Committee Considers Budget

Hula Hoop Contest Featured At C. C. U. N. Dance Tonight

'Hawaii Calls' Theme Of Novelty Affair; Admission Fifty Cents

by Marilyn Krackenfels

Tonight in the gym, the Wilkes Chapter of the Collegiate Council of the United Nations will sponsor its first dance of the season. Since everyone in the United States today, "from three to a hundred and n," has been bitten by the hula hoop bug, the club has dubbed its dance "Around the World in a Hula Hoop." Music will be provided from nine until twelve by the Boulevard Quartet.

The highlight of the evening, a hula hoop contest, is intended to carry out the theme of the dance. Anyone of either sex who isn't afraid of slipping a few discs in his back will be eligible to participate.

Dance committee heads are as follows:

Publicity, Mary Lou Bender; refreshments, Jay Olexy; tickets, Nancy Moldauer; decorations, Skip Gladstone; music, Liz Schwartz. Lois Betner, CCUN president, is general chairman. Don Murray is in charge of intermission activities.

For the nominal fee of fifty cents everyone attending will be treated to both dancing and the Wilkes version of "Hawaii calls."

United Fund Campaign Reaches Fifty Per Cent As Deadline Approaches

The United Fund drive is scheduled to end next Wednesday on campus with little more than fifty per cent of the student total of $1200 reached, as of Tuesday evening.

Individual class contributions, as reported by Gordon Roberts, student chairman, have totaled $378; freshmen have contributed $126, sophomores, $92; juniors, $80; and seniors, $80.

The student contributions have been swelled greatly by proceeds from the United Fund Dance, which netted a $162 profit. Various clubs and organizations have contributed $70 from their treasuries. These, added to the class total, produce a student total of $610.

The faculty contributions have reached the total of $2500, according to latest reports, to increase the all-college total in the drive to $3110.

NOTICE!

All students are urged to attend the Republican political rally on Chase Lawn, Wednesday at 12:20. Gubernatorial candidate McGonigle will address the students, and other party leaders will be present. Student government is sponsoring this rally.

C'n' C Rehearsals Set for Musical; Cast Announced

The Cue 'n' Curtain club is busily preparing sets and rehearsing for their first production of the fall semester, "Annie Get Your Gun."

Irving Berlin wrote the score for "Annie", which enjoyed a long run on Broadway with Ethel Merman and Ray Middleton in the leading roles. This will be one of the biggest productions that the club has ever undertaken, and it will require a lot of work both on the part of the cast and the backstage crew.

Bill Peters, a junior music major, has been named to direct the chorus for the show; Peters is also director of the male chorus. This will be the first time that a student of the college has ever been named chorus director for a musical production.

Cue 'n' Curtain head Alfred S. Groh will direct the show, and Mr. John Detroy will handle the musical direction.

Last week Miss Janice Krump-ski, due to reasons of health, bowed out of the cast and Miss Barbara Cusick, a newcomer to Cue 'n' Curtain, took over the part of Annie Oakley. Her leading man will be Wayne Walters playing the role of Frank Butler, the sharpshooter in a Wild West Show. Fred Malkemes will play Charlie, the show fast talker and trouble soother.

Buffalo Bill will be played by Steve Cooney, and Judy Blutman will be Frank Butler's "charming assistant", Dolly Tate.

"Annie Get Your Gun" will be staged at the Irem Temple on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, December 4, 5, and 6, under the sponsorship of the Wilkes-Barre Kiwanis. Students may obtain tickets at the Bookstore with their activity passes.

FORMAL CONCERT

'COLLEGIANS' TO GIVE FIRST FULL CONCERT WEDNESDAY EVENING AT NANTICOKE H. S.

Wednesday night the Collegians will present the first full formal concert in the eight-year history of the chorus at Nanticoke High School. The event will mark several "firsts" for the popular choral group as they embark on their most ambitious season.

It will be the first unveiling of the new costume adopted by popular vote of the members. For the opening half of the program, the men will wear the familiar blue choral gowns as they perform their more serious music.

After the intermission, they will be dressed in white coat sweaters on which will appear black, gold-trimmed, interlocked letters, "WC", and will wear dark charcoal slacks, white shirts and black knit ties.

Another new feature for their concert format will be the inclusion of a soloist. Well-known baritone Wayne Walters will augment the program with several selections, accompanied at the piano by Bill Peters, director of the chorus.

Walters will be remembered for many singing triumphs during his four years at Wilkes, notably lead singing roles in the musical comedies "Bloomer Girl" and "Paint Your Wagon". He is to sing the lead role, Frank Butler, in Cue 'n' Curtain's forthcoming production, "Annie Get Your Gun".

Continuing with departures from previous concerts, Dick Myers, president of the chorus, will act as master of ceremonies. In the past, the director usually announced each number before it was presented. The new feature has proved effective in permitting the director to maintain the attention of the men throughout the program.

