

ember 5, 1996

eam

talent

Colonels with 13 points each Watkins added 11 points while Ronkowski and Huber connected for 10 points each Watkins was named to the All-Tournament team averaging 14.5 points per game.

Wilkes fell to 0-3 on the

Photo by Dave Parfitt
es Backcourt.

points and pulling down 22
rebounds, a Wilkes single game record. Watkins added 11 points for the Lady Colonels.
Lycoming's Erica Weaver
scored a game high 18 points.
Lycoming improved to 4-1 in the year with the win. The loss dropped Wilkes to 0-1
in the MAC Freedom League.

The Lady Colonels travel to Ithaca tonight, Ithaca defeated Wilkes 62-56 last season. This weekend the Lady Colonels participate in the Mt. St. Mary Tournament.
Wilkes then has a month off
before William Paterson travels to the Marts Center's Henry Gymnasium on Friday,
January 10, at 7 p.m.

The Lady Colonels next
MAC Freedom League
matchup is Thursday, January 11 at 7 p.m. when they take on host town rival King's College at the Scanlon Gymnasium.

COMMENCEMENT HELD NEXT WEEK

Baldino addresses graduates
they prepare for future

News...page 2

HEAD OF CAMPUS MINISTRY HONORED

Hession elected chair for Campus Ministry Association

Features...page 5

WILKES SPORTS REIGN OVER WINTER BREAK

Men's & women's basketball and wrestling updates

Sports...page 8

THE BEACON

Volume 49 Number 13

Wilkes University

January 23, 1997

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s dream remembered during weekend ceremony

Photo by Michael Beachem

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. speaks to students and area residents about past experience

WANDA RACE

Copy Editor

Dickson Darte Center for the seventeenth annual birthday celebration honoring Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. This program was dedicated in memory of Selma Danoff who chaired the first birthday celebration in the Wilkes-Barre area.

The program featured the Wilkes University Chambers Singers performing selections "You are the New Day," an Irish Folk Song entitled "Johnny I Hardly Knew Ye" along with the American Spiritual "Kings of Kings."

The celebration address was given by Jill Garret of WNEP-TV.

Garret, not a native to our area lived in New York City until she moved with her family to the Wyoming Valley later in life. Graduating from E.L. Meyers High School in 1972 Garret was present for the infamous Agnes Flood. Garret began her career in journalism began in Texas.

"They liked my voice," Garret stated, adding that in the area of broadcasting "it is not always the talented who succeed, but the strong."

She noted that in reporting crime, WNEP's employer, The New York Times is extremely sensitive to the issues of diversity. For instance, in reporting a crime, race cannot be mentioned unless it is a hate crime or unless it is used to fully describe a victim or suspect. She went on to discuss the dream of Martin Luther King Jr., describing how people can make a difference by writing a letter to a company or media agency regarding diversity issues.

Following Garrett's address, Alyssa M. Farris and her nine year old twin sister Allison, accompanied by Lydia Breiseth on piano, performed cello pieces.

Youth Leadership Awards were presented by Gina Z. Morrison, advisor of the Wilkes Multicultural Coalition, to area high school students who exemplified the dream of Martin Luther King Jr. through their community service and achievement. The first place awards were given to Wayne Eric Whitaker Jr., Nicole Simone Washington and Carmalee Mc Cloe.

"I found it inspiring that young people could understand cultural harmony and demonstrate their ability to be caring and sensitive towards others," said Michael Beachem, who was on hand for the awarding of the plaques.

"Colorblind," a poem written by an area student for the committee's poetry contest shows that the ability to understand the meaning of cultural understanding could be demonstrated through words.

Prizes for the poetry contest included savings bonds and gift certificates from area businesses.

The celebration concluded with the singing of "We Shall Overcome" and a benediction by Rev. Thurston Shumway.

Gina Morrison noted, this birthday celebration "is an important annual event for the entire community. It is important to keep the tradition alive." Keeping this traditional alive will help keep the dream of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in the hearts of the members of our community.

For more information regarding future events of the Wilkes Multicultural Coalition, students can contact Gina Morrison at ext. 4731.

Business and Accounting accreditation visit will help decide fate of business and accounting accreditation

JOY CONNELLY
Staff Writer

Wilkes University Business and Accounting Departments move further into accreditation proceedings. This semester The Wilkes University Business and Accounting Department submitted an application to the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP) in order to gain accreditation for this particular business school.

recognized among its peers.

On February 2nd-5th an accreditation team from the ACBSP will be visiting Wilkes. This team consisting of Dr. Aida Shekib, Professor of Accounting, Governors State University; Dr. Ruth Ann Althaus, Professor of Business and Public Health, Benedictine University; and Dr. Frank DeCaro, Professor of Business Administration, Georgian Court College, will meet with faculty, students, administration, and alumni to see what Wilkes has to offer for business and accounting majors.

Wilkes' business and accounting departments have 25 standards that they must comply with in order to receive this accreditation. They involve curriculum, faculty qualification, the admission process and student/teacher relationships. The team will be overseeing the entire physical relationship that exists between the business and accounting department and the other support offices in at the university.

"This is a big step for the school. If our program is accredited it will be recognized by other peer institutions," said Dr. Gary Giamartino, Dean of School of Business, Society and Public Policy.

The ACBSP has 700 members and only 20 percent have received accreditation. The results of this team visit will be submitted to the Board of Governors of ACBSP and they will determine in May whether Wilkes' Business and Accounting Departments meet their standards. If the Business and Accounting Departments are chosen they will be notified officially in June at a conference in Newport Beach, California.

Not all curriculums can be accredited. Accreditations are mainly for the professional programs. Other schools at Wilkes that have received past accreditation are the nursing and engineering departments.

Class of '97 wraps up gift idea

WILKES-BARRE-- Each year, the graduating class presents a gift to the university in order to give back to a school that has provided them with four years of education and memories. The Class of 1997 will kick-off their Senior Class Gift Drive on Thursday, January 23 from 4 to 5 p.m. in Weckesser Hall. As the 50th graduating class in Wilkes' history, the class of '97 has decided on a gift of banners which will be attached to the lamp posts scattered around campus. These banners will distinguish the campus, project the school's image, and welcome visitors to our university. The gift will be a visible and permanent fixture on campus from the Class of 1997.

The co-chairs of the Senior Class Gift Committee are Tania Karpinich and Tawnya Rabuck. Throughout the semester, the senior class gift volunteers will be contacting members of the Class of 1997 soliciting donations. The volunteers are Jessica Bierbower, Ann Marie Blasick, Noell Brooks, Dave Clancy, Jennifer Escarge, Gina Frapolli, David Jenkins, Doreen Klimeck, Brad Kreschollek, Marie Mican, Emily Mika, Mike Noone, Bill Pastewait, Christine Pavalkis, Paula VanFossen, Linda Ward, Amy Webb, and Julie Werkheiser.

