Educators to Install New Officers Tuesday At Annual Ceremonies

by Barbara Vose

The Education Club will hold its Annual Installation Dinner on Tuesday, February 11, at 7:00 P.M. in the Commons. This affair is held in the spring semester for the purpose of initiating newly-elected officers of the Club.

Because the officers, most of whom are seniors, begin student teaching in the spring, it has been found convenient to elect new officers who start serving in the spring semester and continue in the following fall semester. This allows student teachers to devote more energy to their academic work and provides the club with officers who have time to carry out their duties more efficiently.

This year the affair will be a covered dish supper.

Dr. Eugene Hammer, advisor to the club and chairman of the Education Department, and Mr. Robert Bhaerman, elementary education advisor, will attend as guests of the Club.

All members of the Education Club are invited and urged to be present.

New officers elected were: president, Margaret Jones; vice-president, Beth Reed; executive chairman, Tom Ruggerio; secretary, Barbara Vose; corresponding secretary, Joan Llewellyn; librarian, Nancy Carroll.

Bernadine Vidunus and Moncey Miller were tied in the balloting for treasurer of the organization. A runoff election will be held Monday from twelve to one.

$420,593 SOLICITED IN EXPANSION DRIVE

The Wilkes Twenty-fifth Anniversary Campaign has reached a grand total of $420,593, according to reports by committee chairmen at yesterday's luncheon meeting in Hotel Sterling.

David J. Davis, who presided at the first report session of the general solicitation division, announced that $890 in gifts were received in community solicitation over the weekend. The initial meeting of this division was Thursday, January 30.

Russell Picton, alumni secretary, reported pledges of $1,802 were received from out-of-town alumni. It was also announced that Wilkes Faculty contributions have reached a total of $3,54, and special gifts, $414,347.

Dr. Eugene S. Farley, president of the college, addressing the campaign captains and division leaders, emphasized the importance of their job, that of making friends for Wilkes College not only for the present but also for the future.

The last meeting for the campaign workers was held Thursday at 6:15 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Sterling.

Mr. Riley, to Friday morning class: "There won't be any class tomorrow."

Dr. Kaslas: "Then the Bourbons took over the government of France."

Student in back of room: "The bottled kind?"

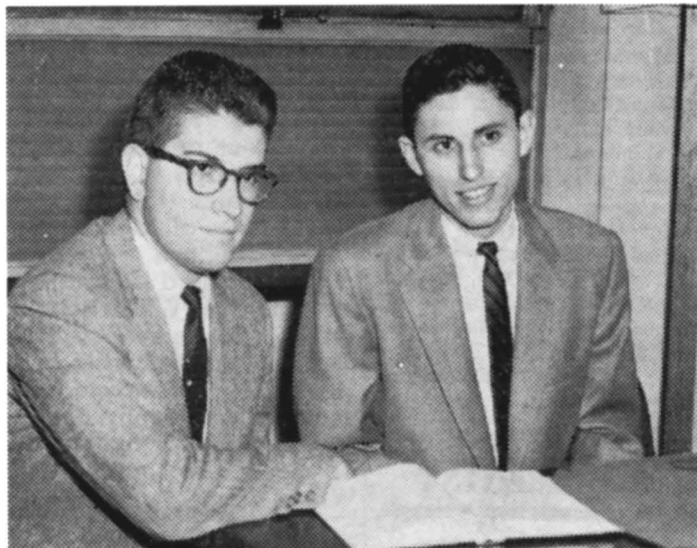

Ruth Younger: "How much do two-cent post cards cost?"

DEBATERS PLACE AGAIN

TWO-MAN DEBATE TEAM THIRD IN JOHNS HOPKINS TOURNEY

by Toni Scureman

Wilkes two-man debate team of Bruce Warshal and Fred Roberts placed third in the eighth annual Johns Hopkins Invitational Debate Tournament held last weekend in Baltimore, Md.

Fred Roberts and Bruce Warshal

Debating in a field of 25 teams, Bruce and Fred won five debates and lost one. They alternately debated both sides of the national collegiate topic.

The Wilkes team lost a close decision to Syracuse but they went on to defeat King's, Brooklyn College, St. John's, Boston University and University of Pennsylvania.

The 5-1 record set by Wilkes at the Tourney represents the best five-year winning percentage of any team in the tourney, and the fourth trophy Wilkes has taken from Johns Hopkins in that span. Their five-year record is 24-7. Bruce and Fred have a record now of 17-4.

To Defend Championship

Warshal and Roberts will travel to the fifth annual Harvard Invitational Forensic Tournament held this weekend at Harvard University. In this contest, the Wilkes team will be defending the first place position won by last year's representatives, Jesse Choper and John Bucholtz, for which they received the John Quincy Adams trophy.

At Harvard the two-man debate team, Warshal and Roberts, will engage in six rounds of debate which requires that they alternately debate both sides of the question. The national collegiate topic is: "Resolved, That the Requirement of Membership in a Labor Organization Should Be Illegal."

