORED AT BOSTON TOURNEY

by Connie Stukowski

In the Boston University Tournament held last weekend, Fred Roberts and Gwen Evans, representing Wilkes, posted a record of four wins and two losses to gain seventh place.

Wilkes gained further honors, for Roberts was selected as the top individual debater in the tournament, the first time such an honor has been won by a Wilkes representative. Roberts gained this honor as a result of being ranked first speaker in four rounds and second speaker in two rounds. This gave him a total of eight in the rankings.

In this tournament Roberts made one of his finest showings during his four years of intercollegiate debate. He has also won other debating honors: two months ago he was awarded a gold medal for being first speaker at the Bucknell Tournament.

In the Boston University Tournament, Roberts and four other debaters also had a ranking of eight. Roberts, however, had 239 points, placing him ahead of Bovey of Navy with 238 points, Davidow of Princeton with 224 points, Babcock of Penn with 220 points, and Lee of Boston University with 218 points.

In the debate itself, Roberts and Evans alternately debated both sides of the national topic, "Resolved: That further development of nuclear weapons should be prohibited by international agreement." Wilkes defeated Princeton, Eastern Nazaren of Maine, and St. John's of Hillcrest, and was defeated by Bates and St. John's University. They accumulated a total of 457 points and a seventh-place rating in a field of thirty-six teams.

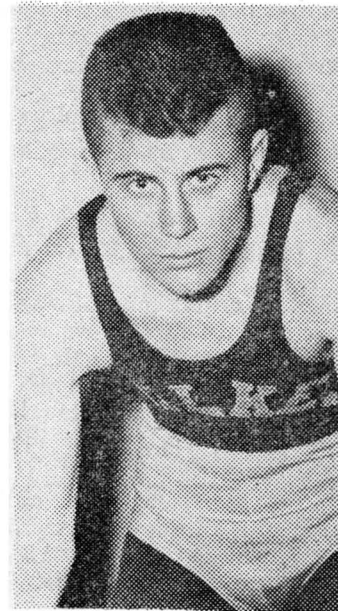

In the final round of the debate, Bowdoin defeated MIT to win the tournament. One of the judges of this round was Dr. Arthur Kruger, who accompanied the WC debaters.

The next tournament in which the Wilkes team will participate is the State of Pennsylvania Tournament which will be held on March 12 to 14 at Scranton University. Wilkes will send four representatives to this tourney. In the past three years Wilkes has either taken first place or been a finalist in this tournament.

I.R.C. Goes to Villanova Convention Next Week; To Discuss Middle East

On Friday and Saturday, March 13th and 14th, the annual State Convention of the Pennsylvania Association of International Relations Clubs will be held on the Villanova University campus, Villanova, Pa. The topic under discussion will be "The Problems of the Middle East." The Villanova branch of the Association is working hard to make this convention a success. Four expert speakers have been engaged to guide the student delegates in their discussion of the problem.

Dick Stauffer

Stauffer Secures Win; Antinnes and Toluba Also Earn Gold Medals

by Richard J. Myers

Staving off a determined try by Lycoming, the Colonels retained their Middle Atlantic wrestling supremacy last weekend at Hofstra College, rolling up 63 points to win the crown for the third straight year.

Wilkes duplicated last year's domination of the annual tournament by coming out on top with three gold-medal champions, Dick Stauffer, Ted Toluba, and Marv Antinnes.

To Stauffer, Colonel 123-pound stalwart, went the honor of clinching the victory. Lycoming needed three wins in the final rounds to have any chance of scoring enough to topple the champions, and Stauffer met Al Hazzard of Lycoming in the 123 final.

He trailed Hazzard, who put him in trouble in the first round, but escaped early in the second period to tie the bout, then scored a take-down to go ahead. The two exchanged takedowns in the final period and Stauffer won, 7-5.

Toluba met King of Muhlenberg in the 157 final, and became the second Wilkes titleholder with a fine 3-2 decision. King was no match for the burly Colonel, managing two escapes, but unable to use his bull-like tactics to score a takedown.

