

Kirshner And Korpusik Win SG And CC Races

Toczylowski Wins In No Contest

Steve Kirshner and Stella Korpusik were elected as Student Government president and Commuter Council president respectively in voting which took place Tuesday.

Kirshner received a total of 214 votes over John Senatore who received 187 votes. In what was considered a close race and became one of the most talked about and active campaigns on campus finally ended. Many people felt Senatore led the advantage but the underdog came out on top.

Korpusik won the CC presidential contest with 84 votes over Denise Strickland receiving 68 votes. Both candidates ran a low key campaign and the race was termed as "nice and friendly" by Louie DeRobertis, former CC president. Strickland, however, was considered the favorite in the race but again the voters proved otherwise.

401 people voted in the SG presidential race which is considered a fair return while 152 voted for a CC candidate.

Gary Toczylowski was elected as IDC president hands down. He ran unopposed. The totals for the IDC election were not available to The Beacon at press time.

Feelings and opinions over the elections results could not be expressed by the candidates to The Beacon also due to press time.

CC Campus Picnic Loses Backing Due To Only 'Dogs' And Beer

Commuter Council decided to back down from co-sponsoring the All-Campus picnic with the Freshmen and Sophomore classes at the CC meeting Monday afternoon.

The picnic, which is to be held Sunday, April 30, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. over at Ralston Field, was originally planned by the Council as a clam bake with many other kinds of foods and beverages.

The sophomore class, however, decided that because of costs only beer, root beer, and hot dogs would be available. A band is also being looked into to perform all afternoon.

Louis DeRobertis, CC president, termed the new plans as "a bit of a let down" and feels the picnic has turned into a "Sub party moved over to Ralston field."

A vote was taken by the body as to whether they should contribute to this picnic or not and it was soundly defeated.

The council's social events committee will decide the future of their own sponsored picnic sometime this week once they find out how much money they have to work with.

Under other council matters, tickets for the Yankee game bus trip which is for tomorrow are still available. DeRobertis said that any interested student could purchase a ticket up until the bus leaves by contacting any CC member. He also expressed no disappointment if the tickets are not all sold because DeRobertis told the body that he can sell the unsold tickets at the door for a profit.

The body voted in favor of allocating $45.50 to Tom Brooks in order for him to purchase gifts for the graduating senior members.

DeRobertis introduced to the body the new representatives to the body that were elected two weeks ago. All council members were re-elected with Sue Johnson, class of '79 and Lisa Robeck, class of '80, being the two new members.

In the report from the Commons committee, John Griffith reported that a stereo may be purchased for the Commons if the committee can receive the money from Student Government to cover the cost. Griffith also reported that the Commons will be offering a different complete meal everyday for those who would prefer that over a cheeseburger.

In speaking about the presidential elections, DeRobertis said that the council should learn a lesson from the 56 presidential race between John Senatore and Steve Kirshner which he feels turned into a rat race. DeRobertis stated that all elections should be "nice and friendly".

Faculty Members Institute Academic Probation Policy

Dave Evans, Student Government's academic committee chairman, reported that the faculty academic standing committee has voted in favor of a new policy which states that students who do not meet the minimum grade point average levels in a single semester will be placed on academic probation.

Up until now, students have only been put on academic probation when their total cum has fallen below the minimum G.P.A. levels. Evans cited an example where a student who has a cum of 3.5 and then "goofs off" for one semester will now be placed on academic probation.

The faculty committee's feelings toward this policy is that the student should be warned and advised of his academic problem immediately before it becomes very serious. Most SG members, however, seem to disagree with this reasoning.

Also in Evan's report, more feedback and criticisms were expressed toward the teacher evaluation forms. One point discussed was how to better distribute the forms to all students. Several members feel that SG members could go into each class during the semester for the students to fill them out in order for a higher response percentage.

Since there are over 700 classes that would have to be attended, Holsberger said that the "only feasible method is mailing them out." He also stated that SG doesn't want the faculty to see or handle the evaluations until they are published.

Under fund requests, the Bowling Club was granted $225 to defray the costs of their annual banquet and trophies.

The Human Services Committee, received $75 to purchase refreshments for the walk-a-thon which will be held April 23.

A motion was made to grant $100 to subsidize tickets for the Red Cross Variety Show which will be held April 14 in the Irem Temple. This was defeated, however. The subsidy was suggested to boost ticket sales.

In other SG business, the film committee reported that the film "Three Musketeers" will be shown Saturday, April 22, in the CPA at 7 and 9 p.m. for 25c.

