BUDGET REVIEWED

Administration's Veto Aired by Government; Carnival Site Approved

by Lee Baiera

At the regular meeting of the Wilkes Student Government, one of the most important discussions centered around the rejection of the proposed Extracurricular Activities Budget by the Administrative Council. The action taken by the Administrative Council was the first of its kind in recent years.

The Administrative Council approved the budget with the exception of the $100 contingency fund. This contingency fund is money set aside as a buffer in case of emergencies. The Administrative Council suggested that this fund should be raised to $200 by decreasing the original $1000 Manuscript budget by $100.

George Black, editor of the Manuscript, was present at the meeting and added to the discussion by enumerating the policies of the Manuscript and by stating that the increase in the Manuscript's budget has been gradual. Although he said that the Manuscript would oppose the $100 cut, he did state that the cutting of the Manuscript's budget would cut its capacity to publish an adequate literary magazine. Black also commented that other colleges, smaller than Wilkes, published a larger magazine.

Winter Carnival

Another important topic of discussion was the Winter Carnival which will be held on January 29 at Poconom Mountain Inn from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. The total cost of this affair will be $200 which will be taken from the student activities fund. All students wishing to ski or skate should supply their own equipment. Refreshment and entertainment will be provided. Transportation will be provided by buses.

All College Dance

The forthcoming All College Dance on January 2 from 9 to 12 was also discussed. The general chairman of this dance is Bill Davis. Assisting him are Rhea Politis, chaperons; Cynthia Dyleski, publicity; Marty Menegus, music; Charles Sorber, decorations; Mike Bianco, refreshments; and Gordon Roberts, entertainment. Music will be provided by Jack Melton and his twelve-piece band.

Charles Sorber, a member of the sophomore class, was recognized as a new member of the Student Government.

Since this is Bob Morris' last semester at school and Barbara Federer has resigned from the Student Government because of illness, the dates of the nominations and elections of two senior members of the Student Government were decided. On December 11 the nominations for the two senior representatives will be held, and on January 8 elections will take place in Chase Theater. Post cards will be sent to those senior accounting majors who will not be able to vote at this time.

STUDENT BLOOD DONOR DAY TODAY AT RED CROSS HOUSE

by Richard J. Myers

Today is the day when over 1,000 Wilkes students have an opportunity to help their community to help others. Never has there been a more worthy cause than the blood-bank insurance program instituted by the college.

The South Franklin Street home of the Wilkes-Barre Chapter of the American Red Cross will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. today for students to help fill the blood insurance supply for themselves and their families.

The program works on a deposit and withdrawal basis. Each pint of blood donated by a Wilkes student or faculty member represents a pint of blood credited to the needs of not only the donors, but even the needs of the families of Wilkes people. Whatever is used, however, must be replaced.

In past years, participation by Wilkes students has fallen off considerably. John Reese, chairman of the campus drive, stated that he would like to see this lack of participation erased this year.

Past years have seen competition for percentage of donors between clubs and organizations on campus, but it has been said that such donations should not have to come as the result of artificial inducement, rather from the free will of the people who are most likely to benefit from the program, should the need ever arise.

The freshman class has served official notice that they intend to present the most solid performance as they attempt to get the highest percentage of donations from their ranks.

Officials at the local Red Cross chapter are quick to realize the fears some people may entertain at the thought of giving their blood. They cite two important factors to dispell the fear.

One: the body is supplied with approximately a gallon and three or four pints. The pint taken will not damage the body in any way by its absence. Further more, the liquid will be replaced in about 24 hours.

Two: modern processing techniques permit almost indefinite storage of the vital fluid. This enables the organization to preserve blood whole or as plasma and the operation of the usage procedures allows a wide range of storage and transportation methods designed to get the blood where it is needed in the shortest possible time.

Best selling point of all is the simple, truthful statement, "It doesn't hurt a bit."

Plans Nearly Complete For Christmas Formal

by Richard J. Myers

Men of Wilkes are warned that time and tickets for the annual Lettermen's formal dance are running out. The limited ticket supply is reported to be dwindling fast, but the remaining ducats are still in circulation and can be purchased from any letterman.

Time, of course, continues on its relentless march to the magic date, Friday, December 12. All arrangements have been made to ease the task of preparing for attendance at one of the most popular events of the school calendar.

General co-chairman Carl Zoolkowski and Bob Yokavonus have put the committees to work arranging for decorations, favors, program, entertainment, refreshments, and have left no stones unturned in providing ways and means of getting flowers and wearing apparel. The only thing a Wilkes man has to locate for himself is a date.

Millie Gittins, charming proprietress of the Bookstore, has a list posted in her domain telling of the best in corsage bargains, while Baum's and John B. Stetz offer a wide selection of men's formal attire to suit any form, any pocketbook.

Millie will perform yeoman duty for the Lettermen as she takes over the keyboard at intermission to play for the traditional caroling by the entire membership of the Lettermen's Club.

Naturally, old Kris Kringle will make his annual appearance, complete with a big bag of gifts. The Lettermen are rather close-mouthed about the nature of these favors, but they promise that they will be the best mementos of the formal ever given.

The identity of the man behind the beard is another well-guarded secret, but he will be unveiled before the dance ends at one a.m. He will add the final touch to the Christmas and winter decorations which will thrill those who attend. The general theme of the decorations will be a country road painted on the backdrop, while a 25-foot, fully-trimmed tree will grace the center of the gymnasium.

Committees responsible for the seemingly endless preparations include: Ron Ercolani, invitations; Mike Dydo, chaperones; Rodger Lewis, favors; Joe Hiznay and Ira Himmel, program; Pat Shovlin, tickets; Bernie Wahalla and John Harvey, decorations; Joe Hiznay, entertainment; Fred Williams, refreshments; Ray Yanchus and Lou Davis, table decorations; and Carl Havira, publicity.