The concert is sponsored by the Baptist Men's group of Nanticoke who have chosen the Collegians to perform in their annual fund-raising effort. They have announced that the concert is open to the public, free of charge. An offering will be taken during an intermission period.

Prior to this performance, the men have had several short programs. They entertained a huge crowd at the United Fund dance at the gym recently, sang for the Open House Parents' Day program, and last week appeared on Channel 28's coverage of a report meeting of the United Fund campaign leaders.

Last week, together with about a dozen alumni Collegians, they entertained a capacity crowd at the Homecoming Dance at Irem Temple Country Club, under the direction of the first conductor and charter member of the group, Bill Crowder.

This Sunday at 9:30 a.m., they will present a part of their concert program at the morning services in the English Baptist Church of Nanticoke. Several other appearances are in the planning stages, including tentative plans for another full-length concert near the end of the year.

All but Two Requests Submitted For '58-59 Fund Appropriations; Group to Meet with Presidents

by Sue Snoop

The Student Government budget committee has announced that all but two of the major activities have submitted budget requests for the 1958-59 school year.

Dick Salus, chairman of the budget committee, read the requests to the Government at a meeting last Tuesday. Salus also announced that the total to be divided among all campus activities this year is $12,800, as compared to an appropriation of $12,360 last year.

Requests that have been submitted so far total $12,144 with figures still to be added by the ICC and the Student Activities fund.

The following table is a breakdown of the 1957-58 grants and the 1958-59 requests.

Activity	1957-58 grant	1958-59 request
Amnicola	$4,100	$4,355
Beacon	2,600	3,305
Cue 'n' Curtain	1,200	1,635
Debate	1,000	1,200
Male Chorus	75	125
Manuscript	700	1,100
Women's Chorus	50	75
Dormitories	300	349

The above requests have been considered by the budget committee and the committee has arranged for the organizations presidents and editors to meet with them to discuss their requests.

Meetings with Cue 'n' Curtain, the Debate team, the Manuscript, and the Inter-Dormitory Council were held last evening.

The heads of the remaining organizations will meet with the committee next Tuesday at the following times: Beacon, 5:00; Amnicola,

When the individual budget requests have been discussed by the presidents and the committee, the final budget request will be submitted to the entire Student Government for approval. It is hoped that the Government will have the budget presented to them by Tuesday, November 4.

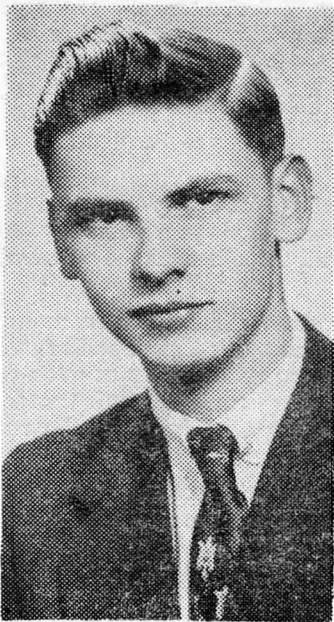

Salus announced that any organization president or editor may be present at the Student Government meeting when the committee's report is presented. Salus stated that any person who wishes to do so, may further defend his request at this meeting.

DRIVERS, NOTICE

Concerning placement of parking stickers:

1. The sticker is to be placed on the windshield behind the rear-view mirror.
2. No sticker of any other kind may be on the windows or windshield except the state inspection sticker.
3. Any faculty member may pick up a replacement parking permit at the finance office.
4. Any student who has already paid his parking fee for this semester and who placed his sticker in an illegal position may obtain a replacement from the finance office free of charge.

EDITORIALS —

'The Mighty Dollar'

Even though the following is not the opinion shared by the whole editorial staff, we feel that it cannot be thrust aside without comment. We refer to the United Fund story: the "drive is scheduled to end next Wednesday with little more than fifty per cent of the student total of $1200 reached...."

It has been pointed out to us that without the aid of various clubs and the proceeds from the United Fund Dance the student total would be even more insignificant.

What's wrong??? Is one dollar too huge a sum to part with? Are we a bunch of paupers, or are we just plain stingy? We realize that many students contribute to the United Fund through a place of employment; yet, $378 is hardly representative of the remaining students. Certainly if everyone who is able to participate would participate, the showing would be better.

If you haven't been contacted by canvassers, just don't sit back; Give! There is still time to meet our goal if we want to meet it. Fortunately, our faculty does not find giving to a worthy cause such an ordeal.

United Fund is the One Drive per year on campus. Let's help our neighbors of Wyoming Valley and obliterate the red faces we should be wearing for such a poor response. JLE

Can't Compete

The decorations are down, and the trophy is safely locked away in the confines of Gore Hall — where it belongs. The men of Gore had a beautiful display — for about ten minutes. Lights flashed, horses ran all over the lawn and people shot at each other in violent activity. But then the judges left, and so did the men of Gore, leaving the display as dead as last week's Beacon.