MARINE CORPS INTERVIEWS TO BE HELD ON CAMPUS

Officer Procurement representatives of the U. S. Marine Corps will conduct student interviews at the College next Wednesday and Thursday.

Capt. George J. DeLong, USMC, officer in charge, stated that applications will be considered for the Marines' Platoon Leaders Class and for the Officer Candidate Course. Both are reserve officer training programs leading to a commission in either the ground or aviation components of the Corps.

At present, the season record of the debaters is 17 wins to 4 losses. On the basis of this score, the debate coach, Dr. Arthur N. Kruger, is optimistic about the performance of the two young men at Harvard.

There will be fifty-five colleges and universities entered in the Harvard Tournament and the competition will be nationwide with such states as California, Kansas, Texas, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Illinois, Virginia and, of course, the New England section represented. Other schools entered in the contest are Harvard, Dartmouth, Fordham, Columbia, University of Pennsylvania, Army, Navy, Brigham Young University and Notre Dame.

BIOLOGISTS CONDUCT RESEARCH PROJECT

In a novel program which incorporates research with education, six Wilkes biology student groups are working on various aspects of growth of a green algae, Euglena, Barry Miller, executive chairman of the Eastern Colleges Science Conference, announced Tuesday.

Miller explained that the Wilkes project, being conducted with the support of two industrial drug firms as a "Teaching Program in Biology Research", will serve a two-fold purpose.

The project will be one of Wilkes' contributions to the student papers program of the Science Conference, and in addition will provide information on the educational value of research work by students. Educators foresee the possibility of research work being incorporated into the regular college curriculum.

Thus the age of Sputnik finds the Wilkes College Science Department taking steps toward an enlightened and streamlined method of science education.

In recent experiments, the students took a recently discovered growth hormone, Gibberellic acid, and added it to a culture of the Euglena. Results indicated a definite morphological change.

Winner To Be Entered In Nation-Wide Contest Sponsored by 'Glamour'

by Mary Louise Onufer

One of ten co-eds will be selected by student vote to represent Wilkes College in the annual "Best Dressed College Girl" contest, which is being sponsored by the Beacon in conjunction with Glamour magazine.

TDR VALENTINE PROM NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

by Marion J. Klawonn

Girls, is there a handsome young man in your life? You say he's not handsome? Not young either? Well, there is a man in your life, isn't there? If so, grab him by the tie and drag him to a quiet spot and pop the question. Ask him if he would like to go to the TDR Valentine Dance on Valentine's Day, February 14.

TDR officers went to a lot of trouble arranging for Valentine's Day to fall on a Friday so that the semi-formal could be held on the appropriate date. They did it for the benefit of the students on campus and they would appreciate if everyone would show up to dance to the music of Herbie Green and his orchestra. Dancing will begin at 9 and continue until 12.

If there isn't a man in your life right now, this is a good opportunity to get one. All it requires is three dollars for the ticket — the men usually admit defeat and supply the transportation. Naturally, you don't have to buy a corsage because a no-corsage ruling will be in effect.

The big feature of the evening will be the selection of the Valentine Queen. The sorority has made it possible for everyone to get into the act at the selection, ticket stubs will be drawn for the honor, so it could be you.

General chairman Judy Menegus has announced that the red and white decorations will be put up by TDR members and the Lettermen's Club next Thursday evening. All sorority members are urged to come down to the gym to help out.

TDR will continue a tradition by selling the heart-shaped valentines with couples' names written on them. These valentines will be used as part of the decorations and can be taken by the couples at the end of the evening. The price of these souvenirs is 15 cents.

The following committee chairmen have been appointed by chairman Judy Menegus and co-chairman Alison Rubury: band, Fran Bishop; decorations, Marion Laines, Marty Warner, Marilyn Davies and Mary Homan; gifts, Ginny Brehm and Maryan Powell; refreshments, Mary Homan and Linda Passarelli; invitations and chaperones, Marty Menegus; tickets, Lyn Goeringer; programs, Betsy Gable; publicity, Mary Frances Swigert; favors, Jean Broody; and valentines, Linda Passarelli.

NOTICE

There will be a BEACON meeting today at noon on the third floor of 159 South Franklin Street.

The candidates, nominated during the past week by the members of the Beacon editorial staff, include five seniors: Ginny Brehm, Maryan Powell, Gail MacMillan, Carolyn Goeringer, and Jackie Oliver; two juniors: Marian Christopher and Ann Dixon; and three sophomores: Pat Fushek, Mary Homan, and Joan Llewellyn.

These candidates were selected by the committee on the basis of looks, good grooming, neatness, figure, posture, wardrobe planning, and individuality of color and accessories.

Glamour, in its search for the "Best Dressed College Girl", plans to devote all of its fall issues entirely to college fashions and feature in this issue the ten national winners of the contest.

Three pictures of the winner of the Wilkes contest will be photographed and sent to the national contest along with the winners from other participating colleges and universities. The pictures will include a pose in a date dress (full length or semi-formal), a campus outfit, and an off-campus daytime outfit, and will be taken on campus.

