RED CROSS BLOOD DONOR CAMPAIGN BEGINS ON CAMPUS

Twenty-Five Coeds Chosen to Compete In Annual Yearbook Beauty Contest

By CHUCK GLOMAN

Twenty-five Wilkes coeds have been selected as candidates for the 1950 Amnicola Beauty Contest by the Yearbook staff from nominations received last November.

Chosen were Mary Porter, Gwen Clifford, Ann Belle Perry, Isabel Ecker, Barbara Hartley, Jeanne Smith, Marion Weltman, Lois Ann Shaw, Marita Sheridan, Joan Likewise May Way, Helen Casey, Audrey Kohl, Nancy Raub, Irene Janoski, Elaine Turner, Ann Azat, Janet Gearhart, Marysh Mieszkowski, Connie Olshefski, Marge Brennish, Beverly Van Horn, Nan-Marianna Tomasetti.

One of the candidates is a member of the senior class, five are juniors, ten are sophomores, and nine are freshmen.

Photographs of the coeds will be sent to an outside judge, whose name has not yet been disclosed.

The candidates will be pictured in the 1950 Amnicola in a manner similar to that of the '49 issue. A full page photograph will be devoted to each of the five winners and the remaining twenty candidates will be pictured opposite these five.

Al Capp, famed creator of the comic strip "Li'l Abner", judged last year's contest. Although pleased with his task of choosing the five most beautiful coeds, he admitted the difficulty which it involved. He added that writing a comic strip is easy work compared to judging a beauty contest of such high calibre.

The Yearbook staff heard many complaints that last year's contest was not open for student participation. This year, in order to remedy the situation, the staff conducted a campaign in which nominations were sent to the Yearbook office, and candidates were selected from these nominations.

DR. FARLEY TO TALK AT ALUMNI BANQUET

By NANCY FOX

The Wilkes Alumni Association will honor its new members at a dinner on March 10 in the Wilkes College Cafeteria. William Boyd, general chairman of the affair, has announced that Dr. Farley will be the principal speaker of the evening. The entertainment will be provided by the Mud Gutter Society (Wilkes Barbershop Quartet).

During the dinner, new members will receive their membership cards. The remaining (this includes both Bucknell Junior College and Wilkes College graduates) will receive their cards through the mail. The Alumni Campaign for the support of the new Wilkes Gymnasium will close at this dinner. Requests for reservations will be mailed to all members. The dinner tickets for old members and guests will be $1.25. All January graduates will be admitted free.

Donald Honeywell, the newly elected president of the Alumni, cordially invited all members to attend the next meeting which will be held on February 27, Monday night at 7:30.

Student Leaders Aiming For 100% Enrollment In Wilkes Student Body

PLEDGE CARDS AVAILABLE

By IRENE JANOSKI

Tom Moran, Public Relations Director, has announced the opening of the Blood Donor Campaign on the Wilkes College Campus. The purpose of the campaign is to make an appeal to every student for his co-operation in the Regional Blood Program of the American Red Cross.

During the forthcoming weeks, Blood Donor Pledge Cards will be distributed to all the college students. Students will be requested to fill these cards out and return them to the following officers: Robert P. Starr, Junior Class Secretary; Gerry Fell, Freshman Treasurer; Jean Ryan, Senior Class Treasurer; Merritt Wagner, Freshman Class Vice-President; Leo Lesnick, President of the Freshman Class; Howard "Skinny" Ennis, President of the Sophomore Class; Marilyn Broadt, President of Theta Delta Rho and Richard Scripp, representative of the Letterman's Club, and Vince Macri, Beacon editor.

Potential donors will be informed of their appointments ten days in advance. All donors will be interviewed by the professional staff and no one will be allowed to give blood if the doctor decides that there might be some harmful after-effects. All facilities to add to the comfort of the students will be provided. Contrary to general belief of those who have never donated any blood, there is no pain involved in the donating procedure. Also, it will not reduce a person's resistance more than would an afternoon of strenuous exercise. A normal, healthy person as a rule does NOT experience any ill effects from donating a pint of blood. Donations may be made once a year and not more than five times during the year.