The goal for the drive is $10,000 and participation by all class members. There are three payment options which students may choose. Students can pledge $45 over three years ($10 year one, $15 year two, $20 year three), $25 in two years ($10 year one, $15 year two), or a gift of their choice. A pledge will not only help the Class of 1997 to leave a lasting mark at Wilkes but will also enter the student in the Senior Class Gift Drive to be held on Thursday, January 23 in Stark Lobby. Prizes include a singing telegram from the Wrestling Team, a cleaning by Doug LaDarren Hack from the Residence Life Staff, a delivered by Jay Williams, the men's basketball team hair and nails done by VanFossen, Government President.

Dr. Baldino addresses winter graduates

WILKES-BARRE-- Wilkes University President Dr. Christopher N. Breiseth conferred 76 Bachelor degrees and 13 Master degrees at the University's annual winter commencement/convocation exercises. The ceremony was held on Thursday, January 16th at 11:15 in the Darling Theater of the Dorothy Dickson Darte Center for the Performing Arts, South and River Streets.

In addition, Honorary Doctor of Science degrees were awarded to George Ralston, a longtime supporter and former dean at Wilkes; and Donald Burke, Director, Discreet Power Product Development, at Harris Semiconductor, Inc.

Greetings were extended by Dr. Breiseth and Gene Roth, chairman of the Wilkes University Board of Trustees. The invocation was given by Rev. Robert Zanicki, of First Presbyterian Church, Wilkes-Barre; and benediction was by Rabbi James Michaels.

Music was provided by the Wilkes University Brass Ensemble under the direction of Jerome Campbell.

The principal speaker at commencement was Dr. Thomas J. Baldino, professor and chairperson of Political Science at Wilkes and a noted political expert. Baldino is recipient of the Carpenter Outstanding Teacher Award, given annually to a member of the Wilkes faculty. The recipient is chosen by a faculty committee.

Dr. Baldino earned his Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1982. He holds an M.A. from the University of Illinois and a B.A. from LaSalle College, both in Political Science.

Prior to Wilkes, Baldino served as associate professor and chairperson of the Department of Political Science at Juniata College. In 1985 he received the Lindback Award for Distinguished Teaching at Juniata.

In 1993, Baldino was named editor of "Commonwealth: A Journal of Political Science", an annual publication of the Pennsylvania Political Science Association. He served as associate editor of the journal from 1989 to 1992.

Baldino is a popular contributor on political issues to such publications and electronic media as USA Today, Washington Sunday Times, Harrisburg Patriot, Northeast Pennsylvania

Business Journal, The Times Leader, Citizens' Voice and ABC Radio Network. He is the author of many academic publications including fifteen entries in The Encyclopedia of American Political Parties and Elections and the book-length manuscript "The Evolution of Modern Congressional Parties: 1880-1988".

In addition, Baldino is a member of Pi Sigma Alpha National Political Science Honor Society and Alpha Epsilon Honor Society. In 1987 and again in 1990 he was selected by the Pennsylvania Humanities Council (PHC) as a lecturer in the Commonwealth Speakers Program. The PHC also selected him to conduct discussion groups comprised of community leaders on constitutional issues.

He has also served as a political science instructor at St. Francis College and taught in the College of General Studies and Wharton Evening Division at the University of Pennsylvania.

Baldino resides in Mountaintop with his wife, Sandra. They are the parents of two children, Kenneth and Anna Marie.

Where were you a year ago?

BEYOND CAMPUS

THIS WEEK
A worldly view . . .

- Election protests continue in the former Yugoslavia.
- Russian President Boris Yeltsin returns home this week, following a 12 day stay in hospital for pneumonia.

a national look . . .

- President Bill Clinton attends his second inauguration.
- House Speaker Newt Gingrich discovers his fate after being brought up on ethics charges.
- Chicago Bulls' stand-out Denise Rodman receives an 11 game suspension and fine for unlawfully kicking a cameraman.

& a local peek . . .
• Area residents recall Flood of '96 and welcome back local college students.

Spring Break '97 Spring Break '97

Bahamas
FROM $379
Round Trip Air Fare
Seven (7) nights lodging at choice hotel.
Welcome party with complimentary island beverage.
Beach parties, FREE food, FREE drinks and more.
Exclusive FREE or discounted admission to Nassau's hottest clubs.
Plus much, much, more!

Call now for complete details 1-800-9-Beach-1

I am woman he scream. Hear me n

Just when you picketing, demandi

University publish

Sent worldly to all publication represe

As a former int firsthand what the time and dedication

worthy publication

Everyone know book by its cover,"

obviously hasn't se

In the forefront Director of the Sor

dignified in his darl

with his authority. I stand out. Positione

room is Nancy Kru

Gallery and Grand'

Every administr

Universe before it n

realize that many w

deeply offended by

gender inequality p

Some of you ma

yet flip through a fe

An exclusive art

University honor stu

know for a fact that of herself from the M

America pagent and between. But you m

available to accomp

little too much breas

Wilkes administrati

the Wilkes Universe

well-rounded female

telling us in a round

will sell Wilkes Uni

Aside from that,

party being held on

the Wilkes vs. Scran

scheduled to begin a begins at 6 p.m. Did

people who'll be att

guys game also may

Think about it.

For a college tha

Wilkes has surely lo

the Wilkes populatio

RCRC OP

M

(

T

Note: Classes/Workshops ar

the lab is CLOSED.

23, 1997

dea

Class Gift Drawing

on Thursday, April 3

obby. Prizes include

telegram from the Team, a room

by Doug Lane or

Hack from the Life Staff, flowers

by Jay Williams of

basketball team, and

ails done by Paula

n, Student

t President.

I am woman

I am woman hear me roar. Hear me shout. Hear me
am. Hear me now.

Just when you thought the years of burning bras,
icketing, demanding equal rights were over, Wilkes
iversity publishes the latest issue of the Wilkes Universe.
worldly to all alumni, friends and family of Wilkes, the lication represents all we are and all we plan to be.

As a former intern with University Relations, I know hand what the Universe is all about. Much hard work, ne and dedication is put into each issue to make it the worthy publication it usually is. But this time is different.

Everyone knows the saying "you should never judge a book by its cover," but whoever originated that saying viously hasn't seen the latest cover of the Universe.

In the forefront of the page stands Stanley Grand, irector of the Sordoni Art Gallery. Looking tall and ignified in his dark suit and tie, he empowers the front cover with his authority. But he isn't the one who makes the cover and out. Positioned behind him in the dark shadows of the orm is Nancy Krueger, Coordinator of the Sordoni Art
allery and Grand's female assistant.

Every administrator must proofread a copy of the verse before it may go to print. Why didn't one of them alize that many women in the Wilkes community might be easily offended by the Universe's strong implications of the gender inequality portrayed in the photo?

Some of you may miss the indiscretion on the front cover,
flip through a few more pages and again look closely.

