CINDERELLA BALL TONIGHT

"ALL IN FUN" LETTERMAN'S REVUE WILL BE PRESENTED TWICE NEXT WEEK

CHARLES SNYDER

The Letterman's musical-comedy farce, ALL IN FUN, entered its final week of concentrated rehearsals as interest in the show reached a new high on campus.

Director Alfred Groh has featured original costumes for the cast and newly-constructed scenery prepared with the assistance of the members of the Cue 'n' Curtain. Original music has been composed by Ted Warkowski, and the book has been prepared by Mr. Groh.

Irvin Gottlieb, production manager, has announced that choreography is being directed by Mrs. Iris Levy. The dance numbers will feature a chorus of seventeen members headed by Dean George Ralston. The performance will include several speciality dance numbers. The plot centers about a typical college campus situation. Action is presented through two acts and nine scenes. All the characters in the production will be portrayed by Lettermen.

The cast have kept the student body and faculty completely ignorant of the nature of the skits and scenes in the play. As a result "sneak previews" have been impossible to obtain.

Publicity was expanded with the appearance of two Lettermen, dressed as "Dixie Belles," at the Square and on a sidewalk quiz over Station WILK.

"All in Fun" may be seen on the evenings of May 25 and 26 at the Kingston High School Auditorium. Tickets can be procured at the college bookstore, in the cafeteria between 11 and 1, or from any Letterman.

ALL IN FUN

Howard Ennis and Dick Scripp, dressed as "Dixie Belles", pass out handbills on South Main Street. Purpose of the stunt was to advertise the Letterman's forthcoming revue, "All in Fun".

VINCE MACRI

Tonight at twelve o'clock the quest for the Wilkes College Cinderella will be ended. At that time, Johnny Long, whose orchestra will provide the music for dancing, will try the traditional glass slipper on the foot of each of the eleven Wilkes lovelies who are candidates for Cinderella. The winner will relive the fairy tale of Cinderella, as Long, the modern counterpart of Prince Charming, will present her with many gifts donated by local merchants.

Topping the list of presents is a $250 diamond ring from Tommy Van Scoy, the G. I. Jeweler; an album of records from the Square Record Shop; gift certificates from the Paris Shop, Zimmerman's, and Shapiro's.

In keeping with the theme of the decorations, Bill Griffith will read the Cinderella story as the candidates walk on a long white carpet to the bandstand where they will be received by Johnny Long. This ceremony will be shorter this year than in previous years.

Preparations for the dance were started at the beginning of March, with the signing of the contract with Long. The "Aquadium" was then procured as the site of the dance. The committees then worked many hours on the many little details that become apparent in the staging of such an event. Everything possible has been done to make this affair a memorable one.

The sale of tickets has been brisk all week, and a large crowd is anticipated. As an added convenience, tickets will be sold at the door for the benefit of latecomers.

In addition to co-chairmen Keith Rasmussen and Jack Feeney, and Honorary chairman Art Spengler, the following students served on committees:

Tickets: Shadrach Jones, chairman; John Merritt, Pete Richards, Tony Menegus, Danny Sherman, Carlie Thomas and Louella Cashin. Gifts: Bill Apfelbaum, chairman; Art Delassandro.

Arrangements: Bill Griffith, chairman; Tom Lasky, Lester Gross, Art Spengler, Don Vernall, Elvira Thomsen, Frankie Markowitz, Cy Kovalchick and John Haracz.

Decorations: Henry Vankoski, chairman; Walt Haczewski, Seymour Merrin, Dollie Fable, Barbara Hartley, Nanciann McCague, Charlotte Davis and Charlie Knapp.

EDITORIAL

"THE SUMMING UP"

With this issue, the BEACON will suspend publication until next September. The proximity of final examinations and the shortness of the summer semester are the reasons for the curtailment of publication. This is, therefore, an appropriate time to consider how well the BEACON has fared for these last several months.

