2013-2014

Alma Mater
Wilkes, our Alma Mater,
We pledge our hearts to thee.
Honor, faith, and courage,
Truth and loyalty.
In our work as in our pleasure,
Guide us as a friend;
We shall always love thee,
Loyal to the end.

Thou shalt lead us onward
In search of finer things.
May we find the wisdom
That thy spirit brings.
May our deeds of love and service
Ever swell thy fame --
Wilkes, we stand to greet thee!
Glory to thy name!

Fight Song
Wilkes is in town again to "fight,
team, fight!"
Echo the glad refrain and "fight,
team, fight!"
Wilkes, it's for you we sing,
For Wilkes, the echoes ring.
Colonels will win today! Hey!

Down on the field they're playing
man-for-man
To open another lane.
Down on the field and o'er the goal,
Wilkes is in town again!

Dear Class of 2014,

Congratulations! You have completed your coursework and your requirements to graduate. Your time at Wilkes has come to an end. It is an end that you should be extremely proud of. You are now entering a new phase of life. One journey has ended; yet another journey awaits you. Where will you go? What will you do?

In your celebration of your accomplishments and this very important milestone in your life, remember that although your time at Wilkes ends with a presentation of a degree, there have been equally important lessons you have learned during your time here. As a freshman, you entered with the goal to earn a bachelor's degree. You have completed this goal. But as Ernest Hemingway reminds us, "It is good to have an end to journey toward; but it is the journey, that matters, in the end."

Think about your time here at Wilkes and what you have learned not only in the classroom as part of your journey to attain your degree, but also what you have learned as a person outside of the classroom, in your interactions with professors, mentors, classmates, coaches, teammates, friends. Think about your journey as an adult, as a learner, as a friend, as a fellow human being.

Think of the relationships fostered here. Think of your mentors and perhaps those you sought to mentor. We emphasize those relationships here at Wilkes. I hope it has made your journey here a better one and one that you will continue to learn from as your life continues past our campus. I hope it has also inspired you to mentor someone else, whether it be in your next classroom or your new occupation.

We hope that you will think of your time here often. We will certainly think of you often. Your journey as a Wilkes undergraduate has ended; but your journey as an alumnus has just begun. Keep in touch. Come back and visit. Share your stories and your new life lessons with us. Although a new journey begins for you, perhaps far away from Wilkes, we want to hear about it. And as our journey as a school continues on, we urge you to remain a part of it. Take advantage of the Alumni Association; there are incredible alumni out there looking to mentor new Wilkes graduates. Return for Homecoming and see what's new on campus. Stay in touch with your wonderful professors and coaches. Wilkes will always be waiting for your return.

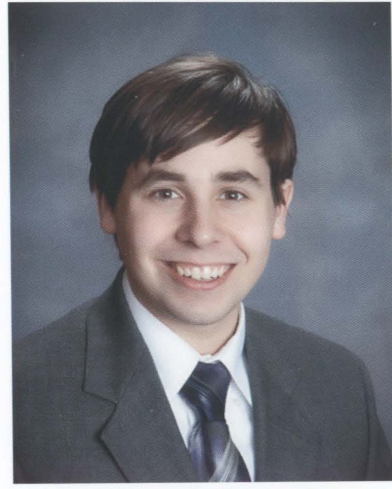

So go forth! Begin a new journey! I wish the best for you. Remember your journey here at Wilkes. I hope it will provide you with fond memories, a desire to continue learning, and the passion to help those around you. We will miss you!

Come back and visit,

Thomas Calabrese

Dear Thomas,
Congratulations on your College Graduation from Wilkes University. We are so proud of your accomplishment. You are a shining star in our family and will always have our full support in whatever you do and wherever you go. With much love, appreciation and support, Dad, Mom, Robert, Daniel, Heidi, and Kayla. Spanky and Max too!