Marv Antinnes dashed the phenomenal collegiate record of Bucknell's Dave Murdock, who had never lost a bout in his college career. Murdock was defending 167-pound champion, a title he earned by defeating Antinnes here in the tournament last year.

After a cautious first two periods in which the only point came on an escape by Murdock, Antinnes began to operate towards gaining revenge when he pulled off a fast reverse, then scored three points on a near fall to lead, 5-1. Then with half the period gone, he pressed with unbelievable strength and pinned the outclassed Bison.

Joe Morgan finished third in the 137-pound class, on the strength of a brilliant fall over another Bucknell grappler, Rowland Bell. Morgan led throughout the bout, which took only 4 minutes and 55 seconds.

Captain Walter Glogowski took third in the 177-pound division when he defeated, for the second time this year, Bill Brown of Lafayette. Glogowski had only one bad moment, when Brown took him down early in the third period, but he escaped in 20 seconds and went on to win a 4-2 decision.

Gerard Senick finished fourth in the 130-pound class when he lost a 5-0 decision to Albright's Ronnie Green. He showed plenty of determination and tried hard, but the wily Lion had too much.

Finishing a rather distant second to Wilkes, Lycoming was second with 49 points, West Chester third with 44, Bucknell fourth with 30, and host Hofstra fifth, 28.

Others: Gettysburg 25, Moravian 22, Muhlenberg 17, Drexel 11, Albright, Lafayette 6, Lebanon Valley 4, P.M.C. 3, Delaware University 2, Elizabethtown 2, Dickinson 1, Ursinus 1, and Swarthmore 0.

SCIENCE LECTURE

N.Y.U. DEPT. HEAD WILL SPEAK TUESDAY

by Jean Shofranko

Dr. Lyle Borst, Chairman of the Department of Physics, New York University, will be guest speaker at the science lecture, "The Peaceful Uses of the Atom," which will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Dr. Borst received his bachelor's and master's degree in chemistry from the University of Illinois and received his doctorate at the University of Chicago where he worked on nuclear research with the cyclotron.

He has worked on problems associated with the production of energy from uranium, first on the University of Illinois contract which became the metallurgical laboratory, and later he assisted in the design of the Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and Hanford, Washington, plants. He co-ordinated research activities around the reactor at Oak Ridge which was the second chain reaction established and was a 10,000 fold scale-up from the first reactor in Chicago.

In 1946 Dr. Borst joined the staff of the Brookhaven National Laboratory to supervise the reactor development at that location. His recent physical research has been in the direction of neutron problems, and he has been interested in the application of the results of his studies to geophysical and geological problems.

Tuesday's lecture is the final in a series of lectures concerning the "Atom and the Future of Our Civilization," which is being sponsored by the three science clubs of Wilkes: the Biology Club, the Engineering Club, and the Chemistry Club; and the following organizations: YMCA, YWCA, Luzerne County Civil Defense Council, Jewish Community Center, League of Women Voters of Wilkes-Barre, Osterhout Library, Wyoming Valley Council of Churches, and the Wyoming Valley Women's Club.

EDITORIALS

He Said It Couldn't Be Done!!

"This year we will take our lumps." So said wrestling coach John Reese at the start of the season. The "lump" turned out to be one of solid gold, the Middle Atlantic wrestling championship plaque.

Lycoming tried, but no team could stop the inspired Colonels from taking their third straight title. This, according to Reese, was to be the rebuilding year, the time to test previously untested talent on the mats. If this is a rebuilding team, then we would hate to see the opposition next year — they won't know what hit them. In our opinion this is the best showing ever made by a Wilkes team. Consider the fact that four of the varsity wrestlers were competing in their first year of college grappling, this is exactly one-half of the squad. If you still are doubtful, check into the teams they beat: F. and M., Ithaca, and Lycoming among others. These teams do not rate the title "cream puff" in our book; they are tough to beat, yet the Colonels defeated them. Our wrestlers smashed their way to seven straight victories this year, not an unprecedented record to be sure, but certainly one to be proud of.