Since September, 1948, three editors have directed the policies of the paper. There have been numerous other changes, too, with the result that the staff is, in large part, composed of freshmen reporters.

It is apparent to close observers that the BEACON has been in a state of transition. Within the last twelve months the BEACON has lost, through graduation and other causes, several staff members of unusual ability. To off-set this, a re-building program has been conducted this past semester, and next fall the BEACON will continue to build an active membership. At that time the present freshmen reporters will form the nucleus and their year's experience will make them more valuable.

In turn, this will ease the job of the editors, who must perform six distinct procedures each week. This uneven distribution of the work works a hardship on the editors when everyone does not cooperate. Deadlines are too seldom met (probably because there is no pay involved), and this increases the editors' work.

For this reason, therefore, the editors are likely to consider their task a thankless one. Long hours each week seem to avail nothing when students offer complaints, usually about insignificant matters.

The editors must formulate plans for next week's paper on the preceding Friday, at which time assignments are made. They must handle some of the writing assignments themselves, of course, and after Monday it is extremely difficult to hand out assignments to the reporters. Persons and organizations who want articles in the BEACON should also try to figure a week ahead. In that way they will be assured of the staff's fullest cooperation.

When the editors must place special emphasis on their studies, the problem of doing work for the BEACON resolves itself into a juggling act. But the average student isn't concerned about that. "Why did he take the job if he can't handle it?" he will probably say in a thoughtless manner. There is SO much more to consider.

Enough of this. Parts of this editorial are more appropriate for next September's first issue than the present one.

For the present the BEACON staff hopes that everyone will have a pleasant summer and that they pass all their final exams.

A GIFT FOR CINDERELLA

Tommy Van Scoy, well-known as the G. I. Jeweler, presents Keith Rasmussen with a one-quarter carat diamond ring, one of the gifts Cinderella will receive tonight. Art Spengler, standing beside Rasmussen, is the honorary chairman of tonight's affair, and Rasmussen is general co-chairman.

LETTERMEN REHEARSE FOR REVUE

The accent is on enthusiasm, rather than precision, as Wilkes Lettermen rehearse the can-can chorus number for their musical revue "All In Fun", which will be presented Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week in the Kingston High School auditorium. From left to right, the members of the chorus are: Mr. George Ralston, Paul Huff, Dick Scripp, Hank Supinski, George McMahon, Alex Molash, Jack Feeney, Joe Stevens, Jack DeRemer, Clayton Karambelas and Bill Brown. Mrs. Richard Levy can be seen partially on the extreme left of the picture, as she directs the athletes.

SENIOR EXAMS START NEXT WEEK

Senior examinations will be held in the Presbyterian Church House, third floor, Room 1, May 23 through May 28. Most of these examinations are for seniors only, but some examinations will be taken by ALL STUDENTS IN THE COURSE at the times listed below. Examinations which all students will take with the seniors are marked with an asterisk.

MARJORIE GREEN RECEIVES AWARD FOR SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Betty Harker, Dean of Women, presented a gold cup, the Dean's Award for excellence in scholarship, to Miss Marjorie Marjorie Green. Marjorie has been on the Dean's list every semester since she entered Wilkes. She has maintained an average of 90 each semester. In addition, she has served on the Yearbook staff. Last year she was Associate Editor of the Yearbook. A mathematics major, she completed her practice teaching this week.

Mrs. Gertrude Marvin Williams, Wilkes College English professor, was the guest speaker at the Junior-Senior Buffet Supper on Wednesday evening, May 18, at the Wilkes Cafeteria. In her speech, entitled, "Hail and Farewell," she reminded the Senior girls that they have a duty to keep informed and to contribute intelligently to public opinion. Mrs. Williams urged them to do two things: (1) Join an organization such as the American University Women or the League of Women Voters, and (2) read the papers to keep informed. Mrs. Williams wished the graduates success and told them that the faculty would always be watching them, and would always maintain an interest in their activities.

