Activities

Bonfire, Dance, Soccer Begin Weekend Agenda; Alumni Activities Set

by Jerry Shilanski

Homecoming, the college year's most spectacular weekend, begins tonight, climaxing weeks of eager anticipation and preparation.

The first activity on the agenda is the traditional bonfire and the burning in effigy of a rival Ursinus ball player. The first will blaze at 7 p.m. behind Baldwin's Electrical Company, Pierce Street in Kingston this evening.

Returning from the bonfire, the students' attention will be focused on the numerous Homecoming displays erected on campus by clubs and organizations. In past years these elaborate displays have gained renown throughout the community.

The judging committee, headed by Sandor Yelen, will award trophies at Saturday's pre-game ceremonies, in four divisions; women's dormitories and Theta Delta Rho Sorority; men's dormitories; clubs and classes; and the best overall display.

Immediately following the viewing and judging of the Homecoming displays the "Warm-Up Party" will be held at which the alumni may renew old friendships.

The informal atmosphere of an open house will prevail when the alumni entertain at the Carousel Motel this evening. Leonard Mulcahy is in charge of arrangements and has announced that the new alumni theatre group will hold a brief meeting at this time.

Festivities continue bright and early Saturday morning, beginning with the 9:30 soccer match against Lycoming College at Artillery Park. During the half-time break a tug-of-war will be held between freshmen and upperclassmen to determine the strength and unity of the male frosh.

An alumni executive council meeting is scheduled to be held at 10 a.m. in the College Commons. The members of this group will discuss plans for next year's activities.

The luncheon recess will consist of an alumni family picnic to be held on Chase Lawn.

The car caravan will begin its parade to the Kingston Stadium at approximately 1 p.m. Formation of the decorated cars will take place in front of the men's dormi-

Queen Beverly and Princesses Elizabeth and Janice will give special attention to all Homecoming activities. The first occasion for their royal presence will be the bonfire - pep rally at 7 p.m. this evening. They will accompany the car caravan to Baldwin's Electrical Company, Pierce Street, Kingston, the location of the bonfire.

After the bonfire, Miss Major and her court will attend the "WABU" Dance sponsored by the Biology Club. They will go from the gymnasium to the "Warm-Up" party for Alumni at the Carousel Motel.

On Saturday, the Queen and her court will attend the football game when Wilkes plays Ursinus. They will also be present at the second annual "Undergraduate Dinner-Dance" at the gymnasium, and the Alumni Dinner-Dance at the Irem Temple Country Club.

Miss Major and the two Princesses will receive gifts from the Beacon, the Alumni Association, and the Student Government as mementoes of this occasion.

Queen Beverly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Major of Lehman, Pennsylvania. She is a senior majoring in English and will receive her bachelor of arts degree in June.

Miss Major is editor-in-chief of the Amnicola, and served as assistant editor in her junior year.

She has been a representative on the Student Government for two years, a member of the Mixed Chorus and Madrigal Singers for her junior and senior years.

Member of the basketball team for three years, Queen Beverly was also a member of her class executive council for two years, and a member of the Girls' Chorus in her junior year.

She was chairman of the "Come and Meet Us" Dance during Freshmen Orientation Week this September and has joined the Manuscript Association.

Queen Beverly is a member of the Lehman Methodist Church where she is a choir member and president of the Youth Fellowship group.

Miss Major is a graduate of Lehman-Jackson-Ross High School. She served as her class treasurer for three years, and was president of the band and chorus in her senior year.

She will begin student teaching next semester, and plans to attend graduate school upon receiving her degree. Queen Beverly worked in Ocean Grove, New Jersey this past summer.

EDITORIALS—

A Deserving Trio

We are extremely proud of the students' choice for this year's Homecoming Queen and her lovely court.

Queen Beverly, in our estimation, is an ideal representative of a growing, young college attempting to achieve the peak of excellence. For she, herself, with her sparkling personality, fine qualities of leadership, high intelligence, and a burning desire to do well in anything she attempts, presents an outstanding impression of herself and of Wilkes College.

Likewise, Princesses "Betsy" and Janice are also typical of our young college. Both are hard workers in all forms of campus activities. Both have shown a conscientious and willing spirit in anything which they have been called upon to do. They add a great deal of charm and beauty to the royal court.