The collection of blood is a tremendous undertaking. It will cost the National Red Cross millions of dollars and it will be approximately 5 years before the program will reach into all parts of the country. The blood will be collected in regional centers which are located in urban areas and are equipped to service outlying communities through mobile units, referred to as Bloodmobiles. Sometime in February a Center will be opened in Wilkes-Barre. Both the Centers and Bloodmobiles will be provided with technical equipment and staffed with competent doctors, nurses, and technicians especially trained for this type of work.

The Regional Blood Program will relieve families of the responsibility of looking for donors when their relatives are in need of a transfusion. Weekly supplies will be delivered to both civilian and veterans' hospitals.

The ultimate goal, when the program is in complete operation, will be to supply whole blood and blood derivatives to all physicians and hospitals in Northeastern Pennsylvania without any cost to the recipient for the product.

Every human being realizes that the quality of mercy is as old as the human heart. What greater gift can anyone give than a pint of blood to one who is suffering?

Social Worker To Be Speaker At Assembly

Ruth Gage Colby, social worker and world traveler, will address the Wilkes College assembly program next Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in the Baptist Church. Her topic will be: "What Does Russia Want?"

Mrs. Colby has been active in welfare work for the past 20 years and has traveled throughout Europe and the Near East observing and studying the problems of refugee peoples.

Mrs. Colby has worked with the war-orphaned children around the world. Closely cooperating with the organizations who are endeavoring to erase the evils of poverty, disease and ignorance in the Near East, with the U. N., Red Cross and other groups which are trying to help the homeless and lost children of the world, she speaks from Weekly Sport Dances In The Caf? Why Not?

COME TONIGHT AND FIND OUT FOR YOURSELF

A new and novel idea in sport dances will be inaugurated this evening at 9 when the Student Council will sponsor a sport dance on the second floor of the cafeteria. There will be no admission fee and music will be from platters and tape.

The affair is an experiment and future weekly sport dances will depend upon its success.

Danny Sherman, president pro-temp of the council has appointed Virginia Meissner chairman. She will be assisted by Vester Vercoe, Al Jacobs and Tom Robbins.

a background of long experience and first-hand information.

She was accredited by the State Department to the United Nations Conference at San Francisco, Lake Success and Paris as a non-governmental representative in social welfare and the peace movement.

40 HS Students To Be Guests Of Sorority At Tea

By MIRIAM LONG

A Washington's Birthday Tea will be given by the Theta Delta Rho Sorority in the girls' lounge in Chase Hall on Thursday, February 23 from 3 till 5 P. M. Guests of the sorority will include two students from each of twenty local high schools.

The program will include several musical selections and a guest speaker. Afterward a tour of the campus will be conducted for the guests by members of the sorority.

Nancy Yauffman will act as general chairman. She will be assisted by the following committees:

House: Dorothy Travis, chairman, Claire Nesatil, Ann Treslan, Dolores Wachowski, Ruth Trethaway, Ann Azak, Joanne Brook, Isabella Sullivan and Nancy Lewis, Invitations: Sally Mittleman, chairman, Beverly H. Van Horn, Sara Shultz, Dolores Grobka, Beverly Parry and Rita Martin.

Guides: Beryl Colwell, chairman, Elva Fuller, Doris Gaugher, Diana Llewellyn, Cathy Smith and Connie Smith.

Refreshments: Beth Badman, chairman, Nancy Boston, Irene Makowski, Doris Banks, Marion Weltman, Jean Wasilewski, Dolores Passeri.

Program: Janet Burgess, chairman, Barbara Keatley, Fran Trembath and Char Davis.

Clean-up: Nancy Shackels, chairman, Mary Campos, Ann Delaney, Mary Lou Gagliardi, Florence Kistler, Edna Sabol and Emily Smetana.

Hostesses: Marilyn Broadt, chairman, Virginia Meissner, Jo Anne Davis, Nancy Yauffman, Mary Porter and Peggy Anthony.