Voting will be held in the Commons on Wednesday, February 12, from 12 to 2 o'clock and Thursday, February 13, from 11 to 1 o'clock. Barbara Vose is in charge of the ballots. All students and faculty members are eligible to vote.

Ginny Brehm

Ginny Brehm, a psychology-sociology major and resident of Forty Fort, was appointed to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" earlier in the school term. She was a member of the Student Council for two years and served as its secretary last year. She was also a Cinderella candidate last year and is active in the Theta Delta Rho and Psychology-Sociology Club.

Carolyn Goeringer

Carolyn Goeringer, a business education major, is a native of Dallas and a resident of Catlin Hall. She was also selected to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" and has been active in Theta Delta Rho, the Inter-Dorm Council, and the Senior Class Council. She was a Cinderella candidate and Homecoming princess during her junior year.

Gail MacMillan

Gail MacMillan, an English major, resides in Wilkes-Barre. She participated in the Education Club, the School Spirit Committee, Theta Delta Rho, and was a member of her class council in 1957.

Maryan Powell

Maryan Powell, who is a Wilkes-Barre resident, is a German major. She has served on the Beacon staff, and participated in the Press Club, Theta Delta Rho, and was a member of her class council in 1957.

Practice Makes Perfect

There is a group of about twenty girls on campus who have, in the past, been referred to as "Wilkes' lost women of basketball." The main reason of this slighting title has been the poor record turned in by the Wilkes Colonelettes in the past three years.

Last Tuesday the Colonelettes went to Marywood College in Scranton to play. After the game one of the referees sought out co-captain Jan Cornell and told her she thought that Wilkes needed more practice. We feel, that, when an unbiased official notices the lack of practice, everyone, including opposing players, coaches and students, must notice also.

IS ONE HOUR ENOUGH?

The girls can use the gym one hour a week. In our estimation, this is not enough practice time for any team that plays intercollegiate sports, whether it be men's or women's athletics. We are sure that if this situation, where lack of practice is obvious, existed with one of the men's teams, something would be done about it. Why hasn't something been done to get the gal hoopsters more time? After all, they represent Wilkes College just as much as the men do when they go to other colleges to play.

It is too late to do anything about the situation for this year, but we hope that something will be done about it when the plans are being made for next year's time allotment in the gym.

by Fred Roberts

Since my friend Bruce Warshal went to considerable trouble to respond and rather effectively to my article of several weeks ago on the New York subway strike, I am going to suspend my policy of letting each column stand on its merits to devote this week's article to a re-defense of my views. Out of fairness this column is open to Bruce for final rebuttal in succeeding issues.

Our disagreement can be traced at least in part to a misunderstanding or perhaps a lack of sufficient emphasis. My position was not based upon the unmodified conclusion that the Motormen's Benevolent Association is automatically entitled to separate bargaining rights as a craft union, but rather that since there is so much dissatisfaction with being in Quill's union and since the jobs covered are so different then the workers probably should be allowed to remain in their own unions.

This seems like a hazy situation, but it is a crucial one because I am certainly not opposed to industrial unions per se. It is in particular situations that the principle comes into question. In this instance I tried to make clear that there is a considerably greater difference between a porter, a motorman, or an electrician working in the subway where the jobs are divided into these classes almost evenly numerically and a large number of interchangeable production line workers encompassing only a few specialized workers.

The difference between industry and transit workers seems as clear as that between industrial workers and railroaders who have had craft unions for years. This difference plus the discontent with Quill's TWU illustrated by its inability to get more than 67% in the representation election compared with 92% in 1954 argue against horizontal representation.

Bruce attempts to cast the election off as mitigated by "trying circumstances"—perhaps he means the worker unrest at Quill's methods, and by arguing that only 51% of the vote is required for a union shop under federal law.

This second point is somewhat misleading because no union shop election has been required since 1951, the present 51% requirement is only to determine which union is to represent the workers in the plant.

There is also an essential dissimilarity between the union shop issue and that of exclusive representation; the union shop is demanded to prevent non-union workers from receiving the same union benefits that dues paying unionists get since the recognized union must bargain for all workers in a plant; on the other hand, workers desiring to belong to separate unions on a particular job are willing to pay dues in return for bargaining services—the question is not whether to pay but to which union. The one demand is equitable, the other not.

As to several other points that Bruce raised concerning my presentation of the facts I admit some degree of unconscious disservice, but I resent the implication of

TO THE STUDENT BODY:

Social Activities Policy as Established by the Student Council

1. All dates on the Activities Calendar shall be cleared and verified by the Director of Student Activities.
2. Permission to hold any social date on the Calendar on or off the Wilkes campus shall be obtained from the Student Council and the Director of Activities at least two (2) weeks before the affair. If the form requesting permission is late, and there isn't a reason for such, the date will be automatically revoked from the class or organization holding the affair.
3. Any Club or Class desiring to have a date on a weekend in which another club which has been given a date on the calendar by the Director of Activities, must secure permission in writing from the latter organization. The organization must then present the form and the permission in writing to the Student Council for approval.