Calvin Garvin

Graduation Day is a day to mark a tremendous accomplishment. You could not have come to this day without a lot of hard work. There may have been days when you felt that you could not continue yet you pursued on with passion fury and determination that was instilled in you. The moment when you are called up to the stage to receive your diploma resplendent in your cap and gown is a moment to savor. You can't lose what has now been given to you. This achievement will forever be yours, cherish it, revel in the moment, bask in all its glory. Now go and take on the world!

Love Mom, Dad, and Lil John

Soaring to new Heights...

Kelsey, We are so proud of you for your accomplishments! We have watched you grow into an extraordinary young woman, who is ready to face a new chapter in her life. The last six years have been a roller coaster of emotions, which has only made you stronger in your personal life and more competent as you pursue your career. We wish you all the best for and bad. We love you! Mom & Dad

Melissa Olsommer

We are so proud of you and we wish you
all the best.
Love, Mom, Dad,
and Natalie

Michael Shirk

Wow, those college years went by!
Congratulations on a job well done!
We are so proud of you and all you've accomplished, and we look forward to seeing you succeed in everything else you set out to do in life. Reach for the stars, stay strong in your faith,
work hard and give God the credit.
We love you and will always be here
for you.

Mom and Dad

Alyssa Schuler nails the choreography for the dance.

Sammy Weiksner, junior, dancing during half time.

Olivia Questore leads the team with the next cheer. "Let's go! Colonels!"

Kait Wolfe, junior, smiling as always.