We have no personal complaint about the final decision of the judges, we merely wonder how the women's organizations on campus are expected to compete with such intricate wonders of engineering. Not many of the girls can hook up a rocket takeoff, complete with lights and moving Colonels, nor can they be expected to construct a moving football supporting the figure of a Colonel. Girls just don't have that much engineering talent.

We humbly suggest that two trophies be purchased for Homecoming next year — one for the displays put up by the predominantly male organizations and the other for the women's organizations.

We have checked back into our musty files of Beacons and have been unable to come up with one story that mentions the fact that a girls' dorm or organization won the trophy or even an honorable mention in the annual display contest. This can be discouraging to the eager bevy of girls who troop to the roof each year with hopes high.

We hope the Alumni Association will consider this suggestion and act before the women lose interest and do not bother to put up displays again. mjk

Strike Up the Band!

No doubt about it, the 1958 Homecoming weekend was a smashing success. The decorations were inspiring, the caravan impressive, the Royal party attractive, the football game a win, and the parties something to be remembered for some time to come.

One of the best examples of the overall enthusiasm concerning the two-day celebration was shown by the band. This fine group, always ready and willing to boost any event, outdid itself last week. Without any great deal of practice time, they gathered at the field at 10:00 a.m. and by game-time had worked up a marching routine worthy of "Big Ten" bands. Their rendition of the popular "76 Trombones" was flawlessly executed. Bob Moran and his stalwarts will, we hope, take the hint offered by the appreciative applause and repeat this performance at a future game.

Additional praise is due Russ Picton for his chairmanship of the whole affair as well as to Bob Morris, student chairman for the gala weekend. On behalf of all of us who had duties directed by these two, our heartfelt thanks for a job superlatively done. RJ

Reynolds and Roberts Appointed to Court by Student Government

by Jim Eidam

Wilkes Student Government met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Dining Commons. Sixteen members, including newly-elected freshman representatives and the new senior representative were in attendance. The session was called to order by President Bob Morris at 5:15, after which prayer was delivered by Dick Salus.

Several of the highlights of the meeting were: appointment of Fred Roberts and George Reynolds to the newly-created Court of Appeals from a list of ten student nominees; presentation of initial budget requests; discussion of preliminary plans for the Winter Carnival.

At the last regular meeting, each representative (excluding freshmen) was asked to submit one or two nominations of students to serve on the Court of Appeals (one of the facets of the new constitution). Representatives submitted ten names and gave background information on the persons, concerning character, participation in extra-curricular activities, etc. After a rather close election, Reynolds and Roberts were named by the group to serve in this capacity. In the future, two faculty members and one of the administrative staff will be named to the Court of Appeals.

Concerning the Winter Carnival, Bob Washburn disclosed that no sites have been chosen to date. The group approved the motion that the cost of rental of a site should not exceed $225. After further discussion, it was decided that cost of a band for this occasion should not exceed $100.

Other Business

In further business, Gordon Roberts gave a report on the present state of the United Fund drive on campus. He stated that the dance of October 10 netted an approximate $162 profit, with some four hundred persons in attendance.

Carl Juris, president of Economics Club, spoke in behalf of his group and others on campus who desire to make various field trips throughout the year to further their understanding of their respective fields. Desire has been expressed on behalf of these campus organizations for partial reimbursement from the student funds for expenses incurred on these trips. This subject was tabled until further research can be made on the subject.

Barbara Federer, chairman of the Freshman Advisory Committee, presented a report and discussed the needs to insure a financial success for the forthcoming frosh Halloween dance.

The group was presented with tentative arrangements for next Wednesday's political speeches by the state Republican candidates.

Margaret Jones, chairman of the Education Club, made a request for financial reimbursement for expenses incurred at a recent student educators' conference. Request was granted by the group.

Gordon Roberts once more made the announcement of the weak response of the student leaders concerning the honor system questionnaires. To date, only twenty-four have been returned from a total of forty-five.

"I suppose that you have traveled a great deal in your life?"
"Yes, all over the world. I crossed the dead sea before it died."

Want Adamania

"Large dog for sale. Will eat anything. Very fond of children."
"Young man wants position in bank handling money. Has no objection to leaving town."

If you kiss a young lady she calls it faith.

If you kiss a married woman she calls it hope, and

If you kiss an old maid she calls it charity.

TOUR OF HOTELS REVEALS MUCH HUMOR TO NOTED STAR

The lengths to which actors and actresses will go to add authenticity to their performances are nothing short of amazing. One Western star has redone his entire home Texas-style, complete with iron triangle on the porch to announce chow. A noted Shakespearean actor refuses to read contemporary books while appearing in a play, lest their English throw his Elizabethan frame of mind out of kilter.

