Louis Armstrong, "The Jazz Legend," To Perform on Campus

by Fred Jacoby

Satchmo's coming! These words have thrilled millions from Norway to Japan, from Hawaii to Moscow, and will always thrill anyone who likes music. The little man with the voice like gravel, and the trumpet second only to Gabriel is a living legend in the world of Jazz. He's played with three-piece combos, and giant bands, in smoky dives, and before the crowned heads of Europe. Yes, Satchmo's got something for everyone.

Louis Armstrong is the best in his field, and he's All-American. He plays American music, jazz, and he's taught the world to love it. Louie's records sell in every country, he's sold so many, he's called the most recorded musician ever.

Louie Armstrong started in a small town near New Orleans. He started with nothing but ambition and worked himself up to the very top. He is now the king, the greatest of the living jazzmen, and it looks like he's going to remain king for a long time. A critic of jazz told reporters not long ago that Louie was not only important to modern jazz, he is the mother and father of jazz.

The All-Stars, the group that will accompany Satchmo when he arrives, are a group of talented musicians, each a star, which not only accompany but enhance Armstrong's style. These stars have seen London, Geneva, Africa, Australia, France, Germany, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Russia, and Holland. If people can hear, they know Satch, if they hear Satch, they're happy.

Two from Campus Go to Washington

Attend "Birthday" Dinner
Honoring Polish Patriot

Next Monday the Pulaski Foundation will hold a "Pulaski Birthday Dinner" in Washington, D.C. At this event "Man of the Year" awards will be presented.

Those attending from this valley are Mr. Joseph F. Lester, prominent automobile dealer of Kingston and general chairman of the affair; John J. Chwalek, member of the reservations committee for the Dinner; and William Zdanczewicz, publicity director of the Dinner.

Mr. Chwalek is director of Placement for the College and Mr. Zdanczewicz is completing two years of service as director of Public Relations for the College. He is a 1958 graduate of Wilkes, was also a Beacon reporter and columnist.

The awards to be presented are given to those persons who have done more to aid Poland in 1959 than any other Americans of Polish ancestry. This year, the awards will go to Congressman Clement J. Zablocki, Democrat of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and to W. O. Biernacki-Poray of Montclair, N.J. Congressman Zablocki's efforts have brought about legislation to give Poland a major children's hospital and pediatric center as an American gift.

Approximately 100 United States senators and Congressmen together with other prominent leaders in many fields of endeavor are expected to attend the dinner. The youngest descendant of Pulaski's family, a six-year old girl, will arrive from Poland to be present for this occasion.

Marv Antinnes Captures National Wrestling Title

Takes 177 Title In NAIA Event

Wilkes Team Finishes 4th
As Herman, Yeager Place

Marv Antinnes became the first Wilkes wrestler ever to gain national honors last week when he was crowned champion of the 177-pound class in the third annual National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament.

Four other Colonels carried the Blue and Gold colors into the NAIA event at Lock Haven State College and emerged from the competition with a fourth place team finish.

Bloomburg State won the team championship, edging out defending champion Southern Illinois University. Host Lock Haven, Wilkes, and Lycoming completed the top clubs to give a "neighborhood look" to the top standings.

Athlete of the Week

For his winning performance, Antinnes gains another award as Beacon Athlete of the Week. This is the fifth time he has earned the votes of the sports staff this year as he has clearly demonstrated his athletic superiority.

Two other Wilkesmen shared in the fourth place finish as Bob Herman, 191 pounds, took third, and Brooke Yeager, 115 pounds, took fourth. Both men were competing in classes outside their normal divisions.

Championship Battle

Antinnes continued to rule the roost in his weight division, winning the championship with a hard-fought, 4-2 victory over strong Ken Houston of S. Illinois U. He set the stage for the title when he trimmed Bloomburg's Stan Elinisky, 9-1, after an initial win over Jim Domin of Baldwin-Wallace.

The Illinois grappler registered a takedown in the latter part of the first period to take a 2-0 lead. The second period went scoreless with Antinnes gaining a full period of riding time as he thwarted all of Houston's escape efforts.

