Alcohol Meeting Seen 'Productive'

Last week's meeting between the alcohol committee and Dean George Ralston, where committee members discussed a proposed change in the current alcohol policy, was termed "very productive" by IDC President Gary Toczylowski.

"He couldn't really disagree with anything we stated," he said, adding that a meeting will be scheduled this week between the committee and all the deans to discuss the issue further and possibly to vote on this controversial matter.

In addition to the initial conditions set by the committee that would allow no more than one quarter per hall on any given night, a restriction of 15 persons to a party was included. Toczylowski ventured to say, however, that special consideration could probably be given in order to throw a dorm party for more than 15 people.

One other new point stated by the alcohol committee members was that all alcohol must stay in the room it is served, with the sponsor present.

The remaining points of this proposal include registering the party with the housing director 24 hours in advance and after approval has been given by the RA and fellow dorm members. The person who registers must be 21 and accept full responsibility for any misdeeds.

Also to be discussed at the meeting is the matter of dorm profits on parties. It is IDC's view that as long as tickets are reasonably priced and there are no major complaints, there should not be a profit limit.

Fighting, vandalism and stealing which occurred last Saturday night was attributed to the Molson Party in the SUB. Among the incidents which took place was a smashed window in Roosevelt Hall, a bulletin board glass case broken, the theft of a $70 pair of glasses, a coat and a $30 beer tap, not to mention incidents of student fighting. A "no questions asked" reward is being offered for the return of the tap.

Toczylowski estimated that this was the most damage ever done on one particular night at Wilkes. This raised the question of whether SUB parties do control the rowdiness of weekend partying. One IDC member commented that he thought that parties in the dorms would be better because "people will respect the place they live in and not cause damage."

A Field Day to be held the Saturday of Homecoming, Oct. 14, is being sponsored by the Homecoming Committee. Besides softball, the activities will include contests in frisbee throwing, egg tossing and kite flying. Prizes will be awarded, and the event will be held from 2-10 p.m. with a blue-grass band playing from 6 on. Food and beer will be served throughout the day.

The food committee reported that a steak dinner will not necessarily be on the menu each month. Instead, what was termed a "special" meal will be served.

Parents' Day Activities Set This Weekend

The 16th annual Parents' Day will be held this Saturday, Oct. 7. Special events have been planned as part of a program designed to involve parents in a weekend of campus activities.

A number of the College's athletic teams will be playing at home to coincide with the arrival of parents. The cross country team will host Moravian at 10:30 a.m., as will the soccer team.

Women's tennis team will entertain Baptist Bible at 11 a.m., while the football team will kick-off against Bloomsburg at 1:30 p.m. All games will be held in the Ralston Field-Kirby Park area.

Also scheduled for the morning is a slide presentation and discussion at 11 in the Schaeffer Lecture Hall.

A "post-game huddle" at the Sterling Inn Towne will follow the football game at 4 p.m., and the movie "Billy Jack" will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. in Stark Learning Center.

In addition to these formal activities, the entire campus will be open for visitation throughout the day.

SG Looks to Improve Social Calendar

Student Government's social committee is now in the process of taking strong action to organize the social structure and system on campus. At the SG meeting Monday night, the major discussion held concerned social activities in relation to last weekend's All-College Square dance which was a failure because it had to compete against Sterling Hall's SUB beer party.

Marla Brodsky, social committee chairman, complained that all activities being sponsored by non-SG organizations are not being filed through her committee. It is her job to set up a social calendar for the campus activities. This would ensure that there would be no conflict or competition between two events. As Brodsky explained, there is a "Definite lack of communication."

At present there are two, maybe three, "Gong Shows" planned for this year. This leads to another problem Brodsky faces; the CPA is scheduled straight through the year leaving very few dates available.

Tentative solutions are that all social activities will be directed towards Arthur Hoover, Asst. Dean of Student Affairs, and then channelled down to the social committee. This would keep competition down between social events and lead to better planning of activities.

Brodsky is also seeking new ideas in social activities from the student body because she feels that the students are tired of the usual type of activities.

In other SG business, Greg Black, SG vice-president who presided over the meeting for the absent Steve Kirshner, reported that David Bromberg with Friends will be the first concert of the year on Sunday, Nov. 12, in the gym.

Along with this news Black stated that the concert situation "isn't looking too healthy." He explained that the promoter SG has been conducting business with for the past two years "doesn't seem interested in supplying shows for us anymore."

SG will most likely have to buy concert acts on their own which adds the risk of losing money on a concert due to poor ticket sales. At present, there is a chance SG could line up a "Jesse Collin Young and Jesse Winchester" concert for early December. Black stated that SG could break even or lose up to $2,000. Some discussion against the chance of losing money was held but a vote of confidence was given to Black to further look into the concert.

Julie Kent, academic committee chairman, reported that the Teacher Recognition and Effectiveness Committee is interested in having SG process the some 80 classes that were evaluated last semester in the classroom.

String Quartet Here Oct. 13

The College Department of music will present the Audubon String Quartet in a program of chamber music by Franz Schubert, Friday, Oct. 13 at 8:30 p.m. in the Dorothy Dickson Darte Center for the Performing Arts.

This young, dynamic quartet rose to prominence on the world music scene by winning two international competitions in 1977. In France, it captured first prize for interpretation of contemporary music at the International String Quartet Competition. They then won first place at a competition in Rio de Janeiro, making them the first American string quartet to win two such awards. Among the many honors accorded the group was an invitation to perform at the White House. President Carter and Israel Prime Minister Begin.