Forty-seven people attended the affair. These included Senior and Junior girls, Mrs. Gertrude Marvin Williams, Mrs. Eugene Farley, Mrs. Gladys Davis and Miss Betty Harker.

DR. CHANNING LIEN WILL SPEAK HERE

George Kabusk

Channing Lien will address Wilkes College assembly next Tuesday morning at 11 A. M. in aptist Church. His topic will be: The Far East and the United States in a World Crisis."

Mr. Lien, formerly a member of Princeton University Faculty, recently returned from seven months' stay in Korea, where he was adviser to the United States Military Government, and interviewed all Korean political leaders in our zone.

Having lived and studied in other Far Eastern countries such as China and Japan, and having taught and lectured on Far Eastern questions, he also understands the general situation.

Mr. Lien was born in Korea, and came to America at an early age. He was educated in modern Christian schools such as, Lafayette, Bucknell, Union Christian College and Princeton University, where he received his M. A. and Ph.D.

NOTICE

To avoid misunderstanding and to assure the transfer of full credit, the following announcements concerning summer school are made:

1. Students wishing to take work during the summer at other colleges or universities must first receive the approval of Mr. George Ralston, Dean of Men, or Miss Betty Harker, Dean of Women. This is necessary if the student wishes to receive full credit for the work taken at other colleges or universities.
2. After completing the work at the other college, all work must be evaluated and in some cases it may be necessary for the student to take an examination before credit will be granted.
3. Students from other colleges taking work at Wilkes College during the summer must first receive the approval of their respective deans if they wish to receive credit for their summer work.

This is the policy adopted by other colleges and universities throughout the country.

"MY LEADING LADY" WELL RECEIVED

On Tuesday night, May 17, the "Cue 'n' Curtain" presented "My Leading Lady," a one-act play written by Ed Tyburski. The readers of the BEACON undoubtedly know that this was Mr. Tyburski's first attempt at a dramatic production. As such the play is to be highly commended. But inherent in any initial production are certain faults. "My Leading Lady" is no exception. The plot was rather thin, and the dialogue was a shade repetitious. However, one can forgive the weakness of the plot. The play was much too short for the complete development of a theme. As far as the dialogue was concerned, Mr. Tyburski silenced all criticism when he gave Shirley Salsburg the line, "What do you want, egg in your beer?"

Paul Shiffer directed the play, and the members of the cast included Ned Maghee, Shirley Salsburg, William Griffith, W. Thomas Littleton and Marilyn Broadt.

VARIED PROGRAM WILL BE OFFERED AT BAND CONCERT

The last rehearsal has been completed and all is in readiness for the second annual concert of the Wilkes College Band. Sunday evening at 7 is the time and the campus behind Kirby is the place. There'll be seating accommodations for all and the public is invited. No admission will be charged; the program is under the auspices of the Wilkes College School of Music, Donald E. Cobleigh, director.

Band Director Reese E. Pelton has promised an interesting program of well-known light concert music. Included will be operetta, popular and martial compositions. Represented on the program will be such well-known composers as Sigmund Romberg, Richard Wagner, John Philip Sousa and Albert Ketelbey.

Also on the evening's bill are a clarinet solo by Donald Follmer, student director of the band, and a trumpet duet by Carl Strye and Donald Follmer, accompanied by the band. The Wilkes College Chorus will sing a group of selections during the band intermission.

Working with the band to produce this program are the female cheerleaders who, under the leadership of Toni Menegus, will serve as ushers. Mr. Wm. Jervis, superintendent of grounds, and his staff are in charge of stage and seating arrangements.

From the strains of Sousa's Washington Post March, through the echoes of Wagner's Lohengrin, and till the dying strains of "In A Persian Market" the concert promises a pleasant spring evening for those who enjoy a band—and who doesn't!

FACULTY MEMBERS TO STUDY MUSIC DURING SUMMER

Charles Henderson and Mr. Balshaw will be the faculty members in charge of applied music during the summer semester. They will teach piano and organ.