We were delighted as well with all of the sixteen nominations. Certainly, any of the nominees could have been fine representatives for this occasion, as all possess royal qualities.

Welcome Back!

Once again it is the Beacon's pleasure to welcome back to campus our alumni and to wish them a very enjoyable Homecoming weekend.

We hope that by this time you have had a chance to see the unique and original displays erected by the students. If not, be sure to take a tour of the campus, and we are sure that you will enjoy not only the displays, but will also revel in the beauty of a rapidly expanding campus.

All of the clubs, classes, organizations, faculty, and administration have been working for weeks to see to it that you return home with many pleasant memories. These memories can be sustained, however, by taking an active part in organizing and working with Wilkes' alumni groups in your area. We also hope that you may wish to keep abreast of "goings-on" at the college through an annual subscription to the Beacon.

A Job Well Done

We can't help expressing a few words of congratulations and praise to our sister publication, "The Wilkes Alumnus." No doubt most of the alumni have already seen the first issue for this year. For the benefit of those who have not obtained a copy, the "Alumnus" is bound by two colorful reproductions—Kirby Hall and the McClintock Hall lounge. The contents contain faculty glimpses of some new ideas being put into effect this year as well as some proposals for the near future. The centerpiece contains some beautiful—and we might say difficult—photo montage work on various phases of campus life.

The whole job is certainly a credit to those responsible for its appearance. It is a near certainty that the college is to gain much praise and perhaps some new friendships because of the impression of growth—scholastically and socially—which "The Alumnus" gives.

A Statement of Policy

It has been brought to our attention that an explanation may be in order concerning our plans of presentation for the current political series, "Presenting the Issues." We are complying with this wish ONLY in fairness to the parties concerned with the writing of the column.

As we announced in the first issue, it was originally decided to run on alternating weeks, articles dealing with some of the issues which seem to attract most of the attention of the two major political parties. This plan has now been changed with the publication of this issue.

The Republican side will wind up its discussion of foreign policy this week. Next week, the Democrats will finish the discussion of foreign policy. For the final issues preceding the election on November 8th, the two articles in opposition on one topic of discussion will appear side by side. The final two topics for discussion will be selected by the opposing parties.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Dear Mr. Editor:

As of today the student participation in the United Fund Drive has reached approximately 33 per cent of the student goal of $1200.00.

To be sure, this is an excellent start. However, it also means that Wilkes students have another half mile, as it were, to go. This, too, can be accomplished.

Thus far certain clubs, dormitories, and classes have made their contributions, in part, as they continue their solicitation of members. All other dormitories, classes, and clubs are urged to make their United Fund returns as money is received so that a daily progress report posted in the Commons can be accurate.

Awards will be made to the leading unit in each division as explained in a previous issue of the Beacon.

Presidents of dormitories, clubs, and classes are responsible for organizing their group response to this annual appeal for funds.

Freshmen, especially, have been very active. The United Fund Dance, held last Friday, promises to add more returns to the $162.70 already reported, as ticket returns are completed.

This year's United Fund appeal has been sparked by a real awareness of the needs of others, of 56 United Fund agencies and of the humanitarian work that they are performing. When you, as an individual, are contacted, won't you respond with a one dollar contribution? It's less than 2 cents per agency for one year. It isn't much, but it's a big boost when everyone "pitches in." Such response answers the question, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Sincerely,
Gordon E. Roberts
Executive Alumni Secretary

Dear Editor:

I wish to extend my sincere appreciation to the student body and to those of the Junior Class who aided, assisted, and voted for me in the recent election for Student Government Representatives.

With greatest regard for those who elected me, I wish to serve their interest to the fullest possible extent as a member of the Student Government.

I am sure my colleague, Rick Rees, joins me in expressing his thanks and his desire to serve the student body.

Sincerely,
Michael Bianco
Representative
Wilkes College
Student Government

Dear Editor:

Once again as the school season gets underway, we have the foot races from the gym, Pickering, Gies or any of the other buildings which are located at a distance from Parish. Very few of the participants enjoy these daily jaunts at express speed, but they are made necessary due to the different times that the individual clocks on campus are set. By the time one gets from one end of the campus to the other, not only is he out of breath from speeding, but is also late, because while the clock at Pickering may be at 10:55 a.m., the clock at Parish is 10:05 a.m.

