ANOTHER TICKET — Frank Prohaska, a Del Cap security guard, writes out a ticket to unsuspecting parking violator.

Parking Ticket Revenue Pours Into College Fund

"Where does all that money from the parking tickets go?" This is a question asked many times during the semester by a choice group of students who have had the unfortunate experience of receiving a parking ticket for "illegal" parking on campus.

According to Eugene Manganello, Personnel Office Director, the money goes right back to the students, indirectly of course!

For the 78-79 academic year, $6694 was acquired from parking violations. This is a $1932 increase over the previous year's income of $4762.

Joseph Chisarick, Comptroller, stated that the money goes towards paying the parking guard's salary along with being absorbed into various college funds. Last year, 6 lots were paved at a cost of approximately $27,000. This was funded by the yearly parking income.

Chisarick further stated that everytime a gate or lot needs repair, the parking revenue is put into use. The cost of repairing a broken gate is about $30, with the bill even higher if the mechanism inside is damaged.

When asked what constitutes a parking violation, Manganello answered that any car without a permit parked in a campus lot will be ticketed. He went on to stress that any car parked in a handicapped zone without just cause will definitely be ticketed. He pointed out that these zones are available for handicapped people only.

Frank Prohaska, ticketing guard, reported that, on the average, he writes out about 125 parking violations a week. Sometimes this weekly tally varies due to a large amount of tickets written on a certain day. For example, on the first day of classes Prohaska wrote out a total of 87 tickets. He contributed this high amount to the usual disorder connected with first-day events.

Commenting on his salary, Prohaska said that he is paid $161 by Del-Cap for two weeks of work.

Most of the ticketing that takes place on campus occurs at the new men's dorm. "I'll find a note on a car saying that the car won't start, so I don't ticket it. The next day, that same car is in a different spot with the same note on it. Now who are they trying to fool?" Prohaska continued. "I have only been threatened once by a violator, and shortly after, he came back to apologize for the abusive language and various threats he made. Till this day, we still greet each other when we meet on the street!"

Campus ticketing starts at 7:30 a.m. and ends at 4:00 p.m. Gates go up at 4:30 p.m. At $5 a ticket, with another five dollars added after 72 hours, it is advised to park somewhere else if you do not have a permit.

First All-College Picnic Replaces 3 Day Weekend

The removal of a three day weekend from the fall semester calendar has prompted the administration to compensate for that by holding an All-College picnic at Ralston Field, this Saturday at 2 p.m.

Dave Blumfield, Student Government president, announced at SG's Monday night meeting that dinner will not be served in the cafeteria that night to encourage dormitory students to go to the picnic. Games and activities will be featured such as tug-of-war and pie eating contests. There will also be a pep rally.

If the picnic is a success it may become an annual event. Blumfield is encouraging everyone on campus to attend the event and noted that the administration is covering all the expenses of the day.

Under committee reports, Ana Nunez, academic committee chairman, reported that the academic

Homecoming Nominees Selected; Voting For Queen & Court Today

In voting held last Thursday, Sept. 27, the ten nominees for the 1979 Homecoming Queen were selected. Over 150 ballots were cast.

Voting for the Queen and her court will be today in the Student Center from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and in the cafeteria from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Announcement of the results will be held at the Homecoming bonfire on Thursday, Oct. 11, over at Ralston field. The Queen and her court will be featured at Friday's, Oct. 12, Dinner-Dance, the parade on Saturday, Oct. 13, and during the football game against Madison FDU.

The nominees are:

Peggy Barletta: A sociology and Psychology major from Hazleton. Peggy is also involved in the Concert & Lecture Series Committee, the Outdoor Adventure Club, the Psychology Club, the Sociology Club, SG's Social and Concert Committees and is the resident assistant of McClintock Hall.

Sue Freda: An Accounting major from Callicon, N.Y. Sue has participated in Women's Basketball and Softball, THE BEACON, Letterwomen's club and is the resident captain.

Sue Oakland: From Ramsey, N.J., Sue is a Nursing major. She has been involved in the yearbook and the Nursing Student Organization.

Cheryl Roberts: Currently the resident assistant of Waller Hall, Cheryl is from Spring, Texas and is a Biology major. She is a member of the Biology Club and Ski Club and also involved with intramurals.

Doreen Swiatek: A nursing major from Taylor, she is a resident assistant of the Hotel Sterling and Secretary of the Letterwomen's assistant of Cheasapeake Hall.

Drena Grainey: A Sociology major from Mill Creek, she has been involved in the Inter-Dormitory Council, Women's Softball team, Letterwomen's Club and the Sociology club. She has also been the president of her dorm for two years and a Red Cross volunteer.

Donna Gronkowski: Treasurer of the Senior Class for four years, Donna is an Elementary Education major from Plymouth. She is also Treasurer of the Education club, Secretary of the Racquetball Club, vice-president of the Women's Activities Association, and Majorette club. She also participates on the women's basketball team, the Human Services committee, the Concert committee, and the Nursing Student Organization.

Ilene Tinkleman: Currently the Assistant Editor of the yearbook, Ilene is an Elementary Education major from Cheltenham. She is also president of the Education club, a Senior Class executive council member, former president of her dorm, and tutors at the YMCA.

Wendy Warner: From Weatherly, Wendy is a Nursing and Psychology major. A member of the Nursing Student Organization and Psychology club, she is also a cheerleader, Colonelette, and has helped with the Orientation programs for the last two years.

Jackie Wiendl: An Elementary Education major from Westfield, N.J., she is currently a resident assistant of Sullivan Hall, treasurer of the Letterwomen's club, and a member of the women's softball team. She has also been involved in the Volunteers for Literacy Program and the Ski club.

NOTICE

Please be advised that Tuesday, Nov. 20, 1979 will follow the Friday class schedule. Due to the omission of a Friday at the end of the semester and an "extra" Tuesday in the calendar, this adjustment must be made.

standards committee is considering two proposals. One deals with a new withdrawal from a course and auditing a course policies. The other is considering the idea of a competency exams for freshmen and seniors to be used for placement and to qualify for graduation respectively.

Ross Mantione of the film committee reported that of of SG's projectors has broken down. According to Mantione it would cost $200 to repair the machine or cost over $500 to buy a new one with the trade in. SG voted 14-0 to pay for the repair.

In other business, Blumfield announced that Norm Witko had been appointed vice-president of the Class of '81. Arnie Joseph, who had originally won the race, does not have enough credits to declare a junior standing. Witko was the runner up in that election.

LCTA Bus Schedules Available

To more adequately meet the needs of commuter students, Commuter Council reported Monday night that it now has a complete supply of Luzerne County Transit Authority bus schedules on hand for any student that needs them. It is hoped that in the near future a rack with additional copies of the bus schedules will be available in the Student Center.

IDC President Mike Stapleton noted at the meeting that there will be a joint meeting of IDC and CC members on the Social and Halloween Committees this Tuesday at 12 o'clock in the C.C. office.

Because the Junior Class presents "Let's Make A Deal" in the CPA at 7 o'clock with the IDC-CC Halloween Party immediately following, it is hoped that students coming to the Halloween Party will be dressed in costumes. Discount ticket incentives might be given to costumed partygoers.

Another major topic of discussion was that the Council is thinking of sponsoring a trip to New York the day before Thanksgiving. CC President Bill Lewis explained that the one day excursion would be ideal for some sightseeing and it would also be an inexpensive way of getting home for some of the dorm students.

Trip to Florida Planned for Spring; First of Its Kind for College

Under the auspices of the Student Government, a trip to Fort Lauderdale, Florida is being planned to take place during spring break, March 1 to March 8.