An exclusive article features Melanie Bell, a Wilkes iversity honor student and 1996-97 Miss New Jersey. I now for a fact that Melanie has a book full of photographs herself from the Miss New Jersey pagent to the Miss merica pagent and each and every event she has attended in ween. But you mean to tell me the only picture that was ailable to accompany the article was one which reveals a e too much breast and a lot too much leg. Wouldn't ikes administration rather people across the nation read Wilkes Universe and see Melanie Bell as the motivated, all-rounded female college student that she is? Are they ing us in a round-about way that this is what they think sell Wilkes University?

Aside from that, how many of you heard of the pre-game
y being held on Saturday, January 25 in Rumours, before Wilkes vs. Scranton men's basketball game? The party is cheduled to begin at 5:30 p.m. but the Lady Colonel's game ins at 6 p.m. Didn't anyone consider that maybe the same ple who'll be attending the pre-game party before the s game also may want to celebrate before the girl's game?
nk about it.

For a college that promotes diversity and equality for all,
ikes has surely lost sight of what makes 47% (females) of Wilkes population equal to the remaining 53% (males).

RCRC OPEN ACCESS COMPUTER LAB

Macintosh/DOS/ Windows
(COB Room 6-ext 2767)

Spring 1997 Hours

Monday 9 a.m.-11 p.m.

Tuesday 9:30 a.m.-11 p.m.

Wednesday 9 a.m.-11 p.m.

Thursday 9:30 a.m. - 11 p.m.

Friday 9 a.m. - 6 p.m.

Saturday 1 p.m. - 5 p.m.

Sunday 2 p.m. - 11 p.m.

Classes/Workshops are occasionally scheduled in the lab, during which time the lab is CLOSED. Check for special notices posted on the door.

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the Editor guidelines:

Letters should include your name and phone number. They should be no longer than 250 words and must be signed in order to be printed. Letters will be printed in the order they are received and must be submitted by 4:30 p.m. on the Tuesday prior to publication.

Dear Editor,

In August and September of this past year, letters were sent by the south end resident assistants to the Chief of Security, Gerald Cookus, Vice President Paul O'Hop, and Director of Facilities, John Zikowski. The letters expressed the need for a passageway to be developed between Waller N/S Hall and Ross Hall.

In order for this passageway to be made, parts of an existing brick wall needed to be taken down. The resident assistants felt that there was much need for this, not only for accessibility but for the resident student safety as well.

I am writing this long-overdue letter to express appreciation on behalf of the resident assistants for the fine job that was done. The passage has already been used on a frequent basis by students.

I often hear students saying that the administration doesn't care about the students concerns. This new passageway is an example of how untrue these comments are. The administration does care about student opinions. There are people on campus who are concerned and want to know how you think we can make our school a better place to live and learn. Speak up and let your voices be heard — people are listening and do care!

Most sincerely,

Michael Beachem

Resident Assistant, Ross Hall

Amnicola photo announcements

•Underclass photos will be taken on Thursday, January 30th in the Stark Learning Center lobby between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. This is the first time that an underclass section is being included in the Amnicola, therefore students are encouraged to make an effort to have their photographs taken.

•Photographs of Clubs and Organizations for the 1997
Amnicola will be taken during "Club Photo Nights"
Sunday, February 9th and Sunday February 16th between 6 and 10 p.m. There will be a blue folder located at the campus security desk until February 1st for club officers to schedule an appointment. Clubs are encouraged to sign up for an appointment as soon as possible.

•Attention Seniors: If you have not had your senior portraits taken for the 1997 Amnicola yearbook; a make-up will take place February 11-13. This is your last chance to be photographed by the school photography company.

For more information contact: Michael Beachem, Amnicola Photography Editor at (717)831-5043, e-mail:
beachem@wilkes1.wilkes.edu or campus box 54.

FREE T-SHIRT + $1000

Credit Card fundraisers for fraternities, sororities and groups. Any campus organization can raise up to $1000 by earning a whopping $5.00/
VISA application. Call 1-800-932-0528 x65
Qualified callers receive FREE T-SHIRT

The Beacon

1996-1997

192 South Franklin St.,
W-B, PA 18766

Hollenback Hall,
2nd floor

Main# (717) 831-5903

Fax# (717) 831-5902

Editor-in-Chief
Regina Frappolli

News Editor
Colleen Herron

Features Editor
Christine Gaydos

Sports Editor
Michael Noone

Photo Editor
David Parfitt

Copy Editor
Glenda Race

Copy Editor
Toni Oden

Business & Advertising
Editor
Chris Court

Subscription Manager
Michael Beachem

MAC Technician
Chris Court

Distribution Manager
Chris Court/Toni Oden

Advisor
Dana Alexander Nolf

Background Information

- Established in 1947
- Awarded by the Associated Collegiate Press and the American Scholastic Press Association
- Printed on Thursday, 25 times a year, with exceptions for school holidays and final exams
- 1,100 to 2,500 papers are distributed weekly
- The deadline for articles and advertisements is 4:30 p.m. on the Tuesday prior to publication

• The Beacon can be found at the following locations on campus:
Capin, Chase, COB, Conynham, Darte, Evans, Library, Mailroom, Pickering, SLC, Student Service Building, Weckesser

The Near Side with Rick Tym

Back to school, back to school... anyone who's seen the Adam Sandler movie "Billy Madison" can finish the song off. (For those of you that haven't seen it, you don't know what you're missing.)

Welcome back everyone!!! Hope everybody had a great break. Mine was short, since I spent most of my time in this godforsaken place. I guess I thought I should spend as much time as I could around here, since I won't be here that much longer. Bad idea — the only thing more boring than Wilkes-Barre is Wilkes-Barre with no Wilkes students around. Anyone who's ever taken a class during break can attest to that.

For those of you that haven't been around in the past five weeks, here's what happening in local Wilkes University news:

1. A new $35 million capital campaign is soon to be launched. At this stage of the game, a few large gifts of one and two million dollars have already been received, one of those gifts apparently coming from a former Wilkes student. Phone-A-Thon, eat your heart out! Maybe with all this money, they can come to my dorm and put some rock salt on my steps and pavement. Every time I go out, I take my life into my own hands. No one ever told me I would need a pair of ice skates to get to and from class.

Plans for the new Student Union Building are coming along nicely, with plans to break ground for the new student gathering center tentatively being set for this spring. The center will take approximately one year to construct, and inside sources tell me that the University is using a revolutionary new construction schedule which will allow the grass around the building to be planted during the warm months of the year so it will grow, unlike methods previously used during the construction of Fenner Quadrangle.

The debate still rages over the location of the new bookstore. Since I talked extensively about this last year in one of my articles, I won't beat it into the ground. After all, what do I care? I'll be long gone and won't have to worry about walking three blocks in the freezing cold to get my books for the spring semester.

Winter Weekend is right around the corner, scheduled to take place on February 7th and 8th. The theme for this year's festivities is "Fairy Tales and Nursery Rhymes." My team already has its name, which goes along the lines of the fairy tales theme. We're going to call ourselves "Good Food At the Caf".