The sports world is not exactly our 'line' but you don't have to be an expert to know when a team deserves all the credit in the world for a fine showing. Congratulations!

The Answer Man

Every president of every organization on campus has been bombarded, via Chase Hall mail box route, with queries about his organization in connection with the self-evaluation going on. These question sheets are usually printed on white paper, in what we call "final exam blue" ink. The ditto machine has been working until all hours of the night turning out these articles of torture.

The various committee chairmen on the evaluation committee want to know ALL, nothing can be hidden from their probing questions. For instance, one innocent-looking paper contained this loaded line: name the officers of your organization for the years between 1948 and 1959. We tried, but had to give up on that one. Some presidents, however, have emerged, dusty, but victorious, from stacks of old records with the answer. On the other hand, some of our 'leaders' have discarded in disgust the carefully planned question sheets. Why? Because they require that old stopper, work. These questions were not dreamed up by some underworked faculty member who had nothing to do. They have a purpose.

We grant that that purpose is not too generally known right now, but underneath it all, there is a reason. Let's get those answers returned to the proper person, it won't hurt. We realize that there is some duplication of effort, but that just makes the questions easier. Once you have looked up the answer for the first one, it is easy to write it down for the second committee. Some of the questions may seem silly (witness the one asked the Beacon: How are the students of the campus made aware of your organization?) but they must be answered sooner or later. We suggest that you save yourself embarrassment and answer them now.

The Butler Did It

We have been hearing some drastic statements around campus this week about the men from Butler Hall. It seems that the dormitory is holding a dance with the profit going to the families concerned with the recent mine disaster. Since the junior class decided to use its calendar date for a closed party, Wilkes was left without a Friday night dance, something that hasn't happened in years. The men of Butler, however, have not only provided us with a dance, but they have also added the incentive of having charity benefit.

It is nice to see a group do something like this once in a while. Most of you who have ever sponsored a dance realize the work involved. At the end of that work, however, is the money-counting, the knowledge that you may not go into the red after all. Butler Hall, however, is just doing the work and waiving the bank book angle of the proposition. At least they will have the satisfaction of knowing that their work has not gone for nothing, they will have done a great service not only for the community, but also for the name of the college. —mjk

Dear Senior:

As president of your class, I feel it is my duty to remind you of the closeness of graduation and its corresponding responsibilities.

Our foremost responsibility at this time is the selection of a class gift to be presented to the college upon graduation. Our class is the first to benefit from four year's accumulation of the Memorial Fund assessment made each semester.

On the basis of this fact, our gift committee has, out of several possibilities, come up with the following two possibilities:

(1) A bulletin board which will consume the entire memorial fund and the treasury, to be erected at a site to be decided upon election; OR

(2) Pennants for the gym (4' x 10') of all members of the Middle Atlantic Conference; and an approximate contribution of $800 to the college, to be governed by your trustees who will be permanently elected in June.

It is your responsibility to take action on either of these possibilities. To make this responsibility expedient on your part, the gift committee will send to you, next week, a return post card with the two options listed. Please return this card no later than March 20 so that our gift will be presented to the college at its due time — graduation.

If there are any questions as to either of the possibilities, please feel free to contact me or any of the class officers, or members of the class council.

Sincerely yours,
RODGER LEWIS
Senior Class President

OPEN LETTER

To: Wilkes Wrestling Fans

On behalf of Coach John Reese and the entire wrestling team, assistant coaches, and manager, I would like to use this means of thanking the faculty members, student body, administration, and all of the other loyal fans who have contributed such great moral support to our team throughout the season.

Although the physical efforts were our own, it would have been impossible for us to complete our undefeated, untied season without the tremendous following behind us regardless of the distances covered.

During the Middle Atlantic Conference tournament at Hofstra, it was a great honor to have led the rest of the teams in scoring, but it was an even greater thrill to hear the thundering ovation from the students, faculty, and even alumni who made the trip to Long Island to cheer us on.

Most especially appreciated were the telegrams from all the clubs and campus organizations who weren't able to be with us in person. These good luck wishes came to us at a time when we really needed moral support. With such wonderful backing we just had to make even stronger efforts in the defense of our championship. The success of our efforts was one of the ways in which we tried to thank all of you for that support.