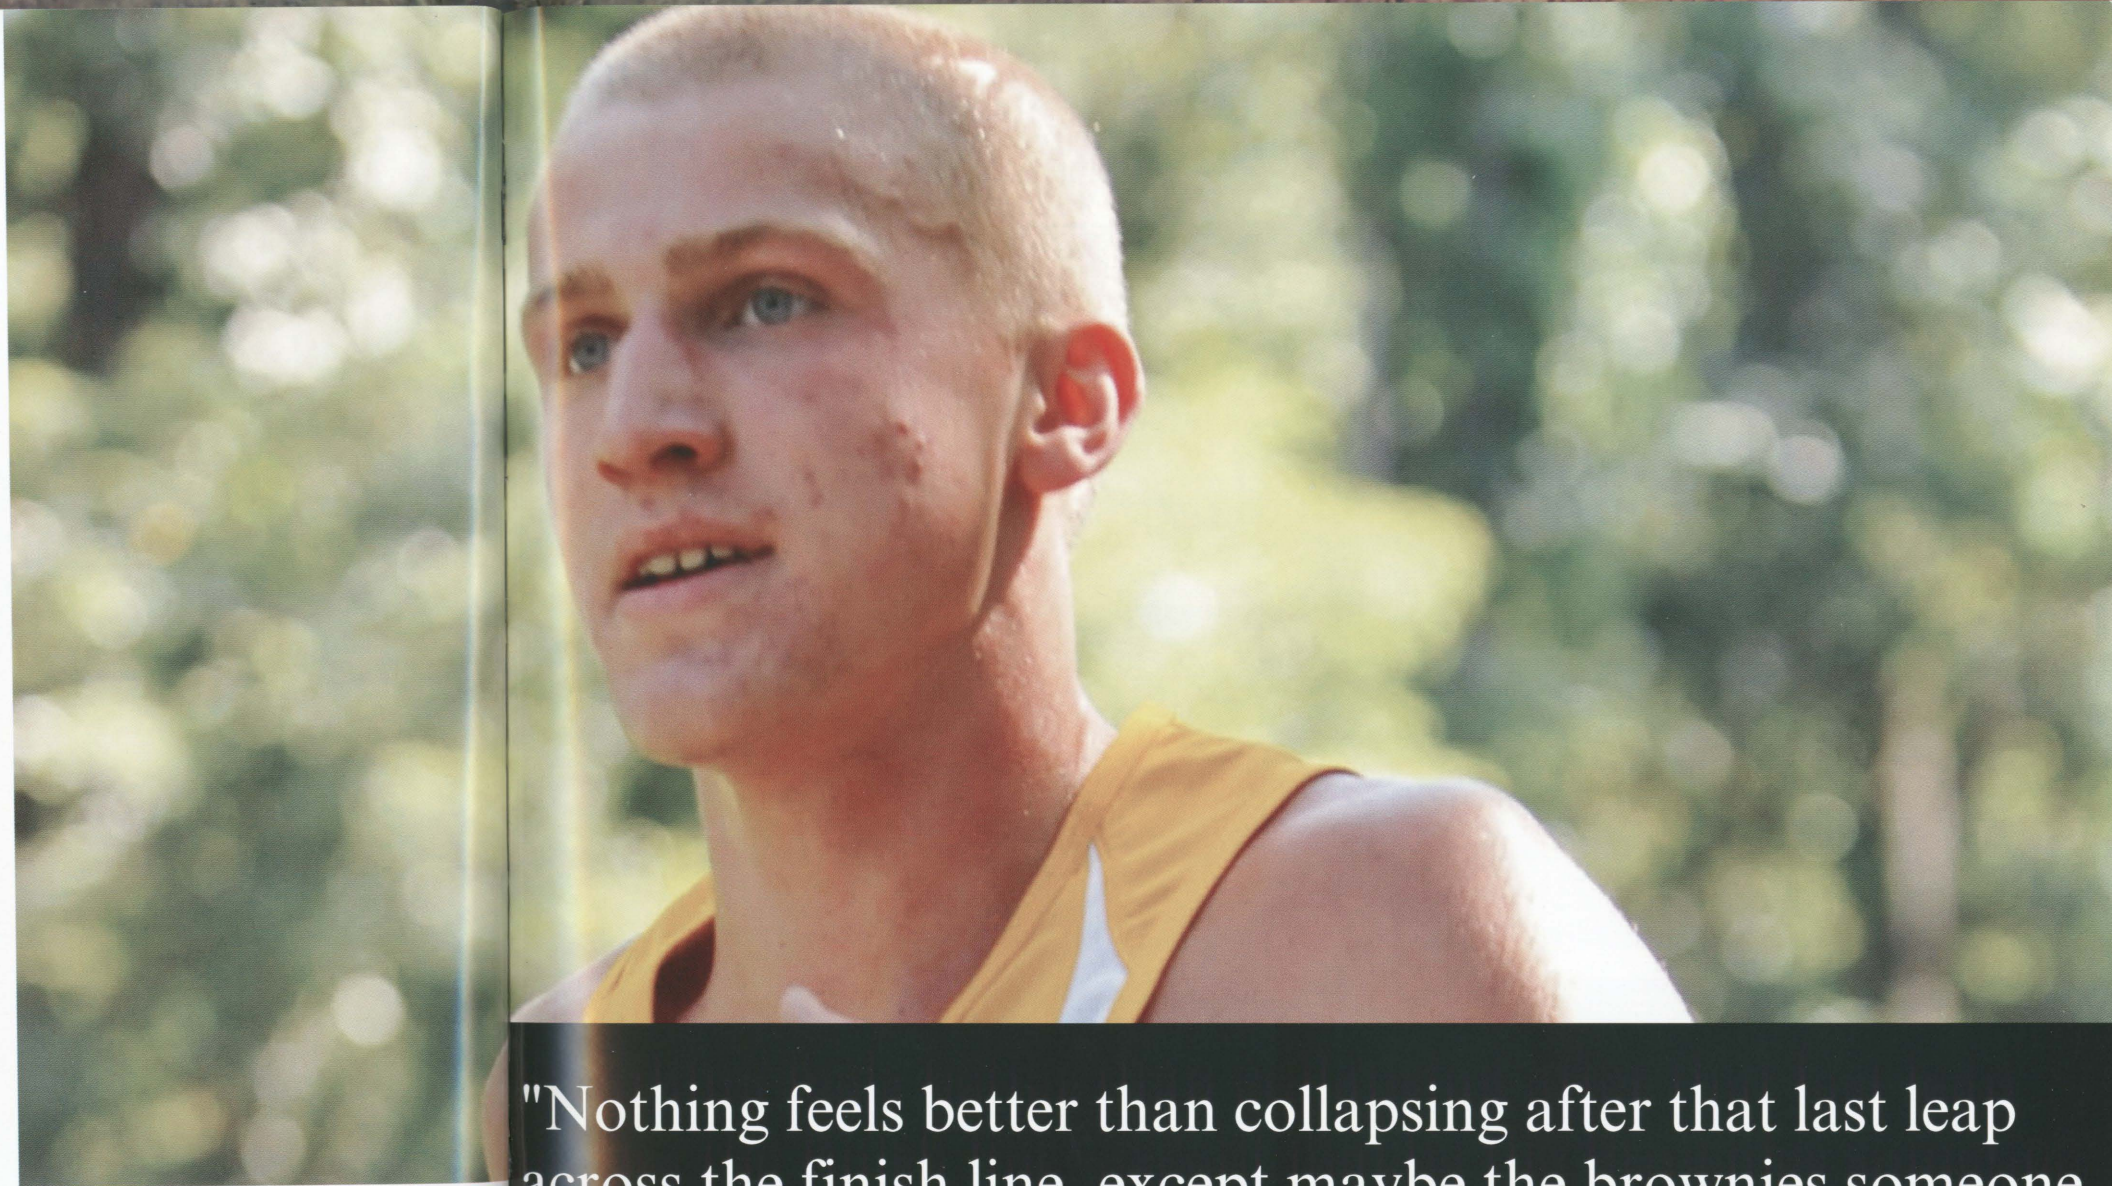

"I'd say our biggest accomplishment would be two tuck tosses, as well as the teams workouts are better overall. I love the girls and wouldn't know what I'd do if I wasn't on the team!" -Tiffany Spencer, junior.

"My favorite moments in cheerleading are usually right after we hit a new stunt. That feeling of accomplishment you get, because you learned and mastered something you thought you never would." -Thalia Garzon, junior.

Cross Country

"Nothing feels better than collapsing after that last leap across the finish line, except maybe the brownies someone always brought us." -Sarah Fillman, junior.

Family Day

One of the most enjoyed and sweetest days at Wilkes is Family Day. Students roam around campus with their families telling stories about what they've been up to within the month of being away from home. Wilkes has fun activities for families to attend and we were lucky to see the smiles and love each family has.

Comedy Night

Glow Golf

Late night mini golf is always a fun summertime game, of course. Wilkes had to add a fun twist on the popular game. Wilkes hosted a late night glow golf event! Everything was glow in the dark. The music was bumping and laughter everywhere. At the event the fall concert choice was to be announced. While students golfed the concert results never left their mind.