Trip coordinator, Joe Galli stated the reason for such a trip was the large amount of people taking vacations in Florida last year on spring break. He feels that this is a good reason to organize a college trip this year.

After consulting with several travel agencies, Galli decided that Wainwright Charter Service from Bethlehem, would handle the arrangements. Plans were finalized for the trip at a meeting with Art Hoover and Doris Barker, Student Government advisors, Bruce Bevan, a Wainwright representative, and Joe Galli, trip coordinator.

A 737 plane was chartered with a seating capacity of 120. Departure from Philadelphia is on March 1 at 4:30 p.m. The return trip from Fort Lauderdale is slated for March 8. Exact arrival time in Philadelphia will be announced. Those exceeding the 120 capacity will be travelling on the same days, but different flights. Transportation to and from Philadelphia will be provided for an extra charge of between $13 and $15.

Three plans are being offered for students. The first plan includes airfare, lodgings three quarters of a mile from Fort Lauderdale at the King's Crown Inn, transportation from the Florida airport, unlimited car use with four people per car for the entire trip and unlimited mileage. There will be a party with four other colleges on the "Paddleboat Queen." A two and one half hour happy hour will be provided daily during which time drinks will be $.50 apiece. Students will have access to a three floor rock bar called "Big Daddy's" and will receive a complimentary t-shirt. There will not be a cover charge. The cost of this plan is $269.

The second plan is similar to the first. The only difference is that the student choosing this plan will be staying at a hotel on the beach. Use of a car is not included. The other services and accommodations are the same. The price of this arrangement is also $269.

The third plan includes unlimited use of a car, hotel accommodations on the beach and the services included in plans one and two. Cost of this plan is $289.

Every student will receive a brochure explaining the trip in full detail in the mail. Those who do not receive one may obtain the brochure at the Student Government office.

TWO FOR THE ROAD — Joe Galli (left) and Marla Brodsky are ready to leave for Florida right now. The trip to Florida, being planned by Student Government, will be a first for Wilkes College.

On the back of the brochure there will be a liability form which must be filled out by the student before the trip. A registration form will also be included in the brochure for anyone wishing to sign up for the trip. These may be filled out and sent to Joe Galli, in care of Student Government.

The first deposit will be accepted starting on Oct. 24 and ending Nov. 20. The second and third deposit deadlines will be announced in the brochure.

Anyone having questions is urged to contact Joe Galli at Miner Hall or Art Hoover, Weckesser Hall.

New Maintenance Service Begins Campus Operations

As of this summer, a new maintenance service, American Building Maintenance, is operating on campus, replacing Columbus Services whose three-year contract had expired.

After receiving a number of bids Wilkes College awarded a three-year contract to American. American, whose main office is located in Philadelphia is a nationwide company, employed by other colleges and universities. According to Charles Abate, Business Manager, Wilkes examined American's work and found its services to be competent and efficient.

American took over maintenance on August 1, 1979, supervised by Gabe Sidonio. All present employees had previously worked for Wilkes, with the exception of six who were hired after the new company took over.

The employees had their work cut out for them. Because American began operation late in the summer, there was hardly enough time to prepare the campus for the fall semester. Much painting and roof work had to be done, along with ground work such as planting and pruning.

When asked about the dorms, Sidonio said, "I would have torn them down if they were mine." He feels that now, since American has taken over, the dorms are in better condition. Overall, the staff met no insurmountable problems and Sidonio does not anticipate any in the immediate future.

Sidonio stated that he has received much cooperation from college officials, making his job a little easier.

According to Abate, American is doing an "admirable job," and housing officials Paul Adams and Jean Reiter consider their work to be quite professional.

Housing Survey Proposed By IDC

Co-educational Housing was again the main topic of discussion at the Inter-Dormitory Council meeting Sunday night. The Co-Ed Housing Committee, headed by IDC Vice President Mike Sibilia, decided that its main goal would be to conduct an accurate and unbiased survey among dorm students concerning the possibility of Wilkes instituting Co-Ed dorms. The survey would also be designed to aid the Administration in making a decision. It was pointed out that the survey from last year was inconclusive, especially since relatively few filled out the questionnaire.

Sibilia stated that the committee could cite the situation at the Hotel Sterling and in Pickering Hall during the summer as examples of successful programs of Co-Ed Housing on the Wilkes campus. He also felt that the policy of separating men and women in the Hotel by floors could be changed, to separation by room. IDC members representing the Hotel women, however, strongly objected to this idea.

If a policy of co-ed housing were instituted, Pickering Hall would be used for this situation, with men and women separated either by floor or by wing. Other dorms would possibly be co-ed, but it is not yet certain which dorms would be used. Some members felt that Slocum and Denison would be ideal for co-ed housing. Mike Stapleton, IDC President, stated that a double standard exists at Wilkes, since only the men are placed in Pickering Hall. Stapleton feels that a policy of co-ed housing would eliminate this double standard, and would give women the privilege of living in Pickering.

The Halloween Party Committee reported that the IDC-CC Halloween Party will be held October 26 immediately following "Let's Make A Deal", a program sponsored by the junior class, continuing until 2 a.m. The committee plans to have a band that plays Top-40 music rather than country rock since they feel that Top-40 appeals to almost everyone. Costumes are not required but those who do wear a costume will get $.25-$.50 off the ticket price. It was not determined yet if prizes would be awarded for the best costume.

It was decided that IDC would not build a float for the Homecoming parade, but would devote the time to a display on campus. Members felt that a float would require too much time and work, but a display would take less effort. This project will be undertaken with Commuter Council.

Wilkes - Hahnemann Program Now Beginning Eighth Year

This fall the Wilkes-Hahnemann Cooperative Medical Education Program in Family Medicine began its eighth year as the sixth class of Wilkes students entered the Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital in Philadelphia to begin the Medical Component of the Program.

Twenty students were selected by the Wilkes-Hahnemann Joint Selection Committee to begin the Medical Component this fall. They are: Duane Ahlbrandt, James Barr, Jean Beard, Linda Blose, James Boyle, John Brady, Jay Colby, Denise Ewald, Dale Federico, Deborah Gorski, Barbara Landis, Thomas McDonald, Patrick McNamara, Karen Murphy, Richard Petrella, Kathleen Rickard, Debra Ryan, Colleen Toole, Shoshana Troy, and Kenneth Uston.

The Program began in 1972 to help ease the shortage of family doctors in the twenty-county area of Northeastern Pennsylvania. The first class began the Medical Component in 1974, received B.S. and M.S. degrees from Wilkes in May, 1978, and one week later received M.D. degrees from Hahnemann Medical College. They are now in their second year of residencies. Most are in primary care residency programs in hospitals throughout Eastern Pennsylvania.

To date, a total of 126 students have been admitted to the Medical School Component and only two have dropped out.

Beginning this year the six year program has been changed to a seven year program. The present sophomore class is in a six year program. Before, the program consisted of two years at Wilkes, including summers, followed by three years at Hahnemann and then one year at Wilkes and in Wilkes-Barre and Scranton Area Hospitals. The new program eliminates the need for summer school in the years at Wilkes.

During the first three years of the program students take courses here. They include the general core requirements, biology, chemistry, math, physics, and electives.

The second three years compose the Medical Component which is spent at Hahnemann. The students take courses in biochemistry, developmental biology, physiology, microbiology, pharmacology, pathology, medical problems, human behavior, and clinical science in the first year; medicine, surgery, family medicine, pediatrics, obstetrics, gynecology, psychiatry in the second year; and advanced basic science and clinical electives in the third year.