In this, my last year of athletics at Wilkes, I feel that I would be ungrateful if I failed to give credit to all of the wonderful people who have made my association with Wilkes College's sports program a happy memory which I will value all of my life.

Coach Reese gave us training and developed our skills, and we have been complimented on our desire to win. I appreciate Mr. Reese's guidance and the enthusiasm of my team mates, but above all, I want to thank again all of the fans whose encouragement has brought us through one of our most successful seasons.

Your very truly,
Walter Glogowski, captain,
Wilkes College Wrestling Team

FRENCH, ITALIAN HUMOR IN FOREIGN LANGUAGE FILMS

"The Seven Deadly Sins," a production of Contemporary Films, Inc., will be shown in the Lecture Hall, Stark 116, next Thursday, March 12. There will be two showings, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Seven witty, amusing anecdotes, five in French, two in Italian (with English titles) comprise this highly entertaining film, a presentation of the Language Department.

According to Jesse Zunsner, Cue Magazine, "the participants in this Herculean film achievement read like a Who's Who in French and Italian film-making." A diverse, yet unified work of dramatic art is combined in a seven-fold presentation illustrative of the seven sins: Avarice, Wrath, Sloth, Lust, Envy, Gluttony, and Pride.

Michele Morgan and Gerard Philipe, award-winning French cinema stars, are among the most famous of the players. Others are: Francoise Rosay, Frank Villard, Viviane Romance, Noel-Noel, Henri Vidal, and Isa Miranda.

Roberto Rossellini and Eduardo de Filippo lead the array of well-known directors responsible for the uniform excellence of the rich, humorous, adult entertainment. The other directors: Carlo-Rim, Jean Dreville, Yves Allegret, Claude Autant-Lara, and Georges Lacombe.

All members of the student body, whether language students or not, are invited and urged to attend one of the showings of this film. What will be seen will long be remembered — a 120 delightful minutes of irony, drama, satire, wit, and pure amusement.

SAM TOURS TUNG-SOL, VISITS OTHER PLANTS

by Lee Baiera

For the past few weeks the Society for Advancement of Management has been engaged in a few interesting projects.

Last week S.A.M. took two tours to Tung-Sol Electric Company, Inc. which makes radio and television tubes.

The tour was highlighted by a talk by Mr. Frank J. Salvatini, 1956 graduate from Wilkes and plant accountant at Tung-Sol. He explained the working of the accounting department to the group.

After the tour, Plant Manager, Mr. Kiser; Manufacturing Supervisor, Mr. Meklig; Personnel Director, Mr. Williamson; Plant Controller, Mr. Fukson; and Chief Industrial Engineer, Mr. Hertig, had a round table discussion with the group.

Two weeks ago S.A.M. had a dinner meeting at the Europa Lounge in Wilkes-Barre.

The main speaker of the evening, Mr. Richard Levy, Assistant Manager of Kingston Cake Co. and a member of the Board of Pennsylvania Baker's Association, spoke on "Management Potential." His talk included career opportunities in the baking industry.

Three weeks ago S.A.M. took a tour of the Stegmaier bottling plant in Wilkes-Barre. Guides explained the various ingredients which go into the making of beer.

After the tour the group was entertained by their host, Mr. Anthony Fabio, at a buffet luncheon.

SR. SPRING SWING NEXT WEEK FEATURES DANCING, NO GIMMICK

Wilkes Music Students Present Church Program

Members of the College Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Miss Phyllis Clark, were featured in a concert of Baroque church music, held Monday evening in Saint Clement's Episcopal Church, Hanover Street, Wilkes-Barre.

The program, which was sponsored by the Wilkes-Barre Chapter of American Guild of Organists, was presided over by Mr. Clifford Balshaw, F.A.G.O., instructor of organ and piano at Wilkes, and head organist - choirmaster at St. Stephen's Church.