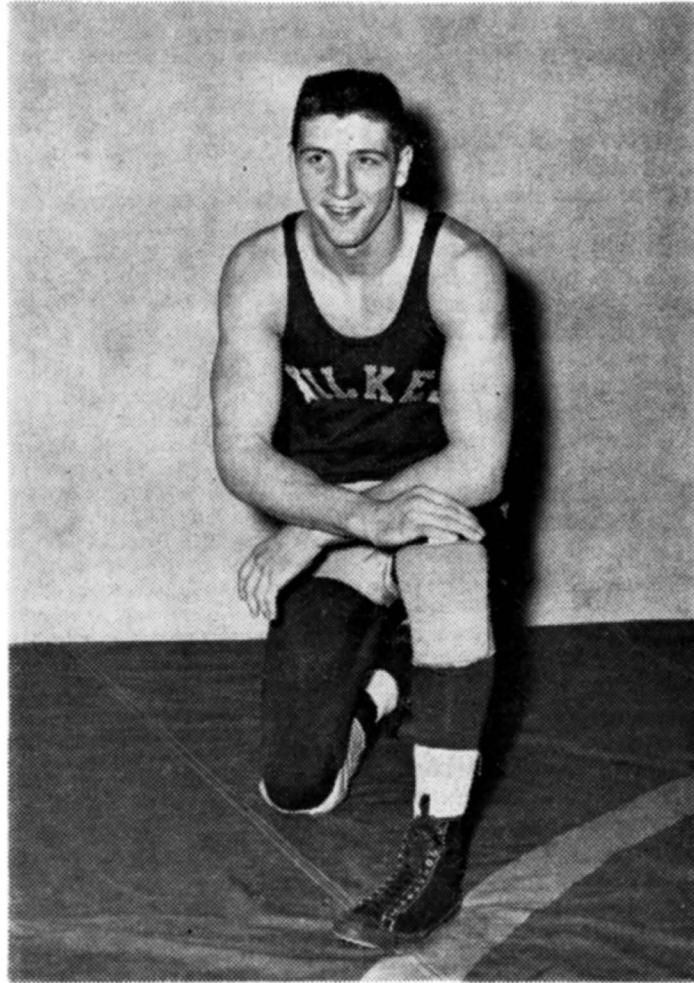

The third period went very slowly as Houston was content with trying to "breeze" into the championship circle, until the referee gave Antinnes a point for the stalling tactics of the Illinois grappler. With 50 seconds left in the match, Antinnes escaped to tie the score, 2-2, then took the strong grappler down to register a 4-2 lead.

Antinnes kept the hold for the fading seconds of the match to win the bout and the small college National championship, thus putting the finishing touches to a perfect season. His record was unblemished in dual meets, he won the Mid-Atlantic 177-pound crown, and was runnerup in the Wilkes Open Tournament.

Herman Takes Third

Bob Herman, scrappy 191-pound entry, also looked very good in the event, taking third place. In the consolation finals, the freshman Colonel upended Jim Lewis of Baldwin-Wallace to gain team points for Wilkes, enabling the team to edge out Lycoming for fourth place honors.

Jaycees Fete National President At Luncheon Meeting on Monday

Bob Clark, National Junior Chamber of Commerce president, will be honored guest at a luncheon Monday at 12:30 in the Hotel Sterling's Crystal Ballroom. Mr. Clark will be making two appearances in Pennsylvania, one here and one in Philadelphia later in the day. Honoring his presence in the State, Governor Lawrence has proclaimed Monday "Bob Clark Day."

Bob Clark

The Wilkes College Chapter of the local Jaycees will present Mr. Clark an anthracite plaque in honor of his achievements as Jaycee head. The plaque, engraved with the Jaycee creed, will be presented by Dick Salus.

Seated at the main table with the president will be Hugh Carr, National Director of District VIII;

Morgan Doughton, former Pennsylvania president and now candidate for national president; Harry Light, present president of the Pennsylvania Jaycees; Grover C. Gouker, past National vice-president and past Pennsylvania president; Mayor Slattery of Wilkes-Barre; Mayor Hanlon of Scranton; Albert Albert, Wilkes-Barre Jaycees president; and Dick Salus.