The final year of the program is spent in family medicine track rotations at area hospitals including the Veterans Administration Medical Center, Wilkes-Barre; Nesbitt Memorial Hospital, Kingston; Mercy Hospital, Wilkes-Barre; Wyoming Valley Hospital, Wilkes-Barre; and Community

Medical Center, Scranton.

Project Director Ralph B. Rozelle explained that the new program is less structured, has fewer fixed courses, and allows for a maximum of flexibility.

Rozelle noted that an added feature of the program is the telecommunications network with Hahnemann. The network center is located on the second floor of the Stark Learning Center. The system links Wilkes and local hospitals with Hahnemann, and allows programs to be televised from either end of the system.

It is part of the Untied Health and Hospital Services of which Dr. Rozelle is president this year.

Dr. Rozelle noted that each year approximately 140 to 150 students apply for admission to the Wilkes-Hahnemann program. Of that number about 75 are chosen. Some students leave the program during the first three years so that by the end of the Wilkes component, there are approximately 35 to 40 students left in the program.

Through a series of interviews with the joint selection committee between twenty and twenty-five candidates are selected to enter the Medical School.

Most of the students not selected for the medical component complete their four years here and then proceed to medical schools in pursuit of degrees in Optometry, Podiatric Medicine, or Dental Medicine. Rozelle added that over the last three years over 130 students have entered doctoral granting health schools.

Stealing a phone call Isn't a game.

Most students play by the rules when placing a long distance call. They take advantage of bargain rates and make their calls during the discount periods. If you're not sure when you can call at discount rates, check your phone book.

A few students think it's O.K. to break the rules by stealing their telephone calls. They're not beating the system, they're taking advantage of all of us, because it drives up the cost of providing telephone service.

Students who break the rules also run the risk of paying a large fine. Spending time in jail. And getting themselves a permanent police record.

It's just not worth it!

Few Bucks For Spirit Go A Long Way

A few weeks ago, the Women's Activities Association (cheerleaders, strutters, and majorettes) made a fund request to Student Government for money to cover the cost of their transportation to the away football games. Their original request was for $1,083 to pay for coaches from the Martz Bus Company for the four games. They were turned down and encouraged to look for cheaper transportation.

Donna Grontkowski, the vice-president of WAA, then filed a request for $410 which covered the cost of three games provided by school buses. The Juniata College game was excluded since it is a three hour trip and the cost of that trip alone equaled the cost of the other three buses.

The way the Colonels are playing football, the game with Juniata could mean a MAC title. It would be a shame not to have the girls there to support the team. Before last week's upset over Upsala (20-3), the girls decorated the locker-room with posters, signs, and balloons. Many players felt the spirit generated by the girls helped them to go on to win.

At a time when Wilkes' school spirit is not very apparent, the football team needs all the support it deserves.

We suggest that SG should give WAA the money needed to travel to the game. We feel the cost of this expense should come from the Athletic department but due to unknown reasons they refuse to pay it. We know money is tight for SG but this is important. Please Reconsider!!!

More Money Needed

A progress report on the fund drive for the stereo system and television in the new Student Center indicates that many people are not donating to the cause. We simply don't understand why. The sooner the money is raised the sooner everyone will be able to reap the benefits.

You, members of the Wilkes College Family, expressed your enthusiasm over the fund drive at the All-College assembly held at the beginning of the year. Don't back down now, Student Government needs your money!

We are asking everyone to respond to SG's plea for your spare change. The collections containers are located all over campus. Come on, Donate!!!!

Parents' Day Full of Activities

Parents' Day was held this Saturday, giving parents a chance to visit the campus and get to know their sons' and daughters' professors.

The day started off quite gloomy; it did not seem like a nice day for even a football game. During the morning hours parents registered in Stark Lobby, and afterwards attended either the soccer game, tennis match, or stayed for a slide presentation and discussion about the campus.

As the parents waited in the lobby, they mingled with faculty and administration. They were able to obtain literature concerning the college and were treated to a flower sale by Theta Delta Rho.

Most parents then went to visit their sons or daughters and proceeded jointly to the Wilkes vs. Upsala football game. During half-time, they were able to see the majorettes and strutters in action performing routines specially created for Parents' Day.

After the game ended at 4:45, everyone went to the "Post-Game Huddle" at the Sterling Inn Towne. Food and drinks were available and parents were once again given the opportunity to meet with administration and faculty. Everyone seemed to be having a great time since the huddle lasted until after 6:00 p.m.

Parents were treated to a special showing of the popular movie, "The Goodbye Girl" at 8:30.

This day is helpful in getting parents more involved in their sons' or daughters' education. It is a welcome opportunity for students to meet with their parents. It also has the hidden advantage of students getting some of those necessities from home like home-cooked food or extra sweaters for those cooler mornings.

SG Elections for Class of 1980

Elections for the Class of 1980 Student Government replacement representatives will be held today along with election of the Homecoming Queen. This is the second time the election is being held. It was originally thought that there were three vacant spots to be filled. But it was later discovered that only two seats were open. New nominations were held last week and they are as follows:

Ann Cordillo
Jim Davis
Dave Samsel
Allan Shaw

Letters to the editor are welcomed from all interested parties. Letters MUST be typed neatly and submitted by the Sunday before publication at one o'clock. A box has been placed in the library for this purpose. Letters may also be delivered to The Beacon office, room 27, Parrish Hall.

All letters MUST be signed IN INK, but names will be withheld upon request. Editorial discretion will be used in all cases, especially where questionable language is used. All letters will be typed as written, without corrections (except for the preceeding case), and the views expressed in letters are NOT the views of The Beacon.

United Way Needs Support

Presently the college is in the second week of its annual campaign for the United Way, according to Dr. Robert Ogren, Chairman of the Wilkes Chapter of the United Way.

A total of 292 people, including faculty, staff and administration are being asked to participate in this year's campaign. Dr. Ogren stated that last year $9,800 was donated, which was 103 percent of the goal. Approximately 87 percent of the administration, 74 percent of the faculty, and 52 percent of the staff contributed. This was an overall percentage of 71 percent cooperation. The average college-wide donation for last year was $52.

This year a goal of $10,500 has been established as the college's commitment to the total United Way goal of $2,285,000. As of September 29, Dr. Ogren has received 38 pledge cards with donations totalling $1,921. This is 18 percent of this year's goal with 13 percent cooperation.

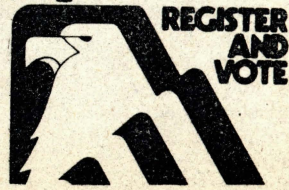

The last day to return pledge cards to Dr. Ogren is October 17. Those who wish to use payroll deductions are urged to send their cards to Dr. Ogren by the end of this week.

As chairman of the campaign for three years, Dr. Ogren hopes the college will be as successful in this year's endeavor as in the past. He concluded that although there are many valid reasons for not participating, he hopes everyone will give their "fair share."

The first and second S.C. parites were quite successful... Unfortunately some people didn't get to go. R. Roberts, were where you? Even though the Hahnemann students came up to party, J. Barr was studying some anatomy. Who's Ann Lee been Wheelin' and dealing with?

It's not good for your Hart to smoke...So, Joe and Megan seemed to stir up some convo. Since when does F. S. hang out in the dark, exclusive corners? And what freshman had a beer bath? Speaking of an early Halloween...who's been going around dressed up like a pumpkin and visiting girl's dorms?

Happy Birthday to all those October Babes. P.S. Attention to S.G. chairperson...all previous Homecoming Queens will be floating around. If you know what I mean. So-use them.

Educational Opportunity Center Looking For Tutors

Wilkes College, along with five other area colleges, has received a federal grant totalling $223,000 to offer counseling, tutoring and financial aid services to approximately 1500 students who otherwise might not receive such services.