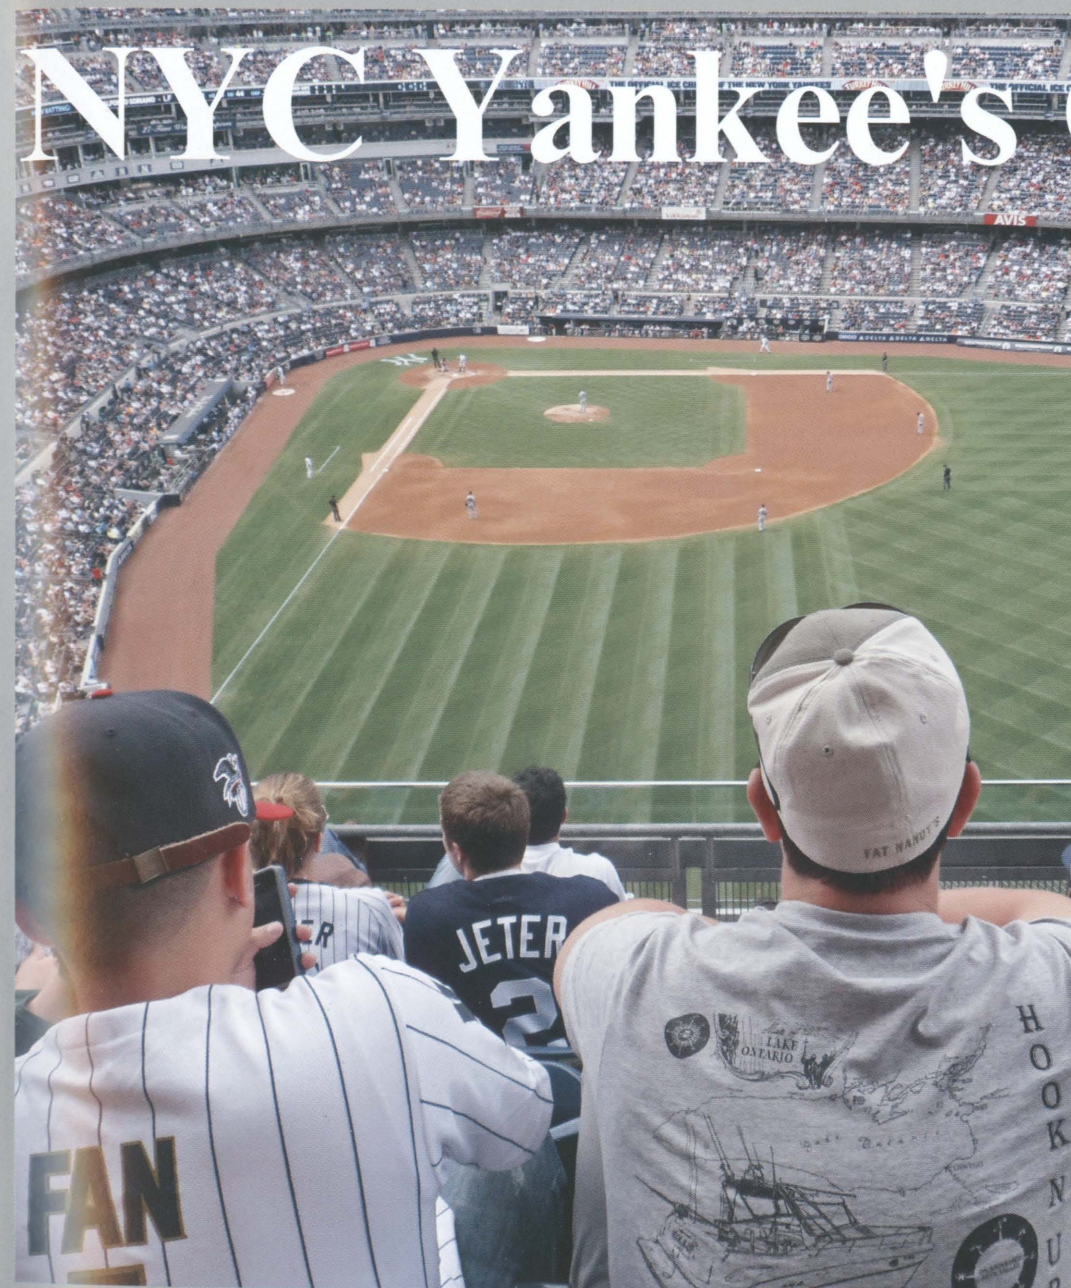

Top photo: Sophomore Resha Shaker "The lights are pretty and the music is great. I voted for Ciara."

Michelle Kuzma and friends "It was more than I expected, mini golf is already so fun. Voted for The Fray."

Juniors Jackie Escobar, Allen Heggs, Brittany Welsh "It was cool, fun, and trippy. I loved the lights! I want to see Ciara or Jason for the concert I'd die!"

Tearing Down Fences

Behind Every Face- There's a Story.