IDC Christmas Party Will be Next Thursday Evening in Commons

by Connie Stukowski

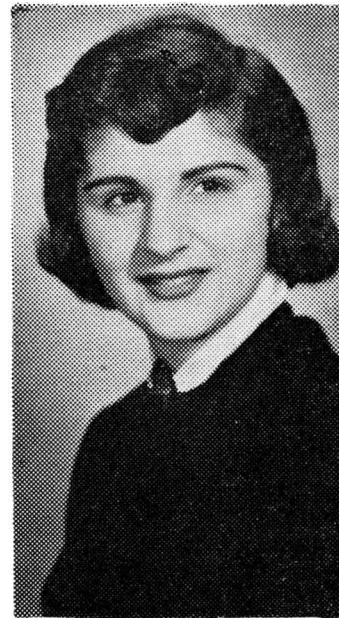

All students and faculty members interested in taking part in some holiday gaiety and cheer are cordially invited to attend the Inter-Dormitory Council's Christmas party next Thursday evening, December 11, from 8 to 12 o'clock in the Commons.

This year's party, according to co-chairmen Mary Louise Spinelli and Hugh Gladstone, will be bigger and better than ever. First and most important, all students and faculty members of Wilkes College are eligible to attend the party free of charge.

For the gourmets of Wilkes a tasty buffet style meal will be served. Those attending will also

Following through with their theme the Psychology-Sociology and History Clubs, who are jointly sponsoring the dance, promise a full evening of dancing and refreshments and a "low overhead" admission price of only fifty cents. This meager admission charge will be accomplished mainly by a streamlined budget, and through the use of "plain pipe racks" (for coats.)

Because of the upcoming Lettermen's Formal, and the holiday season, the clubs felt that student

be treated to a change in atmosphere, for the Commons will be transformed into a candle-lighted wonderland decked out with evergreens and holly.

Another feature of this year's party is the program of entertainment. Dr. Thatcher of the Wilkes faculty and Millie Gittins will render piano selections. A popular orchestra will be on hand to provide music for dancing. Also included on the program are caroling and group singing. As an extra treat, Santa Claus will be present.

The planning and coordinating of this year's Christmas party is being handled by the Inter-Dormitory Council. Two representatives from each dormitory are working to make the affair a success. Band and entertainment are being taken care of by Sterling and Ashley Halls; decorations by Butler, Catlin, and Gore Halls; publicity by Weiss and Barre Halls; refreshments by McClintock and Warner Halls; and invitations by Weckesser Hall.

funds will be low and a bargain dance would fit the occasion.

Dancing will be from nine to twelve, and a local ensemble known as the "Blue Notes" will be on the bandstand for the evening. Intermission programs at many of the dances this year have been very long and drawn out, so the "Robert Holly Hop" will feature continuous dancing music for the entire evening.

Art Evans and John Gavazzi are co-general chairmen for the dance assisted by the following committee chairmen: Don Devins and Pat Hemenway, publicity; Gil Davis and Judy Alinkoff, refreshments; Don Brandt and Judy Coplan, entertainment; Tom Hick and Bob Davis, tickets.

The Cue 'n' Curtain play, "Annie Get Your Gun", and the dance will both take place on Friday night, but students can go to the dance (for fifty cents) on Friday and see the play Saturday, thereby having a whole weekend of fun and entertainment with no great strain on the purse strings.

NOTICE

S.A.M. (Society for the Advancement of Management) a new organization on campus, will have an organization meeting this Wednesday, December 10, 1958, at 12:15, Room 203 of Pickering Hall. All persons interested are urged to attend.

The BEACON staff, as well as the students and faculty of Wilkes, wishes to express its deepest sympathy to Dave Thomas and his family on their tragic loss.

EDITORIAL —

Closed Doors?

Two weeks ago the Administrative Council rejected the Student Government's proposed extra-curricular activities budget. The budget then went back into committee. The new Student Government Constitution states that meetings of the government are open to all students — yet we were not allowed to sit in on the meeting.

We had no intention of contributing our two cents worth to the discussion, we just wanted to hear what went on, and we feel that we were completely within our rights in asking this. In our opinion there is no reason to have closed meetings of any part of the Student Government — full session or committee meeting.

The Student Government is composed of representatives of the student body, they are not a group of individuals chatting over a cup of tea at a social. Every decision made in committee or in a regular session of the Student Government concerns the students and they should have the right to see how these decisions are made.

We hope that this matter will be discussed by the government and that their decision is included in the constitution.

'LOCAL GOVERNMENT' DISCUSSED TUESDAY

by Phyllis Iannuzzo

At the December second Wilkes College assembly, Dr. Hugo Mailey addressed the student body. The topic he chose to speak on was "Local Government."

The program was opened with a hymn and a reading from the Bible. Dr. Farley read a few announcements and introduced Dr. Mailey. Dr. Mailey stated that political office holders cannot be professionals because they would not have the people at heart but would be interested only in their personal gain.

He also stated that definite trends are being shown toward planning and that unplanned communities are expensive places to live in. Planning is done on a regional basis using such devices as zoning and housing programs. Local officials are putting more emphasis on the future. The different systems of government used in this area and the percentages of cities using them are: 41% of cities have mayors, and 40% of cities use the manager system. The manager system is moving up at the rate of 2 and 3% a year.

Tax Clinic on Campus Today and Saturday; Guest Speakers Listed

by Jean Shofranko

The fifth annual Tax Clinic of the Northeastern Chapter of the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants will be held today and Saturday in Stark Hall.

The two-day tax clinic is held annually and has as its purpose the furthering of an understanding of taxation by providing a common meeting ground for CPA's, public accountants, attorneys, and bankers of Luzerne and Lackawanna Counties.

At the opening session of the Clinic this morning, Frederick A. Schwarz, president of the Northeastern Chapter, gave the welcome address. Dr. Samuel A. Rosenberg, head of the Commerce and Finance department at Wilkes, then welcomed the guests on behalf of the college.

Robert E. Cusick, Esq., of the legal division, Corporation Tax Bureau, Pennsylvania Department of Revenue, addressed the group on "The Manufacturing Exemption Under the Pennsylvania Capital Stock and Franchise Taxes."

This morning's session concluded with an address about "The Technical Changes Act of 1958 — As It Affects Individuals," given by Harry S. Gross, certified public accountant of Link, Gross & Co., Philadelphia.

This afternoon Sidney I. Roberts, Esq. and CPA of Roberts and Holland, New York, will speak about "Subchapter S — Election of Certain Small Business Corporations as to Taxable Status."