Actress Ann Sothern, preparing for a new TV role as an assistant hotel manager, has toured the country to get the feel of hotel life, talking to managers, bellhops, maids, waiters.

"They're the most patient people in the world," Miss Sothern says, "and deserve a lot more recognition than they've been getting. And what a lot of fun they are!"

In the course of her research, Ann has run across a lot of gags based on hotel life. But, as she says: "A joke is nothing until it has audience." So she graciously passes on a dozen of her favorites herewith.

An obviously well-fed gentleman ate a final meal at a posh Texas hotel, capped it with some rare Napoleon brandy, then raised a pudgy finger to the headwaiter. All attention, the headwaiter listened. "I wonder if you remember," the man asked, "how I enjoyed just such a meal last year and, because I couldn't pay for it, you had me thrown out like a run-of-the-mill bum?" Flustered, the headwaiter said, "I'm terribly sorry, sir." "Perfectly all right," smiled the gentleman, fingering a cigar, "but I'm afraid I'll have to trouble you again."

Anxious to impress his friend, the Los Angeles real estate man boasted, "I just got a penthouse for my wife."

"Good deal!" exclaimed his pal, "—where can I make a trade like that?"

The American couple had decided to see something of the world. One of the stops in their journey was a small inn in rural France. To facilitate their movements, the husband sent their bags ahead. When they arrived, the manager—proud of the few English words he knew—showed them that he had already registered them, taking their names from the luggage. Sure enough, in a fine Spencerian hand, there they were: "Mr. and Mrs. Genuine Cowhide."

It happened in a Tulsa hotel. A shapely blonde, slinking her way through the lobby, ignored all the admiring stares until she encountered the town's Number One oil driller. Suddenly, she was all smiles. "How much did you say your name was?" she inquired coyly.

Sign in an old Pittsburgh hotel: "Notify us if you see a mouse in your room. We'll send up the cat."

The secretary had pinched pennies for three years just to be able to afford the luxury of spending two weeks at a plush New England ski lodge. First morning there, she complained to the manager that twice during the night she had had to dress and go to the lobby for some water. "But why didn't you simply press the buzzer?" he asked. "The buzzer!" she cried. "The bellboy told me that was the fire alarm!"

There's a Miami hotel that's so exclusive, rumor has it, that guests have to pretend to be hired help.

The salesman remembered seeing the same sign over the door a year ago: "Out of Order!"

"Don't you ever fix the elevator?" he asked.

"Shucks," replied the hotel clerk, "we don't have no elevator. But it lends a high tone to the place, don't you think?"

A mountaineer, visiting the big city for the first time, made his way through the lobby of a deeply-carpeted hotel. As he was struggling with the pen over the register, the room clerk noticed that the new guest had left a trail of mud across the room. "You might at least wipe the mud off your shoes before entering a fine hotel," he remarked icily. The mountaineer, finishing his "X," looked up with amazement. "Whut shoes?" he asked.

Another backwoodsman, admiring the wonders of a swank hotel lobby, was particularly intrigued by the elevators. He watched as a little old lady stepped into one and disappeared behind the sliding door. Seconds later, the elevator returned and out stepped a stunning redhead.

"Golly," he marveled. "I should have brought my wife after all."

A recent visitor to Palm Springs, California's answer to the Riviera, reports, "Not everybody you see at the lavish hotels there is a millionaire," but adds, "Of course, they were when they arrived."

And what would any collection of gags be without at least one shaggy dog story?

A man who had been staying at the same hotel every winter for 30 years was amazed to find a horse tending the desk — answering phone calls, summoning bellboys, opening letters.

In stunned disbelief, the man asked, "Are you the manager?"

"Yessir," the horse answered. "May I ask why you're staring?"
"Oh, nothing," said the man, "—I just never thought the cow would quit."

Why is milking a cow like docking a big ocean liner?

Because it takes a lot of little tugs.

Overheard in the caf.

"What high school did you go to?"

"The one up on the hill."

"What branches did you study?"

"Most all of them. Hickory, ash, and walnut."

"Say, I just got a part-time job after school."

"What kind of a job?"

A draughtsman in a bank."

"What do you do?"

"Open and shut the windows."

New Instructor In Engineering

by Lee Baiera

One of the many new instructors at Wilkes this year is Mr. E. Russell May.

Mr. May is presently teaching freshman engineering lectures and surveying. He previously taught for Penn State Extension and received his Master of Science in Mechanical Engineering from Purdue University.

Before coming to Wilkes Mr. May was employed at the Dow Chemical Company and was a project engineer for General Electric. He also worked on the Anthracite Research Project. He is presently operating his own consulting engineers firm, which specializes in heating, air conditioning, and process engineering.

Mr. May and his wife, Mrs. Betty May, who is also a new instructor at Wilkes, reside on Old River with their two sons, ages 8 and 12.