Since its inception in 1974, the quartet has developed a reputation as one of the finest chamber music ensembles performing today. Its members have outstanding musical training and a rare gift for performing.

This concert will be the first of a series of four to be presented by the Audubon Quartet at Wilkes.

Music Clinic Slated Today

The Wilkes College Department of Music, in collaboration with the Premier Percussion division of Selmer, Inc., Elkhart, Indiana, will present a percussion clinic on October 5, 1978 from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

It was previously decided that SG would not do this because of the small percentage of evaluations gathered.

For this semester's evaluation, Kent reported that the letters have been written to the faculty concerning SG's intention of conducting the evaluation in the classroom. Two semesters ago the evaluation was conducted through the mail but yielded poor participation.

Kent also presented to the body two sample evaluation forms from the University of New Hampshire and Luzerne County Community College to consider and comment on. She is looking for ways to revise the evaluation form.

Ross Mantione is also looking into the possibility of an optical scanner to be used to read the data directly off the evaluation form and into the computer. At present, the computer club reads each form into the computer manually.

The advantages of the optical scanner were cited as saving many hours in labor to process the data and that it could be used by other departments. Costs and who will be responsible for the optical scanner were mentioned as disadvantages. Jim Edwards

Wilkes & King's To Present Play

Anton Chekhov's play "Three Sisters" will be the first production offered by both Wilkes and King's Colleges in the cooperative program for theater initiated by both institutions this year.

The production will be presented in the Dorothy Dickson Darte Center for the Performing Arts at 8 p.m. Oct. 20 and 21, and at 2 p.m. Oct. 22.

The play takes place in a Russian provincial town at the turn of the century. It involves three sisters: Olga, played by Susan Witherow, King's; Masha, played by Adele Tavella, Wilkes; Irina, played by Karen Shonk, King's; and a brother, Audrey, played by John Forte, Wilkes.

The plot tells of these three sisters and their search for happiness and fulfillment in their lives. The contrast of serious and comic moments enrich this play, which is regarded as one of the finest-written realistic plays of world theater.

The play will be directed by Dr. Carl Wagner, chairman of the King's theater department, with set designs by Klaus Holm of Wilkes.

During negotiations which took place last year concerning the dinner, there was an apparent misunderstanding. According to Housing Director Joe Marchetti, the steak dinner was used simply as an example of what a "special" meal meant. Roast beef and similar meals also fall into that category.

The parking committee is still having problems. It seems that the administration does not support the towing of illegally-parked vehicles, due to hassles with the city. However, the committee members are still pushing for this action.

As of last Monday, all students who receive fines will be required to pay them. All previous offenders have been left off the hook. Also, persons who lend their parking permits will be fined $50. Finally, it was reported that student teachers who need night parking permits should see Ed Johnson, whose office is in Butler Hall.

EXPONENTIAL, MY DEAR WATSON

If you have at least two years of graduate or undergraduate education ahead, and you keep getting clues that your money is running short, then a two-year Air Force ROTC scholarship may be the solution.

Currently we're seeking young men and women who would like to serve their nation as Air Force Officers. Consequently, if you're majoring in a selected technical/non-technical scientific, nursing, or pre-medical field, or can qualify for pilot, navigator, or missile training, then you may be eligible for a two-year Air Force ROTC scholarship. The scholarship pays your tuition, lab fees, (plus incidental fees), books, and $100 per month tax free. And even if you don't qualify for the two-year scholarship, you still receive the $100 a month while enrolled in the Air Force ROTC two-year program.

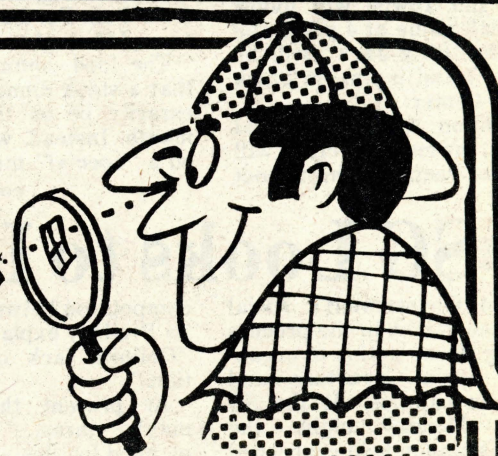

What do we ask in return? That you serve America at least four years as an Air Force officer. Your Air Force ROTC counselor has the details and qualification requirements. Check it out. It might even make your education finances seem elementary.

12 Parking Spaces Granted

Commuter Council president Stella Korpusik said that the people have been chosen who will receive the 12 "new" on campus parking stickers. A list of these people will be posted on the Commons bulletin board.

The council agreed that a listing of shows should be posted along with signs advertising the New York bus trip. The trip is scheduled for Oct. 28.

Pres. Korpusik passed out signs advertising the Wine and Cheese (and beer) party which will be held Friday, Oct. 6, in the SUB. Council members were urged to post the signs and to pass the word.

The council was informed that the price of yogurt is higher in the Commons than it is in the stores because the Commons does not buy large quantities that the stores do. Therefore, the price of the yogurt will remain high.

Also under Commons business, Bill Lewis reported that there have been requests for the return of the "orange drink" in the Commons.

The "shorting out" which had been occurring in the Commons' juke box was apparently caused by a dirty coin slot. The problem has been resolved.

The Halloween Costume party which is scheduled for Oct. 21 was discussed. It was reported that there is a possibility that the Commons will be used as the site for the party. In any case the council plans to decorate the Commons for Halloween.

The council is urging freshmen commuters to "get involved" with CC. They are planning publicity to draw the freshmen into the council.