The opening session Saturday morning will begin with an interesting discussion by Raymond D. Graichen, CPA with Lybrand, Ross Brothers and Montgomery, Philadelphia, concerning "Corporate Liquidations Under Sections 333, 334, 337." Later that morning Benjamin B. Levin, Esq. and CPA of Benjamin B. Levin, Philadelphia, will speak about "Changes in Partnership Structure — Tax Aspects."

At the final session of the Tax Clinic, Saturday, Henry L. Schnedler, CPA with Peat Marwick, Mitchell & Co., Philadelphia, will speak about "Small Business Tax Revision Act of 1958 and Timely Provisions of the Technical Amendment Act of 1958."

Following each session a discussion period will be held. Displays of business machines will also be featured at the Clinic.

Sponsors of the Clinic are the Northeastern Chapter of the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Commerce and Finance Department of Wilkes College.

THETA DELTA RHO TO HOLD OLD PEOPLE'S YULE PARTY

by Marilyn Krackenfels

The first event on the Christmas agenda of TDR sorority is the annual "Old People's Party," which is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon between the hours of two and four. The affair, fast becoming a TDR tradition, has been held annually for the past several years.

The party was initiated with the purpose of bringing a little Christmas cheer into the lives of elderly residents of the various homes in the region.

McClintock Hall, site of this year's affair, will be "decked out" in appropriate decorations which will include a beautifully decorated Christmas tree.

One of the novelties which TDR has planned is the appearance of Santa Claus, in the person of Don Murray, who will distribute small gifts to each of the guests of honor. Men of Gore Hall are aiding in this affair by acting as the chauffeurs. This year the oldsters will be coming from the Sutton Home for Men and the Old Ladies' Home.

The Girls' Chorus, under the direction of Jean Pyatt, will provide entertainment. In addition to this, both the honored guests and TDR members will participate in group singing of various Christmas favorites.

Mary Louise Spinelli, general chairman of the party, is being assisted by the following committee heads: refreshments, Mary Rose Sidari; favors, Pat Fushek; invitations, Elisabeth Schwartz; entertainment, Gayle Jacobson; publicity, Marion Klawonn; house arrangements, Maryanne Lavelle; clean-up, Betsy Hoeschele.

The party is open to all members of TDR, and it is hoped that all who can, will attend. There will be no charge.

Dr. Rosenberg Honored For Many Local Services

by Jean Shofranko

Dr. Samuel A. Rosenberg, Professor of Economics and Head of the Commerce and Finance Department, is being honored by the Beacon this month for his outstanding work in both college and community affairs.

Dr. Rosenberg, a familiar figure on campus, is especially well known to Commerce and Finance students who have battled their way through Economic Statistics. In addition to his duties as an instructor, Dr. Rosenberg is Assistant in Student Placement.

Numerous editorials have honored Dr. Rosenberg in local newspapers. The Times-Leader Evening News, September 6, has said, "Pennsylvania is fortunate a man of his calibre is available."

The many professional organizations with which Dr. Rosenberg is affiliated include the American Economic Association, Economic History Association, Virginia Social Science Association, National Education Association, Beta Alpha Psi, Honorary Accounting Fraternity, Eastern Commercial Teachers Association, and Director of the Southeastern Cooperative League.

Included in his various professional capacities are positions held as Field Supervisor of the U.S.A. Department of State, Technical Consultant of the North Carolina Council, Consultant of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, Technical Adviser of the American Missionary Association, and Economic Adviser to the Relief Administrator in Europe and Africa, UNRRA.

Dr. Rosenberg's non-professional affiliations include Chairmanship of the Idea Committee of the Wyoming Valley Chamber of Commerce, participation in Labor-Management Forums, membership in the Regional Planning Committee of the Wyoming Valley Chamber of Commerce, membership in the Torch Club, membership of the Board of Trustees of B'nai B'rith Congregation, and membership in the Organized Internship Program for Accountants.

Dr. Rosenberg has written many articles dealing with economics, housing surveys, co-operative associations in both the United States and foreign countries, education, credit unions, and bookkeeping.

Dr. Rosenberg was born in Boston, Mass. He received his B.B.A. and M.B.A. degrees from Boston University. He was awarded his Ph.D. degree by the University of North Carolina.

Dr. Rosenberg resides in Kingston with his wife, the former Lillian K. Feinberg.

Letter to the Editor . . .

Dear Seniors:

It is with sincere regret that the Student Government accepts the resignation of Barbara Federer, senior representative to the Student Government. Her letter of resignation follows:

"I wish to submit to the Student Government my resignation as the representative of the Senior Class, I regret that conditions of health necessitate this action."

I feel that many of us in the Senior Class do not fully realize the excellent representation Miss Federer has given us during the past two years. For example, last year in addition to performing her regular duties, she was Secretary to the Student Government. During the present year, she was Corresponding Secretary; Chairman of the Freshman Advisory Committee; the Policies Committee; the Entertainment Committee of the Come and Meet Us Dance; and a member of the Planning Committee for Homecoming. The above are only titles, they really do not give a true picture of all she had done. In addition to giving freely of time and energy to the above duties, Barbara was always ready and willing to assist in any matter brought before the Student Government.

I would like to publicly thank Barbara for, without her, much that has been accomplished during the past two years would have gone undone.

Seniors, this brings us to another matter. Tuesday evening the Student Government decided that the

SPIRIT, BIO CLUBS PLAN GAY EVENING

by Cynthia Hagley

Something new has been added to the School Spirit Committee program this semester. On December 10, the committee is sponsoring an evening of caroling on the college campus with the whole-hearted support of the Biology Club.

The caroling will commence at 7:15 in front of the gymnasium. The group expects to start at Gore Hall and work their way on up to McClintock Hall. The evening will end with refreshments at Catlin Hall.

Needless to say, the whole affair is opened to anyone on campus who can warble a note. The evening is guaranteed to be full of fun for everyone in attendance. All those who will not be able to go caroling are cordially invited by the committee to come to Catlin Hall afterwards and share the refreshments and relaxation.

To miss this diversion from the week's activities would be a great loss, especially in this holiday season.

Senior Class shall hold nominations to fill TWO positions on the Student Government at the regular class meeting Thursday, December 11 at 11:00 in Room 203, Pickering Hall. Elections will then be held on January 8 in Chase Theater. More details will be explained at the Class meeting on Thursday. Please make it a point to be present.