Last week's campus drive for new members resulted in 26 new faces in the campus group, bringing the roster now to 44. Thirteen of these are seniors who will be graduated in June. An orientation committee headed by Jim Stephens will acquaint the new members with the aims of the Jaycees and their roles as members of the College Chapter.

Latest project of the Wilkes group is a raffle for the Wyoming Valley Parade of Progress, April 26-30.

Broadcasting Scholarship

The National Academy of Broadcasting, Washington, D.C., is offering a free scholarship for one term of study (Summer or Fall) to a student of outstanding aptitude and ability in speech and writing, with job placement assured.

Interested students should write to Mr. Warren Brill, Manager, National Academy of Broadcasting, 3338 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

IT'S HERE!

EDUCATION CLUB NOTICE

Dr. Hugo V. Mailey, chairman of the Political Science Department, will be guest speaker at the next Education Club meeting on Thursday, April 7 at 11 a.m. in Conyngham Annex 101. Dr. Mailey's topic will be "Politics and Education." The public is cordially invited to attend.

"IT" VISITS "CAF"

"IT" Arrives Today; Unveiling Tomorrow at Butler

by Frances Olack

London has its wax museums, Hollywood has "Casper the friendly ghost" and Wilkes has "IT." "IT" is now being kept in tow at the "House of Horrors," probably better known to students as Butler Hall. The unveiling and subsequent disclosure of "IT" will occur tomorrow evening at the aforementioned haunted edifice.

"IT" will arrive today at noon by special conveyance, and will put in an appearance at the cafeteria. Four men from Butler Hall have been assigned the task of guarding "IT" on the journey through the cafeteria. The guards are needed because of the viciousness of "IT." After leaving the cafeteria, "IT" will be taken to Butler Hall, where "IT" will remain until the unveiling tomorrow night.

In a joint effort to raise money for the college's Three Phase Development Drive, the residents of Butler and Sterling Halls are sponsoring this ghostly caper tomorrow evening from 9 p.m. to midnight. Continuous dancing will be the keynote of the evening as two campus groups' services have been obtained. The Mary Jean Quintet and the

Lecture on Russia

Edwin Cobleigh, member of the faculty at G.A.R. High School, city, will present a lecture on his recent trip to the Soviet Union next Thursday. His talk, illustrated with color slides taken on his trip, will be given in Stark Hall 116 at 11 a.m.

Mr. Cobleigh's address is open to all students and faculty members. The Wilkes Chapter of the Greater Wilkes-Barre Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the talk.

Dynamics will provide rather "haunting" melodies for this nocturnal caper.

The admission fee is only fifty cents; therefore any stalwart and foolhardy lad or lassie desirous of an unpredictable and unique evening a la Bela Lugosi should clean his best broomstick and wash his black cat and venture over to the House of Horrors — wearing black of course.

Social chairmen for the event are Ira Himmel, Al Jones, Lou-Ella Merigolo, and Merle Benisch. Mary Ann Meyer and Bob Washburn are responsible for the decorations. Other committees are: Sandy Biber and Paul Bleifer, tickets; Ginny Morgan and Gordon Roberts, refreshments; Maureen Haley and Bob Bearley, publicity; and Jules Heller, band.

EDITORIALS —

Hampton Exchange Program

Response to the appeal for students to participate in the Hampton Institute Exchange program has been slow. Allyn Jones, chairman of this year's visit to the Virginia Negro Institute, will gladly accept your reservation for this rewarding trip.

Each year the students of the two institutions exchange visits to help break down barriers of senseless racial prejudice. Those participating in years past have always given glowing reports of the enjoyable experience and have named it as one of the outstanding memories of college days.

Dean Hawkins of Hampton was here recently during Brotherhood Week to address the Wilkes students at assembly. He and Dean George Ralston are friends of long standing and take particular care to see that each visit will be well planned and organized when his college is the host.

This year Hampton will host Wilkes. The time for the trip is fast approaching — April 9 — and the Hampton students have gone to great lengths to insure a memorable weekend. Highlight of the "Wilkes Weekend" festivities will be the concert presented by the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra.

Image America

We don't intend this to be a free ad for the National Broadcasting Company, but we think that their coming "Image America" series will provide interesting and valuable listening for all Americans, college students especially.