Also, the CC gift to the Homecoming Queen was discussed; council members were urged to submit slogans for the Homecoming display, and Parents' Day assistance was planned.

Activities Set for Crafts Day

Crafts Day activities will take place on the Kirby Hall Lawn, corner of South and South River Sts., Sunday, Oct. 8 from noon until 5 or 6 p.m.

The event is sponsored by IDC, CC and the College Theater Department.

IDC President Gary Toczylo-ski has informed King's College of the event and hopes that those students will also participate. Wilkes-Barre Chamber of Commerce has also been contacted in order to obtain a list of the people who exhibited works at the Farmers' Market.

Crafts Day is for everyone and is a time to obtain information as well as enjoy the exhibits. The day will be a mixture of arts, crafts, hobbies and displays, with a dash of informational services thrown in.

The day's activities will include: a plant display from Flower World, macramé and pottery, paintings for sale, macramé lampshades, funnel cakes, cotton candy, a Stereo House display, Country Ski Shop display, camping display from Uncle Eyeballs, clowns, Greek food, Arabic pastry shop, apple cider, clown make-up booth and the Wilkes Jazz Band.

Toczylo-ski sees the College and community interwoven in this effort, with each an asset to the other.

English and Languages Combine Departments

This year the Department of English and the Department of Foreign languages were combined.

Dr. Thomas Kaska, previously chairman of the English Department, will now serve as chairman for the Department of English and Foreign Languages. He noted that there is a proposal underway to change the name of the department to the Department of Language and Literature.

With the resignation of Dr. Heather Arden (former chairman of the Dept. of Foreign Languages) this past spring, a new problem arose as to the appointment of a new department chairman. Kaska explained that because of the decline of students majoring in, for instance, French, an instructor in French could not be appointed as chairman of the Foreign Language Department simply because there are not enough students to go around.

Kaska feels that from a managerial viewpoint "it is in the best interest of the college to combine the departments." The Chairman added, "It is not unprecedented, by any means, to combine the departments."

Newly appointed faculty members for the Department of English and Foreign Languages include: Dr. Donald Leslie Jr., University of Oregon, Ph.D., Comparative Literature (French and English); Dr. Christopher F. Fox, SUNY at Binghamton, Ph.D., English (student of the 18th century); Dr. Olivia Ayres, Lehigh University, Ph.D., English.

Cancer Society Selling Candy

Halloween will soon be here—a time when most children will enjoy donning costumes and trick or treating. However, there are those less fortunate children who may never know the enjoyment of Halloween. These children are stricken with cancer.

This year the Luzerne County Unit of the American Society is reaching out to help those children by selling lollipops to raise money for research.

Two different types will be sold: large Cat Face Pops (24 for $2) and Helms Happy Face (60 for $2). Packages of candy corn (12 for $1) are also on sale.

Orders may be placed by writing to the American Cancer Society, Halloween Lollipop Sale, 71 N. Franklin St., Wilkes-Barre, Pa. 18701. Additional information may be obtained by calling the office at 825-7763. A check or money order must be enclosed with every order. Orders should be placed by Oct. 13 and can be picked up at the local office after Oct. 16.

in our opinion... King for a Weekend?

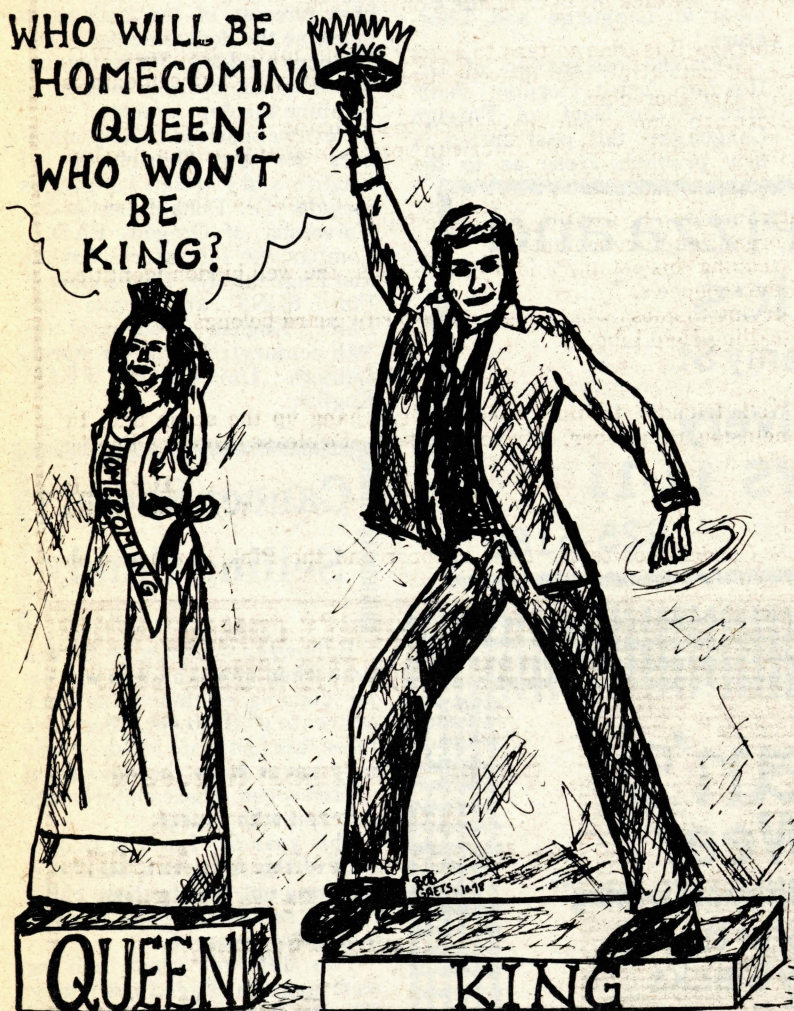

TODAY STUDENTS WILL VOTE FOR THE HOMECOMING QUEEN WHO WILL REIGN OVER THE ACTIVITIES NEXT WEEKEND. BEING VOTED QUEEN OR PRINCESS IS A GREAT HONOR AND THE WINNERS RECEIVE MUCH ATTENTION. SIMPLY BEING NOMINATED WOULD BE A THRILL FOR MOST SENIOR GIRLS.