A Saint Patrick's Day Tea will be held on March 17 at which time students from the remaining eighteen high schools will be guests.

BEACON Cabaret Party Expected To Attain New High In Wilkes Entertainment World

By CHET MOLLEY

The third annual Beacon Cabaret Party will be held in the Victory Room of the Hotel Redington on Friday, March 3rd. Music for the evening will be supplied by Joe Bednarik's trio, which has achieved fame throughout the valley for its terrific renditions of popular music. This trio is not to be confused with Mr. Bednarik's orchestra which has attained popularity in the field of palpitating Polkas. The 'combo' gives strictly with the popular stuff, and is undoubtedly one of the best of its kind in the surrounding area. Most people who have had the pleasure of listening and dancing to this group's arrangements have been unanimous in their praise of it.

Tickets will sell for fifty cents each, and there will be no reservations. The best seats will be given on a first come—first served basis. This plan has been introduced to eliminate all possibilities of feudin' and fussin'. At the past Cabaret Parties, the practice of reserving tables caused much confusion and dissatisfaction.

There will be a one hour floor show, the contents of which have not been revealed. Looking upon past Cabaret Parties as a criterion, those who were lucky enough to get tickets for those affairs will certainly know what to expect in the way of wonderful entertainment. Those who have missed the past performances certainly have not lived, and it is advised that they procure their tickets at the first golden opportunity. Tickets are now in circulation and can be obtained from members of the Beacon staff and in the bookstore.

The Beacon Cabaret Parties of the past have always been high-spots upon the school's social calendar. From present indications, this party will achieve an even greater rating in the minds of those who are looking for an evening of good solid entertainment.

Job Placement Center Moves; Changes Hours

The Wilkes College Placement Center, under the direction of John Ohwalek, has moved its offices from the third floor of Chase to the first floor front of the Guidance Center Building.

Office hours are as follows:

Monday 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Tuesday 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Wednesday 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Thursday 9 A. M. to 11 A. M.
Friday by appointment only.

THE END OF AN ERA

Shown above is Millie Gittens and her car "Pepsi". Pepsi has had a long and interesting history since coming to Wilkes. This particular chapter will soon come to a close, however, since Millie has announced that she will soon sell the car.

For a complete story on Pepsi's activities at Wilkes, see page 2.

Millie's Willys Finally Leaves Campus; "Pepsi" Had Long and Colorful Career

Pepsi—is going to leave us. Who's Pepsi? Ask Millie. Who's Millie? You haven't been with us very long, have you? Okay, let's elucidate.

Way back yars and yars ago, in about or around 1945, Miss Mildred Gittens applied for and received a job from Miss Norma Sanguiliano, then Dean of Women of Bucknell Junior College. (Wilkes was at one time Bucknell Junior College, you know.) But Millie did not get the job all by herself. She had "pull". The pull came under the term of Pepsi—, a cute little thing, a 1937 four-cylinder souped-up, jet job, super-sonic Willys Coupe—with the horn and a door in the trunk. Ah, it was a sight to behold! Millie couldn't get the job without a car, and Pepsi—turned out to be a ——— car?

Miss Gittens would have purchased the Willys anyway. She was downright hair-tearing angry. Some taxi drivers decided to go on strike, leaving Millie in a cloud of carbon monoxide. So she decided to buy a car. She bought Pepsi—instead.

Upon Pepsi's arrival, Miss Gittens decided it was high time she learned to drive. Two weeks later, she got her driver's license. A week after that a mail truck decided to deliver the mail to Millie's car. You know the old saying "the mail must go through". Well, the truck went through Pepsi's trunk to deliver the stuff.

In 1947, Pepsi— was used to transport baked goods from a No. Main Street bakery to the cafeteria. In the same year and part of the next it was used to haul Beacons from the printer to the campus. In 1948 Pepsi— was used to haul football equipment to Kirby Park every day for football practice. It was used for many other things, but Miss Gittens would not enumerate all of them.