The affair to which the above applies is only for one in which an admission charge is made.

It can only be a closed affair and limited to the members of the Class or Club that requests it.

Any organization that does not comply with these requirements will automatically lose a date on the current calendar and/or any future calendars.

5. Each club or class must have two (2) chaperones at each affair. Forms for the chaperones should be obtained at least two weeks before the affair from the Director of Activities and returned to his office at least one week before the affair in order that he may have assurance that the affair will be chaperoned properly.

ENGAGEMENTS

Oliver-Tierney

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Tierney, Millersville, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan, to Mr. Joseph W. Oliver, son of Mrs. Joseph W. Oliver, Tunkhannock.

Miss Tierney is a senior nursing education major and resides in Sterling Hall. Mr. Oliver is a senior secondary education major. A summer wedding is planned.

Feld-Kaufer

Mr. and Mrs. George Kaufer of 32 North Dawes Avenue, Kingston, announced the engagement of their daughter, Naoma, to Leonard Feld, Saturday, February 1, at open house in the Kaufer residence. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Feld of 87 Sherman Street, Wilkes-Barre.

Miss Kaufer is a senior secondary education student majoring in social studies and is active in the Theta Delta Rho, Girls Chorus and the Education Club.

Feld attended Wilkes College and is now associated with the American Furniture Company. A June wedding is planned.

The label of "private fact-finding panel" given by the New York Times of December 22, 1957, to the American Arbitration Association—picked board may not have carried the import of Raskin's "a distinguished panel of impartial experts"; and the Authority was not acting illegally when it demanded sole union representation, but this is not inconsistent with my statement that the Authority had no legal sanction, it only points up the need for legislative clarification of New York labor law; so I think my outline of the facts was unemotionally fair.

In conclusion I feel Bruce certainly has a right to his views and they may be justified, but there is also considerable room to feel that the majority should not always rule.

Quick Service

Millie Gittins of the college bookstore, announced that beginning Monday, Feb. 10, a new service will be available to the students of Wilkes. Students will be able to purchase film at the bookstore and have it developed at P.D.Q. . . . one-day service. (Color film naturally will take longer to be developed . . . or P.D.S.)

EXTRA! In addition to the above, students can get snapshots of campus activities by placing orders with Millie. For example, if you were lucky enough to have had your picture taken at one of the many social functions, you can now order a copy of the picture. The same P.D.Q. service will apply on campus shots as on film.

A complete list of prices and sizes will be posted in the bookstore. (Now you can start your personal Wilkes scrapbook of pictures.)

Faculty Addition

Mr. Richard G. Krutchkoff, instructor in physics, has joined the staff of the Wilkes science department. A native of Brooklyn, Krutchkoff received his bachelor of science and master of art degrees from Columbia University.

The new instructor has completed his studies toward a doctor of philosophy degree and at present is working on his thesis in "Statistical Mechanics." Krutchkoff is teaching physical science and supervising laboratories at the college.

Nice Doggie!

A woman with a fuzzy poodle under her arm swished into a cocktail lounge. Then, ignoring the waiter who came up, she fussed over her fidgeting animal, cooing baby talk: "There, there. Nobody's going to hurt mama's itsy-bitsy baby." Finally the dog settled down and the woman turned to the waiter. Without batting an eye he asked courteously — if somewhat coldly — "Your first dog, madam?"

College and Community

Rev. Paul Schindler, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, addressed the Faculty Women of Wilkes at their monthly meeting on Tuesday of this week. His topic was "Albert Schweitzer's Philosophy of Life."

Plan Ahead

The Advancement and Placement Institute in New York has completed their 1958 World-Wide Summer Placement Directory, which lists summer employment opportunities from over 20 foreign countries and all 48 states.

The Directory includes types of work available, salary ranges, and the names and addresses of employers requesting summer employees. Partial listing includes resorts, theatres, national parks, camps, dude ranches, and governmental positions.

A special section lists trainee programs for future career opportunities. Positions are available in hundreds of firms in more than forty fields of business, industry, government, science, recreation and education.

Students interested in obtaining additional information about The Directory should contact someone from the Beacon staff.

'Gay 90' Theme Prevails At 1958 Beard Dance; Four Prizes Awarded

by Jim Eidam

The bearded gentry of the Wilkes College campus were out in full force last Friday evening at the senior class beard dance in the college gym. Many of them were bedecked in garb of the gay 90's and added an air of the bygone days to the scene.

Judging of the facial foliage took place during intermission. Acting as judges were Congressman Dan Flood, Hal Berg of WILK, and Bob Moran and Welton Farrar of the college faculty.

The men of the "brush" assembled on the platform and were eliminated by the judging committee until a group of three finalists remained. The judges, with the help of audience applause, then proclaimed the winners.