And finally, sources say that the frigid temperatures and messy weather of the past week have apparently caused the crossed eyes of the John Wilkes Statue to go straight again.

Hope you all had a laugh. Best of luck to all Wilkes students this semester, especially to the graduating class of 1997 (which includes me!). If any of you have any topics of discussion, or would like me to bitch a little for you, please contact me at rtym@wilkes.edu. Have a great time in the spring semester everyone. Try not to work too hard, and I'll talk to you all next week.

EXTRA INCOME FOR '97

Earn $500 - $1000 weekly stuffing envelopes. For details - RUSH $1.00 with SASE to:

GROUP 5
6547 N Academy Blvd. Dept N
Colorado Springs, Co. 80918

What's up at Wilkes

•The Multicultural Student Coalition will hold its first meeting Sunday, January 26 at 7 p.m. in SLC lobby. Any questions contact Gina Morrison at x 4731.

•The first blood drive of the semester will be held on February 11 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Rumours. There will be pizza throughout the day and heart lollipops for everyone that donates. The grand prize is a $50 Valentine dinner at the Woodlands. Please donate! The life you save may be someone you know.

•Temporary/Part-Time Work Available for ten dependable and friendly students are needed to represent Wilkes University in a professional and courteous manner on the phone. All hours are in the evening. Students will receive training and support in the area of telemarketing, and will work as part of a team to contact selected alumni and friends of the university to seek support for the Wilkes Annual Fund. Great way to boost your resume, earn some extra cash and support Wilkes! Interested students should contact Caryn Cheyfitz, Annual Giving Office, x4311, by January 30 to request an interview.

•Vision Homeless Shelter will be on campus February 3 through February 10 in the basement of the Conyngham Student Center. We need students and/or clubs to serve meals each night and interact with the clients for about an hour. If you are interested in volunteering with these activities, please call Ann at x5904 to sign up!

CLUCK-U EXPRESS

MOVING BACK INTO SCHOOL
IN FOUR EASY STEPS!

1. FIND EMPTY SPACE.

WE CAN BE FOUND AT 355 MARKET ST. IN KINGSTON, PA

2. FILL IT.

CLUCK-U EXPRESS

287-9800

3. FIND EMPTY
STOMACH.
4. FILL IT!

AND IF YOU CAN'T FIND US, CALL 287-9800 FOR DELIVERY.

Talk

By CHRISTINE
GAYDOS

Beacon Features Editor

er connections at the s time.

While this is merely a d
for most college students, Wilkes senior had this d
come true this past summe

While on vacation se Mariel Betron was introduc
a woman who was a produc
The Sally Jessy Raphael Sho

After a rather s
conversation, which inclu
discussion of an internship, exchanged names and teleph
numbers.

Upon return to Wilkes
the fall semester Betron polis up her resume and made appointment for an interview Manhattan.

"I met with the int ordinator. I thought it wo be long and drawn out but I like I got the position as soon got there," Betron sa Everyone was very relaxed a very young, between their 2
and 30's. the oldest was executive producer and he w maybe 40 years old."

Betron's instinct was rig
he got the position and was in New York City by the end finals week.

Upon arrival at the sho

Hession

By CHRISTINE
GAYDOS

Beacon Features Editor

Your cat dies, you failed philosophy test and lonely is y
middle name now that your lo is nonexistent, what do you who do you turn to?

"The Press Enterprise" fou
spirituality is fizzling amon college students. Studer interviewed admitted to r ending services regularly or belonging to any religio institution, and those who were a slowly but surely falling off.

Wilkes

alter
ough February 9
ham Student clubs to serve
h the clients for terested in please call Amy
o!

11 from 10 a.m. y and heart
valentine dinner
eone you know.

udents
ous ve of a ort for a cash
nnual

SS
TY
KINGSTON,

EMPT
MACH.
IT!
DELIVERY.

Talk shows can be educational

CHRISTINE
NDOS
Features Editor

connections at the same While this is merely a dream
most college students, one senior had this dream
time this past summer.
While on vacation senior Betron was introduced to man who was a producer at Sally Jessy Raphael Show".
After a rather short conversation, which included discussion of an internship, they changed names and telephone numbers.

Upon return to Wilkes for semester Betron polished her resume and made an appointment for an interview in Scranton.
"I met with the intern coordinator. I thought it would be long and drawn out but I felt I got the position as soon as I was there," Betron said.
Everyone was very relaxed and young, between their 20's and 30's. the oldest was the executive producer and he was 40 years old."
Betron's instinct was right,
she got the position and was off
to New York City by the end of the week.
Upon arrival at the show

Betron let the intern coordinator know that she was only going to be there for a few weeks and intended on learning a little bit about everything. She did just that.

"I was there for a full month, we only got time off for Christmas Day and New Year's Day. We worked from 8 am to 6 or 7 in the evening," said Betron.

The forty or more hours a week that Betron put into this experience gave her a good taste of what a career in television production was going to be like. "It was very exciting, but life revolved around work, some days were so stressful that there was no time to eat," said Betron.

Her responsibilities at the show varied from week to week, ranging from the reception area to being on the set during taping. "Everyone pays their dues at first. You work up from the front desk position. Most people start as interns like I did," Betron said. She recalled being out of breath from answering so many phone calls that came in for producers. Betron admitted she was yelled at for losing an incoming call for the executive producers, worked with the audience coordinator booking people to come to the show. This means interns was viewer mail. This consisted of summarizing and categorizing the thousands of letters that were sent to the show. Needless to say this was not her favorite task.

"At the end I missed Wilkes. I always thought New York City was my pace, but I am glad to be back," said Betron.

As far as responsibilities here at Wilkes, Betron sent in weekly reports to Carol Bosack to earn her 3 credits for independent study.

"The Sally Show offered me to come back whenever, but I don't know. I want to work in t.v. but I don't know where. I'd like to try somewhere else, too," Betron said.

As for advice for students interested in this field or in such internships, Betron said, "You can't be choosy in this field, you have to go with all opportunities and be aggressive when you get them. Networking is key. I lucked out, but now I'm going to try and meet as many people I can."

And yes, for those interested Betron did get to meet Sally Jessy Raphael in person. However, it was not exactly as glamorous as one would think.

"She only really showed up for taping. She didn't even have a hand in producing. Her job was to work the crowd and rile them up," said Betron.

Betron strongly encourages all students to intern. It has played an important role in helping her.

Senior Mariel Betron interned with "Sally".
Beacon file photo

but laughed it off by saying you have learn to roll with the punches.

Her first week there Betron worked in the "Cart Room". This was a tiny room where interns answered calls from people who had show ideas or were interested in being on the show.

"Every episode producers look for people for another show, we screened the callers for their name and age. We starred the ones we felt were most interesting," said Betron.

The second week Betron

we researched guests and show topics," Betron explained.

Betron did not particularly enjoy when she worked with the production assistant. They mostly coordinated the guests. This ranged from picking out their clothes to coaching them to get an emotional reaction from them.