Beginning Monday, Image America will present sixteen 90-minute radio broadcasts designed to improve public understanding of the workings of American society. The Fund for Adult Education is presenting the series in cooperation with NBC and following its completion, the series will be released to non-commercial educational stations. The Fund also plans to make available records based on the series together with related reading materials, to encourage maximum educational use of individual programs by study-discussion groups.

Enlisting the best minds of the nation to present its series, the Fund will attempt to reveal the true character of the nation, its people and institutions through a clear and honest appraisal of their strength and weaknesses and their probable future.

The local outlet for the series is WBRE-radio. Broadcasts will take place from 8:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Bob Considine, noted national columnist, sportswriter, and announcer, will narrate the programs. Format of the series is based on two previous "Image" series, Image Russia and Image Minorities.

Participants in the project are numerous and the list reads like a Who's Who of any subject you can imagine. Their interests are varied: politics, labor, government, literature, music, art, dance, industry, business, education, law, sociology, religion and many other areas.

An infinitesimal sampling of the people show such as: Moss Hart, playwright; Paul M. Butler, Democratic National Committee Chairman and his Republican counterpart, the Hon. Thurston B. Morton; Norman M. Thomas, American Socialist; Robert A. Kennedy, McClellan Committee counsel; Ashley Montagu, anthropologist who addressed a Wilkes assembly two years ago; Vincent Price, actor; Dave Beck, ex-president of the Teamsters Union; Raymond Aron, Professor of Sociology at the Sorbonne, Paris; and many, many others.

For your convenience, we have listed below the dates of the programs in the series. Whether or not this program turns out to be blatantly propagandist in nature or paints an accurate and objective picture of America and its shortcomings as well as its good points is immaterial. As college students we should take every opportunity to increase our knowledge of our environs. Whether the programs live up to their promise or not, they should help us form opinions.

Students the world over have always held firm opinions and have even broken out in riot to support them. We don't see many examples of such firmness of opinion — right or wrong — on the American scene and almost none at all on the Wilkes campus.

We do not advocate riots and demonstrations, of course, but we do believe that it is the duty of every citizen, especially student citizens, to be fully informed. This series appears to promise a fine starting point.

Little Theater Presents Comedy

"Great Sebastians" Features Frances Olack, Wilkes Coed

by Ralph Price

The Little Theatre of Wilkes-Barre will enact The Great Sebastians by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse from March 30 through April 2. Tickets for the production can be obtained by calling the box office at VA 3-1875.

Written for Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, this three-act melodramatic comedy tells the fictional story of Rudi and Essie Sebastian, a husband and wife mindreading act. The entire action of the play takes place in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in the late winter of 1948 shortly after the seizure of the government by the Communists. The parts of Rudi and Essie are played by Dorris Miller and Frank Grover.

Under the lead roles is the part of Manya, a young woman who is devoted to her job as representative of the Cultural Action Committee for the Theatre Variete. In this production the part of Manya is played by Frances Olack, a freshman Political Science major here.

She has been associated with the local Little Theatre group for about six months, and this is her first major role. The part of Manya requires a Czechoslovakian accent, and she has been receiving help with this from Dr. Kaslas.

Directed by George Winterstein, The Great Sebastians numbers the following in its cast: Walter Reedy, Dr. Stuart Irons, Joe Mirmak, Joe Kelly, Harry Orzello, Mable Faye Sullivan, Con O'Donnell, Martha Grover, and Tony Doknovitch, also a Wilkes student.

Robert Stevens, '59 Grad, Commissioned Officer

Robert V. Stevens, 1959 graduate of Wilkes, was commissioned as an Ensign in the U.S. Navy last month during exercises held at Officer Candidate School at Newport, Rhode Island.

While at Wilkes, Ens. Stevens was active in theatrical productions, and appeared in nearly every show put on by Cur'n' Curtain. He entered O.C.S. in September, 1959. After successfully completing four months of training, he will now assume duties with his 624 classmates in various branches of the Naval fleet and shore establishments.

Admiral James S. Russell, Vice-Chief of Naval Operations, was the main speaker at the graduation ceremony.