During the summer, Donald Cobleigh, head of the music department will study at Tanglewood with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Mrs. McHenry, piano instructor, will study piano pedagogy at Juillard School of Music. Wilbur Isaacs, instructor of voice, will travel in Europe and study at Fontainebleau, France.

Mr. R. E. Moran, from Eastman School of Music will join the Wilkes music faculty in the fall semester. He will be the instructor of wind instruments and music theory, and he also will conduct the band. Mr. Moran will study during the summer at Northwestern University.

UNDERDOG CPA'S ARE TOP BOWLERS

After both teams had successfully outclassed other teams in their respective bowling leagues, the CPA's and the Engineers met Wednesday night for the contest which decided the championship. The underdog, CPA's, composed of Captain John Klansek, Edward Mamary, Philip Kennedy, Clyde Ritter, Michael Connors, and Thomas Richards, improved continually throughout the regular season and displayed splendid form on Wednesday night.

The Engineers, who had run away with their own league, finally met a superior team in the form of the CPA's. Clyde Ritter was high for the conquering CPA's with 512, while Palfex was high for the Engineers with 475. The Engineers team is composed of Captain Barovich, Labneski, Ingold, Hill, Ogan and Palfex.

SENIOR FORMAL DINNER DANCE WILL BE HELD ON JUNE 11-TH

By CHUCK GLOMAN

The second annual Senior Dinner Dance for February and June graduates will be held by the "49ers" (the Senior Class of Wilkes) at 7 P. M. on Saturday, June 11, in the Admiral Stark Room, Hotel Sterling. It will be a formal affair. All February and June graduates were assessed $2 to help finance the affair. Due to high expenses, although nothing definite has yet been decided, it appears likely that all graduates will have to pay a small fee per couple.

Music for the affair will be provided by Jack Melton and his Orchestra. Toastmaster will be Judge J. Harold Flannery and the Honorable Daniel J. Flood will be the guest speaker.

A plaque honoring Professor Paul "Pop" Geis will be presented to Dr. Farley at that time as a gift from the Class of '49. Professor Geis was head of the Music Department and a friend to all the students.

Paul K. Richards is chairman of the dinner-dance committee, and is assisted by the class officers: Tom Moran, president; Tom Gill, vice president; Eleanor Krute, secretary, and Sam Elias, treasurer.

MISCELLANEA

By BILL GRIFFITH

Comes the end of another semester and the end of another school year. It certainly was a great year for the school and the most enjoyable thus far to the writer. (Depending on final grades).

It was the greatest year for the school as it was accredited and now will be able to take its place in the world of education. It also was a great year for the school in sports—we beat King's in football once more. The past year saw a greater growth of school spirit—the type of spirit that is one of faith in the school and the school's future and not one of shouting, "Hurrah, I Go to Wilkes!"—before one transfers to Podunk Engineering School.

It was an enjoyable year to the writer, because he made more fine acquaintances and friends than any prior time in his life. Also, an enjoyable year because the writer successfully completed his fifth semester. And finally, enjoyable because of the many extra-curricular activities that were held despite the fact that the Student Council no longer had the funds to sponsor the number of activities that it had in the past. Among the activities that are recalled are: The Bloomsburg game—the best supported of the season, the BEACON'S cabaret party, the Junior Class's cabaret party at the Mansfield Ballroom, the Winter Carnival, the Theta Delta Rho's Valentine Dance, Cue 'n' Curtain's MALE ANIMAL and theatre conference, the many teas and the popular coffee hours. Two more events which promise to be the outstanding events of the year are the CINDERELLA BALL—the dance of the year which is to be held tonight at Rocky Glen, and the Lettermen's ALL IN FUN show to be held at the Kingston High School on the 25 and 26. If you have not attended any school functions during the past year—do your best to attend these.