"Most of the guests took the suggestions," said Betron, "the best part of that position was when I got to choose an outfit for a little girl who got a makeover."

Betron's final responsibility

Hession honored as new C.C.M.A leader

CHRISTINE
NDOS
Features Editor

Your cat dies, you failed a psych test and lonely is your name now that your love
is nonexistent, what do you do?
Do you turn to?
The Press Enterprise" found spirituality is fizzling amongst students. Students viewed admitted to not attending services regularly or to going to any religious service, and those who were are surely falling off.

Here at Wilkes is a beacon of hope for those who are spiritually challenged. Mary Hession has served as the director of Campus Interfaith since 1993.

Hession is a graduate of Mansfield State College, where she earned a bachelor's degree in music. Hession went on to acquire a master's degree in pastoral studies and adolescence from LaSalle University.

Hession leads a handful of different activities on campus including, Talk- It -Out, a dinner discussion group for all faiths and Bible Study Group for those who wish to learn more about the scriptures.

Information on these and numerous other activities can be obtained at the Campus Interfaith/ Volunteer Services Office or by dialing extension 5904.

Besides all of these accomplishments, Hession now has a brand new accolade to add to her achievements. She was recently elected as the chair of the Pennsylvania Catholic Campus Ministry Association at the organization's annual conference held in State College.

"It is a great honor to have peers honor you with such a prestigious honor," said Hession.

Her peers chose Hession due to her great dedication. Hession has ministered in this area since 1980, including work in the Scranton Diocese and at St. Nicholas' Parish immediately off of Wilkes' campus and at Mansfield University before arriving at Wilkes.

Hession spoke of what a great responsibility this position would be.

"I will be responsible for organizing conferences for the next three years. The association meets twice a year," said Hession, "being the chair of the association means being the voice from Pennsylvania to the national organization."

When asked about her plans for furthering her position in the organization Hession shared that this was already in the making.

"I found out that 5 members nominated me to run for Northeast to the National Board of Catholic Campus Ministers," said Hession.

The Wilkes community is 100% behind Hession's endeavors and is indeed lucky to be blessed with her presence on campus.

80's TRIVIA With Donna T.

This is a new feature in The Beacon in conjunction with "Interstate 80: Highway of Hits." Hope it brings back some memories of the 1980's!

Music: Everybody wants to rule the world, but this U.K. band ruled the charts with this song.

Television: In what children's show were Pterri the Pterodactyl, Chairy, and Cowboy Curtis characters?

Movies: What speed did Marty have to reach in order to activate the flux capacitor?

News: On November 2, 1983 Ronald Reagan signed a bill creating which national holiday?

Grab Bag: In what video game did a chef use pepper against eggs, hot dogs and pickles?

For answers to these questions, tune in to "Interstate 80: Highway of Hits" Friday at 5:00 p.m. on 90.7 WCLH-FM, or check out next week's Beacon. If you are the impatient type, you may contact Donna at talarids@wilkes.edu.

David Carpenter

"Mr. Jason, some anonymous yet concerned friends of yours feel you need help."

"Marge, am I still funky?"

Soap Updates

ALL MY CHILDREN: Edmund was shocked by Maria's revelation that she'd slept with Dimitri. Erica, meanwhile, was stunned at Bianca's less-than-enthusiastic reaction to Erica's pregnancy. Edmund rejected Skye's attempt to "comfort" him. Brooke and Pierce came face-to-face. Hayley told Tanner she's an alcoholic. After a fight with Edmund, Dimitri was injured in a car accident. Wait To See: Erica has a new challenge to deal with.

ANOTHER WORLD: Ryan was desperate to warn Bobby that Grant was moving ahead to make Jake a pawn in his plans for Vicky. Carl, meanwhile, considered how Cindy could help him get to Grant. Vicky continued to agonize over her growing interest in Bobby and her lingering feelings for Ryan. John and Felicia realized they needed to confront an unspoken problem that involves Sharlene. Rachel prepared herself to face some facts about menopause. Wait To See: Ryan sees Vicky's life increasingly endangered.

AS THE WORLD TURNS: Holden continued to remember more about his past with Lily. Meanwhile, Diego — who was still obsessed with revenge against Mike for Pilar's accident — realized Holden posed a danger. Lily reacted to what she discovered about Pilar and Diego. While Bob waited for word on Diego's credentials, Kim's back pains grew more intense. Emily worried about being exposed for her part in Diego's plan. Wait To See: Tom is faced with a decision about Diego.

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL: Aboard the yacht, Brooke started to panic when she realized Ridge might not arrive before she marries Grant. Ridge, meanwhile, reread her letter and told Thorne to drive him to the dock. When Thorne's car broke down, Ridge bought a motorcycle from a passing cyclist, but arrived just as the yacht pulled out. Ridge later admitted to Taylor that he tried to stop Brooke's wedding. Tim cautioned Claudia not to miss her upcoming deportation hearing. Wait To See: Brooke gets stunning news.

THE CITY: While Tracy tried to find Carla's obstetrician, Carla and Danny decided to do what had to be done to get her pregnant. Tess told Angie she fears getting medical attention for the growth in her breast might jeopardize her future with Buck. Tracy recalled seeing Danny's missing bracelet in Carla's hotel room. Tony comforted Ally on the death of her stepfather. Wait To See: Angie and Jacob discuss a possible surrogate for their baby.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES: Sami seemed about to slip away when Marlena noticed her reacting to the music in the background. Hope heard Bo tell Billie, "I love you," and fled before she heard him add that he's still committed to marrying Hope. At the Blake house, Laura said she remembered everything, but she began to ramble. Kristen later realized Nurse Lynn (now in Stefano's employ) was giving Laura pills to confuse her. Hope found comfort with Franco. Marlena arrived at Dr. Robbin's office as Susan (who had gone into labor) was being examined. Wait To See: Hope's plan may backfire.

GENERAL HOSPITAL: Mac told Felicia he was upset about Katherine rejecting his proposal. Kevin refused to talk to Lucy about what she found while clearing out his closet. Sonny insisted he loves Brenda. Meanwhile, Miranda and Jax discussed their divorce. In shock over learning about her past, Carly is loose on Bobbie. Robin turned up to surprise Jason. Wait To See: Miranda and Jax face a complication.

GUIDING LIGHT: Rick faces some unsettling news about his son. Roger and Amanda pressed their plans against Alan and Alexandra. Meanwhile, Alan was determined to press Matt about Vanessa's Spaulding stock. Hart was dubious over Dinah's assurances that she's given up any desire to relive her old life style. Josh fretted under the pressure of Annie's "pregnancy" and his feelings for Reva. Reva, meanwhile, acted on the information she had. Buzz got from Sarah's doctor. Jenna faced Buzz and considered whether to tell him about their son. Wait To See: J gets upsetting news.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE: Blair was outraged when Todd called Addie to testify for him in the custody suit for Starr. Dorian told Blair about her scam, but hid the story from Cassie. Andy accused R.J. of killing Carlo. Patrick proposed to Marty. Non agreed to be Antonio's lawyer. Maggie learned the dead woman in her father's room was Eleanor Armbrage, the wife of a media mogul. Wait To See: Todd has another surprise for Blair.