"If someone gave you a mic for 20 minutes, what would you say to the world?" That's what sophomore integrative media major Lyssa Scott is seeking to learn with her three-part event, Tearing Down Fences. Sponsored in part by the Multicultural Student Coalition, Tearing Down Fences is a group-discussion type event where students get on stage, open up to the audience and share stories and experiences. Scott said that as a society, we have become increasingly separated from one another and we tend to put up barriers between those around us. "We create the illusion that we all have it together. It makes us put our guard up higher, our skin thicker ... It's vulnerable to take that down and say 'my life isn't perfect,'" she said. "We get caught up in that a lot, but when we realize nobody's normal, everybody kind of opens up. When you open up to people, your relationships cease to be shallow and become deep." Scott, who spoke at the second session, talked about some of her own problems growing up, including her parents' divorce, anxiety problems and the death of her father. Though she kept her light-hearted attitude throughout her presentation, sniffles could be heard around the room as those listening shed unashamed tears. The criers weren't alone – speakers and listeners throughout the events so far were seen with teary eyes, like those who witnessed Tyheed Jackson, a sophomore criminology major, speak the first night. Jackson, who spoke about his mother's battle with cancer, later discussed the experience of opening up to a crowd of people: "It was hard. I don't like opening up to people but I felt like it was time," he said. "... but it felt good. I feel better than I was before I talked about it ... I feel like it gives people motivation to break out their feelings. It's not good to hold things in, and that's one thing I learned." "I've always internalized everything, and it feels good to let it out," echoed senior mechanical engineering major Jordyn Miller. Miller shared stories of her loved ones suffering from depression and self-harm, and said she hopes that her stories might help someone listening: "Maybe people in the audience can relate, and realize things are going to be okay." Sharing might help the release of emotions, but Scott said it can also help build better relationships. "When you talk about that stuff, that's how you become true friends with people ... you know how to better help and get along with the people around you," she said. "What really matters at the end of the day is your relationship with those around you. That's what we forget to nurture, because it's not an immediate payoff, but when you're close with those around you everything else goes better." Those who participated have vocalized the want for more of this behavior. "We've put up fences, and we don't allow people to know who we are," Dominic Ronaldi, junior psychology major, said before he spoke about the fire that destroyed his family's home. "But we should take the first steps and get to know somebody. You shouldn't paint their fence a different color. I think the world would be a better place."

-James Jaskolka, The Beacon.

Men's Basketball

"Overall the season had it's ups and it's downs. Although we didn't accomplish all of our seasons goals, we all gained valuable experience that will hopefully lead to future success." -Sophomore, Alex Wizar.

GLAMPING

Glamping, "what is that?" Yeah, we hear that a lot. It's glamorous camping! It's sleeping in cabins, but with no heat. It's having showers, but having to walk to them. It's having a stove, oven, and fridge, but no microwave, toaster, or coffee pot. A group of 16 campers went to World's End State Park for a weekend getaway. It was February. Activities featured a four hour snow hike, campfire, playing cards, exploring the area, great music, and the road trip there and back. It was cold, to say the least, but absolutely worth it for the breathtaking views and irreplaceable laughs.

Softball

"We started out with a couple losses and it looked like it was going to be a tough season, but we came together as a team and turned it around by the end. We really bonded as team mates and had a lot of fun and made a lot of great memories!" -Haylie Phillips, Sophomore.

Men's Tennis

The Wilkes University Men's tennis team won their 7th consecutive conference championship in 2013-2014, and finished with an 18-2 overall record. The Colonels qualified for the NCAA National Tourney again (7th straight trip), and advanced to the 2nd round. Also, six colonels were named to the All-Conference team, and Wilkes swept the major awards (Steven Wilson won Player of Year, Dominic Parfianowicz won Rookie of Year, and Chris Leicht won Coach of the year). This team was also named an All-American Academic team for the 2013-2014 season!"

Women's Tennis

The Wilkes University Women's tennis team won their 8th consecutive conference championship in 2013-2014, and finished with an 19-3 overall record. The Colonels qualified for the NCAA National Tourney again (8th straight trip), and advanced to the 2nd round. This is the fourth time the Lady Colonels have won a NCAA match. Also, five colonels were named to the All-Conference team, and Wilkes swept the major awards (Allison Kristofco won Player of Year, Kendra Croker won Rookie of Year, and Chris Leicht won Coach of the year). This team was also named an All-American Academic team for the 2013-2014 season, finishing with a 3.5 GPA!

The One World Party is an event by MSC annually to celebrate and explore different cultures. Complete with native dances, multicultural food, and short speeches by students about their culture and heritage and why it is important to them.