Buffet-Style Supper For TDR on Tuesday; Yule Program Planned

Theta Delta Rho's Buffet will be held next Tuesday evening in the Commons at 6 p.m. The traditional party-supper will feature home-cooked food donated by sorority members.

Mary Ellen Zweibel, chairman of the food committee, has announced that sorority members may leave refreshments in the kitchen of the Commons any time Tuesday. Such things as cold meat, baked beans, salad, cookies and cake will be donated by sorority members.

Entertainment during the evening will include group carol singing and a reading of the Christmas story.

Traditional Christmas decorations will grace the walls of the Commons and each table will also be gaily attired in Christmas regalia.

Committees in charge of the affair are: Mary Ellen Zweibel, food; Jean Shofranko, house; Moncey Miller and Marcia Senderovitz, entertainment; Marion Klawonn, publicity; Judy Ruggere, decorations; Cynthia Hagley, clean-up.

Butler Men Give Party Funds To Bolster Jaycees' Charity; Additional Gifts Still Needed

The annual Jaycee-sponsored drive for articles for Retreat Hospital patients was given a substantial boost by the men of Butler Hall at a party at that dorm on Tuesday evening, November 25. Admission to the party was a donation to the hospital.

Music for the informal affair was provided by the Ambassadors, comprised of several members of the music department. Miss Millie Gittins and Mr. Robert Tener, proctor of Butler, chaperoned, while the general chairman for the party was Ira Himmel.

Among the items donated to the drive at the party were: seventeen phonograph records and an album, shirts, ties, scarves, men's socks, stationery, playing cards, magazines, women's and men's jewelry, cosmetics, and books.

The Jaycees have announced that members of the organization will be on hand all day today in the gym to receive telephone calls to collect any available items. Local radio stations will inform their listeners of the current drive as an additional aid.

Men who will be at the gym today are: 9-11, Mike Melchior, Dick Salus, and Paul Schechter; 10-12, Bob Pitel; 12-2, Mike Goobic; 12-3, Ira Himmel; 12-1, Frank Steck; 1-4, J. Suseck; 3-4, Bob Dominick; 3-5, M. Suseck; 4-5, D. Wasserman, Jim Moser, Ira Himmel and Paul Schechter.

JAYCEE XMAS PARTY

Members of the Wilkes Jaycees will hold a special Christmas party next Friday at the dining commons. Guests at the party will be some deserving children of the area who will be presented with gifts.

Dick Salus, chairman of the party, has announced that members of the organization will donate home made baked goods and will distribute ice cream and beverages. Gifts will be distributed to the children by Santa himself.

An entertaining program is being planned for the occasion.

PUBLIC LIBRARY ANNOUNCES POLICY

The Osterhout Library of Wilkes-Barre has announced that effective January 1, 1959, free borrowing privileges will be available only to residents of the city of Wilkes-Barre. Non-residents will be charged an annual nominal fee.

Persons residing outside the city can get a borrower's card at the following rates: adults, $3.00; students (including dorm residents and commuters), $2.00; family, $4.00.

In making this announcement, the Board of Directors of the Library added that it regretted the necessity of this step, but increased operational costs make the fees necessary. The fees do not apply to areas in the library where a borrower's card is not necessary, as in the use of reference books and periodicals in the library building.

BERLIN HIT BASED ON TRUE STORY

Tunes, Sparkling Story Made Show a Success Throughout the World

Hailed by critics as Irving Berlin's greatest musical comedy success, "Annie Get Your Gun," Cue 'n' Curtain's current production, sparkles with music, romance, and guns.

The play, honored by theatre-goers with a 144-week run on Broadway, is based on the real life story of Annie Oakley, America's most famous markswoman who could shoot "the fuzz off'n a peach" with her trusty rifle. The play comes from the pens of the famed brother-sister writing team of Herbert and Dorothy Fields, who wrote it specifically as a vehicle for well-known songstress Ethel Merman.

The glamour and excitement of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show during its American and European tours of the late nineteenth century provides the background for the musical. The story relates how sharpshooter Annie proves herself an equal to the show's crack shot, Frank Butler. A romance blooms between the two, yet, it is almost destroyed because of their professional rivalry until Annie realizes that "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun."

As a composer, Irving Berlin needs little introduction to America's lovers of pops. Since his first big hit back in 1911, "Alexander's Ragtime Band," he has written literally hundreds of songs, including: "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," "God Bless America," perennial favorites "White Christmas" and "Easter Parade," "Say It With Music," and "This Is the Army." His score for "Annie" treats the public to more of his fine achievements in song.

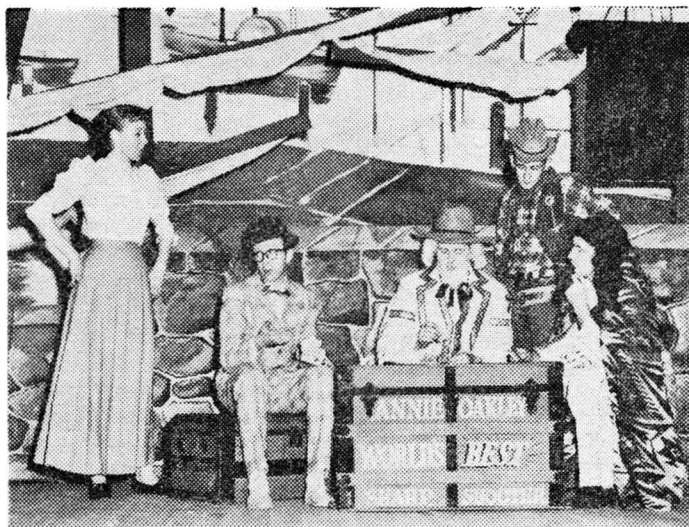

"Annie Get Your Gun" opened its noteworthy Broadway run on May 16, 1946, with Ethel Merman and Ray Middleton in the principal roles. Widespread praise of the production brought about the formation of a London company (starring Dolores Gray) which continued there for some 500 performances, and a number of touring companies throughout the United States. When the Broadway production closed its doors on February 12, 1949, it had played to approximately 1,500,000 persons for a box office gross of $6,000,000.

The production was also staged and well-received in France, Denmark, Australia, Sweden, and South Africa. Millions of others were able to view the production via Hollywood and the M.G.M. musical of 1950 which starred Betty Hutton and Howard Keel.