Mr. May has clearly expressed his feelings toward Wilkes in saying that the college has a definite future and hope for an early expansion of engineering facilities to a four-year program.

CCUN Officer to Speak At Tuesday Assembly; Monday Meet Planned

by Elizabeth Schwartz

Miss Virginia Sauerwein, Executive Secretary of the Collegiate Council for the United Nations, will be the guest speaker at the Tuesday, October 28, assembly. Miss Sauerwein will speak in connection with United Nations Week, which is being celebrated this week.

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock the CCUN will sponsor a question and answer meeting. At this time all interested students will have the opportunity to ask Miss Sauerwein questions concerning the United Nations, its functions, policies, and program. This informal meeting will take place in Catlin Hall, 92 South River Street.

Both the assembly and the question and answer meeting should prove to be very informative and interesting. There are two opportunities to learn more about the United Nations, an organization which is doing so much for America and for the world in its relations.

FRESHMEN PLAN DANCE

NOTICE!

The Economics Club will sponsor a dance, "Campus Capers," on November 7. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 to the music of the Bob Florio Combo. During intermission, freshmen and senior members of the club will participate in an entertaining skit. Refreshments will be served. Tickets will be available on campus.

RETAILERS DISCUSS FUTURE ACTIVITIES

At a recent meeting of the Wilkes Retailing group, plans for forthcoming activities were discussed. Among other things, the group plans a field trip to a large retail store.

Retailing group is a subsidiary organization of the Economics Club. All students interested in retailing are invited to join the group and share in its activities.

Mr. Ronald Michman, retailing instructor, serves as the adviser, and officers are: President, George Schall; Secretary, Beverly Gates; Publicity chairmen, Dave Roebuck and Bob Evans; and Treasurer, Bob Dominick.

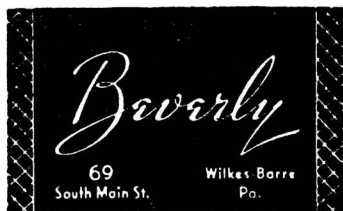

ALL-COLLEGE TEA TUESDAY: CHORUS TO BE FEATURED

The annual All-College Tea, sponsored by Theta Delta Rho, will be held in the Dining Commons on Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5. The affair provides an opportunity for all students and faculty members to mingle in an informal atmosphere. Officers of the sorority have extended a cordial invitation to all to attend.

An added attraction to be presented this year is a concert at 4:00 by the Wilkes Collegians.

Mary Lou Bender is serving as the general chairman for the tea. She is being assisted by the following committee chairmen: Lynn Boyle, publicity; Carolyn O'Rourke and Joan Llewellyn, invitations; Lee Baiera and Vivian Cardoni, refreshments; Joyce Medlock and Denah Abrams, house.

'Guess Who' Contest Featured; Halloween Dance Will Include Many Entertaining Novelties

by Phyllis Iannuzo

According to class officers, plans for the first Freshman class dance are well underway. "The Goblins' Rock", a novelty dance, will be held on the bewitching night of Halloween — next Friday. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 o'clock in the gym and will feature the new sound of the All-Stars.

MASKED MAN CONTEST SPONSORED BY FROSH

by Al Gordon

Simply identify the man behind the mask in the picture on the right and win two free tickets to the "Goblins' Rock". All entries should be sent on a post card to the Freshman Class, Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., no later than Thursday, October 30, 1958.

All students are eligible to enter. If there are no winners a drawing of all the entries will take place at the dance and the winner will receive a refund of the admission price. Of course, winner must be present.

A clue to the Mystery Man's identity:

'Round the campus he's well liked,

To his students he's quite vivacious,

If this master to you is known,
For two tickets you'll be gracious.

This is the first time a contest of this sort has ever been held on the Wilkes campus. It is hoped that wide participation will inspire more novelties of this type.

The class has planned several gimmicks of interest to all who attend. Various dance contests will be held during the evening. At intermission time, there will be a drawing for the awarding of door prizes.

Vic Turoski, president of the freshman class, is serving as general chairman of the affair. He is being assisted by the following committee chairmen: Tickets, Ronald Diamondstein; entertainment, Rhea Politis; refreshments, Mike Kunen; publicity, Al Gordon; and decorations, Andrea Crease.

Al Gordon, chairman of the publicity committee, has initiated a class-sponsored "Guess Who" contest. All you have to do is simply guess the identity of the individual behind the mask in the above picture.

This contest is opened to the entire WILKES student body. The prize to the lucky winner is two free tickets to "The Goblins' Rock." If there are no winners, a drawing will take place of all the entries and the winner will receive two free tickets. If winner has already purchased a ticket the admission price will be refunded. Winner of this drawing must be present.