SUNSET BEACH: Meg was stunned to find Tim had followed her to Sunset Beach. Ben, meanwhile, decided to follow up on the information that "Dorothy from Kansas" was in town. Paula continued to fret over Ricardo's apparent unwillingness to commit. Ben's visions of the woman in his past became more intense. Annie realized she had openly threatened to kill Del who had accused her of embezzlement. Wait To See: Meg is forced to make a choice.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS: Phyllis' fears about her sins of the past coming home to roost were heightened by a terrifying nightmare. Kurt was upset about having opened up to Hope about the deaths of his wife and daughter. Grace pondered Sharon's comment about her guilt in giving away her first baby. Danny and Phyllis prepared for their wedding as a phone call came in from an unnamed woman. Neil accused Malcolm of being in on Dru's decision to sign with the modeling agency. Wait To See: Jack gets his own "message" from the past.

Top 10 Singles

1. Whitney Houston "I Believe in You And Me" (Arista) New Entry
2. R. Kelly "I Believe I Can Fly" (Warner) Last Week: No. 1
3. Seal "Fly Like An Eagle" (Warner/Sunset/Atlantic) No. 2
4. Le Click "Tonight Is The Night" (Logic) No. 8
5. En Vogue "Don't Let Go (Love)" (EastWest/ERG) No. 9
6. Jewell "You Were Meant For Me" (Atlantic) No. 10
7. Mc Lyte "Cold Rock A Party" (EastWest/EEG) No. 12
8. Gina G. "Ooh Aah...Just A Little Bit" (Warner) No. 5
9. Lil' Kim Feat. Puff Daddy "No Time" (Big Beat/Atlantic) No. 4
10. RuPaul "A Little Bit Of Love" (Rhino) New Entry

There are 150,000 Reasons to Own The Newark Catalog and Every One of Them is Stocked.

And here's another reason: it's FREE!
Find out what informed engineers already know.
Newark Electronics® has more than 150,000 stocked products from over 1,000 quality manufacturers.

For your free copy call:
1-800-4-NEWARK
(1-800-463-9275)

NEWARK ELECTRONICS®
A PREMIER FARNELL Company
The Right Components Right Now™

By MICHA
Beacon Spo

The Wi
women's ba elevated the put together consecutive start of classe

The Lady
Ithaca Colle
entering the Tournament i Watkins led points again

Rebecca Bake
The Lady
Centenary Col
opening round
Mary's Tourn
Wilkes with Lady Colonels
season.

Watkins a
each added 1
Lady Colonels
1-4 with the vic

In the chan
of the tournam
59-47 to the ho
St. Mary's. Tra
the Lady Col points.

Wilk

By MICHAEL Beacon Sports

The Wilk
wrestling team
opener again

University on the Marts Cente
Jon Laudens
Panichella, Du
Torres and Lub
had victories fo Torres won by pounds for the 28-17 win over
Wilkes a 1-1 rec

The 64th a Open wrestling
held on Saturda
December 28-2
Center. The ope
as the Rose Bow
attracts some of t
from the easter

23, 1996

about her past, Carly let Bobbie. Robin turned up to son. Wait To See: Miran-face a complication. NG LIGHT: Rick faced titling news about his son. d Amanda pressed their inst Alan and Alexandra. e, Alan was determined to about Vanessa's Spauld- Hart was dubious over insurances that she's given sire to relive her old life fretted under the pressure "pregnancy" and his feel- Reva. Reva, meanwhile, he information she had om Sarah's doctor. Jenna and considered whether about their son. Wait To upsetting news.

FE TO LIVE: Blair was hen Todd called Addie to im in the custody suit for an told Blair about her id the story from Cassie. ed R.J. of killing Carlo. posed to Marty. Nora, Antonio's lawyer. Mag- the dead woman in her n was Eleanor Armitage, a media mogul. Wait To has another surprise for BEACH: Meg was and Tim had followed her Beach. Ben, meanwhile, follow up on the informa- rothy from Kansas" was ala continued to fret over pparent unwillingness to n's visions of the woman became more intense. ized she had openly o kill Del who had ac- embezzlement. Wait To forced to make a choice. JUNG AND THE REST- lis' fears about her sins coming home to roost tened by a terrifying Kurt was upset about ed up to Hope about the is wife and daughter. red Sharon's comment ult in giving away her Danny and Phyllis r their wedding as a me in from an unnamed l accused Malcolm of Dru's decision to sign eling agency. Wait To ts his own "message"

10 Singles

Houston "I Believe In" (Arista) New Entry
"I Believe I Can Fly" Week: No. 1
ly Like An Eagle" et/Atlantic) No. 2 Tonight Is The Night"

ue "Don't Let Go West/ERG) No. 9 ou Were Meant For
No. 10
'Cold Rock A Party"
y) No. 12
Doh Aah...Just A Lit-
r) No. 5
eat. Puff Daddy "No t/Atlantic) No. 4
A Little Bit Of Love"
ntry

Women's basketball team wins three straight

By MICHAEL NOONE
Beacon Sports Editor

The Wilkes University women's basketball team has elevated their level of play and put together a streak of three consecutive victories since the start of classes.

The Lady Colonels lost to Ithaca College 77-61 before entering the Mount St. Mary's Tournament in December. Katie Watkins led Wilkes with 25 points against Ithaca while Rebecca Baker added 13.

The Lady Colonels defeated Centenary College, 68-60, in the opening round of the Mount St. Mary's Tournament. Baker led Wilkes with 25 points for the Lady Colonels' first win of the season.

Watkins and Stacy Janos each added 10 points for the Lady Colonels who improved to 1-4 with the victory.

In the championship round of the tournament Wilkes lost 89-47 to the host team, Mount St. Mary's. Tracy Zaykoski led the Lady Colonels with 16 points.

Wilkes came back from an 18-14 halftime deficit to tie the game at 22-22 with 15 minutes remaining, but fell behind shortly thereafter and trailed the rest of the way.

Zaykoski and Baker were named to the All-Tournament team.

Mount St. Mary's was led by Kendra O'Kelly with 18 points, while Kelly Lauria added 12 points.

After more than a month off, the Lady Colonels returned to action when they played host to William Patterson on January 10. The Lady Colonels lost their first game of the new year, 70-61. Wilkes had a five-point lead at halftime but could not hold on for the victory.

Lee Ann Azarewicz and Baker led the Lady Colonels with 16 points each.

The Lady Colonels defeated the Lions of Albright College 73-49 last Monday. With the win the Lady Colonels improved to 2-6 on the season. Baker scored a game-high 21 points and pulled down a game-high 13 rebounds in the victory.

Wilkes defeated cross-town rival King's College last Thursday 76-75 in overtime. The come-from-behind victory at the Scandlon Gymnasium marked a turning point for the young Lady Colonels.