SHORT STEP

Although Wilkes did not enter a full team, the latest venture of Coach Reese and his boys proved very fruitful, showing that the Colonels have championship material both in manpower and in spirit.

There Is An Answer

by Michael Bianco and Gordon Roberts

Last week the authors of this column discussed some of the political aspects in the American government. In this issue it might be wise to consider the important role of non-political individuals like the businessmen, who hold economic positions of power similar to those in the political realm; and the student, who hold an academic trust of great significance.

Prying into the conscience of the business world would reveal many businessmen who would not give in one iota to the point of view of social responsibility and that these same men believe in the highest return without conceding that anyone else is entitled to more than a fraction; even if laboring people are the prime part of the mechanism that produces wealth for us all.

Businessmen would admit, in light of the Southern "lunch counter" strikes, that they are so timid about striking out against the abuse of the politicians, so reluctant to sacrifice what we have fought for, that they have mutely acknowledged legislation and demonstrations so as to violate the Constitution in law and in spirit. Moreover, the closing of business establishments to Negroes in the South is a direct assault on the idea that all men, regardless of color, are created equal and the right to peacefully demonstrate. Obviously the idea of Character and not Color has been subverted in the interest of materialism and bigotry. Possibly these businessmen dislike the loss of any material wealth because they believe that time and money cures all, and because they know others will do the fighting for them. They hesitate to fight injustice for fear of losing their fortunes and their political friends engaged in the Civil Rights filibuster.

How can America represent a democracy of free enterprise at the coming Summit Conference or at any other meeting of East and West?

Perhaps one of the biggest disappointments would be revealed in purging the mind of the average student to find his views on the business and political situation in America.

Maybe we would find that as students we should take enough time and effort to hear both sides of a controversial question, but fail to do so because we are satisfied by the men with the mellowest voices and the most lucrative promises. We want opinions that soothe us and we dislike people who just might stimulate our thinking. We prefer indecision to decision, but scorn those who tell us so. Most of us are so embroiled with daily tasks and the pursuit of the B.S. that we overlook current events in the world in general, and politics and business in particular.

In our haste have we failed to note that Negroes in America have been deprived of their rights; that an American bishop has been imprisoned for life in Red China; that Communist revolts have shaken the Caribbean to our south; and that Indonesia, center of Southeast Asia, has excluded all anti-Communists from the government? All this within the last month and scarcely a word on these events uttered in student conversations!

Is such an atmosphere, neither businessman, politician or student can make unselfishness a national aspiration. Human understanding has been stunted in the race for material things and the uplifting of individual freedoms halted because the influence of religion itself has abated in this world torn by bitterness and greed and hatred.

There is an answer to all the things that plague our world today. The key to the answer may be found in "that Code of Codes handed down to us in the New Deal of over two thousand year ago."

"AND THE SECOND THING YOU SHOULD LEARN TO DO IS TO TAKE CRITICISM"

PENNANT RACE

Bowling Action Nears Climax, Crucial Series Sunday Night

Sunday's bowling action at the Jewish Community Center lanes could decide the championship of the second half as the Pinbusters and Gutterdusters clash on alleys 3 and 4. Any combination of Gutterduster wins and Pinbuster losses adding up to five will clinch the pennant for the Gutterdusters, who now boast a four-game lead.

The third-place Blitzkriegs must count on the Pinbusters to beat the Gutterdusters to keep their hopes alive. Their "magic number" is four. Should the Gutterdusters win three points from the Pinbusters, the latter will be eliminated Sunday and the Blitzkriegs would have to win four to stay alive. Then they would have to beat the Gutterdusters on the final night of play, 4-0, to win.

Trophy Seekers

Dan Lewis appears to have the high average trophy wrapped up with a 187 average over a 54-game span. Dave Sokira is next in line with a 181 average in 51 games and Emil Petrasek is coming on fast with 179 for 54 games. Dick Myers is fourth with 171 for 54 and Bill Watkins rounds out the top five with 170 for 52 games.

Three men share the high single game honors at present. Dave Sokira has hit the 245 mark twice, while Lewis and Petrasek have each made it once. Only two more weeks remain for the deadlock to be broken.