The Educational Opportunity Center (EOC) is an all college, all campus, all community tutoring the counseling service free of charge to all who seek help. Also incorporated into the EOC is the Volunteers for Literacy Program, which has been in operation at Wilkes for the past three years. Volunteers for Literacy is primarily to help illiterate adults in the community to learn to read and write. Most participants have a specific goal, such as learning to read and write well enough to take the test for a Graduate Equivalency Diploma, or to be able to take a driver's test and obtain a driver's license. This service is greatly needed because approximately 8 percent of American adults are functionally illiterate. Tutoring is provided on a one to one basis, which makes the program personalized.

Another program under the direction of the EOC is ESOL or English to Speakers of Other Languages. The goal of ESOL is to help the foreign speaking residents of Luzerne County to learn to speak, read and write English. Because of recent immigration of persons from Vietnam, the Middle East and the Soviet Union, this program is much needed and very worthwhile. Tutoring here is also provided on a one to one basis.

Anyone who can read, write and speak English is eligible to become a volunteer for these two programs. There are also workshops to attend before a volunteer starts services. The next workshops for ESOL will be held on Tuesday, October 2, Wednesday, October 3, and Thursday, October 4, from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. and also Tuesday, October 9, and Wednesday, October 10 from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. The workshop fee is $7.50; and one receives a teacher's manual and membership in the National Affiliation for Literacy Advance (NALA). A workshop for Volunteers for Literacy will be arranged each time ten volunteers have shown an interest in tutoring. There is no charge for this training as there is for ESOL, but the tutor must purchase an instructor's manual and pay a membership fee for NALA.

There is also general tutoring available to those in the community who seek help in any specific area, such as accounting or spelling. If a request is made, a tutor will be found. These services are all federally funded and free of charge.

Tutoring is also available for any student on campus. Anyone seeking help or wishing to tutor should report to Ross Hall. At present white card workers and a very limited number of blue card workers are needed to tutor any subject.

If anyone is interested in any of these tutoring programs and would like to find out more about the upcoming workshops, contact Barbara Klarsch, Gayle Wuori or Dr. George Siles at Ross Hall, 251 South River Street, for further information.

"The Seduction Of Joe Tynan"

For Seduction See The Graduate, For Politics See The Seduction of Joe Tynan.

The Seduction of Joe Tynan, Jerry Schatzburg Director, Martin Bergman, Producer, Written by Alan Alda + Currently showing at the Wyoming Valley Mall.

The late Senator Joseph McCarthy must have turned over in his grave upon the release of this film. Although most of us have realized that the men who sit in the Senate are far from noble, the naive and easily persuaded among us would leave this film thinking that Senators are lecherous, deceptive, rowdy and in some cases senile. The question is, how far is this from the truth? Just consider the media exposures in recent years. Since this question could be raised in the minds of the film's viewers I find it safe to say that the film does work.

Alan Alda's acting is superior, from the enlisted man comic in M.A.S.H., to the Senator in his own The Seduction of Joe Tynan, Alda illustrates his many talents. Meryl Streep does an excellent job of portraying a spunky, liberated, southern belle (the preceeding adjectives may seem paradoxical but the character isn't). Ms. Streep should get a best supporting actress nomination. With beauty and talent at least equal to that of Faye Dunaway it won't be long before Ms. Streep gets her Chinatown.

The only shoddy scene in the film involves neither Streep or Alda. With the setting being a posh Georgetown party, several non-sober, non-intoxicated senators suddenly decide to push a grand piano out a window sending it careening down a drive-way and across a street. This may verge on the humorous but it is a definite miscue in Alda's screenplay.

Despite the film's emphasis on the traditional love triangle, there are worthwhile undercurrents that give the film its balance. Pure politics usually won't sell a film but passion will. Most of the film's action is as rapid as the seduction which takes place early in the film's progression. The seduction itself is so speedy that you might get the impression that you are watching a low budget porno flick. Fortunately there is also a seduction of the protagonist which is not biological. It is this seduction by politics that brings the film to its almost "happily ever after" ending... The film is not "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," which is one reason the film might be worth viewing.

FREE!!! An all college picnic will be held Saturday, October 6th from 2:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. at Ralston Field. The picnic will feature softball and football games, tug-of-war and a pie-eating contests. A picnic dinner will be served and those not attending should contact Paul Adams or Dave Blumfield. Raindate for the event is October 7th. Wilkes College is sponsoring the event for students, administration, and faculty.

On October 5th, the Manuscript Society will present "The Gold Rush." Considered to be the best of Charles Chaplin, it is the silent screen's finest comedy. It is the bitter sweet tale of the Little Tramp's misplaced love in the days of Klondike Gold Rush. The film will be shown at 7 p.m. in the Center for the Performing Arts. Admission is free.

The Wilkes College Art Alumni Exhibition is currently on display in the Sordoni Art Gallery. The show features art alumni works in all media. It will continue through October 21; gallery hours for the show are 1-5 p.m. daily and Thursday evenings 6-9 p.m.

Wilkes' Art Alumni Return For Exhibit

ART ALUMNI — Pictured above is the Sordoni Art Gallery which will be featuring art work from the college's Alumni.

Currently on display in the Sordoni Art Gallery is the The Wilkes College Art Alumni Exhibition. The show is outstanding and showcases the best achievements of Wilkes' graduates. The show will be in the Gallery until October 21 st.

Any Wilkes College graduate was eligible to submit two entries for judging by an outside jurist. The entries could have been in any media: painting, graphics, sculpture, crafts or photography.

William Sterling, Gallery director mentioned "Although some entrants may not have been accepted, we believe that this juried show will offer the greatest assurance of overall quality, as well as fairness in selection."

The exhibition is planned to coincide with the annual Homecoming weekend of October 13.

Alumni with works in the painting sector are: watercolor—Sue Adams, '78, Frances Balavage, '78, William Davis, '75, Richard Derby, '75, Gary Fritzges '79, Phyllis Lukas '68, Catherine Skopic '65, Wayne Sittner '68, Frank Wengen '78. In acrylics are: Keith Ackerman '65, Nancy DeBiase '79, and Karen Metta '72. Working in oils are: Randall Bond '77 and Candy Chiles '79.

Joseph Stallone '69 and Karen Hendrickson '77 have entries in ceramics while Janice Kiwak '73 has work in marble structure and Greg MacLean '78, in cast paper.

Writer In Residence Program Making A Name For Itself

For the fifth year in a row the department of Language and Literature has conducted the Writer In Residence program.

The purpose of the program is to bring public writers to the Wilkes campus where they can teach a course in creative writing. They also do public readings and provide consultation to students.

This concept is supported by The Allan Hamilton Dickson Chair Of English Literature which is one of the colleges special endowments. It was established to encourage enlightened teaching, extended scholarship, and creative writing in the field of literature. The Chair Of English Literature was created by Dorothy Dickson Darte in memory of her father, Allan Hamilton Dickson.

For the last two years, the National Endowment For the Arts has contributed funds to Wilkes College, in the form of grants, for the continuation of the program.

The newest writer signed on by Dr. Thomas Kaska, chairman of the english department, is poet and short story writer Mark Halliday. Mr. Halliday is presently busy performing his duties as resident writer and next week we will take a closer look at the man.

Last year Ms. Beatrice Hawley, a renowned poet, served as resident writer. Poet Hugh Seidmen, short story writer Laura Furman, and play-write Jon Lipsky were the ones who served the first three years.

Each year the program alternates the types of literature offered. Plans are being made for next year to appoint a play-write and have their play produced by the schools theater department. It will probably be an unproduced play and it is hoped that the school production will promote both the play and the playwright.