The longest voyage, flight, or trip (take your choice) made by Pepsi since Miss Gittens adopted it was to New York and back. Miss Gittens stated that Pepsi— consumed three gallons of gas and no oil for the trip. She added that the trip was made before inflation set in, consequently New York was not as far from Wilkes-Barre as it is now. The addition was made just for those unbelievers who do not think that Pepsi— can go 75 miles on a gallon of gas.

That's practically the whole story. The plans for Pepsi— are indefinite save for the fact that its place will soon be taken by a cad, a cold-hearted 1939 Plymouth. Millie plans to call the new car—Cola. And the title of this story might be Pepsi—Cola.

Forty-Three Wilkes Students Teaching In Local High Schools

By ROMAYNE GROMELSKI

Forty-three Wilkes College students are doing their student teaching this semester at Coughlin, Meyers, GAR, Forty Fort, Kingston, and Plymouth high schools. This group holds the record for being the largest since the practice teaching program began in the spring of 1948.

According to statistics from Mr. John Hall of the Wilkes College groups have been consistently larger for the spring semesters than for the fall semesters. For this reason, it has been difficult to place student teachers in the spring, and all students cannot be sure of having the opportunity to teach the subject in which he has majored.

Including this semester's group, Wilkes has sent out a total of 177 student teachers to the local high schools to fulfill their student teaching requirement. Each potential teacher must satisfactorily complete a minimum of 90 clock hours of practice teaching to qualify for a teacher's certificate. During the first week, the student teacher observes while a trained teacher conducts the class. Afterwards, the student does the actual teaching under the supervision of the expert and supplements his practical experience with further observation.

To qualify for practice teaching, a student must maintain at least a "C" average during his freshman and sophomore years, have good health, character, and personality, and be able to speak and write acceptable English.

The following students are teaching the listed subjects below:

Coughlin High School—
Mathematics: Richard Todd, History; John Persico, Joseph Gabriel, Harris Havard, Edward Godek, Spanish; Dolores Passeri, English; John Florkiewicz, Victor Minetala, General Science, Robert Gorgas.

Meyers High School—
Mathematics: John Jones, Leo Noll; History, Henry Black, John Fedastian; Spanish, Clarence McGhee; English, George Brody, Earl Jobs, Frank Darte, Sally Mittleman; German, Simon Faltz; Biology, Evan Sorber.

GAR Memorial High School—
Mathematics, Leon Gilbert, Henry Rydzewski; History, Louis Miller, Thomas Jordan; English, Ross Leonardi, Edward Johnson, Lester Gross, Samuel Elias; Chemistry, Robert Obeid; Physics, Jean Detoro.

Forty Fort—
English, Don Kemmerer, Dorothy Wintersteen; Social Studies, Steve Perialis; Biology, Doris Gauger.

Kingston—
English, John De Remer; Social Studies, Theodore Killian; Science, George Monigas, James Davis; Biology, Edward Yarish.

Plymouth—
English, Paul Thomas; Social Studies, Joseph Brislin; Biology, Carl Malisheski.

Students Appear In Voice Recital

A Voice Recital was held by the music students last evening in Gies Hall. The purposes of the recital were to help the students develop confidence when appearing before the public, and to give the public evidence of the work being done by the students.

Soloists included Paul Shiffer, Marvin Weisberger, Miriam Long, Carlie Thomas, Edward Brewster, Helen Casey, Hilda Hurst, Nancy Boston, William Cook and Helen Bitler Hawkins, newly appointed assistant voice instructor. These people are studying under Mr. Wilbur Isaacs, who also sang at the recital.

Marysh Mieszkowski and Dolores Cottrino, piano students, accompanied several selections.

DEBATERS COMPETING AT BARNARD COLLEGE

By CHUCK GLOMAN

Two teams from the Wilkes Debating Society, under the student direction of Tom Morgan, will participate with twenty other debating teams in the second annual Barnard College Debate Tournament at New York tomorrow. The topic is "Resolved: That Communist teachers should be barred from United States colleges and universities."

Each Wilkes team, the first consisting of Ann Belle Perry and Julian Goldstein, and the second consisting of Fred Davis and Janet Gearhart, will debate four times on both the affirmative and negative side of the topic, Julian Goldstein is the only experienced debater of the four.