Firefall Arrives For First Time

This Sunday, April 16, "Fire Fall" makes its initial area appearance at the Wilkes College Gym.

Known to many as the group behind such hits as "Cinderella", "Just Remember", and "You Are the Woman"; Firefall has become labelled as one of America's fastest rising groups. Formed four years ago by combination of former members of the Flying Barrito Brothers, the Byrds, Jo Jo Ganne and Spirit, the group released their first album on Atlantic Records in 1976.

Supported by strong FM-AM airplay, the band quickly gained national attention, eventually being nominated for best new group of 1976 along with Boston and Heart. This early momentum was even further boosted in 1977 as the group toured with Fleetwood Mac for two months as opening act.

By the time of their second album, "Tuna Sea", Firefall had developed with a headlining act ready to prove themselves to a national market. Concertgoers should expect an evening of tight rockers and light ballads when Firefall hits the stage on Sunday night.

Chorus Ready For Concert

The Wilkes College Department of Music will present the Wilkes College Chorus in concert on Thursday, April 20, at 8:30 p.m. in the Dorothy Dickson Darte Center for the Performing Arts.

The chorus, directed by Michael Haberkorn, will open the program with two sacred pieces by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. These two pieces are "God Is Our Refuge" and "Ave Verum Corpus." Norman Dello Joio's "A Jubilant Song," based on texts of Walt Whitman and Arthur Frackenpohl's "Never Doubt I Love," based on lines from Shakespeare's Hamlet are also included in the program.

The chorus will also perform a group of 19th century folk melodies. Walter Ehret's arrangements of the Yankee farmer song "The Sow Took the Measels," a frontier love ballad "Winter's Night" and "Blow, Ye

IDC Discusses Food Committee And Party Policy

Discussions concerning the Food Committee meeting and the recent party restrictions in Pickering Hall predominated Sunday's IDC meeting.

Food Committee meeting will be held at 2 p.m. for the rest of the semester since last week's meeting held at night was poorly attended. Greg Wild, Food Committee chairman, explained there were no students present at the meeting.

"We can't do anything unless people give us something to work with," commented IDC President Tom Bazzini. "If something is going to change around here, we need input."

A question was raised about the Complaint Box which was to put in the cafeteria. It was suppose to be ready this week, according to Joe Marchetti, Housing director.

The recent party ban in Pickering Hall (New Men's Dorm) received much discussion. The restrictions were made because of the conditions in New Men's Dorm. Marchetti also explained that there are plans to revise the party policy for the entire campus.

Some IDC representatives suggested possible ways to improve in New Men's Dorm.

It was also announced at the meeting that if students have any maintenance complaints they should see Roger Jones or any member of IDC's executive council.

Room selection for next year will be occurring April 24 and 25 in the dorms. Housing contracts have been sent to all returning dorm students at their home addresses. The contracts and a $50 deposit must be returned by April 24. The deposit is refundable until August 1. Students who are not sure if they will be returning to the dorms should pay the deposit to ensure rooms on campus.

Contracts for Summer School Housing are available in the Housing Office. New Men's Dorm will be opened for both male and female students during the summer. The cost is $52 per week which includes a five-day meal plan.

1978 Beacon Athlete Of The Year Election

One of the most coveted of all Wilkes sports awards is up for grabs again this week. As sure as spring brings birds, bees, love and finals, it also brings the balloting for the Beacon Male and Female Athletes of the Year.

This is the 28th year for this award; a long-time fixture in the Colonel trophy cases. A new selection process was tried last year and was very successful so the same will be used this year. There will be 40 Colonel athletes (20 in each category) suggested as the favorites but these are not official nominations, merely suggestions. The voter may be free to vote for any write-in candidate he wishes.

Seeking the fairest and most representative method of selection, the ballots were distributed to all of the head coaches of intercollegiate sports at the college as well as the entire Beacon sports staff and selected members of the Wilkes faculty and administration.

The selection committee includes Rollie Schmidt, Chip Eaton, Kevin Davenport, Gay Meyers, Sandy Bloomberg, John Reese, Rodger Bearde, Ken Turley, Gene Domzalski, Jon Hobrock, Tom Rokita, Doris Saracino, and Mike Aed; all of the Colonel coaching staff.

Independents Choke After Initial Week

The Independents found the going tough in the first week of intramural softball action. After being rated first in the pre-season polls, Joe Mullarkey's troops, who are known for their loose talking and fielding, set out to prove the rating correct. However, everyone makes mistakes. Sometimes twice.