THIS YEAR'S 11 NOMINEES ARE ALL DESERVING CONTESTANTS. THEY ARE EXCEPTIONAL PEOPLE WHO, LIKE ALL OTHER NOMINEES OF YEARS GONE BY, STANDOUT IN SCHOOL SPIRIT, LEADERSHIP, CHARM, AND BEAUTY. IT IS NO WONDER MORE PEOPLE VOTE FOR HOMECOMING QUEEN THAN ANY OTHER ELECTION ON CAMPUS.

BUT THIS HONOR AND ATTENTION CAN NOT BE BESTOWED UPON ANY MALE WILKES SENIOR BECAUSE WE HAVE NO HOMECOMING KING.

IN A TIME OF CHANGING VIEW POINTS AND EQUALITY OF THE SEXES WE FEEL A HOMECOMING KING AND "PRINCES" SHOULD BE ELECTED. IT IS AN HONOR THAT DESERVING MALES CAN SHARE WITH THE HOMECOMING COURT AND WOULD BE A PRACTICAL AND FITTING WAY TO PROVIDE EACH GIRL WITH AN ESCORT FOR THE CEREMONY.

WE FEEL THAT SINCE A NUMBER OF BALLOTS WERE CAST LAST WEEK FOR CERTAIN MALES [THE NOMINATION BALLOT STATED TO VOTE FOR "COEDS"] WILKES COLLEGE WANTS AND IS READY FOR A HOMECOMING KING.

SG Social Comm. Chairman Speaks on Social Scheduling

To the Editor:

To all students:

The party policy has presented a problem in organizing social functions, because of the limited space to hold parties, and because of the need for non-alcohol events. Alcohol related events must be altered, and non-alcoholic events must increase. It is amazing how the majority of Wilkes students are like magnets pulled to parties over other events. This has been proven by a couple of examples; 1) Last years Halloween party in the gym was not a smashing success. 2) Last weeks Square Dance was lacking people, because of a party. Everyone must realize that the alcohol law is enforced and we must abide by it. This is not to say, parties should be cancelled. The point I am trying to make is this; one can still have fun without being loaded. I have been confronted by people who have asked for events that we unfortunately are not capable of providing. We don't have the funding or the availability of holding events like that of Federally funded schools. Believe it or not, those who plan activities do the best job possible. Instead of complaining, all meetings are open to every student to voice their opinion. IDC, CC, and the Social

Poor Social Scheduling Criticised

To the Editor:

As a member of the Executive Council of the Sophomore class I feel compelled to speak out against the policy or lack of policy for the scheduling of social events.

On Saturday, September 30, 1978 the Sophomore Class sponsored an all-campus Square Dance at the expense of $240.00. This event was attended by a grand total of fifty people. I feel the poor attendance for this event was due directly to the fact that a party was sponsored for the same evening.

I do not deny the dorms, clubs or other classes the right to have a party but I do feel that the scheduling of these parties could have been done more effectively. The Square Dance had been on the social calendar since April and another event should not have been slotted for the same night. Permission for the party should have been given for Friday night or not at all.

The Sophomore Class was not looking to make a profit on this event and we were sadly disappointed that the time and efforts of many people were wasted.

In the future I hope that permission for parties will not be granted for the same night as other social events. It is time that the scheduling policy be amended so that everyone who wishes may attend any and all social events.

Letters to the Editor are welcomed from all interested people. Letters should be typed or written neatly and must be submitted by Monday each week. A box has been placed in the library for this purpose, and letters may also be taken to The Beacon office, Parrish Hall, room 27.

All letters MUST be signed IN INK, but names will be withheld upon request. Editorial discretion will be used in all cases.

Committee of Student Government are trying very hard to provide activities that all students will appreciate and enjoy. Without the cooperation of the student body, nothing positive can be accomplished. Because Wilkes is a small school, the students have a unique opportunity to run a good part of the school. We should take advantage of this good fortune. This is your school, and to prove we are worth something, as a whole, we all have to help. Not only do the Deans, Housing Office, and place of function need to be notified of an upcoming event, but most importantly the Social Committee must be notified if every event is expected to be successful.

Thank you,

MANUSCRIPT REVIEW

How about writing a review of the Bob Dylan concert recently held at the Broome County Arena in Binghamton, N.Y.? Sounds easy enough. The concert was held Sept. 24 at 8 p.m., and all seating was reserved with tickets selling for $10, $8.50 and $7. Beyond these little bits of trivia, I found it very difficult to objectively review Dylan's performance on that particular Sunday night. I kept trying to formulate in my mind how to construct an article on one of the most explosive and formative artists to emerge from the late sixties. Does the Robert Zimmerman of 1978 still have the same relevance and importance to our lives, as well as our society, as the man who adopted the first name of the poet, Dylan Thomas? Can Bob Dylan still produce the same quality of material that made him one of our idols?