The high series trophy may go at 629, rolled by Petrasek. If he takes it, this will be the lowest three-game series trophy in three years. Dan Lewis has won that hardware four times in the past.

Lois Myers holds the lead in the race for the girls' high average with 130 for 53 games.

Trophies will also be given to each member of the first and second place teams. A playoff at the end of the regular season will be held between the first and second half winners to determine these trophies. The Pinbusters were first half champions. Should they repeat, a playoff for second place will be necessary between the Gutterdusters and whoever finishes run-

Pinkowski Welcomes Veterans, Newcomers; Workouts Held in Gym

by John Nork

A sure sign of spring, as any sportsman can tell you is the crack of the bat, and the familiar cry of the umpire's "Play Ball!" However, spring is here to everyone except the candidates for the 1960 baseball team. For the past two weeks the practice sessions have been held in the gym as Coach Pinkowski hopes for the day when his boys can take to the field, pull the bats from hibernation, dust off the balls and get the practice sessions officially underway.

With just one week left before the season starts, Pinkowski would welcome a break in the weather so he can give his charges a taste of the ball against the bat and the "smack of the pill in the old pad."

Seven lettermen headline Coach Pinkowski's list of veterans with only three men playing for the last time. John Matthey, reserve catcher from last year, hopes to take over the first team chores this season. Matthey is being given stiff competition by Pete Lesiuk, a promising new contender.

Another senior member of the squad is hard-hitting centerfielder Ralph Hendershot of Larksville. Hendershot has been a leading member of the Colonel team for the past three years, and was voted the team's most valuable player for play in his sophomore year.

The second base-shortstop duo of Dick Harvey and Jerry Lawrence is returning to the squad, claiming to be in better form than last season. Veteran Bobby Ontko will be back to hold down the hot corner for another year.

Outfielder Paul Aquilino and pitcher Gene Matthews round out the list of returnees, along with pitcher George Gacha the only other senior member of the squad. Gacha will likely handle most of the pitching chores as he is the chucker with the greatest amount of experience. Matthews is expected to see plenty of action in a supporting role.

At the present time the pitching staff is in need of more help due to the tight schedule the team will encounter as the season progresses. An adequate mound corps can be the determining factor in the final overall record for the season's play.

Coach Pinkowski is also concerned about his outfield strength as Aquilino and Hendershot may be moved into other positions where their services would be needed.

First base is vacant and Pinkowski is toying with the idea of moving Aquilino to the initial sack.

The Colonels open the season at home next week as they meet defending Middle Atlantic champions Moravian in Artillery Park.

Gutterdusters Retain Top Spot, Pinbusters Move Into Second; Petrasek High with 605 Series

The Gutterdusters tightened their grip on first place in the Co-ed bowling league Sunday night, blasting the Smashers, 4-0. The on-rushing Pinbusters took over second place with a 3-1 win over former second place holders, the Blitzkriegs, who now hold third place.

Fifth and sixth places remained unchanged as the last place Flatballs whipped the Kingpins, 3-1. The Smashers are now in fourth, the Kingpins still hold fifth and the Flatballs are still entrenched in last place.

Gutterdusters 4, Smashers 0

Dan Lewis, 203-584, and Dick Myers, 181-533, led a come-from-behind win in the first game as they tripped the Smashers, 862-852. The Smashers had led by nearly 80 pins going into the closing frames, but saw their lead dwindle as Lewis, Myers, and Carl Borr struck out in the tenth frame to ice the win. John Sapiego and Bernie Radecki sparked the losers with 191-556 and 190-553.

Gutterdusters: Lewis 584, Myers 553, Lois Myers 158-439, John Rentschler 152 and 187, Carl Borr 169 and 180, and Bernie Shupp 153 and 145.

Smashers: Sapiego 556, Radecki 553, Mark Adelson 187-479, Andy Benoska 159-433, and Bob Licato 113-328.

Pinbusters 3, Blitzkriegs 1

What appeared to be a 2-2 split turned out to be a 3-1 win for the Pinbusters as a scoring error of ten pins was discovered in the third game. Emil Petrasek rolled another fine series, a 605 on games of 214, 209 and 182. Dave Sokira aided with a good 191-549. Bill Watkins had 203-547 for the Blitzkriegs and Fred Jacoby added 191-532 in the losing cause.