The tournament will begin with a general meeting at 9 in the morning and will continue through the day. Members of the Barnard Debate Council will not participate as debaters, but will serve as moderator, timekeepers and student judges. Barnard faculty members will also serve as judges, in addition to staff members of the Columbia Law Review.

A trophy will be presented to the winners at a general meeting late in the afternoon.

Among the debating teams taking part will be those of Princeton, Rutgers, Vassar, John Marshall College, University of Pennsylvania, Brooklyn, Hofstra, Columbia, New York University, and City College of New York.

M. C. A. T. Scheduled For May-November

Princeton, N. J., The Medical College Admission Test, required by a number of leading medical colleges throughout the country, will be given twice again during the current calendar year, according to Educational Testing Service which prepares and administers the test for the Association of American Medical Colleges.

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 13, 1950, or on Monday, November 6, 1950, at the administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges, through its Committee on Student Personal Practices, recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1951 take the May test. The results will be available to institutions in the early fall when many medical colleges begin the selection of their next freshman class.

The MCAT consists of tests of general scholastic ability, a test on understanding of modern society and an achievement test in science. According to ETS, no preparation other than a review of the science subject is necessary. All questions are of the objective type.

Application forms and a Bulletin of information, which gives details of registration and administration, as well as sample questions, are available from pre-medical advisers or directly from Educational Testing Service, Box 692, Princeton, N. J. Completed applications must reach the ETS office by April 29 and October 23, respectively, for the May 13 and November 6 administrations.

Student Government Vital To Colleges

Salem, ORE.—(I.P.)—"Student government is an integral aid in the business of administering a college," declared Rev. Robert H. Sweeney, vice president of the University of Portland, in a recent address before delegates to the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders assembled on the campus at Willamette University.

Every college needs dynamic student government he said, not to replace the administrative-professional staff, but to work them and develop leadership among the students. Rev. Sweeney said that "stodgy educators" are wary of the strong student government because they have the suspicion that student judgement is always going to be immature. He went on to say that the very best way to get immature judgement is to expect it. The obligation of the college, Rev. Sweeney explained is to produce not only good business men, professional men, teachers and technicians but "men and women who are imbued with enlightenment of leadership." He feels that "any administration not aimed at leadership should not be in the business."

American Colleges Now Accepting D. P.'s

The International Refugee Organization has recently announced the results of a survey dealing with the Displaced Persons who wished to attend American Colleges. The material was distributed by the World Student Service Fund which is represented by the I. R. C. on the Wilkes campus. This survey was an attempt to point up the need for additional aid for those Displaced Persons.

In 1949 one hundred American colleges and universities gave D. P. scholarships to 200 D. P. students. Assurances are now being secured for placement in September, 1950. It is hoped that many more D. P. students will secure an opportunity to begin a new life in a new land. Yale University recently announced the acceptance of five D. P. students and 6 will study at Vassar next year.

The urge to study, despite the lack of assurance of a country to live in or a professional status to enjoy, is keeping more than 2,000 Displaced Persons in Universities in Western Germany and Austria. More than 4,000 D. P.'s with a background of university training also wish to continue their studies in the country to which they will emigrate.

The lot of the D. P.'s studying in Germany has not been easy. Currency reform has limited the amount of help which their fellow-refugees could give them, and most D. P. students have tried to get along by saving on food, a practice which is certainly not practicable from a health viewpoint.

Despite the hardships, the D. P.'s have attained, as a group, higher marks than do their fellows. These results are even more outstanding when D. P. students are given a chance to study in Universities where they are really wanted and where their problems of eating and living are less acute.

The United States, under the Displaced Persons Act of 1948, authorizes the admission of students who have the assurance of a scholarship, as well as full living expenses for a year. The National Coordinating Council for D. P. Students, with World Student Service Fund as its operating agency, has acted as a two-way funnel for applications from D. P. students and Offers from University groups.