MISCELLANEA has been the writer's first attempt to write a column. I hope my two readers enjoyed reading them as much as I have enjoyed writing them. Best of luck on the finals and my best wishes for a happy, profitable vacation.

SCHRODE SPEAKS TO ECONOMICS CLUB

"The day will come when we will peacefully negotiate all labor disputes," Mr. William Schrode told Wilkes College students at last Tuesday morning's meeting of the Economics Club. Speaking before a group of approximately sixty students, Mr. Schrode, secretary of the local chapter of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, pointed out that recent labor legislation has hampered union efforts to negotiate across a conference table. Under existing conditions, he explained, it is necessary that both labor and management have attorneys sit in on the proceedings.

"It is up to the people coming out of colleges today to settle the grievances that will always exist between labor and management," Mr. Schrode continued. He went on to say that the Okonite plant, where he is employed, has incorporated a clause in the contract which provides for a labor-management committee, composed of four members from each group to review grievances.

The clause states that anyone with a grievance would first bring it to the attention of the committee. The committee would then present it to the foreman and, if necessary, to top management. This, Mr. Schrode said, takes the pressure off the individual worker.

For the first time in its history, the IBEW union was not allowed to submit a contract to the company in 1947. In that year, when union officials presented their contract to the management they were informed by the attorney for the management that the contract could not be accepted. Labor legislation was cited as the cause.

Industry today is in a recession, Mr. Schrode stated, and management has blamed organized labor. He claimed, however, that labor has bettered living conditions by shortening the working hours, increasing wages, and raising the general economic level.

At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Schrode answered the students' questions about seniority under union contracts, trends in present day organization, closed shop issues and labor-management disputes.

Mr. John Reilly, Economics Instructor, in introducing the speaker, emphasized that Mr. Schrode is acquainted with the practical aspect of labor relations.

DAN FLOOD WILL ADDRESS SPAN. CLUB

Congressman Daniel J. Flood will be the speaker at the final meeting of the Spanish Club in Chase Theatre on Saturday, May 21, at 8:30 P. M. Mr. Flood will speak on his recent trip to Cuba. The entertainment committee has provided for the showing of a Spanish film and refreshments will be served. Every one is invited to attend.

The meeting will conclude the series of gala fiestas sponsored by the club under the direction of Miss Silseth.

The club had a picnic at Rickett's Glen on Sunday afternoon, May 15. A large percentage of the members attended and many brought guests with them. Miss Silseth and the party hiked up the beautiful trail. Some of the more enthusiastic climbers covered a distance of five miles and every member hiked at least three miles. After completing their jaunt, the members of the party picked out choice spots where they ate their picnic lunches.

The club held the last of their luncheon meetings at 12 noon, May 19, at the Baptist Church House.

A similar program was held on May 12 by the piano department of the college.

IS WINS 3, LOSES 4 IN 7 GAME SERIES

IS LOSES LOSE 6-5 GAME TO SUSQUEHANNA

Susquehanna College's fourth straight win of last Friday's game, the clinching tally as the Colonels lost a hard-fought contest in the eighth inning, 6-5.

Molloy, Wilkes starter and pitched shutout ball until the third inning. He pitched a single and a two-base hit to Susquehanna's first baseman, Phillips, and brought in Jimbell, who stopped the threat and went on to pitch the eighth inning.

Susquehanna, mainly through the efforts of Ingolod, who homered, and singled, accounting for six of their runs, peaked at Molloy until they finally won the game in the eighth inning. The big guns in the Wilkes attack were Al Molash with a triple, a single and Don Blankenbush with two singles.

ER DEFEATS WILKES, 10-8

Playing in a drizzling rain, Rider College edged out the Wilkesmen in last Saturday's game, 10-8. Crane Buzby, who relieved Walt Hendershot in the fifth inning, was charged with the loss.

Hendershot, after a shaky first inning in which Rider scored twice, went down to pitch shutout ball in the fifth inning. When the Colonels men in the Rider half of the field touched the "big train" Buzby was called into the box. Before the side could change, Rider had scored five runs. Hendershot had taken a commanding lead which they never relinquished.