I cannot critically discuss Dylan's musical statements in context with what he used to be. Face it, no one can dismiss any recent endeavor of a particular artist in relation to what he/she was ten years ago. To make that kind of judgment is unfair both to the artist and to yourself. The youth movement is not nearly as useful, or as involved with what is going on in the world as the movement was in the late sixties; the Vietnam War is over, and to put it bluntly and untastefully, "Time has moved on." My question is how has Dylan changed with the movement of time. Is Dylan's new album Street Legal, and his recent tour both sell-outs to commercialism, or is Dylan making a serious and convincing look at American society.

Dylan and the band are only memories, and now it is Bob Dylan supported by 11 other members. Of course, the musical style is going to be different. But are his musical statements as relevant to my life today as his statements were for me yesterday? I believe that Dylan has not sold out. He has merely changed with the times to be able to make statements about the current state of affairs in America. You cannot write a Shakespearean sonnet today and expect it to have the same importance as when Shakespeare was writing; it has been done before.

If Dylan's musical statements of today remained the same as the Dylan statements of the sixties, he would be nothing more than a ritual. In this sense, Dylan could be compared to a bureaucrat who plays it safe but never rises in the bureaucracy. If Dylan tenaciously held on to what he was in the sixties, he never would have advanced to become the legend that I consider him to be. Dylan is experimenting with a new musical style, but his musical statements are as important to our society today as his statements were in the sixties. Dylan must be considered in 1978 conditions, to view him otherwise is to refute your own aging, as well as Dylan's and society's advancement with time. A person can change with the times without losing their basic identity. Changes do occur, but there is something about that person that remains the same. Bob Dylan ended his Binghamton concert with these words, "May you stay forever young."

Meet Mark 'John Belushi' Rado

After three scintillating interviews with our student leaders, I thought I would take you to the opposite end of the spectrum and present Mark Rado, Wilkes College's answer to John Belushi.

Mark graduated from Carle Place High School, Long Island, in 1975. He chose to attend Wilkes College on the basis of his interest in the school's pre-med program, in which he hoped to become involved. With this intention in mind, Mark Rado became a freshman bio major.

"I changed my major within six weeks," said Mark. "See, I lived in Warner House, and in the old days that was THE partying dorm. I never really wanted to be a doctor anyway; who was I kidding?"

Dropping bio, Mark chose to become a business administration major. He hopes to someday own his own restaurant. Which brings us to Mark's fanatical dedication to the consumption of food. A dedication which led him to seek employment in various restaurants in the College area. "If not for those restaurants," said Mark, "I would have starved. College food is nothing to write home about."

The only thing Mark enjoys more than eating is watching TV. His daily television habit includes everything from soap operas to the late, late movie. "We have eight TV's in my house," he commented. "It sorta got me in the habit." For the record, Mark claims to be one of the "all time kings" of TV trivia.

But when Mark tears himself away from the tube, he and his roommate (his third), sure know how to throw a party. He looks to last year's celebration of a third-place finish in the College softball tournament as the "best party ever. We were partying well past 5 a.m., when the Wilkes College campus police joined in." Uninvited of course. Ah yes...move over John Belushi.

Mark, for his part, labels the College's new drinking policy "outlandish." For those of you who don't care about Mark's view on the drinking policy, pretend you never read this part.

Moving into the realm of athletics...Mark emerges as an intramural football star, an intramural basketball coach and, most notably, a manager for the basketball team. "I always liked tall men," admitted Mark. Turning mildly serious, Mark talked about his love for basketball. "But," he sighed, "being 5' 9" tall and weighing 195 lbs. made me realize that I was cut out to be manager."

There seems to be no truly suitable way to end the Mark Rado story. Perhaps the best thing to say is that Mark will graduate from Wilkes, despite everything, in 1980. That is, providing there are no good movies on TV during finals week.

Hello and Welcome to the W.C. Scoop Spectacular. We're bringing you the scoops and poops of Wilkes College. Today many sports will be covered.

Now the new motto straight from the boxing arena is "A Punch will get you a Punch." Right, Gary P.? And it's true that chivalry is not dead. Ask any of the guys who were at the Hearth Stone Pub recently. They had a good showing.

On the wrestling scene, there seems to be a lot of off-the-mat wrestling. We heard Alex and John have been perfecting the "Bear Hug" technique with a couple of Catlin's frosh. We've also noticed a certain frosh wrestler has become very popular with the girls. Are they in training, too?

Special News Item Just Off The UPI Machine!!
"This fall Wyoming Valley West will be featuring the musical version of 'King Kong' starring Gerry D'albis."

[Thanks Scooper Dooper!]

Turning now to the gridiron. A few weeks of the football players have their own private cheerleader. Tell us about it number 12. WAIT! There's an injury on the field... He's not moving... A possible O.D. victim...Call the expert from the Emergency Alert Team Mark C...The victim has been moved to the Webster Hospital where it was discovered the victim was real dummy.

The official results of the world tennis match between Couto and that auto pusher where Couto came out on top 6-Love, 3-6, 6-3. The official prize was Stacy. Congrats on reuniting your doubles team-Stacy and Tony!

And now a word from our sponsor:

Crowds at Donahue's on Thursday nights have been lacking. Let's get it together and make it the place to be.

Quick note about Alumni Relations. It seems a particular alumni has been relating quite well. Just can't stay away, huh Lou E.?

Well, that is it from the W.C. Scoop Spectacular. WE'd like to thank all of the contributing writers: Keep on scooping gang!

P.S. We'd like to adjust our last column slightly. For the 30 second smooch, J.B. was a boo-boo. Instead of J.B. it should be Judy W. Sorry J.B.