The writer realizes that it would be hard to allow more than ten minutes between periods, but teachers could dismiss the students at the first bell instead of two minutes after the second bell rings, as some teachers do. — But most important, all the clocks could be set at the same time, and all the bells required to ring at the proper time. Then instead of having five or six minutes between periods, everyone would get the full ten minute break, and have ample time to make his daily hikes.

Respectfully yours,
Ronald Diamondstein

Presenting The Issues

This is the third in a series of articles concerning some of the issues prevalent in the current presidential campaign.

by Steve Robertson and Glen Beebe,
Co-chairmen, "Students for Nixon - Lodge"

Mr. Krasa said: "We need a man of Senator Kennedy's proven ability to initiate a program of action to restore American prestige to former great heights." What ability? Proved where and how? What program? Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.), Speaker of the House of Representatives, said: "It's easy for someone to say 'I can lead a great cause, but untested we cannot put faith and confidence and our perpetuity in hands like that.'" (N.Y. Times, 7-14-60)

Mr. Krasa said that it was wrong to say that Kennedy would have apologized for the U-2 incident but merely would have expressed regrets. I would like to answer this with the words of Senator Kennedy's running mate, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, who shouted to a Washington State Democratic Convention at Spokane: "I am not prepared to apologize to Mr. Khrushchev—are you? I am not prepared to send regrets to Mr. Khrushchev—are you?" (N.Y. Times, 5-13-60)

On July 2, 1957, Senator Kennedy declared before the Senate: "Algeria is no longer a problem for the French alone, nor will it even be again," and introduced a resolution to support "an international effort to derive for Algeria the basis for an orderly achievement of independence."

The New York Times had this to say about Kennedy's resolution: "Perhaps the strongest criticism which can be made of the Senator's (i.e., Kennedy's) is that he has run a strong risk of making the situation worse. . . . Moreover, the impression that the United States may try to mediate on behalf of the Algerian nationalists will surely stiffen their resistance against the French." (N.Y. Times, 7-3-57)

Dean Acheson, Secretary of State in the Truman Administration, in a lecture in Medford, Mass., on October 25, 1957, declared: "Nothing could be more injudicious than Kennedy's proposal, excepting making it." Mr. Acheson said that if it were followed, the United States would join the enemies of France within a year to force that nation to an American concept of proper conduct. (N.Y. Times, 10-26-57)

Robert Lacoste, the French Minister for Algeria was shocked by Mr. Kennedy's demand for U.S. intervention in the Algerian revolt. (N.Y. Times, 7-3-57)

France's defense minister suggested today that Senator Kennedy was encouraging Algerian rebels to prolong their bloody rebellion.

"I don't know whether Mr. Kennedy has nights without nightmares," said the Minister, Andre Morice.

"What I know well is that this will result in a great increase of innocent victims and the prolongation of a drama that would have been long ended if so many of our unthinking friends had weighed their words on their acts. It is the blood of others that pays for their errors."

No, Mr. Krasa, President Charles de Gaulle is not following Senator Kennedy's advice. On the contrary, official French governmental sources such as Andre Morice repudiated Mr. Kennedy's remarks on the Algerian situation.

Finally, Mr. Krasa states: "The most fitting testimony to his (Nixon's) inexperience came from none other than Dwight Eisenhower, himself." He then went on to describe President Eisenhower's press conference remark, which has been so glibly misrepresented by so many Democrats. Since everyone, including Mr. Krasa, values President Eisenhower's opinion so highly, I will quote from the President's speech in Chicago on September 29th, 1960, concerning Mr. Nixon's experience. "Leadership is not proved by whirling across the stage in a burst of campaign oratory, but is forged at the council table, at the diplomatic conference; it is ripened in the unlimited contact with those who work at the summit and those who labor in the vineyard."

"On this basis I make this unequivocal statement. As a person ready to enter the duties of the presidential office, Dick Nixon has the broadest and deepest preparation and experience of any man I know."