Crane came up with a three-run homer in the ninth when Pinky Pinchot doubled with the bases full. It was a case of too late as Vail tightened the defense and got Shemo to ground out and end the game.

Rider scored what proved to be two winning runs on a home run by Proccacino with one man on. The ironic part of this was that the ball traveled less than 100 feet beyond first base, where it was in the weeds along the right field line. There were no ground ball doubles.

Al Molash again led the attack with a double and a single in four trips to the platter.

LKES DEFEATS KING'S COLL., 4-3

The Colonels salvaged a prestige win as they defeated the Monarchs of King's College at Nesbitt Stadium Monday afternoon. . . . The game was the one bright spot in an otherwise dismal season. The pitcher for Wilkes and set the Monarchs down with just three hits. The three runs scored by the Colonels were unearned, and came as a result of errors which have plagued the Colonels all year. . . . The Colonels came into the game boasting a much better record for the year than Wilkes, but when the game was over they were a disillusioned bunch. . . . The Monarchs had hoped to win this game as a going-away present for Tom Brock, who is leaving for the Far West in order to forget the defeats the Colonels handed the Monarchs on the football field, but Tom will have to go West without ever knowing how it felt to beat Wilkes on the gridiron. . . . There is one consolation for Mr. Brock—We feel that it will be a very long time before his successor has any better luck unless the boys from Northampton Street come up with something better than they had last year.

BUZBY PITCHES SHUTOUT, 8-0

Crossfire Crane Buzby exhibited the best form shown by a Wilkes hurler this year, striking out eleven Triple Cities batters to record a one-hit shutout and to give the Colonels an 8-0 victory. This lone hit was a line drive in the fifth inning which fell just beyond the outstretched glove of Centerfielder Don Blackenbush for a double. Sparkling plays by Molash and Brennan turned their only other serious bids for hits into outs.

With the exception of the first inning where an error, the only Wilkes miscue of the day, and two walks loaded the bases with one out, Crane was never in serious trouble. His mixture of curves, hooks, drops and blazing fast balls had the opposing batters waving their bats in a futile attempt to get a hit.

Tuesday afternoon, the Colonels paid a return visit to Bloomsburg, and came home on the short end of a 16-2 score. The Huskies got off to a fine start and really poured it on. The least said about this game the better. Tomorrow the Colonels end their season when they meet Triple Cities College.

PHYSICS SHINDIG SCHEDULED TODAY

Today at 1 P. M., all members of the current and former physics 201 and 202 classes are holding an outing at Rigo's Glen.

The students are to meet at the parking lot, corner of South Street and Franklin Street and from there they will journey to the glen by Routes 115 and turn left on 315. At Lippis Gas Station they will turn right and go for two miles to the Glen.

There is a registration fee of $1.00. Sandwiches and birch beer are to be served. There will also be entertainment.

SOCCOR TEAM COMPLETES SEASON

The soccer team finished a very successful spring training season by scrimmaging the local alumni of Gerard College, at Kirby Park Saturday. Mr. Partridge, coach of the team, isn't overly optimistic concerning the chances of the team when they enter collegiate competition, but he did state that the team is far cry from the green group of boys that reported to Miner Park last fall. When he issued the first call for candidates, 18 men, most of whom had never played the game before, reported for practice. During the spring, the squad was increased to 30. The members of the team had to spend hours learning the fundamentals and rules of the game before they were ready to play. Saturday the boys showed those present what hard work can do, as they worked smoothly together as a unit for the first time. By 1950, Mr. Partridge hopes to be able to enter the team in the Middle Atlantic States Soccer Association.

During the coming season the Colonels will use Kirby Park as their home field. Mr. Williams of the Engineering Department has agreed to lay out the field for the team. We feel that Partridge's proteges will surprise quite a few people this fall, despite the pessimism shown by Mr. Partridge.