Since its inception in 1975, the Writer In Residence program has become well known within writing circles. Only in the first year did the college have to advertise for writers. Now, writers who wish to participate send in resumes and then its a matter of finding the one most suitable for the needs of the college.

WCLH Grows Stronger In Quality and Staff

"WCLH is at its highest peak ever," says Fred Pierantoni, manager of the radio station. One of the reasons for Fred's optimism stems from station's staff members including some new faces as well as some station veterans.

Members of the staff include: Fred Pierantoni—station manager, Rich Nordheim—Program director, Chris Kosakowski—Public relations, Les Nicholas—manager's assistant, Mark Thomas—news director, Rob Wallace—station engineer, Jim McCabe—music director, Bob Bushworth—assistant music director, Ed Van Buren—in charge of operations, and Garry Mack—sports director. The man who helps keep the radio station and staff operating smoothly is Dr. Brad Kinney. In reference to the staff Dr. Kinney states, "They're a good bunch of kids. They're concerned and involved, and thanks to them this year will be our best yet."

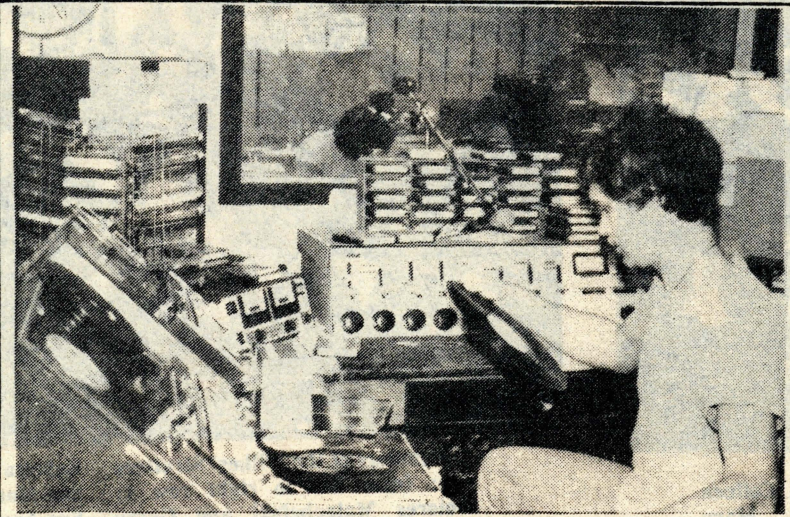

These people who keep the radio station running so well are of diverse interests; with less than half of them communications majors. Yet they all get along well and pull together for the good of WCLH. As Dr. Kinney puts it, "The staff has a genuine interest in the radio station and they all want to see it grow."

With fifty members WCLH is one of the largest clubs on campus. "We also had 25 people sign up at club day," says Pierantoni, "and we had ten new members join last week." Of the active members of WCLH about ninety per cent have a valid third class operators license. Pierantoni states that one of the station's goals is to help everyone involved to receive a license.

The third class license is valid for five years and is obtained by passing an FCC exam. The staff tutors anyone who is interested in obtaining a license. This tutoring helps those interested to know enough about the FCC rules and a radio station to pass the test. "Unfortunately," says Fred, "the nearest FCC testing facility is in Philadelphia." However, Dr. Kinney is trying to get a school bus in order to take a group of students to the testing facility for the next testing date. Kinney feels that the license will help the students at a future time if they are interested in broadcasting.

Not only are the staff members licensed but they are also well trained. Fred tries to help anyone who wants to know how to run the radio station. He believes that a well trained staff will help to keep the quality of WCLH on an upward swing.

All is not well with WCLH, however. There are several problems which the radio station is constantly fighting in an effort to keep itself alive. One of the biggest problems is their failing equipment. Apparently the equipment was already used when the college acquired it and it has been on the decline ever since. Their transmitter as well as other equipment are a hodge podge of repairs, held together by such modern technical break-throughs as rubber bands and string. It is due to this failing equipment that the radio station finds itself having to shut down on many occasions. This "loss of air time" does not make the staff very happy.

In an effort to update the radio station equipment Dr. Kinney and Fred Pierantoni have submitted a request for a budget increase which will help to rebuild the radio station. This proposal is still being considered at the present time.

Another major problem which causes WCLH to lose time and effort is lack of space. "We finally converted our old production room into a spare studio so that we can stay on the air should something happen in the studio," says Pierantoni, "but we just don't have enough space to expand the station to its full potential. At this time the radio station is checking into the possibility of getting another room on the 3rd floor of Dart Hall with which to expand their facility."

Fred and Dr. Kinney agree that another hindrance to WCLH is the public opinion that the station is a toy. "We can't be compared to the station as it was about two years ago," Pierantoni adds, "We are very serious about the potential of this station and we do not consider it a toy. Dr. Kinney echoes Fred's feelings and adds, "WCLH is one of the colleges most important tools." Indeed with the estimated possible listening audience of one million people the station has great potential. Kinney feels that the station could be an excellent public relations tool if the college would only use it. "Few people know we can make announcements about upcoming college events or whatever" says Kinney. The fact is that few people realize the potential of WCLH and even fewer people attempt to use that potential."

However, if the station is to continue to change for the better, it needs feedback from the college. It receives feedback from the students but very little from the administration. WCLH needs the support of the college community in order to grow. "This year with our staff we have the golden opportunity", Dr. Kinney states. The station needs the support of all the college. After all, it is one of the farthest reaching voices of Wilkes College.

Who's Who Applications Are Available Today

Applications for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges are available today in the Dean's office, located in Weckesser hall; the Housing Office, located in Pickering Hall; and the Registrar's Office, located in Parrish Hall.

According to Dean Arthur Hoover, who will be chairing the selection committee, students may nominate themselves, be nominated by another student, or be nominated by an administrator, department chairman, or faculty member.

The standards usually set by the selection committee are that the student must be of senior standing and have a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00. The nominee should also demonstrate active participation in college and community activities.

There should also be evidence of potential leadership.

The selection committee will consist of members of the administration, faculty and undergraduates. Last year the college's quota set by the Who's Who organization was 33 and Hoover estimates that it should be the same for this year. He stated, however, that there is no obligation on the college's part to select that many students.

Once the selection committee has decided on their choices for the honor, they must then be approved by the Dean's Council, and then ultimately by Who's Who. Hoover feels the honor is not simply an academic one but rather an award that recognizes leadership and contribution to college life.

Applications will be available through October 31.

Manuscript Society In Search of New Cover Design

How about helping the Manuscript Society find a cover for our art and literary magazine? Once again the Manuscript is in the process of accepting student writing and art. This year, in an attempt to encourage student participation, enthusiasm, and quality of the publication, we are sponsoring a cover contest. The deadline is Nov. 16. The winner will receive $50.00 and the prize-winning work will be featured on the cover of this year's Manuscript.

This contest is open to all Wilkes College students. All entries must contain the word Manuscript, with the exception of photography entries. Work submitted should be either black and white photography, graphic design, pen and ink charcoal, or pencil. Color is restricted to the use of two colors beyond the basic black and white.

We are hoping that this year's Manuscript will be something we can all enjoy and be proud of. All entries may be left in the English Dept. office, second floor of Kirby Hall.

Those having questions are urged to contact Barbara Metroka at 287-1955.

WCLH-FM was awarded the First Professional News Media Association Broadcasting Award for excellence in the areas of news, sports, and public affairs programming. The station was in competition with other college stations in a twelve county region of Northeastern and Central Pennsylvania. This was the first time the competition was conducted.

NOTICE

All those interested in going out for the Swim team are asked to attend a preliminary meeting this Tuesday at 11 a.m. on the first floor of Weckesser Annex.