Basing their Independent reputation on some famous quote about how "good teams win the close games," they played their first two games against good teams. In their opener against the Thumpers, a two run homer by Lorenzo Alston with two strikes and two outs in the bottom of the seventh and final inning slapped the Independents in the face with a stunning 8-7 loss.

They returned this past Monday to play a tough "Rollies Nimrods" club, who had been victorious over Andy Janquitto's new idea, "The Kingdom of Khaz" just a few days before. Again plagued by errors and not-so heads up play, the Independents, despite Jim Eiden's round tripper in the fifth, eventually dropped the back and forth struggle, 10-9. So, number one a week ago, the Independents now find themselves on the charts rated fifteenth with an anchor.

With the top rating now tossed up for grabs, teams all around the league began the scramble for the number one spot. The Edwards-Fatoole Graduating Class, who recently nipped Bad Company 11-9, have now slipped ahead of the rest of the field by a narrow margin. However, their first defense of the slot will come this Monday against the defending champion Dennis Phelps Fan Club which who sports a perfect 3-0 record. Phelps has been scoring at an average clip of 11.5 runs per game while allowing only two. To win, Edwards-Fatoole will have to tighten up in the field, stop Chris "the flake" Drake, and eat lots of Wheaties.

Elsewhere, in the National League West, the Smegmas have continued to cruise along with some not-so impressive wins. Despite some shaky times in the first inning of both games, they returned to beat Dennison, 8-4 and the Cleavers, 9-6. Benny McCollum has led the attack thus far with two home runs.

In the American League West, S.O.M.F. owns a perfect 2-0 record, but had to go 12 innings recently before finally edging the not very highly touted Roosevelt Rough Riders, 7-6. Roosevelt exploded in the seventh frame with four runs to send it into overtime, but, despite some acrobatic game saving catches by left fielder Art "Goofy" Mitchell, were unable to pull it out.

Diamondmen Whip "DUH U" Amidst Much Controversy

If a wrestling official was there he would have called them for stalling. And that is exactly what the Scranton University Royals did in the nite-cap of a doubleheader with Wilkes this past Tuesday afternoon at Schautz Stadium in beautiful downtown Dunmore.

After the Blue and Gold had captured the opener, 9-6, to raise its season mark to 6-1, Scranton hem-hawed its way through the nite-cap, praying and hoping for darkness. The game would have to go five full innings before it would count as an official contest. The game went 4 and 1/3 innings.

With Wilkes leading 13-6 after two and a half innings, the Royals began their stall. It started with a number of fielding errors, and continued to the changing of relief pitchers, like they were in a revolving door. When Scranton retired in the third frame with no runs, Wilkes scurried through a two minute fourth with no scoring. The Royals of Coach Gary Wodder, (You remember him, he was the guy who shouted obscenities over the mike at the King's-Scranton cage game at "Duh U," he's also the athletic director), tallied two runs in the bottom of the inning, before the umpires called the game.

There was definately enough time to play the innings if Scranton had not stalled. But, Wilkes will get another shot at the Royals, when Scranton invades Artillery Park on April 26 for a doubleheader. If anyone happens to go up Route 81 and go near "Duh U," tell 'em on April 26, the Colonels will be awaiten'.

Since the last Beacon, the Blue and Gold went 4-1, and that's not counting yesterday's doubleheader with King's College.

The Colonels will travel to meet MAC rival Elizabethtown College tomorrow at 1:00 in another twin-bill. The Colonels next home game is scheduled for April 18, when they host East Stroudsburg State College.

COLONEL CLOUDS:... Six game stats show Wilkes as a team hitting .370, with 12 homeruns, 66 rbi's and 74 runs scored. The team pitching is also a beautiful sight with a 1.80 ERA and 48 strikeouts in 40 innings and ONLY 18 base on balls. In those 40 innings, Wilkes has only given up one home run ... Wilkes senior pitcher Barry (Call me the Stopper) Harcharufka owns a 4-0 mark this season with a 0.58 ERA ... Freshmen relievers Randy McHenry and Jim Kearney both have two saves, and 0.00 ERA's ... Freshman Chick Andrewsavage leads the Colonels in hits, doubles, homers, RBI's, batting average, total bases, and slugging pct. The burly one is proving to be a mighty fine asset to Coach Domzalski's squad.

Stickmen Lose Two In A Row

The Wilkes College lacrosse team and all its spectators suffered from the "first home game jitters" in more ways than one last Saturday afternoon when Gettysburg romped the Colonels 13-2. Earlier in the week, Lehigh decided the Wilkesmen 10-6, bringing their record to 1-1 entering the Gettysburg match.