Assisting Al Gordon are: Lorraine Talamelli, Francis Walls, Betsy Gay, Carol Slater, Gerry Tarantini, Warren Greenberg, Evelyn Hudyack, Leonard Reese, and Sue Quarteroni.

This is the first time a contest of this sort has ever been held on the Wilkes College campus.

Admission is fifty cents.

BOOTERS SECOND IN STANDINGS WITH KNOCKOUT OF DUTCHMEN

by Jim Hennighan

The Colonel booters won their second straight soccer match with a 5-0 win over the Flying Dutchmen of Hofstra at Long Island. This win evens the Wilkes team's record at 2-and-2 for this season and gives them a second-place berth in the league standings.

The game was played under a fair sky and from the start the Colonels forward wall put the pressure on the Hofstra goalie. This was the reverse of the pattern of play that had been bothering the Colonels, for in past games the Blue and Gold had been on defense most of the time.

The inability of the Dutchman goalie and fullbacks to cope with the power of the Colonels was evident throughout the game. Carl Havira, Len Frankowiak, Nick Giordano, Lou Zwiebel and Ivan Pappanicholas started for the Blue and Gold with Havira, Giordano and Pappanicholas featured in the scoring, with Giordano getting three, one on a penalty shot. In all, the Colonels had 37 shots at the Hofstra goal.

For the first time this season the Wilkes team was unscored upon, and the credit goes to goalie Bob Payne, who did a fine job all afternoon. Praise also must be given for the fine defensive work of backs Joe Morgan, Ron Davis, Don Pierce, Pete Perog, and Bob Chew.

Booters Represented In "Athlete" Honors by Star Center Forward

by Morgan Davis, Sports Editor

Nick Giordano, playing the "big foot" role in Saturday's game against Hofstra, is selected as the Beacon "Athlete of the Week." The prolific scoring center forward punctured the Hofstra goal with three big points. He scored twice from scrimmage and once with a penalty shot. The first score was made with a head shot.

The Flying Dutchmen, always one of the stiffest soccer competitors in the East, have been dumped by the underdog Colonels for the past five successive years. Four of these years Nick has been one of the short fuses that has exploded in the face of this powerful Hofstra team.

Nick is not new to the "Athlete of the Week" award as this is the sixth time in his four years at Wilkes that he has gained this coveted award. He has also won honorable mention for the All-Middle Atlantic squad in previous years.

He first saw a soccer ball at an age when most American boys are still playing with marbles, for he was born in Italy, where soccer is one of the national pastimes.

Nick attended high school in Naples, but graduated from Kingston High School in 1955 where he lettered on the track team.

He is a 21 year old senior majoring in Biology and plans to attend medical school.

Pinbusters Lead Loop, New High Series Mark Set on Myers' 220-578

Two shutouts and a new high series mark spotlighted Sunday night's action in the intramural bowling league. The Pinbusters blanked the Tenpins, 4-0, to tighten their grip on first place, and the Goldbricks bounced back from last week's 3-1 loss to take four points from the Playboys.

Rolling the night's only two games over 200, Dick Myers tied Joe Shemanski for high game honors with 220 and set a new high three-game series mark of 587, on games of 220, 218, and 149.

Goldbricks 4, Playboys 0

Dan Lewis sparked the Goldbricks with 194, 192, and 190, as they dumped the Playboys. Ron Phillips was high for the losers with 189-484. The scoring:

Goldbricks: Lewis 194-576, Gil Gregory 184-517, Ed Duncan 185-496, Steve Klein 155-425, and Roy Morgan 108-307.

Playboys: Phillips 189-484, Jim Watkins 169-462, Joe Shemanski 168-446, J. McKennon 167-427, and Bud Hungarter 131-329.

Pinbusters 4, Tenpins 0

Emil Petrasek was the big gun for the undefeated Pinbusters who suht out the Tenpins. He hit 194-546, while John Matthey was high man for the losers with 170-463.

Pinbusters: Petrasek 194-546, John Sapiego 170-497, Bill Watkins 180-470, Fred Jacoby 171 and 140, Don Wilkinson 156 and 137, Dick Dyanick 114 and 107.

Tenpins: Matthey 170-463, John Kuhar 149-433, Tom Evans 155-423, Cliff Brothers 145-391, and Don Matthey 137-377.

Teetotalers 3, Raiders 1

Dick Myers, with his 220-587, led the Teetotalers to their 3-1 win over Pete Maholik's Raiders. Maholik led his team with 173-481. The win gave the Teetotalers sole possession of second place.

Teetotalers: Myers 587, Gene Brozowski 184-453, Wayne Walters 161-412, and Bob Morris 136-347.

Raiders: Maholik 481, Bob Hewitt 151-421, Len Glassberg 165-417, Andy Lowenberg 131 and 101, Bob Licato 130 and 92, Larry Choper 109 and 103.