In addition to the choral numbers of the madrigal singers, vocal soloists Wayne Walters and Jean Pyatt were heard. Audrey Bartlett, senior music major, presented the organ prelude, and additional organ numbers were presented by Bill Peters, junior music education major. Nancy Thomas was organ accompanist for the madrigal singers.

Music by Al Anderson, Records for Intermission; Decor in Holiday Air

by Cynthia Hagley

One week from today the Senior Class will present the "Senior Spring Swing," with Al Anderson and his orchestra. This dance will cost only 50 cents per person and records will be played at intermission.

This is a perfect set-up for those people who enjoy going to dance where they can do some dancing. No added attractions are promised by the Seniors. There is a rumor floating around that the decorations will be very colorful and in line with a coming holiday.

The Senior Class has approximately 60 members off campus this semester as Student Teachers. Most of these students compose the regular working body of the Senior Class as an organization and this factor was important in deciding to have "a dance for dancing."

General chairman for the evening is Robert Payne, with assistance from the following people: Mike Dydo, chairman of the refreshment committee; Nancy Payne, chairman of the decorating committee; Robert Sestak, chairman of the ticket committee; Fran Bishop, chairman of the entertainment committee; and Elisabeth Schwartz, chairman of publicity.

Dancing will be from 9 to 12 in the gym.

MARVIN ANTINNES UPSETS 167-LB. CHAMPION TO CAP PERFECT SEASON WITH M.A.C. CROWN

Pins Bucknell's Ace In Tournament Final, Earns Beacon's Award

For his outstanding performances in leading the Colonels to their third consecutive MAC wrestling championship, Marvin Antinnes is named recipient of this week's "Athlete of the Week" award. Marv continued his winning ways through the MAC Tournament and emerged Mid-Atlantic Champion in the 167-pound class.

His opponent in the title match was Bucknell's Dave Murdock who had defeated Marv for the 167-pound title last year. Dave had amassed eighteen consecutive victories and an unblemished record in his college career, but Marv proved to be more skillful and pinned Murdock in 7:07 for the crown.

This was a typical performance by Marv who went through the regular season with a spotless record and added three wins in the tournament. His strength and agility make him one of the most explosive grapplers in Wilkes' history.

CATCHERS, PITCHERS START WORKOUTS; COACH PINKOWSKI SENDS OUT FIRST CALL

New head coach Francis "Pinky" Pinkowski has issued a call for candidates wishing to try out for the baseball team. The first call has gone out to all prospective pitchers and catchers to report to the Wilkes gym Monday, March 9 at 4 p.m.

At the present time Coach Pinkowski is on a two-week naval training cruise, so word on when the balance of the candidates are to report remains unknown. However, in view of the fact that the baseball season officially opens April 2, it is likely that the rest of the candidates will report next week also.

Anyone interested in participating in baseball should be present at the gym on Monday to receive official word from the Coach on when to report.

Returning lettermen on hand to greet the new head mentor will include such mainstays as Ralph Hendershot, leading hitter of last season, and Mike Dydo, big first-baseman and powerful slugger.

COLONELS END SEASON WITH WIN OVER LIONS

Havira, Eckhart Swim In Tournament; Make Good Showing In Fast Company

Delaware, Wilkes Tie; Swimming Dominated By Powerful Lehigh

Last week-end a two-man representation of the Wilkes swimming squad gained a ninth place tie with Delaware U. in the Middle Atlantic Swimming Tourney. A single point by Carl Havira in the 100-yard breaststroke event placed the Colonel contingent in their place among a competing field of 15 colleges and universities.

Coach Russ Picton entered the team of Carl Havira and Art Eckhart in the tournament for the two-fold purpose of having the men gain valuable experience and to gauge the results that he may be able to extract from next year's crop of natators.

Freshman Art Eckhart was entered in the 50- and 100-yard free-style events. In the 50, Art, hit the time of 25.7 seconds while Barrett, the winner from Bucknell, hit a time of 24.3 seconds. Eckhart's times in practice have been consistently under the 25 second mark.

In the 100-yard event Art was again awed by the big-time competition as he made the time of 59.8 seconds as the Dickinson representative, Jon Kulp, won in 55.3. The experience gained in the tourney should give Art valuable insight in his future encounters in the pool.