The history of this spectacular show is far from ended, as it has been performed many times recently. Mary Martin and John Raitt revived the show during the summer of 1957 on the west coast, and the same two stars were featured in a television 'spectacular' of the show on Thanksgiving Eve, 1957.

"Annie" was revived in New York early this year as the first of a series of musicals at City Center. It has also been featured recently in Vienna, where Brenda Lewis, a former Metropolitan Opera singer, played the lead with German dialogue.

All the facts and statistics about the show only underscore the general feeling about it. It is a "r-r-really big" production with a fabulous record behind it and undoubtedly will continue to amuse and thrill millions, on both local and national scenes.

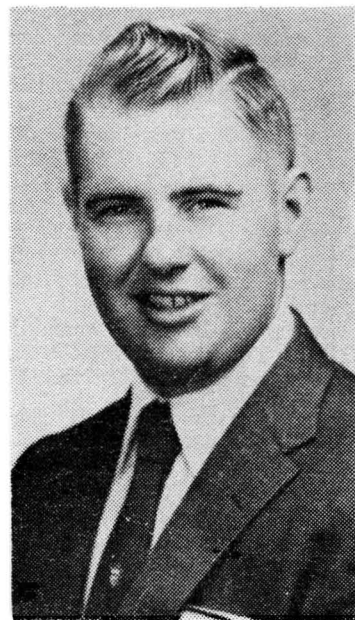

ABOVE — Annie is asking why she has to share a stateroom with two Buffaloes on the trip from abroad. Steve Cooney, center, portrays the role of Buffalo Bill Cody in the play. The company is returning triumphant, but broke, from a tour abroad. The 'card table' is a chest full of medals won by Annie on the trip.

Talented Cast In Cue 'n' Curtain Musical

Fred Malkemes, left, encourages the crowd to welcome Buffalo Bill's Wild West show in the opening number of Annie. Malkemes, as Charlie Davenport, is preparing the way for the local shooting match between Frank Butler, played by Wayne Walters, and the local sharpshooter Annie Oakley, played by Barbara Cusick.

Judy Blutman, as Dolley Tate, is shown above with Fred Malkemes and John Salva in the scalping scene from 'Annie'. Dolly was caught tampering with Annie's gun.

Malkemes, Stickler and Salva Play Feature Roles Supporting Barbara Cusick, Wayne Walters

by Cynthia Hagley

Among the main characters appearing in "Annie Get Your Gun" are three veterans of Cue 'n' Curtain productions, Fred Malkemes, Gene Stickler and John Salva.

Gene Stickler

Fred Malkemes

John Salva

Fred Malkemes is now appearing as Charlie Davenport in "Annie Get Your Gun", the manager of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. Some of the plays he appeared in before included "Shoemaker's Holiday" in which he played the Earl of Lincoln, "Paint Your Wagon" in the role of Salem Trumbull and in "Holiday" as Ned Seton for which he won an "oscar" for best supporting actor. Fred is president of Cue 'n' Curtain and is also in the Wilkes Collegians. His major is English.

Gene Stickler is appearing in "Annie Get Your Gun" as Foster Wilson, the hotel proprietor in Act I. He has appeared as Sandy in "Paint Your Wagon", Lane Ralph in "Shoemaker's Holiday" for which he won the "oscar" for best supporting actor. Gene is majoring in Philosophy and Religion and is President of his dorm, Barre Hall.

John Salva is portraying Chief Sitting Bull in "Annie", a member of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. He also appeared in "Paint Your Wagon". John is secretary of the Wilkes Collegians. He is a Secondary Education Major.

Key members of the play are as follows: Annie Oakley, Barbara Cusick; Frank Butler, Wayne Walters; Buffalo Bill, Steve Cooney; Charlie Davenport, Fred Malkemes; Foster Wilson, Gene Stickler; Pawnee Bill, Robert Stevens; Sitting Bull, John Salva; Dolly Tate, Judy Blutman; Mac, Mike Kunen; Sylvia Potter, Jocelyn King; Annie's sisters, Valentine Williams, Sally Smith, Jerry Baird; Little Jake, Johnnie Rosensweig; Tommy, Joey Chwalek. These people are aided and abetted by a fine chorus and group of dancers.

This play is under the very capable direction of Mr. Alfred Groh, assistant professor of English and drama coach here at Wilkes. Mr. William Crowder, music teacher at G.A.R. High School and graduate of Wilkes College, is directing the 24-voice chorus in the play. The pit orchestra is under the direction of Mr. William Gasbarro, a member of the Wilkes Music Department. Miss Barbara Weisberger from the Wilkes-Barre Ballet Guild is choreographer of the show.

Little known to the public is the fact that there are 45 speaking roles in "Annie Get Your Gun", 8 of these are major singing roles. This presents a marvelous opportunity for Cue 'n' Curtain to show off the varied talents of its members.

The show is being performed in Irem Temple four nights this week, the last two nights being Friday and Saturday. Curtain goes up at 8:30 for one of the best evening's entertainment ever to be presented by the Cue 'n' Curtain in conjunction with the Kiwanis Club.

Nick Giordano Leads In Balloting To Win 2nd Athlete of Week Award

Margin for 7th Win Depends on Boot by Star Center Forward

by George Tensa

Nick Giordano's aggressive performance against a strong Bucknell team earned him his second "Athlete of the Week" award of the 1958 season. He set the stage for the Colonels' 7th victory when, midway in the first period, he received a pass from Carl Havira and promptly banged it past the bewildered Bucknell goalie to give Coach Ferris' charges an early lead.

The senior co-captain, Wilkes' redundant scoring center forward, is no stranger to the "Athlete of the Week" award as this marks the seventh time in his four years at Wilkes that he has won the coveted award.

The goal against Bucknell was number eleven for the season and should be a strong talking point when nominations for the "All-Middle Atlantic" squad are made. For the past two seasons, Nick has won honorable mention on this squad, but through his assertive play and leadership on the soccer field, he should rank high on everyone's ballot for top laurels this season.

This is Nick's fourth season on the Colonel soccer team. He broke into the starting lineup in his freshman year alternating between inside left and inside right. The 1956 season found him as the starting center forward, a position he has held ever since.

The scrappy athlete, a native of Naples, Italy, graduated from Kingston High School, class of '55, where he lettered in track.