Booters Open Four-Game Home Stand Tomorrow; Football Squad Takes 8 - 0 Homecoming Victory

Gridders' First Win Comes on Eller's TD, Michaels' Two Points; Two Thousand Fans Witness First Homecoming Victory in 5 Years

by Dick Myers

Don Eller's two-yard smash over the goal line in last Saturday's Homecoming tilt put the Colonels on the right track as they registered an 8-0 win over the Ursinus Bears. Both teams were winless before the contest and the victory broke a two-year Homecoming jinx each team held over the other.

A satisfied throng of some two thousand cheered lustily as they witnessed the first Homecoming win in five years, and the first entry by the Colonels into the winning column since Coach Pinkowski took over the reins.

The injury-plagued Wilkesmen pulled the trick with a beautifully balanced attack and a fine exhibition of team play. Ray Yanchus filled in for Jay Kubicki and did yeoman duty as quarterback while Bill Michaels and Marv Antinnes did the lion's share of the ball-carrying to make up for the loss of Tom Krisulevich.

Michaels carried 21 times for 48 yards as a workhorse and scored the two extra points on an off-tackle smash, while Antinnes averaged nearly five yards per carry with 52 on eleven tries. Eller carried four times for eight yards.

Following Eller's TD effort late in the second quarter, the two teams fought to a standstill. Near the end of the game the Grizzlies threatened twice, but a determined Colonel line held beautifully once on the three, then pushed the Bears back to the ten to thwart another drive.

The Colonels completed four of eight passes, one a 49-yard thriller from Michaels to Ray Marchakaitis, and registered 176 yards total offense, 101 by rushing.

BASKETBALL

Coach Eddie Davis invites all basketball enthusiasts to report to the gym Monday at 4 o'clock. The basketball squad has been working out the past two weeks but will still accept varsity and jayvee applicants. The cagers will open a 3-game home stand on December 3; against Lycoming, Susquehanna, and Lebanon Valley.

COACH PLEASED WITH TEAM, HOPES TO SURPRISE LYCOMING

by Ray Yanchus

The Wilkes Colonels take to the road tomorrow and travel to Williamsport, Pa., to encounter the Warriors of Lycoming. With light spirits prevailing from last week's Homecoming victory, the Blue and Gold will be out to make it two in a row.

The team has been working hard throughout the week in preparation for this week's game. Workouts have been lively and Coach Pinkowski is pleased with the elated spirits of the players.

Concentration was placed heavily on correcting mistakes made in last week's game, and the coach feels that the Colonels are ready to do honorable battle with the powerful grid machine from Lycoming.

Coach Pinkowski expressed pleasure over the fine play of such stalwarts as center Yorath Evans, ex-Plymouth athlete; Ray Marchakaitis, former all-scholastic also from Plymouth; halfback Bill Michaels; fullback Marv Antinnes, and Don Eller.

He is hoping to be at full strength for tomorrow's game. Injuries to key players in the Penn Military game have cut deeply into the reserves, but Pinkowski hopes to see some action from Tom Krisulevich and Joe Stralka very soon. Jay Kubicki is a doubtful participant in this week's encounter as he is still nursing a knee injury.

When Wilkes makes the trip to Williamsport, they will be facing one of the more powerful teams in small college ranks in the state of Pennsylvania. The Warriors are big, fast and have compiled an impressive 3 wins and 1 loss at this point in the football campaign. Their lone loss was at the hands of Juniata, whom Wilkes faces here at home on November 1.

The Colonels will again be looking at two men who have given them plenty of trouble over the past two years, they are fullback John Joe and halfback Jack Grier. A couple of boys who can "pick 'em up and lay 'em down." The Blue and Gold will be out to contain these two tomorrow night, and return to the campus with win number two under their belts.

Ferrismen Meet 'Rough Riders' In Toughest Test of the Year; Tackle Stroudsburg Wednesday

by Don Hancock

Tomorrow the Wilkes soccer squad opens a four-game home stand with a match against Rider at 2:00 p.m. in Kirby Park. The Colonel booters now sport an even 2-2 record after downing Hofstra last Saturday by a 5-0 score. The men from Rider have a 3-2 edge in the series with Wilkes with the Colonels taking their second win last fall.

The Roughriders have a particular habit of being rather difficult opponents for Wilkes in all sports in which the two compete against each other. Soccer is no exception. The Colonels, however, are determined this year to even the series with Rider and to forge ahead in the win and loss columns.

Last week's shutout of the Dutchmen of Hofstra is an indication that the Colonel defense is stiffening and the line play becoming more efficient. Tomorrow's game has all the promise of being a good, hard fight, so tomorrow afternoon we suggest you go over to Kirby Park and support the soccer team.

East Stroudsburg
Next Wednesday the booters will greet their major nemesis of the season, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. The team has played the Teachers eight times and have tied twice and lost the other six times. It is easy to see that they are number one on Coach Ferris' "lick" list. This game will also be played at Kirby Park, but at 3:30 p.m.