Greetings Scooping Fans--once again this is "Tex" and "Fritz" bringing you the latest and hottest scoops on and about W.C. campus.

Yes fans, the "biggie" for scoopers, Homecoming Weekend, is rapidly approaching. In order to prepare you for the weekend festivities we will review OUR candidates for Homecoming Queen, another one of the vital links in our "Wilkes College Family" (the names have been changed to protect the innocent).

Our first candidate is "Cruddy Tooth." Cruddy's sole hobby is swimming (especially out to meet troop ships).

Numero dos (yes friends, we are bilingual) is "Leggy Raunchler," or the "raunch," as she is known to some, enjoys such activities as hanging out on the square and reportedly has been heard yelling, "Hey buddy, only a buck-two-eighty!"

Our next choice is "Melon Two-bits." This curvaceous cutie is this year's representative from the apartment dwellers. Melon is also known as the "Rona Barrett" of greater Wyoming Valley.

"Smella Morpukesick," next in the line-up, spends most of her spare time laying across parking spaces for her friends. However, this hobby has caused Smella a great deal of heart ache as can be evidenced by the tire tread marks running up and down her body.

"Hairy Mane Nutty" is known for her never-ending determination to stay on the retirement plan at Wilkes College and collect the "Crazy Bill Manley" decade award at graduation.

Another candidate, "Handy Acrylic," reportedly has given up conventional make-up in favor of latex house paint. Rumor has it that Handy finds this lasts longer; however, Sears is still comparing her face to the paint on Thomas Jefferson's house.

Remember friends, the real "winner" will be announced at the bonfire, which hopefully will take place where Denison hall is now located. Following this GALA event, a reception will be held at Donahue's where Bonnie, the Homecoming Queen of 1932, will welcome the kick-off of Donahue's on Thursday.

And now it is time to turn to a very serious matter--last year W.C. was hit with Sal-mineo disease; well, the disease of this month is "rampart" boredom.

Here are some of our suggestions to combat it:

- Cow-tipping....that All-American sport which anyone can master. All you need is a sleeping cow!
- Walking through Warner house any night of the week is guaranteed to be exciting if all else fails.
- organized Phoebe hunts.
- reading this column and trying to guess the well-hidden identities of the scoopee's.
- trying to guess what zone your security guard belongs in.
- calling Help Line,

Well, friends, it's time once again to hang up the scoop line. In conclusion, remember, only you can help--So please drop us a line!!!

D.R.I.A.P
Tex and Fritz

P.S. Condolences to the Lone Scooper and the Pink Panther. You passed the Phoebe test.

Tough Week Over

The Wilkes cross country team came out of its toughest week of the season with a slate of 2-3. The Colonels harriers had a triangular meet Wednesday and a quadrangular on Saturday.

on." the Blue and Gold are now 4-3 on the year.

The Colonels top finisher again was freshman Ken Pascoe out of Nanticoke. Pascoe placed second in Wednesday's competition. His time against Scranton and Muhlenberg was 29:32, good for third place. Also placing were: Danny Thomas in ninth place, and Eddie Eppler in 12th. The Blue and Gold defeated Muhlenberg 28-29, but lost to powerful Scranton 18-41.

Wilkes traveled to Philadelphia on Saturday for its quad-meet. The Wilkesmen downed Albright, 19-42, but lost to Del Val 24-31 and Textile 24-33. Pascoe's third place finish at 28:23 was 25-seconds off the pace of winner John Marble of Textile. Eppler finished in eighth place, and Don Patrick and Thomas finished 11th and 15th respectively.

"I hope to find a course to train on with hills next year. Its tough going from our flat course to five miles of hills," said Davenport.

Yesterday, Wilkes traveled to Lebanon Valley, and on Saturday, the runners will host Moravian in the morning, starting off Parents' Day festivities.

Colonels Ready to Bloom on Saturday?

Ah, respectability.

The Wilkes College football team reached it last Saturday. No, the Blue and Gold did not win, but they did hang tough, only to drop a come-back-from-ahead loss to the Vikes of Upsala College in East Orange, New Jersey.

Wilkes, now 1-2, will host Bloomsburg State this Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at Ralston Field in the annual Parents' Day conclave. Bloom is 2-2, having won its last two starts.

Back to last week's game. The Colonels had an early lead and held on to it for three quarters against the Upsala defense, which is ranked fourth nationally. Paul Kotulak tallied Wilkes only TD on the day with a 65-yard run from scrimmage only a few minutes into the ball game. The run was one of the few bright offensive spots on the day for Wilkes. How long are we going to hear that phrase, "FEW OFFENSIVE BRIGHT SPOTS?"

After Kotulak's score, Upsala countered with a 42-yard field goal by Mike Largey, who happens to be at the Jersey school on a basketball scholarship. Get the foot ready, Zap.

Right before the end of the half, Upsala had a golden opportunity to take the lead, as the Vikes had three shots at the Wilkes goal from the one-yard line. The Colonels "D" rose to the occasion and stopped them for no points. It was like 1967 all over again and we were watching the Green Bay defense in their patented goal-line stand. A great job by Lukas' Loonies, one tough bunch of cookies.

On the third play of the second half, junior Mike Patrick, having a quiet great year, intercepted an Upsala aerial, and Dan Pisarcik capped the drive with a 24-yard field goal and Wilkes led 10-3 with 9:49 left in the third quarter. Six minutes later the Upsala "D" came through and trapped Pisarcik in the end zone for a safety after a high snap from center.

Following Wilkes' free kick, Steve Hustik capped a 14-play, 52-yard drive with a six-yard run with 13:07 left to play to put the Vikes ahead to stay.