"The main function of the Womens Activities Association is to organize the cheerleaders, strutters and majorettes into a cohesive unit," according to Lisa Masteroni, president of the WAA and head of the cheerleaders. "Our advisor is Mrs. Saracino, director of womens athletics and she helps the organization and keeps us closely knit," she added. The WAA has a board of council consisting of the captains from all the squads in the three groups. This board works together to keep the activities of the three groups complimentary to each other.

The major problem of the WAA seems to be raising money for transportation to the away games. Lisa says that everyone asks her why the girls don't go to some of the away games. However, no one wants to help the girls raise the money for the buses. "We just don't get enough money," says Lisa, "In fact we won't be able to go to the Juniata game because we don't have enough money."

These money problems go beyond bus transportation. The groups have held fund raisers during the summer in an effort to solve these problems. The majorettes and strutters held several fund raisers so they could buy new uniforms to replace the old hand-me-downs. However, the girls did not raise enough money to cover the costs. Gerry Knopic, head strutter and Donna Grontkowski, head majorette said that the girls had to contribute their own money to help pay for the uniforms.

Lisa says that the cheerleaders have had no real problems. Their only notable problem is getting enough girls to fill the ten positions. "We just can't seem to get enough girls," she states. The cheerleaders are working very closely with the other two groups and they will do some routines with them during Homecoming.

According to Gerry, the only major problem the strutters have, aside from money, is lack of time. "The girls have trouble finding enough time to practice. We have to contend with classes and tests," she says. "Once or twice a week is not enough, and we usually have trouble scheduling other practices during the week."

The majorettes don't seem to have any major problems outside of money. "The girls get along well with each other and we practice about every other day," says Donna. "We do have a minor problem with our music," she adds. "We didn't know who was going to be the new band director, so we haven't been able to get our music as of yet." Once the music comes in, Donna is confident the routines will work out perfectly.

Despite the problems that the groups have they all seem to enjoy what they're doing. The girls also agree that the WAA is a great help to their cohesiveness during the games. As Gerry puts it, "The WAA is the foundation of our three groups. It really helps us out."

Wilkes Downs Misericordia

The Wilkes Volleyball Colonelettes came back strong last week to defeat Misericordia at home on September 30 with the scores of 15-5, 13-15, 15-1, 9-15 and 15-4.

The high scorers for the game were Cathy Dudick with nineteen points, Mary Kay Price with seventeen points, Karen Burkley with nine points and Debbie Salak with eight points.

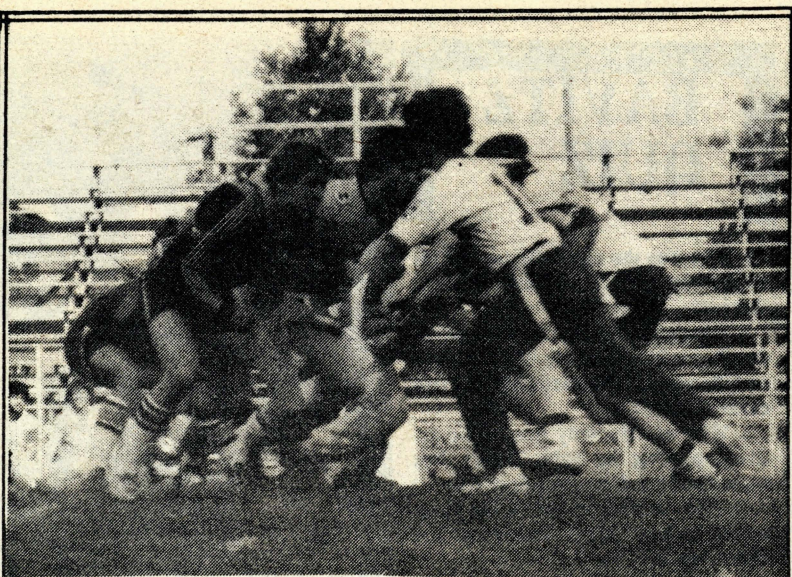

On September 24 the ladies traveled to meet Baptist Bible and were defeated by the scores of 11-15, 7-15, and 10-15. The high point players for the game were Mary Kay Price with seven points, Karen Burkley with five points and Cathy Dudick and Jody Johnson with four points a piece.

The Colonelettes hosted rival King's College on September 26 at the Wilkes Gym. King's shut out Wilkes with the scores of the sets: 6-15, 15-12, 13-15 and 8-15. Cathy Dudick was high scorer for Wilkes with twelve points. Other high scorers were Sara Burkley with eleven points and Mary Kay Price with seven points.

On September 28 the Colonelettes faced Moravian College and were defeated.

The next home game is slated for October 23 against Dickinson, the time is 6:30. Come out and support the Wilkes Colonettes.

Colonel Spirit Flowing!

The power of the press! It works!

After last week's mention in the BEACON that we needed some spirit on the Wilkes campus, some things have happened that look like somebody out there has listened.

First of all, the cheerleaders, majorettes, and strutters decorated the football locker-room before last week's 20-3 upset win over Upsala College at home. Many of the players expressed a feeling of thanks to the girls and many felt the decorations helped get them up for the game.

During the game, the Wilkes cross country team paraded in front of the home stands after their victories over Albright College and Philadelphia Textile, and were greeted with a great ovation from the crowd. When was the last time that ever happened?

And the soccer team, although it lost a 4-3 heart-breaker in over-time to Lycoming on Saturday, had a great and loud crowd on hand and played their hearts out with spirit. And who can forget the women's tennis team, which had to clean off its own courts before they could play. The ladies also had a great crowd on hand, despite losing to Misericordia.

We got word this week from WCLH FM that the station wants to get spirit flowing through the school and they are interested in getting a KGB-type bird or something to go to the sporting events and be a cheering force. Les Nicholas, otherwise known as "Slick Nick" on the airwaves, is the brains behind this theory and he hopes the station can get someone to be this mascot.

Anyone interested in being the KGB bird or help with inventing an outfit for the bird, is asked to contact Slick Nick at the station.

Ladies Home Today: Face Tough Bloom Team

On Saturday September 29th the womens tennis team played their first home match. The team was again defeated Misericordia team took the Colonelettes 5-1.

Although the ladies have been unsuccessful thus far in obtaining a team victory, the individual players have been successful in taking individual games and sets.

In number one and two singles, Misericordia emerged victorious, but Judy Bellas and Rose McMahon were both successful in taking individual games, 6-0, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4, respectively. Beth Groarke and Beth Keyworth were also vanquished, but kept their opponents from gaining an overall advantage, by incurring a substantial amount of points, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4, respectively.

Cindy Yagloski captured the first match of the season. She was up against an opponent whose skills were equal to that of her own, and thus when she applied strategy as well as skill she emerged victorious. Cindy took her opponent 6-4, 6-1.

The Lady Colonels also lost to Misericordia in doubles. Peg Mascelli and Ann Pastorella combined their skills against those of Misericordia and were defeated 6-2, 6-0.

Lew Partridge is still pleased with the performance of his team. He feels their losing streak is due to a lack of experience rather than a lack of skill. The young team members have the ability to play tennis well, but are not effectively applying their skills on the competitive level. Nevertheless, Lew is optimistic for future tournaments. He believes the "younger girls will learn to incorporate strategy as well as skill into their game as the season progresses, and hopefully become more emulous players."

The blue and gold fell to Upsala last Thursday. The Lady Vikings took the Colonelettes 7-0. In singles Judy Bellas, Rose McMahon, Beth Groarke and Cindy Yagloski were defeated by their opponents 6-1, 6-1.