Wilkes trailed 30-22 with 3:49 left in the first half but was able to cut the King's lead to 36-30 at halftime.

In the second half, Watkins and Baker led the Wilkes comeback. Baker was the game's leading scorer with 29 points while Watkins added 17.

The Lady Colonels extended their winning streak to three straight with a 72-65 victory over Drew this past Saturday. Watkins scored a game-high 24 points to lead the Lady Colonels. Baker added 16 for Wilkes. The Lady Colonels improved to 4-6 on the season and 2-1 in the Middle Atlantic Conference Freedom League.

Tonight Wilkes travels to Marywood in a non-conference game. The Lady Colonels next home game is this Saturday when they host the University of Scranton at 6 p.m.

Wilkes wrestlers pick up first win over break

By MICHAEL NOONE
Beacon Sports Editor

The Wilkes University wrestling team won its home opener against Kutztown University on December 7 in the Marts Center. Chris Rebels, Jon Laudenslager, Craig Panichella, Duane Ritter, Phil Torres and Lubomir Hanal all had victories for the Colonels. Torres won by a fall at 167 pounds for the Colonels. The 28-17 win over Kutztown gave Wilkes a 1-1 record on the year.

The 64th annual Wilkes Open wrestling tournament was held on Saturday and Sunday, December 28-29 at the Marts Center. The open, also known as the Rose Bowl of Wrestling, attracts some of the top wrestlers from the eastern half of the country. More than 3500 wrestlers from schools such as Clarion, Cornell, Duquesne, Nebraska and Seton Hall participated in this year's Wilkes Open. Clarion University has dominated the tournament for the past few years. The Golden Eagles had six individual champions in last year's tournament.

Clarion had another strong showing in this year's tournament, sending six wrestlers to the finals and placing eight wrestlers in the top four. Clarion finished the tournament with two champions, Mark Angle at 126 pounds and Jody Clark at 150 pounds. Angle also won the Gorrarian Award for the most falls in the least amount of time. His four pins came in 9:32.

Another team that had an outstanding tournament was Cornell, the 23rd ranked team in the nation. The Big Red had two champions, including the tournament's Outstanding Wrestler Carl Keske at 134 pounds. Cornell's Jefferson New, the 158-pound champion, was the High Points Award winner with 21. Cornell added five third-place finishers and three fourth-place winners.

Wilkes lost to Hofstra in the first match of the new year. Hofstra took advantage of three forfeits in the 45-12 victory in Hempstead, New York. Ted Kemmerling (142) and Sal Recco (177) had pins for the Flying Dutchmen.

The Colonels were swept at a tri-meet at Slippery Rock on January 10. Wilkes dropped a match to host Slippery Rock, 43-9 and fell to Pittsburgh 34-15.

Banter in the Booth with Michael Noone

For those of you who have been living under a rock for the past two weeks, this Sunday the Green Bay Packers and the New England Patriots will face each other in Super Bowl XXXI. The Cheese Heads and the Chowder Heads each got into the big show by smashing Cinderella's expansion slipper. The Pack defeated the not-so-surprising Carolina Panthers on the frozen tundra of Lambeau Field in the first NFC Championship Game in Green Bay since the legendary "Ice Bowl." The Pats earned their way into the Super Bowl by beating the incredibly surprising, no-one-even-expected-them-to-make-the-playoffs, Jacksonville Jaguars.

The Packers were a pre-season favorite to make it to the Super Bowl but not many people expected the Patriots to be in the New Orleans this Sunday. The Packers are led by their quarterback Brett Favre, the NFL MVP for the second consecutive season. Favre will be realizing his boyhood dream of playing in the Super Bowl only an hour away from his hometown of Kiln, Mississippi. Combine Favre's rocket arm and uncanny ability to make plays with a rejuvenated running game that shredded Carolina's highly touted defense and the New England defense could be in for a long day.

However, New England has a pretty potent offense as well. Quarterback Drew Bledsoe has a tendency to be streaky, but when he's hot he's very good. Bledsoe is surrounded by plenty of weapons, his favorite target is tight end Ben Coates, arguably the best pass receiving tight end in the league. Rookie wide receiver Terry Glenn has big play potential and running back Curtis Martin is one of the best in the business.

However, New England's most important weapon isn't a player, it's head coach Bill Parcells. Parcells is 2-0 in the Super Bowl, having led the New York Giants to a pair of world championships. Parcells is only the second man in NFL history to lead two different teams to the Super Bowl (Don Shula did it with the Baltimore Colts and the Miami Dolphins). However, no one has ever won the Super Bowl with two different teams and it doesn't look good for Parcells to make history.

The New England defense led by Willie McGinest will be out-gunned by Favre and the Packer's offense. Meanwhile Green Bay's defense led by Reggie White, the NFL's all-time sack leader appearing in his first Super Bowl, will be able to get to Bledsoe and effectively shut down New England's ground game. It will take perfect execution of Parcell's game plan for New England to end the NFC's dominance in the Super Bowl. The Packers will win their first Super Bowl in 29 years by two touchdowns.

Wilkes
Women's & Men's Basketball on 90.7

WCLH FM

Saturday
Pregame
@ 5:50 p.m.
Women's Tipoff
@ 6 p.m.
Men's Tipoff
@ 8 p.m.

Wilkes' victories against Slippery Rock came from Jon Laudenslager (142) by decision, and Kevin Baker (167) by forfeit.

Laudenslager, Brad Panichella (134) and Mike Morellino (177) recorded victories for Wilkes against Pittsburgh. Laudenslager and Morellino registered pins. The losses made Wilkes 1-4 on the year.

The Colonels lost all 10 matches in a 49-0 loss to nationally ranked Clarion University on January 12th. Clarion, ranked 11th in the country, benefited from three forfeit victories, two pins and a technical fall.

The 1-5 Colonels will travel to West Point, New York this Saturday to participate in a quad-meet with James Madison, Rutgers and Army.

Men's hoopsters remain undefeated in league play

By MICHAEL NOONE
Beacon Sports Editor

The Wilkes University men's basketball team is gaining that elusive quality all great teams have in common — chemistry. The Colonels are starting to make the transformation from a squad with a number of very talented and explosive players into a cohesive team.

Wilkes' home opener on December 5 was a rematch of the season opener against Nyack College. The Colonels won the first game with the Purple Pride 75-72. In the game at the Marts Center, the defending Middle Atlantic Conference champion Colonels defeated Nyack 82-75. Freshman Dave Jannuzzi and sophomore Brian Gryboski led the way for Wilkes with 20 points each.

Nyack jumped out to an early 12-point lead thanks to 6-foot-5 center Ricardo Lindo's eight points. However, Wilkes weathered the early storm and led at halftime 41-39. Jannuzzi had the hot hand, hitting a four-point play and two 3-point field goals on his way to 14 first-half points. Jannuzzi's performance and Lindo's intentional foul for stepping on the head of Wilkes center Tim Burlew, set the tone for the Colonels' comeback.