Point-getter "Hummer" Havira was a splash behind the first place man in the 100-yard breaststroke, but the clock caught him at 1:15.8 to place fifth in the strong competition paced by Lehigh's Abramson at 1:11.2.

In the 200-yard breaststroke, Havira was one second out of the points as the timer caught him at 2:47.9. In the 200-yard butterfly Carl was again edged out of the money by less than a body length.

Powerful Lehigh University won the tournament with an aggregate score of 73 points. This marks the fifth time in the last nine years that they have taken the crown. Close behind with 62 points came the powerful West Chester team, and in third place with 28 points came the ever threatening Dickinson College.

Although the Wilkes fledglings didn't fly into one of the top three positions, they at least indicated by their presence they will enter future forays with much more gusto and experience under their belts.

Weather Hampers Golfing Drills

With seven new recruits out for the golf team, Coach Walton Farrah's hopes for a successful season should be at an all-time high. Last year's lettermen are working the kinks out in different locations around the Valley.

The team members wait for a break in the weather, then scurry to the nearest links where they undertake the chore of improving on their mistakes of last year.

Although they have been practicing at the local Y.M.C.A. regularly, they are really awaiting the beginning of the first serious golfing weather. All home games will be played at the Irem Temple Country Club, with advance reports indicating that the links will be in excellent condition for the first home meet on April 22, against Juniata.

Help Hospital Drive! See Donkey Basketball Here on Wed, March 18

Heard the latest? Now donkeys are playing basketball! You can see them at the Wilkes College gym on Wednesday, March 18 at 8 p.m. The thing that makes these donkeys particularly good at playing basketball is that they are trained—to do just about anything but play the game correctly.

Our own Wilkes sophomores will be riding the animals, and they have not been chosen for their riding ability. An entertaining and unusual evening is guaranteed for all who attend.

The Sophomore Class is sponsoring this Donkey Basketball game for the benefit of the General Hospital Building Fund. This is a worthy cause, as all those familiar with the Wyoming Valley know. The Hospital will appreciate your supporting the affair and the Sophomores insist you will not regret it. There will be a donation of only 65 cents for this riotous evening, so plan now to attend. Tickets can be purchased through any Sophomore Council member.

COLONELS INVITED TO 2 PIN TOURNAMENTS

Wilkes bowlers have been invited to participate in two tournaments this year. The first of these is an innovation in bowling, the "First Annual Inter-Intramural Bowling Tournament, sponsored by Lebanon Valley College, and will be held on April 4, at Lebanon, Pa.

The other is the big, Ninth Annual Eastern Intercollegiate Match Game Championships, to be held in New York City April 18-19, 25-26, and May 2-3. The Eastern championships are sponsored by the 25-team Eastern Intercollegiate Bowling Conference.

Last year 240 bowlers representing 51 colleges and universities participated in the event. Wilkes sent a seven-man team which fell victim to "tournament jitters," and were able to place only one man, Dan Lewis, among the leaders. Lewis finished 32nd in the standings; the top 16 qualifiers go on to bowl for the beautiful 22-inch Loria trophy, which goes to the winning school for one year.

Because of the vast improvement and greater interest in intramural bowling this year, it will be necessary to hold an elimination roll-off if too many bowlers hope to enter the 1959 championships. Bowlers interested in participating in this event are asked to see Dick Myers or Dan Lewis, student directors of intramural bowling.

Lebanon Valley
The department of intramurals at Lebanon Valley has invited eight other schools to send teams to its first attempt at tournament bowling. Two intramural teams, not all-star or "top-ten" bowlers, are invited. The two teams at the top of the Wilkes Intramural league after the bowling on Sunday, March 22, will be eligible to go.