Owner of the best beard and moustache combination was Larry Groninger. He received a Norelco electric razor as his prize, and his name will be inscribed on a trophy.

Gerald Minturn's beard was selected as the best by the judges, the best moustache belonged to Joe Salsburg, and Dick Salus won the award for the best display of "peach fuzz". Each of these three contestants was awarded a mug and shaving brush.

The large crowd at the dance was amazed at the appearance of a real live bearded lady, who somewhat resembled Millie Gittins (that is, without the beard). Unfortunately, she did not receive any awards.

Ron Tremayne, senior class president, wishes to thank all those who helped make the beard dance a great success. Special thanks goes to members of the judging committee.

FORMER PREMIER ADDRESSES STUDENT BODY AT ASSEMBLY

by Jim Eidam

A discussion of the important topic of "Europe Today" was presented by the distinguished Camille Chautemps at Tuesday's assembly, which was sponsored by the college history club. Mr. Chautemps has served as the French premier on four occasions.

does not pose a particularly serious threat to the nation, however, because it is not a major political faction. Many of the public who vote for Communists are not party affiliates; this is especially true of the factory workers of the nation.

The speaker discussed attempts at forming a union among the nations of Europe and mentioned the numerous obstacles, such as language and economic differences, which will have to be overcome. The advantages of a united western Europe are quite obvious.

He concluded by stating that the free nations have a "better idea to fight for" in the cold war, regardless of the recent scientific advances of Russia. If the free world shows neutral nations that it can give more welfare to them, it will be successful.

Mr. Chautemps related the importance of America's interest in the nations of Europe. Ignoring the countries of Free Europe would create a "dent" in our future security.

He proceeded to present a picture of the present situation in Europe. Germany, since World War II, has once again risen to be the most economically powerful nation on the continent. Its most important problem lies in the fact that it is a divided nation.

France is currently faced with problems of economic inflation, and her exports are not great enough to be beneficial to her economy. She is also divided politically, evident in the fact that her government is constantly changing its leadership.

QUINTET ENTERTAINS AT "GASLIGHT GASSER"

The Crewnecks, a quintet which specializes in popular music, appeared at the senior class "Gaslight Gasser" last Friday evening. The members of this quintet are sophomores and are active in the "Collegians". Among the songs which they sang during the intermission were: "At The Hop", "Wear My Ring", and "In The Still Of The Night". The members shown above are, left to right: Boyd Hoats, Bruce Miles, Jerome Pauley, John Wasickanin, and Bob Martin.

EUROPEAN AIRFLIGHT

The American-European College Student Association has planned an airflight to Europe this summer at student prices. The flight in DC-6's will leave Montreal, Canada (9 hours drive from New York City) on July 8, 1958, arriving in London, England, and will return September 3, 1958. The cost to members is only $330 per person, round trip. Subsequent European summer flights and Bermuda spring-time flights are also planned. They will also send a free list of student approved accommodations in Europe.

Free membership is open to all college students and teachers. Interested persons should write soon to AECSEA, 62 Park Street, Canton, New York.

WALTER GLOGOWSKI EARNS AWARD, REMAINS HIGH IN SCROING RACE

Junior Grapppler Gets Fast Fall at C.C.N.Y. To Keep Record Clean

by Jim Hennighan

The Beacon sports staff was almost unanimous in its selection of the Athlete of the Week. Walt Glogowski won the honors with his speedy victory in the Colonels' 21st straight win. The 177-pounder, known as the "Tiger" to the followers of the Colonel mat team, pinned his opponent in the fabulous time of 32 seconds.

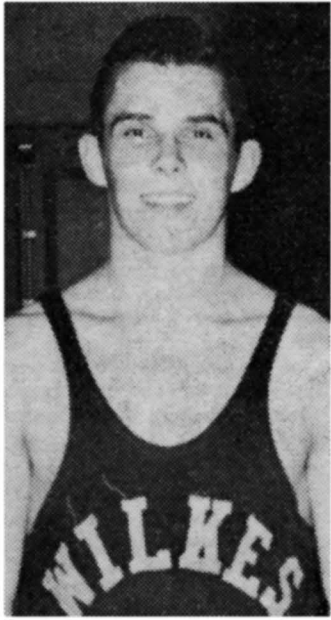

The City College of New York 177-pound senior Harvey Werblood, never knew what happened to him, for Walt took him down with what is known as an "ankle sweep" and pinned him in nothing-flat. It was one of the fastest pins ever recorded in the history of Wilkes College.

With this victory, Walt has run his string to nine straight in dual meets, the string includes six victories this year and three at the end of last season. His wins so far this season were registered on four falls and two decisions which total up to 25 points. Walt's overall three year won-lost record is 23 and 4. He had a 9-2 record last year and had an 8-2 record in his freshman year.

The 26 points place him two behind Bobby Morgan as the two battle down to the wire for the individual point-scoring record, set last year by Jim Ward. The record seems destined to fall after only one year on the books. Ward scored 41 points last year to eclipse Bob Masonis' mark.