He is a 21 year old senior seeking an A.B. in Biology and hopes to

INTRAMURAL CAGE LOOP SEEKS PLAYERS

Director of intramural sports John Reese announces that team rosters will now be accepted for teams that wish to participate in the basketball program.

Also needed before the teams get into any action, is a student director and officials. Both the officials and the student director receive monetary allowances for the services plus valuable experience in officiating at sporting events. Last year's league winners, the Neki-Hoki's are expected to enter another strong team. All erstwhile opponents are warned to beware of their aggressive style of playing.

SHAWNEES CHAMPS OF TOUCH GRID LOOP

The curtain fell on the Intramural football season last week with the high-flying Shawnees gaining a forfeit victory over the Chem Knights as the Knights were unable to field a team. This victory gave the tall men from Plymouth an unblemished record and the Intramural championship.

Members of the Shawnee squad are Captain Fran Mikolanis, Ron Roski, Tom Pugh, Leon Cyganowski, Jim Stephens, George Tensa, Richard Foy, Walt Angielski, Jay Olexy, Frank Rolanoski, and Tom Evans.

Final Intramural standings:

Petrasek Bids for Bowling Honors With High Single Game, High Series

Bowling during the past two weeks served only to tighten the Pinbusters' grip on first place as they swept four from the Teetotalers on November 23, then took an automatic four points last week, on their night off.

The races for individual honors were considerably closer, however. Dan Lewis' league-leading 187 average is being threatened seriously by sophomore Emil Petrasek, whose sizzling pace over the past weeks has brought him to within five points of Lewis, on a 182 average.

Petrasek is bidding for the triple scoring crown, as he holds the high marks for single game — a red-hot — 255 — and for high three-game series — 646. Each of these marks were set on different nights and will stand as a real challenge for marksmen aiming to grab the individual honors themselves.

GAMES NOV. 30

In last Sunday's action, the Bio Club took over sole possession of third place with a 4-0 sweep over the Tenpins, who are in fourth. The Playboys won a 3-1 victory over the Raiders. The Goldbricks turned in a similar 3-1 win over the Teetotalers to put the Raiders and Teetotalers in a tie for last place.

GAMES NOV. 23

On November 23, the Pinbusters, behind Petrasek's 224, 232, and 190 shut out the Teetotalers, 4-0. John Sapiego added 215-552 to Petrasek's 646 for the win. Dick Myers was high man for the losers with 175-454.

On the same night, the Tenpins, behind John Kuhar's 199-565, took the measure of the Goldbricks. Captain Dan Lewis was high for the losing team with 184-527.

Rounding out the action, the Bio Club and the Playboys fought to a 2-2 deadlock. Warren Denman sparked the Playboys with 190-527 and Ron McKennon was close behind with 187-524.

Hill Hoffman led the Bio Club on 200-540 and Rose Weinstein chipped in with 184-489.

SCORING RACE

The top scorers in the league have become fairly settled, with few changes in position, while their averages generally climb higher each week. Still in first is Dan Lewis with 187. Tied for second are Petrasek and Hill Hoffman at 182, with Petrasek's higher total pins giving him the edge.

Warren Denman holds the fourth slot on 172. John Sapiego rounds out the top five with a 169 mark.

Joe Shemanski moved from 7th to 6th, hiking his average to 165, displacing John Kuhar who holds 7th with 164. Ron Phillips moved from 11th place to tie Kuhar for 7th, but trails Kuhar in total pins.

Fred Jacoby's 163 puts him in the 9th position, Pete Maholik is 10th with 162, and Gil Gregory moved from 13th to 11th as he hit the 160 mark squarely last week. The team standings:

Pinbusters	28	4	.875	..
Playboys	22	10	.688	6
Bio Club	19	13	.594	9

Cagers Triumph Over Lycoming, 79 to 72

Booters End Year In Overtime Win Over Bucknell U.

Coach Jim Ferris and his booters wrote a successful finish to the 1958 season, taking a thrilling, 2-1 overtime victory over the Bucknell Bisons.

The victory was the seventh of the last eight contests and the two goals were the 25th and 26th of the year. The Colonels held the opposition throughout the season to a mere total of twelve in ring-ing up a 7-3 record, best in Wilkes history.