Junior Mike Barrouk hit for 15 points and a game-high 10 rebounds while Jay Williams added 17 points and his team-high four assists. Coach Jerry Rickrode's team improved to 3-1 with the win.

The Colonels opened their MAC Freedom League schedule with a convincing 84-64 victory over FDU-Madison. Junior transfer Seth Meyers scored 20 points off the bench to lead Wilkes to its third consecutive victory. Gryboski added 15 points and Williams had 11 points for the Colonels.

On December 17, Wilkes improved to 5-1 with a 91-84 win over the Lebanon Valley Flying Dutchmen. Wilkes jumped out to an early 20-6 lead behind six points each from Williams, Jannuzzi and Gryboski.

Lebanon Valley used a 13-point run to pull within 20-19 midway through the first half. Then Meyers came off the bench to score 11 points in under nine minutes during the first half to spark the Colonels to a 45-37 halftime lead.

Meyers, a forward who transferred from Division I Hofstra, is among a host of new Colonels in the Wilkes lineup.

Meyers along with guard Terry Martin, a transfer from Division I Coppin State, Barrouk, a transfer from NCAA Division III playoff team St. John Fisher and Jannuzzi join veterans from Wilkes' two-time Division III Elite Eight teams.

Barrouk scored 10 points and pulled down six rebounds, Martin hit for seven points and Jannuzzi finished with 15 points and a team-high seven assists in the win over Lebanon Valley, 4-3. Gryboski finished with 16 points and a team-high seven rebounds while Williams was the Colonels' leading scorer with 17 points.

After an 18-day holiday break, Wilkes returned to action in the Holiday Inn Colonel Classic. The Colonel Classic was a three team round-robin tournament this year because one of the four teams scheduled to participate canceled without giving Wilkes time to reschedule another team. Regardless of the scheduling changes, Wilkes cruised to the championship of the tournament, held at the Marts Center, by beating both Marywood and Western Maryland.

The Colonels crushed Marywood College, 103-63, in the opening game of the Colonel Classic. Marywood kept it close early, behind 12 points from Guy-Jo Gordon, then Jannuzzi caught fire. The freshman guard hit for 11 points to lead the Colonels to a 45-29 halftime advantage over the Pacers.

Things only got worse for Marywood in the second half.

Colonels win nine of last 10

Photo by Dave Parfitt

Jay Williams (11) drives against Drew. Williams was one of four Colonels to score in double figures against the Rangers.

Wilkes improved from a 40.5 shooting percentage in the first half to shoot 54.3 percent in the second half. The Colonels finished with five players in double figures, led by Jannuzzi with 23 points.

Last year Mike Barrouk scored 17 points against Wilkes as a forward for St. John Fisher to give the Colonels their only regular season loss of the 1995-96 campaign. This season Barrouk exploded for another huge game in the championship of the Colonel Classic, except this time he was wearing a Wilkes uniform.

Barrouk scored 20 of his game-high 32 points in the first half, leading Wilkes to a 91-66 victory over Western Maryland in the Colonel Classic championship game. The smooth

6-foot-4-inch junior came out of the gates strong, scoring 15 of the Colonels' first 33 points.

Barrouk's 32 points tied the record for most points scored in a Colonel Classic game with former Wilkes star Matt LaBuda. Barrouk also added eight rebounds, two assists and two steals while leading the team with 35 minutes played on his way to being named the tournament's most valuable player.

Barrouk's former Bishop Hoban high school teammate Jay Williams also had a strong game. Williams had a game-high five assists and scored 17 points for the 7-1 Colonels.

The Colonels won their seventh consecutive game of the season, defeating New Paltz State 95-65 on January 7. Barrouk continued to light it up for the Colonels with a game-high 29 points, including four three-pointers. Meyers added 16 points, Williams, 13 and Gryboski 12 for the Colonels.

Wilkes suffered its second loss of the season on January 13th to Middle Atlantic Conference opponent Susquehanna University. The 90-75 loss was Wilkes' first loss in the Marts Center in over a year.

The Crusaders turned a two-point halftime lead into a 51-44 advantage with 14:24 left in the second half. Jannuzzi gave the Colonels a chance to comeback with 13 second half points, but Wilkes could not stop the Crusader offense, which shot 51.9 percent from the floor. Wilkes cut the Susquehanna lead to five, at 66-61, with 6:13 left in the game, but could not close the gap. Sean Breckley led the Crusaders with 27 points.

Wilkes rebounded from the Susquehanna loss to defeat crosstown rival King's College 85-61. Senior center Tim Burlew and Jannuzzi keyed a 17-point second half run for the Colonels. The 6-foot-7-inch Burlew scored 13 points against King's, missing his career-high by one.

King's went shot-for-shot with Wilkes in the first half. Wilkes held a 37-36 lead in the beginning of the second half. Then Wilkes stepped up the defensive intensity and held King's scoreless for more than six minutes in the second half to blow the game open. The Colonels' defensive pressure opened up the transition game and resulted in a 17-0 run. Jannuzzi was the game's leading scorer with 24 points.

Burlew picked up against Drew this past Saturday night where he left off against King's. The big man scored 10 points and pulled down six rebounds in the first half of the Colonels' 73-60 victory over a highly touted Drew team.

Burlew established himself early against Drew's 6-foot-11-inch center Greg Sumner. Burlew forced Sumner into early foul trouble as Wilkes jumped out to a 25-10 lead 10 minutes into the game.

Burlew finished with his second consecutive 13 point performance while pulling down 12 boards. The Colonels were led in scoring by Barrouk and Jannuzzi with 15 points each.

Wilkes improved to 11-3 overall and 4-0 in the MAC Freedom League with an 84-58 trouncing of Delaware Valley on Tuesday.

Jannuzzi led the Colonels with 18 points while Burlew had a career-high 16.

Wilkes ended the last 13 minutes of the first half with a 35-7 run. The Colonels had control of the game at halftime, leading 42-16.

The win marked the 10th victory for coach Jerry Rickrode in his five year career at Wilkes.

This Saturday the Colonels host the University of Scranton in the Marts Center at 8 p.m.

LANGUAGE PUTS RU
• Wilkes
looks forw

Ne

Volume 4

Penn

By JACK KRA
Beacon Staff Writ

The recent ap plan to expand Pe branch camp
institutions carryin degrees has put in private colleges,
Wilkes Universit
defensive.

The plan, pro
Graham Spanier, P
Penn State Univers
for the expansion o
branch campuses,
those in Wilkes-I Hazleton.

The approval
way for enormous g

Trans

By AMY CONNE
Beacon Staff Writ

A low number o
students encourage a
to attract more pupi

Each semester
usually receives a hig of transfer students. I this semester Will received 24. This includes the four inte
students who arrived
the few students wh
on campus.

Transfer num
January are never pro
because it is mid-y
students do not usu comfortable transfer the Spring semester. I are usually a bit high