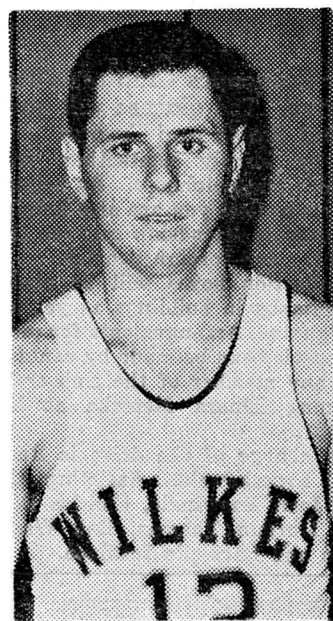

Awards for the winners are: one team trophy to the winning school and an individual trophy each to the bowlers who get the high single game and the high series.

The competition will consist of four games across eight alleys and will be conducted under ABC rules. Schools invited are: Albright, Dickinson, Elizabethtown, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, Moravian, Muhlenberg, and Wilkes.

Gacha, Radecki Star In Colonels' Victories Over Tough Opponents

The Wilkes Colonels finished the basketball season Wednesday night with a victory over the Albright Lions by the score of 75-68.

The victory boosted the Colonels' seasonal record to 9 wins and 11 losses and closed the campaign with a hopeful outlook for next year.

Davis' charges started fast at the opening whistle and except for a lag mid-point in the second half, retained the lead throughout the game.

Junior guard George Gacha provided the spark responsible for victory as he zipped 23 points through the nets and displayed fine dribbling form when the Lions tried to force the Wilkes attack.

Center Ron Roski scored 16 counters and played great defensive ball. Fran Mikolanis his for 11 points while Clem Gavenas and Bernie Radecki each added 9 tallies.

Barry Yocum also aided the Colonel cause with his rugged rebounding off the defensive boards.

The Wilkes junior varsity defeated Albright's jayvees in a preliminary game, 74 to 45. They finished strong in the second half to emerge victorious.

Bernie Kosch, 6 foot, 6 inch center, paced the attack with 23 points. Eddie Kemps scored 19 counters, John Kuhar gathered in 13, and John Salsburg registered 10.

The junior varsity, under the direction of first-year coach Al Goldberg, finished with a 7 won, 2 lost record.

A determined Wilkes College squad put the damper on Philadelphia Textile's ideas for a NCAA tournament bid when they defeated the Rams last Saturday night, 83-69.

Taking an early lead in the game, the Colonels stayed ahead to come through with their most impressive victory of the season.

Bernie Radecki, ex-Ashley star, paced the Wilkes attack. Radecki garnered 23 points, 15 coming in the first half, and proved to be Wilkes' roughest man off the boards.

George Gacha hit consistently from the outside with his patented one-hand shot, and tallied 21 points. Gacha also was the deciding factor against the Rams' pressing tactics as he displayed fine dribbling prowess.

Fran Mikolanis added 14 counters to the Colonels' cause, while center Ron Roski chipped in with 13 points. Both men played an instrumental part in the Blue and Gold's victory.

In the junior varsity game the Wilkes Jayvees were victorious over George Morgan's All-Stars by the score of 84-75. Eddie Kemps led the Jayvees with 25 points and Don Matthey countered 19 points.

Pinkowski Guides '59 Baseball Team

Francis Pinkowski was recently named by director of athletics George Ralston to head the 1959 baseball squad. Coach Pinkowski will succeed wrestling coach and director of Physical Education John Reese in mentor duties.

Coach Pinkowski played football for Wilkes from 1946 to 1949. His baseball activities also included 3 years of varsity ball here, played in left field.

He graduated from Wilkes in 1950 with a B.S. degree in Commerce and Finance and served as a commissioned officer with the Army in Korea.

John Reese will utilize the time usually spent in coaching the baseball team by studying for an advanced degree and spending more time on his wrestling and physical education duties.

Coach Pinkowski will have his job cut out for him as he will try to improve on the 10 win and 4 loss record of last year's diamond squad. The team took first place in the Northern Division of the Mid-Atlantic Conference last season.

The bonds of matrimony aren't worth much unless the interest is kept up.

Economics Club Adopts Project To Donate 'New Eyes for the Needy'

by Phyllis Iannuzzo

During the month of March, the Economics Club of Wilkes College will conduct an eye-glass drive. The glasses will go to underprivileged children in the United States and Europe.