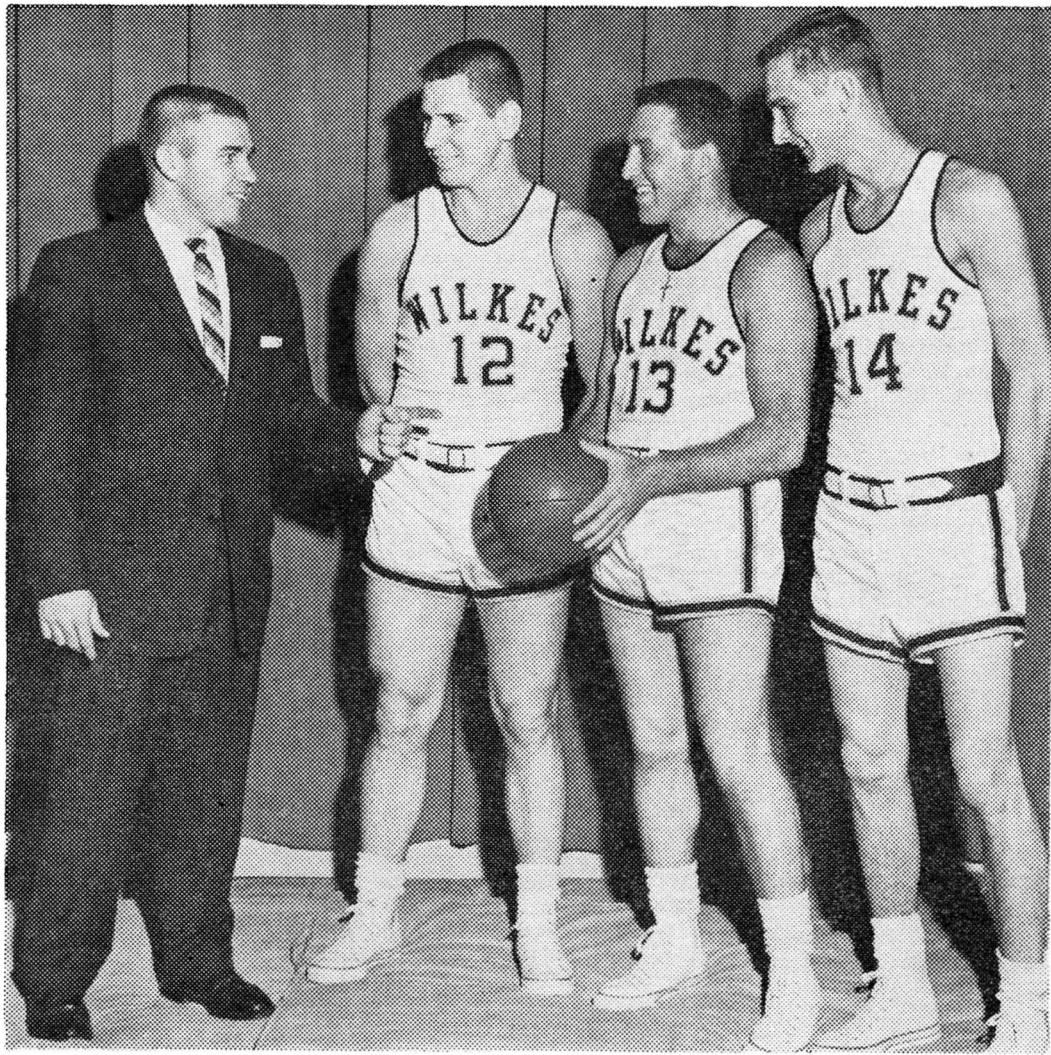

The Bucknell game, played be-fore a fair-sized, chilled home crowd on November 22, ended in a 1-1 tie. The Colonels jumped to a 1-0 lead with only minutes gone by when Carl Havira arched a neat pass to Nick Giordano, who rifled a bullet-shot past the Bisons' goalie.

The Wilkes offense continued to dominate the game through the remainder of the first half, keeping the pressure on Sharp, the Buck-nell goalie.

The tide turned after the half-time intermission, however. The Bisons put on a sustained drive, but the Colonels managed to stall each scoring threat throughout the third period and much of the fourth. Late in the final period, however, the Bisons ganged up on goalie Bob Payne and banged in a goal to tie the match.

At the conclusion of the regula-tion 88-minute game, the score re-mained knotted at 1-1. In the second overtime period, after several serious threats, Evan Pappa-nicholas booted a corner shot to Havira, whose head shot won the game.

Coach Eddie Davis and his three co-captains: Radecki, Gacha, and Mikolanis.

Susquehanna U. Here Tomorrow at 8 p.m., Team Travels Monday

by Morgan R. Davis, Sports Editor

The Wilkes cagers walked off the home hardwoods Wednesday in the same manner they left it eight times last season, victorious. Keep-ing up their home winning stretch, the Blue and Gold ran hard, shot well, and fought gamely. Even though a last second goal was registered by Lycoming the final score read Wilkes 79, Lycoming 71.

Led by the amazing jump shot of Fran Mikolanis, the home team jumped off to an early lead which they never relinquished. Mikola-nis' deadly corner shot broke the resistance of the Lycoming Bears in the first half, when in a matter of 60 seconds he poured three long attempts through the hoop.

George Gacha played his usual fine floor game, and also contrib-uted 18 points. George displayed excellent ball-handling near the climax of the contest when Ly-coming went to an all-court press.

Ron Roski, ex-Plymouth cager, came through in a banner manner, taking over for the the departed George Morgan and scoring 17 big points.

Also main factors in the opening victory were Bernie Radecki with 10 points and rugged Barry Yocum with 7 of the 79 points.

Tomorrow the Wilkes five takes on a strong Suesquehanna team at the local gym. Susquehanna still has its strong All-State star from last year, Keith Tyler. Tyler aver-aged 26 points per game.

Monday the quintet travels to Lebanon Valley to take on another Middle Atlantic Conference oppo-nent. The Flying Dutchmen are purported to have a fast breaking team which might give the Wilkes men a lot of trouble.

Some of the Davismen who will face this year's stiff competition are: returning letterman George Gacha, who was one of last year's ace playmakers; Bernie Radecki, another junior holdover from last year's tremendous squad; and Fran Mikolanis, who seems to be show-ing plenty of the rebounding abili-ty for which he is particularly noted.

The two tallest men on the team are veteran Ron Roski at 6'-4" and Bernie Kosch at 6'-6". They should have their hands full trying to fill the shoes of last year's all-time high scorer George Morgan. Roski and Kosch are both sophomores this year with plenty of time for improvement.

Two more returning juniors from last year's team are Walt Angiel-ski and Ralph Hendershot. Angiel-ski is a 6'-3" junior, formerly from Plymouth High School. Hender-shot, who will see a lot of action at guard, hails from Larksville.

Two "out-of-towners" Barry Yo-cum and Clem Gavenas, 6'-3" and 6'-1" respectively, will also be out trying to nail down two permanent forward positions on the squad.

John Kuhar, a junior from Ply-mouth, is shooting for a steady guard position. John Salsburg, a sophomore from Harter, who should offer steady relief at the forward position, make up the rest of the upperclassmen on the team.

Three freshmen, who will proba-bly see no action in the first few games are George Tensa, Richard Foy, and Tom Pugh. All seem to be adding to the Colonel depth and all three are additions from the Plymouth side of the river.

Matmen Open 58-59 Season Wednesday In Road Meet Against Lebanon Valley

by Richard J. Myers

Wrestling season opens at 4:00 next Wednesday afternoon when the Colonels, defending Middle Atlantic champions, meet the Lebanon Valley Flying Dutchmen at Annville, Pa.

The afternoon meet will pit the champs against a relatively inexperienced team, in its second year of collegiate wrestling.

Last year the Colonels had little trouble with Coach Ellis McCrack-en's squad, but the Dutchmen are rapidly improving and count on the Wilkes loss of four key men to equalize the meet.

Three of the four graduated team members were first-place winners in the second straight Wilkes team-championship in the Middle Atlantic tournament. They are: Jim Ward, Bobby Morgan, and Dave Thomas. The fourth, Keith Williams, was also a stellar per-former for coach Reese for four years and has now taken over the coaching chores at Meyers High School.