"Mr. Nixon has participated with me and high officials of your government in hundreds of important deliberate proceedings of the cabinet, National Security Council, and other agencies. In those meetings he has proved himself time and again to be a man with a comprehensive understanding of both the problems of our age and the demands upon government." (Philadelphia Inquirer, 9-30-60)

Mr. Kennedy's campaign has been earmarked by half-truths, misleading statistics, broad generalizations, quotations out of context, and bold untruths. (I do not call Senator Kennedy a liar, simply naive.) Last week Mr. Krasa did an excellent job of upholding the standards of Mr. Kennedy's campaign.

We apologize for the length of this article but as you all know: It takes twice as long to right a wrong than it does to wrong the right.

Wilson Fellowship Competition Announced; Program Designed To Aid Future College Teachers

Dean Ralston has announced that the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation has begun its annual competition for fellowship grants to qualifying college graduates. This program, designed to help meet the nation-wide shortage of qualified college teachers, is open mainly to graduates in the humanities and social sciences.

It has been estimated that the annual need for new college teachers will exceed 30,000 a year for the next ten years. Although recipients of these awards will not be required to commit themselves to a career of college teaching, they are asked to give such a career serious consideration.

The Foundation annually awards 1000 fellowships for first year graduate study at any university of the recipient's choice in the United States or Canada. The fellowship includes full tuition plus a $1500 stipend for living expenses. The competition is open to both men and women, and there is no limit on the age of the candidate or on the number of years that he has been out of college. Applications are not accepted directly from students; all candidates must be nominated by a faculty member. The closing date for applications is October 31.

Any student interested in this program can get further details from Dean Ralston who is the College representative for the Foundation.

October 6, 1960

Dear Editor:

A major point in Mr. Nixon's campaign speeches is a declaration that the issues before the country are bigger than any party; therefore, the citizenry should vote for the man, disregarding the party. While this argument may seem plausible at first hearing, examination reveals that it is tenuous.

A party system is a fundamental part of our governmental framework. At the apex of this framework is the President, whose success depends upon his ability to work adroitly within the party structure. Consequently, the parties of the respective candidates are of great importance, and must be considered in conjunction with their nominees.

The ability of the two parties to produce strong national leaders and to respond to national problems deserves careful consideration and evaluation. The two parties, contrary to often heard opinions, do have major differences, especially in the area of national leadership.

In many instances the G.O.P. has simply failed to respond to national problems. Republican Presidents have generally been weak. Lincoln was nominated because his party believed that he could be controlled. Soon after his death, Lincoln's humane and liberal reconstruction program was repudiated by the Republicans. Theodore Roosevelt became President by accident, and he was forced to form a third party to seek a second elected term. Just this year, Nelson Rockefeller was frozen out of a chance for the G.O.P. Presidential nomination, because he was too liberal for the Republicans!

Those controlling the Republican Party have consistently desired "safe" candidates for public office, and protection of status quo. Their desires have been fulfilled as the lack-luster records of Grant, Hayes, Harrison, Arthur, McKinley, Taft, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, and Eisenhower demonstrate.

Unlike the G.O.P., the Democratic Party has shown that it is the party of action and imagination. Wilson responded to the problems of a new industrial society with his "New Freedom." Franklin D. Roosevelt responded to the socio-economic problems of the Great Depression with his New Deal. Truman responded to the challenging problems of internationalism with a sound program of economic and technical assistance to the war-torn and underdeveloped nations; he also fostered the establishment of the defense alliance system now protecting the non-Communist world.

There are vital differences between the parties. This is why Mr. Nixon is on shaky ground when he urges the voters to disregard party labels and vote only for the man. Perhaps he is hoping that the public will forget the complacency that has characterized his party for nearly a century.

Citizens everywhere should realize the truth of James Reston's contention, "The great issue in this campaign is which man and which coalition of forces he can wield will be best able to deal with the changing problems of the world." History shows us that the "coalition of forces" led by Wilson, Roosevelt, and Truman has been most responsive to the challenges of the twentieth century. That coalition is the aggregation of political elements which constitutes the Democratic Party. Senator John F. Kennedy offers strong leadership for this coalition for the 1960's.

Poleskie's work, entitled "Night Quarry," was also a recipient of a "Best In Show" award in this exhibit.

One-Third of Campus United Fund Goal Met; Only One Week Remains

by Roz Deretchin

The United Fund Drive on campus has already netted the sum of $450. This surpasses the amount collected at this time last year, and is a good indication that the college's goal of $1200 will be reached.