If any campus organization is interested in aiding one of these Displaced Persons it should address its inquiries to World Student Service Fund, 20 West 40th Street, New York City 18, N. Y.

Colonel's Corner

By ED TYBURSKI
(Beacon Sports Editor)

SWIMMING . . . After dropping a close meet to Scranton U., the Colonel tankers showed up at the Seminary pool and met a guy by the name of Mullen . . . Not satisfied with taking two firsts, Mullen also assisted the Sem-men in the relay race, helping to add 11 points for his school . . . It might be noteworthy that Wilkes didn't gain a first place in the meet . . . After the good build-up this column gave Jones, the Wilkes diver was only able to gain third place in the diving contest . . . Well, there's still four meets left, maybe we will have a chance to hit the button on him . . . Despite the 56-8 shellacking handed them by the Sem men, the Colonels proved that they have the makings of a team the previous afternoon by making the Scranton Mermen go all out to gain a win . . . This final score was 48-26 . . . If the Colonels can cop their next four meets, they'll still come out with a successful season . . . Here's wishing them luck!

WRESTLING . . . The Wilkes Wrestlers woke up mid-way in last week's bouts against West Chester to find themselves 10 points behind . . . Charlie Thomas started the Colonels on the come back trail by decisioning West Chester's Gene Miller 6-4 . . . Norm Cromack continued in winning form and decisioned Glen Miller 6-2 . . . George Dvorznik moved the Colonels to within one point of the future teachers by romping over Jack Birmingham 14-5 . . . The score at this time of the meet stood 10-9, against the Colonels . . . But Joe Stevens showed the form that has enabled him to remain undefeated by decisioning Bob Kibbler 4-1 . . . The Colonels took the lead for the first time but were unable to hold it . . . George McMahon dropped an 8-0 decision and Frank Radaszewski dropped a heart-breaker 5-4 . . . After gaining a two point advantage, Radaszewski suddenly found himself behind 4-2 . . . He quickly rallied and knotted the count at 4-4, only to see his opponent awarded one point by referee Frank Walp on a neutral . . . This match was a hard one to lose, and so was the entire meet . . . Captain Jim Reynolds tasted defeat for the first time this season when he was thrown by West Chester's Lynn DeVault . . . Joe Stevens is still undefeated . . . Tomorrow night the Colonels travel to Millersville where they will meet the test of the season . . . This should prove to be one of the toughest foes the Wilkes Wrestlers face this season . . . But the Colonels are up to it and should provide some stiff competition.

BASKETBALL . . . The Colonel Cagers ran into some bad luck last week-end . . . bad luck and a big center who ran wild in the closing minutes of the game . . . Gordon Evans, 6-ft. 5-in. center from Triple Cities, racked up 19 points in all . . . 7 of them came in the last three minutes . . . The Colonels had a three-point lead going into the last period, but they blew it . . . Out-scored in the last period, 16-10, the Colonels dropped what looked like a sure win, 57-54 . . . Mackin was high for the Colonels with 13 . . . Huff and Dragon both had 9 . . . Benson and Jackson were "off" again, scored 5 and 2 points respectively.

Wilkes Cagers Seek Revenge For Early Season Defeat Against Lycoming Five

By JOE GRIES

The Wilkes College basketball fans will get another chance to see the Colonel cagers in action at home tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in the local YMCA gym when they oppose the Lycoming College quintet. The J. V. game will start at 7 p. m.

This year Lycoming has one of the finest quintets ever to represent that institution. Loaded with veteran talent, the Lycoming team boasts a great deal about their offensive power. The bulk of their scoring is done by Graff, a forward and Brodmerkle, a guard. If the Colonels can hold these two boys in check they can pull another one of their famous upsets that has made them known as the unpredictable Colonels.

Again in last week's game against Triple Cities College the exceptional play of freshman John Mackin was evident. The ex-G.A.R. star was high scorer for the second straight game with 13 points.

Paul Huff, although short in stature, was a big man in the Colonels quest for victory. The mighty mite played an excellent defensive game, and again showed his ability with his long set shots.