Dave Gozdiskowski started things off with a bang for the losers with a 232 game, but failed to keep up the pace and had to settle for a 497 series.

Pinbusters: Petrasek 605, Sokira 549, Jim Bogden 151-427, Bob Barovich 157 and 141, Tony Doknovich 170 and 125, and Roger Cease 145 and 116.

Blitzkriegs: Watkins 547, Jacoby 532, Gozdiskowski 232-497, Ed Stofko 170-407, and Jim Stephens 142-393.

Flatballs 3, Kingpins 1

Jerry Chisarick led the Flatballs in a 3-1 upset over the Kingpins with 200-529 while the short-handed losers were led by Jules Heller with 184-531. Tom "Dewey" Evans his his season's high mark, 232, but had bad luck in his other two games to finish with 446 for the Flatballs. Dick Barber rolled 177-509 to help bring in the win.

Flatballs: Chisarick 539, Barber 509, Evans 446, Carl Havira 133 and 158, John Matthey 130 and 123, and Anne Ligetti 107 and 129.

Kingpins: Heller 531, Jerry Kulesa 189-486, Tom Dysleski 154-437, and Joe Drozdowski 116-308.

Econ Club Bake Sale At P.P. & L. on April 13

by Patsy Rossi

Wouldn't you love to have some delicious ranger cookies or pineapple cookies? You can you know, and for only 45 cents a dozen. The cookies will be sold at the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company at 36 North Main Street on Wednesday, April 13.

The Economics Club is sponsoring this bake sale and members of the club will be there all day from 8:00 to 5:00 baking and selling the cookies. They will probably begin selling around 9:00 o'clock.

Chairman of the arrangements for the bake sale is Ann Znaniecki. Members of her committee are: Lois Schwartz, Sandra Dennis, Elaine Ostrowski, Betty Kraft, and Marian Caledonis.

If you like cookies, as most people do, and want some delicious ones, go over to the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company on April 13 and buy some from the Economics Club.

MR. JERVIS RECUPERATING

Mr. Bill Jervis, head of the maintenance crew, suffered a heart attack last Friday. He is recuperating at his home and resting comfortably.

This is the B-52. Advanced as it may be, this airplane has one thing in common with the first war-galleys of ancient Egypt...and with the air and space vehicles of the future. Someone must chart its course. Someone must navigate it.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards...as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant...and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

Drive Nears Goal; Lettermen, Gore Hall Contribute Toward Fund

by Cynthia Hagley

As of last Monday, the Development Fund had reached approximately $251,000. Included in this amount are Student contributions amounting to $1554. The Lettermen's Club and Gore Hall are outstanding in their contributions of $375 and $200, during the past five days.

The last report meeting of the Drive itself showed that 23 per cent of the prospective contributors had not been contacted yet. It will be another month or so before the final tally is known. As soon as the goal of $270,000 is reached, an announcement will be made.

Payment of student pledges should be made directly to the Alumni office. Tentatively, this payment program will start on April 1. If the individual student wishes to make special arrangements for paying the pledge, he is asked to contact Mr. Picton or his secretary. These payments are scheduled to end by June, 1961.

A number of favorable comments have been made by members of the community about student support of the Fund Drive. Mr. Picton stated that he was pleased with the student response to the campaign, and that the success of the drive in the light of others held in the Valley showed the support the college has locally.

Dr. Gaito to Present Last in Series Of Space Lectures

by Gloria Zaludek

Next Thursday evening in Stark Hall, Dr. John Gaito, member of the psychology department, will deliver the last in a series of three lectures concerning space travel.

His speech will be divided into three main topics: first, the effects of zero gravity—the psychophysiological condition of weightlessness—on behavior; second, the effects of sensory deprivation on behavior; and third, the selection and training of the astronaut.

The preceding lectures on the problems encountered in space flight were presented by Mr. Cromwell Thomas of the engineering department, who enumerated the physical aspects involved, and by Dr. Francis Michelini of the biology department, who explained the physiological conditions present in future space travels.