The clubs, dorms, and classes are separated into divisions and there will be an award given to the group and class who has contributed the largest amount to the drive. All contributions should be brought to the third floor of Chase Hall as soon as possible, or they can be given to the student representative of each class: Al Kishel, freshman class; Brent O'Connell, sophomore class; Joe Shamba, junior class; Bill Morris, senior class.

Two bulletin boards will be in the Commons. One shows the amount collected so far and the other shows the various divisions and how much they have donated. The drive ends on October 21, and we urge everyone who has money to hand in, especially those who sold tickets to the United Fund Dance, to do so immediately.

Organizations that already have contributed to the United Fund are as follows: Biology Club, the Collegians, S.A.M., Education Club, Lettermen, Psychology - Sociology Club, Butler Hall, Freshman Dance committee, and the four individual classes.

The wind-up and highlight of this year's Homecoming activities will be the alumni Homecoming

Mr. Poleskie, who is a free-lance artist, recently returned to this area after working for some time in Miami, Florida. While living in Florida, Poleskie had the opportunity to travel to Nassau and the Bahamas and to Cuba, where he viewed first hand the effects of the revolution in that country.

Poleskie's prints are currently handled by Sheridan Gallery, Miami Beach, Florida, and by the Morris Gallery of New York City.

Another former student, Marianne Levenoskie, a graduate of the class of 1959, received Honorable Mention award at the exhibition. Richard Rutkowski of the class of 1951 and Chester Colson, an instructor in the art department of the college, also exhibited works in the show.

The jury for the exhibition consisted of Dr. Richard B. K. McLanathan, Director of the Munson-Williams-Proctor Institute, Utica, New York; Anton Refregier, an artist residing in Woodstock, New York; and Doris Meltzer, Director of the Meltzer Gallery, New York City.

Bowling League Opens; Gutterbusters and Pinbusters Start Strong

The bowling league went into full swing Sunday night and the Pinbusters and Gutterbusters emerged victorious and appear to be the two teams to beat. Emil Petrsek took individual honors with a big 224-575 for the Pinbusters while Paul Bankovich turned in a 203-489 for the Gutterbusters. Some fine split conversions were turned in by Dave Guss, Ed Stofko and Chuck Kirchner.

Good scores are beginning to appear, but a few of the veteran bowlers are having difficulties maintaining last year's averages. Sam Book, a newcomer to the league, took over high average from veteran Bill Watkins by one pin, 1067 to 1066, for the first six games.

Petrsek's 224-575 and Harvey Stambler's 157-461 led the way in the 4-0 victory of the Pinbusters over the Boozers. Pat Shovlin with 167-451 and Regina Ritzie with 156-423 were high for the Boozers.

Soccer Captain Zwiebel Earns Award; Scores Goal, Sparks Line

Lou Zwiebel

For his stellar performance in leading Wilkes to a 3-2 victory over Lafayette Lou Zwiebel was chosen recipient of the Beacon's "Athlete of the Week" laurels. The speedy center forward scored one goal, set up another and led the Colonel offense throughout the contest.

As this season is considered a year of rebuilding for the soccer squad, coach Jim Ferris has placed the bulk of the attack on the shoulders of Zwiebel. He responded in good fashion and the senior captain has been the leader of the team's offensive wall throughout the early part of the season.

In the MAC contest against Lafayette, he displayed his soccer ability by dribbling and passing the ball through the Leopard backfield with little opposition. In the third quarter he took a pass from Jim Neddoff, carried it around the fullback and drove home the score with a left foot boot into the opposite corner of the net. In the final stanza he carried the ball through the entire Lafayette backfield and set up Clyde Roberts for the winning goal.

The skill displayed by Zwiebel on the field cannot be fully appreciated until one stops to think that he never played the sport before coming to Wilkes. He has won his letters in soccer the past two years and last season led the team in individual scoring.

A graduate of Meyers High School, he is majoring in Business Administration, is active in campus activities and is President of the Lettermen's Club.

Defense Excels as Ferrismen Defeat Lafayette, 3-2

by I. M. Tyred

Homecoming athletic activities will start early tomorrow morning when the Lycoming Warriors invade the Kirby Park soccer field to meet the Colonel soccermen. Gametime for the match has been moved forward to 9:30 from 10:30, the time originally scheduled.