Lycoming holds a win over the Colonels in a game played at Williamsport earlier in the season, and with this in mind the Colonels will be out for revenge. It should be a real thriller.

Coach Raston will probably start Bobby Benson and Charley Jackson at the forward posts, John Mackin at center and Ben Dragon and Paul Huff in the guard slots.

After the game with Lycoming the Colonel cagers will hit the road and play a return game with Stroudsburg State Teachers College on Saturday, February 25.

NEW LIBRARY POLICY IN EFFECT MONDAY

STUDENTS WILL USE FRONT DOOR ONLY

A new Library policy, beginning Monday, Feb. 20, will require all students to enter and leave the Library building by the front door only. In announcing the ruling, Mr. Joseph Myers, Librarian, stated that the rear doors of the Library will be reserved for emergency use only and will be closed to every day use.

The Librarian believes that unnecessary noise and confusion on the lower floor can be eliminated by requiring students to use only one entrance and exit. He feels that the Library Staff will also be in a better position to control the increasing flow of books being loaned and returned.

NOTICE!

There will be a meeting of the Education Club on Thursday, February 23, at 8 P. M., in Ashley Hall 101. All education students are invited to attend.

WILKES SWIMMERS

Pictured above is the 1950 Wilkes College swimming team. Now in its second year of existence, the team, to date, has been rather slow, but with four more matches coming up Coach Karambelas still has hopes of a fairly successful season.

Grapplers To Face Millersville S.T.C.

By PAUL BEERS

With a hope and a prayer, the grapplers of Wilkes College journey to Millersville to take on the wrestling champions of Pennsylvania Saturday night.

This is the Colonels' last meet, and the most important one. Millersville State College has a three year record of 21 victories out of 22 contests. Last season they were the champions of the state teachers as one of the wrestling powers in the East. If the Colonels can topple the big boys, the season will be a huge success. As it is, Jim Laggan's boys are now posting a mediocre 3-2 record.

Last year Millersville dropped in to see Wilkes and they swept every event of the contest, if it was a "contest". Things were so bad that the Colonels could tell you the warts of the globes up in the ceiling. This year Millersville has come up with an even more experienced team, if such a thing is possible. Coach Tom Rupp has so much talent that he selects his starting varsity by the "enie?menie-myne-moe" system. Last year he took on Wilkes and King's in one night, dividing up his squad, and he still knocked off both schools.

A number of boys on the Millersville team are from Wyoming Valley. There's Johnny Meys from

Meyers, a Middle Atlantic A. A. U. champion in the 136 division; Tucker Waters of Forty Fort, twice State heavyweight champion; Pete Yasenchak of Kingston, a star in the 145 class; Skeeter Kemp of Kingston, 128 pound P. I. A. A. champ; and Bob Herbert of Forty Fort, State Teachers College Champion in 165 division. Added to this home-grown talent is a number of other star grunners who have collected their share of laurels. It all adds up to a powerhouse.

Laggan's hope rests on the broad shoulders of Joe Stephens, the only undefeated member of the club, Rip Cromack, Rocky Reynolds, Mouse McMahon, Charley Thomas and Frank Radaszewski.

International StudyTour Alliance Offers Fellowships, Awards, Grants

The International Study Tour Alliance, a non-profit membership corporation for the development of educational travel abroad, recently announced its 1950 ESSAY CONTEST. Open to all students—without distinction of sex, age, nationality, creed or color—of accredited American institutions of college or university rank, the contest closes on March 31, 1950.

I. S. A. are convinced that tomorrow's leaders will, to a large extent, come from out of the ranks of today's students, many of them veterans of World War Two. They believe it also to be self-evident that the preparation for that leadership cannot be complete until the student has had an opportunity for going abroad for a sufficiently long time, and under such conditions, as to enable him to realize, understand and evaluate the differences in civilization, institutions and the traditional ways of life of the various peoples living together in this one world. As their contribution toward making such opportunities available to the largest possible number of serious and competent students of promise, I. S. A. have set up a number of study-tour fellowships, awards and grants to be adjudged to winners of a nationwide essay contest.

