Sports Scrapbook of Athletics at Wilkes 1940-1960

These Albums are filled with photos and newspaper clippings of athletes and athletic events at BUJC and Wilkes during the years 1940 to 1960. The items are not listed by sport or season or year. Presented is a collection of items on sports at Wilkes during the period 1940-1960. (The formative- perhaps primitive- yet glittering golden years.)

How many events can you identify?
How many individuals can you identify?
Can you tell the year?

Wilkes Cagers Play Tonight

Although the local cagers will go on the floor with only four days of practice—due to the fact that no place could be found to hold an earlier pre-season drill—Bucknell is commencing on the 1947-48 Colonial cage season said. It is believed this year's squad is stronger than last year's. While we've only had four days of practice, we are fortunate in having most of our cagers stand back in uniform as well as about 15 former athletic cagers who look mighty good.

Reports from Binghamton have it that New York has a squad made up of almost all experienced men, many of whom played ball for four institutions last year, when the college went through the season with an exceptionally small loss record.

Bill Jones, who played basketball for Bucknell University Junior College in 1941 and BWC and Gold cagers, former starter and guard will be Bill Harvey, who played for Wilkes last year and for Nanticoke High School in 1943-44. At the pivot slot will be a newcomer to Wilkes, Charles Jackson, who played for Susquehanna High School last season. In his first year of college ball, Jackson looks like a fine prospect.

Joe Swartzwood, ex-athlete High and Bucknell University Junior College cager, will figure in one of the forward positions for the third straight year. In the other forward position will be Don Casey, who played three years of college ball for Nanticoke High School. Casey is a freshman at the local institute and shows plenty of basketball "know how" on the court.

The second period saw both clubs alternate in recording markers and at the half-time period the Colonels led by a 20 to 16 count.

In the third period Triple Cities court men began to drive hard and moved to within two points of the local college team shortly after the quarter began, but Paul Zlotnick and Joe Swartwood both dropped in goals in the last few minutes to give Wilkes a 27 to 22 margin at the end of the quarter.

The up-and-down half continued through the final quarter with Wilkes outscoring the Tri-city college club 7 to 6 as the session saw the New York state five tie through the team and John Chazy and Harvey drop three quick goals in to clinch the contest for the Colonels.

The first contest gave Ralston a fair idea of where his diamond weaknesses appear. According to reports from the local college, Charlie Brockmeyer, captain of the 1947 Coughlin High School team, will be in the starting lineup today as centerfielder. Jack Feehey, who started in center in the opener, was off and will probably be switched to another position.

Carne Busby, chief hurler for the Colonels, is pitching against the team that defeated Ralston. Last year Busby was too hot to sign for any team that faced the Colonels, but last week during the opener the insufficient pre-season practice showed up. Busby was finding the pitching chores a little difficult. Ralston found that he has another diamond hopeful in Boyd Earl, who pitched at Kingston High School to the Luzerne County champion in 1945. Earl relieved Busby and showed up well with a sizzling fast ball.

The Blue and Gold Colonels nine from Wilkes College bowed for the second time in their start yesterday afternoon when Coach George Ralston's diamond performers dropped a close 8 to 7 contest to a hard-hitting Taylor Business Club from Philadelphia, before 200 fans in Kirby Park. Although the local collegians batted out 19 hits to their opponents seven, a barrage of hits and Wilkes errors in the fourth inning—resulted in Carne Busby being sent to the showers.

Wilkes on Road Today

After getting off to a rather slow start, Coach George Ralston's Wilkes College baseball team found itself earlier this week by leaving a 9 to 2 victory over Rider College and on Saturday afternoon will journey to Luzerne to attempt to notch its third victory in the series over a reportedly powerful Key-Stone College nine.

Wilkes Turns Back Seminary

Behind the four-hit pitching of Boyd Earl, 25-Kingston High School mound star who pitched a no-hit no-run game in his last assignment, Coach George Ralston's Wilkes College nine notched its fourth victory in six starts yesterday afternoon by taking a one-sided 8 to 1 contest from Wyoming Seminary in North Stadium.

Earl led the Blue Knights hitters for three innings—making 12 straight scoreless innings of hitting—while his mates were getting three runs in the second frame and another tally in the third. Wilkes opened up its scoring area in the second when Joe Lechak got on base on an error. A double by Joe Buzness brought in the Wilkes receiver and Frank Frank Wilkes first baseman slammed a pitch over the right centerfield wall for a double in keeping with ground rules. Buzness scored. Earl, next man up, whacked out a single to drive in Evans, and give the Colonels a three run margin.

Wilkes College Plans 4-Team Softball Loop

Wilkes College will launch its summer intramural sports program early next week when George F. Reardon, director of athletics, will meet with the student managers of the various softball teams representing college organizations to discuss plans for the two-month season.

This summer's campaign will mark the second year of student participation in the Wilkes College intramural sports program, which was inaugurated last summer to give all the students a chance to participate in college athletic activities. Present plans call for an eight or 10-team league under the guidance of Reardon and a committee composed by the members of the Athletic Department. Students who are not interested in participating in the program as members of teams may apply for the five positions open as umpires. Games will be played during the late afternoon and evening in Kirby Park. Teams will play approximately 10 games a week. Playoffs will be held at the close of the season. The first of the season will be marked by an exhibition game, at which time a game will be played between the two teams which were the league's top team a week ago—all-stars will take