Although the Blue and Gold were unable to avenge last year's 9-7 loss, it was an exciting contest and the cold and windy weather didn't scare away the crowd which lined-up along the sidelines and perched themselves in the football bleachers to observe the action. Most of the action, however, was in favor of Gettysburg, who set up 48 shots at the goal to Wilkes 29.

Needless to say, the Colonel stickmen were forced to play more defense than offense and a few Blue and Gold players excelled in their defensive efforts. Senior co-captain John Lack demonstrated his love for football when he made two "very physical" tackles, thus destroying two adversaries. Freshman goalie Dave Singer collected 25 saves to raise his three-game total to 47. Junior Andy Dutch got back into action in the fourth quarter, after being sidelined for more than one week and will add depth to the Colonel goalkeepers.

Mark Sanders, sophomore from West Islip, N.Y. continued to show prowess from the mid-field by winning 17 out of 23 face-offs for the Colonels. Sanders, who won All-Conference in high school, recorded over 70 percent of Wilkes face-offs last season and appears to be headed for All-Conference honors at the Collegiate level. Also looking impressive in the mid-field was Todd Noll, who scored on a pass play from Joe Burnett Saturday.

Team co-captain Bruce Davis was the first Colonel to hit the nets Saturday finding the range early in the third quarter. Davis is also bidding for All Conference honors and is tied for the team's third leading scorer with senior Greg Wild, at four. Sophomore Wayne Krum of Boonton, N.J. leads all Wilkes scorers with 7, but the Gettysburg team managed to keep the Colonel stickman scoreless Saturday. Second in the scoring ranks is sophomore Bill Adams with five.

Wilkes found themselves at a 1-0 deficit after the first quarter, but the visitors pulled away by respective advantages of 4-0, 5-1 and 3-1 in the following periods. Penalties certainly didn't help either, as the Wilkesmen were punished 15 times for over 12 minutes and Gettysburg had 10 for nine minutes.

Unlike Saturday when the Blue and Gold only allowed the opponent to score one goal in the first quarter, four tallies by the powerful Lehigh Engineers proved too much for the Colonels to make-up and lost a 10-6 decision Wednesday at Bethlehem. With the exception of the poor first quarter, the Wilkes stickmen matched talents with the highly-rated Engineers, who also defeated them last season.

Wayne Krum was high-scorer with two goals and was followed by sophomore Bill Adams who netted two. Bruce Davis also picked-up a goal in the Lehigh contest while several players were credited with assists. Todd Noll, Brian Blesi, Joe Burnett and Bernie Donachie each registered one assist. Coaches Hobrock and MacArthur pointed to "The Greek" Donachie as playing the outstanding defense and always being where the ball was. If Donachie continues his defensive performance he will probably capture another first team All-Conference selection.

The Lacrossemen were expected to play Bucknell Wednesday at 7:30 under the lights at Lewisburg. The fact that they play under the lights is an indication of their capabilities and the Colonels will have their work cut out for them. Last year the Bisons handed the Colonels a 17-9 setback before the hometown crowd. Saturday's April 15 match-up with Madison FDU will also be a tough one for the Colonels, but maybe the home field advantage will be a psychological lift. Looking ahead, Wilkes travels to Haverford April 19.

CENTRAL PARK — Symbolic of the Colonel fortunes all day, a Wilkes stickman gets mugged by a Gettysburg player during action at Ralston Field.

Netmen Of Rokita Staying Above .500

The Colonel tennis team had a busy week winning two matches and dropping one to even its season record at 2-2. The Blue and Gold of Coach Rokita won easily over Moravian 8-1, lost a squeaker to Ursinus 5-4, and defeated the Monarchs of King's College, 6-3.

The victory over Moravian was sweet for two reasons. First of all, it broke the Colonels into the win column this year after they dropped their opener to Juniata. Secondly, it was a win on the road and, as is the case in any sport, you must win away matches to have a successful year. Mike Hromchak was sharp winning his match easily, 6-3, 6-4. Stan Manoski and Terry Collins also had an easy time with their Moravian counterparts winning their doubles match by a lopsided 6-1, 6-1.

The thrill of victory didn't last too long though, as Ursinus College travelled to the Ralston Field courts and proved that they too can win on the road. When the match was over, Wilkes had put up a good battle but had fallen short in the final outcome.