The theme of the essay must be of a nature that, for its full development, requires academic contacts, research possibilities, field work and/or study of source material that cannot be obtained and realized, respectively, except in Europe.

In all, seventeen prizes will be awarded. The first prizes are two full Study Tour Fellowships, worth $775.00 and consists of transportation from New York to Europe and back during the summer of '50 by I.S.A. chartered airplane flights, and accommodations and all meals during a stay not in excess of 50 days in Europe within the framework of one of the published I.S.A. Study Tours for the summer of 1950. Winners need not, however, follow any fixed Study Tour itinerary, and their stay of 50 days in Europe will be arranged in one, two or more localities, according to the nature of the study, research or field work to be followed by them.

The second prizes are five awards consisting of transportation from New York to Europe and back by chartered airplane.

The third prizes are grants in the amount of $100.00 each, to be used toward the cost of any I.S.A. StudyTour during the summer of 1950.

The jury judging the entries will be the Advisory Committee of I.S.A., composed of faculty members of colleges and universities in all sections of the nation. In awarding the prizes, the judges will be guided by the following considerations: 1. The SUBJECT MATTER should clearly indicate the necessity for the author to consult source material available only in Europe; and make contact with members of academic circles in Europe engaged in like studies. 2. The INTRINSIC MERITS OF THE ENTRY should establish the author's scholarly qualities, particularly that he has used to best advantage source material that has been accessible to him so far, and given the additional opportunities abroad offered by these prizes, he will achieve substantial and worthwhile results. 3. The QUALITY of sheets eight and one-eighth by ten and one-half. One copy only should be submitted. Since no entries can be returned the entrant should retain a carbon copy. Pages should be consecutively numbered and stapled together. The title page must show the title of the essay and a motto or pseudonym by which it can be identified. Entrant's name, together with his full address, should be written on a separate sheet of paper, placed inside an envelope, sealed and submitted with the entry, the motto or pseudonym again written on the outside of that envelope. Envelopes will be opened by the jury after judging only.

Address all communications to Professor Godfrey S. Delatour, Chairman, Advisory Committee, International StudyTour Alliance, Inc., 12 East 46th Street, New York 17, N. Y.

TIES OF STYLE will receive some limited consideration, especially the author's ability to communicate ideas clearly and effectively.

Entries must consist of two papers: the essay itself, containing not less than 2,000 and not more than 10,000 words, and a brief statement indicating the way in which the entrant, with the aid of the additional study and experience abroad, plans further to develop his theme; field work, research, source material and academic contacts desired abroad, and their location; any other supporting remarks. Quotations must be clearly indicated as such, with source specified; a complete bibliography of literature used should be provided. Both papers must be typewritten, double spaced, and one side only

Music Instructor Added To Faculty

HELEN BITLER HAWKINS TO TEACH ITALIAN DICTION

By DAVE WHITNEY

The appointment of Helen Bitler Hawkins as assistant in voice instrumentation at the Wilkes College School of Music was made February 6 by Donald Cobleigh, director.

The seventh member of the rapidly-expanding School of Music Mrs. Hawkins will be in charge of a class in Italian Diction and assist Mr. Wilbur Isaacs in the teaching of voice.

Mrs. Hawkins, who was formerly a pupil of Eunice Berry DeWitt, is now a contralto soloist at the First Presbyterian Church in Wilkes-Barre. She has appeared several times with the Oratorio Society and the Singers' Guild of Scranton as soloist.

The announcement of the appointment of Mrs. Hawkins as Assistant in Voice follows the adoption of a plan by the School of Music to offer instruction in diction for singers.

The new plan is to be on an experimental basis for the present, and will be offered to those students declared vocally prepared by the members in the School of Music.

Plans call for this new instruction in diction to be offered weekly seminar class—that is, a class of the discussion type. Recorded material will be made available, in addition to other materials as aids in instruction.

At the present time the preliminary two years of work leading to a bachelor's degree in music may be obtained at Wilkes College. Instruction is offered in voice, piano, wind instruments, violin, viola, and cello.