BRADLEY ELECTED HEAD CHEERLEADER

The cheerleaders of Wilkes College held an election on May 12 under the direction of Dr. Reif, faculty adviser. Gene Bradley was elected captain for the coming season and Peggy Anthony was elected co-captain.

Gene will begin his third year as a member of the Wilkes cheerleading squad. While in high school he served as captain of the squad during his senior year.

This is Peggy's second year as a member of the Wilkes squad.

Bruce Mackie Aikie has been appointed as squad trainer, and will have full charge and responsibility for skits that will take place between halves. Bruce is a former cheerleader from White Plains.

The squad is working diligently under the direction of Dr. Reif, and hopes to present an interesting program this coming season. Any member of the student body wishing to contribute a new cheer or song is asked to give it to any one of the cheerleaders.

"Whom are you calling out?"

CAMPUS CHATTER

By TOM ROBBINS

It was a hot day in May when I went to see my adviser. I handed him my list of tentative courses and offered various reasons for wanting to take the subjects. The reasons were that the courses were necessary if I expected to get a degree.

The adviser turned a livid blue and cast a doubtful gaze at me, as though questioning my sanity. Not a word was uttered. He pointed at the first course on the list and shook his head. I looked at the list. The first course was English 257, a wonderful course about Shakespeare. My adviser scribbled down another course after crossing out my choice. I could barely read the words. I finally distinguished the writing and discovered that he wanted me to take the dreaded course of the college, The Bolsheviks of Lower Slobovia,—Their Breeding and Habitation.

I shuddered to think of the long hours in the lecture hall, doing nothing but scribbling notes about John J. Doeski and his family. My thoughts were rudely interrupted when I felt the fearful gaze of my adviser. He had noticed the second course on the list. After another hurried venture with the pencil, I realized that he wanted me to cancel Philosophy and to take in its place The American Moron, his breeding and habitation.

I pleaded, I argued, I threatened but to no avail. At one point I felt that I was winning the argument but was defeated when the adviser held up a mirror and forced me to see my pointed head. The study of morons was for me.

And so it went. Course after course was revised. Psychology was crossed out. Algebra, American History, German, Economics, Education and Journalism were removed from the schedule. In their places went Native Flowers of Bali Hai, their breeding and habitation; the Bums on the Bowery, their breeding and habitation; The Bees and Birds of France, their breed and habitation; the Gold-Diggers of Nick's Long Bar, their breeding and habitation, and many other similar courses.

After every course of my schedule had been changed, I looked closely at my adviser. He beamed at me, smiling broadly, and patted me on my little —

"Hey," I said, suddenly. "I realize I can't get a degree, but what will I be eligible for after taking these courses?"

"You may not be a degree holder," he said, "but you'll certainly be able to breed and habitate."

SIGHTS ON CAMPUS:

A young girl is shocked into awareness as a loudspeaker booms across the campus. "Deposit your dime, please!" The World Service Student Fund is a good cause to contribute to, so when you pass the barrel, drop a coin. It won't hurt you!

Mr. Cobleigh, expressing the view that there must be a circus on campus. The reason? Music is issued from Chase Theatre which interferes with the classes he is attempting to teach! IT'S NOT BRAHMS!

Skinny Ennis and Dick Scripp donning women's attire to advertise the Lettermen's Musical, "All In Fun." If this one sight is an example of the entire show, I wouldn't miss it for the world!

The student body walking back and forth for cokes and ice cream—anything to keep cool! The river bank crowded with people loafing before class.

Shad Jones attempting to sell tickets for the Cinderella Ball in the cafeteria and not getting very good results! What happen!

An open letter to the students of Wilkes College concerning one, Jerry Wise.