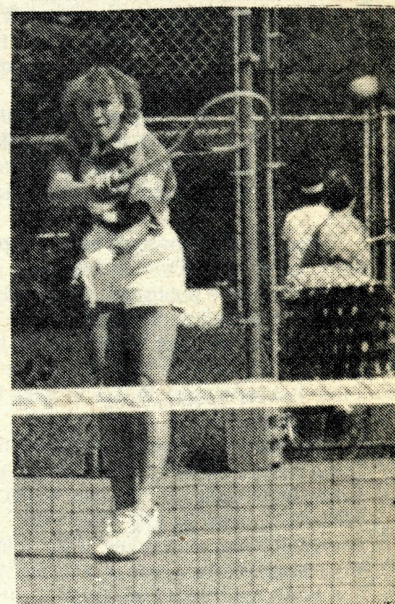

BASKETBALL - New Wilkes men's basketball coach Ron Righter is looking for a manager and some stat men for the 1979-80 season. Anyone interested is asked to call him at ext. 258 or 259, or stop by his office in the gym.

SPORTSWRITERS - Anyone interested in being a sportswriter for the BEACON, is asked to call this paper's office at extension 473.

6-0, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0, 6-0.

Beth Keyworth went three sets with her opponent. Although she lost 4-6, 6-4, 6-1, she played a tremendous game against a seemingly more experienced player, and truly provided a highlight in the competition.

The Lady Vikings also took the Colonelettes in doubles. Yagloski-Mascelli took two games in the first match and Pastorella-Rother managed one game in the second set.

The Lady Colonels held up well to the Lady Monarchs last Thursday in their match against Kings. Although the team lost as a whole the ladies again displayed great strength in taking individual games.

Judy Bellas played a tremendous game, going three sets with her opponent. Judy was able to stay close to her opponent and finished the match with a sudden death decision, in favor of Kings. The final scores of her match being 6-4, 5-7, 7-6.

Rose McMahon also managed to stay close to her opponent, she finished 6-3, 6-4 in favor of Kings. Beth Groarke, Cindy Yagloski and Jean Garner were also successful in taking individual games.

The doubles team of Beth Keyworth and Ann Pastorella and the team of Peg Mascelli and Lisa Warden were badly beaten by the Lady Monarchs. The teams finished the match at 6-1, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0.

The team will host a series of matches this week. On Tuesday October 2 the ladies will face the Scranton Royals, today they will meet the lady Huskies from Bloomsburg State, and this Saturday they will challenge the ladies from Baptist Bible. All matches will be played at the Ralston Courts.

I really did not think it would last. We went the first few weeks without any complaints and then within the last few days, our staff has had almost as many as Carter. Yes, the BEACON sports staff has come under fire. From almost everybody too!

The coaches don't like what we write, the players don't like it and neither do some of our "dedicated" readers. Well, that's too bad!

We are trying to do the best job we can and this year we are working with a large crop of first-year reporters, who do not have that much experience, if any.

Some of the teams have been complaining about the amount of coverage they are getting. This has happened every year the BEACON sports pages have ever been published. You really can't please everybody. The Wilkes sports information department, which gets the scores in the local papers, also has this problem. Some coaches in past years, have wanted their scores in The New York Times. Unreal! We're not UCLA, where the press begs at your feet for stories. Wilkes is lucky to get the coverage in the local papers that it gets.

And again, we are getting complaints from the women. This year, they say we are short-changing them, not giving them enough ink. Let's take a look at some facts. Last year, women's sports at Wilkes got more coverage in the BEACON, than in any other year. Did we get any thank-you's for the coverage? Are you kidding? I was told long ago and it's true, no one will ever say thank-you for a good article, but when you write something they don't approve of, you'll hear from them.

Then, there is the argument of whether or not a sport is more important than another. We feel there are some that rate more coverage than a few others. This is true in every newspaper in America. Most of us on the staff, hope to be reporters when we graduate. This is a stepping stone, we must learn from our experience on the BEACON.

We try to give all the sports coverage. Some get more than others and that's just the way it's going to be. Ten years from now, it will be the same way.

In closing, all we have to say is, if you don't like what we write in the BEACON's sports pages, don't read it!

We're Doing The Job!

Zumi Tallies Three, But Booters Lose

Would you believe it? The Wilkes soccer team lost its second overtime game of the season, this time losing to Lycoming 4-3 last Saturday. If you recall, the booters lost to Upsala 4-2 in overtime in the season opener.

The star of the game for Wilkes was Doung Chi Dung (Zumi). He scored all three of the home team's goals. If Zumi keeps on playing with the intensity and success he has been he will be a leading candidate for the post-season honors.

It looked as though Wilkes was going to run away with the game as they were staked with a 2-0 lead on Zumi's first two goals. Lycoming, however, did not lose their composure as they came back to tie the game at three at the end of regulation play. The Warriors might have won the game before overtime had it not been for several great saves by goalie Dave Reynolds.

The warriors scored the eventual winning goal late in the first overtime period on a miscue by the Wilkes team of Coach Ernesto Lopez. The squad still managed to show great spirit and did not give up until the horn sounded. Right near the end of the last overtime period, the team made one last desperation try. The offense penetrated through Lyco's defense to get within scoring range and a shot was fired which would have been a goal if not for a super save by the Lycoming goalie.

According to Coach Lopez, although the team did not come out victorious, they did play their finest game of the campaign. He felt that Lyco made many more mistakes than Wilkes, but the one mistake the Colonels made in the OT period, was the most crucial.

He added that the team's lack of experience showed during the game, especially when the mistake in the OT period was made.

The Wilkesmen also lost this past week at Muhlenberg 4-2, to drop their season slate to 0-4. This season is not lost yet however with ten games remaining. The team has been working very hard in practice, still displaying much enthusiasm despite their recent misfortunes. If the squad continues to show signs of improvement like they did against Lyco, they will give future opponents all they can handle.

The team was scheduled to host Baptist Bible yesterday and will travel to meet Moravian College this Saturday.

Harriers Come Back After Royals Loss

The Wilkes College cross-country team was handed its first loss of the season last Wednesday against a very tough Scranton team, 17-41. But the Colonel runners still managed to finish the week at 4-1 and raise their season record to 6-1.

In the Scranton meet, which was a triangular also involving Muhlenberg, the Colonels earned a split. Scranton dominated the meet by having the top three finishers. Mike Brennan of Scranton set th epace with a course record of 26:40. Teammates Jim Hagerty and Ken Vercammin finished in the next two positions at 26:53 and 26:54 respectively.

Ken Pascoe was the first Wilkes finisher with a fourth at 26:55. Then came two Muhlenberg runners Mike Clinton 27:00 and Ray Fritz 27:07. Other Wilkes finishers were Danny Thomas, Ed Eppler, Lour Mucciolo, Roger Davis, John Supinski, Vince D'Amato, Ed Cunningham and Don Patrick. The final of the Wilkes-Muhlenberg was 27:30 in favor of Wilkes.

On Saturday the Colonels had a much easier time by defeating Philadelphia Textile 21-34. This was the first time Wilkes defeated Textile. MAC-rival Albright was supposed to run also but never showed, so Wilkes won by forfeit.

Ken Pascoe continued his fantastic running by capturing a first with a time of 29:00. Following Pascoe were Danny Thomas at 29:26 and Ed Eppler at 29:39. Two Textile runners took fourth and fifth; Jimmy Miles, 29:48 and Greg Thomas, 30:14. The other Wilkes finishers were Roger Davis, 6th, John Supinski, 9th, Lou Mucciolo 10th, Ed Cunningham, Don Patrick, Ken Waters, Dave Krieger and Kevin Cavanaugh.

Wilkes was to take on Lebanon Valley yesterday at Kirby Park and then take on Moravian on Saturday.