Later in the period, faced with a fourth and 11 situation from the 19-yard line, Pisarcik faked a punt and passed, like Joe would, 23-yards to end

Cliff Jones for a first down. Jones, who enjoyed a great day for Wilkes, was one man away from completing the play for a 81-yard touchdown. The drive however, stalled after two QB sacks.

Still with 1:23 left to play, Coach Rollie Schmidt inserted freshman Tom Cywinski in the lineup to get a strong-arm to hopefully get Wilkes a score and a victory. If Cywinski keeps coming in late in the game, somebody might think he is Sparky Lyle or Rollie Fingers.

The former Nanticoke Area star passed 18-yards to Homer Lopresto, which put the ball on the 32. Lopresto was roughed up after going out of bounds and Upsala was penalized another 15-yards. Cywinski's next aerial went off a Wilkes receiver and was intercepted. Still, at the 0:31 mark Wilkes got the ball back again, as the defense contained the Vikes in no time. Cywinski's first pass was a replay of his last, it bounced off a Wilkes receiver and was intercepted, this time the Vike returned it for a score. It would be nice to see the freshman, who shows a bullet arm, get a start. You know, they started Jim Kaat this year. And it would probably be even nicer if somebody would let senior Bill Slavoski get a shot at doing something.

So after three games, what is there to say about the Wilkes football team. The defense is doing the job, and we still find a lack of offense. If anybody knows the reason why please speak up or forever hold your Wilkes athletic pass.

Lets hope the roses Bloom for Wilkes this Saturday.

Cavanaugh Fast?**

Intramural Football

The Chickenhawks' John Cavanaugh is said to be able to run so fast he seems to be streaking. On Wednesday, he proved just that as he returned a kickoff the length of the field - fumbling his pants at the fifty-yard line. The blush-faced Warner House team were tough opponents for the top-ranked Chickenhawks before falling 27-18. Matt Kultys and Les Nicholas were flying high for the Hawks.

The Vets saw tough action this week and promptly lost three battles. The wrestlers were first to invade the Vets as Bart Cook ran them to a 30-0 victory. The wrestlers two big men, Ed "Too Tall" Johnson and Pat O'Callahan, held the Vets scoreless. The Vets then took the purple heart and forfeited to the Chickenhawks. The regrouped Vets, ready for more battle, traveled to Rider Country, which eventually led to retreat. The New Riders, recovering from their first loss in four years, displayed a new quarterback in Bill Polaha. He unleashed bomb after bomb to receivers Mark Sanders and the one-hand snatcher Dicky Bernier, as the Riders romped 50-6. The Vets did have good news despite the three losses, there were no reported casualties.

In the gold division, the big story (AS ALWAYS) was Kilgore Trout and Co. The previously unbeaten and number one ranked team were upset by the Dave Levitch Fan Club, 12-8.

Greg Tomcho and John Senatore led the attack on Kilgore. Comments were made by members of Kilgore concerning the game, but they were unfit to print. The long-awaited match-up of Kilgore vs. STUDS took place on Wednesday. Kilgore was tired and sore from the Levitch defeat, and the Studs were all well rested, but minus the services of two-thirds of its famed "Jail-house" defense. It was a battle of the defenses. Kilgore Trout was led by Perry "Two Team" Lichtinger, fleet-footed Ken Hughes, and "Disco" Dean D'Amico. Neil Pufko led the assault on Kilgore, but the Trout prevailed in a thrilling 12-6 win.

The STUDS took their act on the road to meet the Flying Circus Volume II. In a rough effort led by Ronnie Savitsky (who has been ejected in his last two games) and "Meatball" Bob Matzelli (who will enjoy his case of Heiniken), the STUDS won 19-0. In the only other game played, Dave Singer and STX held the Circus scoreless again, 13-0. Its time for the Flying Circus to hire a new act.

SIDELINERS:...consider an intramural rule change - why not let students who lettered in varsity last year but are not eligible for varsity this season, play intramurals. After all they are students too....Jerry Antosh is one of the best refs in the league, ask Dave Hungarter.

Don't Look Now, Women Winning

Field Hockey Team Showing Tough Stick

Don't look now, but the winningest fall sports team on the Wilkes campus is the field hockey team of Coach Gay Meyers. Going into Tuesday's game, the women held a remarkable 3-1 slate, which is a tribute to Coach Meyers who has worked long to get the field hockey team rolling this season. Maybe the girls will be like the Miracle Mets of 1969 and come home with a MAC title.

This past week, the Colonelettes dropped their first game of the year, giving them a 1-1 record for the week of competition. The week before, Wilkes downed Keystone Junior College to raise its record then to an unblemished 3-0. Although the ladies only won the game by a 1-0 score, they were in command throughout the contest. Wilkes had 27 shots on goal and the Keystoneers managed only four.

Wilkes did not score until six minutes into the second half when Marie Elko took a pass from Mary Jo Frail to dent the stubborn Keystone defense. The victory was very sweet for Wilkes as it avenged a 1-0 loss to the Keystoneers a year ago.

Wilkes was at home on Saturday afternoon against Lafayette and played in front of a large and very inspired crowd. Lafayette was the Colonelettes toughest opponent of the young season. Lafayette started out fast and stunned the Colonelettes, scoring just three minutes into the game. The visitors tallied again and held a 2-0 advantage at the half.