Walt is a popular member of the Junior Class and is well known for his artistic ability. Most of the backdrops for the College's formal dances are the work of the "Tiger".

He is a graduate of Plymouth High School where he earned six letters, three each in wrestling and track. He captained both teams in his senior year. Since coming to Wilkes he has earned letters in wrestling in both his freshman and sophomore years. The rugged Junior resides with his parents at 16 Weir Lane in Plymouth.

MATMEN CRUSH CCNY, LYCOMING; TRAVEL FOR 2 CRUCIAL MEETS

Tomorrow at 2, the matmen will take on the tough Lafayette Leopards at Easton, seeking their 23rd win without a loss in three seasons. Last year, the Colonels defeated the Leopards handily here, 27-3.

On Wednesday, however, they are to face their most serious threat in Millersville. The team has been pointing to this match all season as "the one" to win. All members of the squad are sharpening up with the expressed intention of avenging last year's 13-13 tie, the only blot on their brilliant three-season record.

In preparing for the vital match, the Colonels turned in two recent decisive victories by 30-5 at City College of New York, and by 29-5 on Wednesday here over Lycoming.

Bobby Morgan moved closed to the College scoring record when he turned in beautiful pins in both contests. The scrappy 123-pounder pinned Sam Berkowitz of CCNY in 6:56, and nailed Jack Fortin of Lycoming in 6:52 for his sixth pin in seven wins. He has now registered 33 points for the Colonels.

Jim Ward took his 26th and 27th consecutive bouts with a 4-0 win at CCNY and a 4-1 win here on Wednesday.

Skeeter Williams turned in a 4:16 fall in New York and pinned Lycoming captain Don Flick in 6:59 to remain undefeated this year.

Joe Morgan lost a tough 4-2 bout at City College, but bounced back to a 5:03 fall over his Lycoming opponent. Dave Thomas pinned his Warrior foe in the identical time of 5:03, and halved that time at CCNY with a fall in 2:40.

Marv Antinnes nailed his City opponent in 2:40, then took a thrilling 7-4 win in the Lycoming battle.

Walter Glogowski made one of the fastest falls in Wilkes history, pinning CCNY's Harvey Werblood in 32 seconds, but fell victim of a freak fall in the Lycoming meet in 2:22.

Joe Dombek got a draw, 1-1, in New York, then electrified the fine Booster Night throng with an exciting 7-5 win over 230-pound John Joe, fullback of the Warriors' excellent football squad.

For the Millersville match, a number of students are planning to make the trip after Wednesday afternoon classes. Those interested in driving or riding to the meet should see Dick Myers, who is attempting to organize a "Colonels' Caravan" for the contest.

Pinbusters Hold First In I-M Bowling League, Lewis Rolls 231 Game

High games were the order of business in Sunday's action at the JCC lanes. Hill Hoffman held the league's high mark briefly with his 214 first effort, but Dan Lewis topped it in the third game with a 231 to lead the Pinbusters to a 4-0 win over Hoffman's Kampus Keglers.

Pinbusters, first place (8-0): Lewis 231-614, John Sapiego 204-496, Emil Petrask 145-432, Bob Morris 139-395, Mary Homan 132-384, and Don Wilkinson 155-358.

Keglers, fourth place (3-5): Pete Maholik 190-525, Hoffman 214-485, Chuck Kirchner 147-395, Max Greenwald 144-378, and John Macri 156-368.

The Losers, third place (4-4), took four points from the Butler Bombers. Losers: Lenny Glassberg 183-510, Bob Clark 164-464, Barnett Weber 189-451, Irv Moses 172-441, and Sam Weinstein 167-436.

Bombers, tied for fifth (2-6): Paul Blier 184-535, Dave Roebuck 144-379, Ira Himmel 149-362, Allyn Jones 136-340, and Don Lewis 124-327.

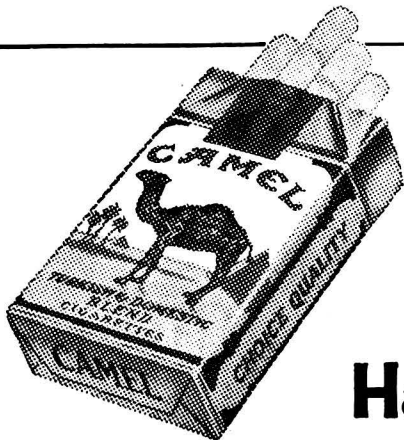

The Rose Tatoes swept four points from the Teetotalers. Tatoes, second place (5-3): Joe Ackourey 213-542, Ron Phillips 201-

HOLD PERFECT MARKS THROUGH SIX MEETS

UNBEATEN GLADIATORS — These four grapplers have gone undefeated in the team's first six meets. They are, kneeling: Bobby Morgan and Keith Williams; standing, Jim Ward and Dave Thomas. Thomas and Ward are co-captains of the squad, which boasted five unbeaten men. The fifth was Walt Glogowski (see Athlete of Week). The men saw action against Lycoming in Wednesday's twin-bill.

by DICK MYERS, Sports Editor

The newest sport on campus is having a rough time getting itself into competitive shape because of a severe lack of personnel. There is no reason for any potential swimmer to feel that he would be of no use to the swimming team; nothing could be further from the truth. The fact of the matter is that there are very few experienced swimmers working out now. Some of them have not done much competitive splashing in more years than they care to tell, yet they work out faithfully every day.