Lycoming battled the Wilkes booters to a 1-1 deadlock last year. This season the Warriors have essentially the same team back and a good game is anticipated. The only common foe on the schedules of the two teams is Susquehanna University. The Crusaders downed both squads, edging Wilkes, 4-3, while shutting out Lycoming, 4-0.

The Colonel soccermen scored their initial victory of the season last Saturday afternoon as they downed a strong Lafayette College team, 3-2. The Blue and Gold legmen scored early in the contest when inside right Frank Lepore dented the net on a pass from Pete Eckert. This goal stood up throughout the first half as top defensive play by fullbacks Chuck Weiss and Irwin Guetig and goalie Bob Ontko drove off Leopard attempts to score.

The Colonel booters scored again midway in the third period when halfback Jim Neddoff stole a pass from the Lafayette line and set up Lou Zwiebel for the second Wilkes goal. The Leopards came roaring back minutes later as McCarthy scored on a twelve-yard penalty kick.

Throughout the remainder of the third quarter the defensive play of Bob Chew and Ted Toluba kept the ball deep in Lafayette territory but the Ferrismen were unable to score. The fourth quarter was evenly fought until late in the stanza when Lou Zwiebel dribbled the ball through the Leopard backfield and set up outside left Clyde Roberts for the third Colonel score.

Again the Leopards roared back and with but three minutes remaining in the contest, Bruden scored the last Lafayette goal. Lafayette tried to recover the ball again in a desperate attempt to tie the game but the aggressive play of the Colonel backfield and linemen Dick Duffy, Walt Prusakowski, Rudy Schoenfeld, George Tensa, and Lou Zwiebel kept the ball in Leopard territory.

Blocked Punt, Intercepted Pass Hurt In 12-0 Home Opener Loss to P.M.C.

Tomorrow the football team takes on Ursinus College in the annual Homecoming tilt at 2 p.m. in Kingston Stadium. The Colonels defeated Ursinus in last year's game by a score of 25 to 12 and in 1958, 6 to 0, and will be out for their first win of the season in an effort to get themselves out of last place of the Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

The Colonels rank behind Upsala College and Scranton University after having been defeated by Pennsylvania Military College last Saturday in their home opener, 12-0. Ursinus was defeated, 26-12, by Johns Hopkins last Saturday and also has yet to post a victory in MAC competition.

The Ursinus Bears are a young team, with four or five freshmen on the starting line and, like Moravian, is building with an eye to the future. Their quarterback, Emmerett, can throw a pass accurately for 30 to 65 yards. The Wilkes gridgers will be without Marv Antinnes for the third consecutive game. Antinnes is still recuperating from the shoulder injury he suffered in an intra-squad scrimmage several weeks ago.

Wilkes suffered another blow Saturday when halfback Jim Brunza injured his knee in the PMC game. The extent of the injury has not been determined and Brunza is undergoing treatment to reduce the swelling. It has not yet been determined if he will be able to play in tomorrow's game.

Last Saturday afternoon the gridgers were defeated by the Cadets of Penn Military College, 12-0. A blocked punt and a pass interception by PMC guard Dick Dundee proved to be all that was necessary to spoil the team's home opening game. Dundee's pass interception and subsequent runback of 25 yards to score for PMC brought him ECAC recognition and he was named a guard on the ECAC All-East team of October 8.

The Colonels threatened early in the game as they took the Cadets' opening kickoff and drove to the PMC 31-yard line before they were forced to punt. Al Dobrowalski's punt was blocked and PMC end Bob Thomas picked up the loose ball and carried it to the Wilkes 35 before being hauled down from behind.

The Wilkes line held the attack for three downs, restricting PMC to an eight-yard gain to the 27. Then, on fourth down with two yards to go for a first, Cadet quarterback Bob McElroy completed a pass to his left halfback Allen Brewster on the Wilkes eight, where he was brought down. Two plays later right halfback Walt Crate plunged through the line from the one for the touchdown. A pass for the points after touchdown failed.

Neither squad could muster another strong offensive drive for the remainder of the first half as their defensive lines held fast. Early in the third period, the Colonels had an opportunity to score when a bad pass from center in a fourth down punting situation gave them the ball on the Cadet 20. However, the PMC line held and Wilkes lost the ball on downs.