At this point, many on hand felt Wilkes was ready to get blown out. However, the girls played the second half like they were inspired by some secret force. Wilkes dominated play in the early part of the second half. Seven minutes into the period, former Meyers great Mary Jo Frail hit Jerry Ann Smith with a picture-perfect pass which Jerry Ann hammered into the goal, to pull Wilkes back in the game. Defense was the name of the game the rest of the way, as both teams battled scoreless until the end, with Lafayette handing Wilkes its first loss of the season.

Although they did lose the match-up to Lafayette, they showed what they were made of as they played with an inspiration against the stronger Lafayette club. One of the key bright spots in the loss was the play of goalie Gerri McAfee, who started her first varsity game. Karen Worlinsky, the wizard, also looked good on the defense. Despite knee injuries, Jerry Ann Smith and Mary Jo Frail both played well, showing the courage of Joe Namath, who played in pain all those years.

Coach Meyers commented after the game, "I was very disappointed with the way we responded in the first half, we looked confused and we let Lafayette run circles around us. But the best moment came in the second half, as we proved we were no pushover. We lost the game, but we proved we are a team to be not taken lightly."

Following Tuesday's match-up with Del Val in Doylestown, the ladies will travel to meet Bloomsburg State on Thursday, before celebrating Parents' Day on Saturday with an AWAY GAME with Misericordia.

Walking Wounded Lose; Hope for Parents' Day Win

TEAM SPIRIT is reaching enormous heights and the 1978 edition of the Wilkes College soccer team is making believers of many people as it won one and lost one last week and currently sport a 2-2 overall record.

The Colonel booters traveled to Muhlenberg last Wednesday and the injury plagued booters were victims of a 4-1 verdict, which was better than last year when the Blue and Gold bowed 6-1. Many Wilkesmen were hurt, and the Colonels were forced to do without the services of two key players, Irv Pyun, and Nikos Pitsis. Irv is an important offensive standout with his best asset being his clever maneuvers towards the goal, while team-mate Nikos is a strong player who likes physical contact.

Senior co-captain Mario Apuzzo led the team in scoring last year and is already off to a good start with three goals and two assists for five points this season in four games. Mario was the lone Blue and Gold booter to hit the nets in the Muhlenberg contest and responded with the team's second goal against Lycoming, after Zoom had brought the ball up the field with great ability. But, as Mario noted, "It's not really fair to look at individual stats this year because every one on the field is responsible for every goal Wilkes scores." The team records show Wilkes outscoring opponents 9-8, with five of the goals being assisted.

Coach Hagman made a line-up change vs. Lycoming, starting Kelly Noseworthy at center half-back, but then moved him back to his old mid-field position. The top assisted tally so far this season took place Saturday when Wilkes registered its first goal at the 12:00 mark, on a play from Carlos Ribiero to Noseworthy, who made an excellent head shot. Killer Kelly can anticipate plays and always manages to be there when he is needed. The shot by Ribiero was intended for the goal, but Noseworthy realized it was too high and if he did not jump and tap it in, the ball would have sailed over the nets.

Coach Hagman said that starting half-backs Chip Brill, Mike Karns, and Warren Bush and Steve Beetles Bailey really played good defense, helping out goalie Chip Brautigan, in his return to the lineup after suffering an injury, which put him out for a week. In his place, Wilkes received great play from Dave Reynolds. Asst. Coach Lopez, the Colonel goalie expert, explained that Reynolds and Brautigan are top-notch performers, but have different styles in guarding the nets. While Reynolds throws himself in front of the ball, Brautigan enjoys diving at it.

In the Lycoming game, the Warriors had a 12-yard chip-shot penalty shot attempt, and missed it with Brautigan in goal. Kip said, "I psyched him out and he missed the goal completely."

Also turning in fine defensive performances were Nick Golowich, Charlie Issacs, and Mark Ritter. Ritter, also known as "Spagetti-man" returned to the lineup after being sidelined for a week with an injury. Ahmad Mahmoud, a senior from Zarka, Jordan, freshman Mark Lepore and soph Fernando Martinez of Brazil, also saw action last week. Martinez was on the injury list for the first three weeks of the season.

The Colonels will host a tough Moravian squad on Saturday to help celebrate Parent's Day at 10:00 at Ralston Field. Moravian is 3-1, with its only loss coming to MAC-power Elizabethtown.

First Win Still Eluding Women's Tennis Team

The women's tennis team is still searching for its first season win, and dropped two matches this week trying to break into the win column.

Now 0-5, the netwomen lost to Misericordia Saturday and to the University of Scranton Tuesday, being blanked both times. Defending N.P.W.I.A.A. champions Wilkes, hard-hit by graduation and transferring players, just haven't been able to put it all together, although individuals have been playing well.

Saturday the Blue and Gold entertained league rival Misericordia in what should have been an even match. Every singles player dropped their first set, and only Debbie Welliver was able to come back and take the second. However, she then dropped the final set in a heart-breaking tie-breaker. Cindy Yagloski and Sandy May played well in first doubles but lost, as did Mary Ann and Becky Morgan.

Misericordia played unspectacularly but consistently, forcing the Colonelettes into committing some fatal errors.

After traveling to Scranton Tuesday afternoon to meet the University Royals, another MAC and league opponent, Wilkes again dropped every match, although play had improved since Saturday.

Reenie Corbett lost 6-2, 6-1 and Rose McMahon fell 6-0, 6-4. Junior Judy Bellas was blanked, as was Debbie Welliver. Lee Schwartz played about the closest match on paper, losing 6-3, 7-5. In doubles the Morgans dropped two sets 6-3, 6-3 and Wilkes forfeited second doubles.

The women travel to meet powerful Bloomsburg today and host Baptist Bible Saturday at 11 a.m. at the College courts.