Dear Student Body:

Jerry Wise desires publicity—so here it is. You see, fellow students, Jerry comes from a fine family who live in the wilds of Massachusetts. Although he is content here at Wilkes College, he has had one disappointment. That is, there are not enough people here who appreciate his many charms and talents. Now I ask you, who could ask for anything more than Jerry? He is 5 feet, 11 inches, has dark curly hair, gorgeous cow-eyes and a sweet personality. Do I have any bids? All right, girls, if you desire any further information concerning this up and coming young man, please contact me or the BEACON office.

dark curly hair, gorgeous cow-eyes and a sweet personality. Do I have any bids? All right, girls, if you desire any further information concerning this up and coming young man, please contact me or the Beacon office.

P. S.: Jerry is free any night of the week that Joan Walsh isn't around! That means he's never free!

Congratulations are extended to John McConn and Scotty Rutherford on their recent engagement. This was no surprise to their friends for John and Scotty have been inseparable since they met in 1947. Good luck, kids!

Many rumors are flying around campus concerning the choice for Cinderella. At this date, it seems to me, that the rumors should be dispelled. This situation is by no means bettered by a certain supposedly "big wheel" on campus who continues to hint who the Cinderella is to the various candidates. This person, and I say person generously, does know who she is, but there is no reason on earth why he should build up the candidates for a great letdown! (This comes from many complaints I have received in the past week).

Last but by no means least, I wish to report a loss. Missing, one water pistol, green, in front of the boys' dorm. Reward, if returned!

M. LEE PICKETT ADVISES STUDENTS ON DANCE DECORUM

Dear Sirs:

It has been brought to my attention that many students who plan to attend the Cinderella Ball which your college is planning are a bit perturbed and uneasy, because they are a bit unsure of themselves in regards to social savoir-faire.

Before I set down a few simple rules for behavior, I wish to state some of my qualifications: Social editor for the Poultry Gazette, author of the dictionary on social behavior, "Take The Spoon From Your Coffee Cup Before You Pour It Into The Saucer"; fashion editor of the women's magazine, "Golie," and champion hog-caller ten years running of Castisamalquettemenzut County (pronounced "cat-nip.")

The following rules are simple and basic, and followers of these guiding principles are assured an evening free of embarrassment:

1. Shoes must be worn. (There has been an increasing tendency of late to enforce this ruling at all semi-formal affairs).

2. Buy a ticket. (Sneaking in is considered ill-mannered, and barbed wire fences are devastating to wardrobes).

3. Hooting, hollering and throwing tomatoes at the dancers and the band is bad taste. It is also expensive to buy tomatoes at this time of year.

4. Dancing in the wrong direction on the dance floor is carrying individualism too far. In fact, if you make a habit of it you are liable to be the individual carried. (Feet first, that is).

5. Yelling across the length of the Dance floor to gain attention is childish and amateurish. If you crave attention, lock yourself in a room for ten years and gain nation-wide publicity and a Hollywood screen test.

6. Do not take the orchestra's instruments for souvenirs of the evening; many musicians object to this.

7. Applaus is sufficient to show your approval of the music, winners of contests, etc. Fog horns, cowbells and fire crackers are out.

I will stop here, otherwise the rules might become too complicated. A good way to remember these simple rules of etiquette is to take one rule a day, write it

COLLEGE GROUNDS BEING IMPROVED

Wilkes College campus is receiving a spring face-lifting under the direction of Mr. Bill Jervis. A much needed stone walk has been installed between the cafeteria and Chase Theatre and a concrete walk will be constructed to connect the newly-purchased Mengel Home with the rest of the campus.

Shrubbery has been planted along the Lecture Hall as well as behind Chase Hall and near the cafeteria. The lawn fronting the Boys' Dorm has been re-seeded.

Mr. Jervis and his crew are general trouble shooters on the campus and may be seen in all seasons performing duties ranging from furniture moving to removing trees. Mr. Jervis has held his present job for the past four or five years. His five assistants are Bob Alhaman, Bill Mills, Kirk Bromfield, Marv Lutz and Jim Rowe.

Sincerely yours,
M. LEE PICKETT.