Despite the loss of these stal-warts, Reese is banking heavily on sensational Walt Glogowski, cap-tain and speedy 177-pounder; and newcomer Dick Stauffer, Kingston grad and Pennsylvania State cham-pion last year, to bring the team through the season.

Marv Antinnes, last year's sur-prise package from the freshman class, will return at 167. If last year's brilliant work by this two-letter Forty Fort whiz-kid is any indication, he should be one of the top men on the team this season.

The lower weights cause Reese a lot of concern. After he fills the 123-slot, he still has to face the problems of filling the 130, 137, and 147 classes.

Both Joe Morgan and Ron Bien-kowski are both good bets for one of these spots, most likely at 137 and 147. The troublesome weight appears to be 130, where Bill Smith and Mike Armstrong both seem to present the best chances but neither have had a great deal of varsity wrestling.

An outside possibility at 130 is newcomer Jim Brewster. Brew-ster has the strength for the spot, but a seven-year layoff since high

'TERM PAPER TANTRUMS' MAR PERVADING HOLIDAY SPIRIT

by Sue Snoop

Christmas season is upon us with all the parties, dinners and days of shopping. All is peaceful — or is it? Let's listen in . . .

Deck the halls with boughs of holly, Fa-la-la . . .

SHUT UP!!!

Now is the time to be merry . . .

WILL YOU SHUT UP!!!

But . . .

QUIET! I have to finish this term paper now.

But . . .

I said I have to do this paper now, so I can start on the one that was due two weeks ago and have that finished by vacation time. Then I can start on the one that was due last week and get that done so I can start on the one that is due when we get back.

Oh, how do you write a term paper?

Well, first you cut class the day the paper is announced — that way you put off the inevitable for a little while. Then you rush up to your instructor and tell him how interested you are in the educational facilities on the island of Window shade and could you do a little outside work on the topic?? Don't look too surprised when he tells you that you have to do a term paper — after all, he knows that you have friends in the class. The 'word' gets around the faculty too.

Now that you are stuck with the topic — go to the library and look it up in the card catalogue. Find it? No? Wonderful!! This is a good excuse to put the whole thing off until next Friday.

Unfortunately next Friday does come around and you return to the library and, by some stroke of disastrous luck, find your topic, listed under 'The Educational Facilities of Window-shade'.

There's no getting out of it now — onward to the books. Four flights of long, steep stairs later, we find ourselves in the far back room, standing on a chair reaching for the top shelf. Not there! Gone! How could they? Now what to do . . .

Walk down the steps, don't jump, that will attract attention. Don't look lost or bewildered as you pass the desk, some helpful detective may just happen to know where the book is — avoid Librarians at all costs, they know who has the book. Beware.

Look out! Here comes Prof. Hickenhopper. Ye gads, he has the book! Act nonchalant, the paper is only a week overdue. Thank you Prof. Hickenhopper, yes, I was looking for it, yes, I know that the paper is late, but you see I was trying to get all available sources so I could do a really good job on it. Oh, your doing your thesis on the subject?

Since there will be no plagiarism on this one, and Hickenhopper knows the subject, what's the use?

Maria Callas has a job at Cape Canaveral. It is the only place she has not been fired from.

Christmas Musical Program to be Held At 1st Presbyterian

The annual Christmas Assembly will be held at the First Presbyterian Church next Tuesday at 11 o'clock. Featured in the always enjoyable program will be the Mixed, Girls' and Men's choruses. The traditional affair will include a brass ensemble in addition to the individual and combined efforts of the three choruses.

Each of the choral groups will present a sampling of its Christmas music. John Detroy, general conductor of the program, will direct the mixed chorus in several traditional carols.

Jean Pyatt, conductor of the Girls' chorus, and Bill Peters, director of the Collegians, will lead their groups as each sings its portion of the program.

Wayne Walters will sing the baritone oratorio solo and the combined choruses will fill in on "The Heavens are Telling."

The program will present a complete and varied range of choral work. The mixed chorus numbers are arranged for four-part harmonies with two male and two female parts. The girls' chorus will present music written in three-part harmony for female voices, while the Collegians' contributions are written for four-part male voices.

The combined choruses will climax the program with the moving and forceful "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah."

I.R.C. MEMBERS ATTEND MEET OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES

On November 23, the Wilkes College International Relations Club was represented at the Pennsylvania Association of International Relations Club executive committee meeting by Bob Davis, Dale Wagner, and John Hotson (advisor). The meeting was held in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

This organization has the following aims: (1) To coordinate the activities of the International Relations Clubs of the various colleges in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, (2) To encourage individual International Relations Clubs to discuss international affairs objectively, and to promote an interest in international problems among the student bodies of the various colleges.

The object of the meeting was to elect state officers, plan a convention, and to select a college to act as host for the convention.

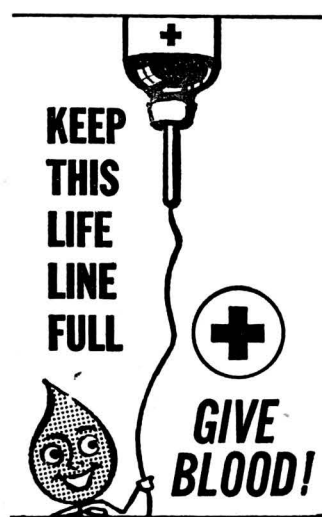

The following people were elected to state offices in the Pennsylvania Association of International Relations Clubs: President, Clinton P. Chin from Villanova; Vice-President, Bob Milkman from Penn State University; Secretary, Kay Kirsch from Wilson College; Treasurer, Dale Wagner from Wilkes; Parliamentarian, Bob Davis from Wilkes; P.A.I.R.C. Adviser, John M. Hodgson of Wilkes.

It was decided that the P.A.I.R.C. State Convention would be held at Villanova College in the latter part of February. The theme for the convention will be problems in the Middle East.

The three State officers of P.A.I.R.C. and various other members of the Wilkes College International Relations Club will represent Wilkes College at this convention in February.

The International Relations Club would like to take this opportunity to extend an invitation to all prospective members to attend the weekly meeting at 12:00 noon on Wednesday.

NOTICE!

There will be an important "Beacon" meeting today at noon in the "Beacon" office, 159 South Franklin St., third floor. All staff members are required to attend.