On Monday, the team took the courts determined to even their record at .500 at the expense of King's College. They were not to be denied and blasted their way to a 6-3 win. This match could easily have been a 9-0 shutout as the team lost three heartbreaking match points. Stan Manoski, Rick Baran, Terry Collins, and Bill Murtagh all won singles matches while the duos of Baran and Murtagh and Collins and Manoski won in doubles. For the second time in the week the team of Collins and Manoski had an easy match in doubles. This time, they defeated Bill Burke and Mike Metroka of King's in straight sets, 6-0, 6-0.

The matches the Colonels lost were about as close as they possibly could be. Mike Hromchak lost two tie breakers and the match, 7-6, 7-6. In doubles, Hromchak and Cheplik lost by a close 6-4, 5-7, 7-5 score.

Coach Rokita was well pleased with the total effort although some small mistakes still bothered him. With two wins in the last three matches, though, he isn't complaining.

The team faces some stiff competition this week in the form of the Royals of the University of Scranton. That match will be played at Scranton. After that, the next opponent for the Wilkes Tennis squad will be Susquehanna University.

This team is young and exciting, and if you like to watch good sports action drop by at the courts and show the team that the campus is behind them. They give a lot to the game, and deserve some fan support in return.

In just two games, he has already accomplished something no intramuraler in Wilkes history had ever done, striking out twice two games in a row. This immediately tied him for still another record with Lorenzo Alston of the Thumpers who set the standard of four strikeouts in a season just a year ago. Said Karo, "records are made to be broken."

Golfers Split Opening Matches

The Wilkes College golf team, 1-1 going into yesterday's tri-match with Scranton and Upsala at Upsala, picked up a victory this past week over cross-town rival King's College.

The Blue and Gold of Coach Rollie Schmidt defeated the Monarchs, 395-405 at King's home course, the par 71 Wyoming Valley Country Club. Tops for Wilkes, and taking medalist honors on the 6,000 yard course was Steve Nielsen with a 75. Other Colonels with low scores were: Joe Skladany 78, Billy Briggs, 79, Bruce Slavinski 81, Bryan Hoynak 82, Barry

Williams 84, and captain Ken Donlavage 89, who played ill.

Earlier in the week, the Colonel duffers dropped a season-opening loss to Haverford College, 408-414, on the 6,100 yard Merion West Course in Haverford. Joe Skladany was tops for Wilkes with a 75.

Wilkes will host the Monarchs of King's College in a rematch on Monday afternoon at the Irem Temple Country Club at 2:00. The Colonels will be on the road next Thursday, traveling to meet Moravian and Muhlenberg at 1:00.

Volleyball Team Record Stands 1-2

The women's volleyball team is in a see-saw like battle this season as the women lost the opening match, came back to win the second, and then dropped the third. (They played Baptist Bible last night, but results were not available before press time.)

The Colonelettes fell to King's in the season opener despite outscoring their opponents. In a best-out-of-five game match, Wilkes scored 65 points to King's 51, but couldn't distribute them evenly, as they dropped three games. Scores were 13-15, 15-7, 15-3, 11-15, and 13-15.

Freshman Cindy Rossi tallied 16 points on serves, with two aces, while freshman Amy Gordon accounted for 13 points and one ace. The Blue and Gold also completed more serves than did King's, 108 to 103.

Captains Sally Steele and Karen Polomski had 22 saves between them, and sophomore Mary Kay Price proved to be an excellent spiker while also "dinking" the ball successfully.

The team captured the season's first win Saturday before a large group of parents who attended this "Parents' Day" game against Misericordia. The match went to only four games, with Wilkes winning the first, second and fourth. Scores were 15-10, 15-5, 11-15 and 15-3.

Amy Gordon and Cindy Rossi again tallied the most service points, with 15 each, and Gordon also had 10 defensive saves.

Sally Steele, Karen Burkley and Donna Whitmore were the setters for May Kay Price, who had three spikes and 10 dinks.

Tuesday the Colonelettes tried a new defensive cover against Scranton University, but couldn't make it work well enough to prevent the Royals from taking the match in three games, 15-3, 15-12, and 15-3.

Inexperience and some unfamiliarity with the defensive play may have been the sources of the trouble, along with poor blocking at the net. Scranton, a good basic volleyball team, was able to take advantage of the Blue and Gold's mistakes.

Sally Steele did come through with one of her best games, however, the serving improved since the second game, and the players appeared to recover well defensively.

The JV team, the only full team in this area, is also coming along, propelled by such players as Debbie Ryan, Barb Shaffer, Terri Roof, Marilyn Barbieri and Nina Nubani. Playing against some varsity team members, the JV's have had to really work, but have been holding their own and are expected to do well this season.

Upcoming games include Keystone (away) on Monday and King's (away) on Wednesday.