Journalism Workshop, Lectures at Misericordia

by Steve Cooney

College Misericordia will hold its third annual college press conference on the Dallas campus on April 9, with representatives from forty colleges attending.

The main events of the day will consist of the opening assembly followed by lectures and workshops on the various departments of the newspaper. Speakers will be prominent men in particular fields of the newspaper industry.

After the main business, a tea and social hour will be held for all of the representatives in attendance. The conference will begin at 1 p.m. and the social hour concluding activities will be at 4 p.m.

COLONEL GOLFERS

He expects such newcomers as John Adams, Richard Bellas, Mark Smulowitz, and John Pierce to give the veterans a run for positions on the squad. Other contenders who will be fighting for starting berths are Jerry Greaser and Mark Levy.

Coach Farrar is already looking forward to the two tournaments in which the linksmen will participate during the months of May.

The Middle Atlantic championships will be held May 9 at the Dupont-Louviers Country Club in Newark, Delaware. Wilkes will send a four-man squad to this event.

The following week on May 14, the Colonels will travel to Endicott, N.Y. for the Harpur Invitational Tournament. Seventeen colleges will be represented at this tourney, and Wilkes will be the only college from Pennsylvania. The team finished fourth in last year's play.

Prospects for the team's first winning season look extremely good if a break in the weather occurs and the incoming freshmen perform as expected.

Dr. Hammer to Preside At Teachers Conference

The thirty-eighth annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Liberal Arts Colleges for the Advancement of Teaching (PALACAT) will be held at the Harrisburg Hotel in Harrisburg on Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27.

Dr. Eugene L. Hammer, who is chairman of the Education Department at Wilkes, and president of PALACAT, will deliver the opening address at the initial session.

Dr. Hammer will preside at the dinner meeting on Friday and will introduce to the assembly the directors of certifications of teachers of Maryland, Delaware, and Pennsylvania—Dr. W. T. Boston of Baltimore, Dr. Elizabeth C. Lloyd of Dover, and J. F. Meister of Harrisburg.

Included in the two-day program will be a report on the Ohio Valley study entitled, "Today's Leaders Look at Tomorrow's Learning," admissions of the reciprocity Compacts signed recently, making it possible for teachers to find positions in eleven states in this region; a discussion of the Associated Organizations of Teacher Education, and a report of the U.S. Office of Education's talent search project.

Education leaders from fifty-four colleges and universities will attend the weekend meeting.

Retail Club at Hess Bros.

by Dave Roebuck

Mr. Frederick Flower and fifteen members of the College retailing classes toured the Hess Brothers department store in Allentown on Tuesday.

The field trip was sponsored by the Retailing Club and consisted of touring through the advertising, display, receiving, marking and other behind-the-scenes aspects of the store. They also observed the selling floors of the business.

The club plans other similar trips in the future.

"Springtime in Dixieland" To Be Held at Gym Tonight

by Jim Jackiewicz

Dixieland music, a jam session, and a performance by the Kickline will be the feature of the Interdormitory Council dance party, "Springtime in Dixieland," which will be held tonight in the gymnasium from 9 p.m. to midnight.

Dave Peters

Bobby Baird and his Dixieland combo, a well-known group in Northeastern Pennsylvania, will provide music for the first dance of the Spring season. Anyone who is interested is invited to bring his instrument and join a jam session that will take place during the evening's proceedings.

Dave Peters, general chairman, and his committee chose the "Springtime in Dixieland" theme because of the music's being strictly Dixieland, and this being the first Friday night activity this Spring. The decorations bear out the theme further. A huge, multi-colored jazz-note backdrop will be erected behind the bandstand and street lamps, dispersed throughout the gym, will add to the Basin Street effect. The Wilkes Colonel will make his appearance in furthering the Southern flavor.

The Kickline, led by Jan Bronson, will provide an interesting diversion at intermission. Since the Kickline has its own combo, for accompaniment, there will be two musical groups performing at the affair.

Assisting committee heads are: Vince Capo, tickets; Skip Gladstone, refreshments; George Gavales, band; Miss Bronson, decorations; and Marie Realmuto, publicity.