The glasses do not have to be in good condition; therefore, any type glasses in any condition, complete glasses, sunglasses, frames only, one lens missing, or broken frames will be accepted. The glasses will be shipped to "New Eyes for the Needy", Shorthills, New Jersey, where they will salvage whatever they can to provide glasses for needy Americans as well as Europeans. Money obtained from the sale of scrap frame metal will be used to provide eye operations for needy people.

Everyone is asked to help participate in the project. You can do so by simply contacting your friends and neighbors. By helping in this project you are also helping to promote friendship between this country and foreign peoples.

Collection boxes will be placed on campus in buildings as yet undesignated. Arrangements for pick-up service can be made by contacting any member of the club or by phoning Elnora Metroka at VA 3-6421.

In charge of the drive is Reginald Trzeskowski. Assisting him are Jean Kaswinkle, Charles Butler, Morgan Thomas, Bob Washburn and Carmella Insalaco.

RETAILING MAJORS AT CAREER SESSION

Beverly Gates and George Schall, two senior retailing majors, attended a career conference sponsored by New York University at New York on February 27. Mr. Ronald Michman, retailing instructor at Wilkes, accompanied the two students at the conference.

The retailing conference, the eleventh annual such affair, had its headquarters in New York's Statler-Hilton Hotel. Purpose of the conference was to associate retail merchandising students with various aspects of that career.

The representatives from Wilkes participated in a discussion of specific problems and questions pertaining to retailing. The group toured David Crystals and Ceil Chapman, famous New York houses of fashion. The tour was concluded with a visit to Ohrbach's department store.

MANUSCRIPT SETS 5 O'CLOCK DEADLINE

The Manuscript Association has announced that the deadline for accepting material for its spring publication has been extended to five o'clock today.

Up to now, short stories and other literary works have been submitted to the association. The works are reviewed by committees to determine their values and if they are acceptable for publication.

George Black, editor of the Manuscript, has announced that regular meetings will be held Wednesday afternoons at 4:00 in Chapman Hall. Change of meeting time was brought about to enable student teachers to be present.

The second in a series of film presentations will be held next Friday evening at 7:30 in Stark Hall 116, according to Robert Stevens, general chairman of Manuscript Film Society.

ED. CLUB INSTALLS LEADERS EDUCATOR AIRS PROBLEMS

by Steve Cooney

The new officers of the Education Club were installed recently at a meeting held in Sturdevant Hall. Plans were made by the new officers for the variety of activities coming up in the remainder of the school year.

SEX THROUGH THE AGES

Last Assembly

Biology Club of the college was in charge of last Tuesday's assembly program. The program consisted of a group of short speeches centered around the general topic, "Sex Through the Ages." The main topic was divided into three smaller topics, each presented by a different speaker.

Jerry Gutterman spoke on "Sexual Reproduction in the Invertebrates." Gutterman explained the reproduction habits of common invertebrates such as starfish, insects, and earthworms. Phyllis Becker chose as her topic "Reproduction in the Aquatic Vertebrates." She explained the different types of reproduction in animals of the waters.

"Sexual Reproduction in the Terrestrial Vertebrates" was the topic discussed by William Davis. Mr. Davis concluded his speech with a short description of part of the reproductive cycle of humans.

In addition to the speakers, displays were exhibited in the gymnasium foyer. The exhibits were related to the branches of biology discussed in the program.

Committee in charge of the exhibits was composed of Alfred D'Anca, James Thomas, John Maylock, Robert Martin, John Schade.

to be an interesting discussion. Also at the meeting were representatives from Coughlin High School Future Teachers of America Club.

Later this month the club is planning to make a trip to Bloomsburg State Teachers College to visit its teachers' training school. At this school, college students who are prospective teachers work in actual classroom situations in their early years at college. This provides these future teachers with more classroom experience and a broader background before they begin their student teaching.

Plans were also made by the new officers for starting special film showings of educational interest. Topics of these films will be decided at next Thursday's meeting of the club.