Later in the same quarter, PMC mounted its most serious threat of the second half when Bob Coe returned a Colonel punt to the Wilkes 25. On the first play Crate carried the ball to the eight where he was hit hard by Dobrowalski and fumbled the ball. Bob Herman recovered the loose ball for the Colonels.

Alan Gubanich, Colonel quarterback, carried to the 26 yard line before the quarter end. On the first play of the last period, Dick Dundee dashed hopes of a Wilkes come-from-behind victory as he intercepted a screen pass and ran 25 yards to score. Once again a pass for the extra point failed.

After taking the kickoff on their own 15, the Colonels drove to the Cadet nine before losing the ball on downs. Tom Krisulevich and Tom Meyers did most of the ball-carrying on this drive.

CITY SHOE REPAIR

View from the Sidelines

Another semester is upon us and the fall sports program has already swung into high gear before this column could make its first appearance. Football coach Francis Pinkowski and his assistant, Mike Dydo, have been working the team hard, developing a series of formations and plays all of which Pinkowski says the opposition has not seen yet.

The Colonels have been hit hard by Marv Antinnes' injury. His absence has forced Pinkowski to shift players about in an effort to mount a strong offense while maintaining the strong defensive line. The injury to halfback Jim Brunza's knee labels him a question mark as far as tomorrow's game is concerned.

A testament to the gridgers' line came from Moravian quarterback "Jabby" Williams. In private conversation following the 'Hounds victory over Wilkes, he stated that the Colonels have a very strong line and that Moravian had not expected such spirited resistance. The key to a successful season now seems to be in the avoidance of injuries and in Pinkowski's ability to develop a strong offensive attack out of the available material.

Incidentally, as an added incentive to the gridgers in tomorrow's game, Tom McHale of the Bostonian Shoe Department of The Hub has announced that he will give a pair of Bostonian shoes to the member of the team who makes the longest run against Ursinus.

Soccer coach Jim Ferris has admitted that in soccer, 1960 will be a year of rebuilding. The booters were hard hit by graduation last spring with the loss of Carl Havira, Joe Morgan, Lou Davis, George Gacha, Charles Billings, and Ron Simms. However, the team has come a long way since the start of the season and has greatly improved.

We had our first opportunity to see the Ferrismen in action last week during the Stevens game. The principal weakness of the team appears to be a lack of cooperative teamwork. An overeagerness to get to the ball regardless of where it was and a failure to effectively cover the Tech linemen were the weak points of the Colonels.

The sports doubleheader which highlights tomorrow's Homecoming activities will provide the student body with chances to see both teams in action. Soccer gets underway at 9:30 and football at 2:00 p.m. One might be inclined to shrug off soccer on the grounds that he doesn't understand the game.

It is simple, much simpler than football and its incessant huddles, time-out periods, and accompanying headgear and armor. The object is to place the ball in the opponents' goal in any possible way; with head, foot, knee, chin, kicking it, but without deliberately picking up the ball and throwing it, the goalie being the only member of the team who may handle the ball.

We hope that as many as possible will attend the games tomorrow. Athletics at Wilkes needs a definite boost from the student body. There can be no incentive to win unless the teams feel that the student body is interested in them and can be assured of its support.

agreement of both team captains. Makeup dates for postponed games will be November 15, 16, and 17, with the championship on November 21 between the top team in each league. In the schedule listed above the "late entry" will be filled by a team composed of the residents of two men's dorms.

WAC's on Campus Next Week

by Lillian Bodzio

First Lieutenant Rhoda M. Hevner, Selection Officer for the Women's Army Corps, will be at the college on October 18 and 19 to inform junior and senior women students about the Women's Army Corps Direct Commission and College Junior Programs. She will be available at the Commons to interview interested students and to answer their questions.

The Army's Direct Commission Program offers qualified women college graduates the opportunity to enter the Army as Second Lieutenants. Junior women students are invited to enroll in the new College Junior Course which gives them a "sample" of Army life in a summer training class conducted annually at Fort McClellan, Alabama. If the young women like this glimpse of Army life, they may begin their applications for their commissions during their senior year, and if approved, will receive them when they graduate. On the other hand, if they decide to pursue another career, they have no further obligation toward the Army.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards...as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant...and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.