LoPresto Gets 1,000th Gridders Upset Upsala 20-3; Meet Bloom Saturday on TV

Upsala's stat-man said it best - "What a defense!"

And you can take that to the bank. The Wilkes College football team scored its biggest win since a 7-0 victory over Albright two years ago, last Saturday downing favored Upsala 20-3 to help celebrate Parents' Day.

The big story was the defense, which gets over-shadowed a lot by the publicity given to the Wilkes offense. But the "Big D" controlled the show on Saturday, completely shutting off any offense the Vikings could muster. The Colonels held Upsala, (a 20-10 winner last year), to 39 yards passing and only 66 on the ground for a grand total offense of 105 yards.

In the first three games this season, the Colonels have given up only 16 points, including only ONE touchdown, which came in the Lycoming game a few weeks back. But, then again, this is not all that new to Wilkes grid followers.

For the past few seasons, Wilkes has always had a great defense, but it was the offense which failed for Coach Rollie Schmidt. This year, the offense seems to have gotten into gear led by quarterback Mike Wilson and running back Carmen LoPresto.

Wilkes had four interceptions against Upsala with Dave Korba and Bob Luby each getting the fourth of the year. Both rank among the nation's leaders in interceptions. Korba needs only TWO more to tie the Wilkes career record for career interceptions. Linebacker Mike Patrick also had an interception as did, are you ready for this Steve Croghan. Yeah, the big senior defensive end got an interception while laying on his back after Ed Mollahan and Jim Devaney batted a pass down.

There were many defensive stars on Saturday, from the first-stringers to the subs. All contributed to the cause but two stood out. Glenn Colvin, the junior linebacker, who is a strong bid for All-MAC, was in on almost every tackle, and if there wasn't a tackle he was in on, then big Rick Krawetz, a senior lineman, was there. Krawetz played probably his greatest game as a Colonel and had the press in the presbox buzzing about his quickness. One of the special guests in Saturday's biggest crowd of the year was Bob Waskiewicz from Maryland, who is president of the Krawetz fan club.

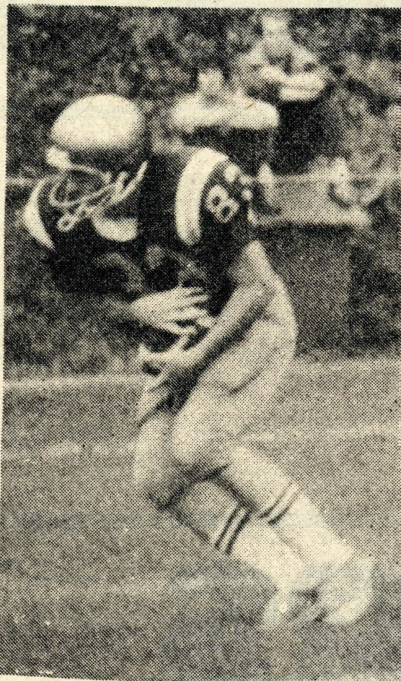

Senior Dave Korba told the BEACON that someone kiddingly told him the defense better get it's act together and stop giving up field goals. The field goal on Saturday was set up by a Wilkes interception and most of the scoring against the Wilkes "D" this year has come after a Colonel offensive miscue.

The Wilkesmen enjoyed their finest offensive outing of the year against the Vikings, racking up 286 yards of total offense. Wilson was the leading runner, gaining 82 yards and he set up two touchdowns - one with a 41-yard pass to Rob Irwin and the other with a 40-yard scramble deep into Viking territory.

Wilkes scored first in the game when with 4:49 left in the first quarter, Wilson hit Cliff Jones with a 26-yard scoring strike to cap a five play 38-yard drive. It was the first catch of the year for Jones, who led All Wilkes receivers in yardage last season.

LoPresto, who gained 57 yards on the day rushing and went over the 1,000 yard career mark, tallied the second score on a five-yard run at 7:47 of the second quarter. Tony Tavella, who missed his first point-after attempt, added a conversion to give Wilkes a 13-0 lead over the startled Vikings. Mike Largey booted a 27-yard field goal with a minute left in the half for Upsala's only score of the day. Wilkes' second tally came on a one-yard scoring plunge by Tom Cywinski, who came in to give Wilson a rest after the senior ran 40 yards to put Wilkes in position for the score.

This week, Wilkes will finally get a week off from MAC action, and meet non-conference and Division II Bloomsburg State College in Bloomsburg. The game, previously scheduled for 1:30 has been changed to 12:45 so it can be on television. You can watch the game on Channel 16, WNEP, or listen to WBRE Radio and Joe Gries.

GRID BITS:...Wilkes kept Upsala's John Hooper from getting his 100th career win with the victory...Pittston fans had a large banner supporting LoPresto, the "Pittston Piston"...creator of the banner was Wilkes baseballer Chick Andrewsavage...the cheerleaders, majorettes and strutters showed great spirit on Sat. and earned a 4.0...crowd was biggest of the year and with a win this week over Bloom, next Saturday's Homecoming game should draw a big turnout. Wilkes football follower Mark Sovyrda called Saturday's win one of the finest games he ever saw the Colonels play...look for the battling birds of Baltimore to take the world championship this year.

Field Hockey Ladies Battling: Upset Over Controversial Call

The Wilkes College field hockey team of Coach Gay Meyers just completed one of their toughest weeks in history. The week started off awesomely with a 9-0 shutout trouncing over Drew University in New Jersey. Senior co-captain Mary Jo Frail had the best game of her career with three goals and three assists. Mary Jo, the exciting one from Meyers High School, has led the team in assists the past few seasons. Her career totals after last week's action stood at 16 goals scored and a whopping 25 assists.

Wilkes totally dominated the Drew match and others to score were freshman Diane Hall with three goals and an assist; co-captain Jerry Ann Smith with a goal and three assists; Pam Snyder and Diane McGovern each notched goals and Carol Martin added an assist. Coach Meyers made some changes for the game and found it well worth it. The Colonelettes outshot Drew 30-4 as Wilkes substituted freely throughout the contest.

"I've seen Wilkes teams look good but Monday our attack had it together and we actually looked awesome," stated Meyers. "Everything just kept going right."

Wilkes then took on a very tough and physical Keystone Junior College team on Wednesday in a match that ended in a 1-1 tie. The Colonelettes did not execute well against Keystone and mistakes really hurt. The Blue and Gold outshot their opponents 16 to eight but did not get their shots off quick enough. Scoring for the ladies were Diane Hall with a goal and Jerry Ann Smith contributed an assist.

Playing outstanding defense on Wednesday for the lady Colonels were sophomore Helen Gorgas, freshman Nancy Cole, and freshman goalie Rose Shanahan, who is getting better with every game and could become an all-star before her career is over.

Offensively, Coach Meyers was high with praise for freshmen Michele Weiss and Diane Hall. "These two girls have been working very hard and it is paying off as both are having fine years for us and we expect a lot from them in the future," added Meyers.

"I knew the Keystone game would tell us several things. Our conditioning is not what it should be and we still need adjustments in our system to get the right people in the right spots to create a powerful attacking unit," stated the veteran mentor.

The Colonelettes then traveled to Division II Lafayette College and dropped a hard-fought, heart-breaking, controversial 3-2 decision. The Wilkes women had a goal called back that would have tied the game. Coach Meyers was unavailable for comment on the call, but observers felt Wilkes was robbed on the call. Co-captains Jerry Ann Smith and Mary Jo Frail each had a goal in that contest while Frail added an assist. The girls are now 1-1-2 and faced Del Val on Tuesday at home. Today, they host Bloom State at 4:00.