The team works out in the YMCA pool every day from 3 'til 5 P.M. and are waiting eagerly for extra help. With the manpower now available, it is necessary for most of the men to swim in three events — a bit too much to ask of any man. Coach Clete Miller has issued an appeal, therefore, for any help at all. Join in the exercise, it won't hurt. Get into the "swim." See Clete Miller soonest.

SCHEDULE CONFLICTS AND CHANGES

A few necessary changes have been made in the sports calendar for the Spring semester. The basketball game originally scheduled for tomorrow night will be played tonight instead, since the Forty Fort-Kingston mat contest has been moved to the Wilkes gym tomorrow. Tonight's guests will be the East Stroudsburg Warriors, game-time 8:00 P.M.

The game scheduled on your pocket card for Saturday, March 1st, is in conflict with the final rounds of the Middle Atlantic Wrestling championships to be held here February 28-March 1.

At the time of this writing, no arrangements had been completed definitely for the re-scheduling of that game with Philadelphia Textile. As soon as the information is available, reminders will appear on the Bulletin or will be placed in the Beacon, time permitting.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING LEAGUE SET

Because of insufficient response to several pleas for co-operation, the Spring Bowling League is now set at six teams who will bowl every Sunday night, starting promptly at 7:30 P.M. No more will be permitted.

For the remainder of the season, a team handicap method will be used in scoring, each team will use five bowlers, team captains will rotate their members in such a manner that every player will have an equal chance to bowl.

There are enough people on each team to allow roster-juggling that will cut down the expense of bowling every Sunday. Team captains are urged to set their lineups early each week. There should be no reason for any team failing to have all five people ready to bowl at 7:30 sharp.

CAGERS SMASH LYCOMING FIVE

by Al Ullman

George Gacha led the way, on Wednesday night, to the Colonels' ninth win of the season, scoring 23 points in the 76-56 win over Lycoming. George Morgan scored 17 points, Fran Mikolanis 11, in the easy win, which capped a successful "Booster Night" twin-bill.

The Colonels now stand 7-2 in the Middle Atlantic Conference Northern Division, one game behind the idle Scranton Royals who lead the loop.

Defeat Elizabethtown

The Colonels continued their victorious ways on their home court by defeating Elizabethtown College, 78-62. Both teams started slowly, but after seven minutes of play Wilkes forged ahead to take a lead they never relinquished. The halftime score showed the Colonels leading by thirteen points, 39-26.

Although they tried, the Colonels could not get the ball to George Morgan, the team's leading scorer. Morgan was covered strongly all evening by Jim Chase and Bill Pensyl of the Blue Jays. The Davis-men gained their halftime lead on the strength of Fran Mikolanis' brilliant one-hand shooting from the corner, and Bob Turley's long bullet shots which never seemed to miss the mark.

At the start of the second half, Elizabethtown started a full court press causing Wilkes to lose the ball several times. The Blue Jays worked a fast break, and cut the Wilkes lead to five points. Fran Mikolanis and George Morgan got hot and Wilkes pulled away, never to be caught. Mikolanis scored 25 for the evening, followed by Gacha with 12, Morgan with 11, and Turley 10.

The win moved the Colonels to within one and one half game of leading Scranton in the Middle Atlantic Conference Northern Division.

AL-ley CHATTER

George Gacha seems to be completely healed of his ankle injury. The game Saturday served to get George back to his normal playing ability. Now he is ready to go, go, go. A.U.

Last Home Match Until Phila. Game Is Re-Scheduled

The game scheduled for tomorrow has been moved up to tonight to make way for scholastic wrestling. The visitors tonight will be the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Game-time, 8:00 P.M.

The Colonels, now undefeated on their home court, may be playing their last home game of the year, depending upon the re-scheduling of the March 1 game with Philadelphia Textile. Tonight's contest is a non-conference tilt.

SWIMMERS TO VISIT LYCOMING, BUCKNELL

Coach Clete Miller and his hardy mermen will be a busy crew during the coming week when they oppose two squads with little more experience than they themselves possess.

Tomorrow the natators travel to Williamsport to be the third Wilkes squad to test a Warrior team this week. The Warriors have not had much more time than the Colonels to get into shape and lost their first match, against Bucknell, by a 56-30 score.

Next Tuesday, February 11, the Bisons will host the Colonels at Bucknell's new Freas-Rooke pool.

Last year, Bob Latour, coach of the Bisons, had a dismal start in launching the sport. His charges lost their first three meets of the season, then copped the finale.