Popularity Increase
To most of those native to this area, soccer is a relatively unknown sport; their only contacts with it being through what they read in the newspapers or the few minutes they might see of a game or intra-squad scrimmage in Kirby Park. In the larger metropolitan areas of the country, particularly here on the eastern seaboard, soccer is a well-known game and there are organized professional teams and leagues in New York and Philadelphia.

In Europe, the sport is comparable to baseball, our national sport; but to the Europeans soccer is somewhat of a passion and a national game with which everyone is familiar. It is not uncommon for a single game to draw crowds of 100,000 or more and there is a stadium in Moscow capable of holding 120,000 people with ease.

In South America, soccer is followed with a somewhat more zealous and often violent interest. Riots are commonplace and gunfire is expected at championship matches. During the international championship matches this past year, the government offices in Brazil were ordered closed and boarded because the soccer-induced enthusiasm would boil over into the streets and have its political implications.

The continent of Africa is not without it. There is one native tribe which plays a crude version of the game using a human skull as a ball. Here in the United States soccer is rapidly gaining in popularity, more and more colleges and high schools are adopting it as a varsity sport.

TOUCH GRID LEAGUE SEES TWO-WAY TIE

The Honeymooners, led by backfield men John Harvey and Bernie Radecki, are tied for first place with the Human Beans who are led by stellar athletes Walt Glogowski and Professor Gaito. The Chem Knights with Don Matthey are close behind followed by the Gore Hall team with Barry Yocum and Mike Armstrong.

In the first game Gore Hall defeated the Econ Club, 26 to 6, with the Honeymooners defeating the Raiders the next day, 27 to 6. In their first game, the Human Beans ran over the Econ Club, 20 to 6, while the Chem Knights clobbered the Raiders, 33 to 6. The Honeymooners won their next game from the Econ Club by forfeit and the Human Beans downed Gore Hall, 20 to 8.

drive of the afternoon early in the second half but were turned back by some heady defensive work by Davis and Payne.
In the entire 88-minute contest the Colonels dominated play and with the unneeded help of some misplays by the Hofstra goalie rolled to an easy 5-0 win.

Gore Wins Again; Prizes Given by Grads, Lettermen

by Cynthia Hagley

The winners of the Homecoming events are finally out. The results have brought many smiles and sighs. As for the statistics, they run this way:

First prize for the Homecoming display went to Gore Hall for their production of "The Ursinus Massacre." Those who viewed this display had no doubt that the men of Gore would win.

Second prize in this section went to the Biology Club for their creation, "Bowl Them Over." A lot of hard work on the part of the members of the Biology Club went into this display.

Third prize was awarded to the Junior Class for the surrey they had on display behind the library. This showed a touch of originality and color on the part of the juniors.

The prize for the best decorated car that took part in the car caravan on Saturday, October 18, was presented to Hugh Gladstone, a sophomore. His theme was "Pink Toyland."

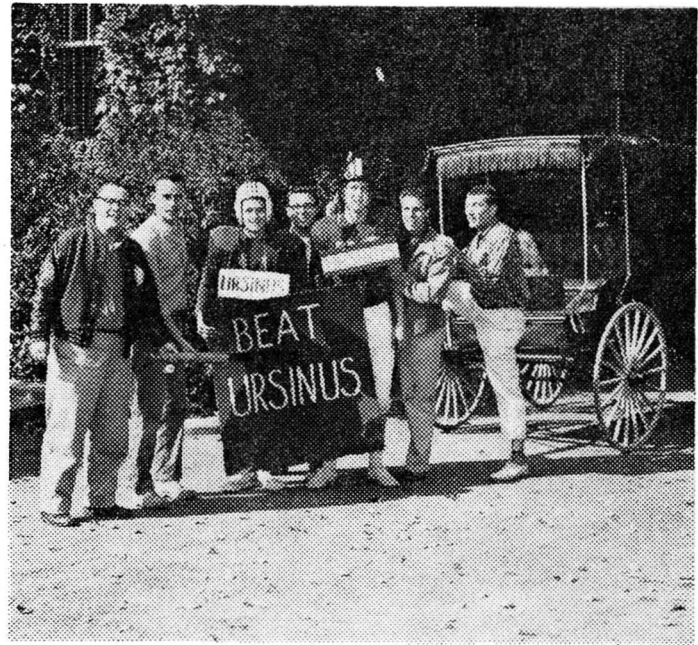

The Lettermen also announced the winners of their raffle. The first prize was a choice between two tickets to the "Music Man" in New York, or two tickets to the Army-Navy football game. This was won by John Harvey, a senior. Second prize was the remaining pair of tickets and this was won by G. Linko.

There were three turkeys given away as prizes. These were won by William Zdanciewicz, Marie Opitos, and Earl Harvey.