Latour's splashers have shown improvement, however, with wins over Delaware, Franklin & Marshall, and Lycoming this season. They will seek their fourth win tomorrow at Swarthmore.

The Colonels have had their troubles keeping a full roster of swimmers off the sick or injured lists. The team will count heavily on Carl Havira, who scored half of the 18 points registered in the first meet at Dickinson. Havira is a strong swimmer, with plenty of endurance and a good stroke.

Coach Miller will be a probable entrant in several events, Pat Shovlin has turned in some good times in practice and took a second place in the Dickinson tilt, Phil Lear and Morgan Davis are quickly rounding into shape and are considered as threats.

T.D.R. NOTICE

The election of a new secretary of TDR ended in a tie between Moncey Miller and Mary Homan. The run-off election will be held today from 11 to 1 in the Commons. Members may register and pay their dues when they vote.

Tonight's action will be the first meeting of the two teams this season. The Teachers hold a 5-3 record, losing to Scranton, West Chester STC, and Lock Haven STC, and hold wins over King's, Trenton STC, Kutztown STC, Montclair STC, and Cheyney STC.

Steve Oliveri and Chuck German lead the Warriors in offense. German carries a 25-point average, has scored as many as 31 in a single game. Oliveri is a hustling playmaker, and although he only stands 5-6, he averages around ten points per game with a great set shot.

The Colonels will be on the road for the remainder of the definite schedule. They will tackle the Susquehanna Crusaders on Monday at Selinsgrove in a Conference tilt, then will go to Newark to play Rutgers next Saturday in an exhibition game.

The last two games are with conference foes; wins over Lafayette on March 1, and Albright on March 8, could possibly give the Blue and Gold possession of the top slot in the league, or at least a berth in the Conference's tentative post-season playoffs.

Tomorrow's action at the gym pits two of the area's finest wrestling squads in scholastic rivalry, Kingston and Forty Fort.

BOTH CAGE LEAGUES SEE TWO TEAMS TIED

by Jim Hennighan

With the half-way mark of the season past, the leagues have settled down to a pair of two-way fights for first place. But, because of the playoffs this year, first place in league competition holds little value except the honor that goes with it.

The Intramural championship will rest on the results of a playoff of the top four teams in each league. This playoff will provide a better chance for a team that started slow and has lost one or more games.

Ron Palazzi of the Civ/Vets and Jim Ferris of the Faculty Five are holding on to their scoring leads with 20-plus averages.

The standings up to Feb. 1st are:

START STUDYING FOR FINALS, IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK

by Marion J. Klawonn

Because of the success of the lap-board article written a few weeks ago, we have, by popular demand (Two people asked me and I would like to take this opportunity to thank my mother and father for making the request), agreed to do a series of stories on campus issues and problems.

This week's blurb is on the subject of study (see Webster's dictionary for definition of this word). When sitting down for serious study, the first thing the student needs is, naturally, a chair. Now that we have that settled, on to the particulars.

The second step in the art of studying is to have a test announced—never, never study at any other time. If you haven't any tests scheduled, quit now and go to the movies. What's the sense of filling your head with unnecessary details about the situation in Afghanistan when no one will ever know that you have such information—unless, of course, the subject should happen to pop up at a cocktail party in the near future. If it does, you will undoubtedly be the life of the party.

The next thing on the agenda is to check to make sure that your door is locked. This is very important because if you do lose control and fall asleep, no one will ever be the wiser. When your mother spots a light under your door at three in the morning, she will assume that you are studying aggressively. Actually you probably have been slumped over your desk fast asleep since 8:30, but don't ever admit it to anyone!

The proper equipment for effective study is, of course important. You should drag yourself into your private study room carrying a paper bag, two dozen pencils, a box of paper clips, and, of course, a book. The paper bag should be hung, open end up, on the wall so you can shoot the paper clips at it during the fifty minute break taken every hour by all good students.

Now get out the clear, concise, well organized and complete set of notes you took during class. Next, try to separate the doodles from the subject matter. Under that carefully drawn sketch of Dr. Thatcher, (drawn the day he gave that surprise (?) quiz that was announced last Wednesday — the day you cut class, remember?) we learn that the Civil War ended in 18-gosh, can't make out the rest of the date — it's not important anyway (it says here!!!).

When you have decided that your notes are useless, get out the book-ye gods!!! — you left it in the caff (oops, pardon me — The Commons). Now what? Well, back to the notes. Most students who spend any time on studying their notes decide to submit them to Mr. O'Toole — that art work must be worth something.

Now that you have wasted the entire evening (it must be at least nine o'clock by now) might as well go downstairs and watch television. They say that there are a lot of educational programs on these days. Who knows, maybe there will be a program of filmed-on-the-spot scenes from the Civil War. Unfortunately, your parents insist on watching "Your Hit Parade" and you can't talk them out of it (you did try, didn't you?)

When you take the test just remember that old saying — an old fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer. This should make you feel better when you get the paper back in a few months. But don't worry, you can bring your mark up on the final.

GLAMOUR CONTEST